Queen Bess Strike

A Rich Vein Encountered on the Property a Few Days Ago.

Word reached the city yesterday that an important strike had been made on the Queen Bess. The strike reported is the widening of the ore chute from a few inches to a foot of clean ore, and was made on a parallel lead to the big vein. It is a lead that had not been worked for some years until lately, when a lease was given to Harry Lowe, Walter Murray and Angus Cameron.

The leasees have taken out 60 tons since they took hold of the workings, and are already sacking a car from the new find for immediate shipment.

Mr. Laingstocks, of Nelson, secretary of the Queen Bess Co., is now visiting the property in connection with the strike.

Town Jottings.

R. F. Green, M. P. P., was a visitor in the city on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Robbins have moved into the residence lately occupied by B. P. Little.

Fred Ritchie returned the first of the week from a few days visit at the Halcyon Hot Springs.

The ore shipments for the week were Payne, 20 tons; Reco 42, and American Boy 21. Total 83 tons.

The Filbert hotel is being kalsomined, repainted and otherwise improved. P. H. Murphy, the proprietor, is sparing neither paint or money to make it attractive, and in a short while the Filbert will rank among the leading hotels of the district.

The basket social in the basement of the Methodist church on Tuesday evening was a very enjoyable affair. Those who attended spent a pleasant evening and the promoters realized $24 on the sale of the baskets. This sum will be spent in supplying the reading room with games and literature, where all who wish may spend the evenings.

The curlers held a meeting on Monday evening to arrange the winter programme. A good deal of talking was indulged in, but very little business transacted. The main object of the meeting was to consider the advisability of either building an addition to their own rink or purchasing the skating rink. After some discussion in which nothing was decided, they agreed to adjourn until Thusrday.

Duncan Grant, of Silverton, was a visitor in town on Wednesday.

J. M. Harris arrived home Tuesday last from his trip to Spokane and other points.

Mrs. Robt. McDonald, of Fernie, came in on Wednesday evening's train for a few days visit to friends.

P. E. Simpson returned Wednesday from a week's sojourn in Nelson where he was a witness in the Winters vs. K. and S. suit.

Mr. C. Dickson, of Kaslo, is now in charge of Giegerich's store here in the absence of "Shady", who has gone on a holiday trip east.

We are pleased to state that "Bob" McDonald, formerly of the Balmoral, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, is now out of danger and on a fair way to recovery.

Sandon will shortly have two hardware stores. Harry Nash, our tinsmith and plumber, is going into the business, and will have a large stock of shelf and heavy hardware in a few days.

Two sisters who have been in the city for some time collecting funds for the childrens' orphanage in New Westminster left on Tuesday for other points. While in Sandon they received good nancial aid for their worthy cause.

The seven year old son of J. F. Hall, barber of Kaslo, was accidently drowned a few days ago by falling off the K. and S. slip which extends out into the lake in that city. He was only in the water a short time, but all attempts at resucitation failed to bring back life again. Deceased was a bright lad and much sympathy is felt for his parents in their bereavement.

The Silver Glance at Bear Lake is turning out to be a bonanza. Four more cars of ore were shipped some days ago to the Everett smelter, which if up to the standard of the ore sent out heretofore will yield returns in the neighborhood of $15,000. The property is practically a "grassroots" producer as the ore taken out is from a shaft of only 42 feet. A lower tunnel is now being run in to get greater depth and preparations made to work the property all winter.

B. P. Little, foreman at the Payne concentrator, has moved his family out to the mill. Under his management the concentrating power has been increased from 120 tons over 200 with full water supply. The gigs have been remodelled and zinc saved at very little cost, which is being sacked and stored away until shipping is favorable. Plans are ready for the building of a zinc roasting and magnetizing plant, experiments from which have resulted in obtaining a 70 per cent. product and cleaning the ore entirely of white iron. The mill is still working two shifts and furnishing electric power for the compressor at the mine. The rains of the past few days gives assurance that it will run until real cold weather sets in.

We are pleased to state that Mrs. F. L. Christie, who has been seriously ill the post week, is recovering rapidly.

Knowledge embraces many subjects; but after all there is only one subject that is really worth embracing—woman!

