THE STAMP OF DURABILITY

Is impressed upon every pair of Shoes we offer the public. In the first place we aim to buy only reliable footwear of reliable manufacturers, who are prepared to stand by their goods with their guarantee, which we in turn give with every pair of shoes we sell you. It is a safe way to do business —safe for us, safe for you, and the stamp of durability protects us both, we in our reputation as reliable shoe dealers, you in the amount of wear and durability secured through your investment in Footwear at our store. A call will convince you

LILLIE BROS.

NELSON VS. ROSSLAND

A Well Contested Game and Ideal Weather.

VISITORS VICTORIOUS

Nelson Wins By Fifteen to Seven—A Pleasant Game—The Rosslanders Were Hospitable.

This, the first Rugby match in Kootenay, was played in Rossland on Saturday in ideal weather. The game took place on the Black Bear ground before quite a number of spectators, who evinced considerable enthusiasm during its progress. As the game was an initial one old footballers knew it was useless to speculate as to the result. Both teams contained the names of several players well known in the football annals of the Pacific coast of British Columbia, augmented by recent arrivals from the mother country. So far as training and condition were concerned neither side had any advantage as the match was arranged on somewhat short notice, and facilities for practice are limited in both cities.

The teams faced each other shortly after 2:30, the Rossland captain having won the toss. The visitors pressed the home team but Tait, an old Midland county three-quarter back, did grand work for Rossland, who gradually worked the ball up to the Nelson 25, from which it was eventually rushed over the goal line and a try obtained. The place kick at goal was unsuccessful.

After the kick out the Nelson backs were conspicuous for some good passing, but they could not get past the opposing three-quarters. Eventually Tait of Rossland managed to obtain a successful drop kick at goal. A splendid rush of the Nelson forwards headed by Hector Sproat enabled that veteran forward to secure a try which was not converted. When the whistle sounded for half time the score stood; Rossland, 7 points; Nelson, 3 points.

Before resuming Capt. Haines of Nelson decided to slightly alter the position of his men, by taking Macrae out of the scrum and placing him in the three-quarter division, a course which was justified by after events.

During the second half Nelson had the better of the game, continually forcing Rossland to their 25. Haines scored a try, but the kick was difficult and was not converted. Later on Tod dropped a neat goal. Rossland made a determined effort to equalize, but Macrae again secured the ball, and eluding the entire back division of Rossland, touched down directly behind the goal. The kick was again entrusted to Tod who sent the ball neatly over the bar. Shortly afterwards time was called. Score, Nelson, 15 points; Rossland, 7.

Considering the limited extent of the ground and the fact that neither team had ever played together before the game was interesting from start to finish. Nelson had nearly always the better of the scrum, and at times the backs displayed good combination. Haines at half played a great game never sparing himself and he was well supported by Blest. Tod, Macrae and Williams played well at three-quarters, while Sproat, Sargeant and Hodge were perhaps the most brilliant of a hard working set of forwards.

For Rossland Tait at the three quarters played a sterling game and was well backed up by Grogan and Beecher.

The veteran Cowper-Coles was always to the fore on the forwards.

After the match the best of feeling prevailed between the two teams Rossland sparing no effort to entertain their visitors.

It is the intention of Rossland to play a return match in Nelson next Saturday.

The personnel of the teams was as follows:

Nelson—Digby, back; Haines and Blest, half-backs; Wilson, Jeffs, Tod and Williams, three-quarters; Sproat, Hepburn, Cousins, Sargeant Macrae, Stillwell, Taite, Hodge, forwards.

Rossland—O'Hara, back; Wilkin and Hobbes, half backs; Grogan, Tait, Becher, Butt, three quarters, Ovington, Ridout, Dashwood, Sword, Johnstone, Beeton, Cowper-Coles, Marshall, forwards.

J. M. Scott acted as referee.

ELECTION PROTESTS.

An Important Decision Given by Mr. Justice Martin.

Decision in the last of the arguments urged for striking out the petitions in the protests against Messrs. Buller, Dunsmuir, Pooley and Bryden and McPhillips, was given Thursday at Victoria by Mr. Justice Martin. His lordship agreed with the contention of Mr. Duff, who opposed Mr. Cassdiy's motion, that under section 66 of the election act of 1888, which empowers the judge of the supreme court to make rules for the effectual carrying out of the act and the object and intention thereof, the rule of August, 1894, was valid. This rule gave the senior puisne judge the right, during the vacation of the office of the chief justice, to appoint the prescribed master. The effect of this is that Mr. Drake's appointment as master by Mr. Justice Walkem is a valid one. The motion, therefore, to strike out the petition against Bullen, which was the test case, was dismissed. The trial of the election case protest of Jardine vs. Bullen comes up today at Victoria before Mr. Justice Drake and it is understood that a great array of witnesses, numbering 60 or more have been subpoened.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN.

Cooking Lessons For Ladies—The New Public Library.

