IN MEMORIAM!

(Rev. F. A. Ford Entered Into Rest January 27th, 1899.)

Farewell, dear friend, the grave has closed above thee;
The cold earth lies upon thy narrow bed;
Farewell! Altho' we leave thee yet we love thee
And mourn thee dead.
God loved thee too, and for a little season
Spared thy pure soul awhile on earth to roam,
Then sought thee out, and for his own good reason,
Re-called thee home.
A valued friend is taken from beside us
To sit with the redeemed at God's right hand—
A beacon light set high in heaven to guide us
To that blest land.
Thy happy tones now mingle with the voices
That raise their hymn of praise to Christ on high.
Thy ransomed spirit now in bliss rejoices
Beyond the sky.
A bright translation from the cross of suffering—
The prelude to the wearing of the crown;
Earth's labors past, to take again in Heaven,
The work laid down.
We will not speculate, nor vainly question
The mysteries of the divine decree,
But leave thy servant in thy gracious keeping—
Dear Lord, with thee.

FUNERAL OF REV. F. A FORD

Impressive Services Conducted by Rev. H. Fiennes Clinton of Vancouver

Rev. H. Fiennes Clinton, rector of St. James' Vancouver, arrived on Sunday morning and immediately took charge of the arrangements for the interment of the late vicar of St. Peter's. The church itself, which Mr. Ford had so loved to decorate for the festivals of the church, was placed in mourning. The wreaths and texts which had been put up in honour of the Christmas season were taken down, and altar, sanctuary and pulpit were draped in black cloth. The coffin was placed in front of the altar with candles burning on each side. In it lay the peaceful form of the vicar clad in his ministerial robes of cassock, surplice and stole, with the image of the crucified Redeemer on his breast. The coffin was covered with wreaths and crosses of white flowers and green leaves. With him lying there in simple state morning prayer was said, followed by the celebration of the Holy Eucharist with the proper collect, epistle and gospel appointed for a celebration preceding the burial of the dead. The only music was the singing of Canon Bright's Eucharistic hymn, "And Now, Oh Father, Mindful of the Love," after the prayer of consecration and "Peace, Perfect Peace" at the ablutions. But the musical voice and earnestness of the celebrant and the evident emotion of the people, rendered the service the more impressive on account of its very simplicity.

At two o'clock the funeral service commenced. The church was crowded to overflowing. Mr. Clinton read the first part of the burial service and two hymns were sung: "My God, My Father, While I Stray" and "Rock of Ages." The procession was then formed to proceed to the cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Hearn and Crage, churchwardens; Grogan and Aman, sidesmen. Jas. Gill and R. Gordon. Rev. Mr. Clinton walked at the head in his robes, followed by the hearse and pallbearers, after whom came the choir and a long line of friends of the deceased. At the grave the last prayers of the church were said followed by the Easter hymn "Jesus Lives" and the blessing. And so the body of the vicar was laid in its last resting place, almost before, so strange and sudden has it all been, those who loved him have realized that he is no longer among us' Requiescat in pace.

Evensong was sung at the usual hour, a large congregation being present. Rev. Mr. Clinton in his sermon spoke of his departed colleague in very touching terms.

THE LARDEAU DISTRICT

THE LAND OF GOLD, SILVER AND COPPER

TROUT LAKE MINING PROGRESS

Properties Upon Which Work has Been Done, Also Those Upon Which Operations are Now Proceeding—Some Wonderful Surface Showings—The Badshot, Great Northern, True Fissure Etc.—The Topic's Review.

Five Mile creek, one of the feeders to Trout Lake on the south western side, has a great many valuable properties staked on it. But as last season was a short one and a trail had to be built in order to get to the properties, very little beyond the work required by law was done on them. The claims there, however, have exceptionally fine surface indications and next season may furnish another group to the list of Trout Lake developed prospects, the future for which is away above the average.

It will only be a short time now until work is resumed on the Badshot. This property has already some thirty tons of ore on the dump and next season's work will further increase this amount.

The work on the Lade group will be recommenced shortly. This property, it will be remembered, is the one which the great strike of telluride ore was made in the summer of '97. Since then work has been going on as steadily as the owners' circumstances would permit. A 150-foot tunnel was commenced to tap the lead at a depth and it is expected that the early part of next season will see it completed. The ore which was taken out a year ago last fall, some six tons, gave returns of $220 to the ton of gold, and some of the finer samples are simply held together by the gold that is contained in them.

