District Forester outlines watershed protective steps

SUNSHINE Coast Regional Board, working toward protection of watersheds and, more specifically, the Chapman Creek watershed, has indicated interest in discussing planning requirements for logging operations in that area with the B.C. Forest Service.

Letter from district forester H. M. Pogue states:

At this time, rather than personally discussing the issue with you, I will attempt to outline what planning requirements will be instituted to avoid watershed damage.

As you are no doubt aware, logging operations have been carried out in Chapman Creek over a long period of time, particularly in the lower reaches. Much of the logging was and, to some extent, still is, done on timber licences. These licences were issued prior to the Forest Act and give the holder the right to cut the merchantable timber without leaving areas for firebreaks, stream protection, etc. The licences do specify that trees and logging debris must be kept out of streams but do not control the rate of cut or require planning to control run-off or prevent erosion.

As noted in Mr. Stokes' letter to the Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs of August 24, 1971, the only timber sale of any consequence in the watershed is A-00044. Timber Sale Harvesting Licence A-00044 was awarded on October 2, 1967 to Jackson Brothers Logging Company Limited. The licence is for a period of ten years and authorizes the licensee to cut 518 M c.f. of timber per year from within the boundaries of the licence area. A sketch map of the licence boundaries is enclosed for your information. Actual cutting, however, is authorized by means of cutting permits, which are usually issued for a three-year term and restrict logging to a specific area within the licence. The cutting permit specifies the timber to be cut.

The Forest Service recognizes that Chapman Creek is an important source of domestic water supply for Sechelt, as well as being a salmon and sport fishing stream. Within the framework of our administration, one of our basic land use guidelines is to establish procedures for public and private development and for utilization of all resources and compatible integrated use. As such, deleterious effects of natural and developmental phenomena on the water characteristics of the forest ecosystem will be minimized by requiring the best and most appropriate watershed management measures and conditions to be incorporated into all proposals for resource utilization and integrated uses, including preplanning of all developments and protective measures.

In keeping with this objective, in order to reduce potential increased water temperature, quantity of sediment and logging wastes that could reach Chapman Creek, it is anticipated that, if possible, logging adjacent to the creek will be planned on an alternate patch basis. When the logged area has been regenerated and such regeneration has attained

Councils sponsor "Clean-up Week"

OPERATION "Clean-up, Paint-up Week" goes into force in both municipalities April 16th to 22nd and is a combined project of both village councils and chambers of commerce.

Initiated a few years ago by the Gibsons Chamber of Commerce and aided by village council the scheme was devised with the object of encouraging residents to clean up their properties by disposing of old items left lying around which normally are not accepted for refuse pick-up.

Garbage collector Bob Kelly has willingly co-operated by putting his equipment available on a set day in order to collect such items as old appliances, mattresses and, in general, any junk not normally collected. Old auto bodies will also be taken away by request of owner and for a $5 fee.

It is also hoped that home owners will give support by carrying out paint-up and spruce-up of homes and buildings where required.

Mr. Kelly will make his regular pick-up in Sechelt Friday April 21st and will then make a second trip to pick-up the unusual items. The procedure will be repeated in Gibsons Saturday April 22nd.

Write about your paper, win $300

READERS of The Times may win $300 cash and a gold medal for writing a simple letter outlining what the local newspaper means to them.

The annual contest, sponsored by Dominion Textile Company of Montreal, was won last year by Mrs. Joan Stuchberry, of Grantham's Landing, a reader of the Peninsula Times, published at Sechelt.

The prizes are again being offered this year to our readers. All entries must be in The Times office not later than 5 p.m. Thursday, April 20.

All entries will be published in our paper, and then forwarded for judging to Canadian Weekly Newspapers' office at Toronto.

The subject is "Our Hometown Paper" and entries should be not less than 250 words, nor more than 700.

Your entry should be a frank expression of your opinion of the value of a local newspaper. The judges will not look for excessively high praise for the local paper, but rather for an understanding of the function of a local newspaper.

Polished literary expression is not sought, either. The object is to encourage readers of The Times to set down in straightforward language what their community newspaper means to them, their families, their lives, and their communities; if it falls short, constructive criticism is welcomed.

The prize of $300 cash and the honor of a gold medal is worth spending a few moments to think about the role of your local newspaper in your town. Get going! And remember the deadline. You'll be doing a real community service.

Seasoned Hunter

Checking her trap lines last week above Tuwanek for bobcat, long time hunter, Bergelot Solberg came upon this 150 lb. cougar caught by the paws in one of her traps. Not anticipating such big game she was armed only with a .22 rifle but one shot from a distance of twenty feet instantly killed the animal. She dragged and packed the big cat through the bush unaided but finally obtained assistance to bring it to her home at West Porpoise Bay. Miss Solberg poses by her victim, accompanied by her hunting companion, a small Keeshond.

The committee will consider academic standing, attitude and work throughout secondary school and student's interest in the fields of science, engineering or technology.

Applicants will not be required to write the Department of Education examination for scholarship to qualify for the Canfor scholarships. Application forms will be available from school counsellors and must be submitted by June 15th, 1972.

"Just wondering" . . .

Regional Board director questions fire tank buy

DIRECTOR Bert Slade of Selma Park, at last meeting of the Regional Board, questioned the fact that purchase of a fire tank-truck was approved without first going to bid. It had been stated that the existing vehicle, in Gibsons, had been declared unroadworthy and was not worth repair. Therefore arrangements have been made for a new one.

Asked by Director Slade whether bids had been sought? director Frank West explained that the Fire Chief did negotiate with a number of companies and individuals before any decision was made.

Mayor Wally Peterson agreed with Director Slade that it is usual to go to bid "Council shops around and obtains bids which are then opened at the same time. This avoids any later criticism", he said.

Director Slade said that he was mainly concerned with the tank which has to be custom built "from my own experience of that business I know it is possible to save up to 25% by seeking bids", he added.

Director Lorne Wolverton commented that credit is due the fire department for the trouble it went to in order to obtain a good deal.

Director Slade pointed out that he was not being critical but was "just wondering". However, he added that he does like to see specifications and tenders for such items.

MOBILE HOMES

Planning Committee is presently considering a memo on regulations and requirements for mobile home parks. Presented by planner Ed Cuylits the memo deals basically with site requirements and reports from surveys carried out in other communities.

In general it is considered that a maximum of eight sites per acre be considered for mobile home parks of which one site per acre should be for playground and recreational use. Further, that a minimum site area of five acres be enforced.

The committee has indicated it will study the proposals at length before making any recommendations to the Board.

PENDER DUMP

Plans for a new garbage dump at Pender Harbour received a set-back with a letter from the Lands Branch rejecting the proposed site on grounds that a possibility of seepage to a water supply exists. It was suggested a survey be carried out and new plans submitted to the department.

Director Jim Tyner said he did not feel a survey is necessary and suggested the garbage committee, himself and the works superintendent hold a meeting with the object of providing greater detail regarding the situation. "This will bring it out into the open for I can't see any likelihood of seepage", he said.

Director Bert Slade, garbage chairman, agreed and said that he had considered the location to be the ultimate site. It was agreed to hold a meeting as suggested.

REJECTED

Application to rezone part of an existing trailer park in order that the owner might operate a new trailer sales outlet was rejected. Proposal involved the long established Sunshine Coast Trailer Park at Gibsons S. end. Reason for refusal was that such a project would encourage "ribbon" commercial along Highway 101.

Revenue increases . . .

Sechelt economy looks good no tax increase says Mayor

TAXPAYERS in Sechelt may rest assured that there will be no increase in taxes for the village this year or in the foreseeable future. Mayor Ben Lang, prior to discussion on the budget, stated that the village is in a fairly healthy financial position. What with an increase in the per capita grant due to increased population, many new homes and subdivisions going ahead within the community, indications are that village revenue will increase satisfactorily without tax increases.

Apart from holding the line on taxes, council will spend the largest amount to-date on roads, maintenance and street lighting. Considerable paving is scheduled and plans call for upgrading of lanes, additional work on the sea-wall and improvements to Boulevard which is presently in poor shape.

Capital expenditure for road paving this year will be $16,000 and a further $12,000 budgeted for road maintenance, lanes etc.

An increase in village revenue amounting to $4,000 comes from increase in assessment based on the standing 18 mills. A further $2,700 results from the per capita population increase.

Mayor Lang also suggested that if possible some paving of the West Porpoise Bay Road should be considered.

Ald. Osborne agreed and drew attention to the fact that the road is in poor condition due to reconstruction and recent train. He also explained that with subdividing taking place in that area and the anticipated construction of new homes, village revenue should increase substantially within the near future, thus council should be in a position to continue a sound paving program.

It is hoped to add a further 100 feet to the sea-wall, even more if free rock becomes available from the Highway Department works crew.

GRANTS

Ald. Norm Watson showed a change of heart by moving that the annual grant of $250 be made to the Sechelt and District Chamber of Commerce toward operation of its tourist bureau. He commended the Chamber on having done a good job with the tourist booth.

It was also agreed to make a grant of $65 to the Sunshine Coast Lions Club in support of the annual swimming class project. This has previously been operated by the Kinsmen Club which is now defunct in Sechelt. The Lions subsequently agreed to take over the swim classes.

NEW SYSTEM

Mayor Lang drew attention to the fact that a local company is now handling a portable sewer system which has gained approval from the authorities. These have proved successful with motels and small apartment blocks and could prove of benefit within the village.

It was suggested a representative be asked to attend a future meeting in order to give members of council a run-down on the systems.

