600 TONS PER DAY

The Output of Phoenix Each 24 Hours.

DELAY IN GETTING INCREASE STARTED

Ore is to Come From Old Ironsides, Knob Hill and Victoria---Second Smelter Furnace to Blow In.

Beginning today the second furnace of the Granby smelter, at Grand Forks, is expected to be blown in—when it will take 600 tons of ore each 24 hours to keep it going.

At the office of the Miner-Graves syndicate, it was learned yesterday that the 600-ton daily shipments of ore would commence when the second furnace of the syndicate's smelter was blown in.

Consequently, beginning today or tomorrow, the residents of Phoenix will have the pleasure of seeing 20 cars of gold-copper ore going out each day to the reduction works. Thus far, all told, nearly 20,000 tons of ore, have been sent from Phoenix to the Grand Forks reduction works.

ALBA HEYWOOD NEXT WEEK.

Will Appear at Miners' Union Hall on Thursday Evening.

Arrangements have been made for the appearance here of Alba Heywood, the prince of comedians, and his excellent company. Mr. Heywood has, during the past ten years, appeared in all the principal towns and cities in the United States, and established a reputation of which he is justly proud.

He has returned many times to the same places, always meeting with unqualified success. From the opening to the close of his season he is greeted everywhere with large and delighted audiences. The reasons for his great success artistically and financially are obvious. His comedy is always bright and delightfully refreshing, and while he convulses his audiences with laughter, there is never the faintest suggestion of coarseness or vulgarity. His success in securing the very best artists to support him, his desire to equal or exceed the promises made in his advertising, and steadfast determination to "always keep the confidence of the people." These principles carefully followed out have made his name a household word and a positive guarantee of a first-class performance.

Mr. Heywood and his company will appear at Miners' Union Hall, next Thursday evening, October 18th.

The Glasgow Exhibition.

The News-Advertiser remarks: It having been decided that the mineral exhibit from British Columbia, now at the Paris Exposition, shall be sent to the exhibition to be held next year at Glasgow, it will be a matter of importance that a thoroughly competent person should be sent to take charge of it—some one who is fully conversant with the mining districts of the province and with the present position of the industry.

It is to be hoped that the government will realize the importance of this and not allow the appointment to be made on political grounds. A commercial firm would take the opinion of the leading mine-owners of a district like that of Rossland in regard to a suitable person for the position, and the government should do the same.

Trail to White's Camp.

Last week a route for the new trail to connect Phoenix with White's camp was selected, and the work of blazing and constructing has been started. The part to be built will be about five or six miles in length, and will touch the Joe. Taylor road below Hartford Junction, about a mile from Mr. Taylor's residence. The trail is being built in good shape, and will be a great convenience to those having business with White's camp.

WEDDING OF GEO S. McKENZIE.

Was Married Thursday to Miss Nettie Auld, at Greenwood.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Petch at Greenwood, Thursday morning, 11th inst., when Miss Nettie Auld of Watford, Ont., was united in marriage to Geo. S. McKenzie, of Phoenix. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. McG. Gandier, of Rossland, in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties.

The bride was assisted by Miss Alice McKenzie, of Greenwood, and was given away by J. A. McKenzie, brother of the groom, A. P. McKenzie, another brother, acting in the capacity of groomsman.

The ceremony concluded, all sat down to a sumptuous repast, after which the newly married couple drove to their new home in Phoenix, where the groom had prepared a cozy home on Brooklyn avenue.

The Pioneer joins with the many friends of bride and groom in wishing them many years of happiness. Mr. McKenzie is well known as being in charge of the grocery department of the Wynkoop-Stephens Trading Company.

Colville Reservation Rush.

Great interest is being taken in the opening of the Colville Indian reservation, which the U. S. government has just opened to settlement. The country is said to be of extreme fertility, and a rush similar to that which took place when Oklahoma was thrown open to settlement, is being looked for. The reservation is in the northern part of Washington State, and close to the Canadian boundary. The principal places are Molson, Chesaw and Bolster, which are within a few miles of the boundary line, and they are most easily reached by the Canadian Pacific Railway's new Boundary Creek extension to Midway, the distance from that point being only 19 miles to Bolster, 20½ to Chesaw and 23½ to Molson by a good wagon road. In the past, difficulty has been experienced in getting shipments of freight to those parts owing to lack of customs facilities, but this will now be completely overcome, as the United States government has just assigned a custom's officer to Midway to facilitate the transfer of American freight to those points.

To Build Connecting Link.

The upper and lower parts of Phoenix, which have heretofore been connected only by the roundabout wagon-road, will shortly be joined by a more direct piece of roadway. The matter has been talked up and will probably shortly take definite form. Several teams, the labor of a number men and some cash has been already donated for the purpose. It is believed enough more can readily be raised for the purpose. The new road will be not only a great improvement but a great convenience.

