BOUNDARY FALLS

In the Similkameen

A traveller from Similkameen passed through our city this week, enroute for Victoria, for goods. He reports that, although the unusual height of the water in that part this spring, has disappointed the hopes of those mining on the low bars, the prospects in general are excellent. He says that district is only just beginning to be prospected. High bench diggings are being discovered, and there is little doubt that that the Similkameen, a few months hence, will be regarded as a highly interesting portion of our mining region. Provisions are high. Flour 25c per pound; bacon and beans 45c.; and other things in proportion. The road from Hope will be open for pack trains in about two weeks, when all the supplies will go by that route.—New Westminster Columbian, May 30, 1861.

Shocked the Parson

Minister—Mr. Hardcase, I saw your son in a saloon yesterday.

Hardcase—Did you? I hope the young scamp had the politeness to ask you to have something.

Mrs. Lester McKenzie is at the coast attending a convention of Rebecca's.

Mickie McKay and Miss Amy Rayburn were married in Grand Forks last week.

H. R. Plommer of Merritt, is the latest addition to the office staff of the B. C. Copper Co. in Greenwood.

Wm. English of Kaslo recently bought 17 heavy draught horses in Princeton. He paid $250 each for some of the equines.

At Princeton last month Hugh Campbell took out his 53rd miners license. He took out the first one in the Cariboo in 1863.

On July 10, in the Presbyterian church, the Rev. J. Knox Wright, will give an illustrated lecture upon Japan, Siberia and Manchuria.

At 4:30 p. m., on Sunday, June 18, a memorial service for the Knights of Pythias will be given in the Presbyterian church by the Rev. J. R. Munro

Scott McRae is a talented trapper, and his traps ensnare wild animals without injury to them. Last Sunday he found in his traps two bears, one cougar, and a coyote.

With a Dodge car, Roy Connor recently made the trip from Penticton to Phoenix, 101 miles, in four hours and 20 minutes. The Dodge car climbs the Phoenix hill at the rate of 23 miles an hour.

On account of the Bostonian Opera company showing Thursday and not wishing to overdo amusements, there will be no moving picture show on Saturday. Watch for Tuesdays programme.

Children should beware of woodticks. They are sometimes found on dogs, and near pine trees. Last week at Penticton a little girl had a narrow escape from death or a serious illness by one of these insects boring into her neck.

The Womens Institute packed and shipped to Red Cross Central Depot, Vancouver, the following articles, made by the District Red Cross work parties: 20 surgical shirts, 2 night shirts, 25 T. bandages, 35 wash cloths, 5 prs operation stockings, 1 bundle old linen, 50 hot water bottle covers, 25 personal property bags, 20 prs slippers, 20 prs socks.

Two detectives or some kind of United States officials, were in Phoenix the other day. Soused in booze they started down the hill in their own auto. At Lakeland's ranch the car tore down a fence, and ran into a stump, which probably saved the car from going over an embankment with more or less serious results. The car eventually got across the line without ravaging any more rural or mountain scenery. Luck is still an element in auto driving.

A. L. White has it.

O. D. Bush went fishing at Boundary Falls last Sunday. While riding to the scene of piscatorial victories, in the Phoenix stage, a wheel came off the wagon, and the genial Bush was hurled headlong to terra firma, severely skinning his hands and face. Dr. Wood dressed his injuries, after which he went to the front of the creek, and conscripted some noble specimens of the finny tribe. The genial "Joe" has the sympathy of his many friends in his misadventure.

At Oroville last Friday, Wickersham, McLean and Armstrong were discharged from custody, the authorities claiming that Hofmear died on the Canadian side of the line. The Canadian police are investigating the affair, but have not secured any evidence sufficient to arrest anyone. The members of this tragic auto trip to Fairview were all friends, and there would be no motive for murder. Coming from a dry to a wet town the deceased probably imbibed booze too fast. Being an old man he might, under the pressure of undue alcoholic stimulation have fallen down, and received a shock that jarred his upper stope beyond recovery.

Supreme Court

Justice Clement presided at the Assizes in Greenwood this week, John Thomich of Phoenix was found guilty of wounding his wife, with intent to do grievous bodily harm, and sent to Nelson jail for two years, lacking one day. The civil case of McCallum vs Elizabeth Cooper was adjourned in order that the plaintiff might change his plaint. In the meantime the plaintiff puts up the costs. This was a case brought up by the official administrator, to recover the proceeds of a cheque, for $4,000 given by Mrs. Folger to Mrs. Cooper, a short time before she died.

Mrs. R. H. Alexander died in Vancouver this month. She was the first woman to live where Vancouver now stands.

Ferby Pettipiece was killed at the Rogers Pass tunnel, by the overturning of a steam shovel. His father is Parm Pettipiece, the editor of a labor paper in Vancouver.

A company is being formed to run a creamery at Revelstoke. It will cost them five cents a pound to make butter.

It is expected that the tourist travel to B. C. and Alaska this summer, will break all records. The Lucern of America, New Denver, should get its flags ready and advertise.

Wm. Teague died in Hope last month aged 81. He mined at Cornish Bar, on the Fraser in 1858. He was a passenger on the first boat that sailed from California to Victoria.

