PEACE TO THE WORLD.

The Czar of Russia Makes the Proposition.

He Would Carry the Olive Branch to All Nations—The Prospects of a conference Being Held—What the Leading Papers of London Have to Say About It.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 29.—By order of Emperor Nicholas, Count Maravief, he foreign minister, on the 24th instant, handed the foreign diplomats at t. Petersburg, a note declaring that he maintenance of peace and the reuction of the excessive armaments ow crushing all nations is the ideal for which all governments ought to strive. he Czar considers the present moment vorable for the inauguration of a novement looking to this end and as invited the powers to take part in n international conference as a means f thus assuring a real and lasting eace and terminating the progressive ncrease of armaments.

TEXT OF THE NOTE.

The text of the note is as follows:

"The maintenance of general peace nd the possible reduction of the exessive armaments, which weigh upon l nations, present themselves in exting conditions to the whole world wards which the endeavors of all overnments should be directed.

"These are the humanitarian and agnanimous ideas of his majesty the mperor, my August Master, who has een won over to this view in the conction that his lofty aim is in conmity with the most essential inters and legitimate views of all the wers, and the Imperial government inks the present time would be very vorable to seeking the means.

"International discussion is the most ectual means of ensuring all peoples' nefit, a real durable peace, above all, tting an end to the progressive delopment of the present armaments. In the course of the last 20 years longing for general appeasement s grown especially pronounced in the nscience of civilized nations, and the nservation of peace has been put th as an object of international pol. It is in its name that great states ve confided between themselves werful alliances.

"Next, for the better guarantee of ace that they have developed in proions hitherto unprecedented their litary forces, and still continue to rease them, without shrinking from y sacrifice.

"Nevertheless, all the efforts have t yet been able to bring about the ficent result desired—pacification. The financial charges following the vard march strike at the very root public prosperity. The intellectual physical strength of the nation's or and capital are mostly diverted m their natural application and are reductively consumed. Hundreds millions are diverted to acquiring rible engines of destruction, which, ugh to-day regarded as the last k of science, are destined to morr to lose all their value in conseence of some fresh discovery in the e field. National cultural, economic ciples and the production of wealth e either paralyzed or checked in debpment. Moreover in proportion the armaments of each power inase, they less and less fulfil the obt the government has set before mselves.

"The economic crises, due in great rt to the system of armaments, and continued danger which lies in this sing of war material, are transming the armed peace of our days o a crushing burden, which the peo have more and more difficulty in ring.

"It appears evident that if this statething were to be prolonged it would vitably lead to the very cataclysm is desired to avoid, and the horrors hereof make every thinking people dder in advance. To put an end these incessant armaments and to k the means of wording off the cal sities which are threatening the ole world, such is the supreme duty day imposed upon all states.

"Filled with this idea, his majesty s been pleased to command me to opose to all governments whose repsentatives are accredited to the imrial court, the assembling of a conence which shall occupy itself with s grave problem.

"This conference will be, by the help God, a happy presage for the cenry which is about to open. It would nverge into one powerful force the orts of all states sincerely seeking to ke the great conception of univer triumph over the elements of uble and discord, and it would, at e same time, cement their agreement a corporate consecration of the prinples of unity and right whereon rest the security of states and the welfare of peoples."

OPINION OF THE LONDON TIMES.

London, Aug 29.—The Times says editorially: "The Czar's note breathes a spirit of generous, perhaps indeed, almost Quixotic humanity. A spirit familiar in the effusions of visionaries, but too seldom found in the utterances of great sovereigns and responsible statesmen. Never, perhaps, in modern history have aspirations which good men in all ages have regarded as at once ideal and unattainable found so responsive an echo is the counsels o one of the greatest and most powerful world's rulers. In principle the proposals of the Czar, put forth on a solemn occasion, with every mark of disinterested sincerity, will command the sympathy and respect of all good men. So far as Great Britain is concerned, we long ago abandoned continental ambitions and there is no power in the world which has less to gain or more to lose by any disturbance of the existing territorial status quo. The time has long since gone by when British by commerce could be made to flourish means of war. The greatest of our interests is peace and so sensitive is our world-wide commerce that even rumors of war often do us more injury than war itself might do to a powerless dependent than Great Britain on a free interchange in the whole world of the manifold products of its active industries.

"If Russia, which is also a great, but has still undeveloped industrial future before her is becoming fully convinced, as we in England have long been, that her resources would be better devoted to the beneficient arts of peace than to destructive and uneconomic energies of war, Englishmen, as essentially a peace-loving people, can only hail the Czar's pronouncement with the utmost cordiality as glad tidings and great joy, which whatever may be the practical issue, does cast honor upon the sovereign's generous and lofty spirit and humanity. The difficulties are great but nothing can henceforth deprive the Czar of having brought peace and disarmament into the sphere of practicpl politics. It looks at present as though all the great powers might be willing to enter a conference, while the United States might be expected to lend a favorable ear to proposals tending in a degree to lessen the weight of the imperial responsibility she is about to undertake. Her industrial policy is closely akin to our own and her abiding interest in the maintenance of peace is hardly less vital."

CZAR CANNOT BE SUSPECTED.

The Daily News says: "The Czar, by this message has acquired more righteous and enduring fame than belongs to the proudest conqueror of his illustrious house. There is no quarter from which such a manifesto would produce a more profound impression. Hitherto the great obstacle was that nobody would begin. The Czar cannot be suspected of making a virtue of necessity. We shall hardly be wrong in attributing the momentuous policy of the Czar himself. It is pen Nicholas, but the doctrine is Cobden.

ALL NERVES.

Many people say they are "all nerves," easily startled or upset, easily worried and irritated, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy such people require. They restore perfect harmony of the nerve centres and give new nerve force to shattered nervous systems.

Proposed Lardeau Branch.

The proposed Lardeau railway will, in all probability lead from Arrowhead along the northern shore of the arm to Thompson's Landing, thence to Trout Lake City, with a spur to Ferguson, and along the western shore of lake to a townsite known as Dawson, situated on Lardeau creek at a point where Healey and Tenderfoot creeks empty into it, thence through the valley of the Lardo creek to the head of Kootenay lake. From this point and Kaslo the C. P. R. will run barges, as is now done on the Arrow lakes between Arrowhead, Nakusp and Robson, to connect the terminus of the Crow's Nest with their Lardeau branch and the main line here, and also their Slocan branch, which, by the time the Crow's Nest reaches Kootenay lake from the east, will be built to Kaslo from Whitewater, thus giving the C. P. R. practically a monopoly of the trade of both the Kootenays. The C. P. R. are also reaching out after the Boundary trade, but are very apt to again run up against Messrs. Heinze and Corbin, who, we believe, are by no means disinterested in that promising mining and agricultural country.—B. C. News.

HERE'S A SENSATION.

The Lieutenant-Governor's Letters to Hon. Mr. Turner.

