Midway Entertainment

Mrs. T C. Peck, secretary of the Midway Ladies Aid sends The Ledge the following account of a recent pleasant event in that town:

The Ladies Aid of Midway, held a very enjoyable entertainment at the home of Mrs. R. D. Kerr, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 16. for the benefit of the Patriotic Fund. The house was crowded with gay people from nearby towns, some of them even coming from Grand Forks to participate; also people from Rock Creek, Toroda, and Boundary Falls. There were no drawbacks whatever to the perfect freedom and gaiety of everybody.

Dancing, cards and fortune telling were the features of the evening and were indulged in until a late hour. Mr. Julian of Rock Creek very kindly favored us with songs.

The Ladies Aid wish to thank the Bush orchestra for their kindness in playing their usual delightful music for the dancers; also all others who helped as accompanists.

Miss Borders is to be congratulated upon her happy faculty of telling fortunes. May her own be as happy as the fortunate ones. A most delightful luncheon was served by the ladies. Everyone was glad to contribute his or her share of the entertaining and when it came to donating were most liberal in the noble cause of patriotism. The receipts of the evening were $70.

Frozen to Death

Last Friday with some companions, George Morris went hunting near the No. 7 mine. In tracking a deer he became separated from his comrades. When he did not return to camp, the provincial police and many others searched for him until Sunday morning when his body was found lying on a trail, just a few yards from the No. 7 road, about a mile from camp. Being a lad of 15, and thinly clad he became exhausted, and falling on the trail was frozen to death. The body was removed to the undertaking parlors in Greenwood, and interment took place yesterday afternoon. His parents Mr. and Mrs. John Morris, reside at Boundary Falls, and in this sad, tragic, and agonizing trial, they have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community. We must bow to the inevitable, for the unbending laws of nature, and the ruthless hand of death spares no one. We must be brave and look beyond the shadows, until time heals the wounds that are caused when a loved one suddenly passes to the great beyond.

Two Women

The world stands aghast at the unspeakable barbarity in the execution of Miss Cavell by the Germans in Belgium. If there were no other crime to place the Huns beyond the pale of civilization this would suffice. Miss Cavell's offence was, being overmastered by her womanly impulse, she assisted British and French soldiers out of Belgium.

Cowering in her cell in the Wetaskewin, Alberta jail is another woman awaiting the coming of the executioner. This is for having killed her husband. The evidence shows that she has been driven to the brink of madness by a cruelty more inhuman than bodily harm. It is claimed that the man who had swore to love her, brought his mistress into his home and flaunted her before the wife.

There are times when public opinion carries with it a greater measure of justice than all the courts in the land. Had public opinion been left to decide the fate of Miss Cavell, the British nurse the greatest punishment she would have received would have been a term in prison.

If public opinion governed in the case of the Wetaskewin women, it would liberate her and turn its vengeance upon the man who wrecked her life.—Golden Star.

Col Carnegie, chairman of the shell committee, is reported to have stated that the committee has placed an order with the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company at Trail for a supply of refined copper in Canada, and that arrangements are being made for its production. This is one of the most important war supply orders issued so far, and it will mean much activity at the Trail smelter.

Robert Tillson of Hamilton, Ontario, fell from the K. V. bridge at Ladner creek and was killed early this month. He was to be married on the 22nd.

Curly Robinson was running a restaurant in Kaslo 23 years ago. He made $40,000 in three months, but it cost him $45,000 to make it, a fact that caused Curly to go flewey in the spring of '93.

If J. L. Stamford, of the Pingree Mining Co. wishes to sell stock or mine around Nelson, or anywhere else, he should fulfill the promises he made years ago, and by which he obtained money from those who had faith in his word, note and honor.

Death of Frawley

After being a sufferer for nearly 30 years from fibroid consumption, William Frawley died last Saturday afternoon, at his residence on Silver street, from pneumonia. The funeral took place Tuesday forenoon, under the auspices of the Eagles, and services were held in the R. C. church. Wm. Frawley was born in Rushville, Illinois, March 14, 1863. He learned the barber business early in life, and during his time he had shaved General Phil Sheridan and many other prominent men of the United States and Canada. He followed his trade in Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Victoria, Kamloops, Nelson and other cities. Finding the climate agreeable he settled in Greenwood about 17 years ago, remaining until his demise.