Just Right

There was something for everyone at the Pender Harbour Lions Auction, but we don't think that Lions President Gaylord Merkel and his son Donald were allowed to take off on this mini-bike, not in that hairpiece!

Councils co-operate . . .

Airport improvement sought; power and paving essential

INDICATIONS are that at long last an attempt will be made by both municipalities to bring about improvements to the municipal airport at Wilson Creek, Alderman Norm Watson told Sechelt council last week that he has met with Ald. Dixon of Gibsons and both are in accord installation of hydro power would be one major start.

Another problem, presently holding back the airport is the fact that it is a gravel runway. This is not favored by modern light aircraft for gravel flys up and invariable causes damage to propellers and aircraft.

Ald. Watson said he has also had discussions with the president of the recently revitalized flying club. He was given to understand that the club would be interested in sub-leasing the airport and in turn would accept responsibility providing the councils would assist financially. This would not mean that the facility would be a private venture. It would still be a public airport.

An Air Transport official has indicated that funds for paving such an airport are not easy to obtain, in fact although the federal government spent $80,000 for paving of the Bella Coola runway, the ministry man doubted whether the local airstrip would warrant expenditure of $60,000 or so.

Mayor Ben Lang said that he has been given to understand the Department is very interested in the Wilson Creek airport because of its fog free location. Ald. Watson said he did not question that but suggested both councils press for Regional District participation in the airport.

It was agreed that council co-operate with Gibsons in a joint letter to Ministry of Transport seeking federal assistance in paving the strip.

MUCH TO DO

Alderman Bernel Gordon added his support to a previous protest by Ald. Watson that a strip between the sidewalk and the Trail Bay Centre has not been developed as a semi-screen between the Centre and nearby residential properties. They were told by the Mayor that the owner is, in fact, already working on the project.

Following discussion as to what the two aldermen felt should and should not be done by way of beautification, Mayor Lang suggested one of the two should perhaps discuss the situation with the property owner, Mr. Richard Clayton. Both showed some reticence but Ald. Gordon finally agreed to meet with Mr. Clayton.

Time To Create A New Image

MAYOR Ben Lang of Sechelt has, since election to office, made his presence known and is making commendable contribution to the general progress of the community. As the Sechelt representative of the Regional Board he is already making an impact and has made very clear the fact that he has no intention of bowing to any individual or old line clique.

This is indeed refreshing for with the exception of two other directors, however vocal and enthusiastic new directors are when first elected, it is but short time before they seem to fall into the category of "Yes man".

This is not in keeping with the local government concept for each and every person elected to office is, generally, expected to act as an individual with thoughts and a will of his own. By no stretch of the imagination has this been a notable trait of the Regional Board but, possibly with a few more elections that is a failing which will be remedied.

Mayor Lang, at last regular board meeting, drew attention to the fact that a certain amount of distrust exists with the public regarding the Regional Board. Much of this, he said, arises from the fact that bulk of board business is carried on in committee. This is later brought up with recommendations and approval sought from the board as a whole yet most members are ignorant of just what it is they are approving.

This is a situation we have mentioned on a number of occasions in the past but it called for a strong voice to bring the matter up at a regular meeting. A solution to this particular problem poses certain complications, however, remedial steps are now to be taken.

Mayor Lang was correct in his assessment of public feeling toward the board, at the same time, much of this attitude has been brought about through a certain amount of arrogance and lack of communication. The news media does its best to report meetings as comprehensively as possible but we too are in the position of knowing only half the story. Those on the various committees are naturally familiar with the matters involved, their report in brief, is read out and moved for adoption which is invariably given with little or no discussion. Therefore, as with uninvolved directors, we hear only part of the story. This leaves the little we do hear open to interpretation and presents possibility of error.

On the overall picture, the Regional Board has accomplished a great deal, benefits of some of its functions are evident by the increase in good homes virtually shooting up like mushrooms throughout the district. Water systems have opened up large areas for development, the insidious garbage dumping has almost been eliminated with establishment of an efficient refuse service. one or two fellow passengers are still running cheap but eventually the entire area will be under pick-up service. Above all, despite a poorly devised zoning scheme, zoning and building regulations are contributing to sensible development.

It now remains for the board to establish for itself a somewhat better image. It should not prove difficult, it merely calls for the realization that as elected representative, directors do not become instant dictators or messiahs. Each and every one should stand on his own two feet and avoid falling in with the power group concept.

Finally, local government is no place for airing personal vendettas, any member using his position to such an end is an embarrassment to his colleagues and constituents, furthermore, a detriment to the cause as a whole.

Bungling Or Anarchy?

BEFORE 2,000 cheering supporters recently, in Toronto, opposition leader Robert Stanfield very ably drew attention to the incredible bungling and rough-shod activities of the people presently holding the reins of power in Ottawa today.

Perhaps it would be hasty to say "bungling" for considering the unenviable background of some of those in office, planned anarchy might be a better description. Little wonder our flamboyant prime minister after starting an election campaign is now backing off. His jaunts to meet the people combined with provincial elections, particularly Newfoundland, must surely have scared the pants off him.

Until recently, Mr. Trudeau quite obviously was so overcome with self esteem that he undoubtedly really believed his return to office in the event of an election was assured. Mr. Trudeau and his fabian cronies have too much to answer for. They might have succeeded in buying the votes of certain segments of youthful voters but in the process they have lost far more from our senior citizens, some 650,000 unemployed people through "fight inflation by creating unemployment" tactics, and countless thousands of gainfully employed taxpayers who do not appreciate the way their taxes have been squandered.

Mr. Stanfield states, in part "Inflation is right back where it was when the Trudeau government declared war on it and threw so many helpless people into the front lines of the battle. And today, just as before, the so-called "little people" the ones on fixed incomes, are the ones who are suffering because of it.

"Another development—in December of 1970, the same month that the Prime Minister declared that inflation was licked, his government froze the basic old-age pension. As far as he was concerned that was that. As a result, the "little people" he said he was so concerned about are worse off today".

Regarding the Local Initiative Program, Mr. Stanfield said that this program there was too little planning, too little time, too little study and too little preparation. Result is that the program is under attack from many quarters for having put public money into a number of questionable enterprises. He added "Just two days ago we found out that the government had been sitting for months on a report making plain how poorly planned was last summer's last minute Youth Program. When we voiced our criticism about the administration of this scheme, Secretary of State, Gerard Pelletier accused us of being against youth. We might never have known how right we were to criticize unless the report, like so many others, had not leaked out to a newspaper. Now we do know—$68 million and the program failed to meet almost every one of its goals."

It would prove a simple matter to write a book on the deplorable activities of this present regime. Bungling, squandering of tax-payers money on incredibly absurd schemes, high level jobs for long time friends of Trudeau, fifty per cent wage hikes for the whole government with a multitude of fringe benefits. These are but a few. The pro-Red background of some of the high priced characters in charge of some of the departments is hair-raising.

The department of Information Canada, run by one Jean-Louis Gagnon, a man who had a pro-Red background from as far back as the early 1930's. A long-time friend of Trudeau. A memo from his deputy director states "The record of the past six months leads one to conclude that it is urgent to consider some projects to justify our budget and existence". The memo was addressed to Gagnon and was highly critical of the service. Estimates before the Commons allocate $10,354,000 to this department.

It is noted that the Toronto Star March 1st revealed that the Local Initiative Program, under control of Gerard Pelletier, another Trudeau cronie, handed out $24,000 to a Halifax magazine which in turn devoted a full page telling groups how to con money out of the federal government.

An Ontario publication draws attention to the fact that last year thousands of tax dollars were funnelled by Pelletier's department to the service of homosexuals. On March 1st the Canada Manpower is alleged to have confirmed that it had given a $14,602 Local Initiative Program grant to a Toronto homosexual outfit.

Another grant amounting to no less than $35,080 was given to Rochdale Free Clinic "to provide free medical, legal-aid-and-counsel-to-draft-dodgers".

The Toronto Globe and Mail, March 4th in a front page report states, in part, "Rod Steward, a 24-year old high school drop-out from Dundas, has received $40,000 from the L.I.P. to produce two pro-Communist plays he describes as "agitational propaganda."

So it goes on—and on—and there are many who still support this type of anarchy. Little wonder it was considered necessary to freeze old age pensions. Our senior citizens only contributed to developing this country. In order to obtain more financial assistance it would seem building up and contributing to progress is the wrong approach?

Worthy Project

Every penny helps and there were 1,500 pennies in the chubby blue piggy bank presented by Jr. Past Matron of Mount Elphinstone Chapter No. 65 O.E.S. Mrs. Lorrie Bryson to Sechelt and District Retarded Children's Association President Mr. Albert Lynn. This little project was one of many organized by the Eastern Star Ladies last year. Everyone will have an opportunity to make a donation and enjoy the fun of the big television bingo game this Friday at 11:30 p.m. but cards must be activated in advance. Proceeds go the B.C. Association for Mentally Retarded Children.

Colorful seat covers

Editor, The Times,

Sir: Wouldn't you know it would be taps and colored toilet seats that cause more concern that where the effluent from the holding tanks is dumped from all ships of the proud fleet of B.C. ferries.

And has anyone wondered where the waste bunker fuel, grease and oil is disposed of from the ferries?

Heck no, the color of toilet seats has top priority in our pampered society!

Teachers vs Board

Editor, The Times,

Sir: With reference to Mrs. Virginia Douglas' letter in The Times of April 5, it should be stated that Mrs. Douglas and the Sechelt Teachers' executive are not alike in significance. There is a Teacher-Trustee Liaison Committee, whose function is to deal with the matters of mutual concern which Mrs. Douglas would seem to want settled by the "Heads of State."

