"PEG LEG" CAPTURED.

A Desperado wanted for Two Cold-Blodded Murders.

Seattle, Oct. 9.—Thomas Allen, a colored man known as "Peg Leg" Allen, who is alleged to be none other than Madie Brown, a tramp, who is accused of murdering the city marshall of Georgetown, Texas, June 4th, 1898, wounding a deputy sheriff, who attempted to prevent his escape, and later killing police officer Toohey at London, Ont., was brought to Seattle yesterday and kept under cover until an opportunity afforded itself for transporting him to British Columbia. He left Seattle last night on a steamer, the name of which, officers in the secret, refuse to divulge, and is now safely across the line. So cleverely were all the plans carried out that hardly a person, not in the secret, knew what was going on.

Brown was in charge of United States Deputy Marshal Deeley and Detective Thomas Nickles, of Ontario. Mr. Nickles is positive that he has the right man, and, if there is no mistake on this point, Deeley will receive $500 reward.

Brown is said to be a desparate, cold-blooded thief, thug and murderer. On June 4th, 1898, Brown killed the city marshall of Georgetown, Texas, broke jail and, it is claimed, made a bee-line for Canada, arriving in London, Ont., about June 22nd. On the night of June 24th, he was observed attempting to walk along a railroad crossing here, and was ordered off by the watchman. Brown beat the old man into insensibility and attempted to escape. He was followed by Police Constable Toohey; but when the latter attempted his arrest, Brown shot him twice—once just over and the next through the heart. After the shooting he hid in the suburbs of London, and was tracked by an armed posse. Two of these overtook him on one occasion, but he shot at him viciously, wounding one, and he was allowed to escape. Since then this country has been flooded with circulars, giving his description, and the result was his capture at North Yakima two weeks ago, by Marshal Deeley, who held him ever since on a charge of selling whiskey to Indians.

Detective Nickles arrived at North Yakima from London October 7th, and immediately recognized Brown. Preparations were made to take him to Canada. The arrest was kept very quiet in order that Texas authorities might not hear of it and refuse to permit him to be taken to Canada.

Brown is a colored tramp with a wooden leg, remarkably quick in movement and of splendid physique. He was kept in a steel cage; but was passed a knife on Tuesday, and before the officers could make him give it up he had to be knocked down with a club. He fought in the face of two heavy revolvers in the hands of the sheriff, but finally yielded.

On the way to Seattle the officers were constantly on the alert, their hands on their pistols, because they expected Brown would take desperate chances to get away. He was heavily ironed when he left Seattle.

Nothing has been said to Brown about the charges against him, but he knows all about it. He told a Post-Intelligencer reporter that he read, while in jail, an account of his arrest and the charge that he had killed a policeman in Canada. "I don't know anything about it," he said. "I have been living in California."

TRANSPORTATION NOTES.

Crow's Nest Railway to Be Immediately Operated.

Sir William Van Horne announces that the Crow's Nest Pass railway is now open to do a transportation business. W. F. Anderson, travelling passenger agent, who is in the city, announces that on the first through train there will be several carloads of coal from the Crow's Nest mines. One of these is to be sent to Rossland, another to Nelson, one to Sandon, and a fourth to Kaslo. This is so that the residents of these cities may have an opportunity to test the merits of this coal. The road will be temporarily operated by the contractors.

A steamer runs daily from Nelson to Kuskonook. The vessel leaves Nelson at 7:30 a. m. and, returning, arrives at Nelson at 6:30 p. m., and connects by train and boat with Rossland, Revelstoke and other main line points. It is thought that the C. & W. extension to the Boundary country will be completed and in running order by the first of June next year.

The new steel steamer that is being constructed at Nelson for the C. P. R. will be completed and launched in a few days. This steamer will be one of the finest on the lakes. It is thought that she will be called the Moyie. It is said that Commode Troup favors this name.

Following are the passenger rates put into effect lately by the C. P. R.: Rossland to Toronto, first-class, $71.40; second class, $62.20. Rossland to Montreal, first class, 75; second class, $65.50. Rossland to New York, first class, $75; second class, $65.50. Rossland to St. Paul, Winnipeg, Port Arthur and Brandon, first class, $47.50; second class, $40. Rossland to Vancouver, $23.30. Rossland to Victoria, $25.90. Rossland to Nanaimo, $25.30. Rossland to Seattle, $23.05. Rossland to Portland, $24.65. Rossland to Tacoma, $53.45. Rossland to New Westminster, $23.30.

All the new rates to eastern points are based upon the rate to St. Paul plus the local rates to points beyond St. Paul. While the boats ply on the great lakes the C. P. R. can give a little better than the above rates to those who travel on its lake steamers.

The service by the steamer Kokanee to Argenta, at the head of Kootenay lake, was discontinued after Oct. 14.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

A Mineral Claim Does not Carry Water and Surface Rights.

Justice Walkem has given his decision in the Dolan-Brown case, and it is of more than usual interest as it touches upon the rights carried by a crown grant to a mineral claim. It was in regard to the water rights on the Black Bear grounds, just west of the town. The water was valuable chiefly as a source of ice in winter. Brown, the defendant, had been putting up the ice at the pond on the property, and had secured a record on ten inches of the stream flowing through the claim. Dolan got a lease on the ground from the Le Roi company and from the Nelson & Fort Sheppard railway, and he brought an action of trespass and ejectment against Brown when the latter made preparations to cut ice there this winter. Brown was represented by McLeod & Whiteside, while Macdonald, Cante & Cronyn appeared for the plaintiff, or rather for the plaintiffs, for Martin Dolan and E. J. Bowers were jointly named as the persons bringing the suit.

