A FOUL MURDER.

Discovery of the Body of Chief of Police Main of Steveston.

The body of the late Alexander Main, Chief of the Steveston Police, who has been missing since Saturday, was found on Wednesday afternoon 100 yards from the shack of the chinamen who were arrested last night, with a gaping wound in his neck. His legs were also badly cut up. There was an ugly slashed wound in the neck near the jugular vein, and numerous smaller wounds.

The body was partly covered and had evidently been hastily buried. The excitement is intense and the town is in an uproar.

The finding of the remains was due to the activity of the police, who were unremitting in their efforts to find a clue to the missing man. The deceased was a powerful man, and must have been attacked unawares. The deep, gaping stab in the base of the neck probably having been delivered from behind. The wounds in the legs show evidence of a fearful struggle having taken place.

"GOVERNOR" MACKINTOSH.

The Man of the Hour for Kootenay.

A man is needed, who can dominate by intellectional superiority and force of will the Cottons and Martins and their like. A man who has a statemanlike grasp of the future of this province and can mould it to its destiny, who can interpret and transform into the joint action we call government, the inspirations after progress and advancement in every citizen's mind. That man is easily recognizable in the Hon. Charles Mackintosh, and there is but one voice in the district calling him to the helm. In the attitude taken by Mr. Mackintosh in accepting the nomination, it is clear how well he understood the situation, and how willing he was to contribute his help to remedy it, even if modesty forbade his sharing the full confidence of his supporters that he, and he alone, is the man of the hour. He took high ground. "I am a Conservative," he said in effect, "and take pride in the fact, but the crisis at present existing in the province is one that far transcends the power of a party organization to remedy it. It calls for patriotism first and party second." Nor would he accept the nomination from the Liberal-Conservative party, unless they would consent to that amount of self abnegation which would enable him to rally in support of the principles of right government, every right thinking man of whatever party. The Conservatives honored themselves in sinking party success for the triumph of patriotism. They had done so once before in the history of Canada and with the happiest results. They were ready again to sink part success for the triumph of the common good.—Trail News.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Ex-Governor Mackintosh should be able to make a good fight of it in the Kootenays. His nomination by the Rossland Conservatives has the approval of the Conservatives throughout the Province. Mr. Mackintosh has ample experience as a political fighter.—World.

On being nominated by a convention of the People's Party at Nanaimo to contest Nanaimo City constituency at the coming election, Mr. Ralph Smith said of Premier Martin: "His principles are first-class. If Joe Martin gets into power and brings forward the principles he has laid down I will support him. But I don't think he will get the power, and if he gets the power I don't think he will bring them forward. To say that I would not support the principles, would be a misstatement, for if he brings forward a good principle I will certainly support it.

No matter how the fight goes in British Columbia, the people of that province will have good cause to remember Hon. T. R. McInnes with gratitude.

British Columbia politics has been a chaos of sectional interests and personal likes and dislikes.

The action of the Lieutenant-Governor has already brought something like order out of the confusion. The people are lining up on clearly defined issues, and the result of the polling should supply British Columbia with the materials for a strong government and an aggressive opposition.—Toronto Telegram.

At a Conservative convention held in Chilliwack on Saturday, at which thirty-five delegated were present, G. R. Ashwell, general merchant, was chosen as a straight Conservative candidate to represent the Conservatives of Chilliwack district in the forthcoming provincial elections. After the convention a Conservative mass meeting was held. The speakers of the evening were Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, present on invitation of the Conservative Association of Chilliwack, and S. Livingston, representing Charles Wilson, Q. C., thus appearing as the provincial Conservative leader. There were over 600 present in the hall.

BOURNE BROS.

CONSERVATIVE PRINCIPLES.

Our Leader Comments on the New Westminster Platform.

Charles Wilson Q. C, addressed the Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association of Vancouver on Tuesday evening, touching on all the points of the New Westminster platform. He spoke of the new departure in British Columbia, the novelty of party lines in the election to come on in the Province in a short time. There were two things they lacked, a party organ and a war fund. They were like the thirteen American Colonies in 1777. He looked for the triumph of the Conservative party, and the ending of the chaotic state of affairs in British Columbia. Party government was undoubtedly the best form of government that had been devised as practicable by any people. Every person would then know where he stood. Then they would get rid of the mongrel personal governments. Ministers would not only be responsible to the people but to the party.

He thought there had been a great deal of nonsense talked on the Chinese question. Since 1878, many acts had been placed on the statute books, but they had either been declared ultra vires by the courts or were dissallowed as being opposed to some portion of the policy of the Dominion Government. He proposed a perfect remedy. They should take the matter out of the legislation affairs, and effect the contract; that was a proposition that would work out well, legally. For instance, if a corporation came to a Legislature, the constant practice had been to insert anti-Chinese clauses in the private bill. These were absolute nonsense. The Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council should be empowered to place this in contracts, not in acts of parliament, which sombody would declare ultra vires. The law could be so fixed that every privilege given should be abrogated if the terms of the contract were not carried out. He had thought out this proposition very thoroughly and was certain that it was the true solution of the difficulty.

Mr. Wilson then took up the various planks of the platform. They should stop at nothing to build trunk roads throughout the Province. He did not believe in juggling with the money of the people, but he did believe in distributing money that, while not immediately remunerative, would tend to the ultimate good and advancement of the Province. The question of the improvement of administering of justice should receive the best of attention; it was an important feature. He read the plank regarding the settlement of disputes between labor and capital. He appreciated the position of both employed and employer. It was a matter of very great importance. The Conservative party had not been fulsome in their promises. The promise to endeavor to bring employer and employed together was a most laudable object. The government ownership of railways plank was an important one; a difficult one, and one which would be met manfully. The intention was when the plank was inserted that this should be carried out.