He was a man of sterling character, and of iron nerve. Although in delicate health for over a quarter of a century he was always cheerful, and bore his physical affliction with wonderful patience and bravery. He never whined nor showed the white feather. He was liberal in his views upon all questions, and a philosopher of high degree. His word was as good as his bond, which is one of the greatest virtues in mankind. He was progressive and enterprising in his ideas and deeds. He was an excellent citizen, a loving brother, and a true friend. He is survived by his sister, Margaret, and in her sad bereavement she has the sympathy of the many friends who loved and admired the deceased for his many noble and manly qualities.

Jack Lucy Dead

Jack Lucy cashed in and crossed the great divide about six o'clock alst Friday evening. The summons came at the close of a very jolly day for Jack. He was just stepping out of a sleigh in front of the National hotel when he was stricken by apoplexy. As he sank to the ground he exclaimed, "Here's where I quit," and spoke no more. He was carried into the National and died with a smile on his face. When Dr. MacLean arrived Jack was placed upon the billiard table and every effort made to revive him, but he could not come back, and his body was taken to the morgue. And thus ended one of the great optimists of the west. The funeral will be held this afternoon.

Jack Lucy was born near Cornwall, Ontario, on Christmas Day, 1857. He drilled oil wells at Tarpot, Pa., in 1878, and then drifted west to Montana. Then he went south and steamboated out of New Orleans. In 1883 he was making ties for the C.P.R. at Shuswap lake. In 1885 along with Billy Noble he ran a saloon at Granite Creek. From their he went to Idaho and ran the Senate saloon in Wallace. When the trouble broke out in the Coeur d' Alenes in 1892, Jack joined the Irish Brigade and emigrated to Kaslo. He hit the drill for the first time at the Noble Five mine, and after the silver panic of '93 took a look at Rossland, coming to Greenwood about 19 years ago.

Nature endowed Jack with a powerful physique and considerable mental ability. He had his faults, but as he often said himself, "Let's say nothing about it." He was of an extremely frank and generous nature, always ready to give his last shirt to a needy friend, or his last side of bacon to a hungry canine. The power of gold never touched his soul with its frosty mitt, and when Jack had money the world grew brighter for all who met him. He was the most cheerful and most optimistic man that ever came into this canyon, and it will be many a day, before the sound of his cheery laugh dies in the memory of those who knew him best. He died with his boots on, although not in the proverbial way of the old west. Peace to his ashes, and may he always laugh while pushing clouds with the angels.

Hey, Kid!

An out-going Dawsonite, when interviewed at Vancouver said "Dawson would have about fifteen hundred people this winter." That is not many people and it is less than Dawson has ever had at any one time in her previous history. We can remember when nearly fifteen hundred people belonged to the blackjack Boosters Union in Dawson and half of them would look around when anyone yelled "Hey Kid."—Whitehorse Star.

WE find politics everywhere. Even some telephone companies run their business on party lines.

Be good and always pay the priater, for in the midst of life, death is liable to make a sight draft, and take away your breath before you can square yourself with the world.

IT is rumored that the good nearly always die young. This explains to us the reason, our folks had so many doctors feeling our pulse, when we were in the primary stage of our earthly career.

THE great trinity is composed of oxygen, nitrogen and hydrogen. This is the one in three, and the three in one that makes all life possible. Think over it deeply, and your mind may broaden into a ledge of pure gold.

THE war tax has been on since last April but still some people will persist in issuing cheques without putting on a stamp. The banks for over a hundred years have been charging exchange on outside cheques, but still many neglect to add exchange to the cheques they send out of town. This is a small way of making money.

THE B. C. Federationist is a labor paper, published in Vancouver. Its main business is denouncing capitalists, upholding unions, and roasting scabs. Yet it is scabbing every week upon its own profession. The standard price for weekly papers in this province for many years, has been $2, and yet the Fed. persists in charging $1.50 a year. This is as pure a case of scabbing as exists in the province. It is always advisable when throwing stones to have no windows in your own house.