Arrangements are being made to install a 75-horse power boiler and engine at the Rambler concentrator to enable them to run all winter.

W. H. McDougall, of Nelson, agent for the Scranton Correspondenceschools was in town this week drumming up business with good success.

Dr. Power returned to town on Tuesday after an absence of some days in Nelson in connection with Winter vs. Kaslo & Slocan Railway case.

J. H. Park, machinist at the Payne concentrator, left on Monday for Nelson, having received a telegram informing him of the serious illness of his wife.

Three men are engaged in driving a new tunnel on the Mercury claim owned by Mayor Cunning and others of this city. The new workings are to try and tap the vein at greater depth. A quantity of ore is being taken out, sacked and piled ready for rawhiding, and a good trail is being built to ship steadily during the winter.

The C. P. R. are making extensive improvements to their summer resorts along the main line. A great influx of tourists is expected next summer and the railway officials are already preparing for them. Contracts for new hotels and chalets are being let at different points in the mountains and an extension of sixty sleeping rooms is to be added to the Glacier hotel.

The shipment of Black Bass from the government hatchery at Ottawa to stock the B. C. lakes, has raised such a fuss that the Dominion government have decided to send no more. Many anglers claim that in a few years after the introduction of bass in our lakes, the brook and mountain trout would disappear and our now famous trout fishing would soon be a thing of the past.

The damage suit in the case of Winter vs. the Kaslo & Slocan railway company was concluded yesterday afternoon, and with it one of the longest sessions of the assize court in the history of Nelson.

The case was given to the jury shortly after 3 o'clock. In his charge to the jury his lordship directed that there was liability on the part of the defendant company, but upon the question of damages, those who heard him gathered the impression that he did not think the case one for heavy damages. The jury returned about 4.30 o'clock with a verdict of $1,000 for Mrs. Winters, the victim of the accident, and of $200 for the husband. In accepting the verdict his lordship expressed the opinion that it was a just one, and that the parties to the case were under an obligation to the jurors for the very careful attention which they had given to what had proved to be a very tedious case.—Nel-Daily News.

G. W. Hughes Disposes of His Interest in the Alamo Group for That Amount.

G. W. Hughes has sold his quarter interest in the Idaho Alamo Group of 26 claims to his co-owners, "The Scottish Colonial Gold Fields, Ltd.," of Edinburgh, Scotland, for $75,000 cash. Mr. W. Jenkins, one of officials of the company, is now looking over the property and will probably take charge.

Mr. Hughes is one of the most successful operators, and has still heavy interests in this district, chief among them is the Sunset, which although practically a new property has paid dividends to the amount of about $55,000.

Mrs, James Barton and family are visiting at Almo.

A. W. Wright, manager of the Ajax, was visitor to the city for a few days this week on business, leaving again Thursday. He states in all probability the Ajax and Palmita will not be worked this winter.

Presbyterian church services at 11 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Rev. F. H. Bartlett, B. A., of Silverton, will cconduct both Sunday services. Sabbath school and Bible class at 2.30 p. m. All cordially welcomed at all services.

Mr. F. S. Attwood and Miss Lillian S. Seale, who were married in Birtle, Man. on Thursday, are expected to arrive on this evening's train to visit Mrs. W. W. Fallows, aunt of the bride. The young couple are on their honeymoon, and after a few days stay here will leave for Kaslo, their future home.

The adjourned meeting of curlers on Thursday was again devoid of any real action taken is regard to making arrangements for a suitable building for the winter other than leaving the entire matter in the hands of the management committee. The skating rink company refuse to submit any terms on which they will dispose of the skating rink.

A well filled house greeted Harry Lindley's company in the opera house Wednesday evening to see the production of "David Harum." The play was well performed and well received, but it is only right to say that Harry, himself, is the mainstay of the actors. His inimitable Irish character, witty sayings and "hoss sence" brought forth rounds of applause from the audience. The company play a return engagement here in a few weeks when they will perform "The Sky Pilot" and be assured of a full house.

The Mining Review.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1902.

OUR BOW.