Mr. Wilson referred to the plank that the Liberal Conservative party "sympathises with and endorses an eight-hour law." "An" eight-hour law; not "the" Eight hour Law, of the Parliament session of 1899, limiting hours which a man might work in metalliferous mines to eight hours. In this case there was no antecedent discussion the Act was, to some extent sprung on the Legislature. The effect has been in some respects of a very disastrous character. It has resulted in the closing of the Slocan mines and distrust arising between employer and employed. He would be sorry to legislate, as had been suggested by a member of the late Government who had said in his platform that it was merely a matter of wages. The principle of the Legislature to deal with the rate of wages was very dangerous. A change in the Legislature might show the danger of the principle, when wages might be decreased. The proper method in such an important matter would have been to call the leaders of labor and employers together. The Conservatives would have brought the two parties together, and if this would happen oftener then difficulties would be easier settled. Mr. Mayne Daly and Mr. Mackintosh helped Hon. Smith Curtis to carry out the healing of the breach between employer and employed in the City of Rossland. With these men behind him, and Mr. Ralph Smith to aid him, there was not much difficulty in settling the matter. There was not much merit in this, however, as Mr. Martin had been the main cause of the trouble. He failed to see why they should not also apply the eight-hour principle to other lines besides the working of metalliferous mines.

Messrs. Thos. Taylor, Conservative candidate for Revelstoke and G. H. Ashwell of Chilliwack also addressed the meeting and were warmly received. C. E. Tisdall ex-M. P. P. for Vancouver declared that he would give active and unqualified support to any four candidates selected by the Liberal-Conservative Vancouver convention to be held next Wednesday.

The meeting adjourned with cheers for Mr. Wilson.

Strathcona's Horse

Eight Vancouver recruits for Strathcona's Horse reserve went through on Wednesday to Calgary, which has been selected as the rendezvous of the troop. Insp. Strickland, who came with them to Revelstoke received five applications at Ashcroft and four at Kamloops, but he did not stop over at any place until he reached here. He had only four vacancies to fill in the mainland. He enlisted two men from Kamloops, named Sparkes and Grieves. Capt. Taylor had four applications to present to him from this point. W. R. Griffiths, an employee of P. Burns & Co., and Alf. Stringer were selected here and left for Calgary with Insp. Strickland this morning.

NEWS FROM THE FRONT

Both Sides Steadily Preparing for the Coming Struggle

CAMPAIGN AT A STANDSTILL.

British Troops Occupy Dewetsdorp, But It is Not Known Whether Wepener is Relieved or Not.—Heavy Rains Interrupt the Operations.—Roberts is Ready to Advance.

LONDON, April 20—The requisitioned remounts and equipments have arrived at Bloemfontein and all the infantry have tents. The Boers in the immediate neighborhood are quiet, but both sides are steadily preparing for the coming struggle. Lord Roberts is now ready.

Several lots of concealed arms and ammunition have been discovered at Bloemfontein this week.

A deluge of rain has brought the operations in the southeastern part of Free State almost to a standstill. The creeks are rushing rivers and the roads are streams of mud.

A despatch via the press censor at Bloemfontein reports an exchange of shots in the direction of Dewetsdorp, where the Boers are said to be concentrating after their withdrawal from Wepener. There is nothing else to indicate that the investment of Wepener has been abandoned and notwithstanding the rain the British made some progress, as Dewettsdorp has been occupied by them.

The rumor that Mafeking has been relieved is again current in London.

LONDON, April 19.—Heavy rains impede the movement of the British columns. The blockade of Wepener still continues although relief is near.

Large quantities of stores are being moved southward from Bloemfontein, made necessary by the operations in the southeast of the Free State.

There are two thousand sick in the field hospitals. With the exception of these facts the embargo on war news is almost complete.

LONDON, April 18.—Lord Roberts indicates that at least ten thousand men are advancing to cut off the Boers who are investing Wepener. He also wires that he expects to clear the south eastern section of the Free State east of the railway and then to swing round to the north and to turn one after another the positions held by the Boers north of Bloemfontein.

Gen. Buller's prohibition of all press telegrams in Natal is taken to indicate that a movement is about to begin there.

Mafeking is confident of holding out two months longer and the men in the trenches are determined to play the game to the end.

FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Death of Engineer R. Somes near Beavermouth.

The sad news was wired to town early yesterday morning that a freight train had encountered a rockslide near Beavermouth and the engine had rolled over, killing its driver, R. Somes, in the fall and injuring foreman Macdonald. The work delayed the No. 1 for nearly three hours and the dead man and his injured comrade were brought down on her. The principle injury and the one which presumably caused his death was a wound on the right temple, as if caused by striking a rock in his fall from the engine. The breast was bruised but not crushed. It is not really known how the accident happened. The freight train was coming west about three miles east of Beavermouth at about 2:30 a. m., E. Bongard being the conductor. The engine must have struck a rock in the track and turned completely over. The front brakesman went over with it and escaped unhurt. H. Macdonald, the fireman, was firing at the time. He found himself thrust off the platform and being shoved along by the trucks. His legs and body are badly bruised and he received a severe shaking but no bones broken. Engineer Somes was found with his legs still in the cab. As the air brake was on, it is certain that his last act was to an attempt to avert the accident by stopping his train. Two freight cars were derailed and smashed up.

Great sympathy is felt in the community with Fred. Somes and his family in the sudden taking off of their relative, who was a young man, well liked and respected by his comrades and all who knew him. The funeral arrangements are not yet complete as it is not exactly known when his mother and brothers will be able to get here. It will, however, take place either on Sunday or Monday, and will be conducted at the Presbyterian church by Rev. Mr. Calder of Pender Island. The Brotherhood of Railway Engineers, the Oddfellows and Orangemen have taken charge of the funeral. He will be interred next his wife in the cemetery. It was only last Sunday the poor fellow was up there placing flowers on her grave.

Mr. Beebe and the Fly.

