FIFTEENTH YEAR — PHOENIX, B. C., SATURDAY, JAN. 17, 1914 — NUMBER 27

SKI TOURNAMENT SUNDAY, JAN. 25

Cup and Shield to be Competed for—Outside Competitors to Enter—Good Prizes.

It is the intention of the Phoenix Ski Club to hold their annual tournament in Phoenix on Sunday, Jan. 25th, providing snow conditions are favorable. It will be held on Montezuma hill if fovorable, otherwise it will take place on Pike's Peak, about five minutes walk from the C.P.R. depot. They also intend to hold a seven mile race on the same course as the race a year ago was run on. The Phoenix trophy, won by Ernest Olson last year, will be competed for in class A. The shield donated by E. A. Black will be competed for in class B, won by Gust Carson last year. Anyone winning the shield or cup two successive years will be the entitled owner thereof. Several outside competitors are expected here to take part. Arrangements are being made to offer special prizes.

Elmer Ness has constructed a ski jumpoff at Christina lake, the largest in the Boundary. The champions intend making a new record on this course, as soon as sufficient snow falls. Jumps can easily be made a distance of 140 feet.

Steel Reaches Fort George

With tracklaying and construction favored by ideal weather conditions during the past mouth, the end of steel on the Grand Trunk Pacific from the east has reached Fort George several weeks ahead of its expected time. Announcement has been made that a regular passenger service will be inaugurated to Fort George at once.

It has also been officially stated that the end of steel will rest at Fort George through the winter.

News Notes from Granby Bay

(Special to Phoenix Pioneer)

Granby Bay, Jan. 14.—F. M. Sylvester, the Granby company's general manager, arrived from Vancouver on the S. S. Prince Rupert and is staying at the Club house.

Mrs. W. A. Williams and son have left for the south, as also did G. W. Wooster, the company's treasurer, after spending a week in town. W. B. Bower, of the company's store department, went down on the same boat on a business trip, and Earl Smith, the accountant here, also left for a short vacation.

In view of the approaching blowin at the smelter, the operating staff are coming in. Mr. and Mrs. Atherton (the former is smelter foreman) have been guests at the Granby Bay hotel for some weeks; J. Dillon, converter foreman, with Mrs. Dillon are here from Grand Forks, and J. R. Danielson, from Anaconda, Mont., converter liner, has also arrived.

During Mrs. Williams' stay here, the ladies of Anyox gave a card party and dance in her honor at the Granby Bay recreation hall. Progressive whist was played by some 120 invited guests until eleven o'clock, and after supper dancing was indulged in.

A well patronized entertainment in aid of the Catholic church was given in the Recreation hall on the evening of Wednesday, 7th. This showed that there is considerable musical talent locally, and benefited the Catholic church to the extent of about $125.

W. Crosby, furnaceman, with Mrs. Crosby, arrived on Saturday, 10th, on the C.P.R. boat Princess Royal.

Construction work at the smelter and in connection with the hydro-electric plant at the power house is proceeding rapidly, and it is confidently expected that the smelter will blow in on the 25th January, if not before.

PHOENIX WINS FIRST LEAGUE GAME PLAYED

Game One of the Roughest on Record—Third Period a Tie—Teams Play Extra Ten Minutes for a Decision—Phoenix Scores Two Goals.

Hockey enthusiasts, and everybody in Phoenix is a hockey enthusiast, were certainly given their money's worth at the rink last Monday night when the Greenwood and Phoenix teams played the first league game of the season in the Boundary. If the balance of the league games are as strenuous, it will be lucky if some of the players do not land up either in the hospital or the morgue. That some members of the Greenwood team resorted to slaughter-house tactics cannot be denied. Trehern's assault on Bernie Morris in the second period showed all the earmarks of being premeditated and deliberate. Trehern is a hockey player hard to beat, but he evidently lost his head in his effort to get the better of Morris. Failing to outpoint him in skill, he struck him over the head with his stick, cutting a gash that required two stitches. Morris, of course, did the natural thing. He struck back, the two clinched and fell on the ice, but were soon pulled apart. There were other rough plays, and several of the Phoenix players can show black and blue marks to testify to it.

