VOL. 1. NO. 22. SANDON, B. C., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1897. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

MR. SIFTON'S VISIT.

he Minister of the Interior Makes a Trip Through the Kootenay.

urprised at the Size and Importanee of Sandon.

A telegram from Mr. Bostock, M.P., n Monday, saving Mr. Sifton was on e C. P. R. train was the only notifi- ation Sandonites had of a visit from e Minister of the Interior that day, his way home from the Yukon. As on as the party which included Mr. ostock, a Globe correspondent, and e Minister's private secretary, ached the town, saddle horses were waiting to take them to the Ruth ine and the Slocan Star concentrator, hich are close by, and there they w something which they acknow- dged opened their eyes considerably the mining importance of this sec- n. The huge tunnels at the Ruth, ading out their cars of precious ore, the Star concentrator cleansing its s of the shining metal. After a uple of hours stay at these places party returned to the Goodenough, here a reception of short duration ok place, also a visit to the Sandon ub before leaving for Kaslo on the & S. special, run in for the occasion. . Sifton asked Mr Cliffe, an old ac- aintance, to send him statistics of e shipments from this section and of perts, that will doubtless be a strong verage in the future in securing the cessary public institutions for the ace.

The Minister says there are vast eas of mineral in the Yukon of hich the public so far have no know- dge, but the explored parts are well ken up, and the hardship to be en- red in getting there and living when ere are most difficult of description Mr. Bostock says there is but little ubt as to securing the Customs ause petitioned for. The require nts of the place demand it, and it ll certainly be granted as soon as ssible.

Orangemen Celebrate.

If Guy Fawkes himself had been esent at the entertainment in Spen- r's hall on Friday evening, he would ve appreciated it much more than attempt to blow up the parliament ildings, in the reign of King James. e proceedings consisted of music, eeches and dancing, the latter being tended out until the "We sma' ours ant the twall." The music and floor ing good all voted it a most enjoy le affair. The attendance was about couples, making a large, festive as- mblage. Refreshments were served the hall, which, no doubt, materially ded to the evening's enjoyment.

Road to Lemon Creek.

A gang of men left for Six Mile eek last Wednesday for the purpose constructing a trail from the pres- terminus of the government trail the north fork of Lemon creek. It being constructed by private enter- ise, a petition having been success- lly circulated among the business en of this city. The same parties e circulating a petition to the gov- ment asking that a wagon road be ilt over the trail next spring. It ll be 13 miles in length and will cost t to exceed $1,100 per mile. It will tend from Kootenay lake up Six ile creek, crossing the divide at the ead and terminate at the north fork Lemon creek.

There are a large number of good ms in that district and it now costs four cents per pound to get in ices. It is the intention of some them to rawhide ore over the trail the smelter this winter.—Nelson iner.

Slocan Alright.

R. M. Grogan, of the brokerage firm Rolt & Grogan, is back from a visit the Slocan, Ainsworth and Lardeau stricts. Mr. Grogan declares that e Slocan country is in a lively and osperous business condition notwith- anding the fact that the mine-owners ere are paying $22.50 per ton for ansportation and smelting charges to merican reduction works. He re- rts that at Ainsworth a concentrator being built for the product of the ighland mine. Continuing he said: "While in Kaslo I heard that the ot Bay smelter is to blow in on the th of November, provided ore can be tained for treat ment there. How- er, the general sentiment seems to be that will not be able to get any ore to work on for some reason or other. The Braden syndicate owns the smelter, and the impression prevails that Omaha-Grant Smelting company of of the United States is heavily interested in the enterprise. It is thought that the syndicate purchase the Pilot Bay plant, so that in the event of conditions changing as regards the Slocan ores by local smelters, the Omaha-Grant company, which now treats a very considerable proportion of the silver-lead ores of this district, will not lose any business opportunities.

"It is a surprising fact to me that nearly all the ore mined in the Slocan country is being sent to the United States for treatment. It costs $22.50 per ton for transportation charges and treatment, and in addition to this a duty of one and a half per cent. is collected by the United States on the lead in the ores. This runs into money and if it were not for the fact that the ores are of a high grade they could not stand such heavy fixed charges and duty and leave a residue of profit for the mine owner. As I understand it, too, the smelters on the other side of the line only give 95 per cent. of the value of the lead. Our people are growling over a charge of $11 for transportation and treatment.

"To show how rich the ore of some of the mines of that section are I need only mention a recent shipment of a carload made from the Reco mine to the Smelter of the Omaha & Grant Smelting company's works at Omaha. The net returns from the carload were $4,576.20, while the gross returns were $5,351.49. The freight, duty and other fees and charges on this carload of ore footed up a total of $755.29. The ore assays 405.5 ounces in silver and 50 per cent. lead to the ton. If this ore was smelted in Canada look at how much of these charges would have remained here to do the country good."—Rossland Miner.

"Dot Vas Hell!"

A German Prospector Gets Tangled Up in a Water Wheel.

Not long ago a prospector was floating down Snake river on a rudely constructed raft, which served the purpose of a boat, en route to the Seven Devils and some of the numerous bars below Huntington, he had to pass the placer mine of Mr. Ruchman at the mouth of Powder river. Mr. Ruchman has a wheel that hoists the water out of Snake river into the bar he is mining. In some unaccountable manner the prospector, who is a Dutchman, allowed his raft to get into the current, which drew the raft and the Dutchman into the hole. In a few seconds the whole outfit was ground through, blankets, rocker, grub, Dutchman and all. Strange as if may seem the man escaped with about enough clothes on to wad a shotgun, a wetter but wiser man. The balance of the outfit was swept down the stream. The only explanation the Dutchman gave, "Mine Gott! Dot vas hell!"

