VOL. 1. NO. 46. SANDON, B. C., SATURDAY, APRIL 23, 1898. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

WAR IS DECLARED.

Senate and House Pass Resolution for Armed Intervention.

SPAIN MUST LEAVE CUBA.

President Is Empowered to Use the Land and Naval Forces of the United States to an Extent Sufficient to Carry Out the Wishes of Congress.

Washingto, D. C., April 16.—The senate has adopted the Turpie amendment, providing for the recognition of the Cuban republic, by a vote of 51 to 27.

After voting down a resolution offered by Senator Morgan, to the effect that a state of war existed between the United States and Spain, Davies moved that the resolutions reported by the senate foreign committee along with the Turpie amendment be adopted. This was carried by a vote of 67 to 21, and at 9 15 the senate adjourned.

Washington, April 18.—The deadlock between the house and senate continued all day to-day and lasted till late in the night. The question at issue between the two bodies was on the matter of the recognition of the Cuban government. The senate recognized the government of the Cubans, but the house refused to do so.

11 p.m.—The senate after having declined to confer fur ner with the house committee has changed its mind and another conference is now being held. The senate has taken a recess until midnight to await the report of this committee.

12 p.m.—Report of agreement being reached by conference was premature. Senate members agreed to drop the section recognizing the Cuban insurgents, but insisted on the first section of the resolution reading: "That the people of the Island of Cuba are, and of right ought to be free and independent." This the house members refused to accept and a disagreement has been reported to both houses.

Washington, April 19—1:10 a.m.—An agreement was reached by the conferrers of the house and senate. The resolution as agreed is as follows: Resolved, By the senate and the house of representatives of the United States in congress assembled:

The Cuban resolution passed by the senate to-night is made up of the house heading, number and enacting clause, the senate preamble, resolution and the Turpie amendment, and a fourth paragraph proposed by Senator Teller. It is as follows:

Joint resolution for the recognition of the independence of the people and republic of Cuba, demanding that the government of Spain relinquish its authority and government in the Island of Cuba, and to withdraw its land and naval force from Cuba, and Cuban waters, and directing the President of the United States to use the land and naval forces of the United States to carry these resolutions into effect.

Whereas, The abhorrent conditions which have existed for more than three years in the Island of Cuba, so near our own borders, have shocked the moral sense of the United States and have been a disgrace to Christian civilization, culminating as they have in the destruction of a United States battleship, on which 266 of her officers and crew, while on a friendly visit in the harbor of Havana, were killed, and cannot longer be endured, as has been set forth by the President of the United States in his message to congress April 11, 1898, upon which action of congress was incited.

Therefore be it

Resolved by the senate and house of representatives of the United States in congress assembled:

First—That the people of the Island of Cuba are, and of right, ought to be free and independent, and that the government of the United States hereby demands, that the government of Spain at once relinquish its authority and government in the Island of Cuba and withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and Cuban waters.

Third—That the President of the United States be, and he is hereby directed and empowered to use the entire land and naval forces of the United States, and to call into active service of the United States the militia of the several states to such an extent as may be of benefit to carry these resolutions into effect.

Fourth—The United States hereby disclaims any disposition or intention to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction or control of said island, except for the pacification thereof, and asserts its determination when this is accomplished to leave the government and control of the island to its people.

The senate has adopted the report of the conference committee by a vote of 42 to 35. In the house a motion to adopt it has been made and the previous question moved. A parliamentary squabble is delaying a vote. The senate adjourned at 1:50 p.m.

The ayes and nays were demanded in the house on the previous question. It carried, 171 to 121.

On a vote being taken on the adoption of the conference report Democrats and Republicans voted almost solidly for it.

The first roll call in the house on the adoption of the report showed 310 ayes and 6 nays.

FIRE! FIRE!!

The Payne Ore House Destroyed by fire.

A Heavy Loss to the Company.

On Tuesday evening the Payne ore house caught fire, some say from a stove and others from the gasoline engine. The consequences are all the same, however, as the ore house and a portion of the tram were destroyed, entailing a less of about $12,000 as far as we can learn. The loss, however, is not confined to the immediate consequences—it is greater by the partial suspension of work for at least a month, and perhaps much longer, throwing many of the miners and others out of employment during the interval. The company during the meantime will endeavor to utilise the wagons again, hauling their ore to the K. and S. track; but even that is attended with many difficulties, as snow and mud slides, while the road was out of use, have done a great deal of filling up. The company, however, are at work diligently repairing the damages, and making the most out of the mine with the facilities at their command. Some 65 men will be laid off during repairs.

English Capital Favors Kootenay.

"In England," says C. W. McIntosh, "I found the money markets somewhat tightened owing to the war scare. If Spain and the United States should enter upon an active campaign, I think it will affect all British capital that may be on the point of investment in western Canada. Still the Klondyke is occupying a large share of attention amongst the common people and capitalists are still paying more attention to the Kootenay, while northwestern Ontario districts are not unknown. The Gold Developing and Transportation company, to which I belong, intend to pursue steady operations on the Columbia and western group of mines, and will also develop properties near Nelson in the Slocan. We are also building a boat to carry supplies from Vancouver to St. Michaels this year. Our Klondyke interests are not overlooked and this summer I may visit Dawson City."

Origin of the Name Arrow Lake.

Mr. W. C. McCord, a survivor of the Boundary Commission, which ran the Boundary line between British Columbia and the United States during 1859 to 1861 has been giving an interesting account of the work on that commission in these early times. Part of it is interesting to people in this vicinity, as it gives the reason of the names to the Arrow Lakes.

During the winter of 1861-2 Mr. McCord prospected on Upper Arrow lake, the lake being frozen solid that winter. While there some Indians pointed out to him the object from which those lakes got their name. A perpendicular cliff of rock at one place rises high above the water. In the crevices or seams of the rock trees had attempted to grow, but there not being sufficient nourishment they had died when very small. Looking at them from the water, they had every appearance of being arrows. The Indian legend was that when the rock was soft Indian braves had fired arrows against its side and they had stuck there.

Mr. McCord also saw a large grave about six miles up the river from Upper Arrow Lake the head-board of which told the sorrowful story that eleven men and one woman were buried there. They had met their death in 1837 by being drowned in Death Rapids. All were Hudson's Bay people.—Revelstoke Herald.

WAR IN A FEW DAYS.

How the Hispano-American Hostilities Will Commence.

Almost Certain to be a Go.

