The greatest copper mines in the Dominion are situated at Phoenix. The Granby Co. employs 500 men, and has a monthly pay roll of over $50,000, while the Rawhide pay roll is $18,000.

FOURTEENTH YEAR — PHOENIX, B. C., SATURDAY, JULY 27, 1912 — NUMBER 2

Genesis of Great Copper-Gold Producing Mining Camp

B. C. Mining

Ore of high value has been struck on the Phoenix, at Rossland. It is stated that the product is much similar to that found on the 1,650 level of the Le Roi mine.

The compressor parts for which the Hobson Silver Lead company have been waiting, have now arrived, and will be put in place at once. Work will be resumed in a few days.

The Jewel mine, situate at Long lake, one of the oldest mining properties in the Boundary, is reported about to resume operations again. The mine is a free gold producer and includes in its equipment an excellent stamp mill.

Chas. Graham, supt. of the Nicola Valley Coal and Coke company, stated recently that they were shipping 500 hundred tons daily. This amount was only exceeded last fall, when there was a coal shortage on account of the closing of the Crow's Nest mines.

The annual report of the Rambler Cariboo mine at Kaslo indicates that the property will be on a dividend-paying basis by next October. W. E. Zwicke, the manager, states that the new tram will be in place by September 1st, and the railroad will be completed at that date also.

E. Jacobs, secretary of the Western Branch of the Canadian Mining Institute, was a visitor to Phoenix during the week, coming up from Greenwood. Mr. Jacobs is numbered among the most conservative chroniclers of mining affairs in the province, his statements being entirely free from the obnoxious sensationalism that so often appear in the write-ups of the average layman

After three years of continuous development, says the Stewart Miner of July 13th, the Red Cliff mine will enter the shipping ranks on Monday, when the initial consignment of 700 tons of copper-gold ore will go south by the Amur. It is stated that the product will be treated at the Ladysmith smelter, where several thousand tons of Red Cliff ore will be gathered before the furnaces are blown in.

Engineers returning from the Big Bend district of British Columbia predict a repetition of the stampede of the early sixties to the placer gold fields of French and McCullough creeks, tributaries of Old Gold Stream, 75 miles north of Revelstoke, where miners from all parts of the world washed $3,000,000,000 worth of gold from the gravel in a short time. Several hundred placer miners are at present working along French creek.

Rich gold quartz has been discovered near Quesnel, says a contemporary. While prospecting in the hills east of the town, a short time ago, a man named Adams discovered a quartz vein which looked encouraging. He took several samples and staked out a couple of claims, and offered to dispose of a half interest for two hundred dollars. He found no buyer at the time, but a few days later the assayer found the samples very rich, yielding in a rough way more than $1700 to the ton in gold. Many have left town for the scene.

The Panama mine near Bear lake, says the Kootenain, has again become the property of Messrs. Giegerich and Miller, of this city, the Vancouver parties who took a bond on the mine last January failing to come through with the payments. The local owners of the property feel themselves ahead by the way things have turned out, as they received some cash at the time the deal was made, while considerable development work was done on the property. They still have all the ore in sight that was shown up through their own efforts, and feel well satisfied with the mine itself.

OPERATIONS OF B. C. COPPER IN SIMILKAMEEN DISTRICT

Six Diamond Drills to Operate—Big Scheme of Development—Triangle Fraction Reveals Narrow Vein of Eight Per Cent Copper—Compressor to be Installed.

The British Columbia Copper company has a force of about 60 men employed in the development of the claims which it has under bond at Voight's camp on Copper Mountain, about 10 miles southwest of Princeton, and expects to increase this force largely in the near future.

Active work is at present being done, says the Hedley Gazette, on the 14, Ada B., Silver Dollar, Triangle Fraction, Red Eagle, and on the main working tunnel which is to crosscut a number of ore dykes east of Voight's camp.

Three diamond drills are used at present. Arrangements are being made for operating three additional machines, making six in all. This will probably be the largest number of diamond drills that have ever been in use in any one camp at the same time in the province.