Kipling on Canada.

"It is a great country; a country with a future. There is a fine, hard, bracing climate, the climate that puts iron and grit into men's bones, and there are all good things to be got out of the ground, if people will work for them. What it wants is more men and more money. Why don't Englishmen think more of it as a field for English capital and enterprise? Surely there is an excellent opening both for the investing and the emigrating Briton there. Things don't, perhaps, move quite so fast as in the States, but they are safer, and you are under the flag you know, and among men of the same stock and breed. Send your folks to Canada, and if they can't go themselves, let them send their money—plenty of it.—St. James Gazette.

Coming to Sandon.

In Spencer's Opera hall on Wednesday evening the 17th inst, the Four Leaf Comedy company in the great three act comedy "Behind the Screen," under the management of McCall and Hand. All the lastest eastern successes, artistic dancing, and funny situations will be introduced by a company of artists direct from the east

SEVERE ASTHMA RELIEVED.

Dear Sir.—We have used Norway Pine Syrup in our home a great deal. I have a little boy who has had asthma for five or six years (he is only 10 now), and during the severe attacks he would get great relief from using the syrup. For an ordinary cold it is ahead of any cough medicine I ever took.

LEMON CREEK IS SOLID.

Large Number of Men at Work in the Mines.

Mr. Joe Flower and Mr. Williams arrived in the city on Tuesday from Lemon Creek where they have been engaged doing some development work on their properties, the Chilcoot and Delphine, which have splendid surface showing; with one shot of dynamite, a few days ago, they exposed a new ledge about two feet wide. Their claims are situated on the last north fork of Lemon creek. They state that at present there are about 100 men at work on the creek.

The Canadian Gold Fields Co. are busy building a raw-hide trail from the Kootenai river to the Golden Wedge, on Lemon creek, so that travel between these two points will be greatly facilitated.

On the Alpine group about 40 men are at work; on the Howard Fraction and on the Meteor group a number are engaged; five or six men are at work on the Golden Wedge and are vigorously pushing on the work; men are also at work on the Morning Star and the Chapleau. Mr. Williams thinks about 250 men have been engaged on Lemon creek during the past summer. They do not report any great quantity of snow in th hills.

LAST CHANCE GROUP.

Many Hundred Tons will be Shipped This Winter.

E. H. Tomlinson who with Dr. Hendryx, recently sold the Last Chance group to a syndicate represented by Scott McDonald, is a guest at the Phair. Mr. Tomlinson states that the Last Chance Mining and Milling company has been disincorporated because the new syndicate prefers that the interests should be held individually. He states that the Last Chance is now shipping from two to ten carloads of ore and the vein in No 3 or the lower tunnel, when he saw it last Monday had shipping ore and carbonates from wall to wall, a width of about five feet. The shipments are just commencing and it is expected that during the rawhiding season several hundred tons per month will be shipped. The mine is looking fine and the outlook is that it will become one of the heaviest shippers in the district.

Mr. Tomlinson will start a camp at Lardeau next spring and would have done so this winter had transportation facilities been better. He is interested in the Hope and Park Region two miles below the big jam on the Duncan river. There is a 60 foot tunnel on the Hope.

The ledge breaks over and the height of the tunnel is the width of vein. Assays give a result of 70 ounces in silver and 40 to 50 per cent. lead. It appears to be a fine concentrating proposition, the pay streak being about 18 inches in width. Mr. Tomlinson is interesting himself in the question of transportation facilities and as soon as they are improved there will be many others besides himself who will be actively engaged in the work of development. Mr. G. O. Buchanan owns two claims in the same ledge and adjoining the Hope.—Nelson Miner.

POLICY OF ENGLAND.

Lord Salisbury's Speech at the Mansion House Banquet.

London, Nov. 9.—The brillancy of the gathering at the Lord Mayor's banquet at the Guildhall this evening was somewhat marred by the tokens of mourning for Her Royal Highness, the late Duchess of Teck. The entrance of the Marquis of Salisbury and Arthur Balfour, the first lord of the treasury, was the signal for loud applause. After the usual loyal formal toasts, the Marquis of Landsdowne, secretary of state of war, responded for the "Army." In the course of his speech he eulogized "the gallant work being done on our Indian frontier, especially by native troops, who have long wished to stand shoulder to shoulder with us."

The Marquis of Salisbury on rising was greeted with several minutes of continuous cheering. He began by deploring the engineers' strike, which, he said, "involves the future prosperity or disaster of the country," but added that he was glad to say there was a renewed prospect that the intercession of the board of trade in the matter as a peace maker would prove successful.

After referred to the conduct of the troops on the Indian frontier in terms similar to those used by the Marquis of Landsdowne, and warmly praising the conduct of the Anglo-Egyptian expedition in the Soudan campaign. The premier came to the leading passage in his speech, introducing the tangled question of the Niger and conflicting claims and interest of Great Britain and France in that section of West Africa. He said:

"It might not achieve the general conciliatory process desired if I entered into all the negotiations between the powers respecting Africa. We are all aware of the great extent of territory cast loose during the last 20 years in Africa and put up as the object of acquisition for several enterprising governments. We desire that the territory should be governed on strict principles of right and with a constant regard to its prosperity and to the interests of the empire. We do not desire unjust and illigitimate achievements and we do not wish to take territory simply because it would look well to paint red on the map. Our objects are strictly business. We wish to extend commerce, trade, industry and civilization to throw open as many markets as possible and to bring together as many consumers and producers as possible and to open the natural highways and waterways of the continent.

