The largest copper mines in the Dominion are situated at Phoenix. The Granby Co. employs 500 men, and has a monthly pay roll of over $50,000, while the Rawhide pay roll is $18,000.

VAST ORE BODIES ARE BLOCKED OUT

Reports Indicate Net Earnings of B. C. Copper to Equal Last Year.

Exploration work during the last 16 months by the British Columbia Copper company, operating properties in British Columbia and Ferry county, Wash., has resulted in blocking out 4,000,000 tons of 2 per cent copper ore, with another 4,000,000 tons in sight and still another 4,000,000 tons regarded as possible, according to a report issued on October 7th.

During the fiscal year ended December 31, 1912, the company treated 740,589 tons of ore, which produced 11,146,811 pounds of fine copper, or an average of 15½ pounds to the ton. Taking this as a basis of estimate the 4,000,000 tons of ore now blocked out will yield 60,200,000 pounds of fine copper, which at 16 cents a pound, allowing 10 cents a pound for mining, treating and marketing, represents a net profit of $3,612,000.

The company owns and operates its own smelter, of 3,000 tons daily capacity at Greenwood, where it also has a 600-ton sampling works. Power is provided by a hyrdo-electric plant at Bonnington Falls, and an auxiliary steam plant, ready for immediate service in the event of the electric systen becoming crippled, is maintained at Greenwood, and since these plants have been installed not an hour's delay has been experienced because of lack of power.

In 1912 the company's gross income was $2,491,227, of which $425,985 was net profits. After expending $529,000 in acquiring and developing new properties, purchasing $237,675 of the bonds of the New Dominion Copper company and disbursing $177,512 in dividends, there was left in the treasury $965,736, which was carried forward into the 1913 balance sheet. Production of copper to date this year has been slightly less than in 1912, but the yield of gold and silver has been approximately the same and it is believed the net earnings will be about as much.

British Columbia Copper paid its initial dividend in 1907, and suspended further payments until 1911, when $147930 was disbursed. Other payments were made in 1912 and the last on January 15, 1913, making the total payments to date $705,155, on an outstanding capitalization of $591,709 nonassessable shares.

Preparing for Bonspiel

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the curling rink company took place last Wednesday evening, when the following officers were elected: E. E. Gibson, H. A. Sheads, A. E. Savage, H. W. Gregory, W. A. Williams and N. L. McInnes. Considerable discussion took place as to the program for the approaching season, including the holding of the Boundary bonspiel here, the following being elected a committee to arrange for the latter: J. D. Campbell, R. J. Gardner, W. Bonthron and E. W. Stuart.—Grand Forks Gazette.

Mining Notes of British Columbia

Two cars of ore were shipped from the Lucky Jim mine in the Slocan last week.

The possibility of another dredge being constructed and put in operation near Goldhill, still further brightness the Lardo mining outlook for next year.

The lessees of the Ivanho will commence shipments as soon as the ore can be rawhided to the railway at Sandon. Already between 20 and 30 tons have been mined.

The experimental reduction plant at Nelson is nearly in shape for the commencement of more complete tests of the proposed methods of smelting mixed zinc-silver-lead ores.

The Slocan Star mine at Sandon is shipping three 30-ton cars a month to the Trail smelter. The ore runs from 75 to 85 per cent lead and from 120 to 150 ounces in silver.

G. W. Webster is shipping two cars of ore a month from the Neepewa on Ten-mile to the Granby smelter at Grand Forks. The ore runs about 100 ounces in silver to the ton.

The Ajex mine, above Ferguson, which has been operating throughout the season with twelve men, will, according to reports from the north, maintain steady operations all winter.

W. E. Finch, manager of the Idaho-Alamo group, has gone to Spokane for the winter. He intends to return early in the spring and resume active development of the property.

The lateset reports from the Harris mines near New Hazelton is that they are still taking out ore for this winter's shipment. They are making great headway and will be ready to ship as soon as the snow comes and the road is in shape.

The fourth car of ore has been received at the Granby smelter from the Union mine in the Gloster camp. The high values are keeping well up with the first carload shipped. It is the intention of Louis Johnson, the principal owner, to ship about a carload a week.

At the surprise mine near Sandon from 100 to 120 tons of high grade ore are being mined monthly. For the past couple of weeks a force of men have been repairing the tram. In the mine there is ore in all the drifts from the raise, and new bodies of ore are being uncovered as development progresses.

The Noble Five, one of the leading shippers and dividend payers of the early days, will commence deep development next month with the driving of a 2000-foot tunnel. When operations at the Five were suspended several years ago, it was rumored around Sandon that the property could be expected to remain closed until such time as the Kaslo & Slocan became the property of the C.P.R. The Noble Five is owned by the Dunsmuirs.

