Local C. P. R. Improvements

That the Canadian Pacific railroad intends making extensive improvements on the Western Division, ample evidence is given in notices which are posted up in different parts of the city. These notices, it will be observed show quite a nice share for Revelstoke and it is to be hoped that local contractors will be fortunate enough to secure the contracts. The notices read as follows:

The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. invite tenders for the erection of the following buildings on District No. 1, Pacific Division.

Freight Sheds. — Albert Canyon, Notch Hill, Watmore and Tappen Siding.

No. 2 Section Houses.—Cedar, Redgrave, Emerald Siding, Carlin, Sicamous, Downie, Revelstoke, Golden, and Hector.

No. 3. Section Houses.—Cut Bank, Squilax.

Engine House for Notch Hill.
Employees Cottage, Revelstoke.
Coal Shed for Sicamous.
Station for Revelstoke.
Right-of-way fencing.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of J. P. Forde, resident engineer, and tenders to be marked "Tenders for Railways" must be sent to T. Kilpatrick, superintendent, Revelstoke, B. C., not later than the 31st day of March.

Ye Olden Time Social.

The Epworth League will hold an olden time social in the Parsonage next Monday evening to which they invite their friends. Those attending are requested to wear some article of ye olden time costume, although those without such costume will be welcomed. Admission 25 cents. Music, games and refreshments of ancient times will be provided.

Carpenters' Union

A meeting of the local branch of the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union was held in the Lougheed block Monday evening. A motion to adopt the nine hour day in this city was passed and a letter was sent to each of the contractors informing them of the decision of the union and asking them for their approval of the same. The committee of the union and the contractors are discussing the situation.

Presentation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hume were the recipients on Saturday last of a very costly wedding present from the employees of the company. The gift was in the form of a beautiful Hall marked, gold lined, initialled silver tea and coffee service. The whole set was enclosed in a handsome seal grained, plush lined case, and constituted a souvenir of which Mr. and Mrs. Hume may justly feel proud considering the motives which prompted the gift.

Woodmen At Home

The C. W. O. W. Camp Mountain View 229, held an "At Home" last night in Selkirk Hall, at which some 150 guests were present. The program opened with a musical entertainment upstairs, the orchestral music being furnished by Miss Shook and Mr. Doyle. Dancing to music furnished by Mrs. Lumb and Mr. Doyle, began in the lower hall as soon as the upstairs program was over, and was kept up until the small hours of the morning. For those who did not wish to dance all kinds of amusements were introduced upstairs, and thus every taste was catered for. To say that everybody was delighted is to express it mildly, and the C. W. O. W., deserve the thanks and congratulations of all for one of the most successful "At Homes" held in this city.

The Irish Concert

The Irish concert held at the Opera House on the 17th instant, proved a great success. A large audience attended and, throughout the entire programme, showed their appreciation by repeated encores. To add to the charm of the evening, the Independent Band gave selections appropriate to the occasion. The first item on the programme was the old favorite "Killarney." Mrs. Wilkes rendered this song very sweetly and received a most enthusiastic encore. A quartette consisting of Mesdames Dent and Lawrence and Messrs. Allum and Barber then followed and met with a similarly pleasing welcome. Miss Myrtle Cathell's song "Bedelia" also gained her an encore, and the same applies to Master Fred Fraser's character song "The Little Boy in Blue." These two items were remarkably well rendered and reflect great credit on the two juvenile entertainers. Mr. Humphrey's song, "The Minstrel Boy," was rendered in good style. His voice and good taste in selection on such occasions usually meeting with general approval. B. A. Lawson's comic reading, too, caused much merriment amongst his hearers, for Mr. Lawson reads well. Equally well rendered and received were the quartette by Mesdames Bews, Lawrence, Dent and Wilkes; song (Rory O' Moore) by Mr. Burk, recitation (St. Peter at the Gate) by Mr. Henry; comic turn by Mr. Platt, of the Platt Fanning Co., and a song with tableaux effect by Mrs. Bews. The credit of the success of the entertainment belongs to the ladies of the Altar Guild of the Roman Catholic who worked hard for that cause to which the proceeds are to be devoted.