His lordship then passed on to speak of the situation in the east. He said this history of the past years was that the European concert had failed to prevent Greece from going to war, but it had succeeded in preserving the peace of Europe. It was, he submitted, a great and praiseworthy achievement for the concert to avert that calamity. He continued: "Had the concert exerted all its influence to prevent Greece from going to war the responsibility might not have rested upon it of erasing Greece from the map."

THE CAMERONIAN MINE.

Now a Shipper--A Second Tunnel to be Driven.

Mr. Grimmett has just returned from the Cameronian mine at Lemon creek, and he reports things in a flourshing condition there. The trail is completed and at present there are over 100 tons of ore on the dump and rawhiding will set in at once. They expect a very low rate for freight and treatment when the Slocan and Nelson section of road is completed which will be now in a very few days.

The company are letting the contract for No. 2 tunnel at a length of 165 feet, to tap the main lead at a depth of 90 feet. At present they are operating on a lead with a paystreak of from three to five feet, which assays from $25 to $250 per ton mostly gold though with a slight admixture of lead and silver. This locality appears to be on the dividing line between Silvery Slocan and the gold country Rossland-ward.

Mr. Grimmett has now some magnificent samples of ore in his office from the mine. All experts agree in voting the Cameronian a most valuable property.

GIVE US FAIR PLAY.

Sandon Still Gets the Go-by Even After an Appropriation.

What the government intends to do about the erection of a gaol here appears shrouded in very black clouds, and no daylight breaking anywhere through them. We are advised a sum of $800, and not a very large one in all conscience, was placed in the estimates for the purpose, last session, which under ordinary circumstances should have given us the building long ere this, but a hammer has not been struck on it yet. It is true the town is likely soon to be incorporated, but this is no reason it should not be something like fairly treated for its contributions to the treasury in the past and present. So far the place sends to Victoria some $4,000 a year in hotel licenses probably $1,000 more in miscellaneous licenses, a large sum in police collections, a heavy land tax, and so far it has not had, all told, $1,000 of Local government money spent on it. Now in all sense of fair play, it is time we, at least, got a goal and a Record office. Come, gentlemen, do not let timidity, or the belief that the place is able to take care of itself, stand in the way of doing us some measure of justice.

It is true Sandon does not send a supporter of the government to the House; but if we only had a redistribution of seats that would give us a member, and justice in the expenditure of public money, there is no telling what the place might do. Withholding representation and justice in public works is no way to capture a people's best consideration.

Communication.

To the Editor of The Mining Review:

Dear Sir,—The Leage here has the habit of writing squibs about people and then refusing to admit a reply through its columns. For this reason I have to ask you for space to reply to an item in this week's issue in which it stated that I had utterly failed to prove certain charges I had preferred against the Mining Recorder of New Denver, and that the Gold Commissioner had stated they were "Worse than groundless." Why, then, did he not say so at the time, or why was it twice postponed for a decision? He must have understood his job. When the government wrote me they were going to send the papers to Mr. Dennis for investigation I wrote them to enquire if the investigation would include the charges I made against A. Sproat in 1896. Their reply was that it would not. I had no intimation of when the trial would take place until late the previous evening, thus leaving me no time to get my witnesses, who were working out of town. As Sproat and I swore diametrically opposite on almost every point at issue I could see nothing to delay decision, and proceeded to write out the following three objections to the whole investigation which I handed to Mr. Dennis after he had given his decision:—

1. The government should have made a full investigation into Mr. Sproat's conduct or none at all.

2. I should have been notified to ormulate my charges and forward them to the Gold Commissioner for investigation. As it was my letters to different departments of the government criticising the action of their agent, were piled together and designated charges. I had no copies of these and could not be expected to keep them in memory for months.

3. I should have had some days' notice of when this investigation would take place, so that witnesses could have been procured.

I had stated that Sproat was injuring my business by advising people during office hours to go to others to have their work done. To prove this in the absence of witnesses I produced a letter written me by Sproat in which he undertook to tell me how to write out blank forms. The letter was badly spelled and had no form to it; but he had the gall to tell me to "Make them out as others do, as I do myself." That is pretty good, "as I do myself." Big Indian me! I argue that this showed what he would feed the people on, viz., that I did not understand my business. Dennis refused to admit the letter, stating that he did not consider it had anything to do with the case. The only excuse for such a letter would be that he had gone out of his way to befriend the public; but who would believe that when it is known that he holds interests in different mining properties, and that he sometimes goes out to restake mineral claims himself? I imagine he would be one of the first to jump a property if he saw an opening. Thanking you for the space, Mr. Editor, I am

Yours, etc.,
J. IRWIN.

Excelsior.

A youth starts forth, of tender years—
From home and friends and comrades dear,
To visit climes of ice and snow.
Where is he now? I do not know.—
Excelsior.

And yet amid the snow and ice
He bravely with his strange device
Climb's icy peaks, and wintry trail
Bright gold to find without avail.—
Excelsior.

And yet to youth hope's always bright,
As onward trudges this brave knight.
The lofty peak is reached at last,
He cares not now and plants his staff—
Excelsior.