Won't Follow the Dewdney Trail.

Mr. H. W. Kent, general manager of the Kootenay Lake and Vernon & Nelson Telephone Companies has been over the route of the proposed district telephone line from Rossland to Cascade City. The original idea was to build the line along the old Dewdney trail but Mr. Kent has decided that the company will cut a new right of way. The matter of deciding whether the line will be built this fall or next spring is still open but is having consideration.

Camp McKinney's Big Mine.

It is learned from Camp McKinney that the Cariboo-McKinney Co.'s Cariboo mine is now giving employment to about 60 men. Work at the mine is proceeding along the usual lines, so that there is nothing out of the common to chronicle respecting it. Outside of the Cariboo there is very little mining being done in the camp, but it is hoped that an improvement will ere long be experienced in this direction.

DOES NOT LIKE SITE

For the New Phoenix School Building.

INSPECTOR WM. BURNS WAS HERE

He Thinks the Department of Education Will Not Approve the Location Decided on---Advertising for Tenders.

A week ago last Monday, as per announcement, a public meeting was held at the old log school house, for the purpose of deciding on a location for the new school building to be erected in Phoenix this fall. Two sites had been offered free; one was two lots on Brooklyn avenue, by George W. Rumberger, and the other was five lots in block 26, of the Old Ironsides addition, at the corner of Second street and Grey Eagle avenue, offered by the Granby Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. A ballot showing that those present preferred the Brooklyn avenue site.

Since the matter was thus apparently settled, it has been pretty thoroughly canvassed, and it does not seem to be entirely satisfactory to some even in the lower end of town. It is said that the cost of excavation will be more than the department is likely to stand.

Thus the matter stood this week, when Wm. Burns, inspector of schools, arrived in town on one of his periodical visits. The site selected was shown to him, and looking it over carefully he said that he did not think the department of education would approve of the choice.

In the meantime, as will be noticed by the advertisement in another column, Secretary Matheson is calling for tenders for the construction of the new building.

WILL SPEND $500,000.

That Amount to be put Into the Cascade Water Power.

It is understood that the London and B. C. Goldfields, Ltd., which holds the controlling interest in the Cascade water power, may defer until next spring or early summer completing its arrangements for supplying electric power to mines and other industries in the Boundary country. The probabilities are that few will be ready this side of the middle of next year to use the power, so that there is no advantage to be gained by installing the big and costly plant before next spring. Much of the preliminary work, including putting in a dam across Kettle river, cutting through rock a water way from the dam to the power house and other extensive operations, has been done, and now before proceeding further it is desirable in the interests of the company that exhaustive enquiries be made, so that a maximum of efficiency may be secured at a minimum of cost. It is stated that the total outlay will be nearly $500,000, so the company naturally is exercising the greatest care in making so heavy an expenditure. The managing director, Mr. J. Roderick Robertson, returned to Nelson last Monday but will probably again visit the Boundary next week.

The Nelson Tribune publishes the following: George McAulay manager of the Cariboo mine at Camp Mc Kinney, in Yale district, has raised the wages of the men employed at his mine from $2.50 and $3 to $3 and $3.50 a day. All carmen and shovellers underground and all surface men are now paid $3 a day and all hammersmen $3.50.

A Good Appointment.

Provincial Constable I. A. Dinsmore, of Grand Forks, has been appointed superintendent of roads, streets and bridges for the Kettle River Mining Division as far westward as Rock Creek. In this capacity Mr. Dinsmore, who knows the whole of the district well, will have the supervision of all work done by the provincial government on roads, trails and bridges. The appointment is a good one and should lead to a more systematic execution of such work than in the past.

Opened Dental Office.

Dr. Mathison, of Greenwood and Dr. MacDonald of Grand Forks, have jointly taken an office in the Graves-Williams block and will visit Phoenix alternately to look after the dental needs of the community. They will attend each other's patients and will make visits as frequently as the amount of dental work offering demands. Dr. MacDonald will be here October 21, 22 and 23.

Thanksgiving Turkey Shoot.

Next Thursday being Thanksgiving day, Messrs. Thos. Conner and W. J. Prendergast will give a turkey shoot at or near the Phoenix Miners' Union hall. Shooting begins at 9 a. m., and as the bills state, "stops when Phoenix can no longer supply powder and ball."

IS NOW EN ROUTE TO KAMLOOPS.

Fred Ford Got Six Months For Stealing a Suit of Clothes.