Remember that on Easter Monday the Rathbone Sisters will give a ball in Selkirk Hall. Particulars later.

CHANGES IN AUTONOMY ACT

In the Opinion of Many Members the Amendment is worse than the Original Clause—Trouble Ahead.

OTTAWA, March 20.—The Commons was put in possession tonight of the government's proposed amendment to the educational clause of the autonomy bill. It reads: "Section 93 of the B. N. A. Act, 1867, shall apply to the said province with a substitution for subsection 1 of said section 93 of the following sub-section:

"1. Nothing in any such law shall prejudicially affect any right or privilege with respect to separate schools which any class of persons have at the date of the passing of this act under the terms of chapters 29 and 30 of the ordinances of the Northwest Territories, passed in the year 1901.

"2. In the appropriation by the legislature or distributing by the government of the province of any money for the support of schools organized and carried on in accordance with said chapter 29 or any act passed in amendment thereof or in substitution therefor, there shall be no discrimination against schools of any class desirability in the said chapter 29.

"3. Where the expression "by law" is employed in sub-section 3 of the said section 93, it shall be held to mean the law as set out in the said chapters 29 and 30, and where the expression "at the union" is employed in said subsection 3 it shall be held to mean the date at which this act comes into force."

Loyal Orange Lodge Meeting.

At the regular meeting of L. O. L. No. 1658, held in the lodge room on Friday evening the 17th inst., the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

Moved by Bro. Ed. Adair, seconded by Bro. Rev. W. C. Calder:

"Resolved, that we, the officers and members of Revelstoke L. O. L. No. 1658, assembled in lodge room in the City of Revelstoke, in the Province of British Columbia, this 17th day of March, 1905, desire on this our first opportunity to express our heartfelt sorrow with which as Orangemen we learned of the untimely death of Most Worshipful Bro. E. F. Clarke, M. P. We are deeply conscious that in the departure of M. W. Bro. Clarke our Order has lost a most efficient officer, the city of Toronto an honored representative, the Canadian House of Commons a respected councillor, and the Dominion of Canada an honest, upright and talented citizen. To the widow and family of our departed brother, we would extend the sincere sympathy of our Order in this their hour of sad bereavement, and we would assure them that we as Orangemen will ever inscribe the name of E. F. Clarke in our memories, and that we will look back with pride to the record of Bro. Clarke as that of a true, noble and worthy Orange brother and citizen.

"We realize how helpless we are to lighten your burden of grief by anything we can say or do, but we are prompted by the hope that this expression of fraternal sympathy may in some degree cheer and comfort you, may you be able to see in this the hand of God, and put your trust in Him. We hope you will find that the hand of Providence which has removed from your home a loved one, is willing and ready to bind up the broken hearts, pouring in the oil of His everlasting love.

"Our prayer is that He who doeth all things well, will bless and help you until you meet beyond the river where the surges cease to roll."

"Resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Sentinel, and local press for publication, and a copy forwarded to the bereaved family, also a copy be spread on the minutes of our lodge, and that our Warrant be draped in mourning for the space of 30 days.

"Signed on behalf of the Lodge and Officers, J. H. Armstrong, W. M.; Thos. Steed, Fin. Sec.; Edward Adair, Rev. W. C. Calder."

Moved by Bro. Ed. Adair and seconded by Bro. Rev. W. C. Calder and resolved:

"Whereas the Government of the Dominion of Canada has introduced a bill for the purpose of forcing separate schools upon the inhabitants of the the two new provinces, Alberta and Saskatchewan; and whereas the said bill does not promote fellowship and brotherly love, but rather bitterness and strife; and whereas the said bill is not of a progressive character, but one detrimental to the welfare and liberty of the community of the aforesaid provinces;

"And whereas the said bill is in direct opposition to the separation of Church and State, be it therefore resolved, that we, the officers and members of Revelstoke L. O. L. No. 1658, assembled in lodge room, in the city of Revelstoke, in the Province of British Columbia, this 17th day of March, 1705, desire to express our profound regret in the Government forcing separate schools upon the aforesaid provinces, producing neither peace on earth nor good will toward our fellowmen; be it further resolved, That every man in favor of freedom of speech and liberty of conscience, rise in his full strength and again administer the medicine which acted so freely in the campaign of 1896, when separate schools were at that time the issue; be it further resolved, that we as Orangemen unitedly stand for "Equal rights for all and special privileges to none," one school, one language, and one flag"

"Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Sentinel and local press for publication, and a copy forwarded to our member Mr. Wm. Galliher, M.P., Ottawa.