Washington, April 19—Spain will not receive official notification of the demands of the United States before to-morrow. She will then be informed that the Cuban resolution passed by congress at an early hour this morning are now a part of the laws of the United States, and an ultimatum will be sent demanding compliance with this law and an answer within a short time, probably 24 hours. Compliance is not expected and a forward movement on Cuba will commence the latter part of this week, according to the plans of the administration. The congressional Cuban resolution will be signed to-morrow morning. The ultimatum to Spain will be signed at the same time. The president early decided to make the two practically one act by simultaneous signature to each. Two cabinet meetings were held during the day, the first beginning at 11 and lasting nearly two hours, and the second lasting from 3 till 5.30 p. m. At their close the announcement was made that executive action was delayed till to-morrow. Both cabinet sessions were devoted principally to the discussion of the ultimatum to be sent to Madrid. At the morning session the president rather favored allowing Spain two or three days in which to reply to the demands of the United States, but since that time he has changed his views somewhat, and it is now believed to be his purpose to require an answer within a very short time, probably within 24 hours. The reason for limiting the time to one day or even less is said to be entirely strategic, otherwise two or three days would have been allowed. The ultimatum itself, it is believed, will be short and to the point. It will recite the main features of the resolution passed by congress and demand a compliance therewith. So far as could be learned, there will not be a meeting of the cabinet this evening or to-morrow morning before the president signs the documents, which is believed unquestionably, will precipitate war. It is likely that the President and Assistant Secretary Day will this evening again go over the message which is to be sent to Madrid, and make any changes which may be thought desirable, leaving the final act of signing the congressional resolution and the ultimatum for to-morrow. It will not be made public here until notice is received that it is in the hand of the Spanish government, diplomatic etiquette requiring this.

LATER.

Thursday evening a message was received stating both American and Spanish war fleet had left for Cuba. At one a. m. Friday morning this was contradicted by another message saying neither fleet had left but that both were in harbor ready to fire up on a moments notice, but that the Americans were waiting for the time limit of Spain's ultimatum to expire. It is hard to see how the U. S. can now accept anything short of a complete back down from Spain which the latter is not at all likely to make.

Up till four o'lock p. m. yesterday no latter news was received.

Girls Will Say Something.

Girls will talk, and no girl is quite so good but she will occasionally drop an uncomplimentary remark about one of her own sex. Two of the most charming young ladies of this town were recently heard using the following language: "I just think it shameful the way that girl spits slang. Holy Saints, if I twirled my talker as she does, my blooming old dad wouldn't do a thing but tan my duds till the dust would be thicker than yaller jackets around the bunghole of a sorghum barrel in August." "You betcher brass, and serve you right," replied the other young lady. "My old people are sunflowers of the same hue and if I should make such raw cracks in my speils, they'd thrash the rosy cussedness out of my angelic anatomy quicker than chain lightning.

FROM THE B. C. GAZETTE.

The Latest License, Incorporation, Etc., Issued at Victoria.

The following announcements appear in the last issue of the B. C. Gazette:

J. Edmond Angrignon and Nestorious Angrignon, trading at New Denver as Angrignon Brothers, hotelkeepers, have made an assignment to A. E. Fauquier for the benefit of the creditors.

A license as an extra-provincial company has been issued to the Dominion Dredging & Placer Mining company, limited. The capital stock is $40,000, divided into 400 shares of $100 each. The head office of the company is situated in Toronto, Province of Ontario, and the licensed office of the company in the province is in the Lillooet electoral district of Yale and Cariboo, and Samuel Gibbs, accountant, is the attorney.

A certificate of incorporation of the British Columbia Sampling company, limited, has been issued. The company has a capital stock of $50,000, divided into shares of $5 each. The objects for which the company has been established are to erect, maintain buildings, machinery, plant, implements and conveniences for the purpose of sampling, concentrating and assaying minerals and metallic ores of all kinds, and of operating smelters and reduction works in any part of British Columbia. The registered office of the company is at Vancouver, British Columbia.

A Sandon Critic.

The Sandon MINING REVIEW would twit The Miner for its allusion to the possibility of the Liberal party attempting to create a large number of Liberal senators in order to offset the present Conservative majority of the Upper Chamber. The REVIEW says it knows of no clause in the Canadian Constitution that would allow such a move. We hasten to assure the gentlemanly and well trained editor of the REVIEW that we are not alluding to any of the provisions of the British North America Act, but to the wild scheme advocated by Hon. Israel Tarte, in his paper, La Patrie. For the benefit of the editor of the REVIEW we might add that Mr. Tarte favors a reform of the senate by which the government, in an emergency, would have power to apcoint a sufficient number of senators to cary a government measure which senate opposes.

The foregoing is from the Rossland Miner. We may inform our friend, the constitution of the senate is fixed by the B. N. A. Act, an Imperial statute, that neither Mr. Tarte nor the Rossland Miner, powerful though they both may be, has the power to change. It can only be changed by Imperial legislation, which will hardly be passed to enable Mr. Laurier the especial friend of the Miner, to seriously cripple British Columbia in the construction of the Yukon railway. Laurier has yet the power to raise a tempest in a teapot. We believe he can add two more to the senate, and to drown the 20 majority adverse to the Yukon Bill, we would suggest he add Mr. Tarte and the Miner to the Upper House. The Editor of this paper may not have had equal journalistic training with the sage to the south of us, but the public will always be assured he knows what he is writing about.

Canadian Fishermen Want to Enlist.

St. Johns, Nfld., April 18.—The United States government has purchased the British steamer Reugulus, now at this port, and will use her as a coal carrier. Spain is negotiating for the sealing steamer Algerine, formerly a British man-of-war. The steamer Grand Lake, which sailed for Halifax to-day, takes 50 Newfoundland fishermen bound for Boston where they will volunteer in the American navy. Hundreds of others can be had for service if they are needed.

CHURCH NOTES.

METHODIST, Rev. A M. Sanford, A.B., pastor.—Regular services will be held to-morrow at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. Subject of morning sermon—"The Strong Christian." Several candidates will be given the right hand of fellowship at the morning service. At the evening service a special sermon will be preached to the members of the I. O. O. F., who will attend in a body.

There will be no Presbyterian services in Virginia hall to-morrow owing to the absence of the pastor. Announcements will be made regarding arrangements for following Sunday.

Union Sabbath School at 2.30 p.m. in the Methodist church.

Slocan Mines.

To the Editor of The Mining Review:

Dear Sir:—As a constant reader of your paper and interested in various properties near Sandon it has struck me that if you were to publish a list of all the shipping mines in your district and also the names and amounts of dividend payers to date it would largely help to attract eastern capital. The Reco people in their report say: "The mineral belt includes the section of country lying between Kootenay lake on the east and Slocan lake on the west, comprising an area of about 30 miles long by six miles wide. The records at this time show 72 mines and prospects that have shipped paying ore in the mineral belt, 26 of which have paid dividends." I would suggest the repetition of this statement with the information above mentioned and if published kindly send me, say 25 copies for distribution here. I will remit on advice of amount. Our people know practically nothing of your district; they treat it and Rossland district as altogether.

