Council cautious . . .

Battle for the garbage looming up for Gibsons

REQEST by Sunshine Coast Disposal Service for a business licence in order to operate a refuse pick-up and disposal within the Village of Gibsons was held over for further consideration by Council at last week's regular meeting.

Administrator Dave Johnston explained that the applicants are presently contracting to the Regional District for the outside territory. He said he understands they had agreed with the Village collector to keep out of the Village providing he stayed from their areas. "Now they are asking for a permit to operate within the Village."

Mayor Wally Peterson suggested the application be tabled pending further study of the situation. Ald. Ken Crosby agreed, and expressed the view that "it would be silly to have two such services in a relatively small community such as Gibsons." Ald. Gerry Dixon added that there is no way two operators could make a living within the Village.

Ald. Ken Goddard asked if Council in a position to discriminate when business applications are applied for.

Mayor Peterson replied that he could see trouble looming with two such operators and on his suggestion the matter was tabled for further investigation.

Ald. Dixon reported that things appear to be going well at the wharf, however, he had been speaking to the Wharfinger who had suggested an additional float on the North side of the wharf for small boats. This, he explained, would alleviate some of the existing congestion. He suggested there might be a chance of obtaining some assistance from the Federal Government for such a project.

Mayor Peterson agreed the proposed location would be a natural for such a project and pointed out that it would require a ramp and float.

It was agreed to look into the matter further.

Mayor Peterson drew attenion to the fact that the nominal charge by council of 50 cents per day for hydro hook-up at the wharf imposes a hardship in some cases. He referred to fish boats that might be tied up for the winter with possibly one light burning "At 50 cents a day this runs fairly high" he said.

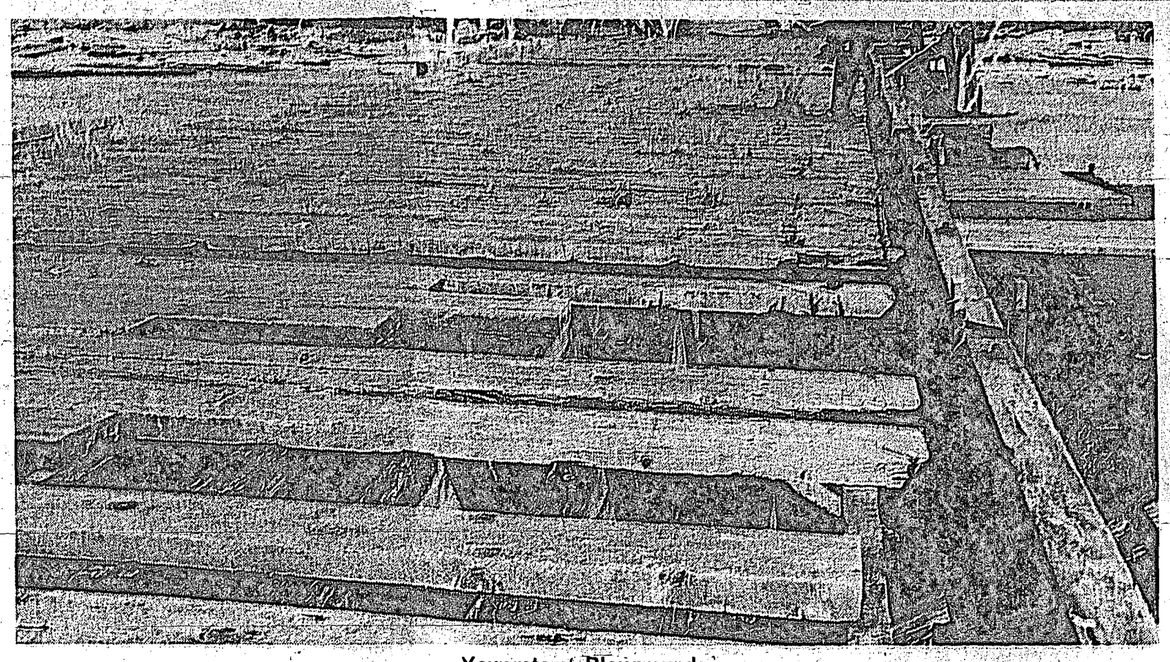
Mr. Johnston told him that Council actually gets very little revenue from the present arrangement anyway.

It was agreed that Ald. Dixon look into possibilities of coming up with a more equitable method of charging for hook-up.

Ald. Charles Mandelkau told the council he had attended a Regional District Water Committee meeting which was also attended by engineer Martin Dayton. Ald. Manelkau said he had been asked how Gibsons had made out for water during the dry spell. He said he had explained that although there had been times when the reservoir was low, no real problems had been encountered. He added that the Board is now interested in opening up the Chaster Road well and that Mr. Dayton had suggested that if the Village is interested in co-operating he would get figures as to how much pumping would be required.

Mayor Peterson replied that this would depend upon how much water the Village would require but he did not anticipate it to be very much.

Ald. Mandelkau added that the Committee has no plans for Reid Road but are going ahead with the Langdale system.



Youngsters' Playgrounds

Young children could be seen daily playing on this badly dilapidated structure within the Village of Sechelt. Quite clearly it was a veritable danger "to life and limb" as stated by the Sechelt Indian Council in a letter of protest to the director of Lands. Last word from Sechelt Council, before a child fell to her death from a hole in the decking was "it would seem there is little Council can do".

Power Squadron holds first season's meet

FIRST meeting of the winter season for the Sunshine Coast Power Squadron was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Alan Swan. Commander Werner Richter was at the helm and ably assisted by secretary Ron Moorcroft, treasurer Ray Chamberlain, executive officer Dr. Al. Swan, training officer Don Hadden, fleet surgeon Dr. Jim Hobson, education officer, Mr. Len van Egmond.

There was a good turnout of members and associate members with 30 or so present, including Mr. and Mrs. Ben and Fran Scott from Vancouver Power Squadron, also members of the local club.

The Sunshine Coast Power Squadron will again this year offer a night school course in basic piloting. The course for all those who go boating for relaxation, shows the satisfaction to be derived from handling boats properly.

This first course offers a basic minimum and enjoyment. It also is good to increase the knowledge of experienced boatmen. After taking the first course you are then entitled to go on into the seamanship. The final part deals with additional aspects of the fascinating subject of piloting.

Actually the information obtained from this course is of interest to all land sailors who get great enjoyment from watching others in their boating activities as they go past their windows, to know why that particular boat did what it did, why it carries certain lights etc.

The next meeting of the Sunshine Coast Power Squadron will be held in Gibsons at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Jim Hobson.

Halfmoon Bay area . . .

Regional Board Planner reviews zoning category

IT WAS a packed and lively meeting at the Welcome Beach Hall on September 15 when almost 60 people greeted two representatives of the Regional Board to discuss the rezoning of sections of the Halfmoon Bay area.

The meeting was opened by Cliff Thorold, Area B representative on the Board, who said that planning director E. R. Cuylits had explored the area, studying the type of homes and needs of the residents and had reached a conclusion that the most suitable zoning for Redrooffs Road was Residential II.

Mr. Cuylits reported that he had found a number of small summer homes, many of which were added to when the owners retired. There were some permanent small homes as well as some vacant land owned by people planning to build summer homes for the time being. There were some high quality homes but these were scattered throughout the area, making any special zoning impossible. A period of testing, he said, had been necessary after the original zoning, but he now felt there was enough evidence to warrant a careful re-examination. With so many small homes, he felt that Residential I zoning was too stringent and could prove a hardship. He pointed out for example that under the RI zoning by-law, an owner could not add a small addition to a 400 square ft. house. Any alterations would have to bring it up to the area of 800 square ft. He had come up with the recommendation of rezoning to RII as being most suitable to the situation as he found it. RII zoning would keep the cost of living within the means of many people and would not restrict any owner from building a pretentious home if he so wished.

It was a matter, he said of what type of people are living here and what do they want. The Board is anxious to develop something that will protect the interests of the local people. He pointed out that Cooper's Green was zoned "Commercial" but it was the recommendation of the Board that an attempt be made to concentrate other commercial and industrial activities near Highway 101 and Mintie Road, rather than see them scattered throughout the area.

Most of the questions fired at Mr. Cuylits reflected an anxiety that RII zoning would create a "shackville", with overcrowding putting a strain on water and sewage systems and that the agricultural activities allowed by RII zoning would create a nuisance. In reply, he said that with today's building controls, shacks, such as were being built 15 years ago would no longer be permitted. He pointed out that while two houses would be allowed on lots 15,000 square feet or more, only one house would be permitted on a lot 7,500 square feet in area.

He did not consider agricultural activities would prove a problem. Pig farming, he said, would be allowed only on properties of not less than five acres and must be 100 feet away from the property line. He felt there were very few properties in the area which would be suitable for this type of development. Chicken farms and similar activities would be allowed only on parcels of one acre or more.