"Signed on behalf of the lodge and officers, J. H. Armstrong, W. M., Thos. Steed, Fin. Sec., Edward Adair, P. M., Rev. W. C. Calder, Chap."

Rocky Mountain Rifles.

On Tuesday evening R. M. R. Company 5, held another of their popular monthly dances (in aid of the gymnasium fund) which was largely attended. Music was furnished by Mrs. Lumb (piano) and R. N. Doyle (violin), and the dance which broke up at 12:30 proved to be one of the most enjoyable yet held by the Company.

A gymnasium has recently been installed at the drill hall consisting of: 1 single and 1 double-end punching bag; 2 sets boxing gloves; a Sandow developer; 2 pairs Indian clubs; 5 pairs dumbbells; 3 pairs single sticks and helmets; flying and travelling rings and a climbing rope. A well equipped reading room has also been established for the benefit of the members of the Company, in which is to be found all the latest newspapers and magazines, also games, including cards, checkers, chess, dominoes and ping pong.

Throughout the winter the Company members have been practising shooting with the Morris tube, which, by the way, is a tube which fits inside the rifle barrel in order to fire a very small bullet, and the resulting scores have been very praiseworthy. Following is a list of the winners of the competition shoots:

1st, Sergt. J. Donald, box of cigars, presented by Capt. Brown.

2nd, Pte. H. Shardlow, set of military hair brushes by Lieut. R. Smith.

3rd, Corpl. E. Hansen, prize presented by Brown's cigar store.

4th, Pte. A. Woodland, cash prize.

5th, Pte. T. Nelson, cash prize.

R. M. R. Company No. 5 deserves our best support, not alone for the noble cause of patriotism which inspires it, but also for the energy it has displayed in its efforts towards efficiency, and finally for the many pleasant evenings which it has been the means of furnishing to the citizens during the past season.

A Strong Attraction.

Commencing on Monday next March 27th, the Russell-Davis Company will open a week's engagement at the Revelstoke Opera House. The opening play will be the four-act rural comedy entitled "The Pumpkin Husker," from the pen of Laurence

MISS EMMA MARIE DAVIS

Russell, author of "A Millionaire Tramp," "Autumn Leaves," etc. A good line of specialties are introduced between acts, thus avoiding the usual long and tedious waits.

Revelstoke Hospital Society.

There was an unusually large attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Hospital Society held in the council chamber on the evening of the 13th March.

After the usual business had been transacted the question of the appointment of a doctor for Arrowhead was taken up, and it was unanimously decided to appoint Dr. J. H. Hamilton of Nelson.

The Secretary then read a letter from Mr. George Gibson, enclosing a largely signed petition objecting to the removal of Doctor Chipperfield from the medical staff of the hospital and after some discussion the following resolution was unanimously carried:

"That the petition received with regard to replacing Dr. Chipperfield on the hospital staff be filed and that the petitioners be notified through Mr. Gibson, that the Board do not consider that the services of four doctors are required or that the finances of the hospital can stand the expense of four doctors, and that a third doctor, resident at Arrowhead has been appointed, Dr. Chipperfield having refused to accept that appointment when offered to him by the Board. And that if at any time the petitioners have any complaint against the present staff, the Board will be ready to listen to any complaint that may be presented through their proper representatives on this Board and that in future no petition will be received unless presented through the proper representatives of the petitioners on the Board."