Regarding the Great Northern, True Fissure and Broadview groups, it is generally conceded that they, although containing immense ore bodies and in an advanced stage of development, will make no attempt to ship ore until the cheap transportation question is solved by the construction of a railroad. Some 1,000 tons of ore are lying staked on these properties which will run anywhere from $30 to $75 to the ton in silver, lead and copper.

On Trout creek some very good strikes were made last year, owned principally by Messrs. Jowett, Campbell, Davy and McDonald. Considerable work will be done on these next season.

On the I. X. L. a North Fork property, extensive development operations will be commenced shortly. Three or four men will be employed and their labors, it is expected will open up a very large ore body. This property has one of the finest surface showings in that section.

The Nettie L. has had completed considerably over 100 feet of work which has resulted in showing up a very fine body of high grade ore. Work will be continued until the third lead, which was the one the tunnel was meant to tap, is crosscut when it is expected the property will be in a fair way to to taking its place in the ranks of the shippers.

The Black Eagle, a claim near Ferguson, on the main line of the wagon road, will be worked extensively next season. This property was bonded a year ago last fall for $10,000 and last fall the bond was taken up. It is now in the hands of a Vancouver company.

Ed. Jackson has been put in charge of the estate of Fallis Bros., general merchants, on Front street.

The locomotive drivers will pull their trains from Revelstoke to Field instead of to Donald as heretofore. Circulars have been issued to that effect.

Alex Lucas, the Conservative organizer for the province, will be in town shortly and will spend some time here reorganizing the Liberal-Conservative association.

The revival services in the Methodist church are continuing every night this week with a marked increase of interest. The Pastor and friends invite all who can to attend. The meetings commence each evening at 8, o' clock.

The Rev. Mr. Clinton will address a special meeting of the talent society of St. Peter's church in the kindergarten room on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All the ladies of the congregation are cordially invited to attend.

It is rumored that some members of W. Miller's bridge gang have been injured by the knives flying from the rotary while fighting the snow at Illecillewaet. Another slide is reported to have come down there last night.

At a meeting of the vestry of St. Peter's church held yesterday afternoon it was decided to take up subscriptions for a fund to place a cross of stone or marble at the head of Mr. Ford's grave in the cemetery and also to erect an altar and memorial tablet in the church in memory of his work in this parish. An altar has been selected as a most suitable memorial, not only because the church badly needs one, but also because it is known that it was Mr. Ford's intention to have put one up himself had he been spared to remain among us.

REVELSTOKE CURLERS RETURN

With the Hudson's Bay & Championship Trophy in Their Grip

The Revelstoke curlers returned from the Rossland Bonspiel on Sunday night. The Revelstoke rink, which consisted of Roy Douglas, E. Pickard, K. D. Johnson and H. A. Brown, skip, carried off the big Hudson's Bay trophy which will be held by them one year. Each member of the winning rink will receive a souvenir, which will remain his property. This win of a green rink was very popular with everybody. The Revelstoke curlers are delighted with the cordiality of their reception among their kindly hosts in Rossland. The ill success of the hockey team was largely due to want of practice and training owing to their being no rink here suitable for the game. Our curlers were of course at a similar disadvantage. This town wants to wake up in this respect and we should have a rink suitable for every kind of amusement afforded by the ice here next winter.

K. D. Johnson stayed behind to play a pick-up game of hockey on Sunday afternoon. The team consisted of old players in the one time famous Calgary combination.

The following were the players: Sawyer, goal; K. D. Johnson, Capt., point; Tom Douglas, cover point; Andy Grierson, E. Pinkham, Roy Douglas, George Henderson, forwards. They played against a team composed of all comers and beat them by four goals to nothing.

MASTER OF ADMINISTRATION

Sir Charles Tupper Sizes Up Israel Tarte in a Few Caustic Words

Referring to Mr. Tarte's ascendancy in the Liberal party, Sir Charles Tupper has had this to say in a recent interview to Montreal correspondent. "Mr Tarte is the master of the administration. His conception of statesmanship is to go from province to province, promising the most lavish expenditures in order to bribe the constituencies. This is his idea. This is the height of statesmanship to which he has risen. This is his conception of the duties of a great statesman. We see him going up and down the country promising in this and that district the expenditure of millions. Sir Wilfrid confines himself to philosophic abstractions, and the master of the administration buys up the constituencies. This is what we see as the perfect flower of Liberalism in this country. The only sign of a general election that I can see is the spectacle which Mr. Tarte presents as he offers his millions here and there. Needless to say that if a tithe of the amount which he is promising is disbursed actually upon so-called public works, the country would be quite hopelessly involved.