The Victoria Times gave some days ago the whole of the correspondence between Lieutenant-Governor McInnis and ex-Premier Turner, contained in the special issue of the British Columbia Gazette, which has caused a sensation. It discloses the governor's objections, commencing July 13th, four days after the general elections to the appointments recommended by the government, to the change of the date of polling of Cassiar district to Sept. 1st, to the placing at the disposal of the government agent in Cassiar, $15,000 for the relief of men in that district in employing them on the trails, and other sums asked to be placed at the immediate disposal of other agents in various parts of the province. The lieutenant-governor also refers to unpleasant interviews had with him by the premier and other members of the government, and quotes instances of warrants which he had previously intimated he would not approve "thrust in again among others in routine matters in such a way that in some instances I was nearly led inadvertently to sign them, and in one instance, the placing of $2,500 at the disposal of the chief commissioner for the construction of country school houses, I did sign the warrant, having previously refused to do so." The governor instances a case in which a batch of warrants were sent him for signature fastened together in such a way that his signature on the last sheet would have indicated approval of all, but he inspected them all before signing the last sheet. To may surprise I found inserted therein, in different places, six or seven warrants in blank. As I did not propose to approve of blank warrants, I cut them out. This was about July 19th last. I have since waited for some information in regard to, or some inquiry for, those warrants in blank, but none have been forthcoming."

The governor's letter of August 8, which Turner said was not a dismissal concludes as follows:

"For as I would not feel justified in granting you another dissolution and appeal to the electorate, and as after careful study of the situation I am convinced that you cannot command a majority in the assembly, I shall not put the province to the delay or to the expense of a special session of the legislature, merely for the purpose of formally demonstrating what has already been sufficiently demonstrated to me by the general elections. I deem it my duty, therefore, to ask, and I do hereby ask, that yourself and your colleagues hand in your resignations as advisers to me and as members of my executive council."

Mr. Turner, replying to that letter, says, amongst other things, that on June 18, T. R. McInnes, the governor's son and private secretary, told him that the way out of his difficulty was to give W. W. B. McInnes, M.P., a cabinet position and the latter would resign from the Dominion parliament and bring over one or two opposition members to join Mr. Turner's party. He adds that W. W. B. McInnes subsequently confirmed the proposition. The governor in a subsequent letter characterises the suggestion as impertinent. The whole correspondence occupies eight columns.

Reciprocity Wanted.

Mr. G. O. Buchannan, of Kaslo, spent some time in the city this week on a matter of much importance to our surroundings. It was to get the co-operation of our council and mine owners to strengthen the hands of J. B. McArthur, of Rossland, who is going before the Quebec Conference, to press for reciprocity on lead—to have our ores admitted to the States for smelting, free of duty, and failing in lead, to get free bullion. The U. S. consumes annually some 25,000 tons of lead more than they produce, and the duty they impose greatly handicaps our ores in that market. If reciprocity of ore cannot be got, reciprocity of bullion would be the next best thing.

The market of the U. S. in so far as they require a supply is the best in the world, and is, therefore, a special object especially for the Slocan country. For instance last year it cost the Payne people about $300,000 in duty on ore, and our mines altogether well on to a million dollars. With reciprocity of ore we would save this million in the Slocan for development purposes a valuable consideration.

Smelting at home is one benefit, but it does not help the production much, as we then have to pay duty on the bullion to reach the American markets. The best step in the world is to reach them without restriction and this can only be done by reciprocity. The American government by it would lose a million a year in duties, and we on this side would have to make some equivalent sacrifice.

No doubt all Slocan will aid the movement, and we hope Mr. McArthur will meet with success in his efforts.

Communication.

To the Editor of The Mining Review:

Dear Sir,—I have no doubt, from the perusal of your columns, that you will give space for criticisms of your own remarks by your readers. Taking this for granted I wish to point out that for a supporter of the then opposition party you seem to be badly prejudiced against "Joe" Martin, one of their leaders. Like your self, in one respect, I do not think "Joe" should get the premiership for a time, until he gets better acquainted with B. C. politics; but I do not expect he will get it, nor do I think he intends making any breach in his party by forcing his claims at the present time. I am not personally acquainted with "Joe" at all, but am satisfied from his action in the Manitoba school case that he is a man of good ability, and one who has the courage to express his views openly. Such a man in public life is bound to have the most bitter enemies as well as the warmest friends. Laurier does not seem to be a man to express his opinions on any subject very definitely, and thus it will be seen why he should prefer a wilk-and-rater man, like Sifton, rather than an outspoken individual like "Joe." I do not think "brains" was the leading card in the selection at all. It is true that we have not divided on the old party lines in B. C., but there is just as marked a difference between the parties led by the Smythe-Robson-Davie-Turner outfit and those led by C. A. Semlin, the present premier. It is difficult for me to see the difference between a Liberal-Conservative and a Reformer. It may be said that the latter are more radical than the former, but it would take an angel with a microscope to tell just how far that word LIBERAL would go in the term Liberal-Conservative. It is then just a matter of the "inns" and "outs." If the party in power has handled the affairs of the country in a good, sound, business-like way it becomes our duty to support them, and visa versa. For an intelligent man to have no opinion is a lack of principle. I understand that "Joe" was educated in Toronto Normal, one of the best, if not the best, training institutions in the world, and for that reason preason his presence in the B. C. cabinet will be doubly beneficial. Pestalozzi, Froebel and other great modern educational reformers have spent their lives demonstrating the fact that pupils in the earlier stages should be taught through the senses rather than from memory, yet in nine-tenths of our B. C. schools it is the memory alone that is utilized and the methods that prevailed in "ye olden times" are still adhered to. More anon.

SQUIB.

New Denver, B.C., Aug. 29, '98.

[We readily give place to the foregoing, and shall at all times as willingly publish a communication criticising our own opinions as those of others, so long as the object is to get at the truth and serve the public. We may here say that the editor of this paper knows Mr. Martin as well as any man in the province knows him, and met himas of ten on the public platform as any man in Manitoba met him, so that when we speak of the gentleman, it is not in ignorance of his public acts or his public record. As, however, our correspondent refers specially to the Manitoba school act, we are doing no one a wrong in say that Mr. Martin's record on that measure is anything but creditable to him as a public man. When in opposition in the Manitoba legislature, he pledged his word of honor, as a public man, to the French electors of a French constituency, while an election was pending, that if they returned the Liberal candidate, which would place him and his friends in power, he would not interfere with their separate schools. They returned his candidate, which placed him in power, and when there, one of his first acts was to pass that Manitoba School Act—the measure that he but a few months before gave his word of honor as a public man he would not pass. In the light of this and other matters, which we will not speak of, as they are not under consideration, we feel we are quite liberal in saying we are willing to give him a fair chance in his present position, but for the welfare of the province we do not want to see him rule.—ED. REVIEW.]

HEALTH RUN DOWN.

"I was run down in health and weak and could not get anything to do me good until I tried Burdock Blood Bitters which has made me strong and well."

THOS. LAWSON, Terra Nova, Ont.

IT WON'T DO.