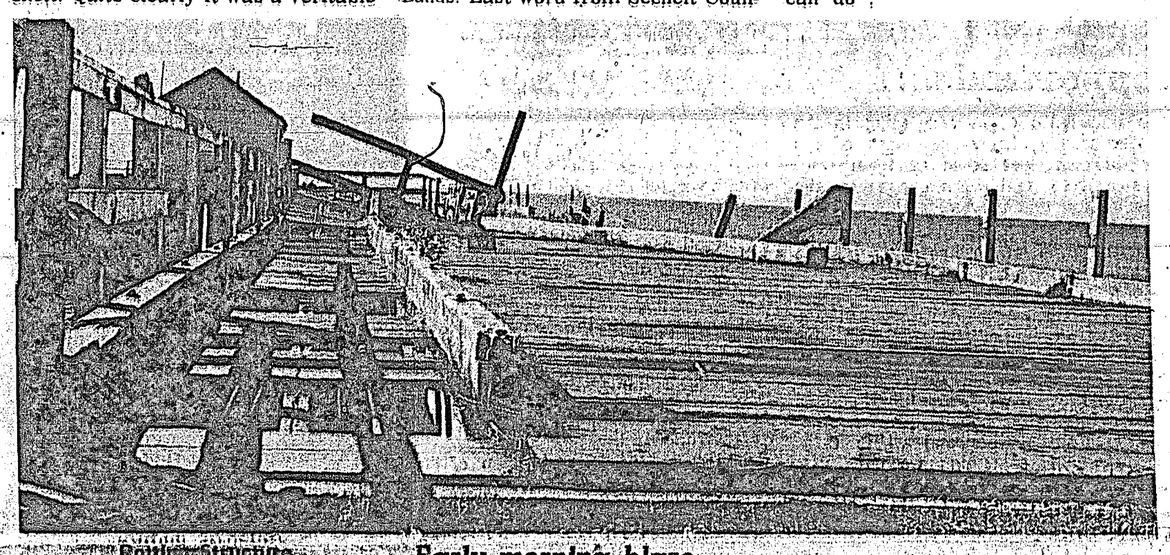
A question was asked about water supplies being contaminated and polluted by farm animals and Mr. Cuylits assured the meeting that this whole question would be investigated very carefully before any such permits were granted.

In answer to another question, Mr. Cuylits said there were no homes being built at present where the sewage is discharged into the sea, and that if people found this was being done, they were quite in order in reporting it to the Regional Board.

A vote to get the feeling of the meeting produced the following results:

Eureka: Majority in favor of becoming Residential II. Seacrest: Majority in favor of becoming Residential II. Welcome Beach waterfront: In favor of staying Residential I. Redrooffs and Welcome Beach back lots: In favor of becoming Residential II.

There were not enough owners of Redrooffs waterfront present to get an opinion, so Mr. Cuylits agreed to research this area with the co-operation of Mr. Dennis Hunt, president of the Redrooffs Waterworks District.



Rotting Structure

Taken last week before much of it was demolished by a mysterious fire which broke out twice in the early hours of last Saturday morning, the old Sechelt wharf has long been considered a hazard and this proved to be true when a three-year-old child fell through one of the many holes in the decking and was drowned Sunday September 19th.

Staff co-operation wins presentations

CONSIDERABLE hardship has been forced upon staff members of St. Mary's Hospital as a result of the conditions imposed by the prolonged construction.

In appreciation of their patience and co-operation, Board of Trustees chairman Don Douglas, on behalf of the Board, presented engraved pen and pencil sets to the staff members during coffee break Tuesday September 14th.

Extension of the hospital has been beset with continued construction holdups. Completion was anticipated early in the year but delays have continued at considerable inconvenience to all concerned. It is understood completion is now hoped for before the end of this year.

Early morning blaze . . .

Fire eliminates problem of hazardous structure

MYSTERIOUS fire which destroyed most of the old Sechelt wharf last Saturday morning would seem to have taken care of a problem which has assailed Village Council for some months and has been a source of concern to many residents of the area.

At a meeting of Council last December both Aldermen Nelson and Watson drew attention to the fact the structure posed a potential hazard. It was pointed out that the wharf had been built by the Department of Public Works but was under control of DOT.

At a January meeting of Council, the clerk reported having received some correspondence indicating the wharf had been declared surplus in 1959 and had been purchased by Sechelt Fisheries apparently operated by Mr. Art James.

Council sought further action but was advised by Clerk Ted Rayner that responsibility still rests with the owner. It was moved further avenues be checked in order that some action might be taken.

In March of this year the Times published a picture of the dilapidated structure and warned of its obvious potential dangers to shipping in the event of a wash-away by a severe storm.

In our issue of March 17 we reported that the Fire Marhall had put a "stop" order on the wharf, thereby restraining two oil companies from unloading oil products by way of a pipeline on the structure. As a consequence at least one of the companies declared its contract with the owner as void. At that same period, the Sechelt Rod and Gun Club also registered a protest with Council at the hazardous condition of the wharf.

In April of this year Council received another letter from Victoria, this time the name and address of the owner was requested. Council replied accordingly and also submitted the picture previously in The Times. The clerk, at the time, reported having had a conversation with the owner, Mr. James, who had said he planned to shortly put the wharf up for demolition sale.

Supporting Council's stand, the Sechell Indian Council forwarded a letter to the Director of Lands pointing out its concern for the safety of the children due to the fact that "in its present condition the wharf is a menace to life and limb". The letter also commented "We presume you can cancel the foreshore permit as the wharf is not used and has been condemned."

Needless to say, to last week-end, the Indian Council had not been given the courtesy of a reply?

Sechelt Alderman Ben Lang, who has long campaigned in Council for action, finally became so disgusted at being told "there is nothing Council can do" that on September 8th he wrote as a private citizen to the Director of Lands expressing concern and asking what measures might be taken, particularly in light of the fact that the wharf is no longer in use.

A reply to Ald. Lang last Saturday, Sept. 8th advising that it is assumed the wharf in question is that held under lease by Sechelt Marina and Resort Limited. Further, the District Land Inspector has been asked to study the situation when next in the area.

On Sunday, September 12 a three year old Indian child fell through a hole in the rotting decking and was drowned. Since then, many local residents have expressed concern and puzzlement at the fact the local powers have indicated there is nothing that can be done.

There have been a few minor fires break out at night on the wharf during past months. Last Saturday morning at 2 a.m., firemen were again called out to a rather more serious fire but despite the dangers of numerous holes in the decking managed to put out the flames which had broken out in the wharf building. The alarm went out again about 5 a.m. but this time a large blaze was also taking hold near entrance to the wharf, at the same time the building was in flames.

After burning through most of Saturday, little of the old landmark remains. RCMP say arson is suspected and the Fire Marshall from Vancouver was called over to investigate.

Hunting regulation errors in Synopsis

FISH and Wildlife Branch wishes to point out to hunters the following errors in the "Hunting Regulations Synopsis for 1971-72."

Dr. J. Hatter, Director, stated that there is an open season on black bear in Management Area No. 1 and the season is from September 11th to December 31st, 1971. The other correction is that the season on Antlerless Mule (Blacktail) Deer and Antlerless Whitetail Deer in that portion of Management Area No. 11 comprised of the watershed of the Kootenay River between the Fort Steele Bridge and the International Boundary closes on November 21st and not November 24th as shown in the printed synopsis.

Building debt cleared . . .

Sunshine School enrolment increases after first year

ENROLMENT at the Sunshine School in Gibsons increased this term to seven students whose ages range from five to sixteen years.

Last year the one room school which was built just over a year ago by the Local Chapter of the British Columbia Association for the Mentally Retarded, had an enrolment of five students.

Tremendous local support has enabled the Local Chapter to clear the building fund debt and established sufficient funds in the general account to maintain operation of the school for a while.

At last week's meeting of executive and members of the Sechelt and District Retarded Children's Association, the question arose whether the school is strictly for mentally retarded children or should it accept handicapped children.

Referring to the constitution, president Mr. Albert Lynn said that the purpose of the Association is for the better understanding of the handicapped child and mental retardation.

It was agreed that the school should serve the mentally retarded children first and if there is room and the facilities, handicapped children would be accepted.

Explaining the difficulties facing the school this year, Mrs. Gladys Leigh said that it is impossible for more than two people to give instruction in one room. Pupils include one aged 6, one aged 7, one aged 10, one aged 11, one aged 13 and one aged 16 years.

Chairman of the Education Committee Mrs. Lea Macey said that it has been necessary to hire an assistant for three days a week. Volunteers help at the school on a rota basis, for the remaining two days.

Mr. Walsh who is superintendent of Jericho Hill School will visit the district on Thursday of this week and is expected to visit the Sunshine School and offer advice on its suitability to serve children afflicted with deafness.

FUND RAISING

Winning tickets were drawn on the raffle and Mrs. W. H. Berry of Sechelt won the hooked rug made by Gary Hauka. Mrs. Archie McLellan won the gift certificate donated by Uncle Mick's Store at Sechelt. Mrs. Sylvia Jackson also of Sechelt won a trip for two on Mr. Gordon Hall's vessel "The Gay Ninties".

Members of the Association are now selling Christmas cards to help raise funds for both the Local Chapter and the B.C. Association.

Ten cards are selling for the reduced price of 75c and may be obtained from any of the members. They may also be obtained at the Times Bookstore in Sechelt.

Times First Glance

UNEMPLOYMENT DOWN

Despite a substantial increase in the labor force, unemployment in B.C. was down by 13,000 in August 1971 over August 1970. Percentage rate of unemployment for August last year was 7.1% and down to 7.4% for August of this year.

IMPAIRED

Richard Anthony Davey of Gibsons was fined $350 and suspended from driving for one month last week in Sechelt when he appeared before Judge Charles Mittelstaedt to answer a charge of impaired driving. Charge arose from an incident at 3 am May 27th when a member of the RCMP was forced off the road near Davis Bay. Davey entered a plea of "not guilty".