Last week, Thursday, a man named Fred Ford, looking for work, was employed by the Pioneer to saw wood. After an exceedingly short shift, however, he suddenly grew too strong for this sort of work, and concluded to try something else. This was a mistake, as he has already learned. Before night he had appropriated a suit of clothes from the cabin of Paul Boucher, and made himself scarce. He was apprehended the next day and brought back to Phoenix, where he was given a speedy trial before Justices Williams and Matheson. The evidence being conclusive, he was given six months at hard labor at Kamloops, whither he was taken yesterday by constable Darraugh. In the meantime, while waiting to be escorted to Kamloops, Ford was induced to saw wood for the use of the constable's office.

HAS $16,000,000 IN DIVIDENDS.

Said to be in Sight in the Great Le Roi Mine.

A correspondent of the London Financial Times writing on August 24 from Rossland, respecting some of the mines in the vicinity of that town, thus referred to the Le Roi: "I have no hesitation in telling you," remarked ex-Governor Mackintosh, in the course of an interview, "that the Le Roi is the greatest gold mine in the world. Mind, I do not say the greatest gold mine in America, but the greatest gold mine in the world." And the genial Governor strongly emphasised the last part of his statement. "There are," he continued, "2,000,000 tons of ore in sight in the Le Roi, and the ore will average $16 a ton. Allow $8 a ton for cost of production, and you still have $16,000,000 in dividends in sight in the Le Roi. And, mind, all this is above the 900 foot level. There is no telling what this great mine will do when depth is attained." The Le Roi can now ship 1,000 tons a day, and can earn in dividends 50 per cent. on its capital of £1,000,000. The ore will average 2 per cent. copper, and 2 per cent copper should pay for cost of production with copper at 16 1-2 cents a pound. The gold is clear profit. The capacity of the Le Roi reduction works has been doubled so as to treat the entire Le Roi output, and also the output of Le Roi No. 2. But the reduction works must be increased still further to take the output of the Kootenay and the Great Western groups. On the 700 foot level of the Le Roi is a shoot of ore 104 feet thick. This shoot of ore was discovered long after the London people bought it, and it is the discovery of this immense ore shoot that made Exgovernor Mackintosh emphatically proclaim the property as the greatest gold mine in the world. The Le Roi company owns 3,000 feet on the Le Roi lode, and the ore shoots already developed enable it to earn fully £500,000 a year in dividends. The smelter must, of course, be able to take the output in order to do this.

Hotel Brooklyn Opened.

Wednesday night the Hotel Brooklyn, formerly the Metropolitan, was opened by Hugh McGuire, the new proprietor. A colored quartette was on hand to liven things up, and a large crowd was present at the successful event. Mr. McGuire is evidently at home in this business, and has a host of friends.

At the Golden Crown.

A large part of the force at the Golden Crown has been laid off temporarily. There is now but one shift and one air drill running. The Pioneer man interviewed Hon. T. Mayne Daly, president of the company, in Rossland this week, who stated that the cut-down was due to a proposed change in the plan of development. He expected that the full force would be on again in a short time.

NEW SUMMIT ROAD

Surveys Are Now Being Made.

UNDER DIRECTION OF D. M. WATERS

Construction Will Begin Shortly---Road Will Enter Phoenix on Fifth Street, at the C. P. R. Station.

After many delays work on the laying out of the new wagon road from Phoenix to Summit camp, is at last in progress, and the actual work of construction will begin as soon as the survey is completed.

Early this week Engineer C. A. Stoess, of Columbia, who has charge of the government road work in this section was in town, accompanied by D. M. Waters, P. L. S., of Grand Forks, for the purpose of selecting the best route for the new wagon road. Mr. Waters was left in charge, and is now running the necessary lines for the new road, which it is expected will be about five miles in length.

Mr. Waters states that, although the rules of the department of public works will allow a wagon road to be constructed on a grade as steep as eight per cent, he expects to do much better than that on this road, where the maximum will be not more than five per cent. As there will doubtless be heavy loads hauled over the road from the establishments of our wholesalers, this will be a distinct advantage to all who have occasion to use it.

The road will leave Phoenix at the C. P. R. station, and go out of the Old Ironsides addition north over Fifth street, and thence on out through the No. 13 claim. It will not follow the route of the old trail, but will touch it in one or two places, coming out at or near the Oro Denoro mine. It is expected that active construction will begin early next week, under W. J. Sanders, and will be pushed to an early completion.

The force of men who have been at work under Mr. Sanders, repairing the wagon road to Wellington camp, have completed the work, and the road is now in a greatly improved condition.

A force of five men has been at work this week on the wagon road between Phoenix and Greenwood, making much needed repairs.

Okanogan Free Gold Mines In Trouble.