The ore bodies at Voight's camp lie in a series of parallel dykes, running nearly north and south. Alternating with the ore bearing dykes are a series of porphyry dykes, of varying widths up to several hundred feet; these porphyry dykes bear a most important relation to the occurrence of the ore.

TWENTY ORE DYKES

There are some 20 of these ore bearing dykes in all, and all show values in copper, though of course all are not of working grade. The ore varies from a rather basic or neutral character on the eastern side.

Possibly the largest amount of work has been done on the 14 claim, which lies to the east of the main camp. A wagon road has been built to this property, and two steam boilers and a hoist installed. A shaft is being sunk, and is now down over 140 feet on the incline.

From the 90-foot level, a crosscut was run through very good ore, which in addition to the copper, carried several dollars in gold. The ore consists of hematite, with calcite and chalcopyrite; its peculiarity being that the hematite carries the largest part of the gold values.

Several drifts were run from the crosscut, and in two of these diamond drills are operated at present, to determine the size and position of the ore bodies. The drills are being run by steam, but a compressor is on the way, and compressed air will be available in the near future.

ORE BODY 100 FEET WIDE

In addition to the underground showings, several prospect shafts and a series of trenches show the size of the ore body, which appears to be over 100 feet in width. Very little has been determined so far in regard to the length of the ledge.

The ore can be reached from below by a tunnel, which will have to be driven 2300 feet. Work has been started on the tunnel, from a point a short distance below the main camp. The tunnel will be of a large size, to accommodate two car tracks for handling any required tonnage.

In addition to reaching the ore on the 14, the tunnel will cut through a number of ore dykes lying between the portal and that property. The first of these has already been encountered, and the entire face of the tunnel is in ore.

DIAMOND DRILLING

A diamond drill hole has also been started at a point about 25 feet over the tunnel, to run in a line parallel to the tunnel, towards the 14 claim. The drill hole will crosscut all the formation, and prove the ore in this part of the camp.

The drill hole will be 1600 feet in length, and as it will precede the tunnel it will furnish an accurate idea of what may be expected in the latter, and serve to determine whether it is advisable to continue driving the tunnel until the 14 ore has been actually proved to the depth of the tunnel by diamond drill or otherwise.

ADA B. AND SILVER DOLLAR

About three quarters of a mile to the southwest of Voight's camp is located another group of claims, including the Ada B., Silver Dollar, Red Eagle, Triangle Fraction, Princess Maud and several small fractional claims. A force of about 14 men is employed on this group, chiefly on the Silver Dollar and the Ada B.

On the Silver Dollar a vertical shaft has been sunk about 45 feet in ore, the main values of which are in copper. This shaft is being timbered preparatory to continuing sinking.

There are also several other shafts, and an open cut 175 feet long, all showing good ore. The size of the ore body cannot as yet be estimated, but surface showings indicate it to be very large.

On the Ada B. the 50-foot shaft is being timbered. When the timbers are in place, a crosscut will be run into the ore, after which sinking will likely be continued. Several trenches have been made on the claim, and show very promising ore.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

Both the Ada B. and Silver Dollar shafts are equipped with horse whims for hoisting. It is the intention of the management to put diamond drills to work on these claims as soon as the three extra drills arrive.

Trenching is being done on the Red Eagle, where an ore body is being uncovered a short distance from the Silver Dollar showing, and a tunnel is being driven on the Triangle Fraction on a narrow vein of ore running up to 8% copper.

At Voight's camp, where the majority of the employees are located, seven new buildings have been built since the British Columbia Copper company took charge. All the development work is under the general direction of Superintendent Edward Berryman.