Judge Walkem, in giving his decision, held that a crown grant to a mineral claim obtained after the statute of 1893 does not carry with it the absolute rights to the surface of the claim. The justice also decided that a crown grant to land or to a mineral claim does not convey with it absolute right to water running through the land, and that the principle of riparian ownership has been taken away by the water privileges act of 1892.

World's Gold Output.

The gold output of the world, to which our own Province as yet contributes but a moderate though growing stock, is estimated by the Director of the United States Mint Bureau as reaching $240,000,000 for 1897, showing an increase of over $36,000,000 on the yield of 1896. Dr. Preton, the authority for the above figures, reckons of course an advance calculation based on data obtainable for the first seven months of the year. If this estimate should prove correct, the result will be another record gold yield for the world, showing a further advance of production, almost as great as that which marked last year's output. The United States last year came first amongst the gold producers of the world, with a yield of $58,000,000 in value, but it is quite likely that the pride of place may in this respect be keenly contested this year by the Transvaal, which is so steadily enlarging its gold output, although, as it would seem with far from relatively correspondent advantage to the welfare of that unfortunate country.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. W. Warner went to Spokane on Wednesday.

F. Wood, of the Last Chance, was out to Slocan lake last week.

A number of the friends of Mrs. Verforth, Cody road, gave her "a surprise" on Monday evening, previous to her departure for Spokane.

F. A. Davis, of the Wonderful and Miller Creek groups, attended a meeting of the stockholders of the Wonderful, in Spokane last week.

Mr. Hodgson, of the Bank of B.C., returned Tuesday from his long visit to Victoria, and is now fully installed in his old position as acting manager of that institution.

That Creek Improvement By-law.

Since writing the article on this subject in another column, we learn the $15,000 asked for is to cover the cost of the flume to the present, and its extension later on. The cost so far is about $11,000 and the extension may reach $4,000. It is unfortunate things are as they are, but we would like to see all public business done as nearly according to law as possible, to avoid, if possible, tangles later. We are not in a position to say as some do say the fluming so far has cost more than it should have cost; but we do know the matter is now in a grave pass. The statutes distinctly say no money by-laws shall be retroactive in effect, that is to cover past expenditures; but that before the expenditures are made the money must be voted. If there is a legal way of meeting this face to face difficulty we should be glad to know it. No one will deny there was a necessity for work on the creek before last spring's freshets, for the safty of the place; and before June last there was no revised assessment roll, to whose qualified voters a money by-law could have been submitted.

This is the legal anomaly, we see no may of bridging now. It is easily clear it is quite legal for the qualified voters—all who are real property owners, British subjects and 21 years of age—to vote on a by-law to raise money for the extension of the flume; but the trouble is to legalize a vote to cover past expenditures, in the face of the statute.

We suggested, when the matter was first talked of, the mayor should have consulted the property owners as to the project, at a mass meeting or otherwise; but this for some reason or other was not done. It would have shown business tact to have done it. We also intimated at the time a moderate expenditure might be made in clearing the creek of obstruction, and levied it in the rate already struck. The present by law could have been submitted in July last, or immediately after the assessment was revised, and if carried, fluming strictly according to law could have been underway the past two months. As the matter stands, we have nothing to offer, and we do not want to be accused of standing in the way of the best being done for all concerned. As we said at the outset there is a legal anomaly in the matter now, and if there is a legal way of overcoming, it so much the better, the vote of the people on the 20th, no matter how it goes cannot influence the situation

We do not want to say one word to influence matters of this kind, where there are financial interests and those of the city at stake. We merely desire to place the absolute facts before the people, and allow them to exercise their judgement in the interest of all concerned.

A London Flotation.

The flotation in London last month of the Kootenay Railway and Navigation Co., Limited, with an authorized capital of £500,000, and a five per cent. debenture issue of £480,000 will represent the heaviest investment of British capital as yet made in a railroad and steamship navigation company enterprise in this Province. The directors include, Mr. Bubgock, the well-known banker and director of the Bank of British North America: Mr. Henry William Foster, M. P., another well-known English capitalist, and as the bankers of the undertaking are Messrs. Glynn, Mills, Curry & Co., and the solicitors, Messrs. Kenshaw, Kekewich & Co., and Freshfield and Williams are amongst the most noted and best reputed in the British metropolis, there should be little doubt of the success of the promotors of the new company in securing their capital.

The company is to acquire the Kaslo & Slocan Railway and also the undertaking of the International Navigation and Trading Co., Limited, which runs connecting steamers on Kootenay lake. It will also take over and construct the Nelson & Beddlington Railroad to the American side to Bonner's Ferry, where the line will join the Great Northern system. The Kaslo & Slocan Railroad runs over a course of thirty miles and is stated to be now making profits of $93,000—or about £19,000 a year—and it is estimated that the two new connecting lines of 53½ miles in length that are to be constructed should realize £25,000 a year of additional profit, as they will open up a further stretch of fine mineral country, and connect not only as above stated, with the Great Northern at Bonner's Ferry, but also on the Northern Pacific at Sand Point. The steamers and a land ownership of 200,000 acres in the Slocan country should also yield additional profits.