Yours truly,

Alf Robinson.

London, Ont., April 11th, 1898.

The letter of our correspondent above fully bears out what we have all along contended that this section of the mining country of British Columbia is not properly advertised, and where it is advertised our resources are confused with those of Rossland and other districts. The Slocan country is a separate and distinct mining district by itself, in that galena is the principal product, turning out the largest per centages of silver and lead of any mines in the known world. The southern boundary of the silver-lead bearing district may be laid down as a line drawn from the confluence of the Slocan river with the Kootenay river and thence due east to Kootenay lake. This would take in the Silver King south of Nelson. The dividing line is, however, more or less serrated as gold propositions, such as the Cameronian, and a very promising one at that near Lemon creek, and others are found north of it, and silver-lead properties to the south, while the Slocan and Kootenay lakes form the eastern and western boundaries so far as operations have yet gone. The country being young and mining in its infancy, the eastern and the western boundaries may yet be found to be more remote. The Slocan country properly speaking, is more limited, and embraces but the mines at Slocan City, Silverton, Three Forks, Sandon, Cody, McQuigan, and Whitewater.

For the benefit of our correspondent we may say, we have not at hand all the shipments and dividends of the Slocan mines, but we give what are available, and will endeavor to get the balance later on. The shipments from Sandon in 1897 were:

Mine.	Tons.
Payne	9,282
Ruth	8,235
Slocan Star	4,205½
Reco	1,388
Noble Five	564½
Last Chance	484

Mountain Chief	60
Ajax	42
Canadian Group	40
Freddy Lee	32
Goodenough	31½
Mount Adams	30
American Boy	29½
Sapphire	22

Mines tributary to Three Forks, four miles from Sandon shipped last year 2,304 tons, the principal properties represented being the Idaho-Almo, that owns the concentrator, Conductor, Cumberland, Corinth and the Monitor.

Near McGuigan, some four miles east of Sandon, on the K. and S. R. R., are the Rambler-Cariboo, the Best, the Antoine, Washington, R. E. Lee, Red Fox, Great Western, Northern Belle, Dardanelles, and Lucky Jim. Some of these are dividend payers, and most of them shippers or preparing to ship.

At Whitewater are the Whitewater, a very valuable property, the Whitewater Deep, Wellington, Ottawa, London group and Charleston, many of which have been shippers for some time.

West of Three Forks are the Galena Farm, Enterprise, Molly Hughes, Vancouver group, promising properties.

Along the east shore of Slocan lake are the Arlington, Enterprise, Kalispel, Highland Light, Silver Nuggett, Paystreak, Two Friends, Meteor, Evening Star, Exchange, Republic, Howard Fraction, Crusader, Kilo, Alberta, Chapleau, and Cameronian all promising properties and shippers, some of them with the fullest satisfaction to the owners.

Convenient to Sandon again are the Selkirk group, the Argo, St. Keverine, Eagle, Freddy Lee, the Dayton group and many others on which development work is opening up very satisfactory showings.

Estimating silver and lead at their average values last year, the 3,641,287 ounces of silver, 193 ounces of gold, and 39,707,705 pounds of lead, the Slocan mines properly made $8,280,686 for their owners, a showing greater than that of all the gold mines of the province put together. The gross value of the ore averaged $103.60 against the $34 per ton of the so called famous La Roi mine of Rossland.

As many of the mines of the Slocan are owned by private companies they are not compelled to publish their earnings so it is hard to get at all the dividends, so far; but we give what we know as follows:

The Payne $1,800,000, $960,000 of which was made last year, a sum larger than that of all the Rossland dividends put together. A half interest in this mine was bought within the last two years for $87,000.

The Slocan Star has yielded dividends to the extent of $400,000; the Ruth an equal amount; the Reco $287,500, a mine that was bought by the present owners for $2,700; the Idaho, $220,000; Rambler-Cariboo, $40,000; Last Chance, $37,000; Goodenough, $32,000. The Queen Bess and many others are well up in the list, but as we have not the actual figures, we publish none.

What we have all along said it is a matter of supreme indifference to capitalists what classes of properties they hold so long as they get satisfactory dividends on money invested; and as the silver-lead mines of the Slocan are yielding larger dividends than all the gold properties of the country combined, it is all the argument that should be required to lead to investments. The main point in comparisons is Slocan mines are much more cheaply worked than gold quartz mines, and the ore yields are usually three times the value per ton. These facts for capitalists ought to be conclusive.

THE SPANISH MINISTER.

It Is Probable That He Will Leave Washington To-day.

Washington, D. C., April 19.—The Spanish minister, Senor Polo de Bernabe, has made his final preparations for departure, and is calmly awaiting notification that the president has affixed his signature to the Cuban resolution, at which time the minister will take his leave. He expected this would come to day and every arrangement had been made with that in view. Now that the signing is deferred until temorrow it is probable that the minister will depart before another 24 hours passes. He ill not move precipitately, however, as the transfer of the legation archives and the effects to the French embassy must be accomplished, and moreover there is felt to be no disposition on the part of the authorities to unduly hasten the movements of the minister. Whether the state department will send Senor Polo his passports or he will ask for them is felt to be an immaterial detail. He intends to go without reference to these formalities, and there is every reason to believe the state department will afford him the protection of passports and any further attentions usual in the enforced departure of a minister on the breaking out of war. The entire staff of the legation will accompany the minister. Their exact movements after leaving Washington are not made known, except that they will return to Spain at the earliest possible moment. It would be no surprise if the minister and his staff went by way of Canada instead of New York, taking one of the Atlantic liners from Halifax. Early this morning the large metal sign bearing the words "Office of the Spanish legation" was wrenched from its place on the gate leading to the legation and carried off by vandals. The minister made no complaint to the state department or the police, as he has sought to minimize the depredations against the legation, although this was the most flagrant one committed.

MINING BRIEFS.

With Scissors and Pen.

Work on the California, near New Denver, is to commence at once.

C. K. Milbourne has taken over the Mento, near the Queen Bess, for his English company.

The Cinderalla and the Medford, on north fork of Carpenter creek, have been purchased by Vancouver parties.

The Mollie Hughes mine, near New Denver, is being pushed ahead and is showing up well under the new management.

Five men left for the Duncan river yesterday to begin work on the property contracted by the syndicate represented by James McK. Anderson.

The Whitewater Deep has 18 inches of solid ore, and the indications are that under development it will be one of the best properties in the country.

In the Trout lake district the Tin Cup mine is reported to have over 500 tons of ore enroute from the mine to the landing on the Columbia, owing to bad roads.

