CHAS. DIAMOND IS DROWNED.

Chas. Diamond was drowned in the narrows above town Thursday afternoon about 4 o'clock, and up to the time of going to press his body has not been recovered. Search parties have been at work almost continuously dragging for the body, and the use of dynamite has been resorted to without results. The accident occurred about opposite the sawmill of the Porto Rico Lumber company, where the water is 10 feet deep at the present time. J. F. Diamond, a brother of the deceased, living at Cashmere, Wash., was notified, and has wired that he would start at once for here. He will probably arrive today.

Thursday afternoon Diamond and a man named Dan McLennan, a stranger in the camp, took a boat and started for Munroe lake to have a few days fishing. When they were in the narrows, Diamond in some way lost his balance and fell out of the boat. McLennan does not seem to be able to tell just how it happened.

A telephone message from the mill notified the people in town, and immediately a search was begun. But this is the high water season, and it is doubtful if the body is found for some time.

Charlie Diamond was a landmark and a character in Moyie. Everybody knew him and everybody liked him. He was generous to a fault, and the door of his cabin was never locked. He would cheerfully divide his last two-bits or his last bannock with anyone who needed it. He came to Moyie before the railroad was built, and followed mining and prospecting ever since. He had a good education and was an interesting conversationalist. He was about 50 years of age. There is general regret over his sad ending.

For the Celebration.

The Cranbrook band of 17 pieces has been procured for the day. The booze booth will be handled by the committee, and L. A. Horne will look after the icecream and soft drinks on that day. Another meeting will be held next Friday, June 11th, at 7:30 in the evening, when the amounts for the football and other events will be apportioned.

THAT SCHOOL PROBLEM.

The building of a new school for Moyie will not be such a difficult task as some people may at first imagine. The school law which is now in vogue makes ample provision for just such problems as the one with which the people of Moyie now have to contend. According to the School Act the trustees have the power to borrow, when authorised by the school meeting, money for the purchase and improvement of grounds for school purposes, or for the purchase or building of school-houses, or for the furnishing of the same; and such amount shall be repaid by equal yearly instalments, not exceeding twelve, or such greater number of years as the Council of Public Instruction shall by special order allow, with any interest accruing, to be assessed upon the district, and the money so borrowed shall be a charge upon the district, and for money so borrowed the Board of Trustees shall have power to give certificates of indebtedness.

ALL HOME PRINT.

This issue of the Leader is printed all at home. For some time we have had this change in mind, but it is only now that we felt warranted to take the step. We trust our readers and advertising patrons will be pleased with the improvement.

Moyie needs paint.

Watch our building boom.

Every man knows a lot of fool things he would do if he had the money.

Popular ministers avoid touching the sore spots of their congregations.

The Kootenays had a strong man at Ottawa in the person of A. S. Goodeve.

The divorce courts prove that even on the sea of matrimony there is the fool who rocks the boat.

If a man would only labor as hard over his daily task as he does over the things he doesn't have to do, work would be easy.

Two show companies played in Moyie this week, and both were very much on the bum. Probably the towns along the Crow look easy to them.

Spokesman-Review:—Pres. Taft says the future of the negro is bright. There must be a fine prospect for a bumper crop of watermelons.

If anything can be be done to assist along the Union library it should be done. Secretary Roberts' letter in another column explains the situation just as it is.

And still the Consolidated Mining and Smelting company is to branch out. Their latest venture is the taking over of the Alice mine at Creston. This will be a big boost for Creston.

Jimmie Durkin's Philosophy.

Jimmie Durkin runs three of the largest liquor houses in Spokane. Durkin is the man who a few years ago turned his window over to a minister to be dressed as he saw fit. The minister did the job to a nicety. The window contained skulls and cross bones, coffins, pictures of broken homes, and a whole raft of anti whiskey literature. Jimmie is a philosopher, and here are some of his gems:

If quality merits success, you deserve it—more, you'll get it.

Don't buy booze if your children need shoes; Jimmie don't need the money.

Don't lean on the bar thinking it will support you.

Talking to some people expecting them to understand is like pointing out rainbows to a blind man.

The man who sings in a saloon gets his pay in stale eggs when he tries it on the stage.