A letter from Mrs. Douglas to the chairman of the school board was not acknowledged as the letter indicated it was an expression of her own ambitions. There was no reference to her executive committee, which has a secretary to attend to correspondence, and for reasons of her own the Liaison Committee was not mentioned. Incidentally, the board members of the Liaison Committee have never refused to meet with their teacher co-members. The avenues of communication are there, but an overbearing and dogmatic approach will not achieve the harmony Mrs. Douglas professes to want. It is suggested she put her own house in order before condemning the chairman of the school board.

There can be no quarrel with her statement to the effect that it is unproductive to engage in verbal fisticuffs and I regret it is necessary to correctly state the facts.

Vote Them Out

Editor, The Times,

Sir: The latest idiocy of the Trudeau government really boggles the mind. Old age pensioners will be invited to "adopt" jailbirds at $20 a day? What utter, contemptuous cynicism!

I know a handful of dear old ladies whose families either neglect them or have moved away. Can't you just see some of these con artists sweet talking these pensioners out of their homes, investments, savings and false teeth?

Have we reached the stage in the revolution when our jail gates are to be opened while the public seeks sanctuary behind bars?

The subtlety of fabian socialism is that it erodes freedom and democracy in such subtle ways that the public doesn't even notice it. God help me live long enough to vote this callous crew out—out—out!

Appreciated

Editor, The Times,

Sir: The Society is again greatly indebted to your paper for carrying the story of our work, year around, into your community and I would again like to thank you most sincerely for your continued support.

This year our Christmas Seal campaign reached $410 thousand, about seven thousand below last year's total, the highest ever achieved.

In the overall, including the beneficial effect of the introduction of new processing methods to the campaign—even though our final Christmas Seal total is slightly below that of last year, the actual amount of money available to work on programs which fight tuberculosis, chronic bronchitis, asthma, cigarette smoking, air pollution and the expanding interests of the Society is greater.

Our present level of respiratory research is on a par with the level applicable to tuberculosis at the turn of the century, which incidentally is still Canada's worst germ-spread disease.

There is so much more to do and you and the people of your community are helping us to achieve our goals.

A sincere thank you from the Society could not progress without you.

JAMES D. HELMCKEN, President

Maybe the war on poverty should be extended to the streets and highways. This country has more poor drivers than any other.

Halfmoon Bay Happenings

—by Mary Tinkley

THERE will be a night of fun at the Welcome Beach Hall on Saturday with an interesting programme including a skit. This is the last social programme of the season and everybody is welcome. Admission charge of 50 cents includes refreshments.

PUBLIC MEETING

On Tuesday, April 25 at 7:30 p.m. there will be a public hearing at the Regional Board Office which will be of interest to many people in the Redrooffs and Halfmoon Bay area. The hearing is with regard to the application of J. M. Cooper for the re-zoning of the Redrooffs Resort as Residential 1, to make possible the sub-division of the resort for private homes.

Notices are being sent out this week to all members of the Welcome Beach Community Association giving notice of an Extraordinary General Meeting to be held at the Welcome Beach Hall on April 27 at 8 p.m. The purpose of this meeting is to consider an Extraordinary Resolution to extend the boundaries of the Association for membership purposes.

SMORGASBORD

If you do not already have a ticket for the Smorgasbord Dinner planned by the Halfmoon Bay Hospital Auxiliary for Saturday, April 29, you are advised to do so without delay, as tickets are strictly limited. While they last they are $2.50 each and can be obtained from any member of the Auxiliary.

FILM SERIES

Last Thursday's film programme at the Welcome Beach Hall wound up what was undoubtedly the most successful film series in the history of the Welcome Beach Hall. The programs, chosen with such care and discrimination by Fritz Leuchte were outstanding; the hall, enlarged and improved as a Centennial project, accommodated the larger crowds with comfort and the new large screen made by Keith Comyn, showed the pictures to the best possible advantage. Three hundred viewers participated in the past winter's programme, which was doube the previous year's record.

Appropriately there was an exceptionally fine programme for last Thursday's packed audience, with two films about Malaysia, one on Korea and four on Austria. "Malayan Seashore" explored fine sandy beaches at low tide and pictured interesting specimens of coral and colourful sealife.

Another film toured the famous Batu caverns, a region of perpetual darkness where animals and insects are devoid of pigment. Eons of trophical rains have honeycombed these huge limestone structures into vast caverns and created grotesque and amazing formations. Fine photographic studies pictured bats, snakes, centipedes, scorpions and other examples of the teeming life of the caverns.

The film on Korea told an inspiring story of refugees from North Korea driven by want from the city of Seoul and engaging on a project to build a dike and reclaim acres of good farm land. The film showed a Korean wedding and life in the city and in the village.

Austria Gloriosa offered magnificent examples of the Baroque culture in ornate houses, churches, libraries and fountains. A whimsical story of romance in Salzburg took the viewers all over this enchanting city and gave a memorable glimpse of the death scene in one of the morality plays at the Eberyman Theatre during the Salzburg Festival. The last film held the audience breathless as the famous great white stallions, with their scarlet coated riders went through their paces at the Spanish Riding School in Vienna. The beautifully matched horses and the precision of their dancing steps and musical rides were an inspiring sight.

Films were shown courtesy of the Austrian Embassy and the University of Malaya via the National Film Board.

Acting as projectionists through the whole season were Keith Comyn and Bill Fraser. Mr. Leuchte also expressed appreciation to the Peninsula Times for the generous publicity which undoubtedly did so much to ensure the success of the programme.

EASTER

The Church of His Presence was filled for the Easter morning service and the form. Following the service, 17 children congregation overflowed on to the plattook part in an Easter egg hunt. Winners were Travis Douglas and Sandra Jorgensen.

Mrs. Cliff Connor, accompanied by her daughters, Mary and Margaret, spent the Easter week as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Ralph Smart in New Westminster. For the children the highlight of the trip was a visit to see the film "Living Free", another story of Elsa the lion.

Mrs. Ed Surtees spent the Easter holiday visiting her relatives in Cumberland and since her return has entertained her cousin, Mrs. Irene Bateman of Cumberland.

Mrs. Eva Lyons' guest has been her niece, Mrs. Ron Haig of Surrey, who is a former resident of Gibsons.

Safe Motoring

—by Sheila Harris

RADIAL TIRES AND TIRE CHAINS

INFORMATION is now available that the link type tire chains are an unsuitable type of chain for placing on radial ply tires.

Tire experts point out that due to more flexible side walls and greater deflection rate of a radial tire that using link type tire chains could result in damage to the side walls of the radial tire. Motorists who equip their cars with radial type tires should consult their tire dealer concerning the use of proper type tire chains.

IMPROVE YOUR VISION

According to the British Association of Optical Practitioners, your vision will improve 20,000 to 30,000 times if you wait a few minutes before driving off into the dark. The Association claims it takes about 15 minutes for a driver's eyes to become completely accustomed to the dark—but few motorists wait even 15 seconds. They come out of a lighted building, jump into a car and drive off. They are, in fact, partially blind. According to the British group, for minimum safety, 17-year old drivers should wait two or three minutes and 60-year old drivers at least five minutes for dark adaptation, but it still takes 15 minutes to gain your best dark vision.

HEAD-ON COLLISIONS

Almost anything is better than a head-on collision but, if one is imminent, take to the bushes, shoulder, or ditch to your right. Don't try to outguess the other driver by heading for the left. He might be asleep, drunk, ill, or just plain day dreaming and come to his senses at the last moment and swerve back into his own lane. If there is time, blow your horn or flash your lights.

Blood Donor Clinic offers opportunity to save a life

IF YOU have ever said "I'd willingly give my life . . ." now is your chance to do just that, but you don't have to give your life, just one pint of blood.

The Blood Donor Clinic is visiting Sechelt on Monday next—April 17th from 5-8 p.m. and will locate in the Physiotherapy Room at St. Mary's Hospital.

Sponsored by the Co-ordinating Council of the Auxiliaries to St. Mary's Hospital, the Clinic is hoping for good response because it takes 400 donors a day to take care of the 3,000 patients in the B.C.-Yukon territory who have need of blood.

Anyone between the ages of 18 and 65 who is in good health can contribute. Besides donating blood, it is possible to find out which blood group you belong to. Out of 100 average donors there are 46 with O group; 42 with A group; 9 with B group and 3 with AB blood.

For those who like to know details, slightly less than one pint of blood is taken and this represents one-fifteenth of the average body content. The fluid portion of the blood is replaced within 24 hours and the red cells within 3 to 4 weeks.

The red cells in the normal circulation are continually being replaced from the bone marrow. After about 4 months they become worn out by their travels through the blood-stream. In the blood-stream, therefore, the red cells are of all ages from 1 day to 3 months.

It is much easier not to go to the Blood Donor Clinic but for those who are in good health and prepared to give up half an hour of their time and a blood donation, they have the satisfaction of knowing that they may have helped a complete stranger or someone near and dear to them. The Blood Bank is low, help replenish it on Monday next, April 17th anytime between 5 and 8 p.m. in the Physiotherapy Room at St. Mary's Hospital, Sechelt.

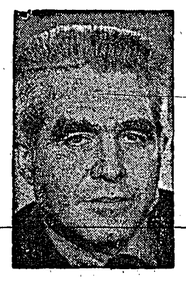
Paul St. Pierre

—Letter from Parliament Hill

OTTAWA—So many constituents have complained about the miniscule 42 cent increase for old age pensioners that I wonder if some Coast Chilcotin residents who are entitled to the larger pension may have failed to apply for it.



The amendments to the pension act passed by Parliament last year did, in effect, freeze the universal old age pension at $80.00.