The compressor at the Utica will be ready for operations in a few days, which will mean a considerably lessened expenditure for drilling at that property, with a greater output and faster development. At the present time all of the crew employed in the mine is working on ore, and stoping is going on in both the east and the west veins. With the connecting up of these two veins by a short crosscut, at a distance of several hundred feet from the portal of the entrance tunnel, better air will be secured throughout the mine, and at no additional expense for piping. The property never looked better according to reports taken to Kaslo recently.

Ski Club Doings

The Phoenix Ski Club started last Sunday preparing their jumpoff and scaffold for the coming season. They moved the jumpoff back 30 feet, so that longer jumps can be made this year than last. It is the intention of the Ski Club to hold a tournament about January 15th. Arrangements are being made to secure some renowned ski jumpers from out side points, and this year shall prove more interestiog than ever. A meeting of the organization will be held this month for the purpose of reorganizing for the season. All lovers of this sport will remember how enthusiastically the Ski Club members worked last year to make their tournament a success. This year they should receive the hearty support of all.

Judge to be Tried

Judge Cassels has arrived at Vancouver from Ottawa. He will try the case against Judge Clement at the first sitting of the Dominion exchequer court. The case against Judge Clement is for charging expenses between Vancouver and Grand Forks, when, as it is alleged, he had not incurred any expenditure.

A Phoenix Hockey Player

It is reported at Vancouver that Lester Patrick has picked up a "find" in Bernie Morris. Morris played for the Phoenix seven in the Boundary League last season. It was while here that Lester Patrick got a line on him, and he will receive a trial on the champions' line. He is well recommended and Lester is certain he will make good.

Tried to Beat Board Bill

Dan McQueen and Harry Price, who jumped the town owing Danny Deane a $205 board bill, were caught in Nelson this week by Chief of Police Devitt of that city. Walter Cook, chief of police of Phoenix, went over to Nelson and brought the two men back and they were taken before Magistrate Mulligan, who sentenced each to thirty days in jail. When caught the men still had $156 on them, and this amount was turned over to Deane, which partly squares the account. The men were taken back to Nelson to serve their sentences.

This is said to be the first conviction to be obtained in either the Boundary or the Kootenay under the new clause in the Canadian criminal code, which provides for a fine of $100 and costs or three months' imprisonment for auyone who is found guilty of fraudulently obtaining food, lodging or other accommodation, at any hotel, lodging, boarding or eating house.

Benefit Hockey Dance.

A dance will be given in the Miners' Union hall next Wednesday evening, November 12th, for the benefit of the Phoenix Hockey Club. There is considerable expense attached to keeping the club going, and it is to be hoped that everyone interested in seeing Phoenix retain the "silverware" this season will buy a ticket. The Ironsides five piece orchestra will supply the music, which is a guarantee that the dance will be a good one. Supper will be served in the banquet room. Admission $1.00.

Carnival Date is Set

The Rossland Winter Carnival association has held its annual re-organization meeting. There was an election of officers and the time was set for holding the forthcoming winter carnival. It was decided to hold the carnival from Feburary 2nd to 6th.

ODD FELLOWS HAVE ROLL CALL

Members Present Responded to Their Names. Others Sent Letters.

It was a grand reunion that the members of Snowshoe Lodge, I. O. O.F., had last Monday evening. When their names were called by J. C. Tait, the acting secretary, 58 out of 64 of the local members responded in person. Most of the members who are living at a distance responded by letter and expressed their regrets at not being able to attend. Noble Grand E. E. Barnes presided. On that evening the members of the Rebekah lodge were the guests of the Odd Fellows and the ladies occupied seats in the hall during the social session.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the presenting of a past grand and Encampment collar to J. F. McDougall and a past noble grand Rebekah jewel to Mrs. Mary McKenzie. T. A. Love, a past grand of the lodge, was selected to make the preseatations and he performed his task in a most creditable manner.

Mrs. J. C. Tait, on behalf of the Rebekahs, presented Mrs. Marshall with a handsome hand bag, and expressed regret at her leaving Phoenix. The present from the lodge was in rerognition of the many services rendered the order by the recipient during her connection with it

In the banquet room there was an elaborate spread, which was prepared by the ladies. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

It was the largest attendance at an Odd Fellows' gathering for some time. It was the first roll call held by Snowshoe lodge, but it is a certainty it will not be the last.