SHOOTS HIS SWEETHEART

Awful Act of Jealousy at Enderby—M. H. Baird Also Injured in Struggling With Crazed Lover

ENDERBY, B. C., March 21.—Crazed with jealousy, Thomas Flood shot and wounded his sweetheart and her brother-in-law, and nearly wounded another man. The wonder is that there are not two or three dead persons here at the present moment, and a murderer in jail. It appears that a friendship which nearly culminated in marriage, sprang up between Flood and Miss Coles, sister-in-law to M. H. Baird, of this town. The wedding did not come off.

On Saturday last Flood went to Boyd's house and there met Miss Coles and others. When the time came for the girl to go to the place where she was working, a small party went to the door to say good-bye. A young man named Milligan was about to accompany Miss Coles to her home, but just as they were starting, Flood raised a revolver and fired at the girl's head. The bullet missed, and Baird rushed to seize Flood and prevent further mischief. The crazed man turned the gun on Baird and shot him through the wrist. Milligan made a rush towards the man as he fired again at the girl. This time the bullet went through her arm in the fleshy part above the elbow. Milligan sprang on to Flood and endeavored to get the revolver from him. In the scuffle, Flood managed to fire again, with the result that the bullet passed through Milligan's coat. Geo. Pollard, a negro, assisted the others and Flood was secured and taken to jail to await his trial.

The Methodist Church Ladies' Aid is busy making a large number of useful and fancy articles for their sale of work on April 18th. There is a healthful rivalry between the leaders of the various booths, as to which will be the best.

THE GRAND TRUNK—SENATOR TEMPLEMAN—SOLID SEVEN.

Mr. Morse, vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, left Victoria last Friday night, passing through Revelstoke on Saturday night for the east. Before leaving Victoria Mr. Morse made a definite statement, once to the press and once to the Board of Trade, to the effect that a proposition had been made by his company to the Provincial Government, but had not been accepted; and that, therefore, failing the desired provincial inducements to commence construction work at this end, simultaneously with other points, the company would adhere to their original plan and build the line from the east westward.

Negotiations in this direction being now broken off, it is worth while taking a glance—a pitying glance—at the muddle the Liberal party has got itself into over the matter. Prior to and during the recent general election, the people of British Columbia were solemnly assured by persons in high places that construction would commence in British Columbia simultaneously with other points in the provinces and territories lying east of us. The Hon. Mr. Prefontaine told us so—in fact, took the trouble to come all the way over the Rockies to say it. The Hon. Senator Templeman told us so. True, there was no word of any such arrangement in the contract, but—oh, well—the matter was definitely assured anyway. And the people believed Messrs. Prefontaine and Templeman—they being very honorable gentlemen in high places—and sent some solid Liberals to Ottawa.

But, the election having been won, things began to look very different. It became apparent that the Grand Trunk Pacific was not, and never had been, entertaining the least idea of starting construction work at this end, unless it was very well paid for it. No one can blame the Grand Trunk—but what about the honorable gentlemen in high places who had pledged their words? They were as dumb as oysters but Senator Templeman's organ in Victoria undertook to drag a red herring across the trail.

And the herring was accordingly dragged. It took the form of a deep and deadly plot—which, according to Senator Templeman's said organ, the Victoria Times—had been entered into between the McBride government and the Grand Trunk Pacific, whereby Mr. McBride and his colleagues were to acquire vague but enormous wealth by handing over a vast expanse of territory to the Grand Trunk people, who in return for such complacency were to commence construction right away. Or maybe not, but they would get the land anyway.

In the matter of object and detail, the plot seemed to the judicial eye to be somewhat lacking in finish; but it suited the Liberals admirably, in that it cloaked the falsehood and folly of their leaders, and they raised a terrible outcry against the Provincial Government for its intended sacrifice of the people's heritage.

Then Mr. Morse arrived. Then, also nothing happened. And the weeks went on and still nothing happened. It began to be whispered that Mr. Morse was scared of the Provincial Government. The lion wouldn't roar; the rascally Conservatives refused to be rascals. Now Mr. Morse has gone home with empty hands, the Grand Trunk Pacific will—as Mr. Morse puts it—arrive in British Columbia on schedule time in 1911, and the bewildered public is beginning to sit up and ask the Liberal party what it all means, anyway.

