THREE MEN DROWNED

Fatal Accident Reported on Lower Arrow Lake

News comes from Dog creek that on the morning of March 28th, John Morrison, a prospector, living at Dog creek, on Lower Arrow Lake, started to go up the lake to Van Houghton creek with Charles Harrington and another man. Morrison was engaged by the other man to take them to Van Houghton creek, and was supposed to return to Dog creek the next day, leaving the others up there. Since then nothing definite has been heard of any of them by the people of Dog creek. On the following morning, March 29th, there was a high wind blowing from the north and the lake was very rough. About 8 or 9 o'clock Charcoal Brown observed a sailboat below Van Houghton creek on the lake, for a short time, when all at once it disappeared. He says he watched for the boat for three hours, but saw nothing more of it either in the lake or on the shore. On Sunday, April 2nd, two men from Dog creek found the rudder and tiller of Morrison's boat on the beach several miles below Van Houghton creek, and also found a new glove with the rudder. They say they are sure it did not belong to Morrison. The incident would lead to the supposition that there might have been some others with Morrison when the boat went down, for there seems to be no doubt that it went down and that those on board were drowned. The boat was known to carry a lot of sand ballast, although John Morrison has been in this vicinity for three years, no one in this vicinity knows where he comes from or where his relatives reside.

CITY COUNCIL

Health, Trader's, Insurance and Road Tax By-Laws Up for Consideration

The adjourned meeting of the city council was held in their chamber in the Court House on Wednesday evening. Present Mayor McCarty in the chair and Alds. Kilpatrick, McKechnie, Grahame, Wells, Brown and Crage.

The clerk reported having sent off letters containing the recommendation of the city council re the appointment of license and police commissioners to the government.

A communication was also sent to the government requesting a refund of the amount collected by the government for licenses within the municipality for the six months of the present year.

The report of the standing committees was taken up.

Ald. Brown, chairman of the Finance committee, stated that that committee had not a report ready but would do so at the regular meeting of the council on Friday evening.

Ald. Grahame, chairman of the Health and By-law committees, reported progress in drafting By-law No. 1, Health; By-law No. 2, Trader's License; By-law No. 3, Insurance, and By-law No. 4, Road Tax.

Moved by Ald. Grahame, seconded by Ald. McKechnie, that Health By-law No. 1 be now read a first time.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Kilpatrick, seconded by Ald. Brown, that By-law No. 2, Trader's Licenses, be now read a first time.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Kilpatrick, seconded by Ald. Brown, that By-law No. 3, a law to impose a tax on fire insurance companies doing business in town, be now read a first time—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Brown, seconded by Ald. Kilpatrick, that By-law No. 4, levying a road tax be now read a first time.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. McKechnie, seconded by Ald. Wells, that the council do now go into committee of the whole to consider the by-laws now before the council with Ald. Brown in the chair.

The first by-law up for consideration was the Health by-law, which provoked considerable discussion, particularly the clause referring to the appointment of a city scavenger. Some of the aldermen were of the opinion that the city should pay for the work, while others thought that the scavenger should be forced to collect from the householders. The clause was withdrawn from the bylaw temporarily.

The other by-laws, namely Nos. 2, 3 and 4, passed the second reading with very few amendments.

Moved by Ald. Wells, seconded by Ald. Grahame, that the committee now rise and report progress.

The council then resumed the business with the mayor in the chair.

Moved by Ald. McKechnie, seconded by Ald. Crage, that the by-laws be now considered read a second time and passed.—Carried.

The following proposed licenses of those by-laws are of interest.

Saloon licenses, $200 every six months; wholesale liquor stores, $50 every six months; hotel licenses, $100 every six months; circus licenses, $100 per day; transient traders, $50 every six months; travelling shows, $5 per night; insurance companies, $25 per year; all male residents between 18 and 50 years of age to be taxed $2 per annum on a road tax.

The council adjourned at midnight.

The regular meeting of the city council was held last evening in the council chamber. The mayor and all the aldermen were present.

The minutes of the last regular meeting, the adjourned meeting held on Wednesday night last, also the special meeting held on April 4th were read and adopted.

COMMUNICATIONS

Communications were read from the Reform and Labor Association re the building of a Central post office and customs house; from Lieut.-Governor McInnes re the Council's recommendations on the License and Police Commission; from the Revelstoke Water, Light and Power Co. re the electric light service in the council chamber, informing the council that they were now charging the city $4 per month for their use.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Ald. Brown, chairma of the Finance committee, and Ald. Grahame, chairman of the Health and Bylaws committee, stated that owing to the owing to the absence of the city solicitor they were unable to bring in their reports at the present meeting.