But why recall so sad a tale;
No more his friends will hear his hail
Nor clarion voice–Nor grasp his hand—
The youth has gone to join a band
Where Klondyke gold is naught but sand.—

IN THE CROW'S NEST.

Workmen are Well Treated, Says Engineer M. J. Haney.

Some time ago a statement was published which purported to come from a workmen who had just returned from the Crow's Nest, in which the methods of the C. P. R. in connection with the building of the road in the pass were exposed. In reply to the statement referred to M. J. Haney, manager of construction, is quoted as saying:

"I am sorry to see the newspapers taking up the matter and printing such scurrilous articles. I am prepared at any and all times to state the real facts in any case of complaint, either by mail or by wire. The facts are that certain men came the east whose fare had been advanced by the company and they were given to understand that they must, and agreed to, repay this fare. In fact, they signed contracts to this effect. A few endeavored to evade this payment and in consequence of this there has been trouble. They also endeavored to create dissatisfaction, and you have seen the statements that have been published. In regard to the other complaints. I do not see where they come in. The men have the best of board, and they receive 100 cents on the dollar for their wages. Each man is charged 50 cents per month for medical fees, which is the least amount I ever heard of any company charging. We allow no time check scalpers, on the line, and the men are paid the wages they were hired for before they left the east. They were hired with the understanding that they were to do any class of work the company wanted done. I am not hard on the men, and I always do as I agree to do. I have a long record on large works and I have employed a great many men in my time, and have always lived up to any agreement I have made. On the other hand I expect the men to carry out thir part of agreement or contract, and have insisted upon it There are now about 4,000 men employed on the line between Moyie lake and McLeod and we expect to have the track down to the head of the Kootenay lake by November of next year, which will be ahead of the contract time. The work is progressing satisfactorily and I look for no drawbacks of any kind."

MINING BRIEFS.

The Chapleau at Slocan City is now a shipper.

The Republic mine on Robinson creek now has six men at work.

There are now five men at work on the Omega near the Selkirk, drifting with hope of striking the main lead at an early day.

The Bolander mine has recently made a strike of more than usual importance. This mine is owned by Ohio parties. A crown grant has been secured, and the quality of the ore turned out is causing the mine to be considered a very valuable property.

Mr. Strangham was down from the Ajax mine on Tuesday, and reports a valuable new strike in that promising property. Some two weeks since they found a new lead and have driven in a tunnel some 45 feet. The new lead is three feet in width with a nice seam of metal sandwitched in between two layers of carbonates. The metal is rich, and the appearance of carbonates on either side renders the stoping much easier and more valuable.

The Enterprise mine has opened up again after the owners have adjusted their personal differences. There are at present 10 men at work, and development will be pushed making the mine a steady shipper.

The Sovereign mine has ten men at work. The ore is improving and development is going ahead steadily.

The Star and the Ruth mines have both struck large rich leads of ore on their lower tunnels—in fact better ore than they have ever had in these remunerative properties. The Star's strike is 750 feet from the surface on a length of 1,000 feet of tunnel, and the Ruth's find is under very similar circumstances. These finds go to show mineral is here at any depth and improving in quality with descent.

Rawhiding has now set in. On Thursday the Reco sent up four horses, to haul to the K. and S. at the trail crossing. This mine will largely increase shipments this winter.

A Fratricidal Quarrel.

Word comes from Seaforth, Ont., of an awful tragedy that happened at Bayfield a few days ago, a man meeting his death at the hands of his brother. Harvey and Frank Elliott ran the Albion hotel there for their mother. Yesterday Harvey Elliott went to Varna, a small village a few miles east of Bayfield, and returned in the evening, under the influence of liquor. It is not known exactly how the affair happened, but it is hinted that there was a quarrel between the brothers. At any rate Harvey was shot dead by his brother Frank. The murderer has been placed under arrest, and an inquest will be held.

CAN'T YOU SLEEP?

Sleeplessness is one of the most frequent symptoms of heart and nerve troubles. It affects all classes and all ages. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills restore the nerves to healthy action and regulate the heart. Mr. Miles Boone, Fredericton, N. B., tells how they work. "I could never rest well, and often woke up with a start, and then sleep left me for the night. These pills gave me almost immediate relief, giving me healthful, refreshing sleep, and I am now strong and well."

TIME TO ACT.

To any one who takes the trouble to look into the financial situation of this province, it must be apparent, it is high time some changes of a radical character were made in the management of things in this province. The most prominent of the Liberal papers, though the present government is nominally Conservative, are opposed to placing the present leaders of the opposition in responsibility, alleging it would only result in rendering "the last condition worse than the first." Even though it should prove the case, though there is no proof of the soft impeachment, it is no argument for continuing things as they are. Because one judge gives bad judgement, or because an applicant for a judgeship is known—not supposed to be—unfit for the trust is, no reason incompetent men should be retained in harness. Let known wrong be ever and always combatted, and a change for the better will eventually come. We venture the opinion that if the present opposition leaders were doubly as incompentent as they are, if they were only Liberals, and had a good chance for success at the polls, they would be taken up by the Liberal papers that are now throwing stones in their pathway. As party politics are a matter of no consequence to us, we speak on the broad ground of public interests. What we have to say is that the present debt of the province and the unstable character of the few unimportant assets we have to show for it, are simply appalling. With the late loan of two and a half millions voted, we have a gross debt of nine millions, or at least sixty dollars per head of our population, and assets there would be serious difficulty in getting $10 per head for. As we have said in previous issues, the present government are not to blame for all this as the liability has been piling up for the last 25 years; but they are to blame for late loans, for not making a vigorous effort to reduce the rate of interest on indebtedness, and handling more carefully the annual receipts of the country. With these properly managed they are ample to sensibly diminish, through sinking fund investments, much of our present heavy interest bearing debt. It may be that the present opposition have not sufficiently mastered a scheme for the accomplishment of these ends, but it is none the less a fact, the present and past rampant looseness and extravagance should be brought to a close.