There was, at the time, a heavy increase in old age pension payments.

All the increase went to pensioners who had little or no other source of income.

More than half British Columbia pensioners, 107,039 out of the total of 204,136 are receiving the Guaranteed Income Supplement in greater or lesser amounts. (Some also get a B.C. Provincial Government Supplementary Social Allowance to a maximum of $38.60 for single persons or $47.50 per month for couples. The federal government contributes half the money for this provincial supplementary allowance, but its administration is entirely provincial.)

The federal Guaranteed Income Supplement, where the real increase in Old Age Pensions took place, ranges up to $57.70 per month for single pensioners, and $50.05 each monthly, for couples.

Any pensioners who have no sources of outside income except the Universal Pension of $80.00 are entitled to the full Guaranteed Income Supplement.

The Guaranteed Income Supplement is progressively reduced in relation to the pensioners' receipt of other income. But first, what is "other income."

Anything considered to be income for income tax purposes is counted, even if the amount is not large enough to require the payment of an Income Tax. This income could be professional fees, profits from business, fishing or farming, dividends from stocks and bonds, rents, the interest payments on mortgages or other similar sources of income.

There is not room here to print all the relevant tables.

However, generally speaking, the Guaranteed Income Supplement is paid in full, $57.70 to pensioners with no outside income, diminishing to zero when the pensioners' outside income is $1,392 per year.

A married couple, both of whom are pensioners, receive the full Guaranteed Income Supplement of $50.05 each if their combined income was less than $48.00 per year. The Guaranteed Income Supplement diminishes progressively to zero when their outside income reaches $2,448 per year. (in previous year)

In the case of a married couple where only one is a pensioner, the monthly supplement of $57.70 is paid in full if their combined income in 1971 was less than $1,008.00. The supplement diminishes progressively to zero when the couples' combined outside income reaches $3,744 per year.

Entitlement to the supplement is normally based on income of the previous calendar year. Payment for fiscal year 1972-73 is based on outside income during 1971. In the case of a delayed application for Guaranteed Income Supplement payments, retroactive payments may be made for a maximum period of one year if there is entitlement.

Pensioners whose outside incomes are less than $1,392, $2,448 or $3,744 according to the categories listed above, should apply to the Old Age Security Regional Office, 1230 Government Street, Victoria.

This has been a sketchy report of the plan. More detailed information is available in a booklet entitled "How to Get Your 1972 Guaranteed Income Supplement." This was mailed to all pensioners in January this year.

Write a simple, straightforward letter in your own words on the value and function of your local newspaper, and send it to The Times.

Letters should not be less than 250 words, nor more than 700. The subject is "Our Hometown Paper" and the judges are not looking for polished literary expression, but a clear and frank expression of your opinion as to what a local newspaper should do, how it is expected to serve its community and its readers, what it means to you, your family, your town. The judges will not look for excessively high praise for the paper, but rather an understanding of the function of a local newspaper.

This contest is open to all readers of Canadian Community Newspapers in Canada; last year the prizes were won by Mrs. Joan Stuchberry of Grantham's Landing.

★ Your entry must be in The Times office not later than 5 p.m. Friday, April 21. Leading entries will be published in The Times, then forwarded to Montreal for final judging.

ST. MARY'S HOSPITAL - SECHELT

Monday, April 17, 1972 - 5-8 p.m.

Sponsored by Co-ordinating Council Women's Auxiliary to St. Mary's Hospital

Sechelt News Notes

—by Peggy Connor

HAVE a card game on Saturday, April 15th to aid the Sechelt Auxiliary to St. Mary's Hospital. At a table for four play 18 hands of either Bridge or cribbage, 6 hands with each partner, total the individual scores then telephone in the names.

Phone in number and score of each player before 6 p.m. Sunday April 16th to either Mrs. Dorothy McCallum at 885-2844 or Mrs. Lily Dunlop 885-9840.

The charge is 50c per player. Lots of nice prizes have been donated by Auxiliary members for high, low and numerous hidden scores. For further information and bridge rules contact Mrs. Ada Dawe 885-9537 or Mrs. Faye Lewis 885-2060.

IN BRIEF

Miss Barbara Beck has left St. Mary's Hospital and has taken a position in the Chilliwack Hospital.

TRAVELLER

Mrs. Zoe McCrea of Sechelt has returned home after five months of travel over Canada, with a trip down to New York State to see her only brother Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Conway.

Mrs. McCrea's cousins the Dave Church's in Hamilton made her very welcome, also Mrs. Harry Eastman, taking her on many trips by car to Toronto and back to Hamilton. Cousin Dave Church and wife were celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary at which she met cousins that she had never met before.

Visited at Winipeg and Portage La Prairie from there she was on her way home. Just outside Edmonton the train she was in could not travel as this was the time of the slide on the tracks where three men were killed. Mrs. McCrea then had to travel by plane to get home. A wonderful trip for a wonderful lady who has spent a great deal of her life in Sechelt.

BRIDGE PARTY

The wind-up Merry-go-round bridge party was held April 7th at St. Hilda's church hall. This is the game run by the Hospital Auxiliary for Sechelt.

Winners overall for the season were Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Eades. Winners for the evening were: first, Mrs. Janet Duckworth and second Mrs. Chris Ward. The daffodil theme was on everything making it a very spring-like party. There were 28 present and all felt that it had been an enjoyable season of bridge playing.

SPORTS

The Sechelt Chief's and Renegades had a busy weekend of soccer in Victoria, games started at 8:30 in the morning some playing 2 or 3 times a day. The Chiefs lost the first game on penalty shots to Chilliwack. The second game 5 to 1 when the Chiefs beat the Renegades. The Sliammon Tigers beat the Chiefs again on penalty points.

Chilliwack B won the tournament which was all Indian. One of several to be held this year, great get-togethers.

This last Saturday and Sunday were very important for the Sechelt Chiefs as they played the Greeks at a home game and with a score of Sunday they went to Vancouver.

These games will give them either a second or 3rd and could move them up to 4th Division.

a height to provide shade, reduce sediment, restore the natural beauty, and provide food for the fish, further patches of timber will be removed. When natural regeneration is not achieved or immediate steps to preserve the ecosystem are required, planting will be initiated.

Further, in issuing cutting permits, consideration is given to:

1. Proper planning, design, construction, use, and maintenance of all logging roads.

2. Harvesting practices which are designed to minimize soil disturbances and other water pollution hazards.

3. Keeping slash burning to a minimum, but recognizing that the area will be used more and more by the public as roads are pushed back. It is hoped that increased utilization will help to reduce the amount of debris left after logging and therefore reduce the amount of slash disposal required.

In acknowledgement of the aforementioned considerations, protective clauses similar to those on the attached sample are intended for inclusion in cutting permits in the watershed area.

I trust that this outline will serve to familiarize you with the protective measures provided by the Forest Service for the preservation of the Chapman Creek watershed.

From the pulpit

—by Pastor Gerry Foster, Gibsons Pentecostal Church

AMONG the many problems facing us today, perhaps one of the saddest is the many broken homes. In some places it is worse than others. For instance one city in the United States had issued about 1600 marriage licenses during a certain year, only to find that it had also granted the same number of divorces.

This is a tragic state of affairs because marriage is a sacred institution. Marriage vows are a serious committment, and we are responsible to God who ordained marriage and the family unit. All members of the family have a part to play. Scripture sets forth very clearly the family relation. "Wives, be subject to your husbands, as is fitting in the Lord. Husbands, love your wives, and do not be harsh with them. Children, obey your parents in everything, for this pleases the Lord."

The Bible has much more to say on this subject, but I will leave it to you to examine the scriptures regarding this. But if your home, your marriage is not happy I urge you not to give up trying. It can work. Christ will make the difference. He must be the head of your home.

Attractive prizes . . .

B.C. Government sponsors student "River Rat" scheme

TRAVEL prizes of round trips to London and Mexico are awaiting top four winners of the Provincial Government sponsored "British Columbia River Rats" project.

British Columbia secondary school students are eligible to enter the contest which is intended to dramatize the importance of some sixteen hundred small rivers and creeks and their contribution of spawning salmon of all species, both for sports fishing and commercial fishing.

Many other prizes will be awarded in the contest where the top 100 entrants will receive an attractive badge bearing the name "B.C. River Rats" and the motto "Contra Nando Incrementum" (Prosperity by swimming against the stream). It will also feature a likeness of three salmon.

TO QUALIFY

Working singly or in teams, students must each be responsible for cleaning up at least 1,000 feet of creek or river bank, by removing such things as tin cans, bottles, scrap metal, auto tires and such like. Debris must be disposed of in a proper manner at a recognized garbage dump or other acceptable place or method.

The stream or area where this task has been performed must be described and identified in a hand drawn map attested to by the written guarantee of: teacher of the student's school, adult member of organized fish and game club, an adult boy scout or Girl Guide leader, and officer of the local branch of SPEC or Sierra Club, any other adult recognized as being knowledgeable and experienced with relation to such a venture.

A written history and/or brief of 500-1,000 words describing the nature of the stream and other data, together with a report of what the student feels should be done to conserve the potential salmon or steelhead population, should accompany the submission.

DEADLINE

Project and written submission should be completed and approved and mailed to: Department of Recreation and Conservation, Attention: Mr. John Buckley, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C., not later than June 30th, 1972.

Honorary Patron of the contest is Premier W. A. C. Bennett. Judges are: author and conservationist Roderick Haig Brown, Mr. Howard English, President of Victoria Fish and Game Assn.; and sportsman Mr. Lee Straight.