The ton of ore from the Last Chance mine near Kuskonook that was run through the Kaslo Sampling works, gave returns of $2 in gold, 92½ ounces of silver and 20 per cent. lead.

The Fairie Queen group on Trout Creek, 12 miles from Rosebery, is a very promising property of quartz porphyry, and the owners are going to push work on it this season. They find silver, lead, gold and copper in the vein.

It is reported that gold has been discovered in paying quantities on the beach at Kuskonook townsite. Twenty men are at work on the claim to discover whether it is float or ledge. An assay is said to have given $10 per ton in gold and eight ounces in silver.

Joe Purviance, owner of the Two Brothers, which is located near the Howard Fraction, will soon begin development work on the property. This mine has a ledge measuring four feet in width which averages $50 in gold, and is supposed to be a free milling proposition.

The Lilly May at Rossland has been bonded to an English syndicate, the consideration being $50,000 cash and 10 per cent. of the stock in the English company, which is capitalized at $2,000,000. A meeting of the directors of the Lilly May company will be held soon to ratify the sale.

The Solo and Crib claims near Ymir on Wild Horse have been bonded to S. Thornton Langley, the conditions being that $25'000 worth of work to be done on the property, the owner to retain a one-fifth interest in the company formed to operate the property, which is said to be a promising one.

Wm. Cook, Fielding Phillips and Eugene Phillips have ceased operations on the Kalispell mine and will put in the season doing assessment work and prospecting. A recent shipment of ore from the property to the Nelson smelter gave returns amounting to $113.50. They consider it to be among one of the best low grade properties in the country.

R. White, manager of the British Columbia Mineral Properties, limited, reports that work is being pushed on the Silver Tip and Bear's Nest properties under his direction. A force of men are crosscutting for the ledge which they expect to strike after going about 50 feet further. They report a hard formation, and are making progress rather slowly at present.

The Wakefield Mines, limited, has been organized in England with a capital of £100,000, in £1 shares. The object of the concern is to adopt an agreement with and to acquire the assets and undertaking of the West Kootenay Exploring and Mining company, limited, and to carry on the business of a mining and exploration company. Four-Mile creek, in the Slocan, is the seat of operations, with Silverton as the headquarters.

Last week Messrs. Hayes, McGowan and Guidnon of Fort Steele sold to J. A. Harvey and J. S. Boge, agents for a large Chicago syndicate, the Lake View, Last Chance, Bijou, Accidental, Alberta, Red Deer, Kootenay Star, Union Star, Doraty, Royal Oak and Prudential claims. These claims are situated on Lake Moyie and form a part of what is called the St. Eugene group of mines. They were all located during the summer of 1897. The consideration is recorded at $1, but it is an open secret that it is away up in the thousands. The property is a silver-lead proposition and has a considerable showing of ore. It is reported that extensive operations will be commenced on the property at once.

STRICTLY IN ADVNACE.

ADVERTISE OUR RESOURCES.

We see by the Rossland papers that Julius Price, special correspondent of the Illustrated London News, and L. W. Hughes, of the London Financial News, have arrived at that place to write up that section for their papers. We do not profess to know everything, but it appears to us this is an opportunity for our city council to show a little enterprise and liberality. These gentlemen should be brought here and shown the workings of our surrounding mines, their outputs and profits, and the prices at which many promising undeveloped properties can be bought. For the benefit of the place, the first thing is to get capital interested; and this can only be done by convincing the world we have in our immediate surroundings the cheapest and most profitable investments to be had in the country. Results show this to be the case, and the facts cannot be too strongly impressed on gentlemen like these in official visits, who have the opportunity in their daily work to publish these facts far and wide. Such expenditures as the council are now making on creek improvements are all right enough in their place and season, but the first thing is to get capital interested in our surroundings. With this done, the growth of the city in population and wealth is assured, and with growth public debt is the more easily bourne by the people. As we said above, we do not profess to know every thing; but these matters strike us as arguments beyond successful refutation. Our city council should see these correspondents are brought here, treated properly, and detained until they see the real merits of our surroundings, and are prepared to place them before the readers of their journals. We know, of course, there is a sentimentality in favor of gold mines, but it is only a sentimentality, and the showings we can make to impartial writers should carry their own conviction. It is dividends on investments capitalists are after; and it matters not to them whether they come from gold quartz or snow banks. We have one mine here, the Payne, that is worth more to the owners than all the Rossland mines put together to their owners; Sandon's mines paid more dividends last year than all the gold mines of British Columbia put together, and our city council, and all residents for that matter, should employ every effort to let the world know it. These things are cool, naked facts, and if only the capitalists of the world knew them, it could not fail to have most beneficial influences on the city and its surroundings.

REPRESENTATION BY POPULATION.

If after all the fuss and feathers about giving West Kootenay five representatives in the next provincial parliament, the forecast of a Redistribution Bill, announced in another column is real it will give the people anything but satisfaction. The outline is that the Kootenays are each to have one additional member, and the value of this is fully destroyed by the announcement that the extreme west is to have two more, so that as far as voting force in the House is concerned, we would be just as well off if no change at all was made. We are now in this province in just the same plight as the people of Canada were in before confederation. Public will is likely to be stifled to suit the wishes of despotism.

There is no gainsaying nearly the entire increase of the provincial revenue year by year arises form the growth and development of the Kootenays, and principally the west, and yet the government has no consideration for the hen that lays the golden egg. We trust, however, this bill does not fully explain the intentions of the government; but that they will even yet do this section reasonable justice. It is not at all necessary to increase the representation of the province, if it is the question of expense over which the government stumbling, as the needs of the eastern part of the country would be just as well met by reducing the representation of the west as by increasing it in this section. What the people want is a voice on the basis of population, and that voice can be just as well heard by making the representation one to every 8,000 as one to every 4,000. Let us have representation according to our numbers with reasonable consideration for extent of territory to be represented, and we shall be satisfied but not otherwise.

There is one thing Kaslo has if it has nothing else, and that is an able, efficient, energetic Board of Trade. Naturally the place has nothing like the opportunities of Sandon, in that it has but an insignificant payroll, while Sandon with the largest one in the country is not doing as well as it ought to, because of the apparent apathy of many who ought to be alive to its interests. Sandon is suffering because its natural advantages from wealthy surroundings are not made know to the world. The prospectus issued by the Reco Mining Co. is quite comprehensive; but it will not fall into the hands of everyone. Its information ought to be supplemented by expressions from our council, a Board of Trade and our business men individually and collectively. Proper advertising would be attended with some difficulties, but they are not insurmountable—they can be readily overcome if or business men would only make a joint effort to overcome them. Nature in furnishing the place with immensely wealthy surroundings has done her share for Sandon, and the people ought to recognize this fact and do the rest themselves.

