SYNDICATE FORMED

By A. F. Rosenberger to Take Over the Camborne and Oyster Group in the Fish River Free Milling Gold Belt.

A company is being formed by A. F. Rosenberger to take over the now well known Camborne and Oyster groups in the famous Fish River free milling gold belt. The company is to be known as the Northwestern Development Syndicate and the capital is $1,000,000 in one dollar shares of par value, fully paid, which be all treasury stock. 200,000 will be placed on the market about Oct. 1st or perhaps earlier at 50c.

The surface indications on both these properties acquired by the syndicate are of extraordinary richness while all development has made good the permanency of the ledges as far as it has gone. The new syndicate has acquired a mining property in these two groups which bids fair to turn out one of the most remarkable and profitable in Kootenay. It is the HERALD's opinion that it will not be very long before Camborne rivals Cripple Creek as the great gold producing camp in the west and these two properties rank first among those hitherto discovered in the belt.

Work on the Hospital.

The building committee of the Queen Victoria Hospital met in Mr. McCarter's office on Monday evening to let the contracts for excavation and stonework as per plans and specifications. Three tenders were received.

Graham & Black, Vancouver, $765.00
C. W. T. Piper, Vancouver, 360.00
E. C. Fromey, Revelstoke, 474.00

The contract was let to Mr. Piper under proper bonds, on conditions that work was started not later than the 16th inst. and to be finished in 20 days. The plans for the building will now soon be here so that bids may be called and closed ready for work to begin on it as soon as the foundations are complete.

TERMS OF SETTLEMENT

Details of the Conditions, on Which the Trackmen's Protective Board Called the Strike Off.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.

Dear Sirs and Brothers,—I write you once more and for the last time for the present at least to thank you on behalf of President Wilson, your Joint Protective Board and myself, for the splendid support you gave them and which enabled them to come to such favorable terms with the C. P. R. The full account of the proceedings of the Board, the terms of settlement, the various means used, which helped in securing the good results, which caused your chairman, with President Wilson's sanction, to call the strike off, will be sent out as soon as it can be prepared, after Pres. Wilson returns to St. Louis. Owing, however, to the lawsuit being brought on by Montgomery, it is possible he may not be at headquarters in St. Louis, with all needed facilities for doing the work properly before the 15th September but rest assured he will have it in your hands at the earliest possible moment.

Meantime I will only say that briefly the basis of settlement is:—All hands who report for duty shall be reinstated in their former positions and dwellings within two weeks; rules which give substantially what we asked for in the way of investigation in case of an injustice done to any member; pay for the time lost in consequence where we are proven unjustly treated; promotion according to seniority, merit, etc. being equal; transportation twice a month to market; half freight rate for our supplies; transportation to any part of the line similar to that granted any other organized employes, with an increase of about $100,000 per annum in wages and best of all recognition of our status as on a level with the best of the other organized employes, and in one very important respect ahead of the other orders—as our president will show no doubt in his report—in our adjusting our schedule at Montreal for the entire system with the general manager.

Brothers, our joint protective board meets the management again in February or March. Let me for the president and joint protective board ask every lieutenant to do his level best in the coming months, as you have so nobly in the past memorable eleven weeks, to put behind your grand officers and joint protective board a thoroughly organized force including every good man in the maintenance-of-way department.

Organizers will cover the system helping you to make a perfect protective organization on the entire system.

And again with thanks for your splendid support and congratulations on results obtained,

I am very sincerely,
Yours in B. L. & U.,
A. B. LOWE,
Vice-Pres. B.R.T. of A.

Death of E. A. Crockett

Ed. Crockett of Craigellachie died at his farm in the valley on Friday last of heart disease, from which he had been suffering for some time past. The remains were brought in to town for burial by F. J. Bossley on Monday morning and the interment took place in the afternoon and was largely attended. Mrs. Crockett was unable to come to town as she has just been confined. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. C. Ladner. The pall bearers were: H. N. Coursier, Jas. McMahon, A. McRae, A. McNeil, Jos. Morgan and P. Peterson.

Mr. Crockett, who came from Missouri, was a well known figure in Revelstoke. He was one of the first prospectors to penetrate into the Lardeau and was a partner of W. B. Pool, when the two of them located the Nettie L. claim, which has since turned out such a famous property. Mr. Crockett however had disposed of his interests in the claim before it came to the front. Since his marriage about three years ago he has lived near Craigellachie and occupied himself with farming. He leaves a widow and two children to deplore his loss.