Boundary Ore Tonnages

Following are the returns of the output of the Granby mines and smelters for the week ending July 21st, and the B.C. Copper company for the week ending July 14th, and year to date:

Granby	24,072	665,403
Mother Lode	5,474	294,478
Rawhide	4,705	120,810
Jack Pot	...	12,237
Napoleon	1,341	3,624
Lone Star	230	1,358
Others	...	7,880
SMELTER TONNAGES
Granby	23,087	748,781
B. C. Copper Co.	12,056	360,188

Granby's Blister Copper

Shipments of blister copper from the Granby company's smelter at Grand Forks for the past week amounted to 348,000 pounds, bringing the total shipped for the year up to 11,781,000 pounds.

B. C. Copper Treatment

The B. C. Columbia company's smelter treated 12,056 tons of ore this week, as follows: Mother Lode, 6,720; Rawhide, 4,826; Napoleon, 425; Lone Star, ...; others, 385.

Commissioner Black of the Yukon is doing very well. Thank you.

Michael Soakel Fined

There was turmoil in the Soakel residence on Saturday morning last, and Mrs. Soakel called in the services of Police Officer Stanfield, of the Provincial Police. The guardian of the law immediately conducted the head of the household to the city lock-up, and later in the day, before Police Magistrate Hood, he was charged by his better half with laying violent hands upon her. In answer to the queries of the judge, Michael tried to explain that he knew nothing whatever about the matter, he was so overcome with temper, his memory was a perfect blank, it must have been done unconsciously. His worship, however, seemed to be quite unable to digest the statement, and soaked Mr. Soakel fifteen plunks.

Fining the M.P's.

The accountant of the House of Commons has just concluded payment of sessional indemnities to the various members of the present parliament. The great majority of them draw very promptly, but some of the wealthier class delay payment indefinitely. While there are 221 members, indemnity was paid to only 219 individuals. Sir Wilfred Laurier and Sir Randolph Forget, each representing two seats. While the session lasted 139 days, there was but seventy-five sitting days. Absence without deduction is allowed for fifteen days. Fifty members were fined $10 a day for being absent for various periods in excess of the statutory allowance.

Going Some.

A rapid run by auto car was made on Sunday last when a car driven by J. E. Thompson, made the trip from Phoenix to Christina lake in two hours and twenty minutes. Riding in the car with Mr. Thompson was J. A. Morrin, Jas. Weir, T. B. Cosgrove and N. J. Carson, the latter visiting his family who are camped on the side of the lake. The start was made at nine oclock, and the party reached the Christina Lake hotel at 11.20. The return trip was made via Curlew.

SIR RICHARD McBRIDE VISITS HIDDEN CREEK

Enthusiastic Over Future Prospects of "The New North."

After two weeks spent in the northern part of British Columbia, says the Sun, Sir Richard McBride, returned on Saturday. figuratively bubbling over with enthusiasm over what he termed "the new north."

At every point the premier saw evidence of progress where the hardy pioneers, far from modern transportation, were making of a widerness a country whose resources were being prepared to add to the wealth of the province.

On the return trip a stop was made at Goose bay, now known as Granby bay, where the Granby Consolidated are preparing for the erection of a 2000-ton smelter, laying out a townsite and building a small railroad from the Hidden creek mine to the bay.

At Prince Rupert the premier took a great deal of interest in the Canada Fish and Cold Storage company's works. At Powell river he went through the paper mills.

"We returned more fully convinced than ever of the great future before the new north," said Sir Richard. "Not one disagreeable incident marred the trip. Prince Rupert is growing steadily. Everybody is looking forward to the completion of the G.T.P."

Ledge Struck on Duncan Group

Over six tons of ore is sacked and awaiting shipment on the Duncan group, near Beaverdell, and somewhere in the neighborhood of 500 tons of good ore is piled on the dump awaiting the arrival of the railroad, which is already graded as far as Carmi, six miles from Beaverdell. A stringer, running as high as $126 per ton, with a width of from two to ten inches has been struck. The present outlook for the property is reported to be highly encouraging.

A clean sweep is being made of corrupt officialdom in the Yukon territory.