Ald. Kilpatrick as chairman of the Public Works committee, asked that the council recommend the appointment of a city engineer who would assist the committee in their work and who could take the proper levels for the construction of sidewalks and for the proper drainage of the city.

Ald. Wells thought that the Public Works sommittee should first bring in a recommendation as to the necessary work to be done, so that the engineer when appointed would know what work he was expected to do.

Ald. Kilpatrick showed the council that it was absolutely necessary to appoint an engineer now to assist the committee to determine the nature of the work to be undertaken as to the proper levels for the drainage of water and the levels of the sidewalks to be undertaken by the city.

Moved by Ald. Kilpatrick and seconded by Ald. Brown, that the clerk be instructed to advertise for applications for the position of city engineer. Applicants to state the salary expected per day or by the month for a period of five months.—Carried.

In regard to the communication from the Reform and Labor Council re the Central postoffice and customs house. Ald. Brown and Ald. Kilpatrick were of the opinion that at present the council were not in a position to intelligently deal with the question owing to lack of time and the great amount of work which the council had in hand, and requested the question be laid over for the present, which was assented to.

Ald. Grahame drew the attention of the council to the fact that some parties had deposited two loads of rank smelling garbage over the river bank at the C.P.R. bridge and requested that the attention of the health officer should be drawn to the fact.

Moved by Ald. Brown, seconded by Ald. Kilpatrick, that the third reading of By-laws Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4, be adjourned until to-morrow (Saturday) evening at 7:30.—Carried.

The city clerk asked the council for instructions in regard to the printing necessary to be done and on motion of Ald. Crage, seconded by Ald. Grahame, the clerk was instructed to get the necessary printing done and to divide the work equally between the two local printing offices.—Carried.

The meeting adjourned till this evening at 7:30 in the council chamber.

The Nettie L.

Last Saturday's Topic contains the following report of progress on this property:

The main crosscut is about 150 feet long and bisecting it about 30 feet from its extremity is a drift about 40 feet in length, this drift is being extended both ways. The one running to the left will be run out to the surface for ventilation purposes and the other of course will prospect the vein.

The latter section of drift was not considered sufficient to prove the value of the lead as little or no depth will be gained on account of the flatness of the surface ground, so a winze is being sunk. This is now down ten or twelve feet and it is a pretty fair testimony as to the extent of the ore body when it is known that from the work of two shots, thirteen sacks were filled with ore. The character of the ore is a steel galena, almost identical with that of the Dardanelles in the Slocan, and runs anywhere from 160 to 200 ounces in silver. Considerable gray copper shows up in the ore and increases its value by a considerable percentage.

Some twelve men were at work on Monday and since then six new hands have been engaged. A bucket for use in the winze has been taken up to the mine and considerable track iron is lying there ready to be laid when operations have advanced sufficiently.

Early Closing Movements

A meeting of business men and others interested in the early closing movement was held in No. 2 fire hall last night. W. M. Lawrence was elected chairman. The following motion was put and carried: That a committee, composed of Messrs. Lawrence, Bourne and McCarty be appointed to interview the different business men and ascertain all who were in favor of the early closing movement. And further, that a committee of clerks composed of Messrs. Doyle, Hobson and Hodgins be instructed to ascertain the feeling generally with regard to the movement. Both committees to report at a meeting to be called later.

THE STANDARD BASIN

STRONGLY RESEMBLES THE BUTTE CAMP

IN THE CHARACTER OF THE ORE

Extraordinary Surface Indications of Great Wealth in Copper—The Standard Claim Discovered in 1897—Shows 38 Inches of Solid Ore in the Face of the Crosscut at the Bottom of a 50 Foot Shaft—Promise of a Great Copper Camp.