Effects of Anger

Dr. Wood Autchinson has an article in the Philadelphia Public Ledger on "How Anger Shortens Life." The very title ought to be a caution to those people who get mad so easily and who flare up every time one disagrees with them. Hate is a disease quite as fatal as typhoid or tuberculosis. To be grouchy, snarly and quarrelsome is the same. The theory is when a person is in that situation he is at cross purposes with God's administration of the world and that situation is disease. There can be no doubt about this. It is the old doctrine of the influence of the mind over matter, insisted upon today by a medical scientist of the highest repute. Love is health; hate is disease. It is better to know that than nine-tenths of the so-called truth that sways men's minds.—Ex.

Dig up the Dust

A Mississippi editor makes this appeal to delinquent subscribers: "Fish down into your pockets and dig up dust. The paper is hungry and the editor is 'bout to bust. We've trusted you for several months and done it with a smile, so just return the compliment and trust us for a while. Our wife she needs some stockings, and baby needs a dress, Jimmy needs some breeches, and so do Kate and Bess. Put is on the hog train and Peggy sick with greef, and, good gosh almighty, can't you give a man relief?" Shell out those nickels and turn loose those dimes, turn 'em loose and whistle, and we'll have better times. There will be fewer patches on the bosom of our pants, and we'll make the paper better if Beebe'd quit the dance. Don't give us that old story, long gone to seed, 'bout taking more family papers than the family want to read; but help to feed the printer, and he'll help our town to grow, and thus escape the sulphur in the regions down below."

In the event of future issues (other than issues made abroad) being made by the Government, for the purpose of carrying on the war, bonds of this issue will be accepted at the issue price, 97½, plus accrued interest as the equivalent of cash for the purpose of subscriptions to such issues.

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE offers herewith on behalf of the Government the above named Bonds for subscription at 97½ payable as follows,—

10 per cent on application,
7½ " " 3rd January, 1916,
20 " " 1st February, 1916,

The instalments may be paid in full on and after the 3rd day of January, 1916, under discount at the rate of four per cent per annum. All payments are to be made to a chartered bank for the credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture and the allotment to cancellation.

Applications, accompanied by a deposit of ten per cent of the amount subscribed, must be forwarded through the medium of a chartered bank. The bank will issue a provisional receipt.

This loan is authorized under Act of Parliament of Canada and both principal and interest will be a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Forms of application may be obtained from any branch of any chartered bank in Canada, and at the office of any Assistant Receiver General in Canada.

Subscriptions must be for even hundreds of dollars.

In case of partial allotments the surplus deposit will be applied towards payment of the amount due on the January instalment.

Scrip certificates payable to bearer will be issued, after allotment, in exchange for the provisional receipts.

When the scrip certificates have been paid in full and payment endorsed thereon by the bank receiving the money, they may be exchanged for bonds with coupons attached, payable to bearer or registered as to principal, or for fully registered bonds without coupons.

Delivery of scrip certificates and of bonds will be made through chartered banks.

The interest on the fully registered bonds will be paid by cheque, which will be remitted by post. Interest on bonds with coupons will be paid on surrender of coupons. Both cheques and coupons will be payable free of exchange at any branch of any chartered bank in Canada.

Holders of fully registered bonds without coupons will have the right to convert into bonds with coupons, payable to bearer or registered, without payment of any fee, and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert, without fee, into fully registered bonds without coupons at any time on application in writing to the Minister of Finance.

The issue will be exempt from taxes—including any income tax—imposed in pursuance of legislation enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

The bonds with coupons will be issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000. Fully registered bonds without coupons will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 or any authorized multiple of $5,000.

Application will be made in due course for the listing of the issue on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges.

The loan will be repaid at maturity at par at the office of the Minister of Finance and Receiver General at Ottawa, or at the office of the Assistant Receiver General at Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary or Victoria.

The Books of the loan will be kept at the Department of Finance, Ottawa.

Recognised bond and stock brokers will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent on allotments made in respect of applications which bear their stamp.

Subscription Lists will close on or before 30th November, 1915.

Finance Department, Ottawa, 22nd November, 1915.