In discussing the affair, there is one closing word. Had Mr. Morse's proposition to the Government been of a business-like character, such as could have been fairly entertained by faithful representatives of the people, a satisfactory arrangement might have been entered into. But the nature of his proposition was so altogether out of proportion, that no self-respecting government could consider it.

It is not yet known what explanations Senator Templeman will offer to the people of British Columbia.

EVERYBODY CLEAN UP.

Cleanliness is essential to public health and general attractiveness. To clean up the back yard, the vacant lots and the alley ways is as much of a duty as attention to the person.

If Revelstoke is to be clean, healthful, beautiful, the average citizen must do his part. All classes are busy and inclined to leave things to the city officials. The general desire is, or ought to be, for a cleaner Revelstoke. But everything can not be left to the officials. Citizens must do their part, which is to clean up their premises and see that garbage is not dumped on unused ends of streets or on vacant lots. In this connection the HERALD would advocate the appointment by the council of a city scavenger whose duty it would be to remove garbage collections to the dumping ground.

The question of cleaner streets in Revelstoke, as in all other cities, is always present. It will always be to the front, especially at this season of the year, in municipal affairs. Progress is not continuous. It stops, goes forward, there is retrogression, then forward again and again. We move by steps. No public progress will come where there is no desire for it. The interest of individuals is necessary. So in the movement for a cleaner Revelstoke there is work for the individual citizen as well as the city official. They should work, however, in harmony. That is the way to get results.

New Field for Settlement.

In the northern part of British Columbia, east of the Coast range and a little south of the Bulkeley Valley, lies a large country that has only been seen by a few white men, mostly fur traders. To most people this part of British Columbia has always been looked upon as very rough and barren in fact, a portion of what is generally termed the "Frozen North," and it is only since the talk of the Grand Trunk railway that the public have paid any attention to the occasional reports published, of a country which in the near future will be one of the best stock-raising districts in British Columbia.

The Ootsa and Chastabta country is of an open rolling nature, the hills being covered with a light growth of poplar, amongst which is the finest kind of feed, grasses and peavine. In the bottom lands the soil is rich and deep, much of it well adapted for agricultural purposes. Water is plentiful, there being several rivers and very fine lakes, which abound with fish. To the south of Ootsa lake lies Anham lake district. Here are found large swamp meadows, some of which are thousands of acres in extent, and will afford excellent feed for cattle. This country is timbered mostly with black pine and spruce.

The climate is far from being as severe as might be imagined from the latitude. The warm breezes from the Pacific find their way in through the passes of the mountains and exert their influence towards keeping the atmosphere at a more equable temperature than is found further east. The summer is fairly free from frost, and potatoes, turnips and oats are grown by the natives. The snowfall in winter is not heavy, averaging from a foot to a foot and a half between the end of December and April. There are occasional cold snaps, when the thermometer drops to 25 degrees to 30 degrees below, but no blizzards.

For the sportsman this country is a paradise, game of all kinds—caribou, game and wild fowl of every description being found in abundance. The large lakes and streams are full of fish of many kinds.

Little is known as to minerals, as very few prospectors have been in the country, but large bodies of coal have been found close to the trail and the natives have brought in pieces of quartz which look very promising.

The best way of entering this country is to take passage in the comfortable C. P. R. steamboats from Victoria or Vancouver to Bella Coola, from which point starts the only good trail. These boats run weekly from the beginning of May, the duration of the trip being two and a half days, through most beautiful scenery. Mr. William Sutherland of Bella Coola, who has spent two years in the country, will be pleased to afford any further information to persons desirous of making the trip through.

LAMENTABLE WEAKNESS

Of the Opposition at Victoria Exposed by their Obstruction Tactics—Unhappy Plight of Opposition Leader.