This group of claims is situated on the top of the summit at the head of Five Mile, One Mile, the east fork of the north branch of Carnes creek and Downie creek. In this same basin, which is known as the Standard Basin, as many as 22 claims in all have been staked. The Standard group is owned by Messrs. H. B. Smith, Willcox and Rumens, who own altogether 12 claims in the basin, which are traversed by six distinct ledges. The outcroppings of these ledges are of extraordinary promise, and prospectors who have been in every camp in the west, have declared that they have never seen anything like it for surface indications. The character of the formation and ore very strongly resembles that of the famous Butte copper camp. The owners of the group have done their work on the Standard claim. They first ran a tunnel 60 feet on to the ledge, more to get shelter than anything else, as the claim is above the timber line, 8,200 feet above sea level. Then they sank a shaft 50 feet along the footwall and crosscut the ledge for 13 feet at that depth. They have a vein of ore 38 inches wide in the face of the crosscut and the indications are that they are getting near the hanging wall. The footwall carries considerable tale, which is to outward appearances rich in copper, though no assays have been made of it. Assays of the ore, of which several have been made, run all the way from 5 to 87 per cent. in copper with some gold and silver. There is a good deal of lime spar in the ore, which looks as if it would be easily smelted. The strike of the leads in the basin is north east and south west, the reverse of the usual order of things in this country and they cut the formation at right angles. There is plenty of good timber within two miles of the Standard claim and fine water power easily available. The ledge dips at an angle of 45 degrees. The claim is at present reached by a pack trail, which striking east from the Columbia river about a quarter of a mile from Boyd's, runs six miles to Keystone and then round Keystone mountain to the claim, making it about 15 miles from the river. But it could be better reached by a trail or wagon road which leaving the river half mile below the mouth of Five Mile creek, would follow up that creek by an easy grade and reach the claim in ten miles. This route would shorten the distance to the Standard Basin from Revelstoke by about 12 miles.

C P.R. ENGINEERS AT WORK

Up the Lardeau to Trout Lake and Then On to Arrowhead

About the most important party of engineers that has ever been in Kaslo came in Monday and left again Tuesday morning. Mr. A. E. Doucett and his assistant, Mr. G. H. Gardner, and staff of fifteen men are on their way to the head of Kootenay lake to locate a line for the C.P.R., which intends coming into this section of country by way of Arrowhead and Trout Lake. Mr. Doucett located a line down the Lardeau to the head of Kootenay lake last summer, and is now going back over it. He had not much to say regarding this branch, but he led us to believe that the pick and shovel brigade would follow him very soon.

In conversation with Mr. Doucett it was learned that during the Northwest rebellion he was on Major-General Middleton's staff and was unfortunately wounded at Fish Creek and had the thrilling experience of running the blockade at Batoche on the steamer Northwest. Mr. Gardner had a brother in the Surveyor Scouts who was killed at Batoche.—Kaslo News.

THE REVIVAL IN MINING

Toronto Globe: There is no more marked feature in business today than the tendency toward investment in mining stocks. There seems a revival of the speculation so eager two years ago, and savings are freely invested in treasury stock in the certain hope of future values and even dividends. This is by no means confined to salaried clerks and other employees. Merchants of standing find in mining stocks an outlet for spare capital and a field for investments large and small. Domestic savings, life insurance benefices and other thrifty safeguards against a time of need are converted into mining shares with unquestioning confidence. At present Montreal is the chief mining centre of the Dominion from the promoter's standpoint, but Toronto, in spite of the discouragements of the recent mining boom, still affords a good market for the disposal of shares. The freedom of Canadian investment is so well recognized that the promoters of American mines are marketing their stock in Canadian cities, and the liberal advertising of new propositions is a proof of their success. As in the case of the first Kootenay boom, a successful dividend paying mine, making small fortunes for those who were lucky enough to buy at 10 per cent, is sufficient to boom half a score of propositions in the immediate vicinity. When a mine becomes a shipper and dividend payer the value of its stock advances in proportion to its assurance of future returns. Investment would then be on a legitimate financial basis, giving a reasonable assurance of fair interest. But that is not what the speculative buyer of mining stocks wants. He thinks of the great profits that have been made from the dividend payers, sees the impossibility of getting shares on a 10 per cent basis and takes advantage of the first available opportunity to buy an interest in a proposition close beside it. Such opportunities are always open, for the success of a mine in any district is always followed by the incorporation of several companies to work adjacent claims, the issue of glowing forecasts and the liberal advertising of treasury stock for sale.

Nelson Tribune: The confidence which capital feels in a continuance of the conditions which make for national prosperity is shown in the abundant supply of funds available for the promotion of all legitimate business enterprises. During the last few months a number of mining corporations, employing a capital of millions of dollars, have been organized, and the eagerness with which investors have subscribed for the shares of these corporations has been in marked contrast with the attitude assumed toward nearly all investments of that character a few years ago. The timidity of capital was a phrase often heard during the four years following 1893, but at the present time it has little of the significance that then attached to it. Financial interests no longer hesitate to lend substantial aid to all legitimate ventures.