"But Mr. Tarte is in the cabinet to stay, though half of the Liberal party hate him, and ask for his dismissal, he will remain, and why? Because if he were dismissed he could and would disclose the means by which the government reached power at the last election. He knows the secret. He could not only have Sir Wilfrid himself deposed, but he could prevent the Liberal party from reaching power again for the next twenty years. This is why Mr. Tarte remains master of the administration."

FOURTH ANNUAL MEETING

Of the Board of Trade Held Last Night —H. A. Brown Elected President

The fourth annual meeting of the Revelstoke Board of Trade was held in the board room last night, and the election of officers took place with the following results:

On motion of Messrs. Sibbald and Brewster, H. A. Brown was elected president by acclamation.

On motion of Messrs. Brewster and Hearn, F. B. Wells was elected vice-president by acclamation.

C. E. Shaw was re-elected secretary by acclamation.

On the first ballot being taken for the election of members to the council of the board, the following gentlemen were elected: Messrs. I. T. Brewster, J. Abrahamson, W. F. Crage, T. L. Haig, C. F. Lindmark, J. M. Scott, W. M. Brown, W. M. Lawrence and Geo. S. McCarter.

A hearty vote of thanks were tendered the retiring president, Mr. Hearn, and officers and members of last year's board.

The annual report was read and and adopted. The HERALD will publish the annual report in next issue.

Messrs. Garrand, Braithwaite, Jas. Murphy and R. Gordon were elected new members.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT

SEVEN PERSONS KILLED, ONE SERIOUSLY INJURED

A MOST SHOCKING AFFAIR

A Snowslide Sweeps Away the Station and Round House at Roger's Pass and Buries Eight People Alive—All the Bodies Have Been Found Except One—The Worst Snowslide of Its Kind Ever Known in the Mountains

An appalling catastrophe occurred yesterday afternoon at Roger's Pass whereby in one moment seven souls were hurried without a moment's warning into eternity. The cause of the fatality was a snowslide which swept away the station and round house with every living person within them. The dead are W. Cator, day operator, Mrs. Cator and their two children, Frank Carson, night operator, James Ridley, wiper, and a Chinaman cook. The only person taken out alive was Annie Berger, the waitress, who survived with both legs broken and several ribs. Dr. Cross started up to the scene of the accident yesterday but there are other slides between here and Rogers' Pass at Illecillewaet and the Glacier, so he experienced much difficulty in getting up there.

NEEDS A RAILROAD

Trout Lake Mines Development Retarded Through This Cause

There is no part of the vast mineral belt of British Columbia that is suffering more for the want of railroad transportation than is the section known as the Trout Lake division, writes a correspondent from New Denver. For several years that section has been coming into prominence because of its great ore bodies and almost unlimited possibilities. Its progress has been slow, but enough money has been expended on its properties and many of them have been developed into mines that if situated in districts favored with railroad facilities would to-day be some of the largest shippers in the Kootenay. And, yet, with all its vast mineral wealth developed and in sight, the district is in a state of stagnation and can make no further progress until a railroad is built into it to provide cheaper transportation for the ore from its mines. The citizens of the district realize this and are exerting every effort to bring into prominence the desperate condition of affairs.

The correspondent is informed by men operating in the district, and who know the extent of its great ore bodies, that despite the fact that thousands of tons of ore could be taken out and shipped—and much of it of very high grade—the district cannot advance another step until it is given a railroad.

Capital stands ready to take hold of any of the many developed properties and employment could be provided for hundreds of miners where to-day only developing forces are employed. Mining men who have unlimited means at their command have investigated the lodes of the country and are convinced of its great wealth, but they will not invest their money when the likelihood of railroad facilities is so remote. And the big properties that are being opened up and on which work has been in progress for several years, must eventually close down and operations entirely cease unless the district is opened up by railroads.

The district is in a condition similar to that of the Slocan prior to the building of the Nakusp & Slocan road six years ago, only it is further advanced and promises greater returns to a railroad enterprise than this section did. Indeed, some of its developed properties, particularly the True Fissure, Silver Cup, Great Northern, Broadview and the Bad Shot, will compete favorably with the best mines the Slocan boasts of to-day and there are many others as promising that will not be developed until there is some assurance that a road will be built.