A meeting of the National Council of Women was held on Saturday afternoon in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church, and several ladies reported as to the success they had had in getting names for the cooking lessons which are to be held in Nelson. Only 26 names have been secured, which are not enough to make the venture a financial success, but after some discussion it was decided to go on with the plan in the hope that other names will be obtained. It is earnestly hoped that many more will take advantage of this unique opportunity of being initiated into the mysteries of the culinary art, as all profits will go to the fund for the establishment of a public library, which is urgently needed in Nelson.

The committee then discussed the library question, and it was decided to try to get a committee of gentlemen to take the matter up, and give it the benefit of their influence and experience. As the gentlemen named had not been previously consulted their names are not published here, but it may be stated that the proposed committee consists of representatives of the municipal authorities, bankers, professional and business men of the city.

SUPREME COURT SITTINGS.

Concluded at Rossland After Occupying Nearly Four Weeks.

The special sittiings of the supreme court which have been in progress in Rossland since Oct. 4, closed yesterday, and Mr. Justice Walkem will spend a few days in Nelson on business. With the summonses and appeals the total number of cases disposed of was over 60.

One of of the longest actions tried was the Nelson case of the bank of Montreal vs. Wilson. The case consisted of 14 distinct claims, and was very complicated. It involved the sale of time checks in connection with the building of the old Trail creek tramway, now known as the Columbian & Western railway. The judge deferred his decision until he could hear the evidence of F. P. Gutelius, superintendent of the road. He will look further into the case on his return to the coast.

THE BITTNER THEATRE CO.

The members of the Bittner company arrived in town yesterday afternoon and registered at the Hume. There are 16 members in the company, 11 gentlemen and 5 ladies, and they come with high recommendations from the press and the public of the places in which they have appeard. The company opens tonight with Bailey Campbell's well known drama "The Galley Slave". The performance which will begin at 8 o'clock in the skating rink, is a continuous one with specialties between each act. The seats are on sale at W. F. Teetzel's drug store.

ROSSLAND ORE SHIPMENTS.

The shipments from the Rossland mines for the week ending Saturday night again surpassed all records. The output of the camp reached the large total of 4,415 tons For the same week last year, the shipments amounted to 1425 tons. The Le Roi mine last week shipped 3475 tons, the War Eagle, 900 tons and the Iron Mask, 40 tons. On the basis of $30 as the average value of the ore the product of the camp for the past seven days has been $132,450 equal to nearly $20,000 per day.

THE COURT DECIDES IN DREYFUS' FAVOR

The Case Will Be Re-opened and Inquired Into.

PRISONER IS STILL HELD

There Will Be no Suspension of Penalty Pending the Rehearing of the Charges.

Paris, 29.—The decision of the court textually, is as follows: In view of the letter of the minister of justice, dated Sept. 20, 1898, in view of the arguments of the public prosecutor denouncing to the court the condemnation pronounced by the first court martial of the military government of Paris on December 22, 1896, against Alfred Dreyfus then a captain of artillery attached to the general staff; in view of the documents in the case, and also of articles 443 to 446 of the code of the criminal procedure, amended by the law of June 1, 1895, relative to the advisability of an application in proper form for revision. Whereas the matter has been brought before the court by the public prosecutor in virtue of the express order of the minister of justice.

Whereas, the application comes within the category of the cases contemplated in article 3 and has been introduced within the period fixed by article 444.

Whereas, the judgment, a revision of which is demanded has been in force as a "chose jugee"

Whereas the documents produced do not place the court in a position to decide all the merits of the case and there is ground for making a supplementary inquiry.

For these reasons, the court declares the application to be in proper form and legally admissible, and states that it will institute complementary inquiry and declares there is no ground at the present moment for deciding on the public prosecutor's application for a suspension of the penalty."

The judges of the court were occupied for three hours and a half in considering the judgment. The public, whose admission to the court was regulated with the greatest care, awaited the decision with marked calmness.

During the suspension of business the public crowded into the lobbies and there was evident anxiety to hear the result. There was no demonstration when the court rose.

THE CZAR'S SYMPATHY.

London, Oct. 29.—An article in the National Review written by J. Maxse, who has previously shown himself to be well informed in the Dreyfus affair, has caused some stir. He affirms that the czar is now become convinced of Dreyfus' innocence and is taking a sympathetic interest in the prisoner of Devil's island.

MEASURES AT CANTON.

Turbulent Chinese Troops in the City —The Dowager's Ruse.

London, Oct. 29.—News received this week from the far east has been of a some what disquieting nature. It appears that the residents of Canton are in a state of alarm at the draft going into that city of large bodies of Chinese troops, as a counter poison to the recent arrival of guards for the foreign legations. The native soldiers are very turbulent and coupled with the anti-foreign riots at Canton, the situation has caused great uneasiness among foreigners who number about 150. In connection with the summoning of a French doctor to examine the Emperor of China, the Saturday Review says it sees in this a ruse upon the part of the empress dowager and adds that it would have been an easy matter to palm off a sickly youth of 25 on the European physician, as the emperor is scarcely ever visible to foreigners.