Corbin has come to the conclusion by this time "there is many a slip twixt the cup and the lip." The R. R. committee at Ottawa gave him the preference over the C. P. R. of building into the Kettle River country; but the bill was defeated in the House by a vote of 64 to 44. No doubt the senate will acquiesce and this will leave the C.P.R. masters of the situation. They have heavy interests in the country, and no doubt their policy will be to encourage every thing calculated to buildit up, including a smelter system, tramways, branch lines, and everything of that kind. We are confident by their vote, the majority in the House did the best for British Columbia.

SEATS IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Redistribution Gives Two More Votes to Kootenay.

The incident in regard to adjournment in the legislature furnished the opposition with a little opportunity to try and make out a government defeat. The redistribution was brought down on Wednesday, and as on Tuesday indicated increases in the house by four members, Vancouver, Cassiar, East Kootenay, West Kootenay each get an increase of one. Yale district will be alloted so as to cut off the triangular piece which included Christina Lake, Cascade City, Grand Forks, Greenwood and Midway which is thrown into West Kootenay, which has now three ridings.

Revelstoke riding consists of all West Kootenay lying out of the line of passage down the valley of Arrow lake and Cariboo creek and from Bend quarters of that creek to the north of Slocan lake and Kootenay lake, and then due east to the the boundary of the district.

Rossland riding includes the triangular part taken away from East Yale and all the rest of West Kootenay south of Valley and west of Arrow lake and the Columbia.

Nelson riding includes all the Kootenay lake and Slocan lake country lying east of the Columbia or Arrow lake.

East Kootenay is divided by a line the centre of which is at Canal flat on the upper Kootenay river. The boundary runs due west from this and to the east and follows the Kootenay river and the Palliser river to Kananiskis pass. This makes Fort Steele and Cranbrook with the Crow's Nest country the centre of the south riding and leaves Windermere and the upper Kootenay lake in the north riding along with Donald, Golden and other Canadian Pacific railway towns

On the Island Cowichan, Alberni riding is enlarged somewhat by taking the west northern coast from Comax district. Nanaimo City is slightly enlarged, and Texada and Las Quita islands are taken from North Nanaimo and put in South Nanaimo. Provision is made for persons to speedily get their names changed from one district to another. Owing to the number of voters moved to Cassia recently, the necessity of two months' residence in that district is dispensed with.

A COMPLETE MEDICIFE CHEST.

Taken internally or applied externally Yellow Oil is equally efficacious. It cures Croup, Quinsy, Sore Chest, Cuts, Burns, Bruises, Sprains, Caked Breasts, Stiff Joints and dozens of other complaints. No household should be without it. It costs only 25c., and is a whole medicine chest in itself.

WHEN WE WERE CHILDREN.

Have you forgotten, little wife,
Our faraff childhood's golden life,
Our splendid castles on the sands,
The boat I made with my own hands,

The rain that caught us in the wood,
The cakes we had when we got home,
The doll I broke and made you cry,
When we were children, you and I?

Have you forgotten, little wife,
The dawning of that other life,
The strange new light the whole world wore
When life love's perfect blossom bore,

The dreams we had, the songs we made
The sunshine and the woven shade,
The tears of many a sad holiday,
When we were parted, you and I?

Ah, no! Your loving heart, I know,
Remembers still the long ago.
It is the light of childhood's days
That shines through all your winning ways.

God grant we ne'er forget our youth,
Its innocence and faith and truth;
The smiles, the tears and hopes gone by,
When we were children, you and I.

A BORDER HEROINE.

BY CHARLES B. LEWIS.

Wo of Custer's command were swinging around to recross the overland trail, every station of which in western Kansas had been captured by the Indians. We had gone into camp one night after a continuous ride of nearly 100 miles, and everybody but the sentinels was fast asleep, when there came riding in from the northwest a girl, 18 years old, named Mary Thompson. She was riding a pony without saddle or bridle, and she was hatless and without shoes. Most of the men had been aroused, and were anxious to hear her story before she reached the general's tent. Her report was terse and to the point. Ten miles to the northwest was a party of pioneers—8 wagons, 20 men and 40 women and children. The camp had been attacked by Indians an hour before, and the girl had mounted her pony, dashed through the lines and galloped in search of aid. She had been followed for the first three or four miles by mounted Indians, but had distanced them.

Custer interrogated her concerning the situation of the camp and the strength of the Indians, and, believing the pioneers could hold their own through the night, the men were ordered back to their blankets. It was about an hour before daylight when we moved, the girl riding at the head of the column with the general and two or three scouts, and we were within half a mile of the camp when the darkness faded away and gave us a view of the situation. Then it was a swift dash at the hostiles, a sharp fight for ten minutes, and we had sent the band scurrying away.

In and about the wagons lay six dead and four wounded men—ten dead or wounded women and children. Every horse and mule was disabled, and had we waited a quarter of an hour longer the Indians would have "rushed" and carried the camp and wiped out every soul. At midnight they had cut off two of the outer wagons for a moment and made captive a boy 10 years old—Mary Thompson's own brother. Her father and mother were among the dead, her brother carried away by the warriors as they fled before us. The soldiers and pioneers crowded about the girl and gave her words of sympathy, and for a few minutes she hid away in one of the wagons to be alone with her grief. When she reappeared, her tears had vanished, and she announced her resolution to make an effort to recover her captive brother. General Custer advised and argued with her, but she refused to go back to a point of safety with the surviving pioneers. She did not ask to go with the command, but intended to depend upon herself alone. I think she would have been forced to go away with the pioneers had she remained with us a few minutes longer. While the people were making ready for a start the rank and file learned of her determination. We outfitted her pony, handed her over a winchester rifle and a revolver and plenty of ammunition, supplied her with food for several days, and nothing was lacking when she rode out of camp in the direction the Indians had taken.

Knowing that her brother Jimmie would be sent to some village among the hills to be held captive, she gave all her attention to dodging war parties and hunting out villages. On the old maps of Kansas there used to be a creek called Thompson creek, and it was named after the girl. One morning after a night spent in riding over the plain she entered a grove of willows and cottonwoods on a little island in the middle of the stream to lie up for the day.

About 10 o'clock in the forenoon an Indian band numbering about 20 old men, women and children came along and made their camp on the east bank of the stream and within pistol shot of the hiding girl. Among the boys she saw her brother for the first time. He had been clothed in Indian dress, but she identified him at once. He was among the score of lads sent across to the grove to cut lodge poles and firewood, and the girl planned a feat which the most daring scout would have hesitated to attempt. It was to carry the boy off in the face of the village, and it was not her fault that she made a failure of it. He was one of the first to reach the island, and she rode boldly out of shelter and called him by name and moved toward him. He was so surprised at sight of her that he ran away. She overtook him and seized and tried to lift him on to the saddle, but he broke away from her and the Indians sounded the alarm. As many as a score of old men and boys mounted ponies and attempted to capture Miss Thompson, but after wounding two and being chased for five miles she made her escape. She did not go far, however. Having located the village in which the boy was held, she determined to hang about until her mission was accomplished.