The Silver Cup has an ore body three feet in thickness with several hundred tons of ore that will give a gross return of $145 to the ton now on the dump. The Broadview has 800 tons on the dump and the Great Northern 200. The output from any one of these properties would more than equal the total output of all the Slocan mines when the Kaslo & Slocan road was built from Nakusp to Sandon six years ago.

All these facts are being forced to the front by the prominent men of the district and will be kept to the front until transportation by rail is provided.

LAYING UP TROUBLE FOR THE COUNTRY

From The Calgary Herald

The following dispassionate, unprejudiced and common sense remarks of the Rev. Father Morin, who has done a most successful repatriation work in Alberta, are respectfully communicated to the Public, the Minister of the Interior and the Free Press:

"I am persuaded that it would cost the government to bring in French Canadians, Germans and Irish from the Western States nothing like what it will cost in the case of the Doukhobors, for example, who are quite destitute, and who will need to be assisted for the first year. I have submitted a plan to the government by which I could secure hundreds of people I have mentioned upon condition, simply that the government would advance the price of railway transportation, which would be about a hundred dollars in the case of each family. This would be refunded in one year, the government to take a mortgage on the stock. For remember, that those people in the western States, who can not sell their lands as they are heavily mortgaged, own stock, and have besides, some money, so that each family would represent, say, a thousand dollars. Now, would it not seem better policy to foster such a settlement, than to bring in foreigners who cannot be made into citizens for at least fifteen or twenty years? The French Canadians, Germans and Irish would be ready for citizenship at once. Perhaps," said the reverend gentleman, smiling, "as a census is to be taken in two years, the minister is anxious for good round numbers, rather than quality.

"As for the Galicians, I have not met a single person in the whole of the North West who is sympathetic towards them. They are, from the point of view of civilization, 10 times lower than the Indians. They have not the least idea of sanitation. In their personal habits and acts they resemble animals, and even in the streets of Edmonton, when they come to market, men, women and children would, if unchecked, turn the place into a common sewer. In many cases they have been content with building themselves holes in the ground, where the family consorts with the animals—all in one common apartment."

Asked when the Galicians would learn French or English, the reverend gentleman said, "As to French, never; English in 15 or 20 years. But they herd together, they do not understand our ways or tongue; they will not vote; and the regular settlers of the Edmonton district not only do not want any more of them, but those who are already there should be sent away."

As for the Doukhobors, Father Morin said that too many were coming out at once. Two hundred or so might have been tried at first, but to bring out several thousands of them, quite destitute, was a rather doubtful experiment.

As far as the Galicians are concerned The Herald has no hesitation in saying that if proper steps were taken, the first being the abolition of the reserve system, our own North West Indians could be made into farmers and citizens compared to whom the Galicians are so much trash. In five or ten years from now when respectable British and Ontario settlers are vainly seeking for farming lands in Northern Alberta those who are responsible for throwing them away on a horde of hopelessly immoral and filthy Galicians will begin to see the trouble they have brewed for the future administrators and inhabitants of the North West.

Some very rich specimens of ore have been brought to Winnipeg from the Hawke Lake mine.

Lapponi, the pope's physician says that his holiness' constitution is the strongest ever known. He predicts that he will live to see the twentieth century.

N. Hugger of Ridgetown, who was injured while working on the Crow's Nest Pass railway by a collision between a passenger train and a construction train, has issued a writ asking $10,000 damages from the Canadian Pacific railway.

Five marriages were celebrated amongst the Doukhobors on the voyage round from Halifax in the usual way of simply shaking hands and kissing. This was done before landing, because otherwise the engaged couples would have been separated and sent to different places.

A pointer for Mr. Mulock. The Edmonton Bulletin reports that 600 letters and 250 pounds of newspapers are lying at the Edmonton post office directed to parties at Lesser Slave lake and Peace River points and no arrangements exist for forwarding them.

A party of surveyors led by V. H. D. Dupont, C. E., has just returned from making a preliminary exploration for a railway through Peace River pass. Another party, (Dibble's) is continuing the line from the mouth of the Finlay, up the Omenica to the Stikine.

Sharkey the pugilist, and his sparring partner, Robert Armstrong, were arraigned in the municipal court of the city of Boston and fined $15 each for participating in an exhibition which the police maintained partook of the nature of a prize fight. Both pugilists have been performing at the theatres this week.