THE CZAR'S PROSPOSAL.

It is Announced That the Powers Will Send Delegates to the Conference.

London, Oct. 29.—It is announced from St. Petersburg that all the powers have now accepted the czar's invitation to send delegates to the proposed disarmament conference. Each power will be represented by three delegates and it will be a record diplomatic assembly in point of numbers. Count Mouravieff, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, is going to Livadia, where he will confer with the czar on the outlines of the programme which will be submitted to the delegates of the powers. The Russian minister is very optimistic as to the result of the conference.

POSTAL TREATY.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, and postmaster general Smith today affixed their signatures to the parcel post treaty between the U. S. and the British colony of Trinidad. The treaty is drawn up in the regular form of the universal postal union.

CLOUDS OF WAR HAVE BLOWN AWAY

But Naval Preparations Continue on Both Sides.

FRANCE'S GAME IS DONE

It is Believed That Marchand Received a Hint to Leave Fashoda and That He Will Not Return.

London, Oct. 29.—The arrival of Major Marchand at Khartoum, on his way to Cairo with the portion of his report which was not finished when Capt. Baratier left Fashoda, is regarded as a rift in the clouds overhanging Anglo-French relations, for in spite of the semi-official denial issued in Paris that orders were sent to the major to go to Cairo, it is fully believed here that the French officer would not be on his way to Cario unless he had received a hint to that effect from the French government, who consider that his leaving Fashoda will take the sting out of the situation and at the same time prepare France for the eventual withdrawal of the whole expedition, which now consists of seven officers and 120 men. The British view of the latest move is that the Marquis of Salisbury and his ministers are delighted to afford Major Marchand facilities for reaching Cairo, but they would hardly care to send him back excepting on the capacity of guest or scientific explorer; that is to say, that France would first have to renounce all political claims based on his mission. In the meantime on the voluntary return of Major Marchand, the French minister of foreign affairs M. Delcasse, and the government of France have got over a great difficulty from a diplomatic, l'amour propre, point of view. M. Delcasse had declared the French government could not do the impossible, that is to say recall Major Marchand; therefore, the latter's return has enabled the French government to "change face", as the saying goes. It is recognized, however, that even if the tri-color of France is hauled down at Fashoda, the main subject of dispute remains and may cause anxious moments in both countries before long.

WAR WILL BE AVOIDED.

The Bahr-El-Gahzal question is settled and there has been a confident feeling for the last few days that war will be avoided. The French ministerial crisis at first increased the feeling of anxiety which prevailed as to the prospects of a peaceful solution, but in the list of probable new ministers the British newspapers see a body of experienced and capable men who are able to lead French opinion. The retention of M. Delcasse at the head of the ministry of foreign affairs, however, is not regarded favorably, as he is the father of the so-called Marchand adventure. The French newspapers seem to have little faith in Russia helping her ally in the present crisis, while Russian despatches to the British papers affirm positively that the czar is decidedly opposed to war and has counselled the French government to abandon its untenable attitude. It is even said the czar has characterized the French attitude as reckless. In the meanwhile, military and naval preparations continue on both sides of the channel. There was talk at Devonport today of a flying squadron being commissioned, but a reassuring feature is the departure of Sir William White, the director of naval construction for the British navy, on a two months visit to Egypt. No extreme measures, therefore, are expected by the admiralty officials at the present moment at all events.

NO INTERVENTION ALLOWED.

Mr. George Wyndham, conservative member of parliament for Dover, speaking to his constituents, has made a comparison between British and American aims. He said in Egypt we were actuated by the very sentiments which actuated America in the recent war. In the case of the Philippine islands, Americans could not tolerate the situation there and having undertaken the task she objected to being hampered by Germany, and so made it plain, that since she is engaged on a laudable enterprise in a sphere in which another power felt itself called upon to meddle, she must have a free hand to bring it to a successful issue. That is precisely the position of the British in the basin of Upper Nile.

STARTED FOR EGYPT.

Paris, Oct. 29.—Captain Baratier, the bearer of Major Marchand's Fashoda report, started for Egypt today with the government's instructions to Major Marchand.

GERMANS SIDE WITH BRITAIN.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—The French crisis is anxiously watched in Germany. In the Fashoda question the German government as well as the German newspapers, distinctly side with Great Britain as British dominion over the Soudan is held to be in every respect better for German interests and especially from a commerial stand point.

LONDON STREET CAR STRIKE.

A Meeting That Expresses Sympathy With the Men.