Having regard to these facts, it would seem that the issue of £480,000 five per cent. debentures, as a first charge on the joint undertaking and all its profits, should be a safe enough investment, as profit-earning power of the concern should certainly yield far more than the £24,000 of interest required on the debentures. As regards the ordinary stock of the company, the investment is open of course to more risk, as in respect of the system generally, there will be determined competition, no doubt, from the C. P. R., which by its Nakusp and Slocan branch already very keenly opposes the Kaslo & Slocan undertaking. The payment of an average five or six per cent. dividend on the £500,000 of ordinary stock of the Kootenay Railway and Navigation Co., is therefore less assured than the payment of the interest on the debenture issue, though it represents a fair speculative investment, which, whilst it cannot be reckoned as an absolutely safe five or six per cent. payer, as ordinary stock, may yield even more thereon, if the new country that is to be opened by the railroad should prove as good as large numbers of South Kootenay men anticipate. The line will be worked by a strong management in the persons of the Great Northern Railroad Company's directorate and managing staff of this and the fact that the promotion is in good and capable hands, and the undertaking one that will take over successful profit earning ventures distinguish the endeavor very markedly from many of the B. C. joint-stock ventures recently floated in London.

Another Hardware.

We believe we are only voicing the the opinion of the general public of Sandon, when we say there is no better opening in the country for another hardware store than there is in Sandon to-day—we mean one that would carry all the heavier goods required by the mines. The only one here is a branch of H. Byers' business, of Kaslo, and though they carry a fair stock and treat the mines fairly, so far as we can learn, the field is surely large enough for the second institution. Hunter Bros. carry some lines, but they do not make a business of hardware. There are several times more working mines tributary to Sandon than there are to any other place in the country, which alone makes the field we have mentioned. There are this year, some 30 mines working around Sandon, and nearly as many more at McGuigan, Three Forks and Whitewater, all of which are as likely to buy here as elsewhere, if their requirements are properly met. We have spoken of this matter to several mine owners around and business men of the place, and all fully corroborate what we say—a second hardware here could work into a paying business from the start.

The Silvery Slocan.

F. W. Rolt, of Rolt & Grogan, has just returned from the Slocan. He says the Noble Five and Payne mountains and the country around Sandon are scenes of great mining activity. Extensive development is being done there on all sides, and most of the working mines are showing up in a most satisfactory manner. The Payne continues its splendid record. A large force of men is at work on the Noble Five. The Slocan Star is working on an extensive scale. The tramway of the Last Chance is nearing completion, and the R. E. Lee is mining a long tunnel for deep level driving. There is quite a heavy fall of snow on the higher mountains of the Slocan. Mr. Rolt predicts a very prosperous year for the great silver-lead district of the Kootenays.—Rossland Miner.

MINING BRIEFS.

With Scissors and Pen.

The Deer park steam mining machinery is in full operation and giving satisfaction.

The Comstock mine at present employs 54 men. Of these 11 are working on the new concentrator.

The big range formerly used at the Mollie mine has been installed at the Condor group, above Silverton.

On the Napoleon, near Silverton, a fine body of ore was struck last Wednesday. L. Leibert is the lucky owner.

On Sunday last the Ruth mine people knocked down $10,000 worth of ore with one blast. This is the biggest business in that way we ever heard of.

The tunnel on the Lakeview mine is now in 140 feet and an improvement is noticeable in the face, that leads the owners to believe they are approaching the ore chute out in the upper tunnel.

Buildings are being erected at the Condor group and work will be pushed along all winter. This property is looking well and we may have another shipper added to our list before spring.—Silverton.

G. W. Wright, W. Golden and others have taken a contract to drive 150 feet of a tunnel in the Selkirk just above the Ruth. In work already done they are within a short distance of the lead and it is confidently believed the lead will be encountered before the extent of the contract is run.

The Mines Development, Trust & Guarantee Co. (limited) of Rossland, are much pleased with the Swansea property they are handling, having intersected the vein in a second tunnel, thus showing up the lode for a distance of 450 feet. The assays run from 5 to 38 per cent. in carbonates and antimonial copper. It is the purpose to sink on the central shaft to the 100-foot level and ship the ore in the spring. This property is now surveyed, being 1500 x 1500.

POLITICS.