British Death Duties

The following item appeared in a recent issue of the London Times: "Inventories of the estates of James Coats, Jun., who died on March 22, and of his cousin, Archibald Coats, who died on May 12, have just been lodged with the sheriff-clerk of Paisley. James Coats had a net estate amounting to about ten millions and the duty paid was $1,446,095. The inventory of the estate of Archibald Coats amounted to $6,825,660, on which a duty of $1,025,445 was paid." Together it will be noted that these two opulent British manufacturers left something like sixteen million dollars, of which the thrifty British government at once appropriated nearly two and a half millions as death duties.

No Orientals

The provincial government has resolved that the clause in timber licenses which prohibits orientals from working on limits under license, shall be enforced. As a note of warning Captain Nye of the timber cruiser Kiora recently stopped a Jap from continuing operations on a limit, near Sechelt. The license was taken out in the name of a white man, although there is a clause which prevents the employment of Asiatics under such licenses. The minister of lands has given instructions that the conditions of the licenses with regard to the employment of orientals be in future carried out to the letter.

Titanic Captain Turns up Again

A report from Boston states that Captain Smith, of the Titanic, has been seen and spoken to by an old shipmate on the street in Boston. This has been expected for some time. The old man no doubt took refuge in those water-tight compartments. The report also adds that he was seen purchasing a ticket for Washington. Perhaps he intends to call and pay his respects to his namesake, the chairman of the Titanic senatorial committee, and put that gentleman right before the eyes of the world.

The Japanese liner, Canada Maru, which arrived on Wednesday, at Victoria, brought eighty Chinese passengers. The government are in consequence the richer by about $40,000, as everyone of the celestials paid the customary head tax of $500 at Hong Kong. On arrival at Victoria the money was handed over to the authorities.

Andrew Lang, one of the most distinguished of British critics and poets, died on Monday, at Banchory, in Scotland. Speaking of the general harvest outlook in the Okanagan for both fruit and agricultural products, Hon. Price Ellison, minister of finance, says it would be impossible to speak too optimistically of them. At present the outlook for a bumber crop of all tree fruits is of the brightest. The ordinary farm crops are also in splendid shape.

The March of Empire

Edmonton, July 25—Forty engineering crews, consisting of 800 men with teams and pack horses, are to be sent into the field at once to make preliminary surveys for the Northern Territorial Railway company's line from Edmonton to tide water at Fort Churchill on Hudsons' bay. This is to be part of a system of 1450 miles, from the Hudson's bay country to Port Essington on the Pacific coast, connecting Edmonton with Lac La Biche, Fort McMurray and Lake Athabasca.

H. Neville, C. C., chief engineer of the company, which is financed by a British syndicate and capitalized at $40,000,000, has covered every portion of the proposed route and is fully satisfied upon the engineering problems presented in the construction of the system. The route is thus described in the charter granted by the Dominion government, which gives bonding powers amounting to $40,000 per mile:

"From a point at or near Fort Churchill or Fort Nelson on the Hudson's bay, thence westerly to a point on the north side of Wollaston, in the province of Saskatchewan, thence westerly to a point at or near the south shore of Lake Athabasca, in the province of Alberta, thence westerly and north of the Peace river block, thence southwesterly by the nearest possible route through the Rocky mountains to a point on the Pacific coast at or near Port Esssington, at or near the Portland canal, and from a point on the said railway near the crossing of the Athabasca river, in the province of Alberta, southerly to a point at or near Fort McMurray, thence southerly to a point at or near Lac La Biche, thence by the most feasible route to the city of Edmonton."

Plans are under way to begin grading work early next season, when the laying of rails will also be carried on, and in two years, according to present calculations, the line is to be in operation from Edmonton to the shore of Lake Athabasca, opening for commercial development the vast mineral and timber wealth of Alberta's furthest north. The company will then proceed with the construction of the line in the province of Saskatchewan and the Edmonton cut-off will be built later. The line from Lake Athabasca to the westward will tap the resources of the newest north, continuing thence to the Pacific coast.