With this issue the MINING REVIEW appears under new management; Mr. Chas. Cliffe, founder of the paper, having moved to a more lucrative field in the thriving town of Sault Ste Marie, where he intends to publish a daily paper. The new proprietors have had a number of years experience in newspaper work, and will do their best to get up a bright, newsy paper, which will be increased in size as soon as conditions demand. At the present time there is no great necessity for a larger paper on account of everything being so quiet, but as soon as the mining industry revives and business improves, the REVIEW will be ready to meet the occasion. Heretofore we have been dependent on the silver and lead market only, but now everything points to a bright future for zinc. This will cause many properties lying idle for some time to resume operations and brighten up things generally in the camp. The REVIEW will pay strict attention to the mining news of the district; its aim will be to secure only that which is reliable, let the outside world know of our unsurpassed mineral resources, and do all in its power to encourage capital. In politics it will be strictly independent, treating all alike; lauding good legislation and censuring the bad. Public men and acts open to criticism will be treated fairly and not abused or denounced. We are are aware of the difficulties of our position caused by the stand our predecessor took in the late trouble, but we are assured by many miners that any grievance they had with the former editor of this paper, applied to him alone, and now that he has severed his connection therewith the past will soon be forgotten. The paper just now is in good financial circumstances, being comparatively free from debt and having sufficient working capital for some time. We have moved into new and snug quarters on the front street where we will be found attending to business and all orders for job work will be promptly attended to. In conclusion we would ask our readers to be lienent with us for a few weeks as regards the appearance of our paper, as between moving and straightening up things in general we have had but little time to devote to it this week. Hoping for a continuance of past favors and that we may merit the esteem and patronage of the Sandon public,

We remain, yours truly,

J. B. CLIFFE,
J. G. POTTER.

MIRROR, SCALES, ETC.

There was a man. And his mirror said "sallow skin." And the scales said "losing weight." And his friends did wag their heads as he passed by. But being a prudent man he forthwith swallowed daily certain pleasant doses of Scott's Emulsion.

Then his mirror said "ruddy face." And the scales sunk beneath his weight. And his friends looked upon him with amaze.

END OF THE STRIKE.

The termination of the Pennsylvania coal strike can now be regarded as virtually settled, by both the operator and miners, through the instrumentality of President Roosevelt, to submit their differences to arbitration. With the settlement the horrors of the approaching winter will be eliminated. The settlement is, however, no more than what was anticipated after the repeated appeals for arbitration.

If the strike had been prolonged throughout the winter it would be impossible to predict what untold hardships, misery and bloodshed the country would have been subjected to.

The strike began on May 15th just lasting five months, throwing 147,000 miners out of employment, with a total estimate cost of $136,000,000 to those depending upon the mining of the coal. Of this amount the miners suffer to the extent of $28,000,000.

Generally speaking there will be great rejoicing throughout the United States at the cessation of what, in a great many respects, in the annals of recent industrial warfare, one of the greatest of struggles. Throughout the controversay there is little to commend in the methods either party adopted in the desire to obtain their ends. There is no denying the fact Mr. Mitchell has shown himself to be a man of capability, and ranks far superior to any of the labor leaders prominent in recent industrial conflicts and if his advice had been at all times followed a great deal of lawlessness would have been averted. Hopes are entertained in various quarters that the efforts of the board of commissioners will be directed in such a manner so as to pave a way for the establishment of better relationship between the employer and employee.

"To say a pleasant word to anyone was almost impossible."

"I was troubled with female weakness for eight years; and suffered more than I can tell," writes Mrs. Gust. Moser of Ovando, Deerlodge Co., Mont. "My disposition was affected to such an extent that to say a pleasant word to anyone was almost impossible.

"I had two operations performed by one of the most skilled surgeons of the West, but did not get relief. Then, against my doctor's strict orders, I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and also followed the advice given in the Common Sense Medical Adviser.

"I continued this treatment for three months, and to-day am as healthy and well as a woman can be. I cannot thank Doctor Pierce enough for his kind letters to me."

Womanly diseases, as a rule, spoil the "disposition," because of the extreme nervousness and suffering they cause. Happiness as well as health is restored to the woman whose diseased condition is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

After eight years of suffering and two fruitless operations, three months' use of "Favorite Prescription" restored Mrs. Moser to perfect health. This great remedy for woman's ills, establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Next Monday is nomination day for two councillors, but we have not heard of any candidates for the positions. It is altogether unlikely that anyone will be brought forward, as municipal honors do not present a very rosy hue in Sandon. In all probability the existing condition of affairs will be allowed to drift along until the end of the year when the annual election takes place. The sooner something is done the better as debt is being accumultated and no provision made to meet it. No collectors roll has been struck or taxes collected and the municipal business is allowed to run itself.