The property of the Okanogan Free Gold Mines, Ltd., near Oroville, Okanagan county, Washington, has been seized by the sheriff and work has consequently been suspended. This company was organized in Rossland, where much of its stock is held. Its present embarrassed position was brought about by the failure of many stockholders to meet assessments, the two made having realized only about $17,400 instead of $31,500, the full amount that should have been received. Mr. S. Thornton Langley, promoter and organizer and a director of the old Okanagan Free Gold Mines Co., has precipitated the present trouble by bringing action against the present company for $1161, amount he claims is due to him on the company's note. The directors say that Mr. Langley first sold out nearly all of his shares at remunerative prices and they suggest that he is now pressing the company as a revenge for having been requested by his co-directors to resign. The directors have given a bank a mortgage on the company's claims as collateral security for advances made. The total indebtedness of the company is stated to be $13,645. The directors hope to be able to arrange matters satisfactorily and to be able to raise money for further development of the mine.

Liberal Conservative Meeting.

Last evening a political meeting was held by the liberal-conservatives of Phoenix at Miners' Union hall, in behalf of the candidacy of Albert H. MacNeill, of Rossland. Mr. MacNeill himself was present and was the chief speaker. W. A. MacDonald, of Nelson, and Mayor A. S. Goodeve, of Rossland, were also in the party, expounding the political faith in which they believe. Thursday night a meeting was held at Greenwood.

New Mercantile Firm.

This week a new mercantile firm opened up in business in the Graves-Williams building. A company is now being incorporated with a capital of $10,000, to be known as the Law-McQuaid Co., Ltd., to conduct the business. H. J. McQuaid, formerly employed by W. M. Law, of Greenwood, is the manager of the new concern.

Phoenix vs. Greenwood.

This afternoon the Old Ironsides Foot Ball Club will play the Greenwood team on the grounds of the latter. Those who will represent Phoenix are: W. Dunbar, T. E. McDougall, P. J. Cook, Geo. Nurse, T. J. Buckton, H. E. Mitchell, G. S. Gordon, J. T. Lawrence, Wm. Twist and P. G. McArdle.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO PHOENIX.

In ancient Italy, when Rome was the centre of the then civilized world, a saying was current that all roads led to Rome. That is to say, that Rome was by far the most important centre in that gay country or in the world. Every one went to Rome and sooner or later had business in Rome. No one ever thought of visiting that part of the Roman empire without seeing the great city itself.

It is interesting to note that, in a modest way, Phoenix excites as much interest in this section as did the city of the conquering Calsars. No visitors of note come into the Boundary without t king in the mines of Phoenix. If they did leave it out of their itinerary they would feel that the trip to British Columbia had been incomplete. The fame of our ore producers is already co-extensive with the boundaries of the continent, and even reaches across the deep blue sea. It is therefore little wonder that all kinds and conditions of men like to see "the place where the mines are."

All roads lead to Phoenix, so far as the Boundary is concerned, and as time passes on this camp will continue to tower head and shoulders above all other Boundary camps, and eventually above all others in British Columbia. This may seem optimistic, but we ask only that a little time be given to make good the prophesy.

THREE TICKETS IN THE FIELD.

Already there are three candidates in nomination for the honor of representing the Yale-Cariboo-Kootenay constituency at Ottawa, to succeed Hewitt Bostock. The liberals have put up Mr. Galliher, a well known Nelson lawyer; the conservatives have nominated Mr. MacNeill, an equally well known Rossland lawyer; and the laboring men, to make it interesting, have decided to run Chris Foley, of Rossland, who is a miner.

The two old line parties certainly hoped that there would be no purely labor candidate, as it complicates the situation to a large extent. All three candidates have hosts of friends, but only one can be successful at the polls. The constituency is so large, and the expense of getting around so heavy, that it is pretty certain a close canvas will not be made by the nominees. Each local organization must meet its own campaign expenses. The election is likely to be a quiet one, comparatively speaking.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

November 7th has finally been selected as the date of the Dominion election. With less than four weeks to work in, the campaign will be short.

In 1896 the total vote in this constituency was 3303. In June last the vote was 11,292 in the same territory. It is probable, however, that in November the poll will not be quite as large as in the provincial elections of June 8th last.

WHAT THE EDITORS SAY.

The commencement of shipments from Republic camp to the Granby smelter realizes another of the predictions made in the early days of the district.—Grand Forks Gazette.

The labor people of Kootenay are capable of being just as good politicians as other people. They proved their ability to grasp the situation and take advantage of circumstances.—Industrial World.

At the next session of the legislative assembly bills will be introduced that when passed will repeal all acts that now give lawyers a dead cinch and special protection. Lawyers will then be on the same footing as other trades and crafts.—Nelson Tribune.

The nominee of the Independent Labor party is a working miner, residing in Rossland. He is as fairly entitled to be judged on his merits as either candidate Galliher or candidate MacNeill. The platform on which he stands contains planks that are good along with others that are visionary and impracticable. Christopher Foley, miner, is now in the race.—Nelson Tribune.