Preparations at Banff.

Great preparations are being made at the C. P. R. Hotel, Banff, for the coming visit of the royal party, which will arrive there according to the latest programme on the evening of Sept. 28th. The hotel usually closes on Oct. 1st, but this year that date will be anticipated and the whole hotel will be cleared of guests and reserved for the use of Their Royal Highnesses and suite. About $3000 has been recently expended on providing new plate, china and table linen alone in anticipation of the visit.

The royal train will be in charge of the superintendent and roadmaster of each division as it passes through, while the locomotive foreman will be in charge of the engine.

Funeral of Late E. J. Duchesnay

Among the Revelstokers present at the funeral of Mr. Duchesnay were Supt. Kilpatrick, Fred Baker, Mrs. C. H. Temple and Miss Temple, H. B. Muckleston and E. L. Whitnell. The floral tributes comprised among others an anchor from the Shuswap and Mountain Section, cut flowers from Mrs. Young of Glacier, a St. George's cross, a cross and a pillow from the different railroad orders, harp Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hobbs. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Father Thayer and were most impressive.

AROUND THE RAILWAY YARD

Personal Paragraphs Pertaining to Railway Men Picked up By the Herald.

The bridge crews were made up again and sent out on the road on Monday.

Pete Righter, the C. P. R. engineer who was injured some time ago and had his foot amputated, is steadily improving.

John Colwell, baggage master at the C. P. R. depot, Winnipeg, and Mrs. Colwell are spending a short holiday at the coast.

Chas. E. King, the representative of the bridgemen on the B. R. T. of A. joint protective committee, has returned west and was in town on Monday.

Chief train despatcher, John Hamilton, of the C. P. R. office Nelson, has gone on a holiday visit to Manitoba. A. H. Lewis takes his place during his absence.

An amicable arrangement has been effected by a committee of the railway carmen and the officials of the C. P. R. regarding the recognition of the carmen as an organization. It is understood that the new schedule of the carmen is now in force and that the threatened trouble has blown over.

The new time table of the Canadian Pacific, regulating the service for the coming winter, will be announced about the middle of October. Word has been received that at the meeting of the passenger agents and superintendents, held in Montreal, it was decided to make very little change in the service this winter.

Mr. Tye, the chief engineer of construction on the C. P. R. is in British Columbia where he will inspect the company's works in course of construction. During his two weeks' absence, he will inspect the Kootenay and Arrowhead extension and the cut-off at Field. To the Telegram Mr. Tye said that the grading of the line to Winnipeg Beach was completed, but the rails for the road could not be secured on account of the steel strike in the United States, and that the other proposed extensions in the province would probably be delayed should the strike not be settled at once.

New Strike on the Jordan.

Jas. Reily came in from the Wild Goose group, situated about 12 miles up the Jordan river from Revelstoke, on Monday evening with some fine samples of galena and copper ore from a new find below the present group of claims. Mr. Reily has staked three claims on the new find and calls them the Big Jim group. The shewings on the surface comprise 18 inches of solid galena, besides a copper vein on either sides of the galena, which Mr. Reilly has not sufficently prospected to know how far it extends. Samples of the ore have been sent away for assay and the returns are being looked for with a great deal of interest. Mr. Reilly is the pioneer of the Jordan river district and has stayed with the camp for years. The HERALD trusts that he will have all the success his pluck and perseverance deserve. Mr. Reilly reports the work on the Wild Goose group as progressing satisfactorily and the ore is becoming of better quality and higher in silver values.

A fine 7 octave Piano Case Organ, latest type, key board touch and pedals, same as upright piano. This instrument must be sold or returned to Toronto. Apply A. McLean's store, McCarty Block. Sept. 11, 2. t

A Post Office for Camborne.

It is getting to be about time that the P. O. authorties got around to the fact there are about 300 people working in and round Camborne and that it is getting about time they were taking some steps to provide the place with a post office of its own. There is daily connection by rail and steamer to within six miles of Camborne and it shews very little wish to accommodate on the part of the P. O. people that the transport of the mail over those few six miles should still have to be undertaken by private and casual hands. There are important business and mining interests now at Camborne, which deserve better treatment at the hands of the government.