The mound known as Thompson's Fort was also named after Mary Thompson. Her stock of ammunition had been reduced to nine cartridges when she met a scouting party of cavalry and was supplied with 100 rounds and as much provisions as she would take. She had then been dogging the Indians for over two months and had donned male attire as the handiest to get about in. There were Indians on the trail of the scouting party, and an hour after Mary had gone her way she found 12 mounted warriors in sight behind her. This was at 10 o'clock in the morning and on the open plains. She headed for the faraway hills to the west, and for the first hour permitted the Indians to gain on her. When they had come within half a mile, she set the pace to hold them there, and made one of the greatest rides recorded under like circumstances. Her horse was in prime condition, and the ponies were also at their best. The Indians knew whom they were after and determined to capture her alive and unhurt.

The race and pursuit lasted for 60 miles, every rod of which was covered at a gallop. The girl was riding straight into the enemy's country, and at sundown she determined to go no further. As she reached the creek flowing around the east base of "Thompson's fort," which is a hill standing by itself, she threw herself off her horse and took a long drink and then led the animal to the crest of the hill. Fortunately for her there was a sink or basin at the top, with many loose rocks lying about, and in a short time she had done all that a soldier could have accomplished under the circumstances. As the Indians came up they spread out to encircle the hill. They had run their victim to earth and were in no hurry to face her rifle.

From dark to dawn the heroine was not disturbed, and she afterward related that she slept fairly well. She had a soldier's canteen full of water, plenty of provisions and ammunition and was not at all dismayed over the situation. When morning came, the Indians demanded her surrender, giving her much praise and promising to escort her to one of their villages unhurt. This they would likely have done, but she did not propose to become a captive while able to give a shot from rifle or revolver. Two hours were consumed by the Indians in trying to negotiate a surrender, and then, finding the girl inflexible, they made their first attack. At a given signal the 12, who were under the command of a subchief named Little Horse, rushed for the crest of the hill. They gained it, but after a fight of two minutes were driven off with the loss of two warriors killed and one wounded. This last was the chief himself. He was shot through the cheek and had the tip of his tongue carried away, and so badly did this interfere with his speech that two years later he drowned himself in despair. So well was the girl intrenched on the crest of the hill that it was deemed unwise to attack her again, and the band sat down to starve her out. For three nights and two days she held the fort, wounding two other Indians and escaping all their bullets, and then the Indians withdrew and left her, and she went her way in peace.

As I saw Mary Thompson when she first set out on her dangerous mission so did I see her when it had been concluded. From May until November she scouted the plains and dodged among the hills alone, her life and liberty in peril, almost every hour in the 24. The village in which her brother was held captive moved many times, but she always located it anew and watched for her opportunity. It came one night with the setting in of winter. There was a blizzard raging when she entered the village, crept from lodge to lodge and finally found her brother asleep between two boys. She woke him up and got him out of the lodge without disturbing the others, and once they had mounted her horse they set off in the direction of a supply camp 60 miles distant. So severe was the storm, however, that after riding ten miles the pair made camp in a ravine until the worst was over. It was 30 hours before the storm ceased, and the Indians soon started out and picked up the trail almost as soon as the pair had taken camp. The snow lay two feet deep on the level, and with the horse carrying double the race would soon have been run. Camped in a similar ravine, ten miles to the west, were three companies of the Seventh cavalry, and we had just broken camp and got into the saddle when Mary Thompson, with her brother on the saddle behind her, came riding down upon us, with the yelling Indians only half a mile away.

Then followed what the eastern philanthropists have been pleased to term "a cold blooded slaughter of unarmed Indians." There were 22 in the band, All were armed, but they came over the ridge and down among us before they knew of our presence. Only three lived to get back to the village.

Librarian Keen.

Speaking of Gregory B. Keen, who has just been elected librarian of the Historical society of Pennsylvania to succeed the late Frederick D. Stone, the Philadelphia Inquirer says: "In pure library work Mr. Keen has had good experience as the librarian of the library of the University of Pennsylvania. For many years he has been the corresponding secretary of the society. His papers on the Swedish influence in Pennsylvania are marked by the society's careful methods of investigation, and both by tastes and training Mr. Keen is fitted to prove a most worthy successor to Dr. Stone."

Andree.

As Andree was about to depart on his polar balloon he was asked how soon tidings from him might be expected. His answer was, "At least not before three months, and one year, perhaps two years, may elapse before you hear from us, and you may one day be surprised by news of our arrival somewhere, and if not—if you never hear from us—others will follow in our wake until the unknown regions of the north have been surveyed."

Smooth Roads and Traffic.

The increase of efficiency in vehicles having a smooth surface on which to travel is very great. Perfect rails are a necessity for the steam engine, and a smooth roadbed is essential if high speed is to be obtained. The motor carriage, which has already become an established fact abroad, depends for its efficiency on good road surface. The bicycle gains enormously in case of propulsion, in speed and in adaptability to new fields of usefulness by having good roads. About these three there is no dispute, but it seems necessary to prove by argument, illustration and statistics that carriages, wagons, trucks, carts and all other vehicles are equally benefited by a smooth traveling surface.—Exchange.

Not Up to Date.

"Well, his grandpa gave him a gingerbread horse, and he is mad because it isn't a gingerbread wheel."—Detroit Free Press.

The village blacksmith is usually considered the type of good health. Even he sickens and dies frequently in early youth. No man, not even the most robust, can afford to neglect his health, which is his most precious endowment. The man who does so will sooner or later pay the penalty in some serious or fatal malady. When a man finds that he is losing his appetite, that he passes restless nights, that he awakens in the morning unrefreshed and without ambition or mental or bodily vigor, when he is troubled with headaches, nervousness or biliousness, it is time for him to take serious thought for his health.

These symptoms are by no means trivial, and are indicative of disorders that may lead to consumption, nervous prostration, malarial troubles or some serious blood disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all medicines for men and women who suffer in this way. It restores the lost appetite; it gives sweet, refreshing sleep; makes the digestion perfect, the liver active and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the greatest of all nerve tonics. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption, weak lungs, bronchitis, spitting of blood, obstinate coughs and kindred ailments. It is also an unfailing cure for nervous exhaustion and prostration. At all medicine stores.