It is really amusing to read some of the squibs in crimination and recrimination in the political press of Canada, showing that many of the writers would be doing better service to Canada if they were driving oxen or building rail fences in the back woods of the country. To be honest in the matter, seven-eights of the voters of every country belong to their respective parties, not from choice after mature consideration, but merely because their forefathers belonged to those parties. It is then simply a question of following and not the result of reflection, that has made the parties as they stand in Canada to-day. That there have been unworthy men in high places in one political party of Canada in the past, and that they are there at present is equally true; but the same may be truthfully said of the other. There is, however, one consolation in the matter, and that is the great bulk of the public men of Canada, who in their lives got into eminence, spent most of their time in the service of the country uninfluenced by selfish motives. Our political parties, as at present constituted, did not take definite shape until after the union of the Canadas, and grew out the struggle against the one man power of royalty and for responsible government. A reference to the public men who recently passed, and are now passing, from the sphere of action will fully verify what we say. It is a fact that Sir John A. Macdonald left no property behind him but his residence, and that was a gift to him by his friends a few years before his death. George Brown left an interest in a herd of bred cattle and a half interest in the Globe newspaper, and both involved. Sir John Thompson left less than $10,000; D'Alton McCarthy, including life insurance, about $60,000; the Hon. W. Macdougall is a poor man; the Hon. Joseph Howe, one of the brightest and ablest men that ever appeared in public life, died comparatively poor; the Hon. Oliver Mowat's sons are known to have gone, in speculation in the Northwest, through every cent of their father's accumulations. We believe that Sir Charles Tupper is likely to pull through it with the largest purse of them all. The winding up shows one thing at least, that is but few of Canada's public men lived for the plunder of the public purse, as most of them, by attention to their own private affairs, could have accumulated many times more means than they left as the result of public life. If, on the other hand, it is shown that in their lives, in fits of temper or otherwise, some leaders on one side at one time declared "they would look to Washington" to help them out, the same statements can be credited to some of the leaders on the other, and so on. In short, all the virtues and weaknesses that can be traced to leaders on one side can be traced to some on the other, simply because all are human.

All things considered, we believe it must be concluded that Canada's public men are as clean as those of any other country, and no one party has a monopoly of that cleanness. In some instances where they differ it is not, we are sorry to say, after due consideration, the one side but too often opposes because it is in opposition. We would like to see less of that antagonistic, contending spirit in our political men and our political parties, and opposition offered only when justifiable and clearly in the public, and not alone in the parties, interest. With a modification of that rancour and a better understanding of one another's integrity, our sessions would be shorter, our expenses much less, and our legislation, we are bound to say, more fully matured.

THOSE VOTES.

A money by-law to raise $15,000 by way of debentures to flume Carpenter creek, was advertised by the city council in the last issue of The REVIEW. Whether the money is required for the work already done, or the extension of that work or both, the by-law does not say; and, therefore, before voting on it intelligently the ratepayers should have further information. If the money is required for work done, it will have to be raised this way or by annual tax direct. It will be found easier to spread the amount over several years. If it is to extend the flume, it is a matter on which every ratepayer should be able to form as good an opinion as we can.

We understand that on the 20th inst. a vote is to be taken on the advisability of tolerating the comique. The same considerations that arise on the question of prohibition arise here. Many of the ablest men of every country contend that you can no more make men temperate than you can make them honest, by act of parliament; and if this be the case, the argument extends to all lines of morality. There is no doubt the only temperance man in the world is the man who is convinced that intemperance is an evil and builds up a nature to withstand it. For the same reason the only moral man is he who acknowledges the evils of immorality and cultivates sufficient inherent strength to resist it. Legislation may to some extent remove the power to do wrong from the reach of men; but it does not make them good men by so doing. A man may be, as the world calls it, honest because he has no chance to steal; but the absence of opportunity does not make him an honest man, and so on of all the other evils of the world. Moral strength to resist wrong doing is the only element that can make a reformed community, and it can never be got by legislation of any character. Of course for the safety of the minors and the external control of others, restraining enactments are useful, and through removing temptation; and, the means of temptation, they often accomplish much in the way of character building, but they never create inherent natures.

Under circumstances like the one before us, all must remember that we are not living in an old, staid eastern village—we are living in a mining camp, and to consider the welfare of the camp as well as that of the individual, calls for a double consideration. We trust the people will vote for the best.

OUR MINING LAWS.

It appears reasonable that instead of acting on their own judgement of what is right and what is wrong in mining regulations, the government, before making changes, should consult those who know more about the matter than they do themselves, and are more interested. We published last week a decision of Chief Justice McColl in the Bismark case, showing that the government had no power to extend, by order-in-council, the time in which assessment work should be done, beyond a year, as they did a year or so ago. The force of the ruling is that even governments are powerless to over ride by order-in-council, or otherwise, the force of a statute, unless the statute over ridden empowers them to do so.

It is conceded all around that the less tinkering done with mining laws the better, for when the public learn what they are once, they are liable to regard them as immutable. However, if there is anything wrong in regulations, or if to, facilitate mining changes should be made, they should only be made after the fullest consideration of the matter. For this and similar reasons, it is quite apparent that no one class of men can strike the happy medium for all. A short time ago W. A. Carlyle, government inspector, and who in his line should understand the situation as well as anyone, proposed some amendments only to learn they were disapproved of by the country. As we said above changes should only be made by the joint suggestion of all interests.

To best meet the situation, a conference of capitalists, mine and prospect owners and practical miners should be held to take the whole matter into review; and if they come anything like unanimously to the conclusion, for the benefit of the country, changes in the laws should be made, they should be made at once, and then end the matter for many a day to come. It is not within the range of probability that any one of these bodies—the capitalists, property owners or miners—in taking the matter into review would consider it from all standpoints, hence the necessity for a convention of all, that no feature of the matter should be overlooked.

POPULARITY.