Besides the top prizes of round trips awarded by Air Canada and Canadian Pacific Airlines, there are prizes of a transistor radio and flotation type quilted jackets.

Winners of the top four prizes will be invited to present a written report of their experiences to the Legislature's Select Standing Committee on Forestry and Fisheries.

TREMENDOUS

Minister without Portfolio and local MLA Isabel Dawson expresses the hope that all secondary schools participate in the "River Rat" program which she feels is tremendous.

There are numerous creeks [illegible] in this area which suppo[illegible] of spawning salmon or ste[illegible] which make local students [illegible] enter the contest and at the same time contribute towards the conservation of British Columbia's fisheries.

Single parents plan series of activities

Centennial '71 Grants June 1 for final claim

JUNE first has been set as the final date for applications for outstanding portions of federal and provincial grants toward local Centennial '71 Commemorative Projects. Such applications signify completion of the project.

"Approximately 330 local committees have completed projects to a total value of about seven million dollars," L. J. Wallace, general chairman of the British Columbia Centennial '71 Committee announced, "with about 40 still to be completed."

Projects were to have been finished by the end of 1971, but some extensions were granted in cases where project completion was delayed for a valid reason such as winter weather conditions.

Local Committee chairmen in the communities concerned have been informed of the cut off date by registered mail.

At stake is the outstanding portion of the dollar per capita Commemorative Project grant, based on local population figures, from both the federal and provincial governments. Local committees must add not less than 60 cents per capita.

"We don't wish to deprive any community of any grant money," Mr. Wallace said, "but we can't keep our Centennial '71 books open indefinitely. The federal and provincial authorities mutually agreed on the June first deadline as being reasonable."

Spring-Time

April showers are just fun-showers on the Sunshine Coast where the only rain-drops falling on pretty little Karen Boothroyd's parasol are the flowering Alder catkins, fast falling to make room for the green leaves heralding the arrival of spring. Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boothroyd of the Twilight Theatre, Gibsons.

Hydro issues warning keep from powerlines

YOUNGSTERS who fly kites near electric powerlines are inviting tragedy.

Recently a Lower Mainland man was killed, apparently while using a long pole in an attempt to free a kite that had become tangled with a powerline.

"Never try to remove a kite from a powerline, transmission tower or pole," warns J. V. Milburn, manager of B.C. Hydro's safety engineering department. "Only experienced linemen have the knowledge and equipment to work near high voltage lines in safety.

"A damp or metallic cord attached to a kit also may act as an electrical conductor if it brushes a powerline," Mr. Milburn points out. "So play safe—stay well away from these lines."

Each year kites cross powerlines, often causing widespread power interruptions and inconvenience to the public, as well as danger to the youngsters flying them.

B.C. Hydro urges all parents to cut out the following Kite Flyers' Code, and make sure their children understand it and follow it to the letter.

1. Fly kites only in an open field or park, well away from powerlines, transmission towers and poles.
2. Use perfectly dry string, never wire or metallic string.
3. Never try to remove a kite if one catches on a powerline, tower or pole. Release the cord immediately.
4. Don't use any metal in making a kite.
5. Don't fly a kite on or near a road or highway.
6. Never fly a kite in wet or stormy weather.
7. Have fun—but always remember the safety rules!

American crocodile seen at the Vancouver Aquarium had over three pounds of coins, rocks and marbles removed from its stomach surgically. These items were thoughtlessly thrown into the pool by visitors.

LA to Brownies and Guides reports show good progress

SECHELT L.A. to Brownies and Guides held its April meeting at the home of Mrs. Charlotte Jackson, Wilson Creek. There were eight members present with one guest Mrs. Yvonne Manton from Halfmoon Bay.

1st Sechelt Godmother Mrs. Lynn Jorgensen reported the Brownies had a beach trip which was much enjoyed despite the raw wind and rain. Forty-seven service badges were awarded. Some of the work of the girls earning badges was started by last year's leaders. Keeping the girls interested and trying this year they have gone right ahead and worked to get their service awards. They have made 30 stuffed animals and 20 pillows for the tea table sale on June 3.

1st Sechelt Guides had Mrs. Dunforth teaching them Macrame, Mr. Gordon Hall was a visiting fireman and gave them a talk on fire safety and prevention.

Mrs. Diane Benner and Mrs. Donalda Sigouin took the girls on a hike during which they bushed out a trail to camp on the property so kindly made available by the Stockwells at Porpoise Bay. The Rangers have 7 girls enjoying the sessions.

Rally will be held on the Sunshine Coast when 300 Guiders from Powell River will visit the area, May 27th and 28th.

Division meeting held at Naramata was attended by Guider Mrs. Donalda Sigouin who found the sessions long but most interesting.

April 22nd at Powell River there will be an area meeting attended by Mrs. Charlotte Jackson and Mrs. Donalda Sigouin.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Flay (if the stork doesn't beat us there), May 3th, the first Wednesday in the month.

Easter Eggs now distributed, the Chamber of Commerce Easter Bunny and his helpers now wait for the onslaught of hunters who will no doubt make short work of the hidden treasures.

PSSST...

(By Jack Mills)

DIDJA dig that bumper sticker on the back of the camper that rolls around town frequently. It reads, "I am not a dirty old man. I'm just a sexy senior citizen." If you don't believe it look around the vicinity of the Dogwood Cafe—same camper is usually parked around there.

Rumors have been flying about alderman Jerry Dixon's packing it in and leaving Gibsonsville. Mayor Wally Peterson said he had received nothing from Jerry so far. So—what better place to get information first hand than from the barbering town daddy himself. We lost our long locks in the process but the councillor said he had been considering moving to Prince George, but it looks like he will stay with us now.

And wouldn't it be nice living in the kind of world in which Bob Hope could spend Christmas at home?

And isn't this a nice thing we have going between the school board and the teachers' association. Surely we can all get together on some neutral meeting ground and get this little feud settled once and for all.

For those who have been under the impression that studded tires must be removed as of April 1, apparently the date for our local highways is April 30, according to the Gibsons RCMP.

And a Gibsons mother of a lively six-year-old tells it this way. She met her ambitious youngster as he was getting of the school bus and asked, "how was your school day?"

"Mom," he replied, "today our teacher asked me whether I had any brothers or sisters, and I told her I was an only child."

"And what did she say, dear."

"She said, 'Thank goodness'."

Our entrants for the King Neptune contest in conjunction with the Sea Cavalcade are adding up. Add Ted Strom, John Higgs, Dave Kennet, Bobby Emerson, Gordie Day, Charlie Mandelkau and Don McNeil to the list of volunteers.

And where in B.C. can you find a nicer group of ferries employees than those that work our own run between Langdale and Horseshoe Bay? Seriously, we've tried them all and you have to give these guys and gals credit—they do their best to keep a demanding public happy. Some of those sourpusses we've encountered on the Nanaimo to Horseshoe Bay run would be much better off in Key West, Florida. Taming alligators, that is.

United Church women to hold thank offering

THE United Church Women will be holding their annual Thankoffering luncheon on Friday, April 14 at the Christian Education Centre, when ladies from other churches are invited to attend.

Mrs. N. Moore, who is convening the program, announced that the guest speaker will be Peter Davis, who works out from First United Church, Gore and Hastings, Vancouver. His topic will be the Street Clinic, which has been his project in Gastown for about one year. It was started as a clinic for old men but is now a family clinic.

This luncheon provides an enjoyable time of fellowship, a real ecumenical get together. It is hoped that Miss Colleen Johnson will be in charge of the devotionals.

ANAF Vets dance packs Legion hall

—by Adam McBride

HAVING taken part in the open house dance held at Roberts Creek Legion hall recently, I must say it was one of the wildest nights I can remember for some time. There seems to be a real need for an old-time friendly get together and if ever there was an answer to the need, these open house dances are the thing.

After finally managing to get into the hall I found quite a few people simply could not find a seat. This probably accounted for the finding of several badly trampled bodies on the floor at closing time.

The ceremonies opened with the grand march led by Pipers Tommy Richardson and Gordon Webb. Due to a misunderstanding they played different tunes in different keys. The effect on the crowd was stunning. As there was no drum section Bob Watson was asked to thump his head on the bar, which gave a rather hollow but pleasing marching rhythm.

Apparently the Hammond organ music was commented upon. Several people said they had never heard anything like it. Quite a few people complained that the organ music was a little too quiet but this was remedied when it was found the organ had not been plugged in.

This coming Saturday, April 15, is the charter installation dance for this bunch and as there are over 80 members now I suggest you get down there early as the advertisemens says.

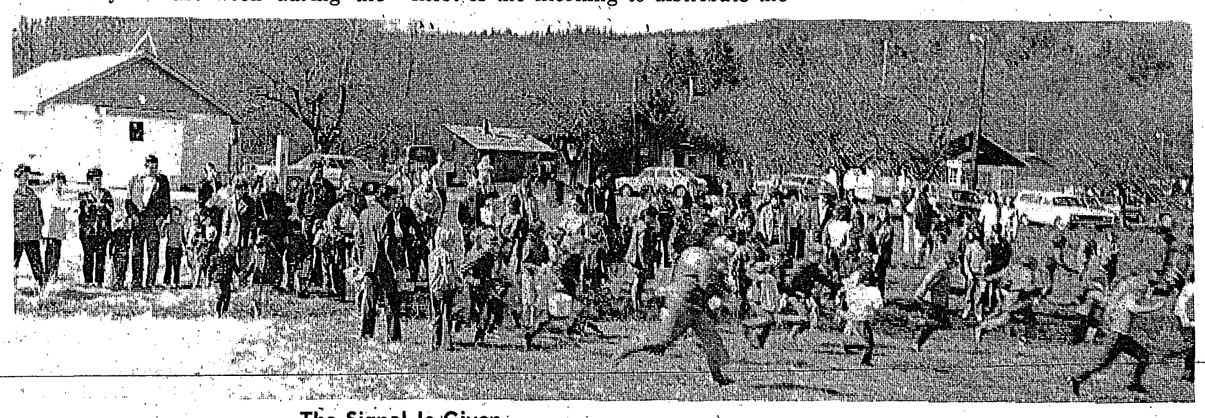
The Scramble Is On

The younger set were offered an area of their own to find Easter Eggs on Sunday of last week during the Gibsons and District Chamber of Commerce's annual hunt. It took most of the morning to distribute the eggs, but in no time at all the area was cleaned out.