The difference between theory and condition is exemplified by the approved suggestion throughout British Columbia that the provincial tax on metal ores be made differential; that is, practically, that the tax be doubted in the case of ores sent out of the province for treatment, the idea being to encourage local smelters, which in the main, is a good plan, but under the existing conditions in British Columbia, is not to be given serious consideration.—Mining and Scientific Press.

In the orchard of W. J. Hanna there is a splendid pear tree in full bloom. This is a commentary on the salubrity of the climate here, which it is doubtful if even Vancouver can paraelel." Commenting on this the Greenwood Miner observes: "In other parts of Canada fruit trees bloom in the spring. Victorians always had the name of being a little slow, but it was not known heretofore that the fruit trees had been affected by the general inertia. When fruit trees begin to cultivate mossback customs it is time to place horticulture on the statute books among the learned professions.—Victoria Times.

In nominating a candidate for Yale-Cariboo, the Labor convention at Nelson made a mistake. With not a shadow of chance of winning, the campaign can only result in bringing discredit on organized labor. The defeated candidate, whether conservative or liberal, will think that the object aimed at in placing a labor candidate in the field was to defeat the party which he represents. As a consequence, labor legislation introduced in the house will receive opposition from the party defeated. This may look like revenge, but it is good politics. The candidate Chris Foley is one of the ablest men in labor circles in the the province."—Greenwood Miner.

Under the new law as to delinquent co-owners, delinquent partners in a mineral claim can be made to pay for their proportion of work by publishing a notice for 90 days in a paper printed in the district in which the claim is located. If at the end of 90 days they have not paid for their share of work and all costs of advertising, they lose their interest in the property. This power, which was last session statutorily conferred upon mine co-owners, unable to induce their associates to bear their due share of legitimate expenditure, is heartily approved by the workers of our provincial mining communities. Already several notices under the above law have appeared in West Kootenay journals.—Vancouver News-Advertiser.

Chris Foley Candidate.

"That the wisdom of the decision of the labor convention to place a candidate in this constituency is open to serious question will be admitted by not a few of the leaders themselves of organized labor. Opposition was offered to it at the Rossland metting by the very gentleman who was subsequently the choice of the convention and who, it is well known, accepted the nomination simply out of loyalty to the cause of which he is now the most prominent champion in the riding. The position which he assumed in opposition to organized labor conducting such a campaign was strictly on the ground that he saw no likelihood of success.

If however, the wisdom of the convention can be doubted in arraying labor in a separate and hostile political camp no question can be raised as to the judiciousness of its choice of a candidate. It will be generally conceded that a better selection than Mr. Chris Foley could not have been made. He is now well known throughout the Kootenay, and while always a staunch and unwavering friend of the cause of labor, he has invariably given evidence of being actuated by an honest desire for the good of the community, as a whole and has never failed to advise peace and harmony where they could be obtained without compromising the interests of those who looked to him for counsel and guidance. We do not think he will be elected. We do not think it wise that he should be, but he will make a stronger appeal to the labor vote than any man in the constituency.—Rossland Miner.

Preparing to Build the Bridge.

The C. P. R. has a small force at work on the Columbia river, near Robson, quarrying granite for the piers of the bridge to be constructed from Sproat's Landing to Castlegar. These points are near the confluence of the Kootenay and Columbia rivers, Sproat's Landing having been a place of call for river steamers before the C. P. R. lines were built to Robson and the ferrying transferred there, and Castlegar was the terminus of Heinze's Columbia and Western railway on the west side of the Columbia River, opposite to Sproat's Landing.

In the matter of Walter Waterland vs. city of Greenwood, which is an action to recover $5,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by plaintiff through flooding of his hotel by overflow of Boundary Creek waters, responsibility for which damage is imputed to defendants, application was made in chambers before Judge Forin at Nelson last Monday for a trial by jury. The application was granted.

DEATH OF EUGENE G. SULLIVAN.

Well known Man Passes Away at Greenwood Hospital.

