INTERESTING MINING NEWS

The Towser, the Sunshine and the I.X. L. Development.

A scheme is now under consideration by the management of the Sunshine Ltd. Co. to move the concentrator from the Lanark mine and set it up at some point in the district in order to reduce the concentrating ore which is now lying at the Silver Cup. Over 1,000 tons of concentrates are lying on the dump and a like amount is standing in the tunnels. This is a most important matter for the district as this facility for reducing ore, in its present state unfit for shipment, will very much enlarge the amount of ore which will leave the mine for the smelter. Another thing which will play an important part in the development of this splendid property is the extending of the Sunshine tunnel to tap the Silver Cup vein. It is altogether likely that this work will be commenced this season and when it is completed the Cup will have an enormous amount of ore blocked out and lying all ready for stoping.

The work on the I. X. L. at the head of the North Fork is showing up that property in a very satisfactory manner and it is expected by the end of next season that a large amount of ore will be lying on the dump ready for shipment.

The Towser, adjoining the Sunshine and Silver Cup will also, during the coming season, be in a position to commence steady shipments. The ore body at present is not large, running from two to eight inches in chickness, but it is very high grade and gives indications of increasing in bulk as depth is gained.—Topic.

THE SALVATION ARMY

An Encouraging Report for the Past Year's Work

War Cry: Early last spring I was working in the little railroad and mining town of Revelstoke, in the heart of the mountains of British Columbia, where Satan has his seat. Although Revelstoke boasted of four churches, yet Satan was gaining headway. It would have grieved the heart of a Christian worker to have seen the wickedness in the streets of R——. One day, as I was returning from work, a small boy stepped up and said, Revelstoke HERALD, sir!" I bought a paper to see the news of the town, when a small item at the bottom of the column attracted my attention. It read as follows:

"The Salvation Army will open fire here on Saturday night."

I began to reflect on what I had heard and read about the Salvation Army. I could not understand the meaning of "open fire." I had heard some say they were the most excitable people ever seen, would dance around, clap their hands—in fact, make regular fools of themselves.

At this time I was not partial to Christianity. I was accustomed to curse God, and take His name in vain. At last our curiosity was satisfied somewhat as one evening we stood on the platform of the station and saw two girls and an elderly woman, wearing great, wide bonnets, like coal scuttles, alight, and with light and elastic step, proceeded to look after their baggage.

As they moved about we closely watched their actions, almost thinking they were different to other folks. Soon after they began to hold meetings in a dance hall in the most wicked part of the town, and I attended their meetings for some time. One night in one of their meetings God's spirit took hold of me, so I made my way to the front. I rose that night a new man in Christ Jesus.

I was the seventh victim of the S. A. We no longer wonder at the Army. The good they have done here has cleared the doubts of people. In fact, we are having glorious times. God has wonderfully blessed the girls that wear the coal scuttle bonnets.

Now we stand a strong army for Jesus Christ, only ten months old, with 21 enrolled soldiers and 16 recruits, comprising desperate drunkards, gamblers, morphine fiends, infidels, Swedes, Danes, Irish, Scotch, English and Americans. And so the Salvation Army is marching along.

Fire at the C. P. R. Depot

Between two and three o'clock this morning D. Stearman, the night despatcher, who while busily engaged in his work, had for about half an hour been dimly conscious of a smell of smoke, proceeding as he thought from the stove, got up from his chair to fix the offending furnace when he discovered that the smoke was proceeding from the woodwork of the office, near the chimney. An alarm was quietly raised and No. 2 Fire Brigade was on the spot with commendable promptitude, and the flames were extinguished before much damage was done. The fire was confined to the interior round the chimney, which starts from the waiting room and seems to have crept down from the top floor till the woodwork of the bracket supporting the chimney below caught. More damage was done by water than by the flames, and the station and offices present a singularly dismal and chilly appearance this morning.

Beatrice

G. W. Beer, one of the owners of the Beatrice, started seven men up to work on the property last Tuesday.

A Protest Against the 8-Hour System

A deputation of mining men, consisting of B. J. Perry, general manager of the Noble Five; J. L. Mullmen, of the Queen Bess, and F. A. Woods of the Last Chance, on Tuesday, waited on Hon. Premier Semlin, Hon. F. Carter-Cotton and Hon. Fred. Hume, of Victoria, and pressed upon their attention the revision of the legislation passed last session introducing the eight-hour system of labor in the mines. They pointed out that the new regulations bear heavily on them as they have to pay $3.50 for eight hours work instead of ten, as formerly. They also represented that on account of the time consumed in setting off blasts that an hour or two during the day is practically lost, and that under the eight hour system the actual working time is reduced to five or six hours. The government promised the matter serious consideration.

Nettie L

D. Cameron and W. Holloway are working with 12 men on their contract on the Nettie L. A good substantial house has been built, the rawhide trail completed and an ore car has been taken up and is now working. One hundred sacks of ore have been sacked up and sent down to Ferguson, four tons of which are already at the Landing. A four inch streak of ore exactly resembling the Silver Cup ore has been struck running through the middle of the vein. Three shifts will go to work at once on the winze, which is being sunk at the end of the present tunnel and two shifts on each drift. The management will ship all the ore possible as long as the snow lasts and will then begin sacking again next winter.

Dismissal of B. C. Government

The action of Lieut.-Gov. McInnes, of British Columbia, in calling upon Mr. Beaven, and later upon Mr. Semlin to form a government, will be the subject of discussion in the Dominion house. Mr. Prior will move for copies of all petitions addressed to the governor-general by members of the Turner administration respecting the conduct of the lieutenant-governor, and praying for the appointment of a commission to inquire into the matter.