AMCHITKA BLAST

Opposition to the planned explosion of a five-megaton atomic bomb in the Aleutians has reached the Sunshine Coast, John McNevin of Local 297 Port Mellon informs us that a combined petition initiated by the union brought in 1084 signatures from between Sechelt and Gibsons last weekend. 2,000 are expected by Monday of this week.

Fatalities Before Action

DEATH of a three-year-old child who fell through a hole in the dilapidated Sechelt wharf was a tragedy long anticipated and one likely to be repeated unless remedial action is taken forthwith.

It would be futile to attempt to lay blame upon any particular individual for if blame exists then it lies with a society that permits what has been publicly described as "a hazard" to remain and become increasingly hazardous day by day.

For his part, the owner claims he has stuck up a number of notices warning that the structure is private property so keep off, but they are continually ripped down. Even so, infants would know no better and being what they are, and always have been, it would be almost impossible to keep them away from such a popular playground. Certainly the owner could hardly be expected to mount a guard for 24 hours a day.

Toward the end of last year, members of Sechelt Council expressed concern for the safety of children, and also for shipping should particularly high seas wash it away. At that time a letter was written, apparently, to the Director of Transport but to no avail. In other words: typical civil service run-round was encountered.

The matter was again brought up early this year by Ald. Ben Lang, resulting in a letter to the Provincial Dept. due to the fact a provincial water lease is involved. Result of this exercise was a letter asking for legal description and picture of the wharf. Needless to say, there has been no further response by Victoria.

Ald. Lang has since renewed his concern and, after being again told by the Village clerk that there is no more Council can do, has written as a private citizen to Victoria seeking ways and means by which action might be taken to remove the hazard. His letter was written some days before last week's tragedy but with the speed our public servants reply we might well have more fatalities in the meantime.

Here we have a most incredible situation; a large structure in an obvious state of near collapse! Chamber of Commerce, Rod and Gun Club and Council have all expressed concern at its potential danger, a concern now justified. The owner apparently under no obligation to remedy the situation and governmental departments indicate "hands off".

We have protested for years at the hazardous condition of Highway 101, now that a number of lives have been lost it seems reconstruction is likely before too long. Let us hope the same situation will not apply in the case of the Sechelt wharf?

Beware of opportunists

WITHIN the next week or so local canvassers will undertake their annual campaign on behalf of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind (CNIB). Just one of the many worthy and charitable organizations dependent upon public support in order to continue its work.

During the course of a year the requests for public assistance are many and varied. Most of them have some merit, a few are exceptionelly praiseworthy, while others warrant closer investigation.

Of those in the top brackett there is little doubt CNIB is indeed one of the highest respected of charitable organizations. Proof of this lies in the very fact that certain and questionable organizations, both in Eastern Canada and from the United States have seen fit to launch fund raising campaigns within close proximity to the week of the CNIB canvass. Each has claimed to be connected with projects on behalf of the blind, as they might well be, but we would suggest the possibilities are more than remote.

Gimmick used by the Eastern Canada outfit was to send statements through the mail, usually for the amount of $10 supposedly for a small advertisement in some unknown publication we are supposed to believe if for the Blind organization. It did not take too long to find that a number of business people had no knowledge of ever agreeing to the advertisement, knew nothing of the organization, yet some of them were prepared to send off a cheque on the assumption that they might have agreed and forgotten.

Another operator has canvassed the area within a short time of the CNIB campaign and his approach was "I assume I can put you down for your usual five dollar donation". He proved to be representing an obscure group in Nebraska USA whose work on behalf of the blind was to provide blind people with religious tracts in braille. Who the tract recipients were and where they were from is something we have yet to find out.

This latter deal was brought to light seven years ago by the Times when the gentleman called and asked for his usual $5. He beat a hurried retried when told we were not in business the previous year.

It is hardly likely either of these two approaches will be made again. However, continually there are unscrupulous minds at work devising new ways to relieve the gullible of their hard earned money. Once one scheme is exposed there are always others ready to replace it.

One of the best rules to follow is; give only to those you know to be honest and reputable campaigners. It is hard enough to keep up with genuine canvasses without getting taken by crooks.

Minute Message

—by Rev. Walter S. Ackroyd

IN THE Second Book of Kings, we read that did right in the sight of the Lord, Jehoash II Kings 12: 1-2, Amaziah 14: 1-3, Azariah 15: 1-3 and Hezekiah 18: 1-3 and yet, while three of these kings had a measure of success, they ended in defeat, here as Hezekiah had a great victory.

Jehoash gave the precious things of the temple to appease the Kings of Syria and in the end was murdered. Amaziah met defeat by the King of Israel and the precious things of the temple were taken. He also was murdered. Azariah ended up dying a leper.

Hezekiah was threatened by the King of Assyria, but he laid the matter before the Lord, and the Lord sent an angel who destroyed the Assyrian army.

Was there a difference between the three defeated kings and the victorious one? There is an answer in II Kings 12:3, 14:4, 15:4 and 18:4. Hezekiah removed the high places, whereas the others hadn't.

Could it be, the true church has lost much of its testimony and power, because it hangs onto the high places (forms of worship to God, not found in the Bible, but taken from paganism?)

Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labor.—I Cor. 3:8.

Finance chairman's replies under study by Ratepayers

SHORTAGE of space in last week's Times resulted in balance of the Regional Board replies to answers submitted by the Regional Ratepayers being held over to this week. The replies were submitted by director Frank West who had been delegated, as finance chairman, to come up with answers where possible.

It will be seen that West's submission contains the questions as posed by the Ratepayers which are followed with his replies:

4. (a) "Water supply and distribution are far removed from the published request for Assent By-law No. 21 (1968). Why and who is responsible?"

For a very large number of households, which are on a normal residential parcel of one acre or less the sum total of water charges does not vary too much from the figures originally published in connection with the plebiscite. The charges for the Sechelt and Selma Park areas had to be increased, however, to cover the increased costs.

The reasons for the increases were previously set out in detail in various board meetings and press releases. Nothing new can be added in this report, but we shall give once more a summary of the causes which led to higher rates in the areas formerly served by the Sechelt Water Works Ltd.

a. The actual acquisition costs of the assets of Sechelt Water Works Ltd. were more than double of the estimates provided to the Board by their consultants. These estimates were fully supported by figures contained in the so-called "Motherwell"-report, submitted some times earlier to the Council of the village of Sechelt. Based on the information contained in these two independent reports the board decided to go to arbitration, after agreement with the owners could not be reached.

The final price was set by a judicial arbitration court, consisting of three judges The Board could have appealed against the decision to the Supreme Court, but because of the substantial legal costs involved in such an appeal, even a considerable reduction of the compensation award would have most probably still further increased the ultimate total cost.

b. The works themselves were in a very poor state of upkeep with many of the installations in need of immediate replacement. As it turned out, the estimates of economic life expectancy for these parts were more properly evaluated by our consultants than the evaluation accepted by the judges for their setting the compensation to be paid to Sechelt Water Works Ltd.

c. The cost of re-construction of the works taken over and of the new works was based on 1967/68 price levels, when the engineering report was made to the Board to serve as a basis, for the plebiscite. As construction only started late 1969 with the main construction taking place in 1970, we were exposed to the full impact of steeply rising labor and material costs, which affected the whole economy of B.C., Canada and the western world. The Board admits that it did not succeed in ordering a halt to inflation on the borders of the Sunshine Coast.

d. Before actual construction started and even when it was in progress, several changes in overall plans were forced on the District, which not only delayed the start of revenue-flow, but also reduced rather drastically the number of potential users in the more densely populated areas. The situation was further aggravated by a number of strikes in the construction- and cement industries, which delayed the completion of installations, essential for the start-up of operations with consequent adverse effect on costs and revenue.

e. Interest rates, which the consultants report stipulated for rate purposes at 7% had increased during 1970 to 8½%, and so adding up to $22,500 per annum to the overall capitalization cost.

As explained at numerous occasions in the past the Board is not yet in a position to finalize the ultimate water rates, until we know exactly what rate of discount and interest the MFA obtains, when they sell their debentures to pick up ours. The Board shares with the water users the fervent hope that the cost of the debenture issue will not be too excessive. We can only console ourselves that we are in the same boat with other districts and municipalities. We can hardly expect any preferential treatment from the MFA, only because we live in the Sunshine Coast.

Allocation of personal blame for all circumstances leading to the cost increases and responsibility for providing a water service for the whole area, seems to be somewhat outside the scope of this report. We confidently leave it to all water users to pass fair judgement. It has been said that under the circumstances the Board should not have provided a water service at all. Such wise 20:20 hindsight could perhaps sound convincing to a few of the people who happened to have some communal water service, although they claimed at the time most vigorously and at many occasions that the service was very inadequate. This, of course, might have been forgotten conveniently now. We are convinced that such narrow views are not held by the majority of the people. They are certainly not shared by those 700 or 800 new participants representing about 3000 adults and children who now for the first time have a regular service, which we expect will be fully satisfactory at all times, once construction is completed in the near future and the rather longstretched system fully balanced.

Generally as regards the water rates may we stress that our rates are very comparable with rate paid in other places for newer installations, but are naturally higher than for older systems, which have not yet reached the end of their economic life. Systems, which have to be renewed in the near future will most probably require much higher rates to remain self-liquidating.