It now looks as if the much talked of preferential trade within the empire is to become an established fact, Sir Wilfrid Laurier's significant statement in Liverpool, just before sailing for home, that "Canada was the future granary of the empire" may yet bear fruit. Old England may be slow in realizing what she really possesses in this fair Dominion, but once aware of it better trade relations are sure to follow.

Reports still continue to appear of Premier Dunsmuir resigning. As a "hangeron" Dunsmuir takes the lead of anything in the province.

Now that the coal strike is settled it will cause a "grate" relief.

The prospects for zinc look good to us.

AN OPEN LETTER.

Sandon Rink Company Lack Funds and Will Probably Not Open This Winter.

The directors of the Sandon Rink Co., Ltd., held a meeting this week when the affairs of the company were fully discussed. The indebtedness is about $1,800 for which the directors, in addition to the company's property, are personally liable. The directors during the past year have, in order to save the fine property of the company from being sold to pay the indebtedness, contributed largely of their private means, but they feel now that it is time for the citizens generally to come the company's relief. Unless sufficient money is raised shortly to relieve pressing liabilities the directors have decided not to open the rink this season but to let matters take their course and if need be sell the property for the indebtedness. It would be a great calamity to the town from a sportsman point of view if the rink remains closed and it is to be hoped the citizens and all true lovers of skating kockey will bestir themselves and enable the directors to meet all pressing demands and open the rink.

GEO. HUSTON,
Secretary.

Local News Notes.

Mrs. J. McKinnon will take charge of the furnished rooms in the vacant Stein block and will rent them at reasonable terms.

R. B. McCammon is spending a few days at Halcyon Springs and upon his return will leave on six weeks vacation to Toronto.

M. McCarthy will immediately open up a bakery in the lower part of the Stein building with W. Kiel, formerly of the Payne mine, in charge.

One of the west end damsels was lodged behind the bars yesterday for pelting stones at the Union hotel, smashing windows and making things hot in that quarter.

Mr. C. Cliffe has purchased the "Pioneer" of Sault Ste. Marie and has assumed the management of that paper. It is his intention to publish the first daily newspaper in that flourshing city and has already concluded arrangements to start the enterprise at an early date. Mrs. Cliffe, Victor and Walter will leave for the "Soo" as soon as possible. Miss Cliffe will have charge of the bookstore and J. B. Cliffe with a partner will continue the MINING REVIEW.

John W. Kerr, of Vancouver, chief agent of the Standard Life Assurance Company, is in town on business.

There are only two patients in the Miners' hospital. Mr. Thompson who has a mild attack of typhoid, and Arthur Nichols, who is recovering nicely from injuries received a short time ago.

The three story Fairview hotel near Camp McKinney was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning and one person was burned to death and two others will die from injuries received in the conflagration.

Special services will be held in the Methodist church commencing Sunday next. Morning services at 11 a. m. and evening at 7.30. During week night services will be conducted with singing at 8 p. m. Miss Haas, evangelist of Spokane City mission will deliver addresses assisted by Rev. R. J. McIntyre.

P. Graham of Victoria, Grand Master of the Oddfellows for the province was a visitor at the regular meeting of the local lodge on Thursday evening. After the meeting was over lunch was served in the hall, speeches indulged in and the evening spent in real fraternal style.

In another column appears an open letter from the Rink Co. which shows their financial condition to be in a sad plight, and if funds are not forthcoming they will be unable to open the rink this season and probably be forced to sell the building for its indebtedness. It appears a few of the directors have given their personal note to finance and kept the concern going for the past two years, have decided to give this up, as it appealed to them to be the only avenue open to be released of the burden. It really seems to bad that circumstances are as they are, and our hockey teams, for which we are noted, are likely to have no ice to practice on the coming winter. The letter explains itself and we hope our citizens will stir themselves in the matter, so as to enable the Rink Co. to pay off part of its indebtedness and save the building for winter sport.