There has been little of a sensational nature in the House this week. The routine and other business of the session have been steadily advanced, with no hindrance save the obstructive tactics of the Opposition, whose sole idea of their high parliamentary duties appears to be to obstruct every measure advanced by the Government, simply because it is advanced by the Government. In pursuance of this lofty idea, they have with marked success contrived to delay the country's business without advancing their own ends, and to expose their own weakness without inflicting injury upon their opponents. Most of them appear to have realized their humiliating position since only the redoubtable John Oliver (Delta) and J. A. Macdonald (Rossland) took any notable part in the proceedings of the past week. The rest sat in sullen silence, or went out into the lobby to whisper fierce confidences into the ears of would-be railroad magnates. The Government maintains its steady majority or five or six, and the mental calibre of the present Opposition is not of a character to enable them to present any arguments that can alter the existing condition of affairs.

The Game Act has been probably the most discussed measure on the floor of the House this week. Every man likes to consider himself a sportsman, even if he isn't one; and the consequence has been that nearly every member of the House had something to say in regard to this important measure. The bill was in committee of the whole on Thursday, and had been put into pretty satisfactory shape when the House reported progress. It is a very distinct improvement on former legislation.

The Dyking Act, debate on the second reading of which was adjourned on Friday, while, too long for extended reference here, offers, it may be mentioned, a fair solution of a very important question. Naturally, there is considerable rivalry among the areas affected, and an attempt will doubtless be made to make political capital out of the matter, but the bill is a fair and equitable measure not-withstanding.

In the discussion over the bill to amend the unrepealed sections of the provisions of the Assessment Act, Mr. J. A. Macdonald, leader of the Opposition, took occasion to place himself—not for the first time—in a very unhappy light before the House. He accused the Government of bringing down the measure in order to enable them to recover certain moneys from the Le Roi Mining Co., and announced the receipt of a telegram from the manager of that company, denying that the company was indebted to the Government. He then read the despatch, and proceeded to argue the matter which very strongly suggested counsel for the defence.

Mr. Macdonald's extraordinary conduct in this matter was a painful surprise to his friends. He appeared to have totally forgotten the dignity of the House where he stood, and to be solely desirous of plunging the Government into a dispute with a mere private company, whose presumably self-constituted champion he was. He argued the case for the Le Roi company with a heat that gave rise to unavoidable surmises, and read the telegram of a private person, manager of a private company, at rather than to the Government, with all the air of one issuing a defiance, or uttering a threat.

The Finance Minister, with a contemptuous brevity that cut like a *knife, said that the statement con*tained in the telegram was not true, and that the sender thereof must have known it.

The Premier, after finally disposing of Mr. Macdonald's friend's telegram by pointing out that the amount of taxation as claimed by the province had been admitted by counsel on either side when the case was under review, proceeded to read the leader of the Opposition a severe lecture on the peculiar line of tactics he had adopted. His remarks, though very harsh, were more than justified, as this is the second time this session that Mr. Macdonald, opposition leader, has dragged the Le Roi by the ears into public questions. And people are beginning to make unpleasant remarks about it.

With further reference to the railway matters now under consideration by the Government, alluded to in last week's correspondence, it is worthy of note, as illustrating the onerous nature of the task devolving upon Mr. McBride and his colleagues in selecting the most advantageous policy, that there are now, by actual count, close upon twenty different railway projects before the Government. Some of these propositions have merit—a good many have none at all, indeed are absolutely worthless except to their promoters. Now, it must be abundantly clear to every thinking man with the smallest appreciation of the straitened financial circumstances of the province, that it is not possible at the present time and under the present conditions, to launch out into a policy of large expenditure, such as would be involved by an attempt to deal with all or even the meritorious among these propositions.

The object, therefore, that the Government has in view, the problem that they have to solve, is to secure the construction of such railways as shall reach those sections of the country whose development thereby will be of the greatest benefit to the greatest number, and thus most beneficial to the province as a whole.

