Her character sketches were wonderfully clever and the audience could have kept her reciting half the night."

Whenever the Rebeccas undertake anything all work harmoniously together to make the affair a success, and so it was a foregone conclusion that the Kewpie card party in the Oddfellows Hall on Monday night would be a howling success. About seventy-five were present and ten games of whist were played. Mrs. Taylor and Miss McCullough won the ladies prizes while Wm. Smith and Mr. Ouilette, of Vancouver, won the gentlemen's prizes. A most delicious supper was served after which the hall was cleared for dancing. GREENWOOD, MAY 21, 1914.

IT looks as though Canada had too many railroads for the number of people within its borders.

THE smokeless smoker has proved a success. Let some good soul now invent a smokeless cigarette, and the world will jog along with less haze on the moon.

THE POOR FORKS

THAT lively and beautiful city, Grand Forks, seems to be out of luck. A day worshipper in the cent belt recently wrote to the Gazette of that city, bemoaning the fact, that the people of the Forks had been playing ball with a brass band on a Sunday. He stated that even the bankers and druggists of the Forks had climbed down from the high level of the moral standard of Canada, and wallowed in the mire of Sabbath desecration. Poor fellows! how wicked they must be. He says that few people in Ontario, or the prairie provinces would care to settle down in Grand Forks, if the terrible fact becomes known that some of its citizens go fishing or play ball on Sunday. The parting of the ways has now come to the Forks. Its fate trembles in the balance. It is between the devil, Christina Lake, and a band of lemon blooded Puritans. If it declares for a Sunday filled with fresh air, baseball, health, music, recreation and good cheer the Puritans will pass up that city as a high roller does a white chip. However all would not be lost. The Forks would still have the Douks.

Troubles never come singly. When it was recently discovered that some Doukhobors were employed on C. P.R. work at the Forks many of the business men, filled with indignation, stormily declared that they would boycott the C.P.R., and route their goods over the Jim Hill line. The lid was blown off of Hades, the storm increased in fury and hot air, and the black clouds of financial ruin were hovering over the C.P.R., when an astute official of that great railway appeared upon the scene and poured gasoline upon the raging sea of public opinion. He simply whispered that the C. P. R. had not yet made Grand Forks a divisional point, and incidentally remarked that Jim Hill had a bunch of Douks working on the Phoenix hill. Then the teapot quit shaking, and an Eholt silence fell over the raging multitude, as one by one, they went away back and sat down to listen to the bullfrogs singing that new song, entitled, Nearer My Douk To Thee.

Thinking Themes

I have been reading one of those dramas of passion the daily press unrolls before us daily. Hardly an issue of the newspaper but there is some murder caused by the man-woman feeling.

This particular one was of a most revolting crime—I will not describe it further than to say that a man most brutally killed his mistress.

There is a kinship between love and life; and so there is between lust and murder.

The utter cruelty of Orientals is a part of their sensuality. Sensualism is a matter of climax, and killing is close brother to it. The desire of the Sultan to possess a female slave he wants, and the desire to bow-string one he has ceased to want, are nearly the same thing.

Low love is volcanic, spasmodic, destructive, imbruting. High love is a power like sunshine, it abides, is strong, persistent, creative, ennobling.

By this you shall know real love, it can endure and wait. The love that is very near animalism cannot wait, it has no restraint, no repose, no time element.

There can be no real tragedy in true love; it always triumphs, even over death.—Dr. Frank Crane.

She Won't Succeed

The woman who starts out without any practical training.

The woman who can turn her mind to anything, and does nothing thoroughly.

The woman who expects to begin at the top, instead of slowly climbing there.

The woman who spends her nights seeking amusements or in 'society,' instead of rest and recreation.

The woman who is hampered by unsuitable dress.

The woman whose thoughts are all on her appearance, and the impression she is making.

The woman who makes every casual acquaintance a bosom friend.

The woman who is never on time.

The woman who is stiff and unsocial, repelling all friendly advances.

The woman who lets pleasure come ahead of her work.

The woman who talks too much.—Detroit News.

Neither Stayed

A certain clever parlor maid hurried to her young lady one evening and said breathlessly:

'Oh, Miss Fanny, both them young gents you are engaged to has called, and they're in the parlor together, and somehow they have found out you've been false to each, and it looks to me as if there's going to be trouble."

"What shall I do? What shall I do?" Miss Fanny moaned, as her powder puff dropped from her nerveless fingers.

"I'll fix it," said the clever maid, after a moment of deep thought. "I'll go and say you're crying your eyes out because your pa has lost all his money. Then you can keep the one who stays."