Keeping the bartenders busy don't hurt my feelings.

Durkin's bottles are good when they are full—that is more than you can say about the fellow who gets full emptying them.

Keeping your conscience clean will pay you better interest than keeping your skin clean.

The fellow who's wishing I had it will never catch up with the fellow that's trying to get it.

Buying a drink for a bartender is like paying a conductor's fare.

There are more men coming into Durkin's feeling bad and going out feeling good in a shorter space of time than all the hospitals in the state.

A man that is looking for trouble can find it easier than the man that's trying to borrow money.

There is lots of chin music in front of the bars in my three stores. The best notes that I get from it I find in my cash registers.

Regarding Moyie's Library.

Editor Leader:—With your permission I take the privelege of using your valuable paper as a medium to bring before the public of Moyie a matter of importance, viz: The maintaining of the Public Library and Reading Room in the McGregor hall.

As a matter of information I may state that the library, etc., was instituted about four years ago, the Miners Union contributing $50.00, and the public generally contributed generously towards the fund. Now this fund has lasted since that time; but at the present time is almost exhausted. Therefore, something must be done to augment the fund, if the Library and Reading Room is to continue. I may say that the Miners' Union are prepared to do their part in the matter, and if anyone else feels that the object is worthy of support, I would be pleased, as the present custodian of the library, to receive any contributions of either books or cash, towards the said library, and acknowledge the same through the press.

Thanking you for the space allowed in your valuable paper I am, Yours Sincerely,

JAMES ROBERTS,
Sec'y Miners' Union

Moyie, May 28, 1909.

The Joke Was on Them.

Two capricious young ladies planned to have some fun when a certain man called to spend the evening. They thought it would be great sport to imitate everything he did. When the young man entered the parlor he blew his nose, which each of the girls promptly imitated. Thinking it a peculiar incident the young man proceeded to stroke his hair. Both girls followed. Then he straightened his collar. They did the same, and a few dimples and smiles began to appear in spite of them. Now it was the young man's turn. He was positive of his ground and calmly stooped down and turned up his trousers!

The Reason.

"What makes that fellow so popular?"

"He'll listen to a funny story without insisting on telling another."

Gems of Thought.

(From the Cranbrook Herald.)

A great singer had just finished singing "Home, Sweet Home," and many of the audience were in tears. "It's a beautiful song," said a girl to an older woman, who sat next to her. "Yes," was the reply, "and the sentiment to which it moves all those people is beautiful. How much happier the world would be if everyone had as much principle as sentiment on the subject, and followed out a plain, every-day rule of making home sweet."

A gentleman hands us the following scrap, and we presume that he knows better than we do as to the statement being a truthful one. From the bit of confusion we have noticed in approaching these masculine groups, we rather suspect the words are not wide of the mark. "It is certainly amusing when one has a little leisure to approach a group of men on the sidewalk and listen to the conversation just to hear how carelessly profanity mixes in. This man tears off an oath and that one tips off a dozen bad words in no time. All of a sudden the loud laugh ceases and the most refined language the 'group' is capable of using takes its place. Goodness what a change—and what caused it? O, nothing, only a lady has approached them, and they have a little more respect for her than themselves. Well, well, a lady is a missionary wherever she may be."

THE SMALL BOY.

Nothing is better calculated to ruin a small boy than for him to have two homes, to either of which he is permitted to go at will. If mother reproves or chastizes him for his naughtiness, he takes his hat and goes over to grandma's or auntie's house. There he is received, cajoled, petted and permitted to remain a day or two, or perhaps a week. Then, because of some overt act, he is reproved, and he picks up his hat and goes off home, where he is kindly received and no reference made to his former misconduct. In this way he is permitted to oscillate between two homes, all the time developing his disregard of the restraints of rightful authority. Trained in this way, he grows up self-willed, has no regard for the rights or wishes of others, and unless some remarkable freak of grace interposes to check his wild career, he is pretty certain to land in the penitentiary.

SAFEGUARDS FOR YOUNG MEN.