For instance, not a few of these railway projects—good enough schemes for development had the province a large banking account—traverse in the main districts very thinly, if at all, populated. Of such are, say, the Kootenay Central and a large portion of the Grand Trunk Pacific. Other lines, again, would open up to quicker communication and better market facilities wealthy and long-populated districts, whose settlers have struggled on—in some cases for a score of years—hoping against hope for that more speedy and closer connection with the world's markets without which the wealth of their districts is of little use. Of such as these is the long-suffering Similkameen; and it is a satisfaction to be able to say that, out of some two or three railway projects which are now finally likely to be accepted by the Government one at least looks to the prompt opening-up of this much neglected section of the province. This is definitely known by those who are in close touch with the Government plans for railway development, as far as at present matured.

The Government is satisfied, in spite of the difficulties above alluded to, that, before the close of the present session, it will be in a position to bring down legislation which, while ultimately leading to the closer connection of the Coast and the Kootenays, will ensure the commencement of immediate construction on much-needed lines in the interior, upon terms in every way satisfactory to the country at large.

THE DEBATE ON AUTONOMY BILL

Provincial Rights Championed by the Conservatives—Foster Scores the Ministers—Proposed School Compromise.

OTTAWA, March 20.—The debate on the autonomy bill goes far to strengthen the opinion of those who hold that educational questions should be left to the provinces to which they rightly belong. Not for many years has there been a debate in the Commons characterized by so much acerbity. On Wednesday evening Mr. Foster delivered one of the greatest speeches ever heard in parliament, in which he scored the ministers for the humiliating spectacle they presented at the present time. He then contrasted what Premier Laurier said when he posed as a strong champion of provincial rights with his course this year. The premier had claimed that his desire was to crown with absolute and complete autonomy the territorial administration, but everybody behind knew ten minutes later that autonomy would not be complete. It could not be said that the bill was the result of consultation with the representatives of the Northwest. It had no friend in the cabinet. Parliament was not legislating today for Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec or Ontario, but for the great West, and this without Mr. Sifton being a member of the cabinet. The premier was dangling the portfolio of the interior before Western followers to keep them quiet. Mr. Foster warned Sir Wilfrid that the financial clauses would bring on him demands for better terms for every province of the Dominion. It was when Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick rose that the house stirred.

The minister of justice lost his head at the very outset by charging the Conservatives with appealing to prejudices, and that they would find their appeals nothing but broken, as in 1896, when they sought to appeal to the prejudices of the Catholic of Canada. Proceeding, Mr. Fitzpatrick declared the Conservatives in the House one to inflame the Protestants, the other to stir up Catholics. He declared the latter were being circulated in the province of Quebec by the secretary of the Jacques Cartier Club, which extended hospitality to the leader of the opposition within the past ten days. Ministerialists cheered this remark. Mr. Borden rose and said if every other statement of the minister of justice was as devoid of truth as that just uttered—here an uproar drowned his voice. When Mr. Borden was heard again he asked Mr. Fitzpatrick to make good the statement or withdraw it. The minister then had to hunt his hole, admitting his statement was incorrect. Mr. Borden tackled Mr. Fitzpatrick again and made him take back the statement that Quebec petitions emanated from gentlemen on the Conservative side of the House. Cornered once more, Mr. Fitzpatrick claimed he never uttered the words, a statement which was challenged by many members. The upshot of the discussion was only to create bad blood and for this Mr. Fitzpatrick was largely responsible.

Parliament is all agog now as to the nature of the compromise which the government will propose on the school question. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been in conference with Mons. Sbaretti, papal delegate, on several occasions last week. The church authorities are strongly opposed to any recession from the original proposition, but it is said Sir Wilfrid Laurier strongly impressed upon them that in the present temper of public opinion the only course that can be adopted is one of conciliation.

It is stated today that the school clause now contains a simple declaration that in the distribution of money to schools the legislature shall not discriminate against any particular class of schools. The Liberal papers announce that this modification has been accepted by the Western delegation.

Remember that on Easter Monday the Rathbone Sisters will give a ball in Selkirk Hall. Particulars later.