J. D. Graham at His Post.

J. D. Graham has arrived at his new sphere of activity at Atlin and the Atlin correspondent of the News-Advertiser thinks he is all right. He says: "Much credit is due to the energetic and able way in which Mr. Graham copes with the somewhat difficult situation existing in Atlin to-day, and it can be safely said that the government could not have chosen a more able or more popular man. Hundreds of people are curious to see the record books, but it seems likely that their wishes will not be gratified for some time to come."

The Kamloops Election Trial

The election trial at Kamloops ended in dismissal of the petition against Deane, the charges of corruption being declared not proven. Attorney-General Martin was present at the conclusion of the case but did not take part.

Dr. Wade was severely handled in court for sending an ambiguous letter indicating that he would send a voter money.

Redistribution of the Province

A special to the World from Ottawa says: "The belief is that the redistribution bill will give one more member to the Mainland, taking one from Victoria. Mr. McInnes will fight for the Island, with no chance of success. The names will be changed to Nanaimo, Vancouver, Yale, Kootenay, and Cariboo. Victoria and New Westminster will remain as at present."

Card of Thanks

F. McCarty desires to express his thanks to the electors for their liberal support in the recent election. He also desires to say that as Mayor he intends to do his utmost to justify the support by taking for his single aim an impartial, business-like and economical, but at the same time progressive, conduct of municipal affairs.

Beatrice

Hugh McCutcheon has been successful in rawhiding the Beatrice ore as far as Ferguson and the first load of it reached the Landing on Thursday. He has a contract to bring out 125 tons. The property is a wonder, if it proves permanent, as the ore was taken out in a few weeks' work last fall right from the grass roots.

Young Canuck

R. Williams and two men are working on the Young Canuck, a claim belonging to the Great Western Mines, Limited, situated on the edge of the lake below the Great Western. The ledge is very wide on the claim and the management are running an open cut and tunnel to crossent the lead and get the ore chutes.

Silver Queen

A contract has been let to Geo. Spinks to run an 80 foot tunnel on the Silver Queen, the well known property on Great Northern Mountain, near Ferguson, recently bonded for $25,000 by J. Dixon for Vancouver parties.

HE MET HIS MATCH

JOE MARTIN AND THE BIG POLICEMAN

NO PETITION ABOUT THIS AT ALL

The Original Methods of a Boundary Constable to Induce the Attorney-General to Listen to Reason in the Matter of Certain Unpaid Vouchers—A New Way to Collect Government Accounts.

The Colonist of a recent date relates the following amusing anecdote of Hon. Jos. Martin and R. W. Deans, ex-provincial constable and general government official in the Boundary country:

"Mr. Deans is one of the gentlemen who has suffered through the inauguration of the Martin method of statecraft—i.e., reduce salaries and whittle down expense accounts of civil servants.

Mr. Deans had sent down certain vouchers, amounting in all to $120 and these vouchers had been returned unpaid by direction of the Attorney-General, who appears to carry his fondness for repudiation even into small things. Mr. Deans is a man who believes in personal interviews as greatly facilitating the settlement of disputes, so he packed his valise and came to Victoria to talk it over with Hon. Mr. Martin.

This morning he returns to his home in Midway satisfied, the claims at first repudiated having been settled in full. How he won his case is itself quite interesting. He declines just at present to tell the whole story, but the climax he prescribes simply, yet eloquently.

He called upon Hon. Mr. Martin at his departmental offices and asked if he (the Attorney-General) was going to have the vouchers paid.

Hon. Mr. Martin said nay.

"You won't pay them?" said Mr. Deans.

"We'll give you $5 to dispose of the matter," said the Attorney-General.

"Five dollars!" repeated the man from Midway in amazement—"five dollars for $120!"

The balance, Hon. Mr. Martin explained, was to be charged to the visitor, because he had left his office without permission. This made the latter angry, not unnaturally, and he added:

"Then I suppose to get my money I should have to proceed by a petition of right!"

Hon. Mr. Martin acquiesced and Mr. Deans continued.

"And if I got a petition of right would you endorse it?" It must be remembered that Hon. Mr. Martin said in the house that any one having a claim against the government might have permission to press their claims in the courts.

The Attorney-General thought for a moment and then observed that he didn't consider himself bound to say whether he would or not.

Mr. Deans was mad all through by this time, so coming two steps to the front he advanced a new and thoroughly Western argument:

"There won't be any petition about this, Joe Martin," he said; you'll have those vouchers paid, and quick, too—or I'll take $120 out of your hide."

Mr. Deans—by way of explanation—is a big man, whose arguments in a personal adjustment of differences are apt to be very convincing. The Attorney-General took note of this and suddenly developed a new interest in the case. It might be that there was some mistake he admitted—he would look into the matter.

As a result the vouchers were paid yesterday and Mr. Deans goes home satisfied. This does not, however, dispose of a very serious question to the people of British Columbia. Of course, the accounts must have been correct, or instead of ordering them paid the Attorney-General would have simply called a policeman to remove the claimant. And being correct, has it come to such a pass in British Columbia that honest obligations will be repudiated by the government unless the creditor chances to be sufficiently powerful to press his claim with a threat of original justice—having come all the way to the Capital for the purpose?"—Colonist.