At the end of the third period the game was a tie—three to three. Then in the ten minute play which followed Phoenix scored two goals, making the game five to three in favor of Phoenix.

In the first period Bassett, Benson and Davidson scored for Phoenix, and Smith scored for Greenwood. In the second period neither team scored. The playing was both hard and rough, and it was during this that Treheren and Morris mixed. In the third period Lynn and Trehern scored for Greenwood, making the game a tie. In the overtime period the two goals were scored for Phoenix by O'Connell and Benson. The last ten minutes of the game were exciting ones. With an even score to start with, both teams worked like trojans for victory, but the Phoenix boys seemed to be in the better condition and had little difficulty in putting it over their opponents.

Sayers and Howey, who played spare for Phoenix, gave a good account of themselves while on the ice.

The unexelled goal tending of Mitchell and the whirlwind and systematic work of the rest of the players were the prime factors in the victory for Phoenix. Every man on the home team played a good game, and it would be unfair to specialize. But it must also be admitted that Greenwood has a strong team this year. Lynn, Trehern, Neil and Smith are fast and hard players, while Clarke, the goal tender, is on the job every minute of the game.

It is estimated that at least 850 saw the game. Men, women and children shouted themselves hoarse, to such a height did their enthusiasm run. A large crowd came up from Greenwood, and quite a number from Grand Forks.

Penalties, second period—Trehern and Morris. Third period—Morris and Trehern. Fourth period—McIntosh and Neil.

Joles Rochon was referee and P. C. McWha, judge of play. Both are Grand Forks men. The time keepers were Black and Quance, of Phoenix, and McKay and Logan of Greenwood.

The following is the line-up:

| PHOENIX | | GREENWOOD |
|---|---|---|
| Mitchell | Goal | Clarke |
| Davidson | Point | Alexson |
| Benson | Cover Point | Neil |
| Bassett | Rover | Lynn |
| McIntosh | Center | Treherne |
| Morris | Right Wing | Smith |

GAME IS PROTESTED

Greenwood has fyled a protest on the grounds that "during the first period the referee let his bell fall, and the Greenwood players, thinking that it was for an off side, stopped playing and then Phoenix scored. In the last period Greenwood scored twice, and if the goal had not been counted in the first period, Greenwood would have won."

True, the bell fell on the ice during the first period, but Rochon, the referee, contends it was knocked out of his hand, and at the time decided that the goal scored by Davidson for Phoenix counted.

Hotel Changes Hands

The Central hotel, one of the oldest hotels in the city, closed Thursday night as a licenced house. Under the new Provincial regulations the house did not come up to the requirements of law. A. O. Johnson, the proprietor, has taken over the Knob Hill hotel, formerly conducted by Chas. Hagan. Mr. Johnson has splendid business ability and is a generous and public spirited citizen. The Knob Hill hotel under his management will be conducted upon first class lines.

Balcony in Skating Rink

It has been found necessary to provide more accommodation for the people who attend the hockey matches at the skating rink. A balcony 150 feet in length is being built along the north side of the rink. This will accommodate at least 100 people, and will give the best possible position from which to view what takes place on the ice. The work is under the supervision of Frank McDonald, boss carpenter at the Granby.

BOARD ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION

Mayor Matheson and Colleagues Returned—D. J. McDonald Succeeds Jas. Marshall.

Again Mayor Matheson and the board of alderman of Phoenix have been elected by acclamation to succeed themselves. The only change from last year is that D. J. McDonald was elected to fill the vacancy caused by James Marshall leaving the city. Mr. McDonald is a heavy property owner and an old resident of Phoenix. For several years he has conducted the Phoenix Livery stable. He will prove a very capable man for the position to which he has been elected. J. W. Hannam was elected to succeed himself as school trustee.

The Orchestra Dance

The dance given by the Miners' Union Opera house orchestra Monday night was a little late in starting, owing to the hockey match on the same evening, but when the crowd did get there they certainly made good use of their time until the early hours of the morning. The music supplied by the orchestra was enjoyed throughly, and the dance was in every way a pronounced success.