We must also mention that when the rate structure was reviewed last year the district anticipated to have an industrial user on their consumer roll, who would have helped not only in the future development of the supply system, but also by paying water rates materially contributed to the financial strength of the water authority. The board dutybound and without hesitation accepted the wishes of the taxpayers mainly of the Sechelt and Selma Park area and refused approval for the industrial operations. Let us face up to the facts of life: We cannot have it both ways. So further development of the supply system, which will be necessary is the not too distant future, has to be paid for by the domestic water consumers without the help of a large industrial user. It is essential that all water users keep this in mind when they consider present or future water rates.

4. (b) "Inequities will have to be reconciled, where charges are being made to lands not being capable of being served with water, where a ¾-inch line serves a single family dwelling, the acreage attached to this single dwelling cannot be taxed for water."

The finance committee cannot see any 'inequity' in the case as described. As we understand it there is a single family dwelling on a parcel of land. This family dwelling is connected with the system by a ¾-inch connection, as provided by the water rates by-law. Apparently the dwelling can be provided with water and all stipulation of the by-law are fully met. Once the land is subdivided and additional houses errected, each dwelling, which can be serviced, will be provided with its separate ¾" connection and will attract its separate water billing.

There were a number of peculiar cases brought to the attention of the Board, in which the owners were advised of means and ways to secure a more favorable rate by either subdividing, consolidation, correction of land registry records etc., which apparently brought satisfactory solutions to the problems.

Generally any law or by-law, which has to cover a great diversity of conditions and variety of circumstances, may cause in one or the other case a certain amount of hardship. Every judge, who had to deal with such cases in his court, will confirm that laws or by-laws cannot be changed or bend to suit every individual tax payers' peculiar circumstances, as long as the by-law covers adequately and equitably the overwhelming majority of conditions. No evidence has been provided by the pro-tem. executive of any cases of discrimination against water users.

If the pro-tem. chairman has the one case in mind, where a part of the land, on which the dwelling is situated, is above the 200 feet elevation, we have thoroughly discussed the matter with the owner and advised him how he can change things to obtain a more favorable water rate. However, as much as we sympathize with him about his present circumstances, we are sure he realizes fully that he himself has to make the necessary changes and that he cannot demand from the Board to apply the by-law to everybody else, but not to him.

4. (c) "Why does the Board not ask for bids on any construction by the Water Works?"

All construction projects not being carried out by the water works' own labour force is put out for tender. Occasional contract work by the hour or day, such as backhoe work, is being done on fixed and pre-arranged rates and allocated to such local contractors as have the most suitable equipment for the job in hand.

4. (d) "For how long will the Water Works keep renting barricades, signal flashers, etc.?"

Barricades, flashlights and other safety equipment is rented to comply with safety regulations during construction periods at location as required.

Equipment is rented rather than purchased, as rented equipment is maintained by the owners at no cost to the District including replacement of any broken or destroyed items. It is the opinion of the people in charge of construction that such is the most economical way and the finance committee, responsible for the proper use of funds, fully agrees with this view.

4. (e) "Why are there inadequate numbers of fire hydrants?"

The pro-tem. chairman did not give any reasons, why he thinks the number of hydrants is inadequate.

Hydrants were placed on the lines in accordance with underwriters' recommendations and on the advice of our consulting engineers. All fire departments in the area have been advised of the position of the hydrants and the local fire marshalls and fire chiefs invited to let the Board know where additional hydrants are desirable. So far no request has been received.

Would the pro-tem. executive please keep in mind that the installed cost of a hydrant is presently about $500 and has to be paid for by the water users. It is rather difficult to reconcile the pro-tem. executive's complaints about the water rates on the one hand and the request for additional expensive installations on the other, without at least supporting their opinions and demands by some specifics where the shortages are.

5. (a) "Inequities in garbage collection taxes will have to be resolved. Why should vacant land be charged for garbage collection, further the numbers of garbage cans allowed must be reconciled with the source."

Whether the garbage taxes are inequitable is a purely personal opinion. The thought behind making vacant lots help in defraying the cost of collection from occupied lots is simply that compulsory garbage collection gives the vacant lots protection from indiscriminate use as dumps. If vacant lots do not make a small contribution for this protection the householders, serviced by the collection will have to pay more.

The demand that "the number of garbage cans have to be reconciled to a source" is beyond our comprehension as to its meaning.

6. Statements and questions contained under this heading are partly rhetorical, partly opinions based on wrong or inadequate information, hearsay without any investigation and partly completely untrue without any basis in facts.

The finance committee hesitates to judge whether the elected directors are particularly blessed or unblessed with wisdom, whether they replace their lack of wisdom with arrogance and dictatorial attitudes. In respect of our employees we have no hierarchy or do we need one. We have a body of devoted and good employees, who, we are fully convinced, make every effort to do their job and give service to our taxpayers. We do not mind in the least to be attacked and abused personally, as we can take care of ourselves. But we take great exception if people without even the slightest effort to find out any facts grossly abuse the servants of the district, who cannot defend themselves.

We are also convinced that all directors, participating in many committees and working hard in doing their homework, have always and are still devoting their time and efforts in the service of their fellow citizens, even if such is neither realized, appreciated nor recognized by a few people who appoint themselves to be the so-called spokesmen of the ratepayers.

In refuting some of the worse slogans and vituperations contained in the last few paragraphs the finance committee can only repeat:

a. Financial statements are published regularly since the inception of the District fully complying with the prevailing statutes of the Province. Books and records are open to the public for inspection as prescribed by law.

b. Neither the Board as a whole nor any individual director at any time stated —or had reason to state— that the District is in a 'sorry financial mess'. Such claim by the pro-tem. executive or anybody else is a pure invention. On the contrary, by careful budgeting and circumspect spending the District so far has ended every fiscal year with a small over-all surplus.

c. The present annual cost for regional services on $5000 assessment is monthly about $—.63. If a taxpayer lives in an area serviced by garbage collection his additional cost for this service is an other $—.55; or a total cost per month of $1.18.

A $5000 assessment has been assumed, as the average local assessment leaving out the pulpmill at Port Mellon is estimated to be between $4000 and $5000 in the electoral areas. Added to the $14.25 per annum are the special services rendered to the properties for fire protection, street lighting etc., which differ in each specified service area, but are all relatively modest.

We agree that nobody likes to pay taxes. This includes incidentally your directors, who also happen to be taxpayers and who do not get any special consideration. Compared with the costs of other necessities or pleasures of our daily life the costs of your regional district are really very small at the present time. But we cannot promise that we can hold such rates for ever, as demanded by the executive of the SCRRA, when they say that not 1/10 of a mill or about 15c per year could be added. We could only make such a promise, if the pro-tem. gentlemen would give us their guarantee that they can stop the inflation on our borders, a feat the Board could not achieve.

In conclusion, because of the very limited membership of the Sunshine Coast Regional Ratepayers' Association in relation to the number of voter-electors in the electoral areas of the District it is questionable whether a pro-tem. executive of the association or the association itself can be accepted presently as a legitimate spokesman for the ratepayers in all the electoral areas.

Despite this the finance committee recommends that this report be received by the Board and accepted as our answer to the questions by the pro-tem. executive of the Sunshine Coast Regional Ratepayers' Association.

It cannot be too greatly emphasised that the directors of the Board have been elected by the ratepayers of the electoral areas to represent them and during their term of office to govern the District to the best of their abilities. Under no circumstances can this mandate be abrogated to, or shared with other elements of the District, who lack both authority and responsibility.

We are sure that the directors will agree when we most strongly state that we fully trust and accept the sound and fair judgement of the voter-electors, whom we endeavor to serve to the best of our abilities. The same voter-electors throughout the District may be less than flattered for being lectured by the pro-tem. executive of the Sunshine Coast Regional Ratepayers' Association that they are not capable to elect suitable representatives without the advise and guidance, proffered in such humble modesty by the self appointed pro-tem. chairman.

1971 Graduation . . .

Accept life's challenges advises former Principal

FORMER principal of Elphinstone Secondary School, Mr. T. G. Ellwood, now Educational Supervisor at Saanich, gave the address to the 1971 graduates at the graduation ceremony last Saturday September 18th in the school auditorium.

Mr. Ellwood stated, in part:

This evening in this small, yet symbolic way, we have met to honor these young people who are about to launch out into a new phase of their adventure with life. Already the ringing of school bells has faded into their memories. This moment provides us with a brief opportunity to reflect upon the past and to speculate about the future.

We, who are teachers and parents, appreciate the fact that there is no way that our schools can specifically prepare our students for a tomorrow that is beyond the comprehension of our imaginations. We are told that all knowledge that was accumulated in this world since the beginning of recorded history and 1956 was doubled between 1956 and 1960 . . . and that this increasing body of knowledge continues to double every 18 months or so. Our economists advise us that young people entering the work force today can expect to be retrained at least three times during their lifetimes. How then . . . can the school prepare its students for such an unknown tomorrow?

What are the essentials that our young people must have to survive in tomorrow's world? I submit that they are the same essentials that are required to survive in today's world. We live in a rapidly changing society which requires much retraining . . . so you must have the ability and the skills required to learn new skills and new knowledge. You must be flexible so that you can accommodate change . . . or face the prospect of becoming a human dinosaur. It is essential that you have confidence in yourself to cope with the challenges of today and tomorrow. I am confident that you, who are members of this graduating class, have acquired these essentials for survival and success during your 12 year educational odyssey . . . and that you need not fear tomorrow.