Faith Must Be Kept in All Promises Made.

We are given to understand the Turner government gave promises of assistance to certain wagon roads in this part of the country among which was the road from Sandon to the Queen Bess mine. On the strength of this promise expensive surveys were made and a certain amount of work done, and now we are informed the new government refuse to carry out the promises of their predecessors. This whole business has been bungled from end to end, but it is no reason either the people or the country should suffer for it.

When these promises were made to our delegates last winter, the next step should have been the adoption of the amounts in the regular or supplementary estimates. Had this been done the present government could not now withold the money. Whether, under the circumstances, the late government would or would not have carried out their promises, we are unable to say; but as we know nothing on that score, it is none the less incumbent upon the present administration to make the promise good. Were the promises made to meet some shady transaction, there would be a plea for present refusal; but when it is for a work badly needed, and only on line with dozens of grants made year after year, there is the more reason why the matter should now be made good.

It has been frequently acknowledged by the members of the present cabinet when in opposition that the Kootenay country never got justice in the shape of public expenditure. The public records show this; Mr. Turner's manifesto to the electors of a few weeks ago shows it, and now a small grant implicitly promised, and imperatively needed, is withheld, and for no reason that will stand investigation. This is a matter of much moment to this part of the country then appears on the surface, as the proposed road if built, would be used by several mines as well as the one for whose use it was to be ostensibly built.

We know Mr. Green will do his best to have this promise made good, so the duty before the government will be clear. The new administration cannot afford to play this way at the outset, as they will shortly have to go to the people, where a sharp reckoning will have to be made. We trust they will fully consider this matter, and see that good faith is observed all around.

A MONSTER TUNNEL.

A Tunnel Five Miles Long to Be Driven at Rossland.

It is altogether possible that by the time the snow is off the ground next spring work will be under way on the great drainage tunnel which it is projected to build from the Columbia river to top red mountain. J. B. McArthur, who is interested in the company formed to operate the tunnel, leaves for the east on Thursday of next week to arrange for the capital necessary to carry out the proposition.

Interested with Mr. McArthur in the company is Charles R. Hosmer, the millionaire manager of the Canadian Pacific railway's telegraph lines, who is one of the heavy investors in the West Kootenay Power & Light company and in the Monte Cristo, the Virginia and the Centre Star companies. H. S. Holt, also of Montreal, who is one of the best known railway men of the Dominion, is the third member of the group, which in April last was incorporated under the name of the Red Mountain Tunnel company, limited, with power to construct the tunnel.

The project is perhaps the most vast that has yet been brought forth in connection with the camp. It contemplates the construction of a tunnel some five miles long, starting from the Columbia river at a point above Trail, and ending underneath the California mineral claim, west of the town. The tunnel would be adapted not only to drain the mines of the camp, but it would also ventilate them, furnish them with light and power and afford an economical means of extracting their ore. It is one of the most gigantic undertakings in the world, and in size would be even longer than the famous Sutro tunnel in Nevada. Owing to the hardness of the rock in this district, the cost of the enterprise would be even greater proportionately, than that of the tunnel on the Comstock.

As yet no details for the construction of the tunnel have been elaborated, but it is expected that it will cost between $2,000,000 and $4,000,000. Even on this enormous outlay, however, the promoters of the project feel that a good investment would be made possibly by the royalty which the mine owners would be glad to pay for the economical extraction of their ore by means of the tunnel.—Rossland Miner.

Wedding Bells.

On Thursday morning two of the most popular young people of this part of the country, M. L. Grimmett, L. L. B., barrister, and Miss Maggie, eldest daughter of Ald. Crawford, both of this city, joined fortunes for life, the Rev. J. A. Cleland assisted by the Rev. A. M. Sanford completing the binding link. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's parents at 6 a. m., to allow the happy couple to take the early C.P.R. train. The house presented a pretty scence, being profusely decorated with beautiful house plants and cut flowers. In one corner of the parlor were arranged the presents, a beautiful collection, representing something of the esteem in which the recipients were held by their friends, here and abroad. Noticeable among them were: A Heintzman piano from the groom to the bride; a six-piece silver tea service from the family of the groom in Manitoba; a silver ice pitcher from the members of the Methodist church choir, of which the groom is leader. The bride, who was becomingly attired in a suit of cream silk with orange blossoms, was attended by her sister, Miss Mary, and her cousin, Miss Rawlings, both in white, while little Lilly McArthur, a tot of two summers was a charming maid of honor. The groom was ably supported by his brother G. W.

The invited guests were limited to the relatives of the couple, and a limited few of immediate friends. After the ceremony an excellent breakfast was partaken of and the happy couple took the train for their wedding trip, which will take in the coast cities, including San Francisco and Los Angelos, and home by way of Salt Lake City. They received at the station before the moving of the train showers of the congratulations in order on such occasions. All present, as well as many absent, wishing them an interesting trip and a long and happy married life.

ROVER CREEK STRIKE.

Excitement Over the Find Is Still Unabated.

Interest continues unabated in the strike on Rover creek, and a large number went out there to-day. It is stated, however, that all the available ground has now been taken up.

Rover creek is about seven miles long, not counting the west fork which is about three miles long. At the head of the west fork is situated the Whitewater claim in which Mr. Goepel of this city is interested. Above the Whitewater on the Snowline a great deal of extremely rich float, a free milling quartz, has been found and many consider that this is the source of the placer gold below. The ledge, however, has never been discovered.

The present strike is not the first that has been made on this creek. All along disused sluice boxes may still be seen, the relics of the old time placer excitement. The adjoining creek, Bird creek, has been profitably worked for years by Chinamen, while the presence of placer gold in Forty-Nine creek is well known.

Mr. George Beer, who was in Nelson yesterday, has a half interest in the claim next to the discovery claim. He had some dust and small nuggets which were panned on the surface of his claim. He was very reticent but appeared to have every confidence in the property, the surface washings being undoubtedly extremely encouraging. Work is being actively pushed on the different claims, and the owners expect to find bonanzas when they reach bed rock. The depth of bed rock varies very considerably along the creek, with perhaps eight feet as the minimum and 60 or 70 feet as the maximum depth. The average depth, however, is from 15 to 20 feet. On the discovery claim they expect to reach bed rock in about 12 feet.

Many of the local business men have been bitten by the gold fever, and have sent out representatives to stake claims and otherwise try and get them on the ground floor.

The real value of the new diggings will not be known for a few day's anyhow, but there is no doubt that dust in paying quantities has been discovered on Rover creek. This find will probably give a great impetus to prospecting in this vicinity, and the various creeks will be thoroughly tested.

The placer miner in this country need face none of the difficulties and privations which confront him on the Yukon, and if he strikes a rich claim here he comes as near as possible to finding a rose without a thorn.—Nelson Miner.

MINING BRIEFS.

With Scissors and Pen.

The Ruth is now shipping an average of 30 tons a day.

It is said the profits for the Ruth for July were $13,000.

Two new tunnels have been commenced on the Neble Five group.