Now, what are the safeguards of young men. The first safeguard of which we want to speak is a love of home. There are those who have no idea of the pleasures that concentrate around that word "home." Perhaps your early abode was shadowed with vice or poverty. Harsh words and petulance and scowling may have destroyed all the sanctity of that spot. Love, kindness and self-sacrifice, which have built their altars in so many abodes, were strangers in your father's house. God pity you, young man. You never had a home. But a multitude of young men can look back to the spot that they can never forget. It may have been a lowly roof, but you cannot think of it now without a dash of emotion. You have seen nothing on earth that has so stirred your soul. A stranger passing along that place might see nothing remarkable about it, but oh! how much it means to you. Fresco on palace wall does not mean so much to you as those rough hewn rafters. Parks and bowers of trees at fashionable watering place or country seat do not mean so much to you as that brook that ran in front of the plain farm house and singing under the weeping willows. The barred gateway swung open by porter in full dress does not mean so much to you as that swing gate, your sister on one side of it and you on the other. She, gone fifteen years ago into glory! That scene coming back to you today as you swept backward and forward on the gate, singing the songs of your childhood. But there are those who have their second dwelling place. It is your adopted home. That also is sacred forever. There you establish the first family altar. There your children were born. In that room flapped the wing of the death angel. Under that roof when your work is done, you expect to lie down and die. There is only one word in all the language that can convey your idea of that place, and that word is "home." We never knew a man who was faithful to his early and adopted home who was given over at the same time to any gross form of wickedness. If you find more enjoyment in the club room in the literary society, in the art saloon, than you do in these unpretending home pleasures, you are on the road to ruin. Though you may be cut off from your early associates, and though you may be separated from all your kindred, young man, is there not a room somewhere that you can call your own? Though it be the fourth story of a thirdclass boarding house, into that room gather books, pictures and a harp. Hang your mother's portrait over the mantle. Bid unholy mirth stand back from that threshold. Consecrate some spot in that room with the knee of prayer. By the memory of other days, a father's counsel, a mother's love and a sister's confidence, call it home.

Bonded Alice Mine.

A deal of great importance to this district was put through this week, says the Creston Review. The Alice mine and surrounding group of claims, and the concentrator have been bonded by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co., of Canada. This mine has been lying dormant for several years.

The Alice mine was staked by a man locally known as Jap King, who made the rich discovery whilst hunting with a Siwash, in 1898, and it was recorded in the name of Capt. Haywood, who afterwards sold out to Geo. Alexander, of Kaslo. He later disposed of it to a Manchester, Eng., syndicate, known as the York and Lancaster Mining Co.

The Alice concentrator is of a capacity of 50 tons per 24 hours. In her day she was the second largest shipper in the Kootenays. The ore is a splendid flux and is free from any trace of zinc, which is a refactory metal in concentration. The mill is known technically as a coarse concentration plant. There is a large body of ore blocked out ready for extraction.

T. G. Proctor, of Nelson, signed the papers on behalf of the York and Lancaster Mining Co., and G Lowenberg represented the Alice Broughton Mining Co.

The Prince Rupert Sale.

The sale of Prince Rupert lots in Vancouver rounded the million dollar mark, and the event was signalized by Mr. C. D. Rand, agent for the government and the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, by presenting $100 to the man whose purchase made the grand total. The crowd cheered the recipient of the gift, and during the few moments' intermission there were cheers for Mr. Rand, for Auctioneer Miller and for Prince Rupert.

Victor Bianco, a resident of Prince Rupert, was the man who turned the million over, and while he was making his deposit Auctioneer Miller coaxed him to the platform on some pretence or another and when he had a scientifically constructed stranglehold on his man Mr. Miller announced to the puzzled crowd that the captive one was the hero who had capped the financial pyramid which Mr. Rand has been busily erecting for the past three days.

Game Laws Changed.

Several material changes have been made in the Game Laws at the recent session of the Legislatgre which apparently have been overlooked by sportsmen and others, several convictions having been made and the offenders fined for contravention of the new law.

It is now illegal to trap any species of bear at any time, or kill bear by any means between July 15th and September 1st. It is unlawful to shoot duck, snipe and other water fowl at any time.

One mountain ram may be taken in season instead of three as formerly while three goats is now the limit instead of five.

A New Brick Company.

(From the Cranbrook Herald.)