King Oscar, of Sweden, has abdicated the throne in favor of his son, the Crown Prince Gustaf. While it is generally reported that the abdication is only temporary, those who are in a position to know of what they speak declare that he will never return to the throne.

The mother superior of a convent in a little Irish town bought at the local bookstore a volume which, being somewhat shortsighted, she thought was written by Canon Doyle, and for the edification of her community it was read aloud at meal times. The novices were thrilled at the freedom with which lovemaking was alluded to. "Well, well" said the mother superior, "the dear canon is preparing us for a miracle of grace. The frivolous flirt, by the mercy of Heaven, no doubt ends by taking the veil." Presently, however, someone looked at the title page and discovered that the word "Conan" and not "Canon" stood printed there. "Well," said the mother superior, "the bookseller is a pious man, and now that we have paid for it, it would be wasteful not to read it. The story is good enough to be true."

The numerous petitions and telegrams that have been forwarded to the postmaster general have had their effect. Postmasters are being appointed along the Crow's Nest Pass line and everything is being made ready for the inauguration of a mail service. An announcement concerning it may be expected any time now.

A telegram from Vancouver says: James Fisher, 65 years old, chief of the Fort Neville Indians, purchased a 14 year old half-breed girl named Minnie Ingalls from her father for $200 and gleefully told the Catholic priest of his cheap bargain. The priest informed the authorities and the old chief was required to marry his pretty chattel.

John Daly, the Irish political prisoner who was released from Portland prison in 1896, after having been sentenced to penal servitude for life for complicity in an alleged plot to blow up the House of Commons while in session by throwing dynamite bombs from the Strangers' gallery, has been elected mayor of Limerick by unanimous vote, under the new Irish local government act.

Winnipeg sets a good example in the matter of collecting dog licenses. The dog population of Winnipeg numbers in the vicinity of 15,000; of these 1230 have been licensed, and the balance are either stray dogs or belong to those people who have failed to comply with the bylaw requiring them to license the animals. The poundkeeper is continually after unlicensed dogs, and he catches and kills on the average three per day, mostly of the mongrel breed. He intends to prosecute every owner of a dog in the city who has failed to take out a license.

Nelson Miner: A Nelson young man is mourning the loss of $4.00 and is vowing to himself that hereafter when he wants to make a purchase he will patronize one of the home stores instead of sending to Toronto. He was in need of some photographic supplies and finding that there was one article in the lot which could not be purchased in Nelson he decided to make the entire purchase in Toronto. Accordingly he forwarded his order, amounting in all to $6.00 and in due course of time came the package, but with $4.00 express charges. If he had purchased in Nelson what he could have secured here and had sent east for only that article not found in a Nelson store he would have been ahead something over $3.00. His little experience will be a lesson not only to himself but to others who are in the habit of patronizing other than home industries.

THE COLONEL AND THE MAJOR

On a recent Atlantic steamer there were a large number of generals, colonels and majors amongst the passengers. The purser, therefore, at the outset of the voyage, arranged the state rooms in accordance with the various ranks which he found indicated in the passenger list. The ship was so crowded that he had to put two in a berth, and amongst others a certain Colonel Jenkins and a Major Humphreys were thus paired off.

The Colonel remained in the card room till very late on the first night out, and when he went to his cabin he was horrified to find a woman asleep.

He rushed on deck, protesting indignantly to the purser.

The latter replied: "You have made a mistake, Colonel. Here's my list; I roomed you with a Major Humphreys."

"But I tell you there is a woman there!" replied the irate colonel.

So they both went to the cabin and knocked. A feminine voice replied: "Who's there?"

"Madam you are in the wrong room," said the purser.

"Oh, no, I think not," rejoined the lady.

"But this berth is reserved for Colonel Jenkins and Major Humphreys," explained the purser.

Then the silvery voice replied: "I am Major Humphreys—of the Salvation Army!"

MUSIC IN EVERY HOME

How would you like to play the Miserere from Il Trovatore on your piano with the execution of Rubenstein, and (note this particularly) with his expression; or take the Introduction to Lohengrin; Liszt's Rhapsodie Hongroise, No. 12, or the Intermezzo from Cavalleria Rusticana, and play each of these with the feeling of Paderewski? If you prefer dance music, or sacred music, or marches or even a "HOT TIME IN THE OLD TOWN," you can have it. And you can do all this yourself by means of the greatest invention of the century.