Mrs. Rebecca F. Gardner, of Grafton, York Co., Va., writes: "When I was married I weighed 125 pounds. I was taken sick and reduced in health and broke out with a disease which my doctor said was eczema. I fell away to 90 pounds. I began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and now I weigh 140 pounds and am well."

Constipation often causes sickness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. They are tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules, in little vials. Druggists have nothing else "just as good." They regulate the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

RUNNING SORES.

Mr. Stephen Wescott, Freeport, N.S., found (Burdock Blood Bitters) a wonderful blood purifier and gives his experience as follows: "I was very much run down in health and employed our local physician who attended me three months, finally my leg broke out in running sores with fearful burning. I had thirteen running sores at one time, from my knee to the top of my foot. All the medicine I took did me no good, so I threw it aside and tried B.B.B.; when one-half the bottle was gone, I noticed a change for the better, and by the time I had finished two bottles my leg was perfectly healed and my health greatly improved."

MINERAL ACT AMENDMENTS.

Aliens are Excluded from Recording Claims and Obtaining Crown Grants.

The following are the proposed changes in the Mineral Act, as embodied in a report of the mining committee made to the Legislative Assembly on Wednesday of last week, which reads thus:—

"Every person over, but not under, 18 years of age, and every joint company shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of a free miner and shall be considered a free miner upon taking out a free miner's certificate; provided, however, that no alien shall be permitted to record a mineral claim unless he has previously, and in accordance with the provisions of the act relating to the same, declared his intention to become a British subject, and no crown grant shall be issued upon any mineral claim recorded after the passage of this act, to any other than a British subject.

The other proposed amendments are:—

"A miner who shall become a free miner shall, as regards his mining property and liabilities contracted in connection therewith, be treated as of full age.

"A free miner's certificate issued to a joint stock company shall be issued in its corporate name. A free miner's certificate shall not be transferable."

Another amendment deals with fractional claims, remedying the omission in the present act to deal with irregular shaped fractions. It is provided that "such fractional mineral claims need not be in rectangular form, and none of the angels need necessarily be right angles nor the lines be meridian, and the lines of previously located mineral claims (whether surveyed or not) between which the fractional mineral claim is located may be adopted as the boundary of the fractional mineral claim."

The distinction between a fractional and a full-sized mineral claim is made by always prefixing the words "full-sized," or "fractional," to the word claim. The provincial land surveyor, when surveying a fractional mineral claim, whether located before or after the passage of this act, may survey such claim so that it shall contain as nearly as possible, all the unoccupied ground lying between the previously located mineral claims, as described in the affidavit and by the sketch plan made by the locator when the claim was recorded, provided that no side of a fractional mineral claim exceed 1,500 feet in length.

Provisions are made by which a free miner, if he has finished his assessment work within the year, may have thirty days more in which to obtain and record his certificate on payment of $10 additional fee.

It is proposed to allow a miner to do several years assessment work in one. In getting a crown grant, too, the miner is allowed credit for the assessment work done, the amount of such assessment work being deducted from the $500 necessary to secure a crown grant. In making an application for a crown grant, the applicant, it is proposed, shall file the copies of the British Columbia Gazette and newspaper containing the notices of his application.

Another amendment is that an adverse claimant must file a plan made by a provincial land surveyor showing the claim. Instead of, as at present, allowing credit to be given for the survey as work on the claim only when such survey is made within one year of the record, an amendment proposes that two years be inserted instead of one.

An amendment to the placer act provides that if a person acquires a placer or an interest therein and it shall appear that the person from whom he acquired title has neglected to take out or keep up a free miner's certificate according to the provisions of the act, the person acquiring the claim or interest may within a month after finding this out, or a month after the amendment becomes law, if he has already acquired such knowledge, pay the proper fees and thus make his title as good as if there had been no default. Another section in the proposed amendment is to extend to leases or other placer mining grounds the right now belonging only to holders of creek claims to consolidate as many as ten leases. By some mistake last session the section giving holders of placer ground a right to consolidate placer mining holdings not exceeding 640 acres as one holding was repealed. The committee propose that this be re-enacted.

FINGER NAILS CAME OFF.

A wonderful story comes from Emerson, Man., to the effect that Mrs. Jas. Saunders of that place lost her finger nails through a severe attack of Salt Rheum. Nothing seemed to do her any good till she commenced taking Burdock Blood Bitters, with the result that the Salt Rheum has all gone and her finger nails gradually grew on again.

STRENGTH CAME BACK.

The Anvil once more rings with the strokes of his hammer.

Mr. Thos. Porteous, the well known blacksmith of Goderich, Ont., tells how sickness and weakness gave way to health and strength. "For the past four years my nerves have been very weak, my sleep fitful and disturbed by dreams, consequently I arose in the morning unrested. I was frequently very dizzy and was much troubled with a mist that came before my eyes, my memory was often defective and I had fluttering of the heart, together with a sharp pain through it at times. In this condition I was easily worried and felt enervated and exhausted. Two months ago I began taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, since that time I have been gaining in health and strength daily. They have restored my nerves to a healthy condition, removed all dizziness and heart trouble, and now I sleep well and derive comfort and rest from it. That Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are a good remedy for Nervousness, Weakness, Heart Trouble and similar complaints goes without saying." Price 50 cts. a box at all druggists or T. Rosebery Townsite.

The many advantages enjoyed by Rosebery put before the public, UNCLAIMED WITHOUT OPPOSITION.

Its Advantages as a Distributing Center.

Rosebery is the only town in Kootenay having both railroad and steamboat connection that can ship goods daily to ten different towns, whereby the shipper can see his wares leave his hands and that they will be received by the consignee within two hours.

Its Advantages as a Railroad Center.

Rosebery enjoys the position of king of the funnell as it were, for the railroad business of the whole of the Kootenays. All ore and matter for shipment from Nelson, Trail Creek and the Slocan must, and is now passing out this way to the main line of the C. P. R., as well as all goods coming in from Revelstoke to the Kootenay country.

NOTE. To substantiate this: The C. P. R. are now putting in track weigh scales at Rosebery, the first and only scales that has been put in on any of the C. P. R. branches in Kootenay—which goes to show the importance of this point by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's actions.

Its Advantages as a Steamboat Point.

Rosebery claims, without opposition, of being the only junction on the lake, unlike Slocan City, where you can step off the steamer to a waiting train and continue your journey. You can take either a north or south train at this terminus; consequently Rosebery is the best transient town in the race. Nervertheless we claim Slocan City second in importance, and would say watch the head and foot of Slocan Lake, viz.—

ROSEBERY AND SLOCAN CITY.

Its Advantages as a Manufacturing Center.