A number of the enterprising citizens of Cranbrook have joined in the organization of a company for the purpose of manufacturing brick. Among those at the head of the movement are Messrs. Baker, Bell, V. A. Rollins, McCallum, Harvey, Green, Beattie and M. A. Macdonald. The machinery was installed some two weeks ago and brick is being turned out today. The location was secured from the Cranbrook estate, about half way between Cranbrook and the Mission, and experts have expressed the opinion that the quality of the clay is the very best. The demand for brick will be increasing in Cranbrook and the gentlemen who have invested their money in this enterprise are to be congratulated.

Rossland-Trail Road.

The C.R.R intends to improve the road between Rossland and Smelter Junction at a considerable expense during the next few months. The freight traffic is heavy, owing to the constant passage of ore trains and the big shay engine is hard on the track; owing to its side gear and heavy weight.

New Furnace at Trail.

The largest copper furnace in the Dominion of Canada, 42 inches by 25 feet, has been blown in by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company at its Trail smelter. This gives the company four large copper furnaces with a capacity of 1800 tons per day of Rossland ore.

Machanical feeders are being installed on the large lead furnace. This furnace has the distinction of smelting more ore and producing more bullion daily than any other lead furnace on the American continent. It makes as high as 98 tons of lead bullion in 24 hours and the refinery is producing 75 tons of pure lead daily.

Hard to Beat the Yankee.

An Englishman fond of boasting of his ancestry took a coin from his pocket and pointing to the head engraved on it, said: My great grandfather was made a lord by the king whose picture you see on this shilling.

What a coincidence! said his Yankee companion, who at once produced another coin. My great grandfather was made an angel by the Indian whose picture you see on this cent.—Chicago World.

Buffaloes on Move.

(From the Cranbrook Herald.)

Howard Douglas, superintendent of the National Park at Banff, was in the city on Tuesday en route for Banff. Mr. Douglas has just returned from Missoula, Montana, where he had been superintending the round-up of two hundred buffalo that have been recently purchased by the Dominion government and will be shipped to the reserve arranged specially for them on the Grand Trunk Pacific, east of Edmonton. This reserve has thousands of acres and the fence around it is seventy-three miles long. There are from thirty-five to forty men and horses engaged in the work of rounding-up the buffaloes, and as it is late in the season and the buffalo have had the opportunity of getting in good condition, the cow-punchers are having a most strenuous time. In fact Mr. Douglas stated that it was necessary to suspend operations to secure fresh horses as those in use are all worn out. The government is paying $500 a head for the buffaloes loaded on the cars. The mode of shipment of these animals is far different from that of shipping cattle and horses. Each buffalo is given a stall by itself, and its head is tied close to the floor by an inch rope.

This train with its unusual freight will arrive in Cranbrook in about three weeks and will remain here between three and four hours for the animals to be fed and watered, the hay for feed being carried on the special train. It will be an unusual sight for the people of Cranbrook to witness that many buffalo in a bunch and it is hardly necessary to add that the animals will not be taken out of the cars.

East Kootenay to be Mapped.

THE BOARD OF TRADE DOES A GOOD PIECE OF WORK.

(From the Cranbrook Herald.)

The Cranbrook Board of Trade agitated some time ago that an official map of East Kootenay should be made by the Dominion government. S. J. Schofield will be in charge of the work. The following letter from the geological survey department has been received by the secretary of the Board of Trade:

Ottawa, May 18th, 1909.

C. H. Allison, Esq., Secretary, Board of Trade, Cranbrook, B.C.

Dear Sir,—The Hon. Mr. Templeman has transferred to me a copy of the resolution passed at the regular meeting of your Board of Trade. I beg to say that in fulfillment of the promise made to you last summer I had detailed a man to commence work in your district. He is not quite ready to leave for the field, but will probably be able to start from Ottawa in a week or ten days. Trusting this will be satisfactory,

Yours very respectfully,

R. W. Brock.

Drowned in the Kootenay.