The Signal Is Given

At 2 p.m. the go-ahead signal was given and it was a dash to find Easter Eggs during the Gibsons Chambers annual hunt on Sunday of last week. It is not known if any eggs were left behind at the Sunshine Coast Trailer Court, but the way the youngsters combed the area, it is very doubtful.

Easter Eggs, Who Cares?

15-month-old Duncan Soumang was not too concerned about gathering Easter Eggs during the annual hunt last week.

With a Little Help . . .

Some needed assistance, but most youngsters who took part in the Easter Egg Hunt last week held at the Sunshine Coast Trailer Court managed to go home with at least one offering.

Hospital Auxiliary ready for smorgasbord

GIBSONS Auxiliary to St. Mary's Hospital held its monthly meeting in Gibsons Health Center, April 5, with President Dooley Mason in the chair.

Amy Blain submitted her treasurer's report indicating a healthy start for 1972.

Flo Robertson, Elsie Willis, Dooley Mason and Amy Blain submitted reports indicating effective attention to the departments which they chair—Sechelt Thrift Shop, Hospital Volunteers, Co-ordinating Council respectively. Amy Blain again reported on Gibsons Mini-Thrift Shop and expressed a hope that more miscellaneous items, such as china, ornaments, old curtains, etc., would be collected.

Gladdie Davis reported that eleven tables had been filled at the last monthly bridge, door prize being won by Roy Taylor. Vi and Harry Harris won 1st prize and 2nd prize was taken by Jim Weir and George Mathews. The next bridge will be held in Gibsons Health Center, April 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Plans were completed for the spring smorgasbord and dance to be held on April 22 at Gibsons Legion Hall. Maryke Crosby, convenor and her co-convenor, Gloria Fyles, have arrangements well in hand for this very popular event. Get your tickets early from Dooley Mason or a member of the Auxiliary. Tickets are limited.

The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be held on May 3, at the Gibsons Health Center at 1:45 p.m. New members are always very welcome.

St. Mary's Auxiliary to hold blood clinic

THE co-ordinating council for the auxiliaries to St. Mary's Hospital held its monthly meeting March 28, at which time preparations were made for the Red Cross blood donor clinic to be held Monday, April 17 from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. at St. Mary's Hospital.

The volunteers are now busy with the new extended care department visiting and helping with the handicrafts. A St. Patricks Day party was held for the patients and was greatly enjoyed.

The council voted $200 for occupational therapy supplies, for the extended care department. Mrs. C. Connor has been appointed volunteer director for the auxiliaries.

After adjournment, D. W. Mitchell, regional director of the Red Cross Society, showed pictures and spoke on the valuable work done by the Red Cross. The blood bank is only one of the many services which they offer the communities.

Mr. Mitchell hopes that a campaign for funds for this work might be started by some individual or organization on the Sunshine Coast.

Joseph O'Brian passes March 23

JOSEPH O'Brian passed away at St. Mary's Hospital on March 23 at the age of 61. Rev. David Brown, Legion Chaplain, conducted the service at Harvey Funeral Home on Saturday afternoon, March 25 when, in addition to local friends, there were those from Vancouver and from Vancouver Island in attendance. Following the service the Legionaires, after a minute of silence, placed poppies on the casket. Committal was at Seaview Cemetery.

The late Mr. O'Brian, of Irish descent, was born and brought up in Newfoundland. He was in the Navy during the Second World War, when he became a chief petty officer. He spent some time in Nova Scotia and married in Ontario. Coming west, this popular and jovial man worked on construction jobs at Vancouver and Nanaimo. He was a mechanical supervisor for Harmac.

Mr. O'Brian was employed at Port Mellon in the 1950's and 1960's and was involved with construction at Prince George, Williams Lake and Kitimat.

In failing health and after having spent considerable time in hospital, he returned to this area where he had many friends.

Surviving are his wife Hazel; one son, Larry O'Brian with the Air Force in Germany and one daughter Mrs. Dolores Jack.

Break-in at RC Church nets jail, probation

The accused was apprehended in the early morning of April 1 on Highway 101 in possession of several candles. He admitted breaking into the Roman Catholic Church and stealing the candles.

Gary Wayne Barber of Gibsons was charged with causing a disturbance by fighting in the Peninsula Hotel and was fined $200.

Merrill Jones of Roberts Creek was charged with driving a motor vehicle in excess of .08 per cent and was fined $350, as well as prohibited from driving anywhere in Canada for three months. Breathalyzer reading was .14.

Holy Week is occasion for Boser family reunion

—by Marion Charman

A VERY happy family reunion took place at the home of George and Julie Boser on Park Road when 10 brothers and sisters (nee Doran) were together for the first time in 25 years.

They recalled many pleasant memories of their farm home in Ponoka, Alta., where they were all brought into the world with the help of a midwife, but without the services of a doctor.

On this glad occasion of so many relatives getting together, (they were joined by nieces and nephews from Powell River) all attended Easter Services at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church here, filling several rows.

This brought to mind the times when mass was held in the living room of the Doran home, for years, with neighbours gathering there because in those days there was no church nearby.

Best wishes to this family whose members are closely united in love. They came from as far as Maryville in Nodaway County, Mo., and from various parts of Alberta, etc., to be together for Holy Week.

It was a time which will long be remembered by each one.

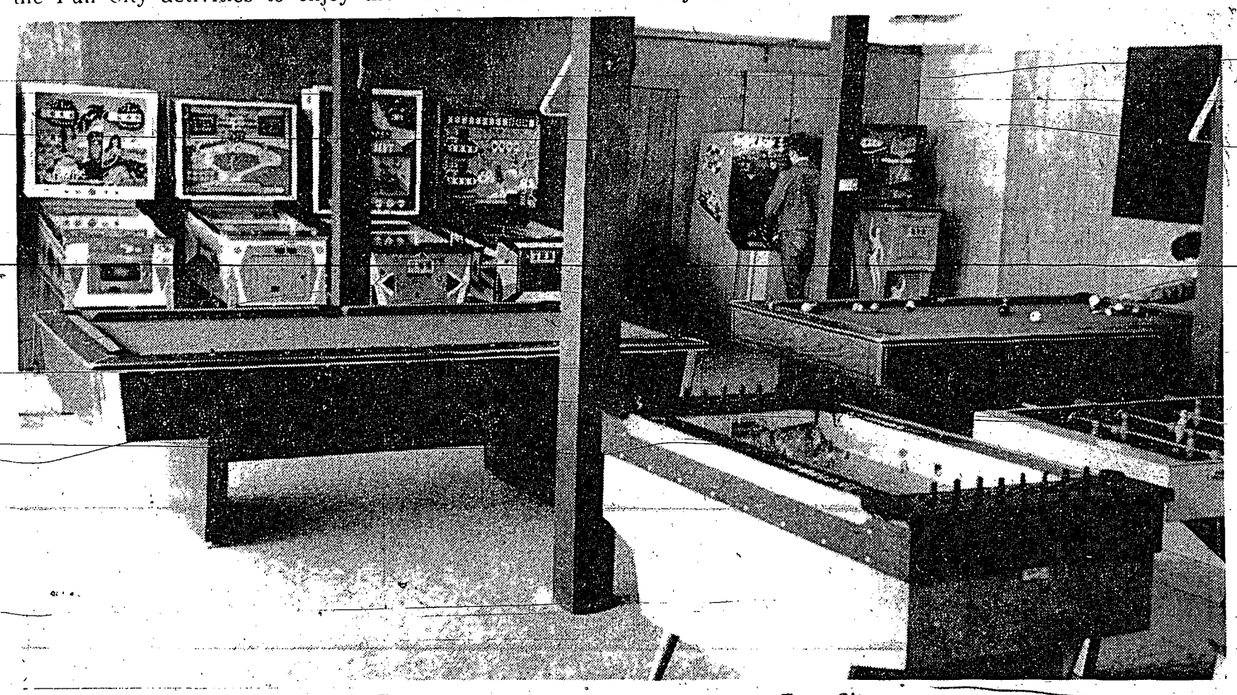
Red Rooster

Inside the Red Rooster at Davis Bay, young people take time out from the Fun City activities to enjoy the appetizing fare served by Terry Koch. Open until 11 p.m. weekdays and until 1 a.m. on Friday and Saturday nights, this is a welcome service close to the most attractive beach on the Sunshine Coast.



Fun City

Mr. Ron Koch, is already a favorite meeting place for teenagers, who now have an evening activity to enjoy.

At a group sensitivity session: "The way I look at it, self-pity is better than none."

At Davis Bay . . .

New drive-in facility compliments Fun City

RED Rooster Drive-In which opened at Davis Bay over the Easter holidays was an instant success both with local residents and the ever increasing number of tourists.