BRITAINS NAVY

The event of last month in England was the publication of the naval estimates, which show an increase of £2,816,000 compared with those of last year, and amount to £26,534,000. It is an unparalleled expenditure in time of peace, but which is unavoidable if Great Britain is to remain strong enough on the seas to meet any probable combination. The worst of it is that now England is spending nearly £27,000,000 a year upon naval defences, she is relatively no stronger—it may be questioned if as strong—than when the naval estimates were less than half that sum. The rapid growth of the French and Russian navies, the increase in the German fleet, the development of the naval power of Japan and the United States make it increasingly difficult for England to hold her own upon the seas. And as France with a population of 40,000,000, finds it impossible to put as many soldiers in the field as Germany with 52,000,000, so if the great powers continue to develop their naval resources as they are doing at present England may—nay must—before long find herself becoming relatively weaker. But before that time comes the colonies may take a truer view of what they ought to do in the way of sharing the cost of imperial defences.

ENGLAND'S AFFAIRS

THE HERALD'S LONDON CORRESPONDENT

Tells About the Queen in France—Shipping—Finns For Canada—The Deadly Influenza—A Curious Custom

London, March 22.—(Special)—The visit to France has been of enormous benefit to that country, which was suffering very much from the after effects of the Fashoda incident.

Her Majesty has attracted fashionable people from all parts of the world, and we hear of grand functions taking place, and all kinds of costly and fashionable banquets attended by distinguished personages in the Riviera, including the Empress Frederick, the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Duke of Cobourg, several Rothschilds, the Duchess of Devonshire, the Duchess of Marlborough, Lady Salisbury, the Duchess of Manchester, a long list of Princes and other prominent members of society. The Queen has saved the Riviera season.

BRITISH AND AMERICAN SHIP BUILDING

The chiefs of the Philadelphia shipbuilding firm, Mr. C. Cramp, gave some interesting details as to the relative cost of shipbuilding by his firm and on the Clyde in connection with the proposal to increase shipping subsidies in the States. He pointed out that, although steel material might cost the same in America as in Glasgow, labor was a still more important factor. Thus a ship of 5,000 tons into which 2,150 tons of steel was worked prior to launching, the metal cost £13,000, while the labor cost £34,000—together £47,000.

Now on the Clyde this amount of material would be worked into the ship for £23,800, and thus the total for the Clyde ship would be £10,200 less. This calculation is based upon some relative rates of pay which Mr. Cramp has received from a naval architect. Pattern makers are represented as getting one half the American rate, which is £2 10s. 0d per week; machinists, £3 in the States against 35s. 5d; ship carpenter, £3 12s. 0d. against 40s.; and so on with other trades, the average difference being that Clyde wages are 40 per cent less than in Philadelphia. In a recent case, he says, a 12,000 ton ship cost in this country for material £177,000, and for labor £91,000; together £268,000, so that labor only cost one third of the total; whereas in Philadelphia the costs of labor and material were equal.

EMIGRATION OF FINNS TO CANADA

I am told that negotiations are already in progress for the emigration of a large number of Finns to Canada. The whole Finnish people are reported by competent witnesses to be in a state of almost despair at the bad faith of which they have been the victims at the hands of the Russian government.

They see in the invasion of their constitutional rights and the administration measures which have followed on that invasion something more than a breach of the Czar's coronation oath—a deliberate attempt on the part of the Russian government, to Russianize their country and to reduce them to the unhappy position of the Russian peasantry.

The Finns are level headed enough to recognize that they will not better their situation or their prospects by armed resistance; and a widespread movement has begun among the people to leave the country to which they are so devotedly attached, and to seek under the British flag the freedom to live their own lives which is henceforth to be denied them by the Russian government.

THE INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC

People in high places seem again to be the chief sufferers from the recurrence of the influenza epidemic.

Happily the visitation appears to have assumed a less vigorous form this winter than on some former occasions.

Nevertheless, its effects, especially in parliament have been serious. The Prime minister has been absent from the House of Lords, for some time suffering from an attack. A similar cause is preventing Mr. Goschen's personal oversight of the discussions of the naval estimates. The Speaker was away for two days last week owing to an attack, and now Mr. Lowther, the chairman of committees, is laid up with the same malady. Mr. Chamberlain, who was one of the first victims, has made a complete recovery, and is now daily in his place, but Mr. John Morley—one of the few patients on the other side—is still confined to the house.