Work has been resumed on the Elkhorn mine near the Wonderful by a force of men.

Jno. A. Finch has taken a bond on the St. Keverne property for eighteen months. The figure is $20,000.

The Whitewater mill will be in full blast by the 1st of October, which, when completed will be one of the best in the country.

Ed. Walt has put a small force of men on the Eagle claim just above the Star and intends pushing work vigorously.

A placer excitement has sprung into existence at Slocan Junction, and several claims have been staked with possible millions in them.

Machinery is to be put in at the Evening Star mine on Lemon creek. This property is coming to the front quite rapidly and belongs to Hugh Sutherland.

It is the intention of the manager of the Washington mine to push work on a more extensive scale than ever this coming winter. At present they have a few men doing development work.

From the Alameda and St. Charles at the head of Jackson basin comes the report that a very important strike has been made. The former has 14 inches of clean ore and two feet of concentrates.

A car load of ore from the Emily Edith mine was loaded Friday evening, and billed to the Aurora Smelting & Refining Co., Ill. This is the first carload of ore shipped from the Slocan that contained the four minerals, in commercial quantities—gold, silver, copper and lead. This ore is valued at $5,000.

The Lado Bros. have made another big strike, and find free gold every place they put a shot in on all their five claims, and prospects are that the assays will run up high. There appears to be something worth trying for in the Lardo-Duncan country, and when tapped by railways may develop some lively camps.

The Sandon Mining & Milling Co. have struck a very favorable looking ore in the tunnel they are now driving. It will assay about 60 oz. silver and 40 per cent lead, and the body is quite large. It is fully believed that quality will improve as distance is reached. Even this would pay very well considering the light expense in loading on the cars.

They have struck another body of ore on the Adams group that is even more promising than any heretofore seen. A proposition is under consideration to erect one system of handling for the three properties on that hill—the Adams, the Canadian and the Minnesota Silver Co. If anything comes out of the matter it will consist of a large trunk tram with three branches and a concentrator in this city. The matter, however, is only yet one for consideration.

WHY?

The "new man" of the Kootenaian objects to the agitation, very slight though it be, against American editors on our provincial coast papers. He cannot see why objection should be taken to nationality; and in the same article when he says,

"All Canada is in such close relationship with the bordering Republic, the sentiments, opportunities and destinies of the two countries being in a large measure the same, that no lines of demarkation save those existing in imagination or streaking the narrow places of prejudice, exist," he furnishes the strongest answer available to his own query. It is not because Americans are Americans, nor because American scribes presume to write on Canadian subjects for the Canadian press, that any exception is taken to them by sensible Canadians; but merely when they show gross ignorance of the subjects on which they presume to write. As the press of every country is taken to be the principal educator of its people, it is of the utmost importance that those who have the literary charge should be equal to their responsibilities. When a writer wants to assure Canadians that their "sentiments, opportunities and destinies" are in a "large measure," or in any measure, large or small, for that matter, the same as those of their cousins across the line, it is ample evidence that he is hardly the proper educator for the Canadian people. We want to do as much business backwards and forwards as we possibly can; we want to be on as friendly relations as two brothers, if we can; we want as much of American capital, brain, push and enterprise as they want from us, and more if we can get them; but God forbid that we should desire as our destiny the political goal to which the Americans are hastening as rapidly as circumstances can carry them.

WHY NOT PUBLISH THE FACTS?

Since its establishment, The REVIEW has persistently advocated the proper advertising abroad of the mineral wealth of the Sandon district; and as time rolls by, making its revolutions, the more there is being unfolded to warrant honest advertising. Rossland with its two dividend-paying and three or four shipping mines is known the world over, and its properties enquired after from every corner of the globe, simply because the facts are stretched and advertised in tension.

Sandon, on the other hand, has its dozen dividend payers and its score or more regular shippers, and but little is heard of it because those on whom the responsibility rests are doing nothing to advertise the place. Why should this be allowed to rest in this way?

There are scores of properties here that can be purchased in whole or in part from men without the means to work them, that under a very moderate expenditure mtght be made rivals, as dividend payers, with the LeRoi of Rossland, and are now lying in a state of rest. Our business people are anxious for more business; land owners are anxious to sell real estate, and every thing is quiet, simply because our mineral wealth and inviting surroundings are not brought before outside capitalists. Can we not organize a Board of Trade and through it secure the joint co-operation of the city council, mine and prospect owners, and the public generally, in the proper advertising of our wealthy surroundings? We would like to hear from correspondents on this most important matter.

RAILWAY MOVES.

Some people think that from the close relations between "Jim" Hill's road, the Great Northern, and the K. & S., taken in connection with the fact that Jim Hill owns the Northern Pacific, that the C. P. R. will be forced to build a line into the States, south from Nelson or some other point. To those, the announcement that the K. & S. is likely to build into Slocan City gives additional conviction. This is hardly a complete view of the situation. This activity on the part of Jim Hill is to secure the ore carrying business of southern British Columbia to American smelters and refineries. It is a game of checkers; but we fancy it will not be long in the game before the C. P. R. will greatly reinforce its kings. The importance of the mining industry of this country will force whatever government is in power at Ottawa, and, according to the statement of the Hon. Geo. E. Foster, when the Conservatives come into power, they will require no forcing—they will do it as matter of principle—to encourage smelting, minting and manufacturing. With this done, our ore will cease to cross the lines—it will be treated and handled at home. With this gained the railway traffic of this country will become so revolutionized that we will require roads to the south for ordinary commercial purposes, passenger traffic and mail service only. No doubt in the world the C. P. R. has the building up of large smelters and refineries at home in view, and when it is in shape to offer mines inducements to have their ores handled at home, there will be no urgent need for a competitive railway service across the lines.

A report is current at Victoria that it is not the intention of the new Semlin government to meet parliament, but dissolve before the year is out and go to the country. We hope for three substantial reasons that the report is not true. In the first place it would be establishing a precedent, even if the lieut.-governor granted a dissolution, which he would be perfectly justified in refusing. We cannot remember a parallel to such a case in the whole history of Canada. The rule is for a new government to meet the House, pass such legislation as vitally affects the complexion of the House, then dissolve and appeal, after the Parliament convenes, if defeated before anything is done. The rule is to meet the House in any event. In the second place a dissolution now would mean an appeal on a division of constituencies, that the present government party in the late elections declared to be a disgrace to the country. On every platform a reference was made to the inequalities in the voting strength of the constituencies, and an appeal, without correcting these inequalities, would be condoning the alleged flagrant violation of principle of their predecessors. In the third place, it would lead to the assumption that deception was intended in not unfolding their new policy before asking public endorsement. In the late elections, the point turned on Turner's policy; and the public, before being asked to vote again, should have unfolded the policy and principles of their successors. This is a business way of looking at the matter, at least.