A short time ago a daughter of the Hon. C. H. McIntosh was married at Vancouver, and before and after the marriage nearly every paper in the country had columns on the event. A son of the same gentleman is to be married shortly, and it looks as if the newspaper boom was to be repeated. It is hard to understand why this should be so. It may be that both of these young people are educated, talented and in every respect worthy of reasonable notices under such circumstances; but the singularity of the matter is the booming some papers give them, whose writers have not even the slightest acquaintance with the parties. Position explains all this, and gives rise to a usage that is not always most defensible. Position is often the result of accident, not always the result of merit. In days gone by Mr. McIntosh was a valuable man to Sir John A. Macdonald for certain uses, and his appointment to the lieutanant-governorship of the territories followed. His appointment to the management of the B. A. Co.'s affairs followed from his position as lieut.-governor; and a good round salary follows the latter affording means for style that was not always compatible. In this case, position and its advantages are the outgrowth of political conditions and preferences. There are in Canada hundreds of young people just as clever, just as good and just as worthy as the young McIntoshes, of whose marriages we never hear a word, simply because the circumstances that fell in the way of Mr. McIntosh, senior, did not fall in the way of their parents to give them position.

This is neither right nor fair. Prominence to the individual ought to result from worth and services to the country in some capacity; and it will be a good day for Canada and the Canadian people, when they come to recognize the fact and act accordingly. The condition of birth, whether it be in position, affluence or wealth, is not the merit or the fault of the individual, and should not be so regarded by the public. The value of the citizen to his surroundings is mainly owing to the efforts of the individual, and should be alone the measure of his popularity.

THE C. P. R.

From the way things are moving in this country, it is quite evident that the C. P. R. intends to serve southern British Columbia well. A short time ago there was a great cry for "Corbin's Railway" into the Boundary country, but with the extension of the C. P. R. branch, all this appears to be hushed.

There is a business way of looking at this matter. Already the C. P. R. have a very large amount of money sunk in this country; and to make interest on their investments they have, like the miners, to go into "development" work, and render contentment general. They know well that the feeling prevails that if their rates are extortionate, capital will not be expended, and without mining development their investments must be profitless. The completion of the Crow's Nest branch to the lake means that henceforth all southern freight will come in that way, and greater development than ever must result.

Time is showing there are many mines in different parts of the Kootenay that can only be operated by means of low freight and treatment, and the company must have their business. The only cure for this is in the reduction of freight to meet the conditions.

We should not be surprised if in the near future the company erected a system of smelters, trams, etc. to better facilitate more active mining operations the country over. Such investments would, to a reasonable extent, meet the present necessity for free access of our silver-lead ores to the United States. While it would not give us access to those markets for our bullion, it would place us in a much better position to accept the markets of other countries, and to which, in any event, we will have to go later on when American production fully supplies home demands.

It is suggested in some quarters that no prospects should be subject to re-location; but that when it is found the holder of a claim neglects to do his assessment work the property should revert to the crown, and be subsequently sold to the highest bidder. The option of paying $100 into the treasury in lieu of work is bad enough, but it is not a patch on this proposition. It simply means shutting the doors against practical miners that are without means and other poor men, and throwing the whole country into the hands of capitalists. Already our country has a revenue from other sources of about $1,400,000 a year, with a population of less than 125,000 people, and surely it ought to be able to manage on that without taking the last bite out of the mouths of the poor miners of this country. We would like to see the option of paying $100 in lieu of assessessment wiped out, and every man who holds claims forced to do the assessment personally or by hired help, and all countenance to such an amendment suggested, as we have referred to, knocked on the head as soon as proposed.

It is said that Fawcett and Wade, two of the government's trusted Yukon officials, who recently left those parts, narrowly escaped lynching before their departure.

Cinderella's fairy god-mother, with one touch of her magic wand, transformed the maiden's rags and tatters into the richest silks and satins. There are thousands of young women to-day who need a fairy god-mother who will touch them with the wand of health. A girl's best gift is her health.

Every girl may be a healthy girl and become a healthy wife and a capable mother, if she will but take the proper care of herself in a womanly way. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for ailing women, young or old. It strengthens and invigorates the organs distinctly feminine. It promotes regularity of their functions. It allays irritation and inflammation. It checks unnatural and exhausting drains. It puts the whole organism concerned in wifehood and motherhood into perfect condition.

Almost all of the ills of womankind are traceable to some form of what is known as "female complaint." Troubles of this kind unfit a woman for wifehood and motherhood. Thousands of grateful women have been rendered healthy and happy by the use of this marvelous medicine. At their own request, the experience and testimony of many of them have been included in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. The "Favorite Prescription" is sold by all good dealers and an honest dealer will not try to induce you to take an inferior substitute for the sake of extra profit.

Mrs. G. A. Conner, of Alleghany Springs, Montgomery Co., Va., writes: "My daughter, aged 15 years, had a goitre coming on her neck and it disfigured her very much. I am happy to say that it has disappeared after the use of one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

In paper covers, 31 one-cent stamps; cloth binding, 50 cents. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Address Doctor R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you are ill you need a doctor in whom you have confidence.

If you need a remedy you want one that has been tested for years; not an obscure, untried thing that is urged upon you, or on which you save a few cents—that is no consideration as against health.

A SMILE IN THE MORNING.

There are smiles through the day, and mid bright evening scenes,
Gleaming best over jewels and gold,
And as wit flashes round they have charms of their own;
But their witcheries my heart cannot hold.
For I know they are false as the hearts which they hide,
And I turn from their witcheries with scorning,
While I think of a smile—of a bright, sunny
smile—
Of a smile that I see in the morning.