As a manufacturing center Rosebery claims to have demonstrated the fact that after the careful observation of the Denver (Colorado) Ore Coy's manager, as the natural advantages of all points in Kootenay for the treatment of ores the cheapest, Rosebery was selected, and they now are erecting works, with a capacity of 250 tons per day, which will be in operation within 90 days; and it is their intention to pay out monthly in the vicinity of $100,000. I might also add Rosebery has the largest water power from Wilson river flowing into Slocan Lake.

AS TO CLIMATE.

Rosebery claims the mildest climate on Slocan Lake, from its admirable southern exposure and absolute shelter from the north; snow always leaves the place about the 15th of March.

AS A TOWNSITE.

As a townsite, Rosebery is without a peer. It is possessed of all the flat land available at the mouth of the Wilson river leading to the valley—mining region—consequently there is no danger of any contagion. The title is a Crown Grant and is perfect. All purchasers of lots are safe in this respect. The only safe speculative townsite in the Slocan is Rosebery.

Why should I say the only safe speculative townsite in the Slocan? Because Rosebery business lots to-day are only $150 to $200 each and are bound to increase rapidly this summer. These figures can, and will, double. Before long the time to buy now. Don't wait till they are from $700 to $1,000, as you did in Slocan City last May, go in on the ground floor and make a few dollars in speculation; if you want to invest go to Vancouver or Winnipeg; if you want to speculate and and clean up money go quick to Rosebery before lots are out of sight.

What's Wanted in Rosebery.

We want a restaurant.
We want a good hotel right away.
We want a first-class general store.
We want a butcher shop.

Anyone looking for an opening spy out this place at once.

Maps and price-lists on application; prices run from $75 to $200.

TERMS: One-third cash, balance 3 and 6 months. For actual builders special terms can be arranged for a few lots by applying to

A. M. BEATTIE, General Agent, Rosebery.

MOUNTAIN ECHOES.

Miners' time checks at Cliffe's bookstore.

Silver is standing at 56 cents steadily these times.

The talk of the town—the Hispano-American war.

Kaslo is going to celebrate the 24th of May, truly "loil."

The Payne shipped 180 tons of ore over the C. P. R. the past week.

The C. P. R. are getting their charter through for the Whitewater extension.

Mr. McDonagh expects to have the Reco hotel in full swing by the 1st of May.

The K. and S. say they are fully in the swim as regards low passenger rates.

City Clerk Sewell is under the weather these days—a bad attack of quinsy.

A Bill is soon to be introduced granting incorporation to the town of Revelstoke.

The Argo people are building a pack trail from the Reco trail up to their second tunnel.

It is said, by some who profess to know, the creek improvements will cost about $12,000.

P. M. Lilly is on deck again, but there appears to be no offenders - they have all left for safer quarters.

Main Bros. are opening the office of their wholesale liquor business in the Filbert block, which will be very convenient.

A magnificent stock of new ingrain wall paper, borders and ceilings at Cliffe's bookstore, Sandon. All tastes can be fully met.

The Ruth has 140 tons of ore ready for shipment over the K. and S. as soon as repairs are made on the road, which it is expected will be finished to-day.

In another paragraph we said there were two happy men in town—Messrs. Fallows and Rose. We have to add the third, Mr. D. J. Robertson, and the end is not yet.

Mr. Bascom has bought the Cody saw mill, and is now busy loading it on K. and S. cars to ship to the Crow's Nest road, where it will be used cutting construction timber.

The Home Mission society of the Methodist church are making arrangements for a neck-tie and ice cream social to be held in the Virginia hall on Monday evening, May 2nd. Other announcements later.

There are some indications that the American mines near the boundary may yet send their ores across the lines for treatment. When this time arrives it will be a bright day indeed for British Columbia.

The I. O. O. F. are making arrangements for one of the best times of the age at their anniversary ball, which will be held in Spencer's hall on the 26th inst. Everything is being put in proper shape to give all visitors a most enjoyable time.

Kellie's Truck Bill is likely to receive some amendments. It is too general. Surely miners ought to be allowed to board where they like. If they find it more convenient to board at the lodging house of the mine, they ought not to be prevented from doing so by legislation.

There are two very happy men in town these days, if there are no others. They are W. W. Fallows and W. de R. Rose, Mr. Fallows because it is a daughter and Mr. Rose because it is a son; and thus it is the sexes keep evened up in the world, the one never appears to gain materially on the other. Both gentlemen were informed of the incidents by wire the first of the week.

The Anglican Bishop was here on Monday evening and preached a most acceptable sermon, which was listened to by a large number of people, notwithstanding the short notice of his coming given. Squire Lovatt says he will build a new Anglican church himself if the authorities only send an acceptable low church minister. He does not want Jesuitism in the services.

We have had no train on the K. and S. since Friday last—causes, a mud slide beyond Whitewater and two bents taken from the trestle bridge near McGuigan by a snow slide. It is said everything will be in shape again, however, today or to-morrow. Passenger traffic went on the week as usual, also mail service, by transfers at the wrecks, which shows good pluck on the part of the managers of the road.

Mr. Burke, at one time of Slocan City, and who has seen the elephant, classes the Klondyke boom as among the greatest frauds on earth, gotten up by the business men of the various outfitting points and the transportation companies for the sole purpose of fleecing the people. "In Seattle," he says, "trickery and every other method are resorted to in order to sell their Klondyke goods before the boom utterly collapses, which they now see is close at hand.

Mr. Ira W. Black left on Monday for the Republic mining country, some 80 miles west of Grand Forks. He has secured a license there and will open up an hotel. He says development has gone steadily ahead there in several properties until now there is $2,000,000 worth of ore in sight. Much machinery is in operation, but shipping cannot be done until the district is tapped by a road, the nearest station being now 60 miles distant. His brother will run the hotel here.

BIRTHS.

ROBERTSON—On Saturday, the 16th inst., at Sandon, to Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Robertson, a daughter.

FALLOWS—At Nelson, on the 18th inst., to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fallows, a daughter.

ROSE—In California, on the 8 inst., the wife of W. de R. Rose, this city, of a son.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Rev. and Mrs. Clelland left yesterday for a couple of week's visit with friends in Portland, Ore.

Mr. G. W. Grimmett supplied for Rev. Powell in New Denver and Silverton, Sunday last.

Mr. Mytton, manager of the Bank of B. C., has returned from Harrison Hot Springs, where he went to get relief from a bad attack of rheumatic fever. He looks considerably the worse for the wear, but will doubtless recuperate rapidly now that the worst is over.

Col. H. J. Budd, of Knoxville, Iowa, a member of the Silver Republican National committee, was in town this week visiting J. M. Harris, G. W. Hughes and other silver men, talking over the situation and planing for future operations in the interest of the white metal.