Liberal-Conservative Association

There was a good attendance at Tapping's opera house on Thursday night of Conservatives who met for the purpose of organizing an association. The attendance would have been even larger but for meetings of the council of the Board of Trade and Oddfellows society taking place on the same evening. An association was organized with 75 names on the roll. The following officers were appointed: Dr. Jeffs, president; W. E. McLauchlin, 1st vice-president; J. McLeod, 2nd vice-president; J. D. Sibbald, secretary-treasurer; and a committee of twelve consisting of W. M. Brown, J. G. Allen, W. Cowan, A. Johnson, W. Newman, T. J. Grahame, J. M. Scott, A. McDonald, A. McNab, W. G. Birney, Dr. McKechnie and G. S. McCarter. The greatest enthusiasm pervaded the meeting and the organization starts under the most favorable auspices for good and successful work in this riding for the Liberal-Conservative part.

CANADA A HOLIDAY RESORT

A sensible article appears in a well known London journal, The Critic, advocating the claims of Canada as a resort for British tourists who have a couple of months to spare in the summer. The Canadian Dominion certainly can boast of a superb climate, fine sport, magnificent scenery, and good hotel accommodation. The attractions are surely equal to those found on the European continent, and visitors to Canada have not as yet been subjected to the organized system of robbery indulged in by exigent landlords and other harpies Britishers would have the additional satisfaction of finding themselves among their own people. Canada is the most conveniently reached of any of the colonies, and the money scattered round would do us lots of good. Therefore, why not Canada as a holiday resort?

Apart from the bracing sea trip, Canada offers better value for money than any of the beaten tracks of Europe. For the man interested in new mineral developments, for the business man, with an eye to future markets, and for the general pleasure seeker, Canada has much to commend it.

Thousands of colonial visitors flock to England every year and spend their money freely, to the great benefit of the hotel keepers and tradesmen. It is time the compliment was returned. An axiom of social life provides that all the visiting should not be on the one side; equally good is this principle when it concerns the members of our great Imperial family. Instead of European servility there is every where, for the visitor of moderate means, a warm hospitality. To the sportsman with rod or gun, British Columbia is an earthly paradise. Wherever he goes he will find the people not merely willing but anxious to facilitate his pleasure, either on flood or field.

Another and more practical view which may commend British Columbia to some Englishmen as the place for a summer holiday, is its mineral wealth. The principal mines hitherto opened up are all easy of access.

Taking it all round a novel and enjoyable holiday can be spent in Canada, and he can thus obtain at first hand a true and accurate impression of the great Dominion, its present resources and its rich promise for the future.

MEN IN BALL ROOMS

It has been said that the modern young man literally cuts but a poor figure when he "takes the floor," and, despite the fact that fancy dancing has been quite recently a fashionable craze, it cannot be justly maintained that the modern girl displays the grace in the ball room as her mother and grandmother before her. That young men are positively awkward nowadays is not the least bit surprising. In the first place they get but little practice, it is practically by main force that they are dragged into the middle of the ballroom. So difficult, indeed is it for the hostesses to get dancing men at all to their ballsl that it seems well nigh dangerous to grumble at the few who do come for their inefficiency.

However, it is not unreasonable to ask that the "smart" ball room should cease to be the scene of such clumsy and graceless performances as it now too frequently the case. Apparently it is only when he is allowed to waltz as he pleases, to "scorch" to his heart's content, to "clown" through barn dances and reduce the lancers to their lowest terms, that the modern young man will dance, and girls must perforce adapt themselves to this style or go partnerless. It has been asserted that it is only among the simpler classes nowadays that the poetry of motion is truly cultivated.

Society stands in need of a new craze and something decidedly startling is always sought for, so possibly the next thing will be that despairing hostesses will provide light footed men servants as partners for their guests or organize balls where the girls they invite may be sure of securing an evening of real dancing with partners hired for the occasion.

HAWAIIAN PRINCESS DEAD

San Francisco, March 18.—Word arrives from Honolulu that the Princess [illegible] died last week of inflammatory rheumatism.

FILIPINOS DEFEATED

Flying Column of Americans Defeated 3,000 of the Enemy

Manila, March 17.—General Lloyd Wheaton, commanding the United States' flying column, attacked and defeated a force of 2,000 Filipinos at Pasig this afternoon inflicting heavy loss upon them. The American loss was light. The Americans captured 350 Filipinos. Many bodies of rebels killed in the engagement are floating down the river.

Washington, March 15.—The following despatch from General Otis has been received. "Manila, March 15, Adjutant General, Washington.—The thousand insurgents moved down last night to the towns of Pasig and Porteros, on the shores of Lagunade bay, fronting Wheaton's troops on Pasig river line. By heavy fighting Wheaton has dislodged and driven them back, taking 400 prisoners and inflicted heavy loss in killed and wounded. He reports his loss as very moderate. He now occupies these towns with sufficient forces to hold them. (Signed) Otis."

A GREAT LOSS OF LIFE

The Windsor Hotel, New York, Burned —Caught in a Death Trap—Sensational Rescue — Fifty Thousand People Look On

New York, March 18.—With 50,000 holiday merry makers looking on, the Windsor hotel, at the corner of Forty-Sixth street and Fifth avenue, was swiftly consumed by fire yesterday afternoon. One hour sufficed for its complete effacement. It is known that there has been a loss of not less than 15 lives. The fire also injured not less than 40 men and women. The death list will doubtless run into scores when the ruins are explored. The fire was discovered at 3:20 p.m. and at 4:20 the walls fell, and with their collapse ended the history of this death trap, which for years has been disguised as a fashionable haven of safety. The flames originated from the igniting of lace curtains, and burst forth from the second floor shortly after 3 o'clock, just as the St. Patrick's day parade was passing the building, and in a few moments they had leaped up to the roof and enveloped the entire Fifth avenue and Forty-Seventh street fronts of the hotel. All means of escape by way of stairways and elevators were cut off and there was the wildest scene of excitement within and without the building.