There are smiles which we change as the small coin of life,
That with one it were vain to compare.
They are plenty and pleasant as far as they go,
But the smile in the morning is rare.
There's a dear, tender face with a heart speaking glance
That has need of no other adorning
Than the eloquent smile—than the beautiful
smile—
Than the smile that I see in the morning.

Such a soul reaching smile, filled with innocent trust,
Must be caught from the cherubs above.
Not the riches of usury over could buy
Such a smile from the lips that I love!
If at times in some maze I am tempted to stray
Then I seem to hear softly a warning:
"Oh, forget not the faithful—the happy at home!
Do not cloud the bright smile of the morning."

MALVINA FIXED IT.

She Wanted Her Alcohol Full Strength and Got It.

"Spoakin of b'ilin things," remarked Deacon Puffer to the throng in the village store, "reminds me of my wife. Some time ago she sez tu me, sez she, 'Josiah, of th' exertion won't be tu much fur ye, I'd be obleeged of ye would fetch me 'bout a pint of alcohol. An, Josiah,' sez she, 'I want it strong.'

"What she wanted it fur 'pears I've furgottin neow, but when I fetched it tu hum she smelled of it several times, an sez she: 'It du beat the world, Josiah, how these posky critters du 'dulterate things neowadays. Why,' sez she, 'if this hain't more'n half water thon my Christian name hain't Malvina.' Well, gentlemen," said the deacon, uncrossing his legs and then crossing them again, "Malvina bein Mrs. Puffer's Christian name, as ye all be knowin, it warn't fur me tu dispute, an I vowed thet th' best thing fur tu be done was fur me tu take th' stuff back an suggest thet what was wanted was pure stuff, or none 'tall. An then hev 'em send worse stuff than afore,' remarked Malvina. 'No, Josiah,' sez she, 'them critters be past redeemin. Leave it tu me, Josiah.'

"I left it tu Malvina, gentlemen," explained the deacon after helping himself to a bit of cheese and a cracker, "an out I goes tu du my chores. I s'pose I was at 'em fur 'bout five or six minutes when all of a sudden I heerd th' durnest explosion an th' tallest yellin from th' kitchen, where I left Malvina, thet ye ever heerd tell of. I runs in there, an what ye s'pose I find?

"Durn my buttons," chuckled the deacon, before any one could reply, "ef I didn't discover Malvina flat of her back by th' stove, which was busted all tu thunder, with her eyebrows all gone, an no more hair on her head hardly than ye'd find on a baby's. 'Bury me from th' meetin house, Josiah,' sez she as I bent over her, 'an don't 'low Hannah Perkins in th' door, fur I'm done fur.' But she warn't done fur, an when I'd convinced her of thet fact, an thet she hed not been called as yet, she up an told me all 'bout it.

"It 'pears, gentlemen," continued the deacon, "thet Malvina hed decided tu strengthen thet alcohol, an she concluded thet tu du thet she'd batter bile it doown. She put it in a teeler, slapped it on th' stove, an then goes 'bout her work. Th' stove was putty hot, an afore Malvina hed done more'n tu or three things, an hed jes' started tu look to see how thet b'ilin process was a-comin on, th' durn thing blew up. Malvina never sed much 'bout it, moren' tu tell me how it happened, an if she's hed alcohol in th' house sence I hain't heerd of it."—Washington Star.

A SHAM FIGHT.

One Engagement Which Nearly Developed Into a Real Battle.

The colonel of the Seventy-first noticed that the colonel of the Twelfth was withholding his fire in their running fight along the eastern edge of the lake. Suspecting a trap of some kind, the colonel of the Seventy-first threw out a flanking force of two companies on his right. This force had gone only a short distance in the woods before it met a similar force thrown out from the left flank of the Twelfth. The two flanking parties had a brush, and then each retreated to its regiment. Directly after their return the two regiments resumed their contest up and down the side of the lake. Finally it came the Twelfth's turn to retreat. Its colonel had deployed his men behind a stone wall and, being practically secure in that position, he saw no reason why his men, who were filled with the spirit of fight and whose eagerness could scarcely be restrained, should be ordered back. This resulted in the stone wall fight, the most exciting episode of the day to those who participated in the battle. The Twelfth would not or could not be made to yield. They had reserved their ammunition, and they poured volley after volley into the Seventy-first in a way that was not set down in the plans and that quite upset the expectations of the general management. The fight was kept up long after hostilities had ceased elsewhere, and the colonel of the Twelfth had the satisfaction of firing at the Seventy-first until it disappeared on its way to the parade ground for rendezvous for the brigade review.

So thoroughly in earnest were the men of the Twelfth that at one time a score or more of them leaped to the top of one of the stone walls that sheltered them and began to shoot into the regiment that was attacking. The colonel of the Twelfth saw this exposed position, and, it is said, he rushed toward them and shouted with an emphasis peculiar to an army officer:

"Get down out of that. Don't you know enough to stay behind a stone wall to hold it? In real battle you'd all be dead men."

The men showed that they were very much alive by obeying orders quickly.—"An American Army Maneuver," by Franklin Matthews, in Harper's Magazine.

Cricket In Samoa.

A Sydney newspaper man who has been visiting Samoa describes a cricket match he saw in Apia. The match was being played in aid of the church funds. It had been in progress for about three months. There were 90 or 100 on each side. Most of the inhabitants of the village being engaged in it, there was, of course, no chance of gate money, so each player put in a shilling before taking the bat and when bowled out could go in again on payment of another shilling.