Just before midnight of Thursday, 4th inst., the death took place in the Greenwood hospital of Eugene D. Sullivan, a comparative stranger in this province, except to many who had known him in Butte, Montana. His active life followed by a death almost tragic in its unexpectedness and its occurence in a strange land away from all connected with him by close family ties, was one of those singular contrasts that are looked for in fiction rather than in real life. The late Mr. Sullivan born at Houghton, Michigan, U. S. A., in 1855, he was one of a family of nine, six boys and three girls. His father died whilst these were all young, so it fell to the lot of Gene, as he was familiarly called, to in a large measure take the place of his dead father. It is said of him that he did this as few would have done it faithfully and well, not sparing himself but doing his best to fill the great gap the early loss of a father to a young family. Leaving Michigan Eugene Sullivan went to Butte, Montana, in 1878 he being 23 years of age. A few years later he was nominated and elected sheriff of Silver Bow county, Montana, and after serving a two year's term was again nominated and received the largest number of votes, but his second election was successfully challenged on the scors of irregularity on the part of some of his supporters in one of the precincts, so he had to retire from office. For many years though he continued most popular in the city of Butte and indeed throughout the whole county, where his record as sheriff was an honorable one, his term of office being marked by zeal and impartiality. For a long while he was in the hotel business at Walkerville, Butte, this bringing him into intimate association with large numbers of his fellow townsmen. He took a very lively interest and an active part in State politics and his magnetic influence was felt in these matters. He is reputed to have been fearless and outspoken, and, to have been a warm friend of the laboring men, whose interests he espoused. Of course such a man could not well avoid taking a side in the Daly-Clark feud and it was freely stated by his friends that it was this that eventually led to his being practically ruined, both politically and financially. the antagonism and animosity of wealthy participants in that feud pursuing his relentlessly, until finally he left a country in which he still left hosts of friends and well-wishers as well as those of an opposite nature whose persistent opposition had to all intents and purposes broken his heart.

Having been well associated with mining in Montana, it was but natural that he should turn his attention to one of the new mining camps of the west, to which many of his old-time friends had preceded him. In January of the current year he left Butte for Republic, Washington; later in the year he came thence to the Boundary district, where after a while he went to work at the Winnipeg mine in charge of which he found a friend of 20 years standing in the person of Mr. Nicholas Tregear, formerly manager of the well known Le Roi mine at Rossland. On the evening of September 14 he was too unwell to continue at work so he laid off. He remained at the mine until the evening of the 19th, when he went to the neighboring town of Phoenix remaining there until October 1st, when he returned to the mine. Finding that he was very ill Mr. Tregear at once arranged for the removal of his friend to the Greenwood hospital, whence he was taken on Tuesday, 2nd Inst. Upon arrival there it was found that his case was a serious one, so serious in fact that there was little chance of recovery. The worst result followed, for late on Thursday night death came. Word was at once telegraphed to his only surviving brother, Mr. Daniel J. Sullivan, who is in the office of the treasurer of Silver Bow county, Butte. This gentleman immediately started for Greenwood, reaching that town late on Saturday night.

Mr. D. Sullivan having decided to take the body of his deceased brother to Butte for interment, it was removed to the undertaking rooms of Messrs. T. M. Gulley & Co. and there embalmed and placed in an oak casket, copper lined and covered outside with fine cloth and having silver plated mountings. On Monday morning a large number of former friends and acquaintances from Montana, and other Boundary residents who desired to show the last sad tribute of respect to the memory of a worthy man, gathered in Greenwood and followed in funeral procession all that was mortal of Eugene Sullivan to the railway station where the casket was placed on the train for shipment enroute to Butte, Mr. Daniel Sullivan being in charge. The pall bearers at the funeral were Mr. J. Roderick Robertson, of Nelson, managing director of the London & B. C. Goldfields, Ltd., of London, England, who was in Greenwood on a business visit; Mr. Nicholas Tregear, superintendent of the Winnipeg mine; Mr. John Hanley, a cousin of deceased, superintendent of the R. Bell mine; Mr. R. E. (Barbarian) Brown, formerly of the Coeur d'Alenes; Col. I. P. Armstrong, well known in Spokane; Mr. James Cunningham, an old timer in the Boundary country and a friend of deceased; Mr. Chas. J. McArthur, also a former resident of Silver Bow county and a friend of 20 years standing, and Mr. Wm. Hurley, another old friend.

The above particulars will serve to impress the relations and friends of the late Mr. Sullivan that though in what is to them a foreign land, there were not wanting those tokens of respect to one, who, notwithstanding that he was a comparative stranger in the Boundary district had the reputation of being a man who had well done his part in his all too brief span of life.

It may be of interest to our readers to learn that the three sisters of deceased survive him, these being Mesdames Jerry Murphy, Joe Hogan and O'Neill, all still residents of Butte, to whom with all others who have this loss to mourn, the Pioneer extends its condolence and sincere sympathy in their sad bereavement.

Colville Reservation.

Considerable interest is being taken along the boundary in the opening of the north half of the Colville Indian reservation to which settlement the territory extends from the Columbia to the Okanagan river. The C. P. R. is likely to reap a harvest from the opening as its line to Midway runs within 30 miles of the heart of the reservation and is the closest rail connection by 50 miles.