A. W. VanValkenburg and his brother-in-law, Charles Campbell, of Nelson, were endeavoring to cross the Kootenay river near Elkmouth last Monday in a cable ferry. It seems that they had previously crossed and landed Mrs. VanValkenburg and her niece, Miss J. B. Streeter, and returned to bring over some trunks, and while in mid-stream the boat swamped and both men were drowned. A considerable sum of money and other valuables contained in the trunks were lost. The bodies have not been recovered and probably never will be. Charles Campbell leaves a mother and two sisters at Gould City, Mich. A. W. VanValkenburg leaves a wife and a 14-month-old daughter, who reside at Elkmouth. His parents live at Gladwin, Mich.

Both of the deceased were Odd Fellows, belonging to the Gould City lodge of that order. Mrs. VanValkenburg will leave for Gould City, Mich., next Monday.

THE METAL MINERS.

(Prince Rupert Empire.)

Metal mining is the one industry that has made British Columbia famous. Had it not been for the discoveries of mines in Kootenay and Yale districts between 1890 and 1895, British Columbia today would be a province peopled by a few stock raisers and lumbermen. The working of the mines near Nelson and Ainsworth, the discoveries in the Slocan, at Rossland, and in the Boundary, brought people to the province. These people were not all miners. Some of them were born on farms and knew how to work. They cleared land, planted vegetables that grew to perfection. Next they planted fruit trees, that in time produced fruit that won prizes in competition with fruit grown in other lands. They built sawmills that made lumber from timber growing in districts that looked inaccessible. They developed water powers that are among the largest in the world. They built cities that are the equal of those of older-settled countries. They built school-houses and churches. They were good citizens, and became part of the permanent population of the province. They did not encourage the immigration of Asiatics and they did not employ those who were in the country. British Columbia owes much to metal mining.

Fined $100 for Treating.

It cost J. H. Clark of Montrose, Colorado, $100 to treat a friend to a drink of whisky the other day. Extracting a flask from his pistol pocket he presented it to the friend on a street corner, and was immediately arrested and fined $100. This is the first conviction under the prohibition regulations of the April elections.

IN THE PROVINCE.

Vancouver has instituted a campaign for pure milk.

The provincial government has granted $500 to the Revelstoke Mountaineering club.

The Imperial Bank building at New Michel is finished and ready for occupation.

Where once it was $850, South African scrip is now listed on the Vancouver stock exchange at $550, and $590 asked.

Julius Nicklous had his ankle badly crushed last week while moving a planer for the Elk River Lumber company at Fernie.

The city of Revelstoke has decided to take over the gas producing plant recently installed, there after a thirty days' run, which proved satisfactory.

On the 10th and 11th of May 13 inches of snow fell at Corbin, B. C., the new coal town near Crows Nest lake, named after D. C. Corbin.

The Noble Five mine in the Slocan will shortly resume operations. The property was one of the big shippers in the early days, and is owned by Lieutenant-Governor Dunsmuir.

The Diamond Vale colliery, in the Nicola Valley, has been closed indefinitely. Recently the men, being two months in arrears on their pay, walked out. Two days later they received their cheques, and were then told that the mine was closed.

The tunnel designed by the Canadian Pacific railway to obviate the four per cent grade on the big hill between Field and Laggan was virtually completed last week, when workmen from both ends of the bore met in the center. The tunnel is five thousand feet long, and cuts down the grade to a little over two per cent. It cost a million and a half dollars.

The authorities of the city of North Vancouver have determined to put a stop to professional baseball playing on Sunday within the limits of the ambitious city. One recent Sunday as many as 3,000 people congregated on the grounds and over the bleachers to witness the games and the residents complained of annoyance and nuisance. The acting attorney-general has given authority for prosecution under the Lord's Day Act and a test case is being made.

The Daily News, of Westminster, says: President McRae, of the Fraser River Lumber company, says they are now through forever with all Oriental labor. He says they work with a single eye to doing the minimum in the most inefficient manner. Hindus at a dollar a day are not nearly so good an investment as Greeks at double that wage. He is arranging for an importation of a French-Canadian colony. He says he will give them land, build churches and do everything to satisfy them.

Elk River on Rampage.

The Elk river is on the rampage and has overflowed its banks near West Fernie. The septic tanks of the Fernie system have been surrounded with water and the Fernie link is flooded. The water is higher than it has been for six years and if weather conditions continue as at present much damage will be done.

KOOTENAY CENTRAL SURVEY.