The Difference in Clothes

IT is the easiest thing in the world to buy poor clothes. They prevail to a much greater extent than that of the well-tailored and distinctive kind. The poor kind is the easiest to make, and the profits thereon are larger. But when it comes to satisfaction, that is, wearing quality, perfect workmanship and faultless fashioning, it is Only the Good Clothes Make a Return on Your Investment, and these are features we can conscientiously claim for the clothes we sell.

You can't get anything but good clothes at this store, even though you spend as little as $10 for a garment. Our $18.00 Suits, for instance, contain the best quality of fabrics and workmanship that has ever been produced in this country for that sum of money, and the patterns are as diversified as the higher priced lines.

We have in stock a full line of Men's Furnishings, Coat Sweaters, Gloves and Mitts, Shirts, Ties, Collars and Underwear in all lines.

SATURDAY, NOV. 8, 1913

After reaching the top remember those who helped hold the ladder.

If you are a live wire yourself you are not so liable to get hurt if you run against one.

If some scheme could only be devised whereby all the kickers and knockers could be got together and copelled to fight it out.

The trade of British Columbia is the largest in the world per head of population. This statement is made by the Monetary Times, a publication in position to know.

Vancouver Sun: Ulster is to have a provincial government. The only one we remember in Canada was organized by Louis Riel, and everybody knows what happened to him.

"A Better City" is the slogan adopted by the Citizens' Improvement Association of Grand Forks. A better slogan could not have selected. Grand Forks certainly has the goods to justify boosting.

G. O. Buchanan is writing the history of Kaslo, and his first article has appeared in the Kootenaian. There is no better qualified man in West Kootenay for the task, and we look for a series of interesting letters.

The Grand Forks Sun has defied all superstitions and has boldly entered the thirteenth year of its existence. As a further knock to superstitious ideas, the publication entered its thirteenth year on Friday, 1913. Long live the Sun and may its shadows never grow less.

The situation in Mexico is now about at its worst. A large part of the country has lapsed into barbarism. Industry has ceased. Mines have been closed for the reason that necessary supplies are no longer obtainable. Assassination and murder are done everywhere. Mexico at the present time is a good country to stay away from.

The Lancet, that most learned of medical journals, discussing breakfast, declares that it is an unnecessary meal. It says that after a night's sleep, bodily strength, both nervous and muscular, is at its height and that work can be taken up without food. Yes, and a camel can go nine days without a drink, but who wants to be a camel.

It costs money to build roads in British Columbia. Four million dollars have been spent this year by the Provincial government, but all will agree that the money was well invested. This province is noted for its good roads, and people coming from across the line in the state of Washington are even not backward in pointing out the superiority of our roads over theirs.

The Slocan Record tells of the return to the Slocan of several old relics—Eli Carpenter's carbine, also the prospect pick with which he broke float on the first mineral location made in the Slocan. Also the first grindstone taken into that country. These articles can be seen at a New Denver hotel, where they have been deposited after a nine years' absence from the camp. But in collecting old Slocan relics why stop at prospectors' picks and grindstones? There are two old printing presses being kicked around the country that are associated closely with early Slocan history. One Col. Lowery used in printing the Ledge at Nakusp 20 years ago, and the Army press that John Houston brought in a rowboat from Bonners Ferry to Nelson when he started the Tribune, and was afterwards used in printing the first papers at Kaslo and Slocan City. These should find a resting place among the other Slocan relics.

A man to write intelligently upon a subject must be conversant with it. This requisite has been laid down as a hard and fast rule. Impressions gained by studying a subject at long range do not count for much, and are not to be taken seriously.

Thus, when Col. Lowery, of the Greenwood Ledge, poses as an authority on woman's clothes we must accept his deductions with the proverbial pinch of salt. Now if the Colonel was handling the subject of mining or even the fine points in a poker game it would be different. He says he once knew a woman who spent only $9 in a whole year in clothes. He does not tell us where she lived, but we take it for granted that it was back in the cent belt. Then he jumps to the conclusion that a woman in the west must have $500 a year to tog her out in the way that she likes. But how does he know? Then he even has the temerity to print a list of what she will require during the year. This is the limit. We herewith reproduce this list and will allow the ladies of Phoenix to draw their own conclusions:

Eight hats trimmed by the wearer, eight pairs of shoes, two outer garments for summer, two outer garments for winter, 20 cotton shirtwaist suits, 15 underskirts, 36 pair of stockings, two kimonas, four cotton shirtwaist suits, 15 underskirts, 75 hankerchiefs, 10 corset-covers, 12 nightgowns, 365 neckties, 6 parasols, 20 pairs of cotton gloves, winter undervests, four wollen skirtwaists, 3 silk skirtwaists, 15 corsets, six summer undervests, 12 pair of kid gloves, 30 pair of cotton drawers, 8 pairs of rubbers, and a few muffs, belts, buckles, gaters, and sealskin jackets.'