The company will also operate a line of steamships from its Hudson's bay terminal to a British port. Engineeers in the employ of the corporation have made a study of the construction of ice breakers in the Baltic and are now engaged on the designs of vessels capable of meeting the abnormal conditions which prevail in the bay. The completion of the railroad means the opening of a vast empire, which only a few years ago was regarded as a barren waste, useful only as a hunting ground for the fur trader and the sportsman.

But their friends in Portugal never went beyond extending passive sympathy.

The searchlights of the Turkish forts recently revealed the presence of an Italian flotilla, trying to pass. The guns from the European and Asiatic shores opened a terrific fire, while the glare of the searchlights made it impossible for the Italians to steer a course. Unable to reply to the storm of shot and shell from the Turkish batteries, the fleet fled to the open waters. According to the report of the commander of the Italian fleet he encountered a network of steel cables.

Pockets full of gold nuggets weighed down the body of a man, recently found near Oroville, California. The head was crushed and the throat was cut and the body was discovered in a dredging pond. Further search revealed the carcase of a dead burro and a complete outfit lying in a nearby pit. The burro's head was battered in. The police believe that the outrage was committed by some person having advance knowledge of his clean-up, and that the murderer was scared away before he had time to rob his victim.

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

The many and varied symptoms of woman's peculiar ailments are fully set forth in Plain English in the People's Medical Adviser (1008 pages), a newly revised and up-to-date Edition, cloth-bound, will be sent on receipt of 50 one-cent stamps to pay cost of wrapping and mailing only. Address as above.

SATURDAY, JULY 27, 1912

A Belated Propaganda

A movement, evidently with powerful influence at its back, commenced in the United States a short time ago, having for its object, if we interpret it rightly, the raising of the standard of present day American citizenship. The originators of the movement appear to be imbued with the fear that the electorate of the great republic is rapidly drifting into the hands and control of a decidedly irresponsible foreign element, entirely out of sympathy with the thoughts, aims and aspirations of the English-speaking, native-born American citizens.

The first issue of the Nation's Voice, the organ of this somewhat belated propaganda, has just reached us, and among its columns we note the following suggested amendments to the constitution of the United States, an action which lays bare at a glance the plan of campaign outlined by those at the head of this undoubtedly patriotic revival. As will be seen, the period of domicile entitling a person to the full privileges of a United States citizen is to be considerably increased, and it is only logical to assume that if such action is necessary in a nation which places the qualifying domicile at five years, then it will not be long before we in Canada, where the qualifying residence is only three years, will be called upon to adopt some such measures ourselves. The grand panacea appears not to lie so much in the restriction of the period of domicile; it would be much saner if they closed their doors against all immigration from Europe for a period of fifteen or twenty years.

Space forbids us publishing the complete set of the proposed amendments, but paragraph No. 2 reads as follows: "We therefore recommend that a law be enacted and the constitution amended making it compulsory upon every foreign adult person, male and female, and any person born outside the jurisdiction of the United States of foreign parentage, and who desire to become citizens, be required to reside in the United States for a period of 12 years, with this provision, that where our foreign brothers have had the advantage of a higher education and have some knowledge of our form of government, these may become citizens after a continual residence of not less than eight years, providing they are able to pass a government educational examination and are able to read, write and speak the English language, and know something of how this government is conducted. . . . The use of the ballot, primaries, initiative and referendum and judicial recall, as well as other public questions or amendments, which may come up for adoption and use from time to time."

Paragraph three calls for an educational test even on the part of the native born American citizens. It being the aim of the framers of the amendment to "require no more of the adopted citizens than we ourselves are willing to perform."

Paragraph six is self explanatory. We give it in full:

"We believe this will forever stop that unfair, unpatriotic and vicious use that politicians now make of the foreign and ignorant voter, which is so unjustly used to our detriment, as well as a great injury to such citizens. We therefore urge that the above become a law enacted by Congress and Senate at their next assembly."