Located just opposite the sandy beach which is a mecca for holiday makers, the Sunshine Coast's latest drive-in sports an attractive red rooster sign which invites people to sample the home-cooking prepared by Mrs. Marion Koch, her daughter Terry and daughter-in-law Debbie. Specialty of the house are the freshly prepared chips which make the ever popular fish 'n chips a special treat for appetites sharpened by the sea breezes.

White wrought iron chairs with bright orange seats make the small dining area attractive and red rooster wall plaques are expected to arrive shortly, but the bright red shingled building with its white painted log door posts is designed mainly to cater to take-out service. People on holiday like to be outdoors and the rustic table with cedar shake canopies add to the quaintness of this seaside drive-in.

Experience is the biggest asset of any dining place and this is just what the Koch family has to offer for Mr. and Mrs. Bud Koch operated the "Rob Roy" and then the "99 Cafe on Kingsway in Vancouver for fifteen years.

RECREATION

Catering mostly for the younger people, Fun City which is operated by Mr. Bud Koch and his son Ron, offers recreational entertainment from 8 in the morning through until 11 p.m. A place for youngsters to go has been sadly lacking in the past now they can enjoy companionship and the challenge of competition with pool tables, pin balls, soccer, fooz-ball and a variety of skill games. Also available are hot dogs, pizza and pop.

Soon to be introduced to this recreational centre is the 18 hole putt-putt golf course which will be located adjoining the Fun City and Red Rooster. This will be something new on the Sunshine Coast, the course being laid out in cement and covered with indoor-outdoor carpet.

For those who like to explore the hundred of miles of trails on the Sunshine Coast, Hondas are available for rental from the Rental Shop which the Koch family also operates.

The rental shop has been in operation for about two years and supplies everything from garden tools to heavy duty equipment including emergency lighting plants. There are one thousand items available for rental, states Mr. Koch who has been advised and counselled in the venture by Mr. Jack Whitaker, son of the late pioneer residents Mr. and Mrs. Ron Whitaker.

Vaccinate for travel warns Health Minister

HONOURABLE Ralph Loffmark, Minister of Health Services and Hospital Insurance, today advised all British Columbia residents planning to travel aboard in the next few months to make sure that they have a valid International Certificate of Vaccination against Smallpox among their travel documents.

In the last few months, Mr. Loffmark said, many countries, including most European countries, had relaxed their regulations and would permit Canadians to enter without proof of smallpox vaccination.

Within the past few weeks, outbreaks of smallpox have been reported in Yugoslavia, Lebanon, Iran and Syria. Contacts to cases in these countries are being now sought in several other countries and it is always possible that a few sporadic cases may occur elsewhere in the world.

It is quite impossible to predict which countries may suddenly reimpose vaccination requirements on all visitors and it is equally impossible to tell whether contacts or incubating cases will be discovered travelling about the world by aircraft, bus, ship or train.

For reasons of personal safety and in order to avoid embarrassment from suddenly re-imposed travel restrictions, British Columbia residents leaving North America are strongly advised to be sure that they have a valid vaccination certificate with them.

If You're Cold, Try Warming Your Windows

If your thermostat indicatees that your house is warm enough but you are still feeling chilly and uncomfortable, maybe your heat distributors are located in the wrong places, suggests the Canadian Hydronics Council.

Although comfort is a suggestive feeling and may vary from person to person, there are certain criteria which are accepted as standards of comfort. For instance, people are most comfortable when there is a minimum difference in temperature between floor and ceiling.

Tests conducted at the University of Illinois demonstrate that hydronic (modern hot water) baseboard heating panels, when installed on all outside walls, especially under windows, are particularly effective in reducing temperature differences between floor and ceilings. Moreover, the baseboard panels act as a barrier against the cold and draughts when installed on the perimeter of the house.

Another important point to remember is to locate all thermostats away from contact with heat, cold and sunlight. This permits them to record only the temperature in the room and nothing else.