Greenwood Carnival Postponed

On account of the extremely mild weather the management of the Greenwood carnival found it necessary to postpone the affair until a latter date.

B. C. Mining

A flurry in Consolidated Mining & Smelting company stock is reported. It is now selling at $90.

Seattle placer mining men are setting up a drill near the railway station on the Similkameen river.

The Noble Five mine near Sandon has closed down for the winter. A number of men are engaged on the deep level tunnel which is being run from near the old Sovereign ground.

Some important developments are expected in relation to the mining situation in the vicinity of Ashnola and Copper mountain. A smelter is probably the question to be settled in February.

Shipments of zinc ore and concentrates from mines in the Slocan district during the year just closed totaled 8,328 tons, according to the official figures which have been made public.

A big strike of rich silver-lead ore has been made on the Treasure Mountain, Summit Camp, the lead exposed showing 18 inches of solid galena and 4½ feet of vein matter. Assays average $150 to the ton.

Men are working day and night at the Standard mine at Silverton in an effort to get under way 2,500 tons of zinc ore which is being shipped to Argentine, Kan., for treatment. The shipments are being rushed as the ore is piled up in the open air and the company desires to move it before the frost sets in The ore was piled to await the definite decision as to the new United States tariff, under which a reduction in duty was made, which is proving of considerable benefit to British Columbia zinc producers

As we go to press the hockey game between the Intermediate teams of Phoenix and Greenwood is being played, and the Hartley-Cosgrove race run, accounts of which will appear next week.

SATURDAY, JAN. 17, 1914.

A women prisoner escaped from the Edmonton jail last week. Give the average woman a hairpin and a buttonhook and she laughs at locksmiths.

Doris Blake, who has recently come to the front as a writer, says that a woman who fails in her own home hasn't the stamina nor the tact to succeed in the world.

Automobiles ran on the streets of Phoenix this week and the school children played marbles. All of which goes to prove how delightful our winter climate is.

The stranger in Phoenix would no doubt arrive at the conclusion that hockey was the city's chief industry, and that the mines were run merely as a side line.

Here is a remark made by a street speaker in Seattle the other day. While standing on a soap box he shouted: "All the thieves in all the penitentiaries have not stolen as much as one multimillionair has done."

Phoenix hockey fans are reasonable in their request for the games to start earlier. Without the people who attend there would be no hockey, so that their wishes should be met with to as great an extent as possible.

The German Emperor is said to be hard up financially. Not many people outside of a newspaper office know what it is to be hard up on $5,000,000 a year, but then it does not cost them more than a million when one of their family gets married.

The special edition of The Nelson Daily News gives a very complete writeup of the Kootenay and Boundary, covering the progress made during the past year, and the future prospects for 1914. The edition contains 18 pages, and the mining, lumber, farming, fruit growing and other industries are handled with thoroughness and care. The Daily News is to be congratulated for its enterprise.

Be civil and sociable. If you live a self-isolated life you are likely to have a lonely death. Be one of the people, even if you are sure your brain is extra superfine, or your purse longer than your neighbor's. You may need the hand of friendship or the good will of your fellowmen some day. Try a change anyhow. Do something while you are alive, you can only rot after you are dead.—Ex.

Walt Mason says: "If I meet a woman who never recognizes me on ordinary occasions, and she comes toward me with a smile too blamed cordial for any good use, I realize at once she is selling tickets to an oyster supper to raise money to pay the hall rent of the Federation of Fossil Females, and I proceed to dig up. Her charming smile is a false beacon, designed to lead mariners on the rocks, or relieve them of their rocks, if you will pardon the metaphor."

Ore reserves at the Granby's Hidden Creek property are estimated at eleven million tons. This is an enormous tonnage of ore to have blocked out, and assures prosperity in the company's northern camp for years. With the Phoenix and Hidden Creek camps in full operation, this year should witness a stupendous increase in the Granby output. The New York Minining Age says it would occasion no surprise were Granby's 1914 production to approach 50,000,000 pounds of copper.

The people want to see clean sport, and it is to be regretted that any other kind should be indulged in. Hockey is one of the most interesting of the winter games, and it requires young men of nerve and in the best of physical condition to play it. The players are bound to get hard knocks and bumps even when the game is played as it should be, therefore any unnecessary rough tactics should not be tolerated for an instant. Cut the rough stuff out, by all means, and do not bring the game down to the level of the bull fight or the prize ring.