As an asset the indebtedness of the Nakusp and Slocan railroad of $647,072 is figuring prominently as valuable; but how payment is going to be got is on very questionable conditions. The N. & S. is but 43 miles long, and could be built for less money. As payment the government is to get 40 per cent. of the gross earnings, but all of the latter are classed on the long haul basis, so that even their actual value is heavily discounted. But it is not alone on the provincial liability score that the government is lamentably weak, it is on their everyday doings as well.

We have a representation of 33 members, or about one to every 4,500 population, yet the city of Victoria with its 15,000 people, has five representatives, and Mr. Hume, of Nelson, has at least 20,000 in his constituency, and no prospect of a reasonable change under redistribution. No doubt the Vancouver World considers this all right, because it is opposed to an opposition led by Conservative members.

We find a gaol at Nanaimo, with its 4,000 people, and nine officials drawing $7,140 a year, while Sandon with its population of 4,000 in town and surroundings cannot get even a Record office or a lock-up causing the cost of the latter to be spent annually in transporting offenders to the gaol at Kamloops.

We find $1,500 a year paid to the speaker of the House, when other provinces, with infinitely less debt, pay but one-third of that amount, and $700 paid to the first sessional clerk that would be regarded as a fair yearly salary in other provinces. In Victoria the gaol has three gaolers and three convict guards, and what they all do for their money must be a mystery to those acquainted with the nature of these institutions in other provinces. It may be some of them are employed to keep offenders out, while others are engaged in keeping them in. And thus it goes to the end of the chapter.

In their eagerness to make up a favorable slate, the present government classes an expenditure of $386 on gold specimens at the World's Fair Chicago, in their list of assets. We would like to know how the money is going to be realized out of it, and placed in the treasury. On the same basis a merchant in difficulties could include the money he spent in advertising while in business in his assets; but we are confident his creditors would pay but little attention to it. In the assets there is another item of $15,415 due by farmers for seed grain anent the Fraser river flood. If this province collects as well as other provinces do on loans for the same purpose, the item may be worth 25c. on $ but no more.

M'LAGAN FOR SENATOR.

B. C. Governship Offered to Senator T. R. M'Innes.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—The order-in-council appointing Senator T. R. McInnes to be lieutenant governor of British Columbia has not yet been passed, but the offer of the position has certainly been made to him and it is thought he will accept. The vacant senatorship will go to J. C. Melagan, of the Vancouver World. Mr. Templeton of the Victoria Times, is being boomed for the position, but he is not likely to get it.

Contrary to the definite pledge made by Hon. Sydney Fisher in the House of Commons last session, John Dyke, for many years the efficient representative of the Canadain government at Liverpool, is to be turned adrift without any retiring allowance. Mr. Fisher kept Dyke in until All. Jury was initiated into the details of the office work.

The militia department is being deluged with applications for Fenian raid and Red river veteran medals. Applications should not be sent to Ottawa, but to district officers commanding.

ARRIVED AT DUNVEGAN.

Information has been received at the mounted police department to the effect that Inspector Moodie and his police patrol, which is endeavoring to reach Yukon by the overland route from Edmonton, reached Dunvegan on September 30th.

Homestead Entries

An Increase of 35 Per Cent. Compared With Last Year.

The homestead entries in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories have increased this year at least 35 per cent. over those of 1896. This is an estimate made comparing last year with the first nine months of this year and what are expected to be made before the end of December. In 1896 there were 1857 homesteads taken up; up to the end of September of this year the number was over 1600. At Yorkton and other points there are from 300 to 400 Galacians and foreigners of various nationalities who have not yet paid their entry fees, but are expected to do so some time this month. As an indication of how entries are being made the reparts from Dauphin and Regina land offices were received yesterday for last week and show that at Regina there were eighteen entries and at Dauphin thirty-two.

His First Chance.

"Is there a man in all the audience," demanded the female speaker on woman's right, fiercely, "that has ever done anything to lighten the burden resting on his wife's shoulders? Is there a man here," she continued, folding her arms and looking over her audience with superb scorn, "that has ever got up in the morning, leaving his tired, worn-out wife to enjoy her slumbers, gone quietly downstairs, made the fire, cooked his own breakfast, sewn the missing buttons on the children's shoes, darned the family stockings, scoured the pots and kettles, cleaned and filled the lamps, swept the kitchen, and done all this, if necessary, day after day uncomplainingly? If there is such a man in this audience, let him stand up. I should like to see him."

And far back in the hall a mild-looking man in spectacles, in obedience to the summons, timidly arose. He was the husband of the eloquent speaker. It was the first chance he had ever had to assert himself.—Tid-Bits.

A FAIR TRIAL.

"I was troubled with a very bad headache last winter and decided to give Laxa-Liver Pills a fair trial. One box of them cured me and I have not had a headache since. They are a long way ahead of any other remedy I ever tried."

MISS JANE MUNROE,

ARKNSAS IMMIGRANTS.