Influenza has also interrupted the licensing commission by suddenly disabling Lord Peel, which will delay the issue of the report till after Easter.

A QUAINT AND CURIOUS CUSTOM

A curious custom in connection with the birth of an heir to the Earldom of Carnarvon is now being observed at Highclere Castle.

A family tradition requires that on these occasions 500 gallons of beer should be brewed and that the cask remain unopened until the heir attains his majority. From oak grown on the Highclere estate a cooper of Newbury has made a large cask hooped with brass and bearing an inscription plate of the same metal.

The inscription runs: "May Highclere flourish. This cask of ale containing 500 gallons was brewed in commemoration of the birth of Lord Porchester, born November 7, 1898. Albert Stualfield, butler, Highclere Castle, 1899."

THE MAN WHO BROKE THE BANK

Wells, "the man who broke the bank at Monte Carlo" is again at large, after suffering six years imprisonment at Portland, and elsewhere for swindling. He is now living, we are told, at a luxurious West End hotel and is quite ready to narrate to any one who will listen to him, his experience of prison life.

He contemplates another visit to Monte Carlo, in the hope of again breaking the bank, for he is confident that he has perfected a "system" by means of which success is rendered certain at roulette. Most ruined gamblers are the victims of infallible systems.

In prison life his affable manner gained him the good will of the prison officials, and the common convicts looked up to him as a great financier. He was familiarly known as "Monte." Wells' good behavior gained him a remission of two years of his sentence.

To try his system at Monte Carlo, Wells, it is said, will require a capital of £6,000, but it is believed he has some £20,000 saved from the wreck of his fortune when the law laid hold of him. He is now 62 years of age, a non smoker, and almost a total abstainer.

A NEW METHOD OF OCEAN COMMUNICATION

Several years ago it was announced that an important postal innoation was about to be tried for the benefit of ocean travellers.

The scheme will be started on the 25th, although merely in an experimental stage. On that date the steamer of the Trans-Atlantic Company from Havre will carry some trained pigeons. Twenty-four hours after the vessel leaves port the birds will be released as bearers of any messages the captain or passengers may wish to send to friends in Europe.

The service, it is expected will prove very popular, and will in due course be greatly developed, the hope being entertained that it will be possible to train pigeons to travel greater distances, so that eventually they may be released from mid-ocean. No doubt many travellers between Europe and America experience the need to communicate with the land they have left behind them. All these messages will be rendered easily "portable" by the winged carriers. They will be reduced in size by special photographic apparatus on board, and enlarged by a similar process before delivery. The cost of sending a message will be four shillings.

MINES BOOMING

A Nelson Alderman on the Rich Strike in the Lardeau

Alderman Beer, of Nelson, has been telling the Miner something about the excellent prospects of the Lardeau district, which he has just visited. This is what he says about some of the leading mines: "A shaft is being sunk and drifting continued on the Nettie L. under the supervision of D. J. Cameron. The recent strike on this property has caused quite an excitement in the country and brought hosts of congratulations to Mr. Pool, who is largely interested and who is one of the most popular mining men in this district. St. Elmo, owned by Hugh McPherson, is one of the most promising claims and active work is expected to commence in a few days. While here Mr. Beer heard that several valuable claims had changed hands and in each case work will be commenced as soon as the snow admits. Bad Shot, on Gaynor creek, owned by Johnson & Campbell will be largely developed and considerable mony will be spent on it this spring. It should be a shipper in the near future. In fact there should be no less than 10 shippers in the district this season.

"The probability of the C. P. R. building up Fish Creek as far as Fool creek will result in a large amount of work being done there. Already plans are completed to put a large number of men at work early in May."

SETTLING SAMOAN AFFAIRS

Washington, April 8.—Final conclusion of the Samoan troubles is in sight. One representative from each power will form a commission to arrange all motters in dispute. The Mariposa has arrivd bringing news that the troubles in Samoa were due to the refusal of the German consul to join in the proclamation issued by his English and American colleagues, and the key to the whole trouble is that Mataafa was secretly backed by Germany, while England and America supported Malieota. The shelling of Samoaan villages by the Porpoise and the Royalist continues.

