Returned Soldiers' Colony

Creston, B. C., Board of Trade is taking up with the National Service Board of Canada, as well as the provincial authorities, a very comprehensive scheme of providing employment for returned soldiers, which, if undertaken, will, when completed, provide also an ideal location under most favorable conditions for those of the veterans who care to follow agriculture as an after-war vocation.

The proposition which is unique in its way, is to reclaim 25,000 acres from flood waters of a big inland delta of richest alluvial deposit brought down by the Kootenay river and formed at the southern extremity of Kootenay lake. Returned soldiers would be employed on the work, and allowing such of them as can to follow agriculture on the reclaimed tracts. The fertility of this soil has been proven, and it is in one of the older settled parts of B. C. interior. If the above goes through it will enable the B. C. Government to put into practical effect the returned soldier farm colony scheme.

Donations not previously acknowledged, Mr. W. B. Fleming for services rendered to Red Cross for the month of June, $7.50; July, $9 75

Otto Hagg, a mining expert from Alaska was in town last week. In company with Ola Lofstad and Chas. Johnson, he prospected the hills around Greenwood for magnesite ore. Mr. Hagg left on Saturday for Nelson.

A Military Wedding

Miss Ida Shaw, of Victoria, formerly of Greenwood, eldest daughter of Major C. Æ. Shaw, O. C. of the Mara Lake Internment camp, and Mrs. Shaw, and Lieut. E. K. M. Griffith-Cochrane, formerly of the 7th Battalion, C. E. F., were married on Tuesday afternoon, August 7th, at the Pemberton Memorial chapel, Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. H. Fatt, in the presence of a large number of friends of the bride and groom, including the nurses of the hospital and returned wounded soldiers.

The chapel was beautifully decorated with Shasta daisies and sweet peas, the artistic effect being the handiwork of the nurses. The bride who was given away bp her father, wore a charming frock of champagne-colored crepe de chine, with a large picture hat, and carried a lovely boquet of bridal roses. Her sister, Miss Huberta Shaw, attired in reseda taffeta, with white picture hat, and carrying a boquet of mauve sweet peas, and Miss Juanita Sears, wearing pink satin, with white picture hat, with a boquet of pink sweet peas, were bridesmaids; and Mr. M. J. Birkmere, acted as a groomsman. As the wedding party left the chapel, it passed between the ranks of a guard of honor formed by the nurses and the returned wounded soldiers from the Esquimalt Convalscent Hospital.

The young couple were the recipients of numerous handsome gifts. Lieut. and Mrs. Griffith-Cochrane are spending their honeymoon at Cowichan Lake.

Soon after their return, the groom will leave for overseas service. He has only recently returned from the front, where he was wounded, having been in France since 1915. He left for overseas with the rank of company sergeant-major, and in order to reach France was obliged to revert to the ranks. He received his commission on the field in June, 1916, and was wounded at Courcelette. In September 1916, he was appointed scout officer, and soon after received the wounds from which he is only now recovering. The bride is a grand-daughter of the late Major Alexander Shaw, of Oak Hill, Toronto, and for the past two years has been a nurse in training at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria.

The Lone Star and Mother Lode mines resumed operations last week, and the Greenwood smelter blew in one furnace yesterday.

See H. Bolingbroke regarding your winter supply of cauliflower. These are good solid heads suitable for the purpose. Also cabbage, celery and onions late on. H. BOLINGBROKE, opposite McKee's residence.

Archie Aberdeen went to work at the Mother Lode mine this week. Being 88 years young he is probably the oldest working miner in the world. Archie was never much of a meat eater, but still drinks a little whiskey. He is a great smoker, and smokes before breakfast every morning. He is of a cheerful disposition and does not worry.

At the monthly meeting of the Red Cross Work Party, it was decided that the following favor should be asked, of the ladies of the town, on behalf of the Returned Soldiers: "That in putting up their supplies of jams, pickles, etc., they would place on one side a jar of each, until the canning season is over, when a committee will call upon them, for their kind donations. At the close of the meeting a hearty vote of thanks was passed to Messrs. Cropley and Wilson for making and printing the ice cream notices.

The Doukhobor accused of assaulting F. H. Wallsie, Danville, was arrested at the colony farm, Carson, Saturday by the provincial police. On Tuesday he had his trial before Police Magistrate Cochrane. The evidence tended to show that three Danville men —F. H. Wallsie, H. Haslin and Mr. Keathley—had gone into the field where the Doukhobor was at work, near the Carson schoolhouse, to have some "fun" with him, and that the Douk had picked up a rock and thrown it at tha men. The missile struck Wallsie in the forehead, inflicting quite a severe wound. The judge ordered the Doukhobor released, and fined Keathly and Haslin each $20 and costs. Wallsie, who had been injured, he thought had been sufficiently punished for his "fun." The latter gentleman, who was brought to the Grand Forks hospital after his encounter with the Douk, had recovered sufficiently on Tuesday to leave for his home,—Sun.