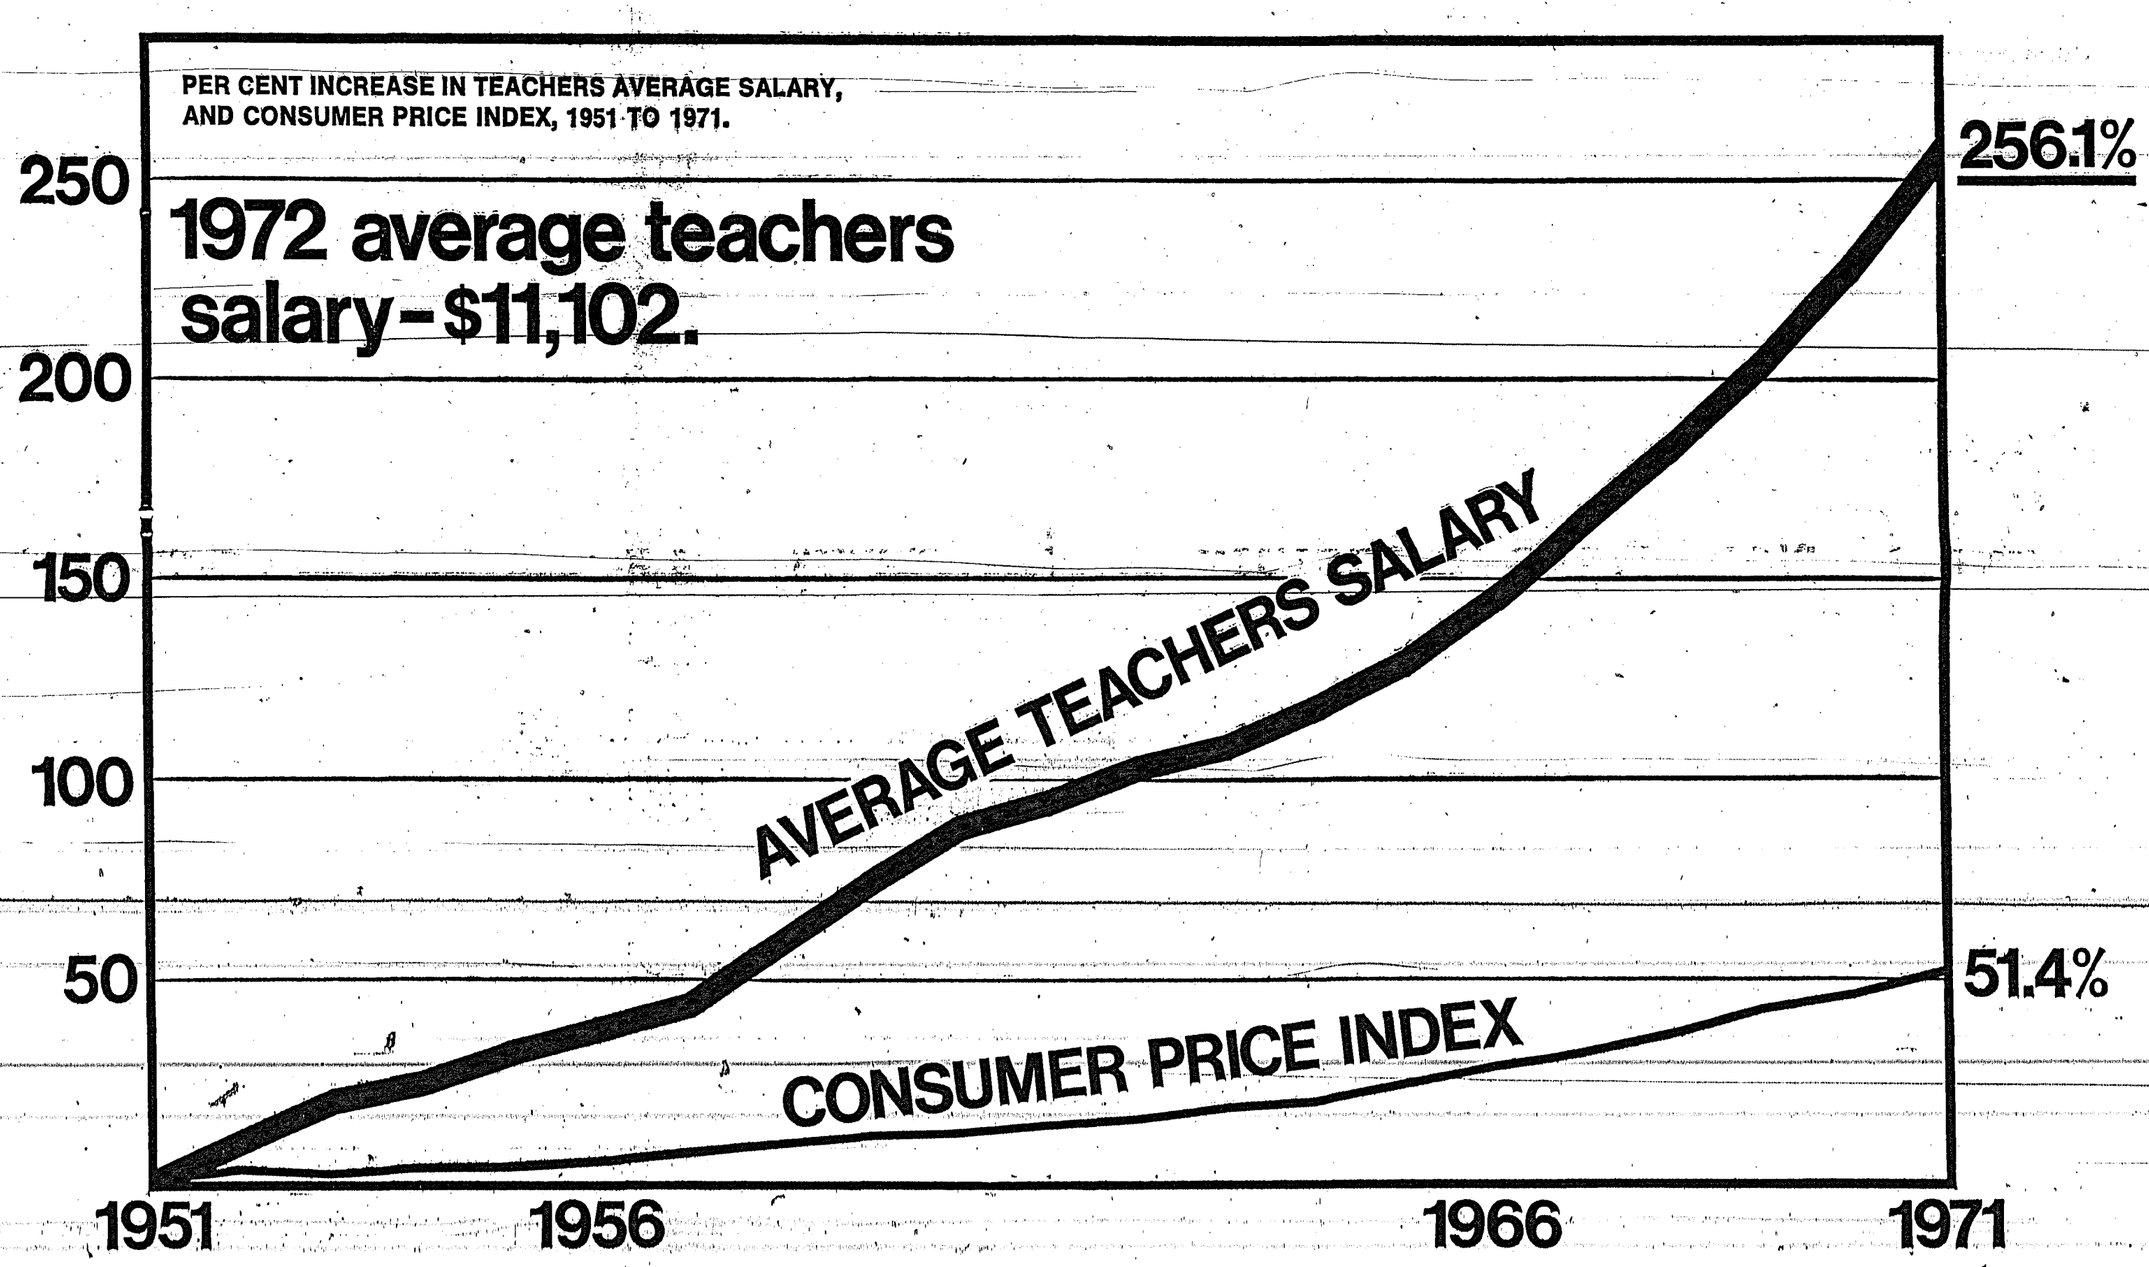
BRITISH COLUMBIA HAS THE HIGHEST PAID, BEST QUALIFIED TEACHERS IN CANADA



In the last twenty years, the salaries of British Columbia teachers have risen five times as fast as the cost of living.

Today, the average salary of our teachers is $11,102 per year, with generous holidays and fringe benefits. They are the highest paid teachers in Canada.

With a 6½% annual increase, compounded, our teachers will double their present good salaries in ten years.

Does this sound "unfair" to you?

Because of good salaries and excellent fringe benefits, British Columbia has been fortunate in attracting the best qualified teachers in the country. Our province has the highest percentage of teachers with a university degree of any province in Canada.

GOVERNMENT OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Bible Comment

—questions answered

QUESTION: In the issue of March 15th the answer to the question seems to have a break in continuity. What was omitted?

Answer: The typographical error is to be found in the 12th line. The complete sentence should have read, "The king sent forth his armies and destroyed those wicked ones, after which he sent his servants to the dispersed (into the highways), and the wedding was furnished with guests."

Question: What is baptism? Who are candidates for baptism?

Answer: The arguments over the matter of baptism result not from the complexity of the subject but rather from the matter of authority. If the authority of the Bible is to be upheld, baptism is for those who hear, believe, repent, and confess Christ by being baptized into His death. Baptism in the original language of the scriptures meant immersion and nothing else. The final act of baptism did not make one a Baptist but a Christian. The spiritual significance of baptism is lost entirely in the sprinkling of water on the heads of unwilling candidates. What do the following verses of scripture teach about the subject of baptism? "Know ye not that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even we should walk in newness of life." (Rom. 6:3-4) "Then Peter said unto them, Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call." (Acts 2:38-39) Does this not teach that baptism is a burial, that baptism is a resurrection to a new life, and that baptism is for the remission sins? Can this apply to infants?

Columbia Coast Mission subject for Holy Week

DURING Holy Week, Planetarium Mall in Vancouver was the scene of a series of religious lectures by speakers representing various dominations. The day before Good Friday, the programme was devoted to the work and history of the Columbia Coast Mission.

Speakers were the Rev. Canon Alan Greene of Redrooffs who had served as superintendent of the Mission for 23 years in the Rev. Eric Powell, a former Rector of Kingcome and the surrounding Indian villages and who is now director of planning with the New Westminster Diocese. It was his ministry at Kingcome which inspired Margaret Craven's character of the Vicar in "I heard the Owl call my Name", and the book is dedicated to him.

Canon Greene recounted the history of the Columbia Coast Mission from its founding by the Rev. John Antle and told some of his personal experiences encountered while on patrol of the lonely Indian villages, logging camps, light stations and isolated settlements up and down the B.C. coast. He told the audience stories, tragic and amusing about some of the men and women who lived in these lonely spots and for whom the visit of the Mission ship was an occasion to be looked forward to for many weeks.

Then, while Mr. Powell read extracts from "I heard the Owl Call My Name", Canon Greene showed slides of pictures taken over his long years of service.

The programme closed with the showing of "Mission Ship", a film made nearly twenty years ago of the Mission ship Columbia on its coast patrol, skippered by Canon Greene. The film included a visit to Kingcome Village and showed glimpses of the ceremonial dances there.

Following the lecture, coffee was served in the Members' Room when there were many happy reunions. Among those attending the lecture was Ernest Antle, son of the late John Antle who had flown from Victoria with his wife in their personal plane. There were also Indians from Kingcome Village and representatives of the Cape Mudge Indian band, all delighted to hear that the Columbia Coast Mission which had served them so long and faithfully was being resuscitated.

At he present time there are no ships serving the Mission but a pilot, the Rev. John Mellis, is the new flying priest with a base at Port McNeill.

The United Church and Anglican Ecumenical plane sank recently under the island's heavy snowfall and will cost $2,000 to repair.

Donations are urgently needed for this work and can be sent to the Columbia Coast Mission c/o Bishop Gartrell, The Synod, Victoria. The first $100 donation has already been received.

Snowmobile controls with new legislation

CONTROLS on the registration and operation of snowmobiles as "all-terrain vehicles" in British Columbia will come into effect March 15 and October 1, the Hon. W. K. Kiernan, Minister of Recreation and Conservation announced today.

Effective March 15 will be sections of the All-Terrain Vehicle Act, passed in the Legislature last year, prohibiting the operation of snowmobiles in a manner dangerous to people or property or that harasses wildlife or domestic animals.

Also effective March 15 are sections of the Act specifying that persons under the age of 16 cannot register a snowmobile and persons under the age of 18 require the consent of parents or guardians to make such registration.

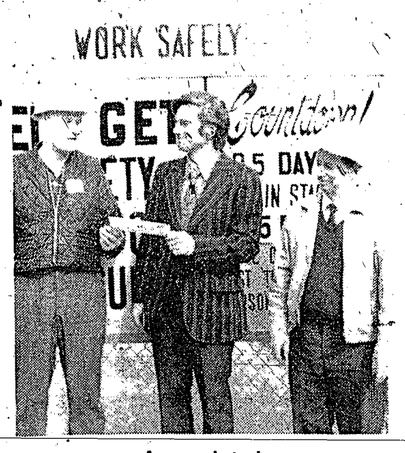
Sections of the Act allowing municipalities to pass laws governing the operation of the vehicles on land under their control also come into effect immediately, as do sections making the vehicle operators subject to restrictions as prescribed by the Parks Act, Forest Act and Land Act.

Those parts of the Act dealing with regulations, offences and penalties also come into force March 15.

Effective October 1, snowmobiles must be registered and an identifying decal will have to be displayed on the machines. Registration will be through the offices of the Motor Vehicle Branch and it is expected that the processing of registrations will start this summer.

Accident reporting procedures for operators of snowmobiles also come into effect October 1.

We often wish that we could find something that tasted as good as the nickel ice cream sodas we bought fifty years ago.



Appreciated

Late in 1971 the employees of Canadian Forest Products Ltd., Howe Sound Pulp Division, achieved 250 days of lost time accident free performance. Because of this achievement, the management of Howe Sound Pulp provided the sum of $500 as a donation to any organization chosen by employee ballot. The results of this ballot determined the popular choice to be The Sunshine Coast Recreation Association. The official presentation was made on March 29, 1972. Pictured above is Dr. Eric Paetkau, representing the Sunshine Coast Recreation Association, receiving the $500 cheque from Mr. Hux Marshall, Union member of the Division's Plant Accident Prevention Committee. On the right is Mr. Bill Booth, management member of the Plant Accident Prevention Committee.

With amazing enterprise and energy, Japan has developed within a few years a booming trade with Canada. The two nations are approaching a combined $1.6-billion trade.