Fireman Curry, on top of a ladder at the fourth story, had a lady jump from the sixth story to his shoulder and rescued her.

John Foy, a waiter, says that a guest lighted a cigarette and carelessly threw the match aside igniting some lace curtains.

By 1:30 this morning 14 bodies had been recovered. Twenty-six are missing and 60 injured.

WILL DISCUSS SAMOAN AFFAIRS

Washington, March 18.—Admiral Kautz has cabled secretary of the navy from Apia, Samoa, via Auckland, New Zealand, that he has arranged for a meeting of three consuls, those of Great Britain, the United States and Germany at an early date to have a full and free discussion of Samoan affairs.

BICYCLE TRUST

New York, March 17.—The Herald has the following: Makers of bicycles have aranged the detils for the formation of a trade combination that will involve capital to the amount of $50,000,000. It is understood that 10 of the leading makers of wheels have entered the combination and that several others will probably be persuaded to add their signatures to the agreement. A. G. Spaulding is credited with being the moving spirit in the proposed trust.

KIPLING IS MUCH BETTER

New York, March 17.—Mr. Kipling was able to sit up in bed tonight and partake of a hearty dinner. The improvement continues from hour to hour and Dr. Dunham thinks his patient will be able to leave his bed before Sunday.

BY RADCLIFFE

Port Arthur, March 17.—Prevost was hanged here this morning.

TERRIBLE BEEF

Chicago, March 17.—The last witness against the army beef in court was Lieutenant Davis, who said that half of the beef was thrown away because it was unfit to eat. Dr. Shaw said that the men vomited fearfully after eating the beef.

LONG SESSION EXPECTED

Ottawa, March 8.—Everything points to a long session of the present sitting of the house and if inquiries of various departments by the opposition may be taken as an indication of pending fight, the session will be a hot one. Already 40 questions are on the order paper, and their pertinacity proves that the opposition are watching closely actions of members of the government.

TO SAVE DISGRACE

Altona, Man., March 18.—G. Limprecht, township clerk of the rural municipality of Rhineland, shot himself this afternoon when about to be arrested for a shortage in the municipal funds. The bullet entered his forehead and he died 40 minutes later.

REPORTED FIGHT A FAKE

Vancouver, March 18.—The reported fight between Canadians and Americans at Attin mines turns out to be a fake of the worst kind.

HE BALANCED THE ACCOUNT

A physician and a lawyer occupying rooms in the same large downtown building met not long ago in the lobby, says the Chicago Tribune. The lawyer only has had his shingle out six months, while the physician has been practicing for many years. Consequently the physician is inclined to use a condescending manner toward the young lawyer and the young lawyer respects the physician as a man who has made his mark.

"You should do something for that cold," the physician said.

"What?" asked the lawyer respectfully, from force of habit.

The physician made a few remarks about the treatment of colds as they rode up in the elevator. The other day the lawyer received a bill for "services rendered him" by the physician. By this time he had forgotten that he ever had a cold or that he had met the physician and listened to advice on colds because it is polite to do so. With the bill in his hand he sought out the physician, who explained the matter, saying he need not pay it at once unless it was convenient for him. Not wishing to make an enemy of the young lawyer, he cuities for half an hour, drawing the young man out and giving him a chance to talk. The next day the physician received a check for $1 in payment of the bill sent the young lawyer, accompanied by a bill with the lawyer's name across the top, which called for $10 for half an hour's consultation the day before. The physician promptly paid.

In the Winnipeg Daily Tribune, of Saturday, March 19th, there is a delightful three column review of the last volume of poems produced by H. Tolcher, the Bard of Banff. This volume was turned loose two years ago and its importance as a literary masterpiece may be guaged from the fact that it has taken the Tribune critic all that time to master its contents before venturing to write an exhaustive review. The prominence that has lately been given to Tolcher's efforts in various prominent publications in the North West has had due effect. His genius is at last recognized in the east. As North Westerners we feel deeply gratified at the appreciative tone of the Tribune's article. After quoting one exceptionally fine stanza, which runs:

With link and throttle open wide,
Through smoke and fire the engine flied;
The iron steed just rived in time,
The howling flames left far behind—"

The writer says, "While McIntyre was in his day considered the Shakespeare of Canada, Tolcher, we imagine, can never rise above Lord Byron's level." This, though at first sight rather hard on Tolcher, is just and discriminating praise. Some critics in their blind enthusiasm would have placed him ahead of Shakespeare. The man who wrote these magnificent lines,

"The train arrived at Winnipeg station,
Immigrants scattered far and wide;
Some stop a while on this occasion,
Before they journey on their ride."

is no common man. Were Tolcher to fall sick, the whole world would direct its eyes towards Banff. The German Emperor would wire enquiries, coupled with expressions of admiration for his genius; the greatest of the world would wait with anxiety for the latest bulletins; hundreds of callers would besiege his hotel, and thousands of decks of cards would be left with the clerk. The world would stop revolving to keep his bed still, and the sun shine warmly for the Bard of Banff until he was able to sit up in his bed and eat chicken broth. Glory and honor be to Tolcher who by his marvellous poems has succeeded in bringing Banff into touch with the Winnipeg Tribune. His work is done.

TO PROSPECTORS AND MINERS. Mineral properties opened up by the

Diamond Core Drill

To obtain rapidly the knowledge of the value of reefs or ledges nothing is to be compared with the Diamond Core Drill, which will prove more in 30 days than an outfit of men tunnelling or sinking shafts could prove in ten years.

The Diamond Core Drill can pierce the mountains and take the secret of what it contains from their very hearts, and the more solid the rock formation, the quicker it will do its work.