COMMENT.

The daily press is very Tarte these days.

Four gun accidents in one day would lead people to believe that the shooting season is in full blast in Manitoba.

The imposition by the B. C. legislature of a duty on logs has had the effect of causing a great many saw mills move from the United States to British Columbia, giving employment to several thousands of men and brightening up the lumber industry to a very marked degree.

Hon. J. Israel Tarte, minister of public works in the Dominion government, has been dismissed from the cabinet by Premier Laurier. Israel has proven himself a tarter in politics since his flop over in '96, and his high protection tariff views while a member of a free trade administration was the cause of his dismissal.

Lynchings and nigger barbarcues still hold sway in the sunny south. Two wretches were tried, convicted and sentenced to death for a revolting crime in Texes, but the populace could not wait for the law to carry out the death penalty and took things in their own hands. They do this line of business with a rush and a roar, down in Dixie, and don't be long about it.

A glance over the political situation in Canada reveals a state of chaos. Dunsmuir is expected to resign the premiership of this province at any moment; Ross is almost sure of defeat in Ontario in the event of a bye-election; there is a political upheaval in the Dominion cabinet, and everything points to the overthrow of the Liberal regime in the province of Quebec

Hon. Geo. E. Foster, who has been on a trip through the west, was interviewed in Winnipeg a few days ago. He speaks in glowing terms of the mining situation in British Columbia, and states that with more economical management and capital, the mineral resources of the province would prove much more extensive than at present there is any conception of. This is quite true, but before there is much change in the mining situation of this province we will need a complete change of government and modification of our mining laws, which have been the cause of repelling capital instead of encouraging it.

Undecided Yet.

The Vote at the Coal Creek Mines as to Hours Unsatisfactory.

For 8½ hours underground....23
For 8 hours underground.....129
Cast no vote.....103

The above is the result of the vote take on Saturday last, as to whether the men employed at the Coal Creek mines continue to work 8 1-2 hours underground as they have been for the past two months, or go back to the old system in force before the strike, of eight hours underground, according to the agreement between the miners and Mr. Tonkin two months ago. As will be noticed by the figures the result is not satisfactory to either side. The miners claim they are now entitled to the old system, but the management maintains that those not voting show by their indifference that they are perfectly satisfied with the present. A committee of the employees met Mr. Tonkin on Wednesday evening with a view to finally settling the matter and will report to the union. The general manager went into the question thoroughly. He showed the committee, says the Free Press, that the miners at Fernie were making better wages than in any other camp in the country. During the month of September there were fifty-seven miners employed in No. 1 mine and the amount earned by them reached $6,760.60, averaging $120.71 per month for each man. The total number of shifts for the month was 1,295, making an average of $5.18 a shift for each man. The highest wage earned by any miner during the month was $172.50 and the lowest the handsome sum of $101.90. The highest wage per day earned by any miner was $7.06, while the lowest was $4.08. How the matter will end it is difficult to say. Some of the miners are not satisfied with the way the vote on the question was taken, but it is the opinion of most of those who are willing to express themselves on the subject that the union will let the matter drop and the present system will continue. A number of the men are afraid the car system now in force will be weakened as soon as the mines are in full operation, and that the present wage scale will be cut down. Mr. Tonkin assures the Free Press he has no intention of doing anything of the kind. He has already purchased 400 cars to added be to the present stock, and in regard to the wage scale he is prepared to enter into a two year agreement with the men on the matter.

General News Notes.

The Arlington is now shipping its ore to the Trail smelter.

The price of lumber has advanced $2 per thousand feet in Victoria.

Rossland ore shipments last week were over 3,000 tons aud the total for the year 265,599.

Rufus Rhodes, editor of the Birmingham News, brought about a peaceful conclusion of the coal strike in that district of Alabama. The miners executive adopted a resolution thanking him and his paper for their effort in the matter.

The recent discovery of iron deposits on Grey creek north of Crawford Bay is causing a number of prospectators to rush to that district. Two distinct varieties, hematite and carbonate, have been found; but on account of the season being too far advanced little if anything will be done before spring.

We have not abvanced the price of our tobaccos. Amber smoking tobacco, Bobs, Currency and Fair Play chewing tobaccos are the same size and price to Consumer as formerly We have also extended the time for the redemption of Snowshoe tags to January 1st 1904.