"Good, good!" Miss Fanny cried.

The maid withdrew. Some minutes passed. Then she returned with a scared face.

"Both gents is gon," she said.

Home From Mexico

George Snider, a Petrolia driller, who has spent a number of years drilling in Mexico, arrived in town penniless, on Saturday, after a very exciting experience.

Mr. Snider and Frank Lawson, also of Petrolia, have been engaged in drilling in the Tampico district, and, until recently, were not effected by the disturbance, as their operations were being conducted under the protection of the British flag, nailed to the drilling rig. However, it appears that the rebels, either collectively or individually, are no respectors of flags and on April 22nd, the rig was destroyed and Snider and Lawson warned to leave the country and given only two hours in which to do so. Profiting by the experience of Benton, both men made a hasty exit, Lawson finding refuge on a British man-of-war, and Snider on an oil steamer which conveyed him to Galveston, Texas, where he arrived clothed in his working clothes and without funds, having left everything behind him. An official of the United States government to whom he stated his position furnished transportation to Detroit and gave him a five dollar bill and friends in Detroit furnished transportation here. When he arrived in Petrolia he was taken care of by Sam Pollard, the Petrolia representative of the English company for whom Mr. Snider was working, and who cabled to England for part of salary due. Mr. Snider, after spending Sunday here receiving the congratulations of his friends on his escape left on Monday for Oil Springs where he will rest at the home of his brother-in-law, Wm. Cameron.—Petrolia, (Ont.) Advertiser.

A Startling Motto

A traveling salesman died very suddenly in Pittsburg. His relatives telegraphed the undertaker to make a wreath; the ribbon should be extra wide, with the inscription "Rest and Peace" on both sides, and if there is room, "We Shall Meet in Heaven."

The undertaker was out of town, and his new assistant handled the job. It was a startling floral piece which turned up at the funeral.

The ribbon was extra wide and bore the inscription, "Rest in Peace on Both Sides and if there is room We Shall Meet in Heaven."

One on the Bailiff

A bailiff went out to levey on the contents of a house. The inventory began in the attic and ended in the cellar.

When the dining-room was reached, the tally of furniture ran thus:

One dining-room table, oak.

One set chairs, oak.

One sideboard, oak.

Two bottles whiskey, full.

Then the word "full" was stricken out and replaced by "empty" and the inventry went on in a hand that straggled and lurched diagonally across the page until it closed with:

"One revolving door mat."

How He Found the Key

Miss Dresswell had just returned after spending a week with a country friend. Imagine her consternation when she discovered her previously stocked wardrobe empty.

"Gracious, George," she said to her brother, "where are all my clothes?"

The face of George exhibited all the known signs of conscious righteousness and he met her gaze unflinchingly.

'Maria,' he replied, consolingly, "You told me that if I wanted the key to the billiard room, I would find it in your bolero. Now I don't know a bolero from a fichu or a box of plait, so I took them out on the lawn and burned them. Then I recovered the key from the ashes.

Blissful Innocence

"I suppose," said the fair prison visitor, "that the singing of the little birds helps to relieve the monotony for you?"

"Wot birds?" queried the prisoner.

"Why the jail birds," replied the fair visitor. "I've often heard of them."

Made Her Happy

The sentiment of today was freely expressed by the New England girl who mistook the first mile stone out of Boston for a tombstone, and, reading the inscription, '1-M from Boston,' said:

" 'I'm from Boston'—how simple, how sufficient."

LOWERY'S CLAIM.

During the 87 months that Lowery's Claim was on earth it did business all over the world. It was the most unique, independent and fearless journal ever produced in Canada. Political and theological enemies pursued it with the venom of a rattlesnake until the government shut it out of the mails, and its editor ceasad to publish it partly on account of a lazy liver and partly because it takes a pile of money to run a paper that is outlawed. Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations.

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon: If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

THE JOLLY GIRL

The jolly girls are born, not made; no training or endeavor can counterfeit her. There are those, to be sure, who affect jollity, but it is only skin deep. The jolly girl is jolly under adverse circumstances—in bad weather; when she hasn't a cent to her name; when she has the toothacke; when she breaks her needle; when her back hair tumbles down in public; when she is shopping; when her masculine friend at the theatre goes out and when he returns. She never seems to indulge in that feminine luxury "the blues" and it is a mistake to suppose that she is noisy; there is jollity of the lady-like, aristocratic sort, as well as the fish-wife order.