The Diamond Core Drill is so constructed that it can be taken to pieces and packed on the backs of horses and carried and worked in almost inaccessible places where water can be obtained,—and it can be in almost any part of British Columbia.

The Revelstoke City directory this year will be the best edition ever issued. It will have besides a beautifully designed cover, and printed on book paper, a folder of two maps, one a complete map of the four townsites in one, (lithographed by Bullman Bros, Winnipeg) giving the names of streets and avenues, the size of lots and width of streets, the city limits, etc. The other will be a key map to North Kootenay and Revelstoke in particular. The Directory will contain valuable information as to how and when to reach our mines. A review of the city's progress for the past year and its prospects for the future.

REVELSTOKE CITY DIRECTORY 1899.

A personal house to house canvass will be made to secure the names, occupation and place of residence of every man in Revelstoke. Every business house in the city will be represented in some manner. Revelstoke's many resources will be brought to the front. A large edition will be issued, so that it cannot fail but to be of great interest to outsiders as well as residents. The price will only be 50 cents as before; the maps alone are worth that much to many. As an advertising medium it is unexcelled, and as a bureau of information it can't be beat. The city council, the school trustees, the board of trade, time tables, directions as to names, etc., the police, the doctors, the hospitals, lawyers, in fact everything will be found in the Revelstoke City Directory.

Send in your orders or information for the directory before the 15th of April, 1899, to

BALL STARTS ROLLING

ADDRESS MOVED AND SECONDED IN BOTH HOUSES

Tupper makes Speech of four hours Duration—Reviews work of Reform Party—Important Legislation for The West.

Ottawa, March 20.—The House of Commons assembled at 3 o'clock today. Bell, M. P for East Prince, moved the address and Martineau, M. P. for Montmany seconded.

Sir Charles Tupper arose at 4:30 to reply, and in one of his most vigorous efforts reviewed the work of the Reform party since coming into powe and its promises prior to that time. Sir Charles spoke four hours.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved the adjournment.

In the Senate Kerr moved and Thibadeau seconded the address. Bowell and Mills also spoke. Douglas, of Eastern Assiniboia, has given notice of three bills of particular interest to the west. First to regulate the grain trade in Manitoba and the Territories; second, respecting joint security for seed grain indebtedness, and third, respecting abandoned lands in control of the colonization companies, and rates of interest exacted from settlers by these companies.

HERSCHELL'S REMAINS REACH HOME

London, March 20.—The body of Lord Herschell arrived in Victoria station this afternoon, accompanied by Captain Kendersley, Victor Williamson, Lord Herschell's executor, the present Lord Herschel, son of the deceased, and Lady Herschell's brother. The coffin was put in a plain hearse and was driven through a snowstorm to the Herschell town residence, where it was placed in a room on the ground floor. The mourners walked behind the hearse, which was escorted by a detachment of police. The room in which the body was placed is arranged like a chapel. The coffin is surrounded by floral offerings, including wreaths from the Queen and U.S. Ambassador Choate.

RECORD OFFICE AT ATLIN

Vancouver, March 20.—Geo. Black arrived here this morning, having left Atlin March 6th. He says the record office there of the British Columbia government is getting into a worse muddle every day. Up to a few weeks ago, every application presented was recorded without any extended search being made, and the result is that when the snow goes off there will be several owners for every claim in Atlin. One claim has become notorious, with 13 different records on it, and all the men connected with them intend making a legal fight in the spring. Mr. Black interested himself in a claim where there are five different stakes, and all these were recorded. Gold Commissioner Graham has not yet arrived at Atlin, being still at Log Cabin, and official affairs are in a bad way.

STAMPEDE FOR GOLD

Victoria, March 20—The Alki reached Departure Bay this morning and brought news of a big stampede to Independencia Creek, 300 miles below Circle City, where $7.00 a pan was taken out. A number on board from Koyokuk say that the men are taking out from $15 to $25 a day there.

HIGH PRICES FOR HORSES

Horses in England seem to command good prices in spite of electricity, as the following paragraph from the Chester Chronicle shews:

Mr. Frank Lloyd conducted his January sales on Thursday in last week with over 270 powerful town, lurry, and young horses, which formed one of the finest sights ever seen at Wrexham. In many cases good geldings made 15 and 20 per cent advance on last year's sales, the demand being far in excess of the supply. It was roughly estimated that three buyers were present for every horse, consequently trade ruled brisk. The North Wales Challenge Cup for the best mare or gelding in the sale was awarded to Mr. Thomas Ball, Acton Grange, for a grand brown gelding about 16.3 hands, of immense substance and power. After a very keen competition between a Liverpool brewer, a London distiller, and Mr. Taylor, Kinross, N. B., he was secured by the representative of the Knotty Ash Brewery Co. for 160gs., amidst great applause. Mr. Ball also sold a grey gelding at 90gs. Best Welsh wagon horse not exceeding 16.1, 1, Mr. T. Rogers, Ferden, 68gs.; light lurry horse, Mr. W. H. Cureton, Hordley, 50 gs.; parcel carrier or small van horse, Mr. R. E. Jones, Corwen, 43 gs.; three year old gelding, Mr. Moulton, Ellesmere, 43gs. Others sold as follows: Mr. E. Edwards, Llyn Farm, 74 gs.; Mr. J. Owen, Bickerton, 75gs.; Mr. G. Lee, Cop House Farm, 72gs, and 68gs.; Mr. R. Bromley, Felton Birtles, 70 gs.; Mr. R. Parry, Dolwen, 69gs.; Mr. T. Pritchard, Croesmah, 76 gs.; Mr. Job Lea, Gwersylit, a pair 130gs; Mr. W. Watkin, Llanfair, 63 gs.; Mr. Langford, Court Colmore, 61gs.; Mr. C. Sadler, Petton Farm, 61gs.; Mr. E. Partin, Kinnerton, 65gs.; Mr. Isaac Evans, 62gs.; Mr. Thomas Jones, Llandysull, 63gs.; Mr. Ed. Jones, Hawarden, 65gs.; Mr. Edward Calcot, (a pair), 110gs.; and many other equally good prices. Only 31 horses in this day's sale, out of over 270, returned home unsold, and only five made less than 20gs., 20 horses realized £1,588 13s., or an average of nearly £79 10s.