In the Fraser valley the hay crop is 25 per cent greater than last year. Labor is scarce, and the Hindoos and other Orientals are in clover, getting from $3 to $3.50 a day.

About this time 23 years ago the forest fires ran riot in the Slocan, and burned the towns of Three Forks, Bear Lake and Watson. Three Forks was re-built that fall, and for a year it was the best town in Kootenay. It lost the deal when the railroads tapped Sandon.

Bob Yuill has some claims in Kootenay. They are about six miles up Lockhart creek on the old Davie trail to White Grouse. For years Bob has been trying to get the government to render some assistance towards cleaning out the trail, but without success. Bob has bought 31 miner's certificates in Kootenay, and built many a trail with his own hands and money. Surely old trail blazers and pathfinders are entitled to some consideration. Without such men Kootenay would be a virgin wilderness. Bob was on Kootenay lake long before pianos, dudes, canaries or prohibition orators came over the divide.

Glory holes are scarce in Cobalt, Ontario. The LaRose is working one 60 feet deep, and 80 feet wide.

It has been demonstrated by a new process, that metallurgical coke can be made in B. C. for $6 a ton.

The capacity of the Granby smelter at Anyox is 2500 tons a day. This will soon be increased to 3,500 tons daily.

Miners are again plentiful at Porcupine, Ontario. The high wages in B. C. should bring many miners from Nova Scotia.

The creeks around Greenwood were prospected for placer gold in 1860. The creeks in the Slocan were panned for gold in 1884.

The high price of metals is causing many abandoned mines on Vancouver Island to be re-opened. Most of them are copper producers.

In Porcupine, Ontario, the Hollinger does development work by the mile. It has 40 machines on development alone, and is working 100 faces.

Among the properties represented by Spokane capital or Spokane men are the Silver Standard, Rocher Deboule, Highland Boy, Cassiar Crown, a group owned by James Cronin, and the Amargosa. The Rocher Deboule has received $1,500,000 net smelter returns from its ore, the shipment of which began two years ago. Part of this story is true, but not all of it.

IT will not do the country merchants much good to tax the mail order houses. A law is wanted that will compel them to stop advertising. That is the way they have built up their business, and without advertising, this great thorn in the side of the non-advertising little merchants, would soon fade away.

Need the Wheat

Canada and the United States must cut down their normal wheat consumption by 160,000,000 bushels to meet the needs of Great Britain and the Allies. Hon. W. J. Hanna, Canadian Food Controller, estimates that to feed Great Britain, France, and the other Allies, and the men at the front, will require 1,105,000,000 bushels of wheat. This means at least 460,000,000 will have to be imported from Canada and the United States. There will be under normal consumption in these two countries only 300,000,000 bushels surplus for export, and so by special efforts of food conservation the people of United States and Canada will have to make up a shortage of 160,000,000 bushels.

Raw eggs are very easily digested. The digestibility of cooked eggs depends upon the manner in which they are cooked. They should be cooked at low temperature. Egg albumen begins to coagulate at 134°F., becomes jelly-like at 160°F., and, when heated to the boiling point, 212°F. becomes a tough leathery mass and very indigestible.

Canada Copper Co.

A special meeting of Canada Copper Corporation stockholders has been called for August 29 to authorize the issuance of $2,500,000 ten-year 6 per cent first mortgage sinking fund convertible bonds, dated January 1, 1918, and also to act on increasing the authorized capital stock 1,000,000 shares, 833,333 of which will be held for conversion and the balance for corporate purposes, says a New York report.

The company now has an authorized capital of 1,000,000 shares, $5 par value, of which 945,454 are outstanding. There are also outstanding $63,800 debentures, which are called for redemption. These are convertible into stock at par.

The new bonds will be used to cover the development of the recently acquired British Columbia Copper company, including the installation of a 3000-ton mill, and also to supply working capital. The properties are at Princeton and Greenwood, B. C.

Stockholders of record August 14 will be entitled to subscribe for their pro rata share of the new bonds. Bonds are convertible into stock at any time before maturity at $3 a share, but are redeemable at the option of the company on and after January 1, 1918, at 110 per cent and interest.

The terms of subscription are as follows: 20 per cent of par on or before September 20, 1917; 20 per cent November 15, 1917: 20 per cent January, 2, 1918; 20 per cent February 19, 1918; 20 per cent April 16, 1918.