THE ANGELUS ORCHESTRAL

NOT TOO LATE YET

We are glad to hear that it is not too late yet to secure that beautiful premium picture, "The Thin Red Line," given to all subscribers of that great paper, The Family Herald and Weekly Star. The publishers have decided to issue 20,000 more for those who renew during January and February. This will be good news for those who have not yet subscribed to that great paper. From what we hear the "Thin Red Line" will be ten times more valuable next season as the publishers have in view plans that will make this year's picture very valuable. Our advice to one and all is to secure the "Thin Red Line and await further developments. One dollar pays an entire year's subscription to the Family Herald and Weekly Star and the picture "Thin Red Line." It is marvellously cheap.

There are still some people who are not clear as to when the next century will begin. In Winnipeg and other burgs they are holding controversies in the newspapers on the question. It only requires a minute's figuring to decide it. The twentieth century will start on the first of January 1901, the present century having still nearly two years to run.

BARRED OUT

GREAT BRITAIN, JAPAN AND UNITED STATES

CANNOT BID ON CAROLINES

Queen Concerned over Ritualistic Movement—Michiganders and the Lumber Tariff—Patti on her Honeymoon Gen. Eagan's Trial in Progress

Madrid, January 26.—Great Britain, Japan and the United States have been debarred from bidding on the Caroline islands to be sold by Spain.

RITUALISTIC MOVEMENT

London, January 26.—Queen Victoria is deeply concerned over ritualistic dissensions which have arisen in the church in England. Her majesty has communicated with the Marquis of Salisbury her desire that before any legislation be attempted by parliament, a thorough understanding may be arrived at with the bishops and those in power, so that proper changes may be affected with the least possible friction.

THE RING

Bob Fitzsimmons, in an interview in Toledo, said that if Sharkey did not accept his offer within two weeks from date he would not give him another opportunity, and would ignore him in the future. Fitz says that if Sharkey fails to come to time he was willing to meet anybody in the world, Jeffries preferred, because the latter is the only heavyweight in the world he has not met and defeated.

The second match between Dick Burge and Bobby Dobbs in England has fallen through. After the recent battle, which Burge lost, he entered suit against the stakeholder to recover his share of the stake. The National Sporting club has refused to allow Burge to box anybody at that club until he withdraws the suit. Burge himself agreed to do so, but the next day he changed his policy, presumably under instructions from Charlie Mitchell, who was backing him.

Comparing the old timers with the present day fighters an English writer says: "Mace in his prime would have made an exhibition of many of our wonders, but Mace at his best would not, I think, have beaten (with the gloves) good big 'uns like Sullivan at say 21 or 23, or Peter Jackson before popularity told on that black gentleman—at least not in a small ring. What a Mace or a Sayers would have done in a 24 foot ring with the knuckles and on heroes of this date, one can scarcely guess."

HAD TO CHOOSE

Father Staunton, the well known London ritualist, once entered into conversation with a visitor to St. Alban's, Holborn, who attended the service for the first time.

Mr. Staunton asked him what he thought of the service. The stranger replied that he liked it all very well except the incense, to the use of which he strongly objected.

"I am very sorry for you, my friend," said Mr. Staunton.

The other not unnaturally asked: "Why?"

"Well, you see, said Mr. Stanton, "there are only two stinks in the next world—incense and brimstone—and you'll have to choose between them!"

DISEASED CATTLE

The administration of the act respecting contagious diseases of domestic animals has been placed in the hands of the Mounted Police by the department of agriculture.

Settlers having reason to fear the existence of contagious disease in any animal, should communicate at once to the police officer commanding the district, who will have the case examined and reported on by the police veterinary.

This does not mean that the government veterinary will treat the animal, but that he will decide whether the disease is contagious or not and so give the farmer the opportunity to protect the rest of his herd if there is contagion.

A Remarkable Operation in the United States.

Minneapolis, January 23.—A remarkable surgical operation has taken place here, resulting in the successful transplanting of the parts of a living rabbit's eye into the human organ and the restoration of sight of a blind person.

The patient, a young woman, had been blind in one eye for 15 years and then in the other for six.

A number of physicians and surgeons were invited to witness the operation. They were sceptical at first, but were finally convinced that the operation was a signal success. By means of a specially constructed instrument the parts of the diseased eye were removed, and the corresponding piece of the rabbit's eye transplanted. The lid was then carefully pulled down, and the eye bound to exclude all light. A week later it was found that complete union had been effected between the original and the grafted portions of the eye.