Because his wife sent him a comb and brush as a Christmas present, a Philadelphia prominent merchant, is suing for a divorce. In discussing his troubles and his bald head, he said: "My wife has poked fun at my baldness long enough. I've done everything a mortal man could to grow hair on my head, but what's the use? I'm bald and bald I'll be to the rest of my days. I can stand much, but this thing got my goat. I can't grow hair on my head, and I can't stand her jibes, so I'll get a divorce."

Postoffice Hints

Whenever you hear the evening train whistle, hurry round to the postoffice and rave around there for half an hour, not forgetting to bring your dog with you, as he would miss the many dogfights which usually take place there.

When you call at the box office for your mail and the postmaster hands it out do not forget to ask him if that is all.

If you ask the postmaster for mail and he tells you there is none, tell him that you expected some, and go home with the firm conviction that he has had it himself or is keeping it from you for some reason of his own. If you still worry about it send the rest of your family round at intervals during the day.

There is no hurry in bringing your mail round till the very last moment before the bag closes, the postmaster delights in holding back the carrier to take your letters before he seals the bag up.

When your letters want stamping, tell the postmaster to do it himself and if he gets excited put the stamps on yourself holding them long enough in your mouth to remove the mucilage. The stamps will probably come away with the date stamp.

If you have a box stand around it until you are sure that all the mail is sorted, at which period those with boxes in close proximity to yours can easily get at their own letters. Then knock at the postmasters private door and ask him if there are any more letters.

The Gloomy Face

Young Wax, who worked in Jimpson's store is out of luck; his job he's lost. "We do not need you any more," said Jimpson; "you are such a frost. You're diligent, that I admit; you try to earn your wage, I know; but many patrons throw a fit when they behold your air of woe. You always look as though your dad had burned a church or robbed a train; your bearing is so glum and sad that people think you have a pain. The clanging mart is not the place, in these glad optimistic years, for any man with longdawn face, whose eyes are full of unshed tears.

A dame comes in to buy a rug, or blow herself for silk or fur; she wants a guy with beaming mug and and cheerful mien to wait on her. A gent comes here to buy a shoe, a walking stick or fancy vest, and when he sees a clerk like you, he thinks he's at a crowner's quest. I've often waited on my trade when colic harrowed my inside, and wore a smile that would not fade—a smile at least six inches wide. I've stood behind the counter here, with wreathed smile and bow beck, when I'd an abscess in my ear, and three carbuncles on my neck. And you, who have no grief or care, just circulated around this store the living image of despair—so I won't need you any more."—Walt Mason.

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Which Style of Woman?

BY DORIS BLAKE

"What type of women do men like best—the domestic woman, the clever women, the 'dressy' woman, the simple, or the engineering woman?" asks a correspondent.

I am not quite sure whether the yonng men of the present day fully appreciate the domestic girl. Bread making dosen't appeal to them in their "first love" days half so much as traveling through wood hand in hand with a soul mate. When they get a little older, however, men let their eyes fall lingeringly upon girls who know the ins and outs of the commissariat department.

The girl or women who "lives to dress" is loved by a certain class of men—because she dresses. Being "smart" themselves, they naturally wish to be seen in the company of a "smart" member of the opposite sex. The "smart" woman, however, generally frightens her "smart" lover in the long run. He argues to himself: "She dresses very nicely, but if I marry her there won't be anything for me to dress on after her bills and the rent are paid."

The engineering woman is another kind of flattering woman. But she more often makes a man than mars him. As a rule, she links her future with a man of moral instability, and succeds in making her husband quite a shining light among his friends. This woman is an excellent wife. "What would her husband do without her?" is the spendid eulogy of her friends.

But the cheery girl—she who is gifted with a large amount of sympathy and who is fairly economical—seldom remains unwed. The average man is fond of cheerfulness. But he is still more fond of sympathy. He wants a woman to convince him that the world, if it uses him hardly, will one day even up matters by beginning to smile on him. He wants a woman to make his troubles her troubles, his joys her joys, and then his life runs smoothly.