Purchase of the entire issue has been underwritten by Hayden, Stone & company, and Eugene Meyers, Jr., & company.

There were 113 cases last month in the police court at New Westminster, and 43 of them were for gambling.

About 4000 crates of tomatoes, and about 6000 crates of cucumbers, will be shipped from Creston this month.

Recently a man in Detroit asked exemption from military duty, because he was the sole support of four brothers in Germany.

In West Virgina, every able-bodied citizen, between 16 and 60, must work at least 36 hours a week, or be punished by law.

The cherry and apricot crop at Penticton is double that of last year. Thirty tons of cherries were canned at Penticton last month.

Robert Preston died in New Westminster last month, aged 76 years. He came west in 1864, and had lived in New Westminster since 1879.

A lawyer died in an American provincial town, and his fellow-lawyers wrote over his grave:

"Here lies a lawyer and an honest man."

Not long after, the governor of the province visited the town, and among other places inspected the cemetery. When he came to the lawyer's grave he stopped, read the inscription once or twice, and turning to the head inspector, said:

"Look here, my friend. We wink at a good many things in this province, but I do object to your burying two men in one grave."

Magnesite Ore

The development of the magnesite industry in this section was given an impetus by the breaking out of the European war which shut off importation of Austrian and Hungarian magnesites and greatly curtailed shipments from Greece, says the Chewelah Independent. This forced the American market to use home material and to pay the freight rates which in normal times it could not stand.

One of the big users of magnesite is the American Refractories Company of Chicago and western magnesite is shipped to its plants in the eastern states where it is manufactured into blocks for furnace linings, and sintered for bottoms of open-hearth steel furnaces.

Magnesite is also used as a plastic, large quantities being made into flooring, imitation marble and stucco, its non-cracking qualities and the hardness of the surface attained making it especially well suited for the purpose. However, this branch of the business is yet in its infancy in the United States and will grow to large proportions when the public learns to appreciate its possibilities.

The first magnesite was brought to this country from Greece in the early eighties for use in our steel plants. During 1885 about 500 tons were imported. The total for each year gradually increased until in 1913 there were imported 175,000 tons of calcined product, representing fully 375,000 tons crude.

Beat Them To It

An official of the board of health in a town not far from Boston, notified a citizen that his licence to keep a cow on his premises had expired. In reply to this letter, the official received the following communication:

"Monsieur Bord of Helt—I jus get your notis that my licens to keep my cow has expire. I wish to inform you, M'sieur Bord of Helt, that my cow can beat you to it—she expire t'ree week ago. Much oblige. Yours with respeck. PETE ——."

Hon. W. J. Hanna, Canadian Food Controller, calculates that food wasted in the garbage pails of Canada each year through carelessness and lack of kitchen economy amounts to $56,000,000 per year, or about $7 per head of population.

The End of It All

Ah! the end of it all—
Of this life that we live;
Of the blows that we get
And the blows that we give;
Of the joys and the griefs
That to each of us fall—
Blind humanity dreams
Of the end of it all.

The lover who yearns
For affection denied;
The prince in his hall
And the pauper outside;
The parents whose darling
Lies under the pall—
Each mournfully dreams
Of the end of it all.

Since God in His love
For his children denies
This glimpse of the end
To humanity's eyes,
Let each bravely answer
Life's manifest call
And rely on the Lord
For the end of it all.

Float

FLOAT is not a periodical. It is a book containing 86 illustrations all told, and is filled with sketches and stories of western life. It tells how a gambler cashed in after the flush days of Sandon; how it rained in New Denver long after Noah was dead; how a parson took a drink at Bear Lake in early days; how justice was dealt in Kaslo in '93; how the saloon man outprayed the women in Kalamazoo, and graphically depicts the roamings of a western editor among the tender-feet in the cent belt. It contains the early history of Nelson and a romance of the Silver King mine. In it are printed three western poems, and dozens of articles too numerous to mention. Send for one before it is too late. The price is 25 cents, postpaid to any part of the world. Address all letters to

THE CENTRAL HOTEL, AINSWORTH

This well-appointed hotel, in Kootenay's oldest mining town, is a pleasant home for all who travel. It is delightfully situated, and from its balconies the vista of lake and mountain scenery is grandly magnificent: It is but a few yards from the famous and health-giving hot mineral water springs. Tourists, drummers, miners, muckers, millionaires, and the general public are alike welcome at this hostelry. The rooms are cheerful, the meals tasty, and the spirits in the bar are fit for the gods, while the cigars are a delight to those who flirt with My Lady Nicotine. Come for a day, and you will come forever.