At Mount Forest the experiment of thawing out frozen water pipes by electricity was tried by Messrs Corley and Collins, electricians. In an hour and a half they thawed out 45 feet of the main and four branches of 66 feet each. The strength of the current was 16 ampere and 30 volts.

F. W. Jones, assistant to Manager Whyte of the C.P.R., has resigned his position and accepted the appointment of secretary-treasurer of the Columbia River Lumber company, of which Wm. McKenzie is president, with headquarters at Golden, B. C. Mr. Jones is succeeded by Mr. Osborne of Montreal, who takes the title of general superintendent.

Ottawa, April 11.—Hon. Minister Patterson resumed the debate in reply to the speech from the throne in the house of commons yesterday and was followed by Bergeron. The debate was again adjourned. A bill was introduced today by McInnis to restrict immigration. It provides for preventing the immigration of paupers, idiots, criminals, and persons suffering from diseases. Maxwell's bill to amend the Chinese immigration act proposes to increase the poll tax from $50 to $500. The bill will exempt Chinese clergymen, as well as diplomatic representatives, and merchants from coming within the operation of the act.

His wife played one of the instruments while Moore, with whom she skipped played another. Both parties deserted their families.

RIOT IN BLACK AND WHITE

Pana, Illinois, April 11.—In a riot which broke out at 11:30 this morning on the main street between white and black miners, in which deputy sheriffs took part, five men and one woman were killed. Eight persons were wounded, several so seriously that they will probably die. The trouble began last night when 100 deputy sheriffs were called out into lFatham and Penwell mining districts to protect several colored families who were endeavoring to load their household effects preparatory to leaving for Iowa, and were being prevented from doing so by negro guards armed with rifles furnished by the Pena Coal Company, who claimed that the goods the negroes were moving were the company's property. The fighting terrorized the citizens of that section and Chief Deputy Cheney sent a special detail of deputies armed with rifles who restored quiet before daybreak. Several negroes were arrested charged with inciting the riot. Today's rioting began while they were on trial.

FLOOR GAVE WAY

Montreal, April 11.—The fourth floor of the flour and provision warehouse of Eli Benoit, St. Paul Street, gave way this afternoon under the weight of a heavy load and fell through to the cellar carrying with it the floors beneath. The interior of the warehouse is a wreck. Philip Dulade, a storeman on the second flat, was carried down with the debris and was found with a broken arm and several internal injuries. He was removed to the hospital in a dying condition.

SOME MORE SAMOA

London, April 9.—Unravelling of the Samoan entanglement is followed with interest here, especially in colonial circles. Germany's "obstinacy" as her attitude is termed here, from the beginning of the trouble is regarded as "incomprehensible." It is said to be only explained by the desire to get the upper hand in the islands.

Morning Post yesterday says: For some reason not yet explained, Germany regards Samoa as an impotant link in her foreign policy, and rather than give it up she would go to war. No doubt Germany has not forgotten what a prize Heligoland proved and the German chancellor possibly anticipates a more important deal if he can only get possession of Samoa.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT

Near Innisfail on the C & E Railway—Man Cut to Pieces by the North Train.

Innisfail Standard

As the north bound train was nearing Innisfail last Wednesday the whistle suddenly was sounded and almost immediately the train came to a sudden standstill. Just at the place where the train stopped it was at the end of a sharp curve down grade, and the beginning of another curve up grade. A thrill of terror was felt tahrough the crowded cars when it was told that a man had just been cut to pieces by the train. It appear that William Joseph McCall came up from Brandon last week with a companion named Tidgwell, arriving at Innisfail last Tuesday, and were on their way to the ranche of Samuel Arnold, who was an uncle of the deceased. AtCalgary it appears that the deceased had a few drinks and on his arrival at Innisfail he had one or two more. He was not actually drunk but he had whisky on an empty stomach, (they had not had a meal since leaving Brandon) certainly affected him and he was somewhat hilarious. The way from Innisfail to Mr. Arnold's ranche is down the railway track about two miles and then there is a trail going west which leads direct to the place. From the evidence it appears that deceased got somewhat sleepy, what with the heat, the whisky and want of rest and suggsted to his companion that they should take a rest. His companion tried to persuade him to go on but notwithstanding, the deceased lay down on a dry tie on the track and then his companion also lay down. Deceased's companion lay down a few feet further south than the deceased and consequently was nearer the coming train. Sun was extremely bright and the effect on the snow was simply dazzling. As the train left the curve the men on the lookout saw some obstruction which they thought to be ashes, but as they got nearer, to their horror they discovered that the obstruction was nothing less than two men lying across the track with their heads resting on the west rail.