There will be a Big Movement to Manitoba and the Northwest Next Spring.

A very interesting letter has been received by Commissioner McCreary, of the immigration department, from Mr. Samuel Bricker, of Kansas, who came to this country last summer as a delegate from this district to inspect the land as a desirable location for many families of farmers from his state. Mr. Bricker farmed for twenty years in Pennsylvania before going to Kansas eighteen years ago. He did not farm in the easy-going fashion, but in a scientific way. He did not shrink anything because of hard work. In spite of all this his capital steadily diminished until now he has only $10,000 left that he can safely run on. Extracts from the letter follow:

"My arrival from the Northwest with the samples I brought back with me has raised quite an excitement with but one meeting since I came home. I have sold one of my farms for five thousand dollars, just half what it cost me, and in a few days my town property and will make a sale of my stock and farming effects in about a month and will then put my attention to the Northwest. I have been flooded with letters from pretty well over Kansas, and also visitors, since I have been home, wanting to know how I found things in the Northwest. They are forming clubs all over the country, and are really astonished at my report and also my samples. There is at this time a dozen or more in this locality who want to go between this and the first of January. My advice to them is to have at least six or so of the stout men to go this fall or winter and let their families know about the country. During the winter they can get work, and in the meantime look up a location, and when they are ready for their families I will bring them out with others. Now I would like to have your advice on the matter, and also if I should send parties with letter of recommendations to you. Would you help them in getting some work and also assist and advise them in locating in the proper season? I think in the first lot that will go one of my sons will be along. If you will be so kind as to let me have your advice so I can report to my people I will be much obliged. They are very much excited at Wichata, Kansas. I have had to answer several letters since coming home. They have large clubs there and also at Olatha and at Minaples, Kansas."

FAIRLY STAGGARD.

Mr. Samuel Humphries, retired carriage manufacturer, Strathroy, Ont., says: "For a long time I have had kidney troubles and pain in the back. I could not straighten up and often had to sit down until the pain and weakness went away. I have taken one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and must say they are a great kidney medicine, because they have entirely removed all pain from my back, curing the urinary difficulties and benefitting my general health in a remarkable degree."

GRINDING UP MOUNTAIN.

Wizard Edison's Latest Marvellous Invention for Producing Bullion from Mountains in Which There is Quartz.

The deposits of iron ore in New Jersey are sufficient to supply the needs of the United States for half a century, but until Thos. A. Edison undertook eight years ago to solve the problem of how to get the iron ore out of the mountains of rock it was practically of little use. Anybody can take a piece of magnetit, pulverize it with a hammer, then hold a magnet over it and draw up from it little black particles which are iron ore, leaving the sand undisturbed. But to be of practical service it was necessary to do this on a scale as colossal as the phenomena of nature. Edison has constructed machinery which will reduce ten tons of rock to dust every minute. He has invented apparatuses whereby the particles of iron ore are separated from this dust; and after six months of almost hopeless experimenting he has been able to compress this dust into briquettes which are thoroughly porous and at the same time absolutely waterproof. The deposits of magnetite, though of low grade, are enormous. In 3,000 acres immediately surrounding the Edison mills there are over 200,000 tons of low grade ore; and Edison owns 16,000 acres in which the deposit is proportionately as large. Edison planned the work upon so comprehensive a scale and the conviction forced itself upon him that he must invent a new method of extracting the ore from the mountain side; construct crushing machinery larger than had ever been used before; introduce a magnetic separation system of his own; and altogether to re-create the entire enterprise on a plan even more gigantic than his first conception. Engineers, tried engineers, used to large operations, smiled incredulously. Some of them spoke of the enterprise as Edison's hobby, while others called it his folly. Some showed him on paper that no machine could be constructed powerful enough to crush successfully five, six or seven ton rocks; or if such a machine could be constructed that it would never withstand the terrific jar that would result. This particular difficulty has been surmounted so completely that 100-horse-power is required to reduce rocks weighing six to seven tons to dust in less than three seconds from the time they are thrown into the crushing machine. Edison is now doing on a gigantic scale just what he did at first with a hammer and a shoe-magnet. He is crushing rocks and then dropping the resulting powder past powerful electro-magnets. The sand is not effected by the magnetism and goes straight on while the iron ore is attracted to one side and falls in a heap of its own. It may surprise the superficial observer of the great crushing plant to learn that the Corliss engine which runs at a high rate of speed takes no part whatever in the crushing process. There is something of a trick in it, but it is an effective answer to the engineers who declared that no machine could be made strong enough to stand the strain of crushing the great boulders. It is the momentum of the 70 tons of metal contained in the moving parts of the rolls at a very high rate of speed. If a rock drops in between the rolls so as to in any way impede their progress, a clutch by which the rolls are connected to the engine allows the latter to let go its hold. After that the momentum of the rolls does the work of crushing, the engine, of course, immediately catching hold again the moment the impeding rock has been crushed and passed through to the next set of rollers. One might think for the moment that these rolls would be suddenly stopped by the obstructing rock the moment the power of the engine was withdrawn. But it is only necessary to imagine how that same rock would suffer if allowed to bear the brunt of a head-on collision of two express trains. Only the fastest train travels with the velocity attained by these rolls; and, besides, it is 70 tons of iron and steel against five or six tons of ore-bearing rock. Again, the rock is dropped over ten feet into the pit before it strikes the rolls, and the impact on the rapidly moving roll is often great enough to break the boulder in two. In short, it is the kinetic energy of the rolls that does the real work of crushing.