The girl who makes up he mind that jollity is the proper cue and that she will be lively or die usually overdoes the business. She thinks that it chiefly consists in laughing and in chattering nonsense, that it is a manner of speech merely, rather than a quality of the mind which disposes one to make the best of everything, to see the rainbow on the cloud and the silver lining behind it, to make the wrinkle in the rose leaf a cause of mirth. Some believe that jollity is a cause of embonpoint; but who has not been disappointed in finding the stout woman melancholy and the thin one vivacious, the bilious person full of good humor and the person whose digestion never gave her a moment's uneasiness quite the reverse? The jolly girl cannot suppress herself, and assume sadness of pensiveness; languishing airs do not sit well upon her, but show at a glance that they are borrowed plumes. One is never dull with her. She has that infinite variety that all the world covets and loves. It may be a desirable thing that those who have not this natural grace should cultivate and encourage it in themselves and others, since it brightens and strengthens life, makes rough places smoother and pleasant places pleasanter. Possibly it is no special virtue in the jolly girl any more than blue eyes in the blonde maiden or red hair in the Titianesque. Jollity flows from her presence just as the nightingale's fluting bubbles from his throat enchants the world; just as the poet pours forth his song "in profuse strains of unpremediated art." Let her be shipwrecked, or an invalid stranded on a bed of pain yet she does not lose or abate that peculiar trait which makes sunshine for those about her and sweeps the cobwebs out of their sky.

* * *

Be good and do good wherever you roam, and especially display these traits at your home.

About Float.

Float is not a periodical. It is a book containing 86 illustrations all told, and is filled with sketches and stories of western life. It tells how a gambler cashed in after the flush days of Sandon; how it rained in New Denver long after Noah was dead; how a parson took a drink at Bear Lake in early days; how justice was dealt in Kaslo in '93; how the saloon man outprayed the women in Kalamazoo, and graphically depicts the roamings of a western editor among the tenderfeet in the cent belt. It contains the early history of Nelson and a romance of the Silver King mine. In it are printed three western poems, and dozens of articles too numerous to mention. Send for one before it is too late. The price is 25 cents, postpaid to any part of the world. Address all letters to

He Does Not Advertise.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself has said:
'My trade of late is getting bad,
I'll try another ten-inch ad!"

If there be, go mark him well,
For him no bank account shall swell,
No angels watch the golden stair,
To welcome home the millionaire.

The man who never asks for trade,
By local line, or add displayed,
Cares more for rest than worldly gain,
And patronage but gives him pain.

Tread lightly, friends; let no rude sound
Disturb his solitude profound,
Here let him lie in calm repose,
Unsought except by men he owes.

And when he dies, go plant him deep
That nothing may disturb his sleep,
Where no rude clamor may dispel
That quiet that he loved so well.

And that the world may know its loss;
Place on a stone a wreath of moss,
And on a stone above "Here lies
A fossil, who did not advertise."

B. C. MINING NEWS

A new mining excitement was created in Hope yesterday afternoon on the return of a number of explorers from the latest discoveries on the Coquihalla about 15 miles from Hope.

It is much too early to form an estimate of the value of the new find, but it has made a very favorable impression on many experienced mining men. L. B. Cleaves, Capt. B. Blyth and Frank Fritz came back yesterday afternoon after staking claims adjoining the original locations of Thompson and Merrick, who have been working on their claims for some time and saying nothing. Mr. Thompson returned from a trip to Vancouver yesterday and immediately returned to the property. He has interested Vancouver people in the discoveries and an examination by an engineer is expected next week.

Messrs. Thompson & Merrick have uncovered a ledge averaging six feet in width. Ten claims have already been located along the ledge.

The ore contains free milling gold. The gold, in very fine specks is easily seen without a glass. Some very high values have been shown by assays, but assays of free milling gold ore are often deceiving. However, a careful sampling will soon be made by which prospective locators and investors may be guided.

On Ladner Creek, E. Rondo is working steadily on the properties formerly held by W. M. Williams. His trips into town are not frequent, but he is always able to report results cheering.

A little nearer Hope W. F. Bradley is at work on a quartz prospect, having later given up placer mining to seturn to his first love. With him is Charles Farnell, an old prospector and miner of the Slocan camps.

Others of the recently located properties between the Natural Bridge and Ten-Mile are also still being worked.—Hope Review.