Crow's Nest Coal Fields.

Dr. Dawson, the eminent director of the Dominion Geological Survey, speaks most enthusiastically, yet with authority, as to the early future of the Crow's Nest coal fields. They are certain, in his opinion, to become very big producers, both of coal and coke, in anticipation of which no less than 100 cooking-ovens are being built at Fernie. The development of the coal fields must have enormous effects, all beneficial, on the development of mining and smelting in the Kootenays, and we may as a further result expect tha in less than five years this Province will and thereafter remaining easilyt first amongst the coal-producing regions of Canada.

A YOUNG GIRL'S ESCAPE.

Saved from being a Nervous Wreck BY MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS.

For the benefit of Canadian mothers, who have daughters who are weak, pale, run down or nervous, Mrs. Belanger, 128 Rideau Street, Ottawa, Ontario, made the following statement, so that no one need suffer through ignorance of the right remedy to use: "My daughter suffered very much from heart troubles at times. Often she was so bad that she could not speak, but had to sit and gasp for breath. She was so extremely nervous that her limbs would fairly shake and tremble. Frequently she would have to leave school; and finally she grew so weak that we were much alarmed about her health. I gave her many remedies, but they did not seem to do her any good.

Then I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and got a box of them, and they have indeed worked wonders with her. I can recommend them very highly as the best remedy I ever heard of for complaints similar to those from which my daughter suffered."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills never fail to do good. They cure palpitation, faintness, dizziness, smothering sensation, weakness, nervousness, sleeplessness, anaemia, female troubles and general debility. Sold by all druggists at 50c. a box or three boxes for $1.25. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ontario.

LAXA-LIVER PILLS act on the system in an easy and natural manner, removing all poisons and impurities. They cure Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Jaundice and Liver Complaint. Price 25c.

The D. & L. EMULSION

CONSUMPTION and all LUNG DISEASES, SCROFULA or RICKETS, CORAL LOSS OF APPETITE, DEBILITY, the benefits of this remedy are most manifest.

Rosebery Townsite.

The many advantages enjoyed by Rosebery put before the public, CLAIMED WITHOUT OPPOSITION.

Its Advantages as a Distributing Center.

Rosebery is the only town in Kootenay having both railroad and steamboat connection that can ship goods daily to ten different towns, whereby the shipper can see his wares leave his hands and that they will be received by the consignee within two hours.

Its Advantages as a Railroad Center.

Rosebery enjoys the position of king of the funnell as it were, for the railroad business of the whole of the Kootenays. All ore and matter for shipment from Nelson, Trail Creek and the Slocan must, and is now passing out this way to the main line of the C. P. R., as well as all goods coming in from Revelstoke to the Kootenay country.

NOTE. To substantiate this: The C. P. R. are now putting in track weigh scales at Rosebery, the first and only scales that has been put in on any of the C. P. R. branches in Kootenay—which goes to show the importance of this point by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's actions.

Its Advantages as a Steamboat Point.

Rosebery claims, without opposition, of being the only junction on the lake, unlike Slocan City, where you can step off the steamer to a waiting train and continue your journey. You can take either a north or south train at this terminus; consequently Rosebery is the best transient town in the race. Nervertheless we claim Slocan City second in importance, and would say watch the head and foot of Slocan Lake, viz—

ROSEBERY AND SLOCAN CITY.

Its Advantages as a Manufacturing Center.

As a manufacturing center Rosebery claims to have demonstrated the fact that after the careful observation of the Denver (Colorado) Ore Coy's manager, as the natural advantages of all points in Kootenay for the treatment of ores the cheapest, Rosebery was selected, and they now are erecting works, with a capacity of 250 tons per day, which will be in operation within 90 days; and it is their intention to pay out monthly in the vicinity of $100,000. I might also add Rosebery has the largest water power from Wilson river flowing into Slocan Lake.

AS TO CLIMATE.

Rosebery claims the mildest climate on Slocan Lake, from its admirable southern exposure and absolute shelter from the north; snow always leaves the place about the 15th of March.

AS A TOWNSITE.

As a townsite, Rosebery is without a peer. It is possessed of all the flat land available at the mouth of the Wilson river leading to the valley—mining region—consequently there is no danger of any contagion. The title is a Crown Grant and is perfect. All purchasers of lots are safe in this respect. The only safe speculative townsite in the Slocan is Rosebery.

Why should I say the only safe speculative townsite in the Slocan? Because Rosebery business lots to-day are only $150 to $200 each and are bound to increase rapidly this summer. These figures can, and will, double before long. The time to buy is now. Don't wait till they are from $700 to $1,000, as you did in Slocan City last May, go in on the ground floor and make a few dollars in speculation; if you want to invest go to Vancouver or Winnipeg; if you want to speculate and and clean up money go quick to Rosebery before lots are out of sight.

What's Wanted in Rosebery.

We want a restaurant.
We want a good hotel right away.
We want a first-class general store.
We want a butcher shop.

Anyone looking for an opening spy out this place at once.

Maps and price-lists on application; prices run from $75 to $200.

TERMS: One-third cash, balance 3 and 6 months. For actual builders special terms can be arranged for a few lots by applying to

A. M. BEATTIE, General Agent, Rosebery.

MOUNTAIN ECHOES.