The result was so successful that the second eye was operated on. A week must elapse before it will be known whether the patient can see through this eye also.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has at last announced its intention regarding the railway connection to be given Fort Steele, says the Fort Steele Prospector. A branch line will leave the main line at a point near the Fort Steele Junction, following the meandering of the Kootenay river to Fort Steele. Thence by the direct route to Windermere, making connection with the proposed route from Arrow Lake to Windermer.

The total sales in stocks today surpassed all other recorded history of the stock exchange, says a New York telegram of the 23rd, amounting to 1,626,612 shares. There was another rush upward of prices on the stock exchange this afternoon, following the reaction. Up went the stock line again, and the babel in the stock exchange surpassed anything ever heard even in that temple of noise. During the dealings 1100 brokers swarmed, surged and yelled like redmen. Old timers failed to remember such a din and confusion upon the floor and there was a desperate scramble to get on the rapidly moving train, so as not to be left behind. The market was generally up.

A sample of ore from the Silver Cup was shown in the HERALD on Saturday that assayed 1886 ozs. of silver and $26.20 in gold.

The Black Diamond on the north fork is showing up wonderfully well and ore assaying as high 820 ounces of silver is being taken out.

Guy Barber, the pioneer jeweller of Revelstoke, opened up his handsome stock of jewellery, etc., in his new quarters on Mackenzie avenue on Monday.

Al. Graves, passenger locomotive drivers between Revelstoke and Kamloops, has been laid off his run for the past month through illness. Mr. Graves is now on the coast recuperating.

Capt. Gooding of the Salvation Army held a farewell service in the Salvation barracks on Sunday night. Capt. Fisher will arrive in town tomorrow to take her place in the corps here.

E. P. Kerr, clerk in the Superintendents office, has returned from a two months' visit with friends in Toronto, accompained by Mrs. Kerr, his mother, and Miss Kerr, his sister, who will reside here in future.

R. S. Wilson is adding to the attractions of his tailoring emporium by putting in glass door shelving in order to keep his large and up-to-date stock of clothes in the best possible condition. L. A. Fretz is doing the work.

The tunnel is now in 142 feet on the Nettie L and has struck some excellent ore in the ledge. The work of driving through the ledge is now being proceeded with and it is estimated that eight feet more will strike the hanging wall.

E. A. Haggen, editor of the Golden Era, it is understood has entered an action against the Golden Miner for criminal libel. This action will be watched with interest as the Miner assures its readers that it has something more to say regarding Mr. Haggen.

Detroit News: As means accumulated Mr. Walker began to advertise in that judicious and permanent fashion characteristic of the British manufacturers of great staples, which does not seek so much to shock the public for a day or for a week as to increase from year to year a fixed impression regarding the advertised article. The reputation of his staple grew slowly and solidly all over the earth.

We are informed that on the first of February or at an early date a new schedule of rates for tourist car accommodation will come into effect on the C.P.R. Up to the prerent berths on these cars could only be obtained between terminals or for long journeys. Under the new regulations accommodation can be obtained for any distance at rates equivalent to half the rates charged on the sleeping cars.

A surprise party of friends to the number of fifty ladies and gentlemen called upon Mrs. B. Clarke, in the sitting room of the Columbia house, on Tuesday evening of last week and presented her with a handsome china tea service as a slight token of esteem, and for her many acts of kindness to the friends assembled, who expressed the wish that she may long be spared to enjoy from the service presented her that little old cup of tea. After the presentation dancing was indulged in by the guests until after midnight.

Lieut. Upper of the Revelstoke company of the Kootenay Rifles is in receipt of correspondence from Victoria stating that 41 rifles, bayonets and sets of equipments were shipped on January 27th for the use of the company. Arrangements have been made to store the arms in the board of trade room as a temporary armory. The arrival of the rifles will give a fresh start to the company of which the officers will no doubt take advantage to pull things together again.

The resignation of J. Fred Hume has set politics going again in Nelson with great energy. Several possible candidates are mentioned, among them being A. S. Farwell, his opponent in last election. The Nelson Miner says that the candidate, whoever he is, will very likely come out as a strict independent pledged neither to support the government nor the opposition, but only to look after the interests of his constituents in the Nelson Riding. What he is to do with questions which do not affect the halo of the universe the Miner does not say. The story that Mr. Hume will not seek re-election is not credited. The chances of his success would seem to be rather slim.