S. A. Wilken, in charge of a survey party of between sixteen and twenty men, are running a survey line for the Kootenay Central railway. Last Tuesday they were camped at Rocky Ford, a point about one mile up the Kootenay from Fort Steele. The line will run along the bank of the Kootenay between the town and the river. This survey has seemingly been kept very quiet and whether it is a trial line or a location survey cannot be ascertained.

There are strong rumors afloat around Fort Steele and Cranbrook that the survey party referred to above is not a C.P.R. movement, but another piece of railway strategy on the part of Jim Hill, who has always had his eye on the Kootenay and St. Mary's valleys, with the idea of making a connection between the Great Northern at Elko and Kootenay Lake at Crawford Bay. These two theories regarding the power back of the present surveying near Fort Steele forms a pretty railway problem for the people to guess upon. In either event, whether it be the C. P. R. or the Great Northern, the people will be pleased to see further railway construction to assist in the development of the wonderful resources of East Kootenay.

Fink Returns From East.

(From the Cranbrook Herald.)

Mayor J. P. Fink returned last Tuesday from an extended business trip to the eastern markets and a visit to Muskogee, Oklahoma, where he spent several days with his brother, David Fink, one of the leading bankers of that city. While in the south, in company with his brother, he visited Southwest City, Mo., his former home, which he left some twenty-two years ago, and had never been back since. He also visited the little village of Metz, where his mother is buried, and for the first time since he was four years old saw her grave. While at his old home he met many people who remembered his father very well, and also had a recollection of "little Jakie Fink." Mr. Fink had a most enjoyable trip through Eastern Canada and the Middle and Southern States and returned feeling much better over his rest from business.

Junior Ball Team.

The members of the Moyie Junior Baseball team are getting active and some hard practising is being done. A series of games will be played with the Cranbrook and Fernie teams. A game with the Cranbrook team will be played on July 1st at Aldridge park. Suits have been ordered and the boys expect to make their first appearance with them on that date. Moyie has one of the fastest Junior Ball teams in East Kootenay and no doubt will capture most of the prizes they are out for this season.

First Aid For Injured.

Dr. Proctor, chief surgeon of the Pacific division of the C. P. R. has inaugurated a system of placing a tin case of first aid materials in the conductor's van of every passenger train.

The outfit includes tourniquets, morphine and strychnine tablets and dressings for wounds. In order that train crews should know how to make use of these materials, arrangements have been made for periodical lessons or instructions for railway men.

Simpson Co. Moving West.

The Robert Simpson company of Toronto, it is said, are making arrangements to build a big store at Regina, and have gone so far as to buy a lot and pay $25,000 for it. This is to head off the big mail order business done by the T. Eaton company since moving west to Winnipeg.

Morley Hall Made Safe.

S. E. Morley, owner of Morly hall, is complying with the demands of the fire wardens and is making his hall safe. A double door has been cut on the south side of the building, and a good wide stairway leading to the ground. There are double doors from the ante room into the hall, and all doors now swing out.

Keeping Narrows Open.

The Forto Rico Lumber company have put in a new boat passage near the head of the narrows, and will soon have the one near the mill in a more satisfactory condition. There has been some complaint, but the company seems to have done its best under the circumstances.

Doukhobors Galore.

A train load of Doukhobors, some 510 in number, passed through Moyie yesterday morning on their way to West Kootenay, where they will settle.

Assizes at Fernie.

The assizes will open at Fernie on June 10th. There will be one case from Moyie.

High Water Making Trouble.

The warm rains and the hot sun of the last three days have created havoc with the immense banks of snow in the mountains. As a result rivulets have become creeks, creeks have become rivers and rivers raging torrents, the latter being filled with saw logs and an immense amount of heavy drift wood. June as a rule is the high water season in this section, and if the warm weather continues, owing to the continued chilly weather in April and May, this year promises to be a record breaker, and railway traffic will be seriously interfered with. Yesterday afternoon the St. Mary's rose very rapidly, so that by evening water was flowing over the eastern approach of the Mission bridge.

This forenoon when Charles Parker and his wife were driving over the bridge on their way up town, an immense tamarac tree, with branches and roots, came dashing down and struck one of the piers of the bridge, giving it such a jar as to lift the bridge several inches from the pier, but it dropped back into place again. There is fear that this bridge may suffer serious damage or be washed out entirely.