There came nearly being a vacancy in the Martin cabinet Tuesday. While speaking to a friend on a street corner in Vancouver a fly flew into the mouth of the Hon. G. W. Beebe and floundered in its death struggles in the honorable gentleman's wind pipe. Mr. Beebe turned black in the face and was choking by the time his friend, having hurried him into a cab, had reached a doctor's office with him. A simple twist of the doctor's wrist extricated the pesky fly and to-day the Hon. G. W. Beebe is no worse for his terrible experience. Mr. Beebe is certain that if he had not received medical assistance when he did it would have been a serious matter with him.—Vancouver Province.

It is difficult to conceive how a magazine could be more happily or more helpfully adjusted to the more important interest of the present moment than is the April number of the North American Review. Among the excellent articles it contains are "War" by Emile Zola; "The Paris Exposition"-by B. D. Woodward, Assistant Commissioner-General of the United States; "Mistaken Sympathy with Republics" by Thomas G. Shearman; "An Obligation of Empire" by Mrs. Jos. Chamberlain; "Characteristics of English Fiction" by Geo. Moore; "Why British Workmen Condemn the War" by F. Maddison, M.P.; "A French General's Defence of the Boers" by General Count du Barail, formerly French Minister of War; "Preventing Food Adulteration by Federal Law" by Senator Mason; "John Ruskin" by Professor Charles Waldstein; "Roman Congregations and Modern Thought" by Dr. St. George Mivart, F.R.S.; "After Orthodoxy—What?" by the Rev. It takes a girl of fashion at least an hour to comb her hair so that it looks as if a comb had never been near it.

When a girl can get a man to teach her some game of cards, played only by two, she becomes so stupid that it takes her a whole winter to learn.

The Herald received a postcard from Trooper McNeill of the second contingent, this morning, written at the front on March 10th. It reads: "Just a line to let you know that we are going into action this afternoon. Our guns have been in action all morning. There are over 7000 Boers here (Victoria West)) and we are a mere handful, but latest reports say Lord Kitchener is coming to our relief. Eighteen of our men were wounded yesterday. We will not disgrace Calgary. I have not had a chance to write before." Trooper McNeill is one of the High River boys.

Another letter has been received from one of the Calgary boys in South Africa. It is dated Capetown, March 6, and addressed to J. W. Hayes. The writer Trooper Hugh Lee, says: "Ever since we have been here we have been escorting Boers from the train to the steamers. There have been 3000 put on board now and 4000 more to come. We hear that Lord Roberts has about 4000 or 5000 more corralled. We expect to go to the front any day. News comes today that out of 1027 of the first Canadian contingent that left Halifax there are only 300 left. The rest are sick or wounded. We had a fine trip coming over; lost only nine horses out of 296, having beat the record."

The death is recorded at Strathcona of W. B. Briggs, as estimable young Calgarian who had been teaching for the past seven years in Northern Alberta. Some months ago he was appointed principal of the Strathcona school, but after three months work was compelled by nervous breakdown to give up his work. His mother was called from Calgary and with his wife was a constant watcher at the sick man's bedside until death carried him off. He leaves a wife and one child. The funeral, which was attended by numerous sorrowing friends from Edmonton, Stratheona and Poplar Lake, took place at Poplar Lake cemetery, Rev. W. W. Adamson officiating. The Alberta Plaindealer contains an appreciative obituary in which it states that the late Mr. Briggs was held in the highest esteem throughout the district and his influence was always for good.

Mrs. Sanford of Winnipeg, who brought a number of servant girls from England and Ireland last year, left on the 14th of April for another party and expects to return in June. The fares for this party are being advanced by ladies desiring servants and a number have already forwarded them to W. F. McCreary, commissioner, Winnipeg, who will receive them until May 30th. The fare is very much reduced, one being only $46.25 from England to Calgary. An agreement is signed by each girl to have the amount of fare deducted from the first wages until repaid. Experienced general servants are promised $10 and $12 a month, according to experience, none but girls with good references are brought. Mrs Sanford personally selects and conducts this party and ladies requiring servants should not miss this opportunity of obtaining them.

QUACK

A lady in the city received this morning a communication from an eastern quack medicine company informing her that about three years ago she purchased a trial box of their cure-all, and requesting a full statement of her experience. The husband of the lady has forwarded the following reply:

MessrsGripem & Co., Toronto:

Gentlemen: I regret to inform you that my wife passed away shortly after the purchase mentioned in your letter, which I received this morning. I remember the circumstance perfectly. On opening the box she experienced a feeling of dizziness, lassitude and nervous debility. One dose sent her to the hospital. In three days your medicine overcame the combined efforts of three skilled physicians and at the expiration of a week she expired. Your pills can safely be recommended as an expeditious mode of committing suicide.

Yours,

There are so many people, says Bob Edwards, trying to palm themselves off as Scotch these days (we don't blame them) that it may be as well to give a receipt for discovering if your man is the real thing or no. Get the would be Scotchman talking about porridge or brose. If in referring to either one of these hopelessly Scotch articles of diet, he uses the plural "they" and "them" he is Scotch. A cottie from the purlieus of Gleskie shovelling a plate of porridge down his throat and remarking that "they are fine," is an inspiring sight for a person with a strong stomach.

Alberta Sun: The country is overflowing with the genial travelling man. There were 32 of him at a clatter one night last week at the Alberta hotel in Calgary. El Jollio and Tom must have had their work cut out for them that night. Last Thursday there were no fewer than ten of the fraternity staying at one of the Wetaskiwin hotels. This should be a good time to start a store on jawbone. So long as the travellers keep coming we won't fall asleep. They are object lessons to all in the little-known art of keeping wide awake. Long may they live and prosper!

THE TOMB OF ROMULUS.

Signor Bacelli Believes He Has Found the Black Stone.

Since Niebuhr wrote every schoolboy begins his entrance on higher criticism with learning that Romulus, Remus and the early kings of Rome are legendary myths and stories. The absence of an historical basis for the early centuries of Roman "history" has almost come to be granted.