A CURE FOR CHILBLAINS.

Dear Sirs,—I used Hagyard's Yellow Oil for chilblains this winter and found it most effectual. It relieves the irritation almost instantly, and a few applications result in a complete cure.

New Type of Warship.

Great Britain's new first-class battleship Canopus, recently launched at Portsmouth dockyards, is the first of a type which may be best described as an improved Renown. In armament they are equal to the Majestic, in speed they are intended to be superior, and although in armour they average two inches to three inches less the inferiority is more apparent than real. The armor belt of the Majestic, nine inches of Harveyized steel, was once attacked as inferior, though it is now held up as model of what the Canopus should have been. As a matter of fact, such is the modern improvement in armor plates that the nine-inch plates of the Majestic are equal in resisting power to the seventeen inches of the old iron armor, such as British ships launched in the '70's carry. That of the Canopus, hardened by an improved process, is nearly equal to the Majestic's nine inches, while the additional projection in the matter of armored deck is more ample and complete, there being practically two such decks. The barbette guns—four 12-inch armor, a thickness which should keep out the projectile of any gun afloat, except at close range, when no armor that can be carried is likely to be carried as likely to withstand a direct impact from an armor-piercing projectile. The twelve 6-inch quick-firers are disposed in separate armored casements, in precisely the same fashion as those of the Majestic, and the dozen 12-pounder quick firers are also arranged on the general plan of the prototype. A distinctive feature of the Canopus is a 2 inch nickle steel belt, which projects all her water-line forward of the 6-inch armor. She is also remarkable for the small amount of wood used in her construction, a linoleum similar to that employed in destroyers being used instead, the risk of the warship being set on fire in action being thus considerably reduced. The four torpedo tubes are all submerged; a fifth, above water, having been discarded as useless for practical work. Unlike all British battleships of recent years, the Canopus will carry her funnels fore and aft instead of side by side. This and the very light fighting masts, will make her much like the Japanese Fujiji in appearance. She will be the first battleship fitted with Belleville boilers, and will have 20 feet of these. The heating surface is 32,000 square feet. The engines with 13,500 horsepower, natural draught, are expected to develop a speed of 18.25 knots. This is nearly a knot in excess of the Majestic's trial results, and may be expected to produce over 17 knots continuous steaming at sea—a higher rate than the average. This is on a displacement of 13,000 tons against the 15,000 of the Majestic.

Modern Economy.

A singular instance of the way in which large corporations are now able to economize by keeping within themselves the profits which formerly went to outside industries is seen in the manner of an extensive English railroad. There is hardly a thing needed on the line, from a locomotive to a printed label, that is made for it by people not belonging to the company. It makes its own artificial legs. When an employee is so unfortunate as to lose a limb, a wooden leg or arm, as the case may be, one is sent from the main carpenter's shop. The leg-making department employs a couple of expert instrument makers, who are kept at work constantly to supply the demand. One man is engaged solely in etching fancy designs upon the plate of ground glass used in the first-class compartments and saloon. A photographer-in-ordinary is always ready for a summons. If a bridge shows signs of decay or an embankment is likely to slip, a despatch is sent to the photographer, who forthwith takes a picture of the "accident," which is forwarded to the engineer in chief, who is thus often saved the necessity of making a personal visit.

The Diamond Jubilee of Telegraphy.

It is curious that this present year should record the diamond jubilee of telegraphy, and, at the same time, bring into prominent notice the possibilities of wireless telegraphy. On June 10, 1837, Cooke and Whetstone's first patent for electric telegraphs was signed by George IV. The Pall Mall Gazette states that on July 4 of that year the first telegraph wire was laid. The circuit was between Euston and Camden Town Railway stations, under the permanent way of the London and Northwestern Railway, (then named the London and Birmingham Railway Co.) The line consisted of five wires, each wire laid in separate grooves cut out of long blocks of wood. There are many of these blocks in existence. A year or two ago one was dug up, which actually formed part of the circuit through was flashed to all parts of the empire the message from Buckingham palace on Jubilee day; so that a portion of the first telegraph wire is dug up and serves as an aid to the royal message in the very year in which it is proposed to telegraph without wires. —Paris Edition of The New York Herald.

THERE IS HOPE.

There is hope for those who suffer from billiousness and liver complaint. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver and restores health and vigor. Here is the proof;

Dear Sirs,—I was troubled with billiousness and sick headache, and could get no relief until I tried B. B. B. I have taken four bottles and am now completely cured. I recommend it as the best cure for all liver troubles. Mrs. George Haddow, Walkerton, Ont

When Lady Marie Wortley Montague visited the household of the Sultan, she wrote home to England that the ladies of the harem were smothered with laughter to discover that her ladyship wore an inner vest of steel and whalebone, tight, impenetrable and stifling, in other words, a corset. The ladies of the harem would no doubt have been equally astonished, though perhaps not disposed to laughter, had they known that the women of western nations, through false ideas of delicacy, suffer in silence untold agony, and sometimes death, through neglect of their health in a womanly way. Women who suffer in this way shrink from the embarrassing examinations and local treatment insisted upon by the majority of physicians. If they only knew it, there is no necessity for these ordeals. An eminent and skillful physician long since discovered a remedy that women may use in the privacy of their own homes. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the feminine organism, giving it strength, vigor and elasticity. It stops all debilitating drains. It is the greatest of all nerve tonics and invigorators for women. Thousands of women who were weak, sickly, petulant and despondent invalids are to-day happy and healthy as the result of the use of this wonderful medicine. Good druggists do not advise substitutes for this incomparable remedy

"I have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' in my family," writes Mrs. G. A. Conner, of Alleghany Springs, Montgomery Co., Va., "and have found them to be the best medicines that I ever used."