Turner & Co. have sold the Northport smelter.

The Bank of Toronto will open a branch in Rossland.

A fine lot of fashionable new ingrain wall papers just arrived at Cliffe's book store.

The Fruit Fair visitors came straggling home every day the present week.

Mr. Trenarey has opened the Balmoral dining room and restaurant in really first-class style.

There was a kindergarten class in the C. P. R. on Tuesday. We believe notation was the principal subject taught by the Judge.

There is no reason the men of Sandon should go improperly clad, as there were five clothing drummers here the present week.

As we went to press last evening, the Firemen's ball was in full swing, and we believe, was largely attended by "the youth and beauty" of the city.

There is one man somewhere around Winnipeg, if his whereabouts were only known, that need not go to the Klondyke. He stole $62,000 from one of the banks.

John Gray, who works on the railroad here, has been advised of a medal awaiting him in Ontario for services rendered during the Fenian raid at Fort Erie in 1866.

Be not deceived! A cough, hoarseness or croup are not to be trifled with. A dose in time of Shiloh's Cure will save you much trouble. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

Mr. Main is having the house vacated by W. J. Williams, on the east hill, fitted up and will settle in it with his family on their arrival from the east, in a few days.

Cure that cough with Shiloh's Cure. The best cough cure. Relieves croup promptly. One million bottles sold last year. 40 doses for 25 cts. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

Dyspepsia cured. Shiloh's Vitalizer immediately relieves sour stomach, coming up of food distress, and is the great kidney and liver remedy. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

Karl's Clover Root Tea is a pleasant laxative. Regulates the bowels, purifies the blood. Clears the complexion. Easy to take and pleasant to take. 25 cts. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

The LeRoi mine is now in another peck of trouble. The minority shareholders, represented by Col. Turner, have given an option at $8.50 per share to another English Co. hostile to the B. A. C.

The new C. P. R. depot is receiving its finishing strokes just now, and will be ready for occupancy in a few days. The thousand million bed bugs in the old building will then be allowed to put in a winter alone.

A miner, named Pendor, was struck on the head, in a tunnel in the LeRoi, by a drill thrown down a raise. He sued the company for damages, and has been awarded $3,000 by the supreme court at Rossland.

Ladies, take the best. If you are troubled with constipation, sallow skin, and a tired feeling, take Karl's Clover Tea. It is pleasant to take. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

Mr. Meeks, of Spokane, a gentleman with 10 years' experience, has leased the steam laundry and will start up on Monday. The establishment has every convenience for first-class work, and in the hands of a good man should pay well.

It is a great pity the Earl of Ava was not induced on his trip to Slocan lake last week, to take a look through the Payne and others of Slocan's largest mines. He would have seen something to convince him there is more of British Columbia than Rossland. Besides it is enterprising men who represent money, whose visits this country most requires.

We have received from an enterprising publisher in the States the prospectus of a book on Klondyke and how to get there. This is hardly necessary as we have not yet expressed our intentions of going there. There would be much better demand for the book, in short the publisher would sell 50,000 of them on sight at Dawson, if they showed how to get out of that country without means.

At the meeting held Thursday night for the purpose of forming an Athletic Association, it was decided to organize as an incorporated stock company with a capital stock of $5,000, the object of the company being to provide a building of suitable dimensions to include a skating rink and two sheets of curling ice, also an annex with a large gymnasium, ante rooms, etc. About $1,100 has already been promised for stock subscriptions. It is certainly to the interest of the town, that every business man and citizen should use his best endeavors to make the organization a success, in view of the fact that similar institutions are being promoted in the other towns of the Kootenay. Sandon is more favorably situated than any other town in the Kootenay for such a purpose, as once the rinks are frozen and put in shape good ice can be absolutely depended upon for the winter.

DREADFULLY NERVOUS.

GENTS:—I was dreadfully nervous and for relief took your Karl's Clover Root Tea. It quieted my nerves and strengthened my whole nervous system. I was troubled with constipation, kidney and bowel trouble. Your Tea soon cleansed my system so thoroughly that I rapidly regained health and strength. Mrs. S. A. Sweet, Hartford, Conn. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

Travellers

Should always carry with them a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

The change of food and water to which those who travel are subject, often produces an attack of Diarrhœa, which is as unpleasant and discomforting as it may be dangerous. A bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in your grip is a guarantee of safety. On the first indication of Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa or Dysentery, a few doses will promptly check further advance of these diseases.

It is an old, reliable remedy, with over forty years' of cures to its credit, whose merit is recognized everywhere and one that the doctors recommend in preference to all others.

Sold by medicine dealers everywhere at 35c. a bottle. Always insist on the genuine, as many of the imitations are highly dangerous.

CONSTIPATION.

In the summer especially should the bowels be kept free, so that no poisonous material shall remain in the system to ferment and decay and infect the whole body. No remedy has yet been found equal to B.B.B. for curing Constipation, even the most chronic and stubborn cases yield to its influence.

"I cannot say too much in favor of Burdock Blood Bitters, as there is no remedy equal to it for the Cure of Constipation. We always keep it in the house as a general family medicine, and would not be without it." MRS. JACOB MOSHER, Pictou Landing, N.S.

B.B.B. not only cures Constipation, but is the best remedy known for Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Kidney Disease and all Humors.