CRAVEN OR SCOUNDREL

Hutchinson, Kansas, March 21.—The home of John Moore was today burned. His five children, aged from three to 12 years, were suffocated. He claims he was too frightened to aid them. Some strong hints are heard of a plot to murder the infants.

SUFFOCATED IN BED

Five Children in Burning Sod House Suffocated to Death.

Grenfell, Assa., March 21.—A sad accident occurred on Sunday evening, March 19, in the German colony. John Dian, and wife, Russians living 18 miles north of Grenfell, went to dine with neighbors half a mile distant, leaving six children in the sod house by themselves. The eldest boy, nine years of age, two hours afterwards noticed that the sod roof was on fire, and with the others went to bed so that they might not see it. The smoke suffocated them. Five are now dead but the boy will recover. The parents returned five hours after leaving the children. It was indeed a sad homecoming.

FOUR MEN KILLED

Rockland, Ont. March 21.—A scaffold which was being erected inside a large sawdust burner for the purpose of making repairs at Edwards & company's mill here gave way just as the men were entering at 10 o'clock today: It came down on top of the five men who had entered and instantly killed four of them.

A SHOCKED WOMAN

Sing Sing, March 21.—Mrs. Martha Place, who killed her stepdaughter at her home in Brooklyn on February 7, 1898, was electrocuted at Sing Sing prison this morning. She has the doubtful honor of being the first woman to die in the chair in this state. Mrs. Place went to her death with an impassive and calm air, and with no more than a murmured prayer.

REQUIESCAT IN PACE

Lethbridge, March 21.—Henry Pace, watchmaker, of this place, formerly at Ottawa, was found dead in his store last evening. He was an elderly man and a hard drinker. He lived alone in a home of his own.

TRULY A WHALE STORY

Vancouver, March 21.—Indians in the Upper Mackenzie river district are in the habit of offering human sacrifices according to a whaler's story.

JOHN SHERMAN DYING

Washington, March 21.— Word reaches here that ex-secretary of state John Sherman is dying in Jamaica.

"AT EVENING"

Written for The Herald, by Lue Vernon, of Trail, B.C.

There's a calm that comes at evening,
When the weary day is o'er,
That is soothing as the lullaby
Our mother's sang of yore;
And though the day be dreamy,
I can just foret it all
In the calm that comes at evening
When the twilight shadows fall.

I can see my sweetheart's signal
From her waving window blinds,
I can feel her perfumed presence
Wafted to me on the winds;
When I hush my heart to hear her,
I can almost understand
Her sweet welcome in the dimple
Of the wind-wave from her hand.

And her breath is like the fragrance
Of the ripples on the rills,
When she laughs it's like the music
Of the flowers that deck the hills.
And though the day be dreary,
I can just forget it all
In the calm that comes at evening
When the twilight shadows fall.

RUDYARD KIPLING, Convalescent.

An Acrostic.

Rejoice! and your thanksgiving
Upon the altar lay;
Death baffled, slow retreating,
Yields yet his cherished prey!
And when the Royal Saxon
Rules 'round this regal globe
Deep gloom gives place to gladness,

Kind thoughts the world enrobe!
In kraal, in shack, in palace
Peace comes to low and great!
Lone seamen, silent sentries,
Intense to learn his fate,
Now smile with face towards heaven—
God knows and loves—and waits!

—C. J. ATKINSON.

Lethbridge, Alberta, N. W. T., March 8 1899.

THE POULTRY YARD

(By John L. Soulis.)

Pay a little more attention to your chickens and see if they don't save you your grocery bill. Help your wife fix up a few nests for the poor downtrodden hen. Take a little extra care but do not let them get too fat, as a fat hen cannot lay eggs in this cold climate. I would advise you to get small comb chickens. Nothing looks so bad as to see chickens going around with frozen combs.

Don't let them drink out of a dirty muck hole. Go to the well and get them fresh water, or, better still, let them have some milk to drink. Clean out your hen coops and whitewash them at least twice a year. Nothing is so disgusting as a dirty hen house.

Get a good breed of chickens.

Next week I shall give plans as to how to build a chicken house.

Calgary March 20th.

A WOMAN'S SMILE

"Strange what a little thing will turn the whole current of a man's life."

"What's the matter now, Jones?"

"Up to 30 days ago the young lady of my choice was taking my attentions seriously and our marriage seemed a foregone conclusion. Then I met her on the avenue, lifted my hat, made by best bow and dropped through a coal hole. Now she can't keep her face straight a minute while we're together."—Detroit Free Press.

WINDSOR HOTEL FIRE

SUPPOSED NOW TO BE THE WORK OF INCENDIARIES

Arrests Being Made—Seven More Bodies Recovered—Many Still Unaccounted For—Examining the Ruins for the Dead.

New York, March 20.—A theory that the Windsor hotel was ignited by thieves is gaining ground. The fire started several places at the same time. One man has been arrested with $10,000 worth jewelry and others were seen acting suspiciously.