At Fort Steele, on the Kootenay river, the water was eighteen inches deep this morning at the western approach to the bridge, and the large Levett garden tract entirely submerged.

On the Elk river many logs have been lost, as it was impossible to hold them with the booms, owing to the high stage of water and the terrific current. The Forster Lumber company, the Fernie Lumber company and the Elk River Lumber company are the chief loosers.

The Moyie river is raging, and it is understood that one of the Kootenay Lumber company's dams has given way but no damage has been done to their property at Ryan.

The King Lumber company's mill at Yahk sustained no damage, but was forced to close down on account of high water.

As is usually the case in this section, high water makes all kinds of trouble for the railways. The bridge at Elko was badly damaged rendering it necessary for the C. P. R. to transfer passengers and baggage to a train run from Fernie to Elko over the Great Northern, and in consequence the train from the east did not arrive in Cranbrook last night until 10.30. The Spokane Flyer was switched off at Fernie and went by the way of the Great Northern to Bonners Ferry. The Flyer from the west did not arrive until 11 o'clock last night.

It was reported today that both approaches of the Pend d'Oreille, on the Spokane International were washed out.

The local railway authorities are of the opinion that if the streams do not rise much higher there will be no further danger and regular traffic will be resumed.

McConnell Made Good.

(From the Cranbrook Herald.)

Francis McConnell is still winning laurels in the athletic world. At the sports at Nanaimo, held on the 25th of last month, he won no less than four events, the remaining events being all won by mainland men. McConnell was undoubtedly the star performer and won the 100 yards race in 10 1-5 seconds, the 120 yards hurdle, six hurdles, in 15 seconds, the 300 yards race in 35 1-5 seconds and the quarter mile in 50 seconds. As Francis gets older he seems to get better in athletics and his many Cranbrook friends, the boys who grew up with him in this city, will be pleased to hear of his success.

An Enterprising Firm.

(From the Cranbrook Herald.)

When it comes down to plumbing and sheet metal working there is no establishment in the country that can surpass Patmore Bros. of this city. These gentlemen have worked up a large and ever-increasing business. G. W. Patmore, the senior member of the firm, came to Cranbrook in 1898, and for five years worked for G. H. Miner, who was the pioneer hardware man in this section of country. In 1903 Mr. Patmore, in partnership with his brother, E. H. Patmore, started into the tinsmith and plumbing business under the firm name of Patmore Bros. Later they were joined by another brother, J. C. Patmore.

From what was a very small beginning their business has developed by leaps and bounds and today they have one of the most modern and up-to-date establishments of the kind in the interior. They make a specialty of blower machinery for lumber and planing mill and there is hardly a mill in the country where some of their work cannot be seen. Anything that can be made out of sheet metal they can manufacture and anything that can be done with pipes they can construct. Hot water heating plants, steam heating plants, hot air furnaces are all things that they supply. Ranges, stoves and heaters they always carry in stock and of the best possible quality. Gasoline engines for irrigation purposes or sawing wood, cream separators, and every possible kind of household sanitary supplies may be found at their establishment. Lately they have added a line of up-to-date baby carriages and go carts, which are finding a ready sale. Anything in the line of tinsmithing and plumbing and anything in the way of graniteware and tinware can be procured from Patmore Bros. They are doing a good business, which is rapidly increasing because Patmore Bros. attend strictly to business.

KILLED AT BROOKS.

(From the Cranbrook Herald.)

J. C. McClung, who has been breaking for Conductor George Evans met with an accident at Brooks on Sunday afternoon which cost him his life. The freight stopped at the tank for water and as it passed the station McClung, it is thought, attempted to board the side of a car. He was seen falling between the train and the station platform and by the time a stop was effected the body had been terribly mangled by the wheels. Life was extinct when the remains were picked up. The deceased came here from Virden, Manitoba, last summer, and was laid off in the fall when the force was reduced for the winter. He had only just been taken on again, and, in fact, had only been out on two trips when the accident happened. The remains were sent to Virden for interment on No. 2 on Monday evening.

SCALER WINS AGAIN.