You will face many challenges in the years that lie ahead. We are engaged in a great urbanization movement which is crowding more and more people into smaller and smaller spaces. Despite our fantastic technological advances, we still have failed to learn how to get along as individuals, and as groups.

I am alarmed at the depersonalization that appears to be occurring as a result of our mass society. I am depressed about the general mood of apathy and indifference that permeates our society. Do you really care what happens to others? Are you not shocked when you learn that a person can be attacked in broad daylight on the streets of our great cities while passerby ignore pleas for help? Are you not upset when you hear that injured people often fail to get any assistance from strangers . . . because they don't want to get involved? Are you not concerned about the growing trends in violence . . . hostility . . . indifference . . . intolerance . . . ignorance . . .? All these . . . like a cancer are knawing away at our society, and they must be checked if we are to survive.

It is popular these days for many people to talk about developing better inter-personal relationships and understandings . . . but unfortunately, there is too much talk and too little action.

This is a serious problem which we, who share the present and the future, must come to grips with. It is a challenge that we cannot afford to ignore. Now is the time to build a bridge of understanding between individuals and groups.

Where do we start? How do we isolate the factors that contribute to a lack of understanding between people, between generations, between man and wife, between mother and daughter, and father and son. Perhaps it is time that we recognized the fact that our expectations for someone we know just may not be the same as those he holds for himself. How many times have we been disappointed in someone . . . because he failed to live up to OUR expectations of him. Too often we are totally unaware of the expectations that others hold for us. Perhaps the first step in developing better interpersonal relations would be for each of us to frankly share with each other our expectations for them . . . so that at least we are aware of them.

Our world . . . both its good and its bad . . . didn't get that way overnight. It is the result of the efforts of millions of people over countless centuries. Each generation in its turn must make its contribution to mankind. The world is not perfect . . . but it is a lot better in many respects than it was. What can you do to improve it?

May I suggest that you can make a significant contribution by simply building a bridge of understanding between people you know. Many people dream of doing great things, but never do. Isn't is far better to plan and then accomplish small things a step at a time? The time to start is now, the place to start is here . . . and do not be discouraged when others fail to respond immediately to your efforts as you expect them to do.

Each of us can make a worthwhile contribution to others and give our own lives real purpose and meaning by simply being thoughtful, sincere, considerate, cheerful, tolerant, and honest in our dealings with others.

I am very proud to have been associated with you and I share with your parents and friends a sincere and continuing interest in your future. You have but one life to live . . . live it well . . . and make it worthwhile.

And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labor, it is the gift of God.—Eccless. 3:13.

George S. Patton Jr. for week at Twilight

POWERFUL story of human relationships told against a background of war is the movie "Patton" showing for 7 days, starting Wednesday, at the Twilight Theatre in Gibsons.

George C. Scott, who won an Academy Award for it, plays the title role of General George S. Patton Jr., a professional soldier whose miliary brilliance made him subject to much controversy in the U.S. armed forces during World War II. Karl Malden takes the role of General of the Army Omar N. Bradley whose personality is almost opposite that of Patton's. In early 1943 Bradley was Patton's deputy commander, but due to a rash incident on the part of Patton, in 1944 we see Bradley as Patton's superior. It is this conflict of personalities that sets the scene for this wide screen epic American war movie.

Filmed on location in Spain, Morocco, Crete, England and the United States, "Patton" proves to be one of the biggest pictures around right now so don't miss it.

Double-ring wedding unites Scales-Moore

THE CHURCH of His Presence at Redrooffs, decorated with mauve and white flowers, made a perfect setting for a pretty double-ring wedding on Saturday, September 11, when Shelley Brenda Moore, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Moore of Welcome Beach was united in marriage with Robert E. Scales, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Scales of Cobble Hill, Vancouver Island, with Canon Alan Greene officiating.

The bride, wearing a white pant dress and floral head piece, was given in marriage by her father. She carried a bouquet of red and pink carnations. Miss Barbara Jaeger, dressed in a mauve pant dress and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations attended the bride. Best man was Mr. Morris Odegaard of Kitimat.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Casa Martinez, where the toast to the bride was given by her uncle, Mr. E. M. Golley of Powell River.

The bride presented her bouquet to Mrs. M. Ingham of Duncan, the grandmother of the groom and the only grandparent on either side.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Scales of Cobble Hill, Mrs. M. Ingham of Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Golley of Powell River.

The couple left for a honeymoon in Alberta with the bride wearing a mauve gabardine dress and matching jacket, with navy blue accessories. On their return, they will make their home in West Sechelt.

St. John's United Church for double ring ceremony

ORANGE and white flowers were chosen to decorate St. John's United Church, Davis Bay for a pretty wedding on September 4th, 1971 when Glenys Guiliana Macleod became the bride of Mr. Aubrey Duncan Hudson.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Macleod of Wilson Creek, B.C. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Hudson of Oxford, Nova Scotia.

White heather and orange ribbon bows marked the pews for the double ring ceremony which took place at seven o'clock with Rev. James Williamson officiating. Organist was Miss Margaret McIntyre.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was very lovely in her floor length gown of white polyester crepe with empire waist, lace bodice and sleeves. Her lace train fell gracefully from the shoulders and the short bouffant veil was held by a spray of flowers. The bridal bouquet was a beautiful arrangement of yellow and orange Hawaiian Delight roses mixed with white carnations and heather.

Maid of Honor was Beverley Simmons, gowned in floor length orange polyester crepe with empire waist and white trim at the neck and bodice. Junior bridesmaid was Laverne Johnstone, cousin of the groom, and flower girl was Debbie Robinson, niece of the bride. Both wore green floor length gowns with white trim. The bridal attendants' bouquets were beautiful arrangements of orange and gold crysanthemums.

Best man was Mr. Wayne Hindson, cousin of the groom. Ushers were Mr. Stanley Macleod, brother of the bride and Mr. Frankie Gallant, cousin of the groom.

Autumn colors were predominant in the beautiful decorations at Wilson Creek Community Hall where the reception was held. Orange colored candles and flowers graced the bride's table and the floral arrangements were done by Mrs. Lorraine Conroy.

Uncle of the bride Mr. Robert Quigley proposed the toast to the bride. Master of Ceremonies was Mr. John Robinson. The catering and serving was done by Job's Daughters.

The honeymoon was spent at Powell River and for travelling the bride wore an emerald green three piece suit with beige accessories and a corsage of orange Hawaiian delight roses with white heather.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Hudson will reside at Bay Road, Davis Bay, B.C.

A sentimental moment for parents who suddenly realise the years have flown by all too fast but the students' thoughts are already in the future as they follow Elphinstone's principal Mr. Don Montgomery out of the auditorium after last Saturday's impressive graduation ceremony.

Annual ceremony . . .

Centennial Emblem theme for 1971 Graduation event

FIFTY-seven students graduated from Elphinstone Secondary School this year and thirty-four of them attended the graduation ceremony held on Saturday evening in the school auditorium.

This year the backdrop featured the Centennial Emblem in blue and gold and a wide stairway had been erected to give easy access to the stage. Carpeted in blue and decorated with baskets of locally grown flowers, the stairway lent dignity to the ceremony which attracted a capacity audience of parents, friends and fellow students of the graduating class.

Rev. James Williamson gave the invocation, and Mr. Lorne Wolverton, representing the Sunshine Coast Regional Board, offered congratulations to the graduates.

Present for the occasion was former Elphinstone principal Mr. W. S. Potter. Mr. Tom Ellwood who was school principal for the past two years gave the address.

ELECTRIC HEATING

Homes are for living. Take this home for example. From basement to attic every bit of space is being used for living. That's because it's heated electrically. Compact units take up little or no space. There are no ducts or pipes, no furnace room. Every inch of space is being used . . . and that's important, with today's construction costs.

Most important, every room is comfortable — just the way each individual wants it. That's not always possible with other heating systems because one thermostat must satisfy the demands of all rooms. With electric heating you can have room-by-room temperature control — a thermostat in every room. Simply dial the comfort setting needed to suit each room's activity.

More living space. More comfort. Makes a lot of sense, doesn't it? You'll find that the cost of heating electrically is sensible too.

Give us a call. Our Customer Advisory Service will be happy to discuss your new home plans. Qualified personnel will recommend equipment sizes, amount of insulation required, and give you a written estimate of annual electricity costs for heating. Customer Advisory Service is free — available at all B.C. Hydro offices.

Congratulations

It was "Happy Birthday" and "Happy Centennial" celebration for Mrs. Margaret Macleod of Wilson Creek last week, pictured receiving her pioneer medallion and a copy of "It Happened in British Columbia" from Wilson Creek Community Association chairman Mrs. Diane Anderson and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Rita Macleod pictured on the right.

Margaret Macleod . . .

Medallion presentation honours community worker

IT TOOK members of Wilson Creek Community Association a little while to catch up with one of their busy pioneers, but last week they presented Mrs. Margaret Macleod with her pioneer medallion.

For Mrs. Macleod, to be busy is to be happy and that must be the reason why eighty-two years sit so lightly on her shoulders.