A CRYING NEED

Winter after winter the same elusive hope dangles before the eyes of the Lardeau people, the hope that railroad construction will commence the very next season. The C.P.R. is bound to build from Arrowhead. Jim Hill will make a spring from the south. The much desired road is sure to come. But it never does. And meanwhile the prospector lives on hope and one of the very finest districts in Kootenay is lying undeveloped for want of transportation facilities. At the same time there cannot be the slightest doubt that a railroad would prove the Lardeau to be a second Slocan, which would now be in exactly the same stage of arrested development as the Lardeau actually is, had it not been for that favorite topic of our wonderful members denunciation, the Nakusp & Slocan railway.

There is as a matter of fact a great deal more inducement for railway enterprise in the Lardeau district, than there was in the Slocan when the N. & S. was constructed. There has been more development done, there is more ore in sight, the permanence of the leads is better proved. The Silver Cup alone could ship at once more ore than was taking out over the N. & S. during the first winter of its existence and there are dozens of other properties that could either start shipping at once or very soon would be in a position to do so, once the railroad was built. But nothing of any consequence will be or in fact can be done with them without railway facilities. The cost of transport for the first haul from the mines to Arrow Lake is too great. Owners will content themselves with doing development work sooner than pay it and in consequence two or three men are found employed on properties that might be giving work to all the way from a dozen to sixty or seventy and in most cases only assessment work is being done at all. And this state of things will continue until the road is built. Meanwhile business stagnates right in town here, whose natural trade territory the Lardeau distinctly is. Mr. Kellie is busy lending a silent vote to his good friend the Attorney-General and help from the present government is the last thing we need expect. All remembrance of their pet theory of government construction of railways has vanished with the elections. They are granting charters to private railroad promoters right and left allee samee, wicked, bad Mr. Turner. The only sign of government ownership is the insertion of a saving clause that members of parliament are to be allowed to ride over these new lines free of charge when they are built. It looks as if it would be a long time before Kellie, M.P.P., visits his beloved constituents in Ferguson and Trout Lake City, regardless of expense, under this new clause.

A. S. Farewell will oppose J. Fred. Hume at the bye-election in Nelson.

The usual services for the first Sunday of the month will be conducted by Rev. H. Fiennes Clinton in St. Peter's church next Sunday.

The C. P. R. shops are being taken down at Donald and the men employed have been instructed to leave for Revelstoke to take up their duties again in the new workshops erected here.

The members of No. 2 brigade are making a big effort to have their ball on the 10 th inst. a success. That the support of the citizens will be extended there is no doubt, and the sale of tickets will undoubtedly be very large.

It is a great consolation to Mr. Ford's friends to know that a paper has been found among his effects laying down the ceremonial, which he wished to be observed for his burial, and that everything was done, exactly as he wished. The existence of this paper was known, but it could not be found, until after the funeral.

Snowslides are blocking the traffic in the Selkirks. The first occurred yesterday morning one mile east of Glacier and two others in the afternoon, one at Illecillewaet and one at Roger's Pass. Further particulars of which will be found in another column At the time of going to press this morning's No. 2 was still here and yesterday's at Illecillewaet.

Mr. White-Fraser, who has bought an interest in the firm of Lewthwaite & Co., the well-known caterers for the C.P.R. camps through the mountains, has taken Ed. White's place and will be travelling up and down through here in future in his stead. Mr. White is going into business in Vancouver. He will be much missed by his many friends here and the Gun Club will lose an energetic member.

A meeting was held in Tapping's opera house last evening for taking preliminary steps towards the formation of local lodge of the Sons of England Benefit Society. The Rev. H. F. Clinton, district deputy and organizer, was present and took charge of the meeting. Several new names were added to the list and the business of formation will be at once undertaken so that when the reverend gentleman returns to Revelstoke next week the lodge will be constituted.

Mr. Bostock's idea for a mint for the province is too silly for serious consideration. Why we should go back from the decimal system of currency to the antiquate sterling system, and why we should have a branch mint instead of a purely Canadian mint, coining Canadian gold into good Canadian dollars, is only that Canada is regarded by the British and by our representative as a colony, pure and simple. Canada is a nation and branches from the old country are only to be admitted by the permission of the country, not by the magnanimity of the British government.—Silvertonian.