MOUNTAIN ECHOES.

Slocan City now has a school.

All the latest novels at Cliffe's book store.

All the latest magazines at Cliffe's bookstore.

A trail is being built to the Kilo at Lemon Creek.

Rossland and Nelson are now connected by telephone.

An Italian named Romano has victimized several at Slocan City with bogus bills.

Hans Hohensee had a leg broken at the Kilo mine near Slocan City, the other day.

Presbyterian services in Virginia hall at 11 a.m., and at 7.30 p.m., Rev. A. D. Menzies, in the pulpit.

Lead is dropping in the market. It was quoted yesterday at $3.50, but silver was a little better at 57¼.

It is said that the Ibex mine is to be sold by the Sheriff in a short time to satisfy some $9,000 of judgements.

It is feared that Thomas Bradley, of Slocan City, is lost in the mountains and that the worst has befallen him.

John Johnson proprietor of the Silver King hotel, Nelson, is dead. He was one of the pioneers of the country.

The Rev. Father Patrois (R. C.), of Nelson, held service in Virginia hall, Wednesday morning last, at 9 o'clock.

Lawyer Grimmett being unable to write made his mark on Tuesday morning. A slip on the sidewalk, however, was the occasion of the figure.

Rossland has a debt of $100,000, which is not a bad showing for a place four years old. Keeping on at this pace for 50 years, the place will be pretty well blistered.

The hydrants for the new waterworks system have arrived and will soon be placed in position, giving the town all the electric light and fire protection it could hope for.

Jack Frost may send a scarcity of ice to our new curling rink this winter; but the god of water will send a deluge of Adam's ale as soon as the freshets set in in the spring.

It is said the Bank of B. N. A., who are creditors to the extent of some $35,000, and other creditors are moving to appoint a liquidator for the Noble Five mine. It is a well-equipped institution and ought to have done better.

It would be a wise precaution if those who intend to climb the steps to the Methodist church all winter would take out accident policies. It might be tough on the companies, but it will be joy to some of the individuals.

Squire Lovatt is vowing vengeance tempered with mercy, on those steps at the corner of the skating rink. A tumble there on Monday gave him a very sore arm. It will be a surprise if the accidents of the winter end with this arm.

The Slocan City papers are at it hammer and tongs educating their readers with such choice expressions as follow: "Hog Wash, Egotist Butler, dead failure, Jerkwater, rotten work, erratic ranting rag, accomplished liar." Boys, stop wrangling and go fishing.

Mr. Harris has now his heating apparatus for his several blocks in full swing, and all giving the very best of satisfaction. It is generally conceded that "long arm heating" does not do the most effectual work, but in this case the operation is simply perfect. The boiler in the rink sends its steam effectually throughout all the buildings with which it is connected.

The entertainment given by the Frazer Dramatic company on Saturday evening drew one of the largest houses ever held in town. Rose Garland is not a difficult play, but received a treatment in the hands of this company that gave it special interest. Mr. Frazer himself bore out his excellent reputation as an artist, and his support was well up to the mark. The house earned about $225, and netted a handsome figure for the fire brigade.

Messrs. Bartlett Bros. who have been in the packing business here and very successfully for a length of time, are closing up here to engage in the same line on the Klondyke route in the spring. They say there is but one practical route to the Klondyke and that is via Fort Wrangle, Telegraph Creek and Teslin, and they are going to locate on it with 200 head of mules. The public will only hope they may meet with a full measure of success in their new venture; but, of course, like everything else it has to be tried.

On Tuesday night a number of the boys connected with the Methodist church made "a bee" and hauled down from the hills, by clothesline cable, a number of logs and cut them into firewood for the pleasure of the parson. All told they must have cut over a cord, but one would have thought from the war whoops that filled the air in that neighborhood from 8 to 11 that the pile should have been considerably larger. As it is, however, there is no one disposed to demur. "The boys" on assembling at the parsonage, were treated cake and coffee.

Slocan City is going to have a new record office and jail and this is the kind of justice the Turner government is disposed to dole out to the Slocan. We are not disposed to find fault with the government for giving these buildings to that town, especially the jail, for from the war waging between the two local papers, we take it such an institution is required there, but our ground for fault finding is at the way in which this town is slighted. There is more mining and there are more mining entries of a bonafide character in and around Sandon then there are in the whole of the rest of the country combined, and still no sign of a record office; and if jails are established as a result of residence of industrial population no one will question the claims to preferment of Sandon. We would just as soon support the Turner government as any other administration; but when they are so opposed to yielding a modicum of justice to our town and surroundings a sense of fair play compels us to look for men in authority who will measure the requirements of the country impartially.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Bemis, who has been taking a course in a Chicago college, arrived in town Sunday to reside with her mother, Mrs. Lyons.

F. Darling, of the Canadian General Electric Co., with headquarters at Nelson, was in town this week looking up business.

Mr. Geo. Wharton, of Spokane, who is interested in the Reco, was here for a few days and returned home yesterday well pleased with the work at this celebrated mine.

Mr E. J. Field, of the Wonderful mine, has recently returned from Spokane; but so far is not prepared to say much as to the future operations on this—in many respects—wonderful property.