A Jim Wardner Story

The following story is told by John Hays Hammond:

Take the case of old Jim Wardner, for whom the town in the Coeur d'Alene district has been named. Not even his bitterest enemy could ever accuse Jim of being a liar, nor did his most loyal friends ever deny that he was an irrepressible optimist. The career of Jim Wardner, in common with that of many old time mining prospectors, was characterized by vicissitudes.

Jim was alternately a millionaire and a bankrupt. At the time of which I speak Jim was in the latter predicament. Meeting a mutual friend on the street one day, he asked for a loan of $200 to enable him to continue sinking a shaft upon a quartz vein he had recently located. In return Jim offered to give his friend an interest in the property and held out the lure by telling him that he was on the edge of a great pay shoot of ore very similar to one of the famous ore bodies that Jim, himself, had discovered in the celebrated Bunker Hill & Sullivan mine.

"I feel sure," said Jim, "of all formations, and that I am within three feet of a million dollars."

Jim obtained the $200, and his friend did not see anything of him until several months afterwards, when he accidentally met him on the street.

"Well," said he to Jim, "how is the mine getting on?"

"Well," replied Jim, "the last time I saw you I told you that I was within three feet of a million dollars. Now I am sorry to say that the result of my work in the shaft makes me believe that I am at least a million feet from three dollars."

The bunny hug, as like as not,
Is on your list.

And that great dance, the crazy horse,

The Kangaroo;
The proper place to give a hop
Is at the zoo.

"Joe" Lally Well Known

From Australia to Cornwall, Ontario, is a long way, but Joe Lally was this week the recipient of a letter from there bearing the simple address, "Joe Lally, Canada, via America," the letter reaching this well known Canadian sportsman and lacrosse official without a day's delay, the envelope not even being marked "Cornwall" by the Canadian postal clerks, as is sometimes the case.

Does lacrosse advertise a town? It surely does, as this letter is evidence that every postal clerk into whose possession it came, immediately connected the name of Lally, so long related with lacrosse, with the town made famous by the game.—Cornwall Freeholder.

In all probability the Montana code of mine signals is one of the most widely used of any in the world.

Just two days after returning to his old mission at DeSmet, Idaho, after attending the 50th anniversary in Spokane of his baptism of 17 Indians on the site of the present Northern Pacific depot in October, 1863, the Rev. Father Joseph Caruana, S. J., died this week. He had made his home at the mission for half a century. He was 77 years old, and was born on the island of Malta.

The new G. T. P. hotel at Prince Rupert will be the largest structure in that northern city. The building will be 310 feet long by an average width of 150 feet. The dining room will have a seating capacity for 265 people, and a ball room 50x105 feet. It will be fifteen storeys high, with 450 bedrooms, each containing a private bath. The construction is to be of steel with reinforced concrete floor slabs, the exterior to be of brick and terra cotta with a slate roof.

Wants a Rest. That's All

The editor of the White Horse (Yukon) Star purposes taking a much needed rest, and incidentally reminds delinquents of the high cost of travelling, and the necessity of prompt settlement. "The editor of the Star is not a P. W.—physical wreck—but has been advised by four doctors and eleven old women that he needs a short respite from his arduous labors. To bring this about it will be necessary for him to go outside for a month or six weeks. It requires money to go outside—more if a person comes back. We expect to do both.

"Now, you delinquent subscribers know exactly what is wanted. (This is very humiliating.) We are not going to dun you. Not much. It brings tears in our eyes to give even this gentle hint. If any of you see us with a gun, we are not collecting—only going after grouce. It is alright if you don't pay what you owe. We can stay here until we dry up and blow away. It will be hard on those dependent upon us, but it is better that they should be orphans than that you should come through with $5 or $10 or $15 you are behind on subscriptions if you need it for booze or split gowns. The editor does not care for style, therefore he is not going out for an operation. He wants a little rest. That is all."

Just Hash

Of all the foods served to man, there are probably none more cosmopolitan in caaracter and composite in construction than hash. Travelers who have circled the globe encounter it on every hand, and readily recognize it despite its changed name and special flavoring. Sometimes it is a stew; in South America it is a puchero; in China chi-lo; in Mexico chile con carne, and in France ragout. Everywhere it is the mainstay of the plain people. The only exception is in India, where the people are Buddhists and do not eat meat.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED
NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.
Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $13 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.
HENRY C. LOCUST.