But the spade, which is a weapon deadly to theorists over texts like Niebuhr and all his tribe, has suddenly moved the recorded history of Rome back some centuries. Excavation in the Forum has laid bare, near the Arch of Severus in the Comitia, the "black stone" which Latin writers believed to be the tomb of Romulus.

FROM ROMULUS' TOMB.

With this has been found the oldest inscription yet upturned associated with early Rome. It is earlier by a full century than previous inscriptions in Roman history. It is in a language which is to Latin much as Chaucer is to English. It reveals a Rome just such as Livy describes, a Rome of laws, sacrifices, rites, ceremonies and temples; a Rome about 650 B.C., with a king, letters, Greek trade and the surroundings of the city Roman historians drew.

This rewrites much theory, and it adds to the conviction that the dawn of European history requires a longer perspective than has been given it. But the possibilities of discovery reach their last limit when the Forum yields a record which goes back to the sack of the Gauls in 390 B.C., and adds 300 years to the contemporaneous evidence known on the history of Rome.

Signor Bacelli, the Italian Minister of Public Instruction, who unearthed the treasure, writes that it is noteworthy that the marble of the slabs is very rare even in Rome, where all kinds of white and colored marbles known to the ancients can be seen in the various monuments. It is some Tocnarian marble from the Laconian quarries of the Peloponnesus, easily known by the fine white veins which run through the opaque black grain of the stone. The inscription, so far as it can be deciphered and conjecturally restored, seems to designate the spot as a peculiarly sacred sacrificial locality, and this is borne out by the objects found near the stele, small votive statuettes, vases, and objects in bronze, iron and marble.

HOW TO CUT GLASS.

With Oil and a Hot Poker You Can Make Rings Out of a Bottle.

This week we give you a somewhat unique way of utilizing a broken bottle. Even if you do not care to make a practical use of the suggestion you will find it an interesting experiment in the study of heat.

When the neck of a bottle is broken off, a ragged edge is left, which wholly unfits the bottle for any use whatever, except to be thrown on the ash heap. Let us see how we may save it from that melancholy fate.

Place the bottom part of the broken bottle on a table and pour oil into it until it reaches the point where you would like to have the bottle cut. Then heat the end of an iron poker redhot and plunge it suddenly into the oil. There will be a little snapping sound, and you will see that the glass has been evenly cut all around on a level with the oil. The accompanying illustration shows the whole process.

If you wish to carry your experiment a little further and make a number of glass rings, you have only to remove part of the oil every time and repeat the process above described. Pour out, say, half an inch of the oil each time, and you may easily make several rings half an inch in breadth.

You will recognize in this experiment the same principle as in the fracture of a cold glass when hot water or hot coffee is poured into it. Glass is a poor conductor of heat, and the fracture is caused by the expansion of the inside of the vessel before the heat can get to the outside.—Philadelphia Times.

Flower Study.

Children in many European countries have excellent opportunity for the study of botany. The little city people have plants especially supplied them, and in a province of southern Russia 283 acres are devoted to school gardens. These gardens are planted with fruit and forest trees. Teachers instruct in tree, vine, grain and garden and also give lessons in the culture of bees and silkworms.

Besides Russia, Sweden, France, Austria and Germany provide opportunities for their children in this branch of education. In Berlin two large wagons loaded with plant specimens deliver cuttings, which have been labeled and packed for different schools, the daily papers having already notified what kinds are to be expected.—Baltimore Herald.

A Little Gentleman.

A little 4-year-old boy in the east end has as his particular playmate a little girl of about the same age. The little ones are frequently together, and the other morning the girl came to the fence and called b'n.

"Alton," she cried, "come over an play."

Alton's mamma heard the call and said to him, "Tell her you can't come over just now because you have to take bath."

So Alton went to the end of the porch.

"Elizabeth," he called, "I can't come over now."

Then he turned back to his mother and added:

"I don't fink the rest of it need be saided."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

CHOOSING A LIFE WORK.

Boys Must Fix Their Eyes on a Goal and Earnestly Strive to Attain It.

The principal of a boys' school was speaking to the pupils about their future life. He asked: "How many of you have decided what you will be when you become men?"

There was no reply. He then asked that any boy there who had selected his future occupation should hold up his hand. Out of the hundred, ten boys did so. Ninety had no idea what they were going to do in this world, for the world or for themselves. He then asked those who had given the matter some thought, but were yet undecided, to raise the hand. Fifteen hands went up. Seventy-five boys out of the hundred, between the ages of 14 and 20, had never thought about their future occupation. Considering that, how much could they expect to excel in anything or to make a mark in the world? Yet, doubtless, some of them, when men, will complain that wealth and honors are unevenly divided in this world.

The way to have honor, to become anybody of importance, to be a power among men, is not to envy another person, but to fix the eyes upon that goal and work for it, choosing early the path that leads to that eminence.

A young man desired to be a clergyman. He was the only child of a widow, who could not educate him. A wealthy gentleman, becoming interested in him, offered to defray the expenses of his education. He gladly accepted, prepared for college, and had just entered, when the gentleman failed, losing every dollar. The young man, of course, had to leave college, but he did not give up his determination to enter the ministry. He taught music that year, saved his money, and entered college. Continuing to teach in the college town, he supported himself through his whole college course.

I know of another young man who, with every opportunity to pursue one thing, changes his mind and his occupation about as often as he does his coat. He never gets above the drudgery part, and is only earning $3 a week, sometimes nothing, for there are frequent resting places at the change of his occupations. Who could expect him to make a success of his life?

No matter what profession or trade you take up, you have to work, and work harder and under more difficulties at the outset than farther on. The boy who wants to shirk this necessary drudgery is not made of the stuff which conquers in life.