Broken Treaties

It is authoritatively stated that the pathway to hell is paved with good intentions, and if this has any foundation in fact, then there must be a goodly portion of that highway placarded with broken United States treaties with our Motherland. U.S. travellers, especially politicians, journeying along that much frequented road cannot fail to have their feelings harrowed by the sight of such evidence of their government's perfidy. It is also stated somewhere, that the character of a nation is faithfully reflected in the government that a people have elected to govern them, and if this also is true, it may have something to do with the slight regard the American authorities have for the solemn treaties entered into with Great Britain. John Bull should be about used to it by this time. It does not appear to matter to Uncle Sam whether his word was pledged a hundred years or ten years ago, when it suits him the treaty, negotiated after months of painstaking work and signed with becoming solemnity, is consigned to the wastepaper basket. This might prove an interesting subject for the Kurnel the next time he elects to address the scholars of Berlin in rotten German and the students of the Sorbonne in execrable French.

Change of Custom

Verily, the old, old order changeth. 'Tis sad, but true, the customs of the east are enveloping the west. Time was when a western editor was gathered to his fathers with the aid of a ·44 Colt or punctured under the fifth rib with a 11-inch bowie blade. But in the Tulameen they do the trick after the manner of the east, the editor of the newly-born Coalmont Courier being the victim of this latest method of doing up a western scribe. The crudity of the assault seems positively shocking, for the weapon employed was a sandbag, the unfortunate representative of the fourth estate being belabored over the cranium and countenance by an irate Tulameen sportsman, whose ire had been roused by the editor's trenchant criticism of the former's baseball playing. The irony of the case lies in the fact that the editor was carrying a newly purchased pistol, but owing to the totally unexpected character of the assault, he was unable to draw, wipe the oil off it and load the weapon. The Coalmont editor, however, has set us all a good example in the matter of carrying arms; the leadless gun is by far the safest to pack.

Canada's Unnecessary Exports

Fifty-six per cent of the pulp wood cut in Canada during the year 1911 was exported to the United States. This is evidenced by a glance at the statistics published by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior.

The total quantity of the pulpwood cut in Canada during 1911 was 1,520,227 cords. The quantity exported amounted to 847,939 cords, while the remaining forty-four per cent (672,288) cords was manufactured in Canada.

The value of this pulpwood was $5,340,592, an average of $6.29 per cord. Had the wood been retained in Canada and manufactured here, it is estimated that the value would have been increased to about fifteen million dollars.

Had Canada manufactured into wood-pulp all the pulpwood she produced, she could have had enough to supply a hundred and twenty-two mills of the average size of those operating in Canada, instead of the fifty-four she now has. Quebec could have supplied sixty per cent more mills than she is now doing, and New Brunswick could have doubled the number of her mills.

Mrs. Shaw of Chewelah paid a few days' visit to Phoenix recently.

Mrs. D. J. Matheson and children left on Tuesday for a few days' visit to Spokane.

Dr. Simmons, dental specialist, of Grand Forks, came up from the valley on Saturday.

A. B. Cook, who has been visiting in Vancouver for a few days, returned to town on Tuesday.

Mrs. Orrin Bush was a visitor to her mother, Mrs. Coutts of Grand Forks, for a few days this week.

Mrs. Dan Biner, of Greenwood, left on Saturday morning to spend a few days in Grand Forks.

Mrs. Wm. Jackson was in Grand Forks during the week, visiting her mother. Miss Jackson accompanied her.

Geo. Turner, formerly accountant for the Hunter-Kendrick company, in Phoenix, is registered at the Brooklyn hotel.

A. G. Lachapelle, returned to town on Tuesday from Vancouver. He spent some time at the Hidden Creek mine at Granby bay.

Mrs. John Morrin left on Tuesday for Walla Walla, where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Russell, for the next six weeks.

Owen Jones, returned to Phoenix on Saturday from Voight camp, Similkameen, where he has been employed for the past nine months.