Hopes grow dimmer as the list of missing in the Windsor hotel shows no appreciable decrease. Abundant time has elapsed for those who escaped to report to their relatives. It seems improbable that many more who are unaccounted for should be alive. Seven bodies were recovered today. Twenty-six are yet unaccounted for and are given up as lost. Thousands of laborers worked in the ruins today despite a heavy rain and a large crowd watched them. Many articles of value have been found in the ruins.

BUSINESS BLOCK BURNED

Whitewood, Assa., March 20.—At 9 o'clock last night fire started in this city which wiped out the existence of Whitewood's best business block. The fire, which proved so disastrous, originated in J. R. Bird & company's drug store from a lamp explosion.

The whole block was consumed. The building contained beside Bird & company's drug store, J. E. Cumming's restaurant; John Row's drug store and dwelling: E. C. Warner's gents furnishing store; R. Strut's butcher shop; and the Masonic, I. O. O. F., and Orange lodge rooms. The loss is about $15,000. Bird & company lost everything.

FRESH CABINET SHUFFLE

London, March 20.—The impression gains ground in political circles that changes in the personnel of present government are imminent. The most probable retirements are Sir Matthew White Ridley, Mr. Goschen, A. J. Balfour, Henry Chaplin and possibly Sir Michael Hicks Beach.

QUID PRO QUO

London, March 20.—St. Petersburg correspondence to the Daily News says it is reported there that Russia will receive Niu Chwang, near the Gulf of Pechilli, in return for standing off Italian demands.

ANGLICAN RUCTIONS

Hamilton, March 20.—Hamilton is agitated over the recent sentence passed on Rev. Geoghan, rector of St. Peters by the church tribunal, and compare it to the Dreyfus case.

MORE EXPLOSIONS IN FRANCE

Paris, March 20.—Two explosions occurred today at the government ammunition factories. At Bourges a shell exploded, filling the building with flames. Three men were killed and five wounded. At Marseilles a cartridge exploded, blowing up a quantity of gunpowder.

SWAPPING POSSESSIONS

London, March 20.—A despatch from Ottawa says in connexion with the agitation looking to the exchange of the British West Indies for the Philippines or other United States possessions, there is also a scheme in Canada to submit to parliament a bill to exchange the Leeward islands with the United States for an Alaskan strip.

SPORTING NOTES

Tom Eck on behalf of John S. Johnson has challenged Angus McLeod, the champion bicyclist of Canada, to a one mile race, best two out of three heats, and Macleod has accepted.

An interesting turf event will be a meeting in Winnipeg under the auspices of the Manitoba Jockey club, the first week in September. The capital of the club has been raised to $20,000. As far as has been ascertained the races will be conducted on pretty much the same principle as the Ontario Jockey club.

E. H. Ten Eyck, the champion amateur sculler, says: "I shall row my first race on Memorial day in the Harlem River regatta, and after that hope to take part in the National and Springfield regattas. I feel sure I shall be able to hold my own and while I do not want to say that I can beat any amateur in the country, I don't know of anybody who I think can defeat me.'

Peter Maher knocked out Charles Stevenson last night at Industrial hall, Philadelphia, in the second round of what was to have been a six round bout. Stevenson was knocked down twice in the first round, and after being dropped twice in the next round was too weak to continue and the referee stopped the fight.

Bids for the Fitzsimmons-Jeffries battle will not be passed on for another week. The Bergen Beach, N.Y., offer is the whole of the gate receipts and picture money, less the cost of putting up the building.

McCoy is meet Jim Hall at Memphis April 25. Hall will post a forfeit to insure his attendance. The management will probably make matters doubly sure by throwing him in jail a day or two before the fight to make sure that he will be sober.

It is stated that if Choyniski wins his coming match with McCoy, he will try to arrange for a match with Corbett to take place in San Francisco.

George Green and Mysterious Billy Smith have been matched to box 20 rounds in 'Frisco sometime next month. They have agreed to weigh in at 154 pounds on the afternoon of the contest.

* * *

We are all growing in the habit of being sufficient unto ourselves. The very way we have of abusing and sneering at one another is indicative of this foolish tendency. It must be due to the satisfaction we all feel in superficiality and mediocrity as personified in ourselves. It must be something like this that makes us all so intensely tickled with ourselves and so intolerant of our neighbors. The spirit of boastfulness, none the less evident because unexpressed, is based undoubtedly on a lack of enlightenment. Were we more enlightened we would know that we had nothing special to be boastful about and very little to feel satisfaction over.

* * *

If we condone crookedness in politics and in business under the name of smartness, we apply the same sort of test—that is the test of success—to everything else. We apply it, for instance, to literature. This may be seen in the meretricious success of The Free Lance, a paper of no especial merit beyond a novel way of writing about things which soi-disant respectable papers don't care to tackle. It is the test of the late Mr. Barnum. We are perfectly well aware that there is in this paper an utter disregard of moral as well as of artistic standard, but it takes well and procures for us jam along with our bread and butter. Like a doubtful play or a shocking novel it takes with the public and there is a certain demand for it. If we didn't supply this demand someone else would.

* * *

You see this striving after a loud popularity, the effort to attract attention, not only in the press but even in sermons. In them we often find the lack of moderation, the striving to be sensational, anything to advertise the performance. In their way they are as bad as the Wctaskiwin Free Lance.

* * *

If a person does a charitable act out here, it must be published; if a minister preaches a crackerjack of a sermon, he wants to see a synopsis of it in the papers; a cattle buyer makes a good shipment, that also must be in the paper; and even the little tea socials and surprise parties that occur away off in unheard of places in the country, accounts of them are promptly sent in to the local paper. Barnumism is triumphant.