Frank Brown returned Saturday night from a trip to Vancouver. In the city he met R. G. Steele who had just returned after spending the winter in England. Col. Steel stated that in a few weeks he would undertake the development of the Silver Island group in Babine lake on which he took a bond last fall. He has successfully organized a company of New York capitalists and the necessary money is on hand. The first work will be to take out sixty tons of ore which is now in sight and ship it. This ore shows large quantities of native silver and it is expected that some of it will run as high as $1,b00 to the ton.

The Hudson Bay Mountain Co. will send out another manager this year to conduct the operations there as Mr. Steele will devote all his attention to Silver Island.—Hazelton Herald.

CITY COUNCIL

The Council met on Monday evening. Mayor McLaine, and Ald. MacLean, McCreath, Jenkin, and Rendell present.

Ola Lofstad was granted $45 to improve the road to the Argo tunnel.

It was decided to call for tenders for the building of a cement sidewalk, Block 7, Copper street. This is the part of Copper street lying between the National Hotel, and Burn's corner.

A committee was appointed to look into the matter of appointing a medical health officer.

A committee was appointed to draft a by-law re the storage of gasoline, etc.

The Temporary Loan By-law, No. 1, 1914 was read three times.

W. G. Pond was granted a two weeks leave of absence, provided that he supplies a suitable substitute.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid: Sing Lung, $3.25; B. C. Gazette, $8.25; Windsor hotel, $5; Dr. McArthur, $79; L. A. Smith & Co., $4.35; W. Mellor, $29.50; J. L. White, 75c; Electric Lights, $125.25.

Council adjourned until June 1.

Obituary Notice

There was a very large attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Ruby G. Hargreaves, wife of Robert G. Hargreaves of Greenwood, which took place yesterday. The casket was covered with a profusion of beautiful flowers. The services were conducted by the Rev. W. L. Clay, and the hymns "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Rock of Ages" were sung. Vancouver Lodge No. 2 A. F. and A. M., a delegation from Queen City No. 5, Order Eastern Star, the Shrine and other Masonic lodges of the city were present. The pallbearers were Hon. Thos. Taylor, Henry J. Scott, Henry Browning, J. P. McLeod, Angus McKeown and H. C. Cummins.—Victoria Colonist, May 15.

County Court

At the County Court held last week the light docket was disposed of as follows:

Sater & Johns vs. Sam Johnson. Case adjourned.

Capricoti vs. Phoenix Mining, Smelting & Development Co. Judgement for $564.33, and $16.35 damages for the plaintiff.

C. S. Morris vs. James Logan. Appeal from small debts court at Phoenix. Appeal allowed with costs.

Poggi vs Sivitilli. Adjourned until May 26.

About Fishing

To The Editor of The Ledge
Sir:

Might the attention of the Game Warden be called, through your paper, to the fishing in this district.

On Saturday I fished Eholt creek from the second beaver dam to Floyd's ranch, and must have caught some scores of fish, but owing to the proper restriction of size, there were only six fish that were large enough to bring home.

Every fish I caught with a few, exceptions, were full of spawn, and while unhooking them, the spawn ran out in a stream, this being my individual experience, I presume the same happened with every fisherman.

This must prove that the spawning season is late this year and might it not be wise for the Game Warden, or perhaps a higher Government authority, to extend the close season for a longer period when this delay in spawning is evident. This would save the waste in eggs and young fish which have now too many enemies preying upon them.

There is another suggestion that perhaps might be carried out with benefit to the fishing in this district.

There is a stretch of water in Eholt creek where the fish seem to collect for spawning. It is an ideal spawning ground, being a fine gravelly bottom and shallow water. Here the fish are the thickest at present, evidentally coming from lower reaches of the creek to spawn.

I would be pleased to show this stretch of water to the Game Warden and prove my assertion.

Would it be possible to preserve this stretch of water until later in the season, when the bulk of the spawning is finished. All true sportsmen, would I am sure, gladly assist in whatever restrictions would be placed in this stretch.

Yours truly,
CHARLES KING.

COUGH TWO YEARS OLD

Yields to Vinol. Read Why.

Strong vigorous men and women hardly ever catch cold; it's only when the system is run down and vitality low that colds and coughs get a foothold.

Now isn't it reasonable that the right way to cure a cough is to build up your run down condition again?

Mrs. D. A. McGee of Waycross, Ga., says: "I had a chronic cold and cough which kept me awake nights for two years and I felt tired all the time. Vinol cured my cough and I feel stronger in every way."

The reason Vinol is so efficacious in such cases is because it contains in a delicious concentrated form all the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, with tonic, blood building iron added.

Chronic coughs and colds yield to Vinol because it builds up the weakened, run-down system.

You can get your money back any time if Vinol does not do all we say.