The conference of representatives of Canada and the United States now in session at Quebec, to settle several matters in difference between these countries, naturally creates a new interest for British Columbians in the lead industry. We all feel that the Slocan is likely to prove one of the greatest silver-lead producing countries in the world; but owing to the newness of the camp it has many things to contend with locally. These, considerable though they be, would be readily overcome were restricting legislation removed. As the U. S. production is short of home demand, from the proximity of the two countries, we should naturally step in to supply the difficiency; in fact we have been doing it for some time, but are handicapped by the American duties, on ore as well as bullion. For several reasons some of our producers find smelting across the lines more satisfactory than smelting at home—in short the difference in American duties on ore and bullion enforces smelting there. As there will have to be come and go at the conference, it is to be hoped that a matter of such importance to one province, as the silver-lead duty is to this, will have full consideration. We would be quite willing to pay our share of increased duties in other channels, if the country was fairly met in regard to this.

Will Soon Have Enough Men.

During the past week between 300 and 400 additional men have been secured by Messrs. Mann, Foley Bros. & Larson, and put to work on the Robson-Penticton branch of the Columbia & Western railway. The agents of the contractors in Victoria, Vancouver, San Francisco, Boston, New York and elsewhere, report great success in securing men for the work, and in a comparatively short time they expect to get all the laborers needed. The price offered is the uniform one of $2 per day, and the contractors advance transportation to Rrooklyn. One agent, located at Boston, wired that he has just sent forward 300 men, and more will doubtless follow.

Of all the bereavements which are possible to a home, the loss of a child is perhaps the most disappointing, and the hardest to bear. During the heated spell in the summer in New York City as many as a thousand babies have died in a week. Of course, in a crowded city, with its unsanitary districts, many of these deaths would have occurred any way. The fact remains that this tremendous mortality was to a great extent due to the lack of inherent resisting power in the victims. These babies when born had in their bodies the seeds of disease. The deadly heated term only shortened the period of their sufferings.

If a woman wishes her babies to be healthy and strong and able to resist the usual ailments of childhood, she must take proper care of herself in a womanly way during the period of gestation. A woman who suffers from weakness and disease of the organs distinctly feminine is unfitted for wifehood and motherhood. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a wonderful medicine for ailing women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned. It makes them well and strong. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain, stops exhausting drains and gives rest and tone to the tortured nerves. Thousands of women have testified to its almost miraculous merits. Many of them have permitted their names, addresses, experiences and photographs to be reproduced in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great book used to sell for $1.50, now it is absolutely free. It tells all about the home-treatment of ordinary diseases. It contains 1008 pages, and over 300 illustrations. Several chapters are devoted to the diseases of women. For a paper-covered copy send 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of customs and mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.; Cloth binding, 50 cents. "Favorite Prescription" is sold by all druggists.

A Negro Turning White.

A curiosity rarely witnessed in this country was seen at the office of the pension examiners in this city to-day. It was a negro man turning white. The man's name is Sam Smith. He is 67 years old and came here from Georgetown to stand an examination for a pension, he having served in the Union army. More than three-fourths of the man's entire body is white, the skin fairer by far than that of the ordinary white man. The dark skin remaining on the body is only in small spots. Smith says that his skin began turning white in 1867, and the dark skin has been disappearing from the body ever since. The physicians who examined him think that should the old man live a few years longer he will be entirely white, save, perhaps, the face. A peculiar feature of the case is that the face has not been turning white along with the rest of the body, the white only showing at a few places beneath the hair on the forehead, and not on the face at all.—Lexington (Ky.) Letter in Cincinnati Enquirer.

Thin in flesh? Perhaps it's natural.

If perfectly well, this is probably the case.

But many are suffering from frequent colds, nervous debility, pallor, and a hundred aches and pains, simply because they are not fleshy enough.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites strengthens the digestion, gives new force to the nerves, and makes rich, red blood. It is a food in itself.

NOW DAYS.

Old winter snaps, but in their wraps they toss and tumble over it.
In a laughing, jolly jumble,
Through a snowdrift first they stumble,
Then a snow man, like a dough man—
Though he really looks like no man—
They freeze stiff as any Roman,
Ere he has a chance to crumble.
So, hello! Who loves the snow?
Let him out a-playing go!

On the road it makes a cushion so the wheels can't rattle over it,
But all the boys in merry whirls they romp and battle over it.
Then the girls, both high and humble,
Bring their sleds without a grumble,
And a-coasting, checks a-rosting,
Every one of speed a-boasting,
Down the hill they all go coasting,
With a jounce and bounce and tumble.
So, hello! Who loves the snow?
Let him out a-playing go!

HAUNTED BY MEMORY.

One Man Who Will Never Forget the Samoan Disaster.

"I suppose that all of us who felt the living, frenzied force of that awful on shore hurricane will dream about occasionally as long as we live," sa an ex-bluejacket of the United Stat navy now living in Washington, wh was among the Vandalia ship's company at the time of the great naval disaster in Apia harbor, Samoa, in reverting to that experience. "For three or four years after I got out of that mess all safe and sound the memory of it used to get tangled up in my head when I was asleep, and I would wake in a tremble and be unable to sleep for the remainder of the night. But time has softened the craggier edges of the remembrance of that horrifying black wind, and once in a spell nowadays I forget all about it for two or three days at a time.

"There was one man in my mess on the Vandalia who was never quite right after we went on the reef. I was shipmate with him for two years afterward, and his occasional wildness was plain to all hands, and men who've been shipmates with him since—for he's still in the outfit—tell me that he's just as badly haunted by the memory of the disaster as he was when last I saw him. This man was a shipwright, and his name was Turley. Before we had that bad blow Turley was as cheerful and as chipper a man around decks as I ever swapped yarns with, but when he got well of his broken arms down in Apia he was a changed man. I never saw him crack a grin after the blow, and from a stout, husky fellow he became thin and haggard looking. He recovered all right physically from the thing, you see, but it sort of twisted his head and preyed upon him. He swung his hammock alongside of me on the Alert for two years after we were sent up to duty on the west coast again, and it was a common thing for Turley to hop out of his hammock in a frenzy in the middle of the night in port or at sea, yelling like a madman: 'All hands abandon ship! She's going to strike!' He created a lot of excitement up forward by doing this, but after awhile the men got used to it and only turned over when they heard Turley howling.

"It was the regular thing for the corporal of the marine guard at the gangway to prod the poor chap awake when he had these crazy somnambulistic spells and put him back in his hammock, for he'd come out of them as weak as a kitten and trembling all over. There were a number of us on the Alert who were washed up in the Samoan disaster, and naturally once in awhile we'd get to talking about it. But it didn't take us long to find out that we couldn't talk about it while Turley was around. The mention of the thing in his hearing would bring an insane gleam into his eyes, and he would suddenly begin to talk incoherently and at the top of his voice about reefs and dragging anchors and all that, so that we learned to knock off Samoan hurricane talk when he was around. I don't wonder much either. It was an evil enough blow to nigh turn any man's headgear topsy turvy."—Washington Star.

The Cache In Alaska.