Above all things, avoid being a "jack-of-all-trades." Some men have a genius for so many things that they cannot give enough attention to one thing to master it. I know of a youth of nearly 20 who can play and sing, mend a clock, a music box, an organ, invent little things, make toffee, draw, and—why, I hardly know anything he cannot do, and the consequence is, he is not doing anything. If anyone wants anything "fixed," he is the one who fixes it, but his life is not going to be "fixed" in any direction. In direct contrast to him is a companion of his, who has already served several years at his trade, and will some day turn out a first-class carpenter.

horse, on which hung the remains of a harness, and carrying a horse blanket on one arm.

"Who is that?" asked Sergeant Bartley as he peered out through the rain.

"It's me—Horstmeyer," answered the officer.

"Why," said the sergeant, "I thought you understood horses!"

"I do," answered Horstmeyer. "But I think it's a low German!"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Big Cedar.

The finest English elm in New York city is on the west side of Madison square. Probably the choicest tree in any of the New York city parks is the cedar of Lebanon in Prospect park. It stands on the meadow northeast of Lookout hill. The height, about 40 feet, is remarkable for this country, and it would bear no mean comparison to some of the famous ones in Kew gardens, London. It is claimed that there is only one finer cedar of Lebanon in the United States. It is on the Huntington estate at West Chester and is about 60 feet high. These trees are most attractive in the early summer, when the old and new cones hang pendent together. This tree does not cone until it is 40 years old.—New York Tribune.

Nice Distinctions.

Nice distinctions are troublesome. It is so much easier to say that a thing is black than to discriminate the particular shade of brown, blue or green to which it really belongs. It is so much easier to make up your mind that your neighbor is good for nothing than to enter into all the circumstances that would oblige you to modify that opinion.

Good International Law.

Jabbers—I tell you, old man, it's a terrible thing when your wife quarrels with her mother and the old lady lives with you. Which side do you take?

Havers—Neither. I preserve an alarmed neutrality.—Harper's Bazar.

The orientals of Bokhara indulge in a peculiar pastime which is said to resemble "football on horseback, with no sides." A decapitated goat takes the place of the ball, and 200 horsemen scramble for it.

It is the mind that maketh good or ill, that maketh wretchedness or happiness, rich or poor.

THE ROYAL BOX.

The Emperor William is said to be the only living sovereign of Europe upon whose life no attempt has yet been made.

The Duke of Connaught will endow a ward in the Dundee Hospital For Incurables, which he officially opened last month.

The khedive of Egypt is an accomplished violinist, but he much prefers dance music to the productions of the great masters. He studied music in Vienna.

Prince August of Coburg has now shot 3,000 chamois on his estate at Schladming. He killed his first in 1869 in the same district. In 1884 his total bag reached 1,000, and by 1891 he had shot 2,000.

Queen Margherita of Italy is building a chateau at Grossery to pursue with greater comfort her favorite sport of mountain climbing. The style of its architecture will be Moorish in design, and the queen is personally superintending its erection.

DAINTY TRIFLES.

Vinaigrettes are smaller than heretofore and come mostly in crystal with jeweled tops.

Hatpins are larger than ever. Rhinestones are used extensively. The most beautiful pins are set with genuine stones. Three or four hatpins are used in each hat.

If the buckles keep growing smaller, the stock clasps will be used for the belt ribbon after awhile. Some of the prettiest designs are in flower forms, enameled in natural colors.

Jet is advancing in favor, probably owing to the great amount of jetted tunics used this year. The jet Cyrano chains, jet buckles for belts and shoes and jet combs for the hair are effective with the light and white costumes to be worn this winter.

HIGH NOTES.

There is a rumor that Leandro Campanari, formerly of New York city, will lead a Milanese orchestra in 40 concerts in the United States.

The Double Eagle Company has been formed for the purpose, not only of mining its present properties but of acquiring promising claims and developing them to an extent that will justify their sale to English and other companies at a profit. The company already owns and has paid for in full, the Trilby and Old Saul properties in the famous Fish River district, and a three-quarters interest in the May Bee mine, in the Lardeau district one and a half miles from Ferguson Sufficient promoter's shares have been set aside for the purchase of the remaining quarter.

The May Bee is the sister claim to the now famous Nettie L, which has broken all records in British Columbia for large bodies of phenomenally rich ore. The May Bee and Nettie L were located together in 1892 by Mr. W. B. Pool (who has been appointed manager of the Double Eagle Co.) Both claims carry identically the same rich ore on the surface and the same remarkable ledge runs through both, carrying high values in gold, copper, silver and lead. The promoters have already spent $4,000 in developing the May Bee, with excellent results, and in order to place the mine quickly on a shipping basis the company now offers the public the opportunity of investing to a limited extent in fully paid and non-assessable treasury shares (par value $1) at 10 cents each.

Shares will be sold in blocks of 100 and upwards.

The company reserves the right to withdraw the sale of shares from the market at any time without notice Applications may be sent to the Secretary,

The War in Africa

Pietermaritzburg, April 10.—Heavy cannonading commenced this morning in the vicinity of Elandslaagte.

Ladysmith, April 10.—Heavy firing was heard early this morning in the direction of Sunday's river. It continued a few hours.

London, April 12.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Morning Post, telegraphing Tuesday says: "The Boers to the southeast are exhibiting an indecision of movement, possibly in consequence of our occupation of the railway. Bodies of the enemy are still moving from Winburg southward through Thaba Lihiu. Their destination has not been ascertained. The Boers in the neighborhood of Paardeberg show no disposition to interrupt our communications with Kimberley from which point civil convoys are still arriving."

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Times, telegraphing Wednesday, says: "It is announced in general orders that General Sir Herbert Chermside has been been appointed to command the 3rd division, vice General Sir William Gatacre, ordered home to England. General Brabant's force is confident of being able to hold out. The Boers after showing considerable dash, have wavered when it came to the final issue and have struck at the least vital spot, where they are greatly handicapped by their proximity to the Basuto border. Owing to the strategetical considerations since the enemy's movement became defined there need be little anxiety as to the safety of the Cape border."