London, Ont. Oct. 29.—Last night a mass meeting was held in the interest of the striking street railway men. There were about 300 present and among the speakers were Mayor Wilson, Col. Leys, M. P. P., T. D. Hogins, M. P. P., and ex-Mayor Little, ex-Mayor Essery and Rev. J. W. Pedley and Rev W. J. Ford. The chief speaker declared general sympathy with the cause of the strikers, and a resolution, pledging the moral support of the citizens to the men was carried unanimously amid loud applause.

Mayor Wilson was chairman and condemned the company for its action and presented a schedule of wages received by the men which showed that a large number received only $2.85 per week, while the average received by nearly one half the employes was only a trifle over $5 per week.

Mr. Leys, M. P. P., said the man who acted as Carr had done was not a fit man to be a citizen of London and should be given so many hours to leave town. He was ready to put up $100 to help the men in their fight for justice.

Ex-Mayor Little announced that Mr. Everett would be here today and probably a settlement would then be arrived at.

ARCHIBISHOP OBJECTED.

He Would Not Permit Liberals to Celebrate.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—The Mail and Empire's Montreal correspondent says the club National, the French liberal club of Montreal has got into trouble with Monseigneur Brunchasi, Catholic archbishop. The trouble has arisen over a proposal to hold a celebration at the tomb of ex-Premier Mercier in the Cote des Neiges cemetery on Nov. 1, but the officers of the club were politely informed by that archbishop that he did not wish the celebration to interfere with the ceremony attending All Souls day. It is likely the visit of the enthusiastic young liberals to Merciers tomb will not be made until the regular religious exercises are concluded at the cemetery.

THE HERRING FISHERIES.

St. Johns, Nfld., Oct. 29.—The Newfoundland government has announced its policy regarding the winter herring fishery around the south and west coasts of the island. It has decided that no herrings shall be sold to American, Canadian, or local fishing vessels for less than $1.25 per barrel, which is 25 cents higher than has ever been charged before. The government explains that the gradual depletion of the herring supply compels the colony to complete its interest in this manner. All American vessels in colonial waters have agreed to pay the increased price.

ANOTHER BIG CANAL.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—The big canal bill to which Emperor William has publicly referred is ready for introduction into the Diet during the coming session. It provides for the expenditure of four million marks. When the scheme shall have been executed the main waterways of Prussia will be connected from the eastern extremity of the empire to the harbors of the German ocean.

GASCOIGNE APPROVED OF.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—The following is a cable to the Evening Telegram, dated London 29: The Broad Arrow refers to the alleged failure of Major General Gascoigne to discharge his duties as commanding officer of the Canadian forces. The major general's appointment to the post at Hong Kong the paper says, was no doubt intended to convey a direct expression of approval of his conduct in Canada.

MAY VISIT CANADA.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—Mayor Shaw has asked Lord Aberdeen to exert his influence with the war office to have the 21st Lancers, who, after returning to England, are to set out for India, pass through Canada on their way west.

EARTHQUAKES FELT.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 29.—Three distinct earthquake shocks were felt in this city today, each being about 10 seconds in length. The tremors were not severe enough to be noticed generally, except in tall buildings and in Seismographs.

ELECTION CASE DISMISSED.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—The petition against the return of D. R. McDonald, conservative member for Glengarry, was this morning dismissed at Osgoode Hall on evidence offered.

DRYDEN'S CHANCES IMPROVED.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—The magnificent majority Minister Gibson secured in east Wellington distinctly improves the chances of Minister Dryden in South Ontario and the feeling that he will be elected on Tuesday next is now strong.

AT THE DISPOSAL OF BLANCO.

Havana, Oct. 29.—The Spanish mail steamer Villavarade, now en route for Vera Cruz, is expected to arrive here on November 9. Her cabins and state rooms have been completely refitted and the vessel has been placed at the disposal of General Blanco to carry himself and his staff to Spain. General Blanco will probably sail between the 10th and 20th of November.

EMPEROR WILLIAM IN THE ORIENT

The Pilgrimage Excites the Ire of Russia.

A BAD FEELING RAISED

Russia Will Not Suffer Turkey to Make any Cession to Germany and Will Block That Country in the East

Berlin, Oct. 29.—The official relations between Germany and Russia have been ruffled recently. This fact, although denied by the government organs, was obtained from a person in high standing and one of the most striking proofs of the accuracy of the statement is that Count Mouravieff, Russian minister of foreign affairs, has just visited Paris and Vienna, but he ignored Berlin. The German newspapers have remarked and have commented upon the omission.