The P. G. E. is laying steel on its line north of Clinton, and will rush their work to completion, employing about 1500 men. For this road the sawmills between Squamish and Lillooet will cut 4,000,000 feet of lumber.

Last month a steamboat costing $100,000 was launched at Peace River Crossing, and will run between that port and Fort Vermillion, 500 miles. It is 200 feet long, with a beam of 48 feet, and is the largest boat of its class in Canada.

The year 1816 was about all winter in Canada. This was caused by the spots on the sun. Snow fell in June and by the middle of August it was a foot deep. Hay was $45 a ton, and brought from Ireland to Quebec. The people lived on meat and fish, and there were no crops. In New Hampshire hay was $180 a ton. Flour was $17 a barrel at Quebec, and potatoes a penny a pound.

The Lucky Todd above Otter Valley is shipping ore to Greenwood.

A good wagon road has been built to the Copper Queen near Chesaw.

Cobalt is worth $1.25 a pound. Prospectors should look for this mineral.

The Orient at Eholt is being developed by the owners, McMaster & McElmon.

On the Highland in the Ainsworth camp, there is 13 feet of ore in the face of the drift.

It is proposed to drive a tunnel 5,500 feet long, on the Early Bird in the Ainsworth camp.

In April the expense of the Standard at Silverton was $44,535, and the net profit $86,773.

The Pingree Mines Limited had a meeting in Victoria recently, and J. L. Stamford, the president, addressed the assembly re cutting the price of shares in order to raise money. This man Stamford has a poor reputation around Nelson for keeping his word, note or bond good, and investors should get wise to his record.

Roosevelt may yet be the Kitchener of the United States.

The noise last week in Chicago, was almost as bad as shell shock in France.

In years to come, it will be said, that he met his Verdun, instead of his Waterloo.

This province has no legislature. Why wait a month before announcing the day of election?

It is better to die young in the cannon smoke, than to await the grand finale, palsied with age, within the walls of a poorhouse.

Many men of fame and greatness are familiarly spoken of by the multitudes. Horatio Herbert Kitchener was the name of Britain's greatest modern soldier. All the world called him Kitch or Kitchener, but we never heard anyone call him Bert. May his mantle fall over shoulders fit to wear it, until the crucial period in the history of the British Empire has passed away.

The Bible tells us, that it is just as sinful to kill an ox as a man. In that case we should let the animals die a natural death before we eat them, and keep ourselves from the stain of murder.

In order to prevent serious and fatal accidents on the highways, the law against drunken men driving autos should be enforced. Like most of the laws in the country it is practically a dead one, through political or other influence.

The greatest battle ever fought on the American continent was at Gettysburg, July, 1863. There were 37,000 men killed and wounded. There were 163,000 men in that battle, and we have talked to 200,000 of them since that bloody fight.

In a recent conference at the coast the Methodists declared that they were against sport, travel and amusement on Sundays, and urged prosecution by law, when the provisions of the Lords Day Act are violated in any part of the province. All days are alike to the Lord, and any laws that we have concerning any particular day of the week, have been framed by people with a desire to force others to their way of thinking. True religion never advocates prosecution for anything. The majority of reasonable people see the wisdom of taking a day off every week, but they dislike to be arrested in case they go fishing, or joy riding upon that day. Let us have more love and less law in our churches.

Law seems to be framed principally to protect crooks against honest and ignorant people.

Canada is renowned the world over for the undaunted bravery of its soldiers, but not for the honesty of its politicians. An outsider from reading our papers must think that we send some of our thieves to jail, and the balance to our legislatures.

B. C. Mines

The Great Northern between Ferguson and Trout Lake City will be worked this summer.

The Union Hydraulic Co. is working two big monitors on Siwash creek in the Okanagan.

The Aberdeen mine near Merritt will soon be shipping three carloads a week to Greenwood.

It is reparted that Lord Rhounda has bonded five copper claims on Skeena mountain, in Northern B. C.

In April the Granby produced 1975 tons of copper. This is 200 tons more than it produced in March.

It is reported that the Brian Boru in the Hazelton district carries a large body of ore, 65 per cent. zinc.

Edward Stout is 91 years old. At Yale last month he took out his 59th consecutive miners license. He mined at Hills Bar in 1858.

On the north side of the bay at Kaslo, D. P. Cosgriff has a claim with copper values. He should develop and ship to Greenwood.

While prospecting for two weeks in the Slocan this spring, W. A. Mills shot eight bears. He did not need very much bacon on that trip.

The shaft is down 300 feet on the American Boy in the Hazelton district. A drift will be run to tap the ore shoot at the 165-foot level.

P. Racey, representing the Trail smelter recently spent two days on Copper Mountain, near Chesaw, examining properties and procuring samples.

Antimony ore worth $440 a ton, is being shipped from Robinson in the Yukon, to San Francisco. It is hauled by wagon 22 miles from the mine to Robinson.

Mountain Bob has a pre-emption in the Cariboo, on Woodpecker island. He still has the mining fever, and proposes to sink a shaft on his ranch, in search of the yellow stuff that moves the world.

Nicola men have taken a bond on the Noonday and Juniper claims, two miles from Merritt. A shaft and tunnel in these properties is in solid ore. The lead is a strong one showing values in copper, gold and silver. Wm. McNeil is in charge and expects to be shipping ore next month.