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in a despatch dated Thursday, says: "The permanent defences are nearly completed, so that the town can be held by a relatively small garrison. A British scout who visited Bloemfontein waterworks reports the machinery and dams intact. Only a few Boers remain in the neighborhood. The enemy has trekked six miles north and formed a laager near Waterval.

News from General Brabant at Wepener shows that all is gong satisfactorily there. The troops are getting new khaki serge uniforms and boots."

There is no further news yet from Wepener.

London, April 14.—The forward movement of the Boers is checked, says Lord Roberts. This is supposed to have been accomplished, not by fighting, but by dispositions made to head of their advance and bar their way to vulnerable points on the lines of British communication. Relief is on the way to Wepener.

The Boers in Natal appear incapable of developing an aggressive movement at Elandslaagte.

Lord Methuen is at Sewartkopfontein, 12 miles east of Boshof and is sending small swift columns through the adjacent country. Lord Chesham, commanding one of these encountered a small commando about 10 miles south east of Sewartskopfontein. He found most of the farms occupied by women and children only.

An editorial in the Daily Mail avers that Mafeking is in a very bad way and that the hope of relief is far off, as no relief force is advancing from the south.

The war office announces that 4000 horses will arrive at Capetown this week. It is understood that the animals are not fit for work until about 10 days after the voyage. Two thousand more are due at the Cape next week.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Times, telegraphing Friday, says: "Everything is going satisfactorily. Owing to the enemy's enterprise, a necessity has arisen for a movement in the southeastern division, and for strategetical reasons troop trains have monopolized the railroad for a short period, but the Boer raids are only what was anticipated as a result of the halt in our main advance. We in Bloemfontein are full of admiration for the calm manner with which headquarters has received the incidents. Half of the object of the enemy has failed since Lord Roberts has refused to be drawn into complications, but has fostered the enemies enterprise, making dispositions to checkmate without Bloemfontein, being aware that a movement of the troops has occurred."

Aliwal North, April 13.—It is officially reported that the British losses at Wepener in five days fighting were 18 killed and 132 wounded.

Aliwal North, April 14.—Colonel Grenfell wires that the casualties at Wepener include Quartermaster William, Lieutenant Halford and Lieutenant Dunnan and 25 men wounded. Sir Godfrey Lagden, resident commissioner at Mazru telegraphed that no shelling has been heard from the direction of Wepener today. A regiment of British infantry and a battery of artillery arrived Friday. General Brabant's headquarters and all the mounted troops have gone to Rouxville.

The Northern Post asserts that the Rouxville district furnished 1000 recruits to the Boer force as a result of the invasion last week. Five hundred Boers under Commandant Sanwepel forced the Royal Irish Rifles to evacuate Rouxville. The former landrose, who had been acting for the British offered to go to the front to prove himself a good Free Stater and almost to a man the Free Staters who had taken oath rejoined the Boers. Nearly everyone produced a Mauser. Looting however has been repressed.

It is reported that there are 7000 Boers at Wepener. Fourteen British sympathizers have been imprisoned. The Boers admit having shot Mr. Guiner, the hotel keeper, for taking forage to the British. A paymaster with $700 was captured.

Mazree, Zasutoland, April 14.—Paramou chiefs have stationed 3000 armed natives to resist hostile Boer encommissioner are that the Basutos commissioner are that the Bastutos are not to be allowed to cross the Free State frontier on any pretext whatever.

Natives who crossed and looted abandoned Boer farms are now in cus tody.

Colonel Dalgetty's position is strong and well chosen but is completely surrounded.

The Boers have their backs against Basutoland and if they stay much longer they will be hemmed in. The British operations are keenly watched from the neighborhood. Shelling and shooting have been going on steadily during the last six days. Colonel Dalgetty's guns are admirably served and there is no waste of ammunition. The Boers when they see the flash of the cordite bolt into their holes. The ambulances are close to the border but the killed and wounded are not removed until night fall, in order to conceal the casualties. The Boers are fatigued and their horses are tired and footsore.

The Boers fiercely attacked the British northern position on Monday, April 9th, but they were beaten back at daybreak. Nothing is known here of the casualties on either side.

BOERS GROWING DISCONTENTED

London, April 16.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Times telegraphing Sunday says: "It is reported that reinforcements for the Boers, with 60 wagons, have arrived at DeWetsdorp, en route for Wepener. This should precipitate an action. The statement that President Kruger has been south seems to confirm the reports that the Boers are growing discontented. The continued execution of personal influence appears now to have become necessary."

PRISONERS OF WAR

Lord Roberts Protests Against the Boer Treatment of Colonial Troops

Bloemfontein, April 14.—Lord Roberts in his telegram of protest to President Kruger regarding the treatment to which the colonial officers and troops who are now prisoners at Pretoria, have been subjected, complains that the Boers have treated them as if they were criminals and confined in jail. He points out that there are 90 cases of enteric fever and dysentery in the prisoners' camp at Watervaal, that the Transvaal government failed to supply on demand of the doctor, the necessary medicines and medical comforts, that prisoners were forced to bivouac on the open veldt, that the sick were placed in an open shed with an iron roof, and that it was only when the new doctor threatened to resign that medicines and mattresses were supplied.

He invites President Kruger to remedy this state of things and contrasts it with the treatment the British government gives the Boer prisoners, sick and wounded, who, as Lord Roberts says, "Receive the same treatment as our own soldiers."

GENERAL CRONJE

Arrival of the Former Boer Chief at St. Helena

St. Helena, April 14.—General Cronje, his wife, three members of the staff of the former Boer commandant, with other Boer prisoners, arrived here on the Niobe and Milwaukee on April 10th and were landed today, accompanied by Colonel Reefe. They were met by the governor and commander in chief of St. Helena, His Excellency Robert Sterndale and Mrs. Sterndale, at the Castle, where the party remained for an hour, afterwards proceeding to the Kent buildings.