Other significant facts are the almost out spoken hostile tone of the entire Russian press, in which the rapprochement between German and Great Britain is described as an under hand plot against Russia, which the latter is justified in keenly resenting in view of her friendliness to Germany in China and the recent tariff negotiations. Moreover, Emperor William's visit to the Orient is characterized as an impudent attempt to underm ine Russian influence in Turkey and the position of the orthodox church in Palestine. The Russian clerical authorities fear German Protestant rule in Jerusalem, where the orthodox pilgrims are often times more numerous than those of all other creeds together. It is said that Russia, in order to counteract an Anglo German agreement has come to a closer understanding with Austria by which these two countries and France will jointly oppose the increasing influence of Germany in the Orient and will in no case permit Turkish cessations to Germany. The bulk of German newspapers express the opinion that emperor William's trip will yield little tangible good but will create much jealousy upon the part of the interested powers, who will endeavor to destroy any German projects in Asia Minor. The German comic papers are also poking fun at the emperor and the new crusade is leading in some cases to prosecutions on the charge of lese majeste. The police confiscated the last number of Simplicissim owing to its compilation of a poem entitled "In the Holy Land," ironically congratulating Palestine on receiving such august visitors and saying Golgotha will be able to boast not only of hearing the last words from the cross, but the first of Emperor William's. The German newspaper correspondents with the Emperor William highly praise the lavish hospitality of the Sultan of Turkey which however, has created intense dissatisfaction among the Turks. Placards have been posted on the mosques and in the streets of Stamboul denouncing the extraordinary sums spent on the emperor, which money, it is further pointed out, comes out of Mohammedan pockets.

It is said that the Sultan offered to present Emperor William on the occasion of the latter's arrival at Jerusalem, with the famous "Chamber of the last supper" but that the German emperor thanked the Sultan and declined the proposal on the ground that the building also contained Turkish religious relics. The emperor, it is further asserted, will get some other valuable present instead.

Another report says the Sultan insisted upon paying the expenses of the emperor's tour out of his own private purse. The German newspapers in asking for a denial of this report declare that while the emperor was at Constantinople he had for reasons of foreign policy to be the Sultan's guest but, they add, that so soon as His Majesty set out on the holy land pilgrimage there was no longer anything common between him and the Sultan and he could not remain the latter's guest.

Their imperial majesties have been receiving addresses from the German colonies at each town they have visited. Replying to the Germans at Sarona, the emperor said he was pleased to see that the good relations he had maintained with the Sultan and the Ottoman empire had benefited his German subjects in the east generally. Continuing the emperor remarked that the more the Germans in the east clung to their native country the more they constitute a civilizing and useful element in the Turkish empire and it was in recognition of this fact that the Sultan had extended his benevolent protection to German residents.

WAITING AN OPPORTUNITY.

Correspondents of the London Times stationed in foreign parts, as those at home, are usually accurate in their reports and seldom send out anything that cannot be substantiated by proof, if necessary. The correspondent at Rome on Friday last sent the following despatch to his paper:

I learn that Prince Louis Napoleon, who was supposed to have rejoined his regiment in Russia, is really at Geneva, where he has raised, on special security, a loan of such dimensions as excludes the hypothesis of its being required for private purposes. Prince Louis has long been a candidate of the Bonapartists for the French throne in preference to his brother, Prince Victor.

We referred in Saturday's Miner to the fact that this prince stood high in the estimation of the czar for some reason and we predicted that he would shortly appear on the European stage to play a most important part.

It is evident that this time is nearer than we supposed. Prince Louis Napoleon has had six months leave of absence from his military duties in Russia. What he has been about in that period has not been made public. He should have rejoined his command some time ago, but did not do so. Now the information comes that he is at Geneva, and that he has raised a large sum of money for some purpose. It is remarkable that army intrigues in France have become bolder within the past few months. There has been a tendency on the part of the military leaders to supercede the civil authorities and they have over-ridden the civil authority in the case of Picquart. There are rumors, too, of plots in which the Jesuits figure, to completely overturn the republic and declare a military dictatorship. That such a plot was afoot and failed of execution because of the discovery of a suspicious letter to General Zurlinden, commandant of Paris, was denied, but the Times expresses the opinion that there was good evidence that such a plot was afoot, and the Times would not put forth an utterance of that kind if there was no foundatiion for it.

How far are these strange and ominous occurrences to France traceable to the intrigues of those who wish to substitute Bonapartist rule for that of the republic? Geneva is not so distant from Paris that it would not be a convenient place from which to foment a revolution, nor too remote as the waiting place of the chief conspirator in the game of winning an empire. The Bonapartes in the past were adepts at coups d'etat and if family traits be strong in this young man, he, too, must be a proficient in the art. The fact that he has raised a large sum of money is an indication that there is something untoward afoot. What can a colonel of Russian artillery need that he should raise a large loan on special security? Was it with the intention of buying those in position in France whom he could not win by persuasion? However, the secret must come out before long, and it would in no way be surprising to those who have watched events to see Prince Louis Bonaparte enter France, place himself at the head of the army and seize the power that his great uncle loved so and so grossly abused.

If this prince be the man the world is looking for, the man who will head the forces of evil, then destiny has cast him for one of the most melancholy roles that ever it was the lot of man to play. With his accession to empire should he achieve it, we may look for troublous times such as the world has never seen, of widespread and bloody war affecting every nation on the globe.

DEFECTS OF THE PARTY PRESS.