Visiting Mrs. Mcleod, to make the presentation of one of the especially minted medallions together with a copy of "This Is British Columbia" and a beautiful basket of fruit, were Wilson Creek Community Association president, Mrs. Diane Anderson, Mrs. Macleod's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Rita Macleod and Mrs. Cay Franske.

Mrs. Macleod's industrious nature was evident in the quilting frame which occupies a large part of her sunny front-room overlooking the ocean. Being quilted was a very lovely comforter lined with sheep fleece brought back after a recent visit to relatives on the Prairies. This one will be for grand-daughter Glenys who was recently married.

"I should have given you a needle apiece, and the quilting would almost be finished," chuckled Mrs. Macleod while enjoying a chat over coffee with her visitors.

On Friday, September 17th, Mrs. Macleod celebrated her 82nd birthday, she was born in Ontario and in 1909 Margaret Patterson became the bride of Hector Macleod who was born in Aberdeen, Scotland. Mr. Macleod who passed away in 1959, was a printer and at one time owned his own printing business in Toronto, he worked on many newspapers including the Herald at Lethbridge before the family moved to Vancouver where Mr. Macleod was compositor on the Vancouver Sun for twenty years before his retirement in 1956. During the Second World War he went overseas with the Seaforth Highlanders.

The Macleods came to Wilson Creek in 1941 and Mrs. Macleod has always been very active in community affairs being the first member of the Wilson Creek Community Centre, serving on the executive. She is a faithful member of St. John's United Church Women's Group and a very active member of the Eastern Star.

"Mrs. Macleod still makes the best pancakes and bread", said her long time friend and neighbor Cay Franske. She also helps out bazaars with her pickles and beautifully embroidered pillow slips and other handicrafts.

Trained to be a stenographer in her younger days, Mrs. Mcleod has been fully occupied with her family and the community and was an active worker for the Red Cross in both world wars. She is just a wonderful person and very proud of her three children; eleven grandchildren and seventeen great grand-children, taking an interest in their progress.

Living close by are her sons Jack Macleod of Peninsula Plumbing; Bob Macleod of Peninsula Market and daughter Mrs. Emily Quigley and their families.

SEAT BELTS: Superstition?? Sense!! A horseshoe nailed over a doorway was considered a potent charm against evil a few years ago. So the superstitious believed. Today another good luck charm has taken the horseshoe' place. It doesn't guard a doorway but instead lies crumbled on an auto seat. Seat belts are now installed in millions of cars but surveys show that only about half are used at all times. The other half often lie on the seat —just like a nylon horeshoe to ward off harm.

Expert have proven beyond question that seat belts save lives, BUT only if they are worn. Are you putting your trust in a superstition? Do you rely on a Nylon Horeseshoe?

Authorities estimate that more than 2,000 lives could be saved every year if all car occupants used seat belts at all times. Few other traffic programs offer such promise. Probably no other safety measure has been surrounded by so much myth in the minds of the public, so much unreasoning prejudice, such blind refusal to accept massive evidence and documented fact.

All new Canadian cars now have front seat belts as standard equipment. Yet many owners of older cars still refuse to install them, and many others fail to use the one they have. Why? FANCY vs FACT: FANCY: "I use a belt on high speed road but it's a nuisance just driving around town." FACT: Half of all injury producing accident occur at impact speeds of 40 MPH or less. FANCY: "Some people are thrown clear in a crash and walk away with hardly a scratch." FACT: The chance of survival in a crash if five times as great if you stay inside the car. FANCY: "I don't like the idea of being trapped by a belt if the car catches fire or goes into water." FACT: Fire occurs in only 0.2 per cent and submersion in only 0.3 per cent of all injury producing accidents. Even then, the chance of escape is better if a belt keeps you from being knocked unconscious. FANCY: "I don't want to be strapped in a convertible if it rolls over. I'll take my chances on being tossed out." FACT: A rollover in a convertible is dangerous with or without belts but only 20 per cent of all serious accidents involve a rollover. FANCY: "I don't need to wear a seat belt just to drive to the grocery store." FACT: Half of all traffic deaths occur within 25 miles of home. FANCY: "I'm a careful driver—never had a accident. Good drivers don't need them." FACT: Four out of five drivers in accidents never had an accident before. Seat belts will not prevent a single one of the thousands of traffic accidents every year BUT they can prevent or reduce injury if the worst happens.

TIP OF THE WEEK: DRIVING EMERGENCIES — YOUR ACCELERATOR STICKS!!!! You let up on the gas pedal and nothing happens. 1. Keep your cool 2. If you are on the open highway, try to pull up the pedal with the toe of your shoe. DON'T reach down yourself and take your attention from the road. 3. If you don't have time to reach down, turn off the ignition, shift to neutral and brake to a stop—but remember—with power brakes and steering, turning off the engine will make steering and braking hard work. Be ready for this stiffness and bear down. If a quick stop or manuevering is necessary, you can leave the engine on and shift into neutral or depress the clutch. 4. Get stopped in a hurry and shut off engine at once—a motor racing without load can tear itself to pieces quickly.

In Your Garden

—by The Old Rake

THERE comes a time in every garden when changes are made. Some shrubs and trees outgrow their positions or else the gardener decides to move things around. When homes change hands there is usually some changes made. Whatever the reason, if trees or shrubs are to be moved now is the time to do something about it. As the best time to move large stock is three months away we should do some preparatory work now.

First of all, reduce the subject to a size that can be handled, this usually means removing some of the big, older branches or limbs. Conifers, however, should not be trimmed in any way now, but can wait till early spring when the new growth will start and so cover up any cuts that have to be made.

Sharpen up the spade and go around the shrub or tree about two feet out. Push the spade down as far as you can and leave things that way until it is time to move it. Between now and then fine roots will form and help to hold the soil together when the root ball is moved. Be sure that the hole to receive the tree or shrub is large enough. Make it as big as possible so that you can get lots of good soil in. If you have any old sods, put them in the bottom of the hole, upside down, and by the time the roots get to them they will be a source of good nourishment. When transplanting, have a hose handy and let it run into the hole as you fill it to eliminate any air spaces which is the principal cause of failure in transplanting. Firming the soil with the feet should be done as you fill the hole.

In the case of a tree it will be necessary to stake it with a strong enough stake and should be tied, in three or more places to make sure that there will be no root movement during a wind. Broad-leafed evergreens should have their foliage sprayed with water to counteract any transpiration that may take place. Of course, this should not be done if the temperature is below freezing.

Summer rainstorms cause automobile windshields to become splattered with mud or watermarked, seriously impairing visibility. Stop your car as soon as possible after rain to clean the windshield. It can make the difference for a safe trip and assist you to "Bring 'em Back Alive!"—BCAA

CNIB Annual Canvass slated October 1 - 16

CANADIAN National Institute for the Blind has slated its annual fund raising campaign for October 1st to 16th again under chairmanship of Mrs. Margaret Lamb of Sechelt.

Mrs. Lamb points out that your support for this worthy organization is badly needed. Its activities on behalf of the blind are many and complex. A few examples of its achievements are listed below:

To boil a three-minute egg was a real problem for a blind person until The Canadian National Institute for the Blind introduced the touch type interval timer. The timer is designed like a braille clock and a bell rings when the time is up.

Canada was the first country in the world to set up free mailing privileges for the blind in 1898. Since then, thousands of books, first in braille, then on records, now on tape, are carried free each year by the mailmen.

More than 3,000 blind bowlers try their skill on the bowling lanes each year in Canada. A guide rail at the foot of the lane and the advice of a sighted coach help many a blind player to strike up a one game total of 250 in five pin and 200 in ten pin.

When the surgeon does a corneal transplant on the eye, he uses tiny razor sharp needles to cut out the defective part of the cornea. Using tissue from a donor eye, he extracts a section the exact shape and size of the defective piece and sews it into the patients cornea. More than 50,000 Canadians have pledged their eyes through the Eye Bank of Canada.

A simple jig, devised by an employment officer of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, enabled a blind woman to assemble four different sized pages for a direct mail job of nine thousand sets of printed material.

Seven thousand blind Canadians use the braille and typed books of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind. When you donate to the current appeal, you provide a library through the letter box for blind persons right here in this community.

And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom: and to depart from evil is understanding.—Job 28:28.

At your local credit union we have the answers to all those questions and some that Bob and Anne haven't even thought up yet.

Not only will we answer their questions, we'll arrange a first or second mortgage for them at one of the best interest rates in town.

If you need a mortgage drop in to your local credit union. You won't regret it. We lend a helping hand.

Lively sports programme scheduled for Pender Hbr.

SOCCER program at Pender Harbour is well underway this year with more than fifty boys practicing after school and on weekends for the coming season.

It is expected to have teams in four divisions and co-ordinator of the program is Mr. G. A. Merkel who is also a coach, other coaches are Cpl. Alan de St. Remy; Mr. Vern Wishlove; Mr. W. E. Bomford and Mr. D. Crowell. Alternate coaches would be very welcome and anyone wishing to help could contact any of the persons mentioned.

The Community Band is also being reactivated after the summer recess with practices being held in the activity room of Madeira Park School on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Anyone with band experience who would like to help in any way should contact Principal of Madeira Park School, Mr. Vern Wishlove.

The Brownie Pack is already hard at work with a full pack meeting every Tuesday after school in the Community Hall under the Leadership of Brown Owl Divall and Tawny Owl Helen Christian.