General Cronje looks well and appears cheerful. The other Boer prisoners will disembark Monday.

AT BLOEMFONTEIN

Great Scarcity of Water—All Private Wells Guarded

Leemokop, Southeast of Bloemfontein, Monday, April 9.—The Boer commando which is still in the southern district, and which it was feared had been cut off, has rendered a good account of itself with the Basutoland Police, who had invaded the Orange Free State.

Four British scouts, who were captured today say that Bloemfontein is hard pressed for water. They add that all the private wells were guarded and civilians were not permitted to use them until the troops were supplied.

Commandant DeWet has received a report that the British who retired from Smithfield southward were badly punished by the burghers of Rouxville.

News received here from Johannesburg says a British force of about 1000 men, mainly composed of Brabant's Horse, with General Brabant commanding, is still at Robertson's Mill, with a remote chance of relief or effective resistance.

COLONIAL TROOPS

Formed Into a Brigade Under the Command of Gen. Hutton

Bloemfontein, April 13.—A new division, consisting of two brigades has been formed under General Hamilton. General Hutton's brigade is composed of the Canadians, New Zealanders and all the Australians, except the cavalry. His staff is Col. Martyr, chief; Lord Rosmead, aide de camp; Colonel Hood of Victoria, Colonel Bridges of New South Wales and Major Cartwright of Canada, assisting adjutant generals. The brigade consists of four corps of mounted infantry, under Colonels Sanderson, DeLisle, Pilcher and Henry.

The first corps consists of the 1st battalion Canadians under Colonel Lesard, and 2nd battalion Canadians under Colonel Herchmer.

Strathcona's Horse, under Lieutenant Colonel Steele and the Victorians under Colonel Pryce, are in the fourth corps.

The second and third corps are composed of Australians.

Each corps has a battalion of imperial infantry attached.

The Canadians and New South Wales batteries and a number of Vickers-Maxims will join the division.

General Ridley's brigade is composed of the South African troops.

UNCONFIRMED RUMOR

That General Brabant Has Inflicted a Crushing Defeat on the Boers at Wepener

London, April.—The Capetown correspondent of the Daily Telegraph telegraphing Sunday, says: "An unconfirmed report is in circulation here that General Brabant has inflicted a crushing defeat on the Boers at Wepener, capturing guns and taking prisoners.

LORD ROSSLYN CAPTURED

London, April 16.—A special despatch from Bloemfontein, April 14, says: "A patrol of the Royal Irish, with whom was Lord Rosslyn has been captured. Lord Rosslyn has been sent to Kroonstad."

Four farmers, who had taken the oath to abstain from further cooperation with Queen's enemies were found signalling to the Boers at Karee Siding and have been brought here.

FROM MAFEKING

Pinch of Hunger Beginning to be Felt—Relief Distant as Ever

London, April 17.—The Daily Mail has the following from Lady Sarah Wilson:

"Mafeking, April 5.—The pinch of hunger is beginning to be felt and relief seems as far distant as ever.

"Since March 31st there had been no shelling until today, Commandant Snyman having taken his burghers to bar Colonel Plumer's road.

"They returned yesterday and the bombardment was renewed today with splendid high velocity guns, firing 14 pound shells, such as had not been used since the first days of the siege."

The military authorities say that the British artillery has nothing to compare with these guns.

A despatch to the Times from Mafeking, dated April 6, confirming earlier reports says: "After Colonel Plumer's repulse, Commandant Shyman sent a message inviting Colonel Baden-Powell to send out to collect the dead and wounded, but when the ambulance appeared the Boer commander declined to allow them to be taken. It was discovered however that the Boer reports of the extent of the British casualies had been greatly exaggerated."

Lorenzo Marques, April 16.—Lieutenant Stelhaman, a Rhodesian scout who entered Mafeking through the Boer lines, has returned to Colonel Plumer's camp with despatches from Mafeking, saying that all was well there up to April 8th.

London, April 17.—(4:15 a.m.)—Lord Roberts has spread his net far and wide to catch the adventurous commanders that have been making mischief in the south eastern parts of the Free State. The net has not been drawn but at the headquarters of Lord Roberts the impression exists that the power of the Boers is decreasing.

News correspondents have them fleeing to the southeast. A Standard correspondent reports them marching northward.

A Daily Telegraph correspondent says that some are going north and others south, while the Morning Post reports it is not known what the Boers are doing.

Evidently the feeling at Bloemfontein is that the disposition of Lord Roberts men is such as to enable him to concentrate a large force rapidly at any point.

The Boer, being aware of this, appear to be thinking now chiefly of retreating.

The investment of Wepener, according to a special despatch from Bloemfontein, has absolutely been abandoned.

According to a Betnany despatch the Boers are unable to retreat north because the British hold all the roads.

The Bloemfontein correspondents of the Daily Telegraph in a despatch dated yesterday says: "The Boers have raised the siege of Wepener and have eft Rouxvile. Th majority of them have undoubtedly retreated with the exception of about 6000 now reported to be going toward Bethulie.

The Daily News has the following from Reddersburg, dated Friday: "General Chermside saw the rear guard of the Boers disappear southwest in full retreat. The enemy appear to be in strong force 14 mlies east of Reddersburg. They are falling back before our heavy guns.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Standard telegraphng on Monday says: "The Boers are in full retreat from Wepener hugging the Basutoland border. The Basutos are marching parallel with them along the frontier, watching eagerly for the slightest encroachment."

The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Times, telegraphing Monday says: "The Boers who have been investing Wepener are said to be moving in a southern direction but the object of the movement is uncertain.

VICTIM TO ENTERIC FEVER

Ottawa, April 17.—A cable received yesterday afternoon from Lieut.-Colonel Otter says: "No. 7319, Private W. S. Blight, of the Queen's Own Rifles, died at Bloemfontein hospital on the 15th inst, from enteric fever."