Engineer at once put on the emergency brake and sounded the whistle as loud as he could. The man nearest to the engine woke and just rolled o ffthe track in time and escaped with a bruise on the hand, while the deceased was more fast asleep and just woke as the cowcatcher struck him. He went under the train and was cut up in a horrible manner, his head being severed clean from his body. An arm and a leg were cut almost off and his body frightfully mutilated and there was a long mark between the rails where the body had been dragged or rolled along and small pices of bone and brain and blood were scattered about.

The train was mixed one, consisting of three passenger coaches, some box cars, and the usual mail coaches engine, etc.

We were on the train, and it struck us at the time with what extraordinary rapidity the train was brought to a standstill when breaks were put on.

From the evidence and our own observations it looks as if the train must have stopped in a little over its own length. The survivor stepped on the cars utterly unconcerned at the narrowness of his escape and at his companions awful death.

The remains were put on the platform of one of the cars and taken to Innisfail station preparatory to an inquest being held by Dr. George the district coroner.

The jury was composed of Mr. H. M. Douglas (foreman), Messrs G. Lundy, W. Dae, J. Barwis, John Smith and W. H. Kemp.

Witnesses examined were Messrs N. Arnold, T. B. Tidgwell, T. S. Gill, Jas. Cuen, Jas Smith, F. M. Oldham and const. Hetherington.

A verdict was returned as follows: "That William Joseph McCall came to his death on April 4th by being run over by the north bound train and that there is not the slightest blame to be attached to the C. & E. officials."

THE DESERTED VILLAGE

Canmore, April 10.—Canmore that was once the liveliest town on the big hill, will likely be called Nomore unless Mac Cardell stakes another gold mine and runs a developing company What's the matter with the government extending the National park eastward to Kananaskis falls and compete with the Yellowstone across the line.

Cayotes that were once far away creatures are now becoming numerous and domestic.

What the fire saved a year ago the furniture van has removed. Nearly all the houses on north shore have the blinds down and the south will soon follow suit. in fact there are more houses than people here now.

The Cochrane house that once stood so prominent on the Cochrane mine, is being torn down.

Sun still shines on Canmore, and the crocuses are coming.

An eastern exchange reports a recent exhibition of children, all in fine condition who have "never tasted of other than vegetable food." We are not told what vegetables they fed on during the first year of their life.

Sergt. Major F. A. Bagley, Maple Creek, who has served 25 years in the Mounted Police, receives intelligence that through the death of an aunt in the West Indies, he comes into a comfortable fortune.

We notice in La Presse, of Montreal, mention is made of Max Aitken, of Calgary, who is visiting Ottawa at present. La Presse says that Mr. Aitken has a brief from the electors of Alberta to demand the formation into a separate province of this part of the North West.

La Patrie of Montreal announcest that the North West government has decided to appoint a French Catholic school inspector at a salary of $1,400. The new inspector has been selected, so Patrie says, and has a university degree and a full knowledge of both English and French. The appointment is said to have been made at the formally expressed desire of Sir Wilfrid Laurier acting on the suggestion of Rev. Father Lacombe.

Toronto Telegram: Eulogies of William Ogilive are no answer to suggestions of wrong doing on the part of officials who reigned before Mr. Ogilive went to Dawson City, and are still on duty. It is a shallow partisan game this attempt to hide the whole anagement of affairs in the Yukon behind the good name of William Ogilvie. As an administrator Mr. Ogilive is all that he ought to be, but he has yet to win his spurs as an investigator. It does not follow that because a man is honest himself he is therefore competent to show up the rascality of officials who have not been honest.

DEBATE ON ADDRESS

WINNIPEG ELECTION FIXED FOR JUNE

Sir Charles Questions Laurier About Alaskan Boundary—Ex Gold Commissioner Fawcett on Hand

Ottawa, April 8.—The debate on the address was continued yesterday. Dr. Douglas' bill regulating grain in Manitoba received its first reading.

Probable date of the Winnipeg election will be between June 20 and 25.

In reply to Sir Charles Tupper the premier said there was no truth in the newspaper report that a modus vivendi between Great Britain and the United States with respect to Alaskan boundary was under discussion. Nothing has been done since the provisional boundary was fixed two years ago between Skagway, Dyea and Lake Bennett.