The Victoria Colonist says there is some truth in The Miner's assertion that the intensely partisan character of the party press has done more than anything else to destroy the power the press once had. We are glad that the Colonist sees even a modicum of truth in what we said, for the Colonist has been an offender in this direction and perhaps the reward of those who lead the erring into ways that are straight may be ours. The party press, that is the party-first-of-all press, the "are ye wid us or agin us" liberal and conservative papers that are always looking for a fight, proceed on the assumption that a sacred duty impels them to combat by every means in their power any assertion made by the other side without regard to its truth. Therefore we have the spectacle presented to us of a press which should be about more commendable business, actuallly defending great public wrongs against criticism and the assaults of those who know them to be wrongs and seek to sweep them away. A politican is accused of conduct unbecoming an office holder and a gentleman and immediately the press of the party to which the politician belongs hastens to repel the accusation, without making any enquiry whatever as to the truth or falsity of the charge. The system of ethics which is supposed to govern our actons is framed after and founded upon the teachings of men of old, whether divinely inspired or not it is not our province to determine. They have long been regarded as the fountain head of wisdom as to what is seemly and righteous in human action and among other things they taught that we must not justify the wicked for reward. Yet this is what the partisan press does continually whenever an effort in made to bring an offender to account. We have it upon the highest authority that it is good to hide the fault of our friend, but we are nowhere told that when the faults of that friend become so glaringly offensive that they call for public reprimand or punishment that it is good for us to rise up and vehemently protest that he is entirely without fault, and that whoever says that he is not is a falsifier and a scoundrel. Yet these are the tactics of the party press.

If a yellow dog belonging in the entourage of a politician should be accused of being too yellow, the press of the party to which the politician and yellow dog belonged could be depended upon to come valiantly to the defence; to indignantly protest that the dog was not nearly so yellow as the green eyes of hatred pictured him; to aver that these gross charges against the complexion of the dog were instigated by those who wanted the dog's position as yellow heeler to the politician; to proclaim with glaring eye that this was a cowardly and base attack upon the government with the dog as a vehicle and to solemnly demand that the miscreants who had so foully aspersed the hue of the dog should produce proofs of their charges or stand forever condemned as despicable vilifiers.

When men consider such vagaries of minds diseased by over-indulgence in partyism, is it any wonder that their belief in the truth, the fairness, the honesty of the press is shaken? And is it surprising that a press running to absurd lengths of declamation in defense of its party, right or wrong, should find that it is losing or has lost its grasp upon public attention and permanently impaired the power to sway the opinions of men it once possessed.

REMARKABLE PROCEDURE.

The remarkable action of Justice Wakem in giving judgment for a defendant company after a jury had found against it, is certain to excite widespread comment. His lordship justifies his action on the ground that the jury was a subservient one and did not take into consideration points of law applying and laid down and consequently their verdict was not a sound one.

The action was one in which a man sued, under the employes liability act, for damages sustained in a mine, due to alleged negligence on the part of the company owning the property. It is well known that jurors in such cases are prone to decide against the company involved and few actions of that character fail of substantial damages whenever the jury is composed of workingmen, because of sympathy for the plaintiff. In this case, as we understand it, the jury brought in a verdict for $3000 damages and the court recorded it, two days after which his lordship gave judgment for the company for the reasons mentioned. Should not the procedure, to be legal, have been to dismiss the jury without accepting their verdict and to order a new trial? It strikes us that a jury case is a jury case and cannot be made a non jury case after the evidence has been submitted to the twelve empannelled men and a deliverance given upon that evidence. The jurors were sworn to "give a true verdict according to the evidence" and if they violate their oath the onus was upon them.

Justice Walkems' unusual way of trasting the matter is certain to beget protests against his disregard of the duties of jurors, which, if generally adopted by the bench, would mean the destruction of that sacred right, trial by jury.

GET YOUR NAME ON THE LIST.

Again we would press upon citizens the importance of having their names put upon the voter's list, so that they may take that part in selecting a council for this city that it is the duty of every good citizen to take. Whatever rates the ratepayer may pay to the city, if he neglect to settle his road tax he is disqualified as a voter. No man having property in the city or a business or any interest in its future welfare should be in this position. It should be his first care to make certain that all the power the franchise gives him is his. Therefore every rate payer should make or cause to be made inquiries at the city hall with a view to learning whether or not his name is on the voters' list. If it is not, then he should take immediate steps to have his name entered as a qualified voter. A citizens committee will shortly be formed for the purpose of taking these matters in hand and to devise such plans as are necessary to effect much needed reforms in the government of the city. This was deemed the best way to arouse the people to the responsibility that rests upon them to provide the municipality with the best government that can be got. Property holders and those who have embarked their capital in buildings or businesses owe it to the people to lestir themselves in this direction.