(From the Cranbrook Herald.)

Jack Kearns, manager for "Kid" Scaler, said to a Calgary Herald reporter:

"On Friday Scaler boxed Jack Daley at Lethbridge, and won in the eighth round. Daley had once knocked Scaler out in four rounds when the latter was just coming to the front. At Cranbrook Scaler had a bout with Jack Bennett and won in 11 rounds. Kearns says he wants a match with Potts or Lauder and does not care whether the bouts are pulled off in Calgary or Edmonton, although if he has any preference it is for Calgary. He makes a good offer to the principals of tonight's bout, which is as follows:

"I will give a present of $100 to either Lauder or Potts, whichever is winner of tonight's bout, if he will get in the ring against Scaler as the same weight as they are boxing tonight, that is 135 pounds ringside. I will further post a side bet of $500 on Scaler that he can beat either man."

The Granby company is this week installing an 8x12 foot triple pump on the 400 foot level of the mine. It is a powerful pump, manufactured by the Gould company, of Seneca, N.Y., and will force water from the lower level of the mine to a tank some 500 feet up the Granby hill. The tank supplies water to the compressor and other workings on the property. At this season of the year water runs into the lower levels very freely.

ON THE FARM.

HOW NATURE PROVIDES FOR US.

The most independent man on earth is the farmer, for he makes the earth yield him almost everything needed for his use. He knows that as he sows so will he reap. He usually keeps strong and healthy from constant strife with Nature—in sunshine and in pure air. At night when work is done, he finds most refreshing sleep, such as only a tired man knows. In the same way that the earth yields food for man, so does it provide remedies for human ills. Thousands of households throughout the farming districts of the United States know the value of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is Nature's most valuable and health-giving agent—made without the use of alcohol. It contains native medicinal roots, and is the concentration of Nature's vitality as found in the American forests. This remedy has a history which speaks well for it, because it was given to the public by Dr. R. V. Pierce, founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., nearly forty years ago, and has since been sold by druggists in ever increasing quantities.

Dr. Pierce found that the active principles of the Black Cherry, the root of the Mandrake, Stone root, Queen root, Bloodroot and Golden Seal root could be put into a scientific, non-alcoholic extract by the use of glycerine, made the best alterative and tonic. The refreshing influence of this extract is at once apparent in the increased strength of the patient—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which, otherwise, would poison the system. This alterative and tonic extract has been found to stand alone as a safe, invigorating tonic, and does not depend on alcohol for a temporary stimulation, but is Nature's own method of strengthening and cleansing the system. It tones up the stomach and purifies the blood in Nature's own way. Well known all over the world as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The name was given to this vegetable compound because one of the important ingredients was Golden Seal root. Such an authority as Dr. Roberts Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal root, "very useful as a stomachic tonic. Cures catarrh of the stomach and headaches accompanying the same." Dr. Grover Coe, in his book Organic Medicines, speaking of Golden Seal root, says that "as a liver invigorator it has few equals." Further he says, "in chronic inflammation of the bladder we deem it one of the most reliable agents of cure. As a tonic in the convalescing stages of fevers, pneumonia, dysentery and other acute diseases Hydrastis (Golden Seal root) is peculiarly appropriate."

Dr. Coe continues: "We would here add that our experience has demonstrated the Hydrastis or Golden Seal root to be a valuable remedy in bronchitis, laryngitis, and other affections of the respiratory organs."

Prof. Robert A. Hare, M. D., University of Pennsylvania, says of Golden Seal: "Of service in chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels following abuse of alcohol, a tonic after malarial fever. Has a distinct, anti-malarial influence. Good in all catarrhal conditions of uterine catarrh, leucorrhea, etc. It is a curative agent in chronic dyspepsia."

Prof. John M. Scudder in Specific Medication says of Golden Seal: "It stimulates the digestive processes, and increases the assimilation of food. By these means the blood is enriched, and this blood feeds the muscular system. I mention the muscular system because I believe it first feels the increased power imparted by the stimulation of increased nutrition. The consequent improvement on the nervous and glandular systems are natural results.

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription specially put up for woman's ills—for those distressing—dragging down ailments—peculiar to women—is also a temperance remedy that is best known by its ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence.