* * *

Is it really possible to have any poetic impulses out here? Not on your life! Outside of Tolcher, such a thing is, we believe, unknown in these parts. In books we are constantly running up against people who have only to glance at the moon or the stars to burst forth into rhapsodies of thought. Those sort of persons we have noticed, are the unmarried ones. The married ones have too much to do skirmishing around to keep the bot boiling to bother their heads about the firmament. But even out here the unmarried people of refinement and culture are not prone to give expression to any vast quantities of poetic thoughts of their own, possibly because they experience an inability to think up any.

* * *

A girl who is being courted with some degree of success weights down her love and sentiment with shrewd considerations of the dough feature, and the impassioned swain instead of writing poetry to the moon has to hustle around like a good fellow and do the best he can in this respect or lose the girl. In a western country where very few girls are possessed of doweries, most of them indeed being busted, they know to a dollar how much the impassioned swain's income is a month or a year. If it is not enough, the impassioned swain must needs bow to the inevitable and behold his Dulcinea led off to the home of some other chap with more boodle.

J. M. Kellie, M.P.P., has been looking over the new strikes in the Alberni district and has expressed himself very enthusiastically to the coast papers on the prospects of that part of the province.

The Oddfellows have decided to erect a two-storey building on two lots, which the lodge owns, next Tapping's opera house. The upper floor will be used for the lodge room of the society.

A few weeks ago a correspondent signing himself "Anxious Inquirer" wrote the HERALD asking the present position of the Farwell estate. A communication, dated March 7th, 1899, from Mr. Farwell has been shown the HERALD, in which he says that at the present moment he owns no real estate at Revelstoke, as about a year ago he re-conveyed all his property to the crown.

THE NEW CITY

The public interest taken by the citizens of Revelstoke in the new city was abundantly proved by the very large proportion, over 90 per cent. of the total vote which was polled. The result of the poll shows that the majority of the voters recognized the supreme importance of the business aspect of our new privileges, and were content to allow side issues to stand to one side. In consequence Revelstoke possesses in its first council a board of business men whom we can safely trust to manage our affairs in a business way.

The first subject which will engage the attention of the city fathers will doubtless be the appointment of the city officials. In the opinion of the HERALD it is a bad system, though sometimes adopted in the supposed interests of economy, to combine too many of these offices in one person. At all events what ever plan is adopted the position of treasurer should be kept separate and it has been found an excellent idea in other places to vest this office in the person of one of the managers of the local banks. The appointment naturally will carry with it the city business, and it will be found that there will be very little difficulty at getting it accepted at an almost nominal salary.

Another system, which will save trouble by being adopted from the start, is that of a monthly audit of the books made by a competent accountant. This will ensure that the books are kept up constantly in good order and up to date and the monthly reports being first presented to the council and then published in the newspaper reports of the proceedings will keep both the council and the public constantly posted on the financial condition of municipal affairs.

There are other matters which will demand immediate attention, such as the renting of a suitable temporary city office and council chamber. However from the make-up of the council the HERALD feels satisfied that these questions and all others which come up before them will be dealt with in a manner which will do justice and give satisfaction to the entire community.

CONSERVATIVE ORGANIZATION

The HERALD congratulates the Conservatives of Revelstoke on the very successful formation of their association here. Organization is the soul of political success and the work of getting the party in shape is now going on all over the Dominion. In Kootenay the result of these efforts has been particularly gratifying. Strong associations have been formed in Nelson, Rossland, Sandon, Kaslo, Silverton, Slocan City and Three Forks, and committees in New Denver, Nakusp, Ainsworth, Cranbrook, Fernie, Ymir, Golden and Donald. The very large association formed here on Thursday night is a fitting climax to the work in Kootenay. As far as the riding is concerned Conservatives only need organization to carry it. The chief aim of the association at this point should be to complete the work already done by getting the party organized and in touch with it in the outlying points around us. Every effort possible should be put forth in this direction and it is in this particular that the chief value of the association will show itself. If it can only look after this part of its work properly the success of a Conservative candidate for this electoral district at the next election is certain as far as this riding is concerned.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in the Presbyterian church next Tuesday at 3.30 p.m.

The Revelstoke Brass Band Concert will be held in Tapping's opera house on Tuesday, April 4th. The boys are arranging an excellent programme and they should receive the support of the citizens. The concert, by request of the ladies of the Methodist church, was changed from Monday the 3rd to the 4th as announced above.

Some unscrupulous person or persons have taken every magazine out of the reading room in the Taylor block, which has been placed in there and the management wish emphatically to state that this proceeding must stop. Subscribers to the reading room are requested to leave their subscriptions at Mrs. Lee's next door but one to the Taylor block.

Rev. Geo. McKay, of Donald, is going to conduct a party of prospectors for a Donald company up to the new gold finds on Canoe river. The party will take four dogs and expect to be about ten days getting to the new El Dorado. Mr. McKay is an old timer in the west and will make a strike if there is anything to be found. The man Evans, who came down to Donald recently from the newly discovered claims, brought some large nuggets with him.

The Arm is still frozen and safe for teams.

The Easter dinner and concert to be given in the Methodist church on Monday, the 3rd of April, promises to be a very successful affair. The ladies are putting forth every effort, and that the dinner will be a first class one is beyond a doubt. A large sale of tickets is reported.

In reply to a Calgary Herald representative's question Mr. Whyte of the C. P. R. said he hoped to see the new branch line to Trout Lake undertaken this summer. The company have men at work now finishing the survey work. He referred to the great number of valuable mining properties in that district, which would speedily become shippers when given railway transportation.