They have allowed many important matters to go by default too often. Nelson is no longer the small and unimportant place it was. It is now a city with as fair a future as any in Canada, and that future should not be marred by methods of government such as exist at present. The citizens have the remedy in their own hands and is will be their fault if they do not apply it.

THE WAYS OF THE BAZAAR.

The bazaar is closed. "The lights are out, the garlands dead," and all the pretty girls and lovely ladies who for a whole week made the bazaar a busy mart, have departed. They gave their services freely for charity and they operated their freebooting methods with naivete so charming, with ingenuousness so attractive, that one never knew he was being held up until in the calm after the encounter he cast up accounts. Big strong men, who would be terrible in their ways if they suspected that anyone wished to "do" them, were as puling infants in the hands of the fair ones and rendered up their tribute without a struggle. The wary man of the world, versed in the ephemeral amenities of bazaar experience and their attendant cost kept severely aloof from the vicinity of the attraction, but the uninitiated wandering around in quest of knowledge and allured by the music and glimpses of the gaiety within, walked into the web before they knew they were in the toils. It was interesting to study the feminine way in accomplishing a man's financial ruin. The winning smile, the assumption of deep friendly interest in the victim, the air of genial familiarity, the pleading tone, did it and the man who thought he was laying by his liberality the foundation of life-long friendships was surprised to find that the ladies who impoverished him did not know him an hour afterwards or were so busily engaged on other subjects that they cut him dead. These are the ways of the bazaar and the dear and enterprising creatures who conducted it point proudly to the $1600 or so in the treasury as evidence of their powers in the art of money getting

As a result there are many young men in the town and out ones, too, who have in their possession wooley night shirts that refuse absolutely to stretch their dimensions so that they can be worn, slippers that no shoe-horn could coax into places, smoking caps that were never meant to fit and many other things that were never constructed for utility. And for these articles they gave up their money and went away poor. But remember the cause. Who would resist the plea of charity when made by a pretty woman in the cause of a church.

THE CATHOLIC BAZAAR.

Results in a Handsome Addition to the Fund.

WINNER OF THE WATCH

What the Watch Brought—Some Amusing Letters—Exhibition of Antique Curios and Works of Art.

The bazaar which was held last week in aid of the building fund of the Roman Catholic church, closed on Saturday evening, and was voted a great success in every way. The contest between Miss Simpson and Miss Agnes Campbell for the gold watch and chain donated by Mr. Jacob Dover, was the feature of the evening. On counting up the votes, which cost 10 cents apiece, it was found that no less a um than $1648.50 had been collected by this means. Of this amount Miss Campbell's supporters had contributed $890,50 and Miss Simpson's $758. Miss Campbell was accordingly adjudged the watch.

The post office created a great deal of amusement during the week, and especially on the last two nights. One gentleman in particular, a contracor, called for letters several times a day and was seldom disappointed. Space forbids the reproduction of the letters but most of them were amusing, and some were even in rhyme.

Another gentleman who was Scotoh and, therefore, of a practical rather than a romantic turn of mind, received a ring in a letter from his divinity. The divinity in question, however, was not on the premises, and he accordingly turned it over to a fair lady on the spot, who doubtless still cherishes it as a treasured possession. A prominent and popular local jeweller, too, seemed to stand high in the estimation of the ladies of Nelson, judging from the size of his mail. It may be stated here, that for him as well as for several others there are one or two epistles still uncalled for.

To the energy of the Misses O'Reilly, the two charming post mistresses, is due the signal success which the post office attained, and to their ingenuity, it is whispered much of the witty contents of the letters is to be also ascribed.

Another feature of the bazaar on Saturday night was the fine art exhibition, it being expressly stated that the priceless exhibits were loans and not for sale. The list is too-long to be given here, but among them were two ancient pillars of Greece, by Phidias; the Lay of the Last Minstrel by Scott; the Merry Grinder, by Paolo Quinlano; Found Drowned, by Landseer; Caught in a Gale off Vancouver Island, by Millet; A Fish in Oils, by Du Maurier, and a host of other curious, beautful and ingenious things, which had to be seen in order to appreciate the true inwardness thereof.

SILVER KING MINSTRELS.

Friday Night's Concert Nets $375 in Aid of John Wedlock.

The Silver King minstrels troupe, who took part in the benefit performance on Friday evening, have returned to the mine highly pleased with their reception in Nelson and the generous response of the citizens to the request for assistance.

Yesterday $375 was deposited in the bank as the net results of the concert and this amount will be largely supplemented by voluntary subscriptions when the lists are all in. The company from the mine consists of P. Muuday, J. L. Morey, J. W. Brakes, W. A. Clavis, F. Burt, E. Pollard, W. Buzza, J. Toms and D. S. Hardie. Much of the success of the entertainment is due to the perserverance and hard work of Mr. Hardie, although all who assisted with the programme deserve credit for their voluntary efforts to help an unfortunate fellow workman. It shows the sympathy existing among the workmen in mines, who are daily exposing themselvees to risk of accident, which in the majority of cases results either fatally or in permanent disability.