There is a great need of leadership for Guides as there is enough interest from girls to form a full company. The seven Brownies who found their wings have nowhere to go and are anxiously awaiting for someone to take over as Guide Captain so they can enjoy Guiding.

Safe Motoring

DURING the winter months you can eliminate the possibility of a frozen lock by keeping both door and trunks locks lubricated with a little powdered graphite or a light oil, reminds the B.C. Automble Assocation.

If you haven't taken this step, and some frosty morning you find a lock frozen, you can thaw it quickly without resorting to the use of boiling water. Never pour water directly over a frozen lock for the simple reason that it is likely to freeze and seriously complicate the problem.

The easist solution is to hold the key in wraps and warm it with a cigarette lighter, or matches, held a little below the tip of the key. Then insert the heated key into the lock, which should melt the ice inside.

It may take several heatings to completely melt the ice, and you can speed up the process by cupping your hands over the lock and blowing through them to warm the metal. Be careful not to let your mouth touch the freezing metal, however.

Lacking a lighter or matches, the key can also be warmed by holding it tightly in a hand kept warm by gloves or held in a pocket, says the BCAA.

Centennial Committee honours area pioneers

PENDER Harbour Centennial Committee honored pioneers of the area with a happy celebration on Friday, September 17th, which included a wonderful banquet, presentation and film show.

Eighteen persons had completed the forms which made them eligible to receive the pioneer medallions presented to those who have lived in Canada for seventy-five years. Also invited to attend the celebration were residents seventy-years of age or over who had lived in the area prior to 1950.

Master of ceremonies was Mr. John Haddock, and Canon Alan Greene who is also a pioneer, presented the medallions. The warmth which the community feels towards its pioneers was evident in the special arrangements which included the presentation of beautiful ceramic-ware made locally by Mrs. Elna Warnock. The ladies' received a dish bearing the Dogwood emblem and the gentlemen received a mug bearing the blue and gold Centennial crest.

Each place card was a work of art, hand-painted by Mrs. Vi Tyner and bearing the floral emblem of the province which was the recipient's birthplace.

Pioneers present for the occasion were: Mrs. Elsie M. Klein, born May 4th, 1883 in Beaverhills, Alberta, Mrs. Constance Harper, born October 25th 1891 in Esquimalt, B.C. Mrs. Martha Warnock, born July 11th, 1894 at Lasquetti Island, B.C. Mrs. Nellie McKeague, born September 20th, 1896 in Chester, Nova Scotia, Mr. Joseph A. Cormier, born December 24th, 1881 at Prince Edward Island. Mr. Lorne Maynard, born May 16th, 1892 in Orillia, Ontario. Mr. Adrian Bell, born September 19th, 1895 in Surrey. Mr. Napoleon Desbiens, born February 16th, 1895 in Lowel, Mass. Mr. Gordon M. Liddle, born January 22nd, 1896 in the District of Algoma, Ontario. The late Emily Jeffries medal was accepted posthumously by her daughter.

Unable to be present for the presentation were: Mr. Maynard Zotique Dubois, born May 1st, 1890 in Vancouver, Mr. Thomas Graham Fraser, born January 1st 1894 in Nova Scotia, Mr. Tupper Dunlap Fulton, born April 21st 1889 in Nova Scotia, Mrs. Mona B. Gibson, born April 7th, 1896 in Brigham, Mr. Daniel Johnston, born April 5th, 1895 in Sidney, Nova Scotia. Mrs. Nellie MacKay, born November 2nd 1896 in Newfoundland, Mr. Bertrand William Sinclair, born January 9th, 1881 in Edinburgh, Scotland. Mrs. Edith Wells, born December 15th, 1890 in Toronto, Ontario.

Many of the pioneers have lots of stories to tell and the banquet was a leisurely affair enlivened with little anecdotes shared by those who pioneered here.

Following the medallion presentation, Sam Lamont showed colored slides taken of the Queen Charlotte Islands. Projected onto a large screen and in color, the scenic shots gave viewers an idea of the rugged beauty of the islands and the native Indian culture of the Haidas.

Members of the Pender Harbour Community Club did a wonderful job of organizing the very successful event and would like to thank all who contributed in any way, especially the following people: Mr. and Mrs. John Haddock, Sam Lamont, Julia Reid, Elna Warnock, Luella Duncan, Frank Harding, Wendy Phillips, Doris Phillips, Dell Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ackroyd and Ann Antilla.

Speculation

The speculative look which Canon Alan Greene is giving Mr. Joseph A. Cormier who celebrates his 90th birthday on Christmas Eve this year, is due to the rumor circulating Pender Harbor and told by Mr. John Haddock who chaired last week's Pioneer Dinner. Mr. Cormier's centennial project is an extension on his house—the rumor is that this bachelor is thinking of getting married, but he just won't tell!

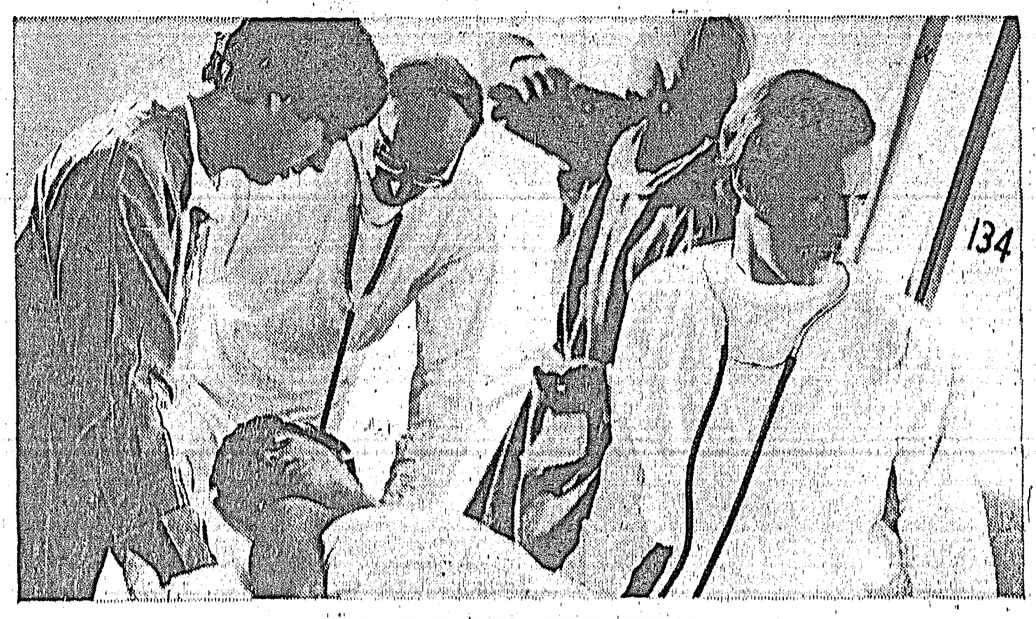
A 17 YEAR OLD BOY IS DEAD BECAUSE HE THOUGHT HE COULD FLY.



SOME TRIP!
In Emergency at Vancouver General Hospital, scenes like this are repeated many times throughout the year.
Doctors and nurses can tell you about them. So can kids lucky enough to survive. Kids who thought they could fly or were invisible to traffic. Kids who discovered more than they bargained for when they took a "trip" on LSD, turned violent on "speed", or went into a coma from an overdose of heroin.
Every year, kids die or are physically or mentally crippled because they don't know what drugs can do to them or won't listen when they're told. If you're a parent, you owe it to your children to be informed. If you're a teenager, you owe it to yourself.
Life's too precious to waste on drugs.

Chapter 65 O.E.S. Friendship Night

MT. ELPHINSTONE Chapter 65 OES held a successful Friendship Night September 16th and guests from Chapters in Powell River, West Vancouver, Vancouver, High River Alberta, Ontario and Oregon were welcomed by Worthy Matron Lourie Bryson.

Mrs. Phyllis Parker, Grand representative, of Oregon and Mrs. Dorothy Loukes, Worthy Matron, of Powell River, were presented.

An excellent pot luck supper was provided by local members in the banquet room, walls of which were adorned with Bluebird of Happiness, carrying the words "Happiness in Friendship".

An evening of entertainment ended on a somewhat hilarious note with a group under direction of Eleanor White dancing on their hands.

It is noted, the cancer dressing station is still active and members will provide dressings for those requiring them.

Next special meeting is planned for October 21st honoring Grand Representative of Oregon State, Mrs. Phillis Parker.

Fall bazaar will be held in the Roberts Creek Hall November 20th.

Good membership makes for keen competition and these trophies were hard won by: Belle Dube, 1st flight; Norma Gaines, 3rd flight; Rosa Swan, 4th flight; Glenna Salahub, 5th flight, and pictured on far right, Ladies Club Champion runner-up, Doreen Gregory. Dental Topics

Forecasting Tooth Decay

TOOTH decay can be forecasted now even if x-rays don't show the signs, thanks to a big step forward by bacteriologists working with dentists.

A small measured amount of your saliva would be bottled by your dentist and sent to a bacteriological laboratory. The lab counts the number of acid-forming bacteria. This count serves as an index on the rate at which tooth decay could already be doing on, or could soon begin.

The dentist counters this situation by advising a change in diet without interfering with normal nutritional needs. This recent advance will be particularly useful in warning youngsters who eat too many sweets. In the case of a high bacteria count, the dentist would advise reducing the intake of carbohydrates, especially sugary food, to either prevent decay or stop it in a short time.