The settlements along the Yukon are few and far between and consist, for the most part, of the same elements. There are the company's store; the huts and tents of the natives; the crowd of howling dogs; salmon hanging in red strips, burnished with copper tinges in the sun; little tots of children; chattering women offering baskets, moccasins and trinkets for sale, and here and there perhaps a equad of uniformed children, marking the work of some mission—good looking, clean looking children, but, whether Christianized or not, spoiled for living like natives again. The problem is, What is to become of them? Along the banks are occasionally met the rude huts and tents of small parties of Indians come hither to cut wood for the boats or to fish, but, however simple the habitation, it must always have the cache, or storehouse, propped upon posts to keep the supplies out of reach of the dogs, for these dogs can bite through a tin can and almost climb a greased pole in search of food. The cache should have a place on the coat of arms of Alaska. It is universal.—"The River Trip to the Klondike," by John Sidney Webb, in Century.

Gem Tester.

The radiograph—that is, the Roentgen ray "photograph"—is an excellent test for gems. Diamonds, pearls, rubies, turquoises, emeralds, opals, garnets, sapphires and so on all give a black radiograph, whereas paste imitations give only a faint radiograph, hardly visible. A minute's exposure is sufficient to tell a true from a false stone.

The will of an old London merchant shows him to have been something of a wag, for he had made a list of all his "bad debts" and left them as legacies distributed among his friends, one particularly favored person getting over $5,000 worth.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS are the most effective remedy known for weak, painful backs; Dropsy, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, sediment in the urine and all kidney and bladder troubles.

AN AWFUL COLD.

Mrs. Wm. Darkes, Pine Grove, Ont., says: "I recommend Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness and Sore Throat. I had an awful cold and could hardly speak. One bottle of Norway Pine Syrup cured me completely."

BIT OF HUMAN NATURE.

A Hasty Conclusion About a Woman That Was Changed Later.

Two little girls occupied seats together on an elevated train the other night. Both were scantily dressed, hollow eyed and hungry looking. They were unmistakably of that class known as "cashgirls" employed in the down town department stores, for each addressed the other by a number in lieu of a name.

Directly opposite them sat a fashionably dressed woman who was accompanied by a well groomed male escort. Upon their entrance the conversation of the little girls stopped abruptly and there was something pitiful in the earnestness with which both watched every move of the woman so stunningly gowned. Two pairs of abnormally keen though tired eyes thoroughly investigated every bit of finery in her apparel, from the highest plume of her hat to the soft, natty shoes which incased her shapely feet.

"Say, 76," whispered the smaller of the two girls, leaning toward her companion, "she's a real lady, she is. You can tell by her make up. Ain't that a beaut of a hat, though? And look at that diamond breastpin! Whew! I'll bet that hat cost all of"—

"Sh!" interrupted 76 in an undertone. "She'll hear you." There was a spell of silence as both girls leaned back with their heads resting against the top of the seat. They were enjoying the dazzling picture before them.

After glancing over a section of a newspaper which the man had given her the woman folded it up and handed it back to him.

"Did you get the tickets?" she asked.

"Yes," was the answer in an indifferent tone.

"Let me see them."

He extracted a small envelope from his vest pocket and handed it to her. "By the way," he remarked, "we will have to go tonight. I couldn't get good seats for tomorrow, and rather than miss it I took these."

"Tonight?" she repeated in a tone of vexation. "You know well enough that we can't go tonight. We have another engagement"—

"Which we can conveniently cancel," he interpolated.

"Indeed we will not," she retorted, with a determined stamp of her foot.

A protracted argument followed which was not too low for the cashgirls to learn the drift.

"You can go to Mrs. Brown's alone," finally exclaimed the man, "and I will take your mother to the theater! We can call for you on our way home if you insist on going."

"You'll not go to the theater with anybody. You must and will go to Mrs. Brown's with me." Thus asserting herself, she deliberately tore the envelope containing the tickets in minute parts and threw them on the floor.

They left the train at the next station, he with a disgusted look on his face and she with head erect and a defiant glare in her bright eyes.

Scarcely had the rustle of her garments ceased to be heard when 76 sagely observed: "You're all off, 27. She ain't a real lady. It's only her fine duds what makes you think so. She's only an imitation, and no clerk would take her to a window if she wanted to make a sale."—Boston Herald.

The Terrapin Knew Him.

When the late Major Moses P. Handy lived in Washington, he was frequently attending dinners at Chamberlin's. At every dinner at all out of the ordinary it was Chamberlin's habit to pass around the table alive the terrapin that (it was assumed) the guests were to eat later.

One night, as Major Handy told the story, when the live terrapin were brought in, as usual, he noticed, as he thought, one of the terrapins wagging his head at him. At the next banquet the same thing happened again, and at the next one of the terrapin detached himself from the rest and, crawling across the table to the major's plate, rose on his hind legs, and, resting his fore legs against a convenient tumbler, he bowed three times, solemnly; but courteously, to the astonished and awe-struck guest.

Upon investigation it was discovered that the terrapin had seen the major so frequently at Chamberlin's festal board that he recognized him as an old friend and politely addressed him as such. Mr. Chamberlin is said to have resented this story as a reflection on the freshness of his terrapin.—Kansas City Journal.

Two Capital Stories.

I pass into Arlington street, where Sheridan, sickened with his losses at play, kicked a man over who protested that he was only tying his shoe. "D—n you!" said Sheridan. "You are always tying your shoe!" Horace Walpole calls it the Ministerial street, where Pulteney and Lady Mary Montagu lived and on both sides of which Sir Robert Walpole had a house, where in my youth the Duke of Hamilton, with a beauty like a god's, was often to be seen.

Turning into Piccadilly there is the chariot of Lady Peel, who never missed her daily drive with her daughter in the park, and the yellow chariot of the Duchess of Cleveland, with her two tall footmen in breeches and silk stockings and their long canes. She was a lady with a philosophic turn of mind, for when her husband died she asked a relative down to the funeral and told him to bring his gun, adding, "We are old, we must die, but the pheasants must be shot."—Sir Algernon Nest in Nineteenth Century.

A Compensating Condition.

"I deceived you about one thing," murmured the new wife to her husband. "I am older than I told you."

"Don't mention it, my angel. I find that your fortune is fully twice as large as I had supposed."—Detroit Free Press.

WILL BUILD A ROAD.

A Transportation Company That Will Tap East Kootenay.