The Nelson Tribune states that Mr. F. W. Peters, assistant general freight agent, has returned from a trip over the reservation, made with a view to sizing up the situation and determining on the volume of business in prospect. In referring to the reservation Mr. Peters is reported to have said: "I do not look for as great a rush into the reservation as was anticipated. While there are many fine valleys the country is not so suitable for farming as was reported, a dearth of water being one of the most serious drawbacks. There does not seem to be any excitement, and while a large number of people will undoubtedly go in, the rush will be nothing like the Oklahoma or similar affairs. Personally I was more interested in the mining outlook. The country is more like the Republic district, heavy rolling prairie rather than rock hills, and mining development will necessitate a large amount of sinking to reach the values. There are a number of properties working and the owners are very hopeful. The ore is free-milling and is said to carry excellent values."

LABOR PARTY'S PLATFORM.

Adopted at Last Week's Meeting at Nelson, B. C.

The following is the platform adopted at the Labor convention held at Nelson last week:

1. Free compulsory education.
2. Legal working day of eight hours.
3. Government inspection of all industries.
4. Abolition of contract system on public works.
5. Public ownership of all franchises.
6. Prohibition of Asiatic immigration and the regulation of all immigration by an educational test as to immigrants' fitness, and the abolition of all special inducements and privileges to foreign immigrants to settle in the Dominion.
7. Abolition of child labor under 12.
8. Abolition of the $250 deposit required of all candidates for the Dominion house.
9. Compulsory arbitration of all labor disputes.
10. Prohibition of prison labor in competition with free labor.
11. All election days to be made public holidays.
12. Abolition of Dominion senate.

Becoming Independent.

A significant feature of the present campaign in Yale-Cariboo is the apparent lack of interest of the newspaper. While the majority of the papers are professedly conservative, yet there is very little in the editorial columns that would seem to indicate their political inclinations. Indeed, it seems as if the press was gradually drifting in the direction of independence. This may be accounted for by the fact that neither the papers nor the people are any longer content to have their politics made for them by a few self-seeking politicians whose only aim is to secure preferment and the spoils of office. It may be we are coming to that point when party lines will be completely obliterated.—Nelson Economist.

The Western Produce Company, of which A. C. Musgrove was manager, has closed its Greenwood business. It is stated that the competion of those bringing in farm, garden and diary produce from the Big Bend country and the American Okanogan so interfered with the company's business that there was not enough to make it worth its while to remain in the town.

Still Time to Register.

Those entitled to have their names placed on the electoral roll and who have not yet made the requisite application are reminded that there is little time to lose if they wish to avail themselves of the privilege of voting at the impending dominion election. Applications to be enrolled should reach the office of the collector of votes, Rossland, not later than 20th ins. A recent issue of the B. C. Gazette contained the following:

"Rossland Riding, West Kootenay Electoral District—Notice is hereby given that I shall, on Monday, the fifth day of November next, at 11 o'clock a. m., hold a court of revision at the court house, Rossland, for the purpose of hearing and determining objections to the retention of any names on the register of voters for the Rossland riding of West Kootenay electoral district."

J. Kirkup.

Applications for enrollment received not less than fourteen days prior to the holding of this court of revision should result in the names of applicants being placed on the revised roll.

Tenders.

Sealed tenders will be received to the 15th inst. by the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, Victoria, for the erection of a School House in Phoenix.

Each tender must be accompanied by the names of two responsible residents of this Province who are prepared to enter into bonds for the due fulfilment of the contract in the sum of $500 each.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the Post Office, Phoenix.

The lowest nor any tender not necessarily accepted.

Dated at Phoenix this 3rd day of October, 1900.

PHOENIX ANOTHER BUTTE
Is Already the Second Camp in Ore Shipments in British Columbia.

The following facts about Phoenix tell the story of what capital has already accomplished in the chief mining camp of the Boundary. There are yet many promising prospects well worthy of business like exploitation.

Phoenix itself and the camps to which it is the nearest banking and business point, are now shipping 3,500 tons of gold-copper ore per week, or 182,500 tons per year.

The Knob Hill and Old Ironsides, situated in the very heart of the town, are alone shipping 300 tons daily, or 2,100 tons per week.

The B. C. mine is shipping 150 tons daily, or over 1,000 tons weekly.

Other properties, such as the Golden Crown, Winnipeg, Athelstan, etc., are shipping not less than 50 tons per day, or 350 tons per week.

The ore shipments from Phoenix alone far exceed the combined output of all other mining camps of British Columbia, outside of Rossland.

Yet Phoenix is only in its earliest infancy.

The Local Grist.

Provincial Constable Dinsmore, of Grand Forks, was in town last Wednesday.

Dr. G. S. Gordon has removed to his new suite of rooms over the post office.

J. E. Meagher is putting up a good sized addition to his building near First street.

H. E. Mitchell, the Phoenix tailor, is showing a fine line of fall and winter suitings and overcoatings.

Dr. Mathison spent Wednesday and Thursday of this week at his dental office in the Graves-Williams block.