Ex-Gold Commissioner Fawcett is in Ottawa.

THE SACRED CONCERT

A Splendid Programme and Excellent Music

The Presbyterian church was crowded to the doors on Thursday evening by a large and appreciative audience to take in the sacred concert given under the auspices of the choir of the Presbyterian church. The programme, which was an excellent one, consisted of fourteen numbers, and under the leadership of Mr. S. L. Saunders, was carried through with the evidence of careful preparation and ability. The first number on the programme, a chorus, "Praise Ye the Father," by the choir, was rendered in excellent style and with marked effect. Mr. S. L. Saunders followed in the solo "Anchored" and was well received. Mrs. Lawrence and Miss Sorley rendered the beautiful duet "The Wind and Harp," in splendid voice and the rendering was thoroughly appreciated. Mr. Meldrum in the solo "The Mighty Deep," was at his best and sang in clear and excellent tone. Mrs. Jeff's solo, "Consider the Lillies," was nicely rendered and called forth hearty applause. Mr. B. A. Lawson gave a reading entitled "Robert of Sicily," which was very interesting, while his rendering of the "Convict" brought forth his best efforts and brought him quite an ovation. The anthem "Hark, hark, My Soul" by the choir, closed the first part of the programme.

The second part of the programme was put on with the same excellent results. The bass solo, "The Holy City," by Mrs. S. L. Saunders and the choir, the solo, "Salva Nos, Domine," by Mrs. Lawrence, the quartette "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," by Mrs. Jeffs, Miss Couen and Messrs. Saunders and Lewis, the solo, "Calvary," by Mr. Guy Barber, and the duet "Oh Wer't Thou in the Cauld Blast," by Miss Sorley and Mr. Meldrum were all well rendered and with pleasing effect. The large audience showed their appreciation by unstinted applause. The singing of the anthem "The King of Love," by the choir, brought the concert and a most enjoyable evening to a close. The leader and choir of the Presbyterian church are to be congratulated upon the success of their entertainment and the public fully appreciated their efforts, as was proven by the large and representative gathering.

FERGUSON

Report of Progress in the Lardeau Mining Camp—Soft Weather Has Put a Stop to Rawhiding.

FERGUSON, April 11.—The rawhiding of the Beatrice ore has stopped at this end on account of the mild weather.

D. G. McNeil has put on an extra force of four men at the Silver Cup.

The development of the Gold Bug is progressing satisfactorily. Ore in the stringers still continues of high grade and the owners expect when the lead is encountered that a good body of ore will be struck adding another shipper to our list.

The Great Western Mining Co. are to be congratulated for the way in which they are pushing the development on the Nettie L. All hands were down and packed up supplies owing to the trail being too soft for horses. The men reported that the vein of shipping ore has widened out to 18 inches.

Everything points to a successful year for the Duncan, Lardeau and Trout Lake districts.

J. Fitzgerald, superintendent of the Beatrice mine, is in town and reports everything working well at the mine.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid, of Revelstoke, are staying in town for a few days.

Silver Tip Mining Co. expect to commence work on their property on the North Fork about May 15th.

F. T. Abey, of Trout Lake City, paid this camp a visit today.

The snow is going fast the last week and we are looking forward to the spring opening up earlier than last year.

Metropolitan Opera Co.

The Metropolitan Opera Company, the same identical attraction that scored such a big success here some months ago, will return to Revelstoke for one night next Saturday, April 22. The company comes here much stronger than before with an enlarged chorus, and several new principals, and, including the original cast, also A. Sydney Rhorer, descriptive baritone singer, who will introduce for the first time in this city Edison's Dream Realized, a moving illustration instrument that sings, talks and acts as if human. This is new to Revelstoke, there being only two of them in America. Each film is over 600 feet long, and runs from 12 to 15 minutes.

The prices remain as usual, 50c. 75c. and $1. The company will open with Mikado. Owing to the popularity of this company this engagement will no doubt be a grand success.

The Half Holiday

To the Editor of the HERALD.

SIR: Referring to our notice re closing each Tuesday afternoon during months of May, June, July, August and September, we desire to inform you that we have decided to close on the half days in question entively on our own responsibility and without consulting any one else about it. We cannot see our way clear to close any earlier than 8 o'clock ordinarily, as our trade is largely with working men, whose only chance to make purchases is after their day's work is finished. We think there are many points in favor of the half holiday and these points are so obvious, it is unnecessary for us to go into further explanation.