There now seems to be no doubt that the Nelson & Bedlington railway is to be built. A correspondent in London writes as follows concerning the company that has been formed there for that purpose:

"In the midst of an extremely dull season, a project of considerable importance is being brought before the notice of the British public. This is the Kootenay Railway & Navigation company, limited, which has been formed to consolidate and extend the railway and steamboat service in British Columbia, controlled by J. J. Hill. This company will acquire the Kaslo & Slocan railway and the steamers of the International Navigating & Trading company, which at present run between Kaslo and Nelson and connect with the Spokane Falls & Northern railway. A new line was to be built 58 miles long from the southern end of Kootenay lake to meet the Great Northern at Bonner's Ferry, and the Northern Pacific at Sandpoint and in future the line of steamers will run from Kaslo to the southern end of Kootenay lake instead of to Nelson. The construction of this line of railway will be in the hands of local companies, which will build and operate the portions in Kootenay and the United States respectively. The capital of the Kootenay Railway & Navigation company, limited, is £500,000, which goes as purchase price for the existing lines of railway and steamers, and £480,000 in debentures is being offered to the British public for subscription. The money thus raised will go to provide capital for and to obtain control of the two local companies, which are to construct the new line of railway. Considering everything, this scheme appears to be a fairly reasonable one, though knowledge gained on the spot would be necessary to form an accurate judgement. For some unknown reason, the prospectus carefully hides the fact that J. J. Hill is the mainspring of the whole business, and holds half the share capital. As he is known in England as a shrewd railway manager, one would have thought that the most would be made of his name. Of the board of directors George Alexander of the International Navigation & Trading company appears to represent the controlling interest; there is a director of the Bank of British North America, and H. W. Foster of the London & British Columbia Gold Fields, and A. C. Mitchell Innes. There is hardly any doubt that the strong connections at the back of the company will bring in all the required money."

DISASTER AT SEA.

A Fishing Schooner Lost With Most of Its Crew.

New York, Aug. 25.—The Thingvallia line steamship Norge, sank the French fishing schooner La Coquette, of Bayonne, France on Saturday last, August 20th, on Grand Banks. The captain of the schooner and eight seamen were saved; sixteen men went down with the unfortunate vessel. The Norge sailed from Stettin on August 3rd. The weather was generally fine to the banks of Newfoundland when it became foggy with patches of clear weather. On Saturday August 20th, between 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the weather was still foggy but not so thick as to necessitate a reduction of speed. Captain Knudsen said he could see about three cable lengths ahead. The wind was fairly brisk from the west and south west, when a vessel suddenly loomed up from the north with sails full and stood directly across the bow of the steamer. The bells were rung to stop and back at full speed but too late too check the steamer's headway to a full period. The stranger, to the fishing schooner, fell across the bow with a crash. She was forced over and sunk. As the impact occurred three men sprang aboard the Norge. The passengers of the Norge most of them were about the decks, rushed about in great alarm, but were soon quieted when they learned that the steamer was not injured. In the meantime the boat was lowered and six men and a dog were picked up. The fishing vessel almost immediately sank and carried with her 16 of the crew.

The lost vessel was the French fishing schooner La Coquette of Bayonne, which carried a crew of 25 men in all.

WEAK, NERVOUS WOMEN

A Manitoba Lady Tells About Her Case.

There is no need whatever for so many women to be the subject of faint spells, heart and nerve weakness, anæmia, or any of those health destroying ailments peculiar to her sex. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills regulate the heart beat and make it strong and full, tone the nerves, enrich the blood, and relieve the pain and weakness from which so many women suffer.

Mrs. Alexander Setter, of Pigeon Bluff, Man., writes an account of her case as follows: "I have great pleasure in giving my experience of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. For about ten years I was troubled with throbbing and fluttering of the heart. I tried five doctors and several remedies but none of them did me much good. Lately I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and bought two boxes. Before I started using them I could not do my house work and gave myself up to die, as I thought I would never be cured. Now I feel really splendid since taking the pills, do my work, enjoy my meals and feel as if there was something in life worth living for."

Rosebery Townsite.

Its Advantages as a Distributing Center.

Rosebery is the only town in Kootenay having both railroad and steamboat connection that can ship goods daily to ten different towns, whereby the shipper can see his wares leave his hands and that they will be received by the consignee within two hours.

Its Advantages as a Railroad Center.

Rosebery enjoys the position of king of the funnell as it were, for the railroad business of the whole of the Kootenays. All ore and matter for shipment from Nelson, Trail Creek and the Slocan must, and is now passing out this way to the main line of the C. P. R., as well as all goods coming in from Revelstoke to the Kootenay country.

NOTE. To substantiate this: The C. P. R. are now puting in track weigh scales at Rosebery, the first and only scales that has been put in on any of the C. P. R. branches in Kootenay—which goes to show the importance of this point by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's actions.

Its Advantages as a Steamboat Point.

Rosebery claims, without opposition, of being the only junction on the lake, unlike Slocan City, where you can step off the steamer to a waiting train and continue your journey. You can take either a north or south train at this terminus; consequently Rosebery is the best transient town in the race. Nervertheless we claim Slocan City second in importance, and would say watch the head and foot of Slocan Lake, viz.—

ROSEBERY AND SLOCAN CITY.

Its Advantages as a Manufacturing Center.

As a manufacturing center Rosebery claims to have demonstrated the fact that after the careful observation of the Denver (Colorado) Ore Coy's manager, as the natural advantages of all points in Kootenay for the treatment of ores the cheapest, Rosebery was selected, and they now are erecting works, with a capacity of 250 tons per day, which will be in operation within 90 days; and it is their intention to pay out monthly in the vicinity of $100,000. I might also add Rosebery has the largest water power from Wilson river flowing into Slocan Lake.

AS TO CLIMATE.

Rosebery claims the mildest climate on Slocan Lake, from its admirable southern exposure and absolute shelter from the north; snow always leaves the place about the 15th of March.

AS A TOWNSITE.

As a townsite, Rosebery is without a peer. It is possessed of all the flat land available at the mouth of the Wilson river leading to the valley—mining region—consequently there is no danger of any contagion. The title is a Crown Grant and is perfect. All purchasers of lots are safe in this respect. The only safe speculative townsite in the Slocan is Rosebery.

Why should I say the only safe speculative townsite in the Slocan? Because Rosebery business lots to-day are only $150 to $200 each and are bound to increase rapidly this summer. These figures can, and will, double before long. The time to buy is now. Don't wait till they are from $700 to $1,000, as you did in Slocan City last May, go in on the ground floor and make a few dollars in speculation; if you want to invest go to Vancouver or Winnipeg; if you want to speculate and and clean up money go quick to Rosebery before lots are out of sight.

What's Wanted in Rosebery.

We want a restaurant.
We want a good hotel right away.
We want a first-class general store.
We want a butcher shop.

Anyone looking for an opening spy out this place at once.

Maps and price-lists on application; prices run from $75 to $200.

TERMS: One-third cash, balance 3 and 6 months. For actual builders special terms can be arranged for a few lots by applying to

A. M. BEATTIE, General Agent, Rosebery.

MOUNTAIN ECHOES.

Portman Bros. are shipping their effects to Greenwood to go into the hotel business there.

The Macdonalds "from the hills" had a field day of it this week, three of them being up for a jamboree.

J. M. R. Fairbairn, mining engineer, of Kaslo, has been working in the hills about Sandon for some days past.

It looks as if winter was expected in the summits, the C. P. R. took out the snow plow, which was lying here all summer.