Methodist Church—Sunday school and Bible class, 2.30 p.m.; evening service, 7.30 p.m. Prayer meeting, Thursday evening, 7.45 p.m.

Presbyterian service will be held on Sunday morning, at 11 a.m., in the lodgeroom, Miners' Union Hall. A cordial welcome. J. R. Munro, pastor.

R. Taylor, for some time on the staff of the local electrical sub-station, left on Tuesday for Vancouver, where he intends to sit for an examination.

Miss Morfydd Bateman, returned to town on Tuesday, from Christina, where she has been camping with Mrs. Carson and family for a few days.

Frank Nichols, who was so terribly injured a short time ago, through being kicked by a horse, although not exactly out of danger, is reported to be progressing satisfactorily towards recovery.

G. Foster, who has been a patient in the local hospital for some time past, left on Friday for Halcyon, where he will take the waters and endeavor to get rid of the rheumatism that afflicts him.

Jack Hartman returned to town on Saturday from Spokane. While in that town he met his mother, who recently arrived from the east, the two not having seen each other for twenty-one years.

The Services on Sunday in St. John's Church are: Holy Communion at 7.30 a.m., Morning Prayer at 10.30, Holy Communion at 11 a.m., Sunday School at 2.30 p.m., Evening Prayer at 7.30. Rev. L. B. Lee, Rector.

A break in the city water mains on Brooklyn townsite, last Sunday, sent a volume of the precious fluid down the hill into the lower town, but beyond cutting up the roadway, no other damage was done.

The stated services in the Catholic church are as follows: First and third Sundays in the month. Mass at 10 a.m., Sunday School at 2.30 pm.; Evening Service at 7.30 p.m. Rev. Father Choinel, pastor.

A particularly fine consignment of cherries arrived in the burgh on Wednesday; they were the product of Wm. McKay's ranch, near Danville, and for size, flavor and color, together with freedom from blemish, they could not possibly be surpassed.

Geo. Rogers was among the visitors from Phoenix to Christina, last week. He reports the catch of fish rather small, but Harry Carson succeeded in landing a beaut. which turned the scale at 3½lbs. The catch is corroborated by sixteen witnesses, including George himself.

Campers by the waters of Christina are reporting a remarkable increase in weight. Some attribute it to the fish diet, while others are blaming the low altitude. From our own experience we found the menu at the lake hotel sufficient in quality and quantity to put flesh on a hat rack.

As soon as the necessary arrangements are completed, the management of the motion picture entertainment intend introducing in their program a series of week-end events illustrated by picture film. The innovation has become quite popular in the east and will no doubt prove a welcome change from the ordinary motion picture program.

The Phoenix City band made another of their welcome appearances on the streets last Saturday, playing the first part of their program in the lower town; the upper town being treated later. Now that the band has established itself and become one of our fixed institutions, the time seems opportune for the city to erect a suitable bandstand.

Methodist Sunday School Picnic

The children of the Methodist church Sunday school, with their parents, gathered on the recreation grounds, on Wednesday, for their annual picnic. The weather proved delightful and the youngsters certainly made the most of it. All kinds of sports were indulged in, Messrs. Tatham, Edwards and the Rev. J. J. Nixon superintending the races which were all stubbornly contested and eagerly watched by the grownups. At the time appointed the well-filled baskets were unloaded and all partook heartily of the good things provided. About six oclock the participants dispersed, streaming into town happy and tired.

Bell For St. John's Church

The deep tone of the bell of St. John's church will shortly be heard reverberating over the hills and dales of Phoenix district. The bell, with its equipment arrived during the week, and work on the tower, etc., will commence on Monday morning, under the direction of John Beachey. The bell is of steel alloy and has a diameter of 34ins.

The Last Mile Stone

Some time ago we published a cutting from a Pretoria paper, announcing the celebration, in the above town, of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. E. Pope, parents of R. E. Pope of Phoenix; and now, from across the sea and veldt, comes the news of the passing of one of the aged celebrants, Mr. E. Pope, his death occurring on June 15.