CANADA'S GENEROSITY

Ottawa, April 17.—His Excellency the Governor General has received the following cable from Field Marshal Lord Roberts:

HER MAJESTY AT DUBLIN

Dublin, April 16.—The Queen, accompanied by the Princesses drove out in an open landau today in the presence of immense crowds.

The route was past the Hibernian school, returning to the Vice Regal lodge by way of Long avenue, which was still lined with equipages and cheering crowds when Her Majesty returned.

The Queen has decided to prolong her stay in Ireland until April 27.

CHURCH ROBBERY

Toronto, April 17.—Thieves broke into St. Simon's church last evening and stole the Easter offerings, amounting to $1200 of which however $975 were in checks which may be stopped as yesterday was a bank holiday. In order to get at the money the burglars had to break through a nine inch wall with a pick axe.

NEW YORK STRIKE

Cook Landing, N.Y., April 17.—The first bloodshed as the outcome of the strike at the Cornell dam, was the lifes blood of Sergeant Douglas, of the 11th company of Mount Vernon, who was shot dead by an unknown assassin while relieving guard at 9 o'clock last night.

The wildest excitement prevailed throughout the camp as soon as the news of the assassination spread to the different tents and the soldiers are frantic over the cowardly crime.

STRATHCONA HORSE

Ottawa, April 14.—It is said that the 50 men who are going to South Africa to fill the vacancies in the Strathcona Horse will not be ready to leave Halifax on the 22nd, as was at first suggested. They will go by the Lake Huron from St. John on April 25th.

T. J. Lendrum was in town on Saturday and Sunday and was delighted with the brisk way in which the smelter townsite lots are being taken up by the public.

At the meeting of the Liberal Association held on Tuesday last Mr. Martin's platform was endorsed and the association agreed to support any candidate in favor of it.

D. McCarthy, who has been suffering from some time past with an attack of la grippe left Wednesday morning to spend a week or two at the St. Leon Hot Springs for the benefit of his health.

Don't forget the dates—April 23 and 24.

Real estate is brisk and large purchases have recently been made principally among Revelstoke people and on McKenzie Ave. Among recent purchasers are C. B. Hume, H. J. Bourne, F. McCarty, T. J. Graham and W. Newman, testifying to the abundant faith held in the future of the town by its shrewdest and most successful citizens.

It is the intention of the Smelter Townsite management, following a plan of R. S. Mayne, to survey out the edge of the cut bank at the end of McKenzie Ave. into a cresent to be called McKenzie Crescent. The lots will form a semicircle following the line of the bank and an 80 foot driveway will be surveyed in front. This crescent will from its situation, commanding a magnificient view of the river and mountains, form perhaps the most desirable and attractive residential property in the town.

The explosion of a dynamite cartridge, which W. Fleming was using to blow up a stump on his premises had the the undesigned effect of starting a runaway race up Station road on Wednesday afternoon. The starters were P. Burns & Co's. team and W. M. Lawrence's delivery waggon. The hardware champion struck a gait which surprised and delighted all beholders. The finish came off near F. McCarty's residence without any damage done fortunately, though G. W. Bell, Bourne Bros'. driver, in a gallant but unsuccessful attempt to stop the team by grabbing the lines had a narrow squeak of being thrown under the wheels of the waggon.

St. Peter's Vestry Meeting.

The Easter Vestry of St. Peter's church was held on Monday, Dr. Paget in the chair. The report of the treasurer, A. R. B. Hearn shews the parish to be on a sound basis financially, the funds for the vicar's salary and other current expenses, which last year included $250 worth of permanent improvements to the church building, were raised during the year entirely by voluntary contributions, without resort being had to any other method of raising funds. The report of J. D. Molson, the treasurer of the vicarage building fund shews that only $501.50 is outstanding against the vicarage, which cost $1500 and of this sum $175 is in sight.

The vicar appointed A. R. B. Hearn as his churchwarden and E. Humprys as auditor. J. D. Molson was elected people's churchwarden and R. Gorden and Peter Hooley senior, sidesmen with seats on the church committee, while H. Varnes and C. B. Paget were elected junior sidesmen. The chosen delegates to the synod were as follows: E. Humphrys, J. D. Molson, and J. D. Sibbald, with A. R. B. Hearn, C. M. Field and R. Gordon as alternates. Votes of thanks were passed to the Ladies' Talent Society and the choir for their services during the past year and to Rev. Dr. Paget for the substantial financial aid rendered by him to the vicarage building fund. The meeting then adjourned.

To Liberal-Conservatives.

Tomorrow will be the last day for registering voters for the Provincial and Dominion elections.

Call at once at Mr. Taylor's committee rooms where the register of voters is to be seen and make sure that your name is on the register. Even if you have filled up a form of application take no chances, but see that your voice is secured. Forms of application kept on hand.

The fact that you voted at the municipal elections does not entitle you to vote at the Provincial or Dominion elections; the lists are not the same.

Every man being a British subject, or becoming naralised, and who has resided six months in the Province, is entitled to vote.

The Conservative Candidate for Rossland

Speaking to a HERALD man on his way through to the east on Monday, Hon. Chas. Mackintosh expressed his conviction that the Conservative party would win the fight in the coming provincial election. He is coming out himself as a straight Conservative. Mr. Mackintosh does not expect to see a Dominion general election this summer, perhaps not this year, basing his opinion on the very sensible reason that a large number of the Quebec members will want to visit the Paris exhibition and that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is not likely to bring on an election while they are away.

At the Conservative mass meeting held in Chilliwack on Saturday last, in speaking of party lines, Sir Hibbert Tupper said: "My former remarks have been misconstrued; I always have been in favor of straight party lines, but thought in any constituency where the Liberal party predominated so as to insure the election of a Liberal candidate over a Conservative candidate, that the Liberal should not be opposed in order that there might be no question about the defeat of the Martin candidate."