A man in the D. T.'s finding fault with his own creation was a visitor at the coup Tuesday evening, but escaped next morning.

Ald. Cunning is having the ground around the flume in the rear of his hotel levelled, which will make a neat back yard and an improvement to the side street.

Be not deceived! A cough, hoarseness or croup are not to be trifled with. A dose in time of Shiloh's Cure will save you much trouble. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

Cure that cough with Shiloh's Cure. The best cough cure. Relieves croup promptly. One million bottles sold last year. 40 doses for 25 cts. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

The next date to remember after the 5th is that of the appearance of the Cosgrove Merry Makers, in Virginia hall, Sept. 13th and 14th. Remember also it is a band benefit.

Dyspepsia cured. Shiloh's Vitalizer immediately relieves sour stomach, coming up of food distress, and is the great kidney and liver remedy. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

Ladies, take the best. If you are troubled with constipation, sallow skin, and a tired feeling, take Karl's Clover Tea. It is pleasant to take. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

About twenty-five spectators, two or three litigants, three or four witnesses, a peeler and a Beak occupied a couple of hours in the police court Monday, only to have the case dismissed.

Karl's Clover Root Tea is a pleasant laxative. Regulates the bowels, purifies the blood. Clears the complexion. Easy to take and pleasant to take. 25 cts. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

Mr. Markeson, of Slocan City, was in the city Wednesday. He suffered a severe loss in the recent fire there. He seems to be quite an enthusiast on the merits of Kootenay, particularly the Slocan placer mines.

The lover of the "light fantastic" will have a chance to satiate his pleasure here on the 5th, as there will be two balls on in the evening—one in the Virginia hall, the other at Spencer's. They will not be too many for the crowd. Both good floors with good music.

The Ladies of the Home Mission Society of the Methodist church will have a lunch room in the east store of the Virginia block, where they will be pleased to serve cold lunches, fruit, ice-cream, lemonade, coffee, etc. to any who will favor them with a call on the 5th, Labor Day.

It now transpires that the gift of a portfolio to Lieutenant-Governor McInnes' son was the price of life to the Turner government. The Portfolio was refused and the government had to go. If this is fully established McInnes senior ought to be himself dismissed from office without an hour's notice.

We have an anonymous communication about the Comique, which we must decline publishing, chiefly because the writer failed to send us his name. All correspondents must remember that publishers, in justice to themselves, must have the names of correspondents before they can give space to the productions of these writers.

Our police court officials are put to their wits' end to know what to do with the delinquents for the want of cells. Let them go when liable to fines, and it only encourages repititions. Send them up, and it puts the country to the expense of two going to Kamloops and the return of one, and the keeping of the other there. When will the government give this matter some attention.

Mrs. Henshaw, of Vancouver, who is writing up the country and taking views for illustrations, was in the city this week, accompanied by her husband. Her work is not confined to the mineral phase, of which she will find plenty of data here, but also the agricultural interests of both this province and Manitoba. As she is correspondent for many of the old country papers, some good will likely come of her enterprise.

Miners and others near by who come to the city on the 5th to participate in the big Labor Day celebration, which will be a "go", provided we are given any favor from the weather clerk, will take notice of the posters and photos advertising the Cosgrove Family of Merrymakers' entertainments on the 13th and 14th inst. Read the notices and remember a treat is in store for all who attend. You will not only enjoy a first-class show, but feel happy in contributing to the fund of a long-felt want—a Sandon brass band. Admission, 75 and $1.00, children 50c.

One of the hotel keepers of the west end was before the Beak, this week, and fined $5.00 and costs for projecting a stove pipe through the side of his building, against the conditions of the fire by-law. The public should, one and all, bear in mind that these exactions are not the result of passion or pleasure; the by-laws are drawn up in the public interest, and whether or not they are the wisest that can be desired, they must be observed while in force. In Sandon, though we have the most efficient water system in the country, we are peculiarly situated—our streets are narrow, our buildings all timber and close together. If a fire got headway in any of them it is just a question what service the brigade could render in the business part of the city. Every owner of a fire should then bear in mind that it is not alone his own property that lack of precaution endangers, but the property of all the business people of the place. Every citizen should, therefore, vie with every other citizen in his regard for the safety of the city.

PERSONAL MENTION.

R. F. Green, M.P.P., is attending the convention at Vancouver.

Mrs. Bragden, of New Denver, was a visitor in the city in the early part of the week.

Mr. R. H. Alexander, of the Ruth Mining Co., is lying ill at the New Denver hospital.

E. H. Stubbs, this city, is now managing Pitts Bros'. store at Silverton, in place of J. I. McIntosh, resigned.

Mr. Hattrup, of Hunter Bros'. store Rossland, came up on Wednesday to fill a vacancy in the Sandon branch.

A brother of Ald. Crawford, on the C. P. R. at Medicine Hat, and his neice, Miss Rawlings, are in the city visiting.

Mr. Byron N. White, president of the Byron N. White Co., which owns and operates the Star mine, was in the city this week looking over the work here.

C. Cliffe went to Vancouver Thursday morning to represent the Conservative interests of Sandon at the Liberal-Conservative convention held in the coast city on the 1st and 2nd.

We reported last week the severe illness of the wife of J. G. Main, in the east and are pleased to announce that she is now almost recovered, J. G. having written to his brother here saying they were about to start on a trip to the Maritime provinces.

We are pleased to report that Mr. Fallows is recovering from his severe illness, and is expected to be at his post in a few days. His trouble was of the nature of appendicitis, which generally brings its hours of agony, if nothing worse.

Mr. A. W. McCune and daughter, Miss Jack McCune, accompanied by Messrs. Sargent and Hogg, of Salt Lake City, arrived in the city Friday evening. Mr. McCune and the other gentlemen are the principal owners of famous Payne mine here, also having interests in other properties around.

Doan's Kidney Pills The Remedy.

Mrs. Eliza Reitz, 33 Wellington St., Berlin, Ont., says, "For ten years I have been afflicted with kidney and back trouble, suffering greatly from dizziness, nervousness, weak eyesight, loss of sleep, and appetite, and an almost constant tired, weak feeling. In February last I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and received so much benefit from them that I continued their use until I had taken three boxes in all, and was completely cured. They removed every vestige of pain, dizziness and nervousness, and enabled me to get restful sleep; so that from being a sick woman I am now strong and well again."

A GOOD INVESTMENT::

W. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director
North American Life Assurance Co., Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sir;

Of the three options at my disposal in regard to my matured 15-year investiment policy for $2,500, viz:

1st, Cash.....$3,798 88
2nd, Paid-up Insurance..... 9,295.00
3rd, Life Annuity..... 259.50

I have decided to take the first, and hand you my discharge in exchange for your check. In terminating the contract, which has given me reliable Life Insurance for fifteen years for $2,500, and in addition returns me all my payments with compound interest added, at a rate within a very small fraction of 5 per cent. I can only remark that my expectations have been more than realized, and that the whole transaction from beginning to end has been of the most satisfactory character. Yours truly,