Other periodic bacteria counts could keep the patient, especially one who suffers frequently from decay, on the preventive road. The saliva test is not yet as widely used as it should be. Ask your dentist about it.

HOME HANDYMAN PAINTING TIPS

DECORATING

PART 2

WINDOWS: When painting windows do the sash first followed by window frame and lastly, the sill.

DOORS: Paint individual inside panels before finishing balance of door.

CUPBOARDS: Start with difficult to reach interior areas first. Paint doors last.

CHAIRS: Turn chairs upside down and paint underneath areas first.

IMPERFECTIONS: To minimize structural defects or subdue radiators, vents, etc. it's a good idea to paint them the same color as the background.

IF ROOM SEEMS TOO SMALL: Paint walls and woodwork in a light matching shade. Pale colors appear to recede.

IF ROOM SEEMS TOO LARGE: Paint room in deeper, richer tones. Strong colors appear to advance.

CEILING TOO LOW: Paint ceilings in lighter color than walls. Introduce vertical lines on walls.

CEILING TOO HIGH: Paint it a deeper color than walls. Emphasize horizontal lines on wall.

FOR A LONG NARROW ROOM: Highlight the end wall in a deeper color than the other wall areas.

FEATURE WALL: Should only be used when they are in fact featuring a fireplace, mirror, painting or prized furnishings.

NORTH ROOMS: Require warm colors, reds, oranges, yellows, yellow-greens.

SOUTH ROOMS: Require cool colors, blues, violets, blue-greens, blue-greys.

WALL COLORS: Should generally make a background for furnishings without dominating a room.

ACCENTS: Bright colors should be used sparingly. Large amounts tend to take over and detract from furnishings.

DARK COLORS: Absorb light.

LIGHT COLORS: Reflect light.

REMEMBER—Colors appear darker on a large area. Therefore your selection of colors from a small sample chip should always be lighter than the final results desired.

Face Conditions

Editor, The Times,

Sir: Canada must be naive indeed if she thinks that when conditions force her huge neighbour to devalue her dollar, or take exceptional steps to bring her economy into line, she can continue to go bounding on with top profits and top wages. She had better do some cutting herself on both these items. Let us look for less profits and smaller wages if necessary, and for heaven's sake have some increased efficiency and production, and stop whining to our neighbor, who is trying to meet a desperate situation.

Halfmoon Bay Happenings

—by Mary Tinkley

MR. AND MRS. John Brynelsen of Secret Cove flew to Dawson Creek recently to attend the wedding of their daughter Dana to Charles Douglas Sauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Douglas Sauer of West Vancouver. The marriage took place at the Lutheran Church at Dawson Creek on September 11. The bride wore a floor-length dress with a skirt of sky-blue chiffon and a ruffled bodice and full white sleeves. She carried a Victorian nosegay of rosebuds. A small reception followed at the Chilcotin Inn.

The bride and groom have known one another for many years and were in Grades 2, 3 and 4 together at a school in West Vancouver. After being out of touch for many years, they met again at Dawson Creek where they were both teaching. Recently the groom was appointed principal of Moberly Lake School, while Dana is teaching a few miles away at Chetwynd.

The groom's father was unable to attend the wedding as he is working with NATO in East Africa. Mrs. Sauer Sr. was celebrating her birthday with a group of friends at the Jolly Roger last week-end.

THANKSGIVING

There will be a Harvest Thanksgiving service at the Church of His Presence on Sunday, September 26 at 3 p.m. Donations of vegetables, fruit, pickles, etc. will be gratefully accepted and can be left at the church. After the service the offerings will be distributed among the tenants of Greene Court Senior Citizens Homes at Sechelt.

NEW ARRIVAL

Mrs. W. Braun of Selma Park held the fort at the Garry Helmer home last week while her daughter, Jaye Lynn Helmer was in St. Mary's Hospital for the birth of her second child. Halfmoon Bay's newest resident is a baby girl who arrived on September 16 and is to be named Dawn.

GUESTS

Guests of Mrs. Mary Walker last week-end were Thelma and Orval Richardson of New Westminster. Mrs. Richardson was Mrs. Walker's assistant for many years while she operated the Rose Dress Shop at New Westminster.

FILM PROGRAM

A great deal of thought, work and effort has gone into the planning of the winter film program for the Welcome Beach Hall. With the hall enlarged, there will be plenty of room and it is hoped there will be many new members to enjoy the fine series of programs which has been arranged.

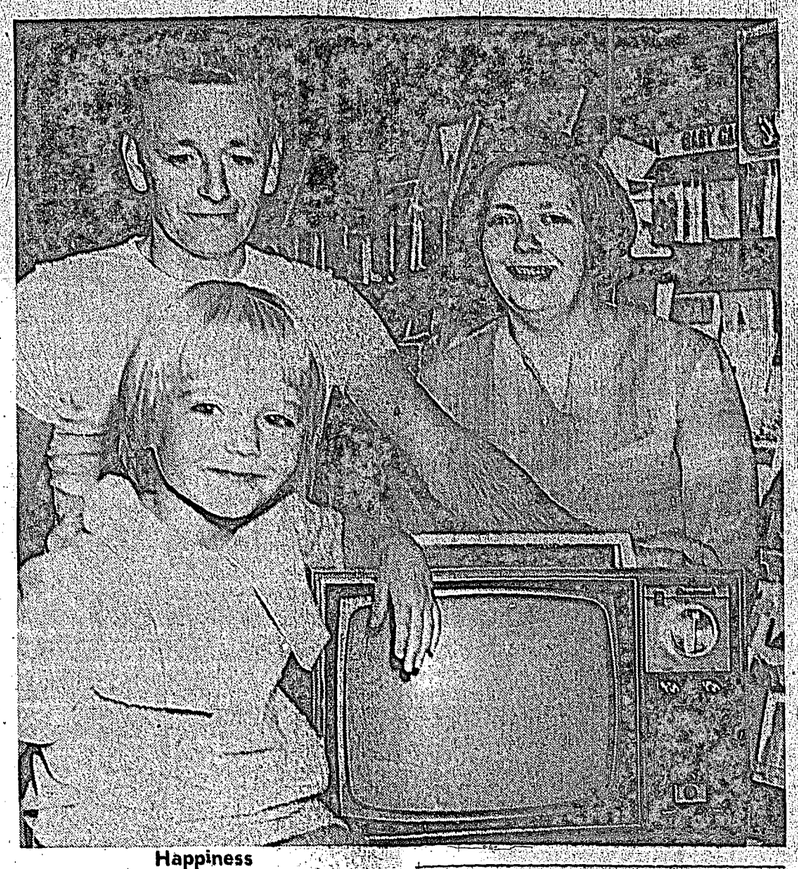
The series, starting October 7, will be on alternate Thursdays right through to December 2. The first show entitled "Expressive Calendar", is courtesy of the Department of Recreation and will show various aspects of Canadian life. There is a film on Emily Carr, one on the peoples of Canada, a scene out of Macbeth, ballet dancing and a winter carnival in Quebec.

PRIVATE ZOO

Mrs. M. Tinkley is home after a trip to Vancouver Island to visit Mrs. Vic Gladstone at Merville a few miles north of Comox. Mrs. Gladstone, the former Edna Brooks, is as ardent an animal lover as ever she was when she lived in the Brooks home near Welcome Pass. Her private zoo, which she maintains on her 12-acre property, contains 16 dogs, goats, chickens, peacocks, pheasants, geese, two ponies, a monkey and a 2-month old fawn. The fawn was handed over to her by a forest warden when it was only about 10 days old and nearly starving. For three weeks she kept it in the house where it sleeps on the chesterfield and was bottle fed five times a day. So famous has her zoo become that many lost, abandoned and ill-treated animals have been brought to her to be cared for until a home can be found for them.

Mrs. Tinkley continued on to Cortes Island by way of Campbell River and two ferries to Quadra and Whaletown. At Cortes Bay she was the guest of Mrs. Olga Hynek.

Folly is joy to him that is destitute of wisdom: but a man of understanding walketh uprightly.—Prov. 15:21.



Happiness

Happiness for the Ray Pariseau family of Gibsons, is winning the Fleetwood portable 12" television in Campbell's Variety "back to school" draw. Receiving the set last week are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pariseau and their four-year-old daughter Barbara.

MB to present top journalism awards Oct. 8

JOURNALISM awards totalling at least $750 will be presented to writers on weekly and semi-weekly British Columbia newspapers at the annual meeting of B.C. Weekly Newspapers Association in Victoria October 8.

It is the ninth consecutive year that MacMillan Bloedel Limited has conducted the competition. The winning entries are selected by a panel of three independent judges, the first award being $500, the second award $250, and awards of $100 are made for entries which receive honorable mention.

Judges for the competition this year are Douglas Sutcliffe, general manager, B.C. operations, of Dominion Construction Co Ltd., Alan Jessup, editorial page editor of The Province, and Alan Morley, veteran newspaperman and author.

Judging is based on quality of writing, journalistic initiative, promotion of public understanding, and performance of a public service.

Entries comprise editorial material which was published during the 12 months ended July 31, 1971.

MacMillan Bloedel annually conducts a similar competition for writers on B.C. daily newspapers.

How much better is to get wisdom than gold! And to get understanding rather to be chosen than silver!—Prov. 16:16.