The Knocker

With the advent of Spring there are the usual signs of returning life. The snows are melting on the mountains, the streams are noisy with their swelling waters, the fields are robing themselves in green, the buds are bursting, the song birds are with us again, and the very air is instinct with life and vibrant with energy. The grizzly and silver-tip have forsaken their resting places in the hills to satiate their whetted appetites, and forth from his winter quarters into the haunts of men comes the 'knocker' rejoicing in his rejuvenated strength. What matters it to him that the days are bright? His sky is always overcast. The glory of to-day's sunshine is to his jaundiced eye but the ominous potent of stormy to-morrows. The season may be promising to the healthful soul of the farmer, and the business outlook cheering to the man of affairs, but the "knocker's" spirit is oppressed with the burden of impending disasters and shrouded to impenetrable gloom. The cloud may have a silver lining for everyone else but not for him. Like the poor, no community is without him. His lugubrious countenance is seen on "the corner" in every hamlet, on the streets of every town and in the crowded thoroughfares of every city, while the melancholy cadence of his voice may be heard in every gathering, both small and great.

Of "knockers" there are two distinct varieties — there is the "knocker" by nature and the "knocker by profession." The former being afflicted by a congenial twist of his mental vision, is an object of pity rather than censure. Like the darkie he was "bo'n that way" and can't help it. Not so the professional "knocker." He is a deliberate perversion of nature. As a rule he is not a man that "does things." His distinguishing characteristics are narrow-mindedness and jealousy of all who achieve success or give promise of so doing. He is forever deploring the lack of progress in the community, never initiates anything for its betterment, and persistently decries the efforts of others. His pessimism leads to distrust of his fellows and he is ever ready to impugn their motives. Censorious, complaining, skeptical, sneering and suspicious, he is an enemy to all progress and a worse than useless member of society.

The sad feature of the case, however, is that our professional "knocker" should receive such a large hearing. His imaginings are delivered with the authority of an oracle and are apt to pass with the unthinking as undoubted verities. In this way his influence is likely to extend further than his vapourings merit, and the entire community may unconsciously become innoculated with his baseless innuendoes. The only safeguard against the knocking microbe is for each member of society to refuse to accept unfathered rumours and cut-and-dried conclusions, bringing his own individual intelligence into requisition in each case. Thus the "knocker" will soon find his audience vanished and his occupation gone. He will either have to seek "green fields and pastures new" or fall in line with the procession whose banner is "Hope" and whose watchword "Progress." — Chilliwack Progress.

ARE YOU A MUSICIAN?

REVELSTOKE INSURANCE AGENCY
Revelstoke, B. C.

GENTLEMEN:

The Nordheimer Piano, which I had the pleasure of using during the "Columbian Ladies' Trio" Concert in your City, gave me the greatest satisfaction. Its tone is clear and brilliant and of a thoroughly musical quality. With its great volume and purity of tone and an easy, elastic touch, it admirably adapts itself for the work, power and expression.

Yours truly,
BLANCHE DEERING.

Mr. O'Brien is arranging to form a company to operate a large brewing and malting establishment in the city, and is meeting with great success in carrying out his plans. At present no malt is made in British Columbia, and there seems a good opening for such an industry to supply the coast breweries, which now have to import from the east. The company will be capitalized at $50,000, in shares of $100 each. The plans for the new brewery will be modelled from those of the Vilter Manufacturing Co., Milwaukee, Wis., one of the largest and most complete and up-to-date in the United States. Its capacity will be 7000 to 10,000 bbls. per year.—Vernon News.

Card of Thanks.

To thank personally or by letter over 400 persons to whom one is indebted, is an undertaking of such magnitude as to be with difficulty accomplished.

Feeling therefore, that some token of my gratitude is due to those men, all contributors to the Revelstoke Hospital, who were recently instrumental in getting up, with great trouble and no little expense, a largely signed petition, praying for my retention on the hospital staff, I take this opportunity of publicly thanking them for the efforts they put forth to assist me. That the petition did not accomplish its object, does not lessen the significance of that document, nor the good intentions of those who signed it. Nor does it affect in the slightest degree my appreciation of the confidence and goodwill which actuated the men to take up the pen on my behalf.

GEO. CHIPPERFIED, M. D.

Card of Thanks