The Lucky Coal Man.

How'd you like to be the coal man? How'd
you like to be the coal man?
Each day he goes upon the road
With the smallest kind of a wagon load—
He stops at each building on his way—
One spoonful that'll be all today—
Two dollars, please, for a pocketful—
The market, you know, is a whole lot
"bull."
The iceman glowers in a spiteful huff,
As the coal man rides with his priceless stuff!
How'd you like to be the coal man? How'd
How'd you like to be the coal man?
He's the czar of the nation and that's no lie!
His horses this year sped his gate—
They don't have to haul half so big a weight—
No shovel rests in the wagon bed,
He carries a tooth brush this year instead!
He scraps the dust in a two inch heap,
And sells the same at a price that's steep!
When the last small screening has been sold,
Then he hustles home to plant his gold!
How' you like to be the coal man? How'd
you like to be the coal man?
He gets all that is coming, and that's no dream!

Chicago Journal.

"Shake, Old Boy!"

An exchange tells of a lady who decided to scare her hard-drinking husband, so that he would reform. To do this she procured the costume of a devil, which she saw at a masquerade. The next time the erring spouse came home feeling happy, she doned the costume. As he opened the door she stepped forward and said, in sepulchral tone:

"Come with me; I am the devil!"

The reply to her greeting was:

"Zat so? Shake, old boy! I'm your brother-in-law; I married your sister."

On a Clothes-Line.

A gentleman was travelling on the train the other day, and in the carriage was an old woman who appeared to be from the country. She began relating her experience of what she had seen in the town she had been in.

"What funny things those cars are at Winnipeg," she said.

"Why?" exclaimed another passenger. "How is that?"

"Well," she exclaimed, "it is the first time I've seen cars run on a clothes-line."

A Rich Find of Gold Ore.

A Gold Assay of Twenty-Seven Hundred Dollars to the Ton Obtained.

A party of prospectors composed of Messrs. Todd, Ford and McDonald, were in Princeton this week with a story of a marvellous strike of gold ore about twenty-three miles from here, up the Tulameen river, between Eagle and Bear creeks.

They brought with them samples of ore, and an assay made by J. O'Sullivan, the well known Vancouver assayer, which they claim had been made from a specimen similar to the ore exhibited.

The assay was for twenty-seven hundred dollars a ton, almost entirely gold, the only other metal of value in the ore being a few ounces of silver.

The party spent a couple of days in town recording the claims they had staked, twenty-seven in all, located in three groups on similar looking dykes to the ore from which the big assay was obtained.

The ure is a greenish colored hornblende, dykes of which are traceable across the country for many miles, running to the headwaters of Boulder creek on the north side of the Tulameen river, and to the headwaters of Granite creek on the south.

The big assay was made from ore taken near the contact of the hornblende with a belt of quartzite which parallels it.

The gold appears to be in tellurides, as no free gold is visible in the specimens shown.

The hornblende carries considerable iron. Whether the gold will be found distributed throughout the hornblendic dykes, which are in some places over 100 feet wide, or whether it follows the contact with the quartzites is a matter yet to be determined, but the chances are in favor of it being confined to the contacts.

To say that the strike has caused considerable excitement would be putting it mildly.

A prospector who has just returned, states that standing room is at a premium in the Otter Flat hotel, and that the trail is kept hot with the string of incoming fortune seekers, while stakes are being cut in all directions.

Princeton is almost deserted, every prospector able to get away having joined in the rush.

At Granite creek, the men working for the Boston and British Columbia Hydraulic company stampeded to the new find, and the company has been forced to close down and postpone further development until the excitement subsides.

Prospectors are said to be pouring in from Aspen Grove camp to the north, all anxious to make locations in the new camp.

An amusing incident is told of a prospector who owns claims adjacent that were located some years ago and crown-granted. When the rush of new comers commenced he got excited and hastily re-located his crown-granted claims, evidently fearing that if he did not do so, some of the eager gold seekers wouln "jump" them,

A number of the prospectors who left here are expected back early next week, and on their return many assays will no doubt be made, when it should be possible to form some adequate idea of the importance of the new strike.—Princeton Star.