ZINC BEARING ORES.

A Very Strong English Company Formed to Smelt Them.

Mr. Arthur Brown who is the representative in this country of the Smelting Corporation of Liverpool arrived at the Hume on Saturday with Mrs. Brown. It was generally known that Mr. Brown was in Kootenay looking after zinc ores, but there has been some misapprehension as to the objects of his mission, which Mr. Brown's rare visits to town made it hard to rectify. Mr. Brown informed a Miner reporter on Saturday that though he had been looking for zinc bearing ores, yet, contrary to the supposition of many, it was not zinc he desired to buy. The fact of the matter was that the company he represented controlled a new process by means of which silver could be extracted from zinc just as easily as from lead. Mr. Brown declined to describe the process, contenting himself with saying that it was a smelting process, and the flux used was sulphate of sodium, known to commerce as salt cake. The introduction of this process will render valuable hundreds of silver properties which are now worthless owing to the presnce of an excessive amount of zinc in the ore. For instance ore bearing 36 ounces of silver, 30 per cent lead and 30 per cent zinc, can be handled by the new treat nent so to leave the mine owner a handsome profit. The works of the company are situated between Manchester and Liverpool, on the Manchesster ship canal, and have now a daily capacity of between 350 and 400 tons, a capacity which can be increased indefinitely as circumstances may require. There is practically unlimited capital behind the scheme. Mr. Brown has entered into several provisional contracts for large amounts of ore, and the only thing that remains to be settled is the freight rate. If he can obtain a reasonable rate, and he has every confidence in being able to do so, the new industry should attain large proportions. It is the intention of the company to have the ores sampled at the nearest sampling works, and the full value of the ores, after deducting freight and treatment charges, will then be paid in cash at current English prices to the mine owners. This will be a great help to property owners without much capital, as at present they have to wait some time before getting the full returns.

CITY AND VICINITY

Condensed News of the Happenings of the Week In and Around Our Busy City and Kootenay.

Tonight is All Hallowe'en.

A new water hydrant for fire protection purposes has been placed at the corner of Victoria and Josephine strets.

The sidewalk on Josephine street is being reduced to the established grade of the street and a new 10 foot walk is being laid.

The Royal Arch Masons of Rossland have organized a chapter in that city with a membership of about 20. The members of the Kaslo chapter are expected to visit Rossland in a few days to install the new lodge.

New advertisements in this issue—J. E. Annable, real estate and insurance; C. D. J. Christie, real estate and insurance; Jacob Dover, jeweller; J. H. Vanstone, drugs, etc; E. A. Haggen, Golden, tailoring business for sale.

A stout gentleman insinuated himself into the group round the Phair hotel fire yesterday evening, and the company at first thought it was some jolly priest with missionary designs upon Nelson. A closer inspection, however revealed the fact that it was Dr. La Bau minus his moustache.

A beautiful glossy robe upon which the Hume Hotel register is placed, has been attracting a good deal of attention the last day or two. Many are the speculations as to what animal the skin, which belongs to Wallis Brown, came from, and only the very knowing ones have any idea that it is a horses' hide. It is understood that Dr. La Bau has his eye on it for a cutter robe.

Those who were absent last night from the English church missed a rare treat, in not hearing Mr. Frank Oliver of Rossland sing Gounod's "There is a Green Hill Far Away." Mr. Oliver when in England was one of the Gentlemen of the Chapel Royal, Windsor, choristers of the Queen, and subsequently sang in concerts throughout England. He is a trained vocalist, and a very fine baritone who, we regret to say, is seen too little on the local stage. At the same service Mrs. Davys' and Mr. Parry sang the solos in the anthem.

THE SINISTER MIND OF EGYPT'S KHEDIVE

May Get That Ruler Into Trouble.

LIKELY TO BE DEPOSED

The British Will Not Declare a Protectorate in Egypt, But May Substitute Mahamed Ali as Khedive.

London, Oct. 29.—The rumor from Paris of the intention of the British government to declare Egypt under the protectorate of Great Britain has attracted little attention as the general feeling is that the moment is clearly inopportune for such a step. It would only be playing into the hands of France. There is a probability however, of Great Britain adopting extreme measures towards the Khedive of Egypt unless he modifies his attitude. It is well known that he returns from each of his visits to European courts filled with sinister ideas against British tutelage. But every act of petulancy has been met with an iron hand. It is asserted that the Khedive has shown no capacity for government and is a mere puppet in the hands of French intriguers. Consequently it has been mooted that he is likely soon to be deposed in favor of his brother Mahammed Ali, who was born is 1875, and who is a brighter and more amiable youth.

The plans for the organization of the newly conquered Soudan, have already been drawn up and the Egypt government has decided that the first credit of £350,000 is to be chiefly devoted to extending the railroad to Khartoum, and organizing a Soudan police force.