Harry Bell is building a comfortable residence on Old Ironsides avenue, near Vaughan & McInnes' store.

Last night the Miners' Union of Greenwood, gave a ball, and there was a good sized attendance from Phoenix.

Quite a number of business firms from other towns are figuring on opening up in Phoenix—where the mines are.

J. A. McKinnon, assistant general manager of the Eastern Townships Bank, was a visitor to Phoenix this week.

Mrs. W. L. Ross and son Guy left on Monday's train for a visit to Spokane where the young man will enter school.

Mrs. C. W. Abbott, local manager for the Columbia Telephone Co., returned Thursday from a visit to the Spokane Exposition.

Dr. R. B. Boucher, physician for the Miner-Graves syndicate, now occupies his new and commodious offices in the Graves-Williams block.

J. H. Blome, photographer of Grand Forks, is spending two or three weeks in Phoenix, and will be glad to see his many old friends here.

Reid Crowell returned a few days since from a trip to Spokane, where he was called to give testimony in a law suit by Col. L. N. Peyton.

Geo. W. Wooster, of Spokane, treasurer of the Miner-Graves syndicate companies, has been spending some days in Phoenix this week.

J. H. Ashdown, the several times millionaire hardware merchant, of Winnipeg, was shown around town this week by his old friend, Thos. Hardy. Mr. Ashdown was not a little pleased at the evidences of permanent prosperity in Phoenix.

J. A. Morrin, of the well known firm of Morrin & Thompson, took a well-earned vacation this week and visited the Spokane Exposition.

Editor Ross, of the Greenwood Times, has made the discovery that Phoenix is a "dinner bucket" town. He is certainly a gentleman of discernment.

Alex. Henderson, the jeweller, has just completed a neat one-story office building, adjoining M. McBean & Co., on Dominion avenue, which he will occupy himself.

J. B. Boyle, the druggist, is now settled at his new location in the Graves-Williams building, where Geo. E. Dey, the Jeweler, also occupies a part of the store.

Rev. John Rae, formerly of Thedford, Ontario, was a visitor in town Wednesday. He was formerly in charge of a Presbyterian church in the Rainy River district.

Rev. Hector McKay, formerly located at Eholt, will occupy the Presbyterian pulpit in Phoenix tomorrow morning and evening—and for a couple of weeks probably.

McRae Bros. & Smith, the stationers, moved this week to their new location in the Graves-Williams block. The V. & N. Telephone exchange will remain at the old location, in charge of W. M. Crane.

Early in the week E. H. Thurston, of Greenwood, was advertising for 200 men for road work up the west fork of Kettle river. Application for employment was to be made at Westbridge, about ten miles above Rock creek.

Wednesday evening the infant son of Steve Swanson, shift boss at the Old Ironsides, was christened by Rev. W. A. Robins, of Greenwood. The boy's name is Almer Phoenix Swanson; he was the first child born in Phoenix.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church are preparing for another social to be held in the school house on Friday, October 19th. A short programme will be given and refreshments served. All are cordially invited.

H. C. Poff, travelling representative of the Sun Life, of Montreal, with headquarters at Vancouver, was in town several days this week. He expects to move his office to this section before long, and thinks most favorably of locating in Phoenix.

Two or three months since, Dr. Forin came from Nelson to Greenwood to endeavor to establish himself in the latter town. A trial has shown him that there is not room for another doctor in Greenwood, so last Tuesday the worthy doctor returned to Nelson, which town is, he says, good enough for him. There are still five doctors left in Greenwood, so sick people still have that many to choose from when they require medical attendance.

The C. P. R. "Imperial Limited" will be taken off to-morrow, and the time tables generally altered, the old winter schedule going into effect. Phoenix people should receive Rossland and Nelson mail late in the afternoon of the same day it is sent.

On Sunday last a gang of workmen with boarding cars were taken down to Midway where they have since been employed in laying about a quarter of a mile of pipe line for water supply purposes, the well sunk near the big tank not giving sufficient water for locomotives and other railway needs.

About five miles west of Midway, near the Ingrim ranch, there is a part of the main road to Rock creek and Camp McKinney which first describes a horseshoe to the top of a branch and then there is a steep grade down off it on the other side. To effect an improvement here Mr. C. E. Shaw, C. E., has received instructions to take the necessary levels to provide for a less circuitous road and an easier grade. This intended alteration should not involve a large outlay and yet will avoid a steep rise which is trying to teams with heavy loads.

It's a plain business proposition, that of buying a

Stetson Hat

For the slight extra cost you get more than its equivalent in—better materials, extra wear, superior character and appearance. We can show you a full line. Half of them are the new styles which have just been received. The other half is composed of those "Stetson" "boss raw edge" soft hats which have made the makers famous. They are always in style.