Pelkey's Father Hard Hit

One of the pathetic incidents of the battle at San Francisco New Year's day was the presence at the ringside, in a box seat well up toward the front, of Andrew Peltier, father of the defeated Arthur Pelkey.

Peltier had come all the way from the east to be on hand for what he fondly expected would be the triumph of his son. For four rounds he took a decided interest in affairs. Then came the change. The old man evidently divined, unoccustomed as he is to the boxing game, that things were not going well. His head dropped, he pulled down over his head the wool cap he was wearing and finally bowed his head, refusing to look at what was going on inside the ropes. He couldn't help hearing the cries of the Smith supporters, however, and every punch that was landed on Pelkey sent a quiver through Andrew Peltier.

Copper From Water

Butte is not the only district that produces copper from mine water. From the two working shafts of the Penn Copper mine, Calaveras county, California, a total of 30,000 gallons of water is bailed daily. This averages 15 lbs, of copper per 1,600 gallons. It is run through 14 boxes, 9 of which are 2 ft. by 3 ft. and five are 1 ft. by 2 ft. in section, having the common length of 100 feet with a fall of 6 in. in each length. These are filled with all kinds of scrap iron and refuse from can factories on the coast. The copper is precipitated on this scrap. The boxes are cleaned once a month, the large scrap being lifted out and the finer material put through a 16-mesh screen. The precipitate is dried, sampled, and shipped to an eastern refinery. It averages 70 per cent. copper, and the monthly yield is seven tons, all produced at a low cost.

Some Sound Advice

The spetators at a hockey match should try and remember that the players are on the ice because they enjoy the most manly of sports notwithstanding the hard knocks, and give pleasure to spectators. The inhabitants of each little village in the league naturally wish to see their team win, but that is no reason why players on the opposing team should be insulted. It is a purely sporting event, a test of skill and endurance, in which none but fairly clean young men can hope to be successful. We might all try and hide our little, narrow, parish prejudices and give credit where it is due. Support your team, but don't insult their opponents.—Slocan Record.

Liberal Speakers Coming

Brewster and Oliver are scheduled to speak in Phnenix on Monday, February 2nd, and possibly Greenwood on the same date. Afterward the leaders will go north to Prince Rupert, Bella Coola and other points.

Norval Baptie to the Front

Norval Baptie will shortly leave for the prairies, where he will endeavor to force Edmund Lamy into some speed exhibitions in the effort to settle the long dispute over the question as to who is the real title holder in some of these events. Lamy appears in exhibitions in Edmonton on Monday, and while there will be challenged by Baptie to a series of contests which will forever bury the dispute should Lamy be in a receptive frame of mind.

Bernie Morris a Married Man

Two of the star players in the Phoenix hockey team, who were single men last season have joined the ranks of the benedicts. Mitchell, the invincible goal tender, was the first to take the plunge, and a few weeks ago cupid got in his work on another player in the person of Bernie Morris, one of the fastest hockey players in the country and a universal favorite with the people wherever he is. Morris is the highest salaried player in the Boundary or Kootenay, and probably in the province. The following account of his wedding which took place recently appeared in the Moosejaw Morning News:

"Bernard Patrick Morris, probably the most talked of hockey player in Canada at the present time, was quitely married on Monday evening at the Presbyterian manse by the Rev. W. G. Wilson to Miss Minnia Belle Cowan, daughter of Mrs. S. D. McMicken of this city.

"The cantracting parties are both very well known here. The bride who was born in this city and has lived here all her life is immensely popular among her wide circle of friends.

"The bridegroom is a resident of Brandon, Manitoba, but for the past three years has spent much of his time here. Two seasons back he played hockey with the Moose Jaw professional team and last season was engaged as coach of the local Robin Hood club but eventually left here to play hockey in British Columbia.

"Many friends were present at the C.P.R. depot yesterday to give the newly married couple a hearty send off on their departure for Phoenix, B. C., where Morris will finish up the hockey season with the Phoenix club of the Boundary League."

Mrs. Morris did not accompany her husband to Pnoenix, as stated above.