Standard

The trail up Five Mile to the Standard basin has been completed and the Prince mining company are busy getting out ore from the rich strike of copper ore recently made on the Commander and from the upper workings on the Standard. This ore will be packed down to the river over the new trail ready for shipment as soon as the s. s. Revelstoke begins running.

PRESIDENT'S CONDITION

Highly Favorable and Improving All the Time.—Believed He Will Live.—Other Telegraphic Notes.

MILBURN HOUSE, Buffalo Sept. 11—The following bulletin was issued by the president's physicians at 9 a. m. The president rested comfortably during the night. Decided benefit has followed the dressing of the wound made last night. His stomach tolerates the beef juice well and it is taken with great satisfaction. His condition this morning is excellent, pulse 110; temp. 100.2

Dr. McBurney of New York said yesterday morning that president McKinley will, he believes live, but will carry the bullet to the grave.

PARIS, Sept 11.—Some hundreds of French reserve soldiers, on the way from the army manoeuvers sang revolutionary songs at Montceau les Mines, near Paris, and when the police attempted to desperse them, they fixed bayonets and scattered the police. Afterwards they held a mass meeting and passed resolutions favoring a revolution.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 11.—Vice Admiral Faik Pasha, the chief of the Admiralty, has fled from Constantinople to Malta, because he feared the consequence of a memorial to the Sultan denouncing mal-administration in the Navy department. His property has been declared forfeited.

PRETORIA, Sept. 11.—Lord Kitchener reports that since Sept. 2nd the total results are 67 Boers killed, 67 wounded, 384 taken prisoners, 163 surrendered, 179 rifles captured and also 3,400 horses and 19,000 cattle.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—The secret service officers in Chicago have come to the conclusion that the attempted assassination of President McKinley was the result of a plot arranged in Chicago.

THE VANCOUVER RECEPTION

Revelstoke Accorded the Best Site in Vancouver for the Location of the Arch Being Erected by the District.

The following letter has been received by the city clerk:

Sept. 6th, 1901.

Dear Sir,

Yours of 3rd inst. came to hand yesterday and was laid before a special meeting of the sub-committee on decorations last night.

It was unanimously decided to give the Revelstoke Arch one of the most prominent positions in the city at the corner of Hastings and Richards street. (This is one block east of Granville street, which leads up from the C. P. R. station.) The plan, which accompanies this letter was drawn for your guidance and contains I think all the information you will want. The corners can be used just as you wish and the local committee will be glad to give any possible assistance. It will of course be necessary to leave plenty of room beneath the main arch to allow for the passage of the cars.

If you require any further information, I shall be pleased to furnish it at once.

Yours truly
A. M. BURNS,
Secretary.

The above location is decidedly the very best the Vancouver committee could select in their city. It is as everybody knows who has ever visited Vancouver, as most people have, right on the best business street in the city at a point, which has an imposing bank building on almost every corner. No greater compliment could possibly have been returned to the action taken by the mayor in falling in with the committee's suggestion. We must rise to the situation and our arch must be one worthy of our town and district on this great occasion, where the eyes of thousands of visitors will be inspecting it and sizing up Revelstoke by what it has done. We cannot possibly afford to put up anything mean or trifling. It would be a disgrace which would tell against Revelstoke for years in a very serious and substantial fashion. Whereas on the other hand an artistic design of an arch worthily carried out will be a monument not only of our loyalty but also of our enterprise in being the only city on the mainland officially as it were represented to welcome our future king.

The mayor requests the HERALD particularly to ask that all those who have promised to furnish mineral specimens for exhibition on the arch should send them in at once. He has asked Mr. Marpole for free transportation for the ore. Mr. T. H. Dunne has undertaken to furnish a suitable design and paint the canvas for the arch.

NEW ZEALAND OMELETTE

People who criticize the industrial policy adopted by the government of New Zealand should bear in mind the condition of affairs in that colony out of which this policy took its beginning New Zealand was passing through a period of profound commercial depression. Industry was paralyzed by a succession of strikes, the country was full of unemployed labor and soup kitchens had to be established in the chief cities to keep the idle population from perishing of starvation. It was quite plain that something had to be done. The government in power was Conservative and capitalistic. It was going through the usual motions of doing something and doing nothing. It became a case of do something or starve to death and the people were absolutely forced by the pressure of conditions into the line of policy, which has turned the eyes of every student of modern industrial problems to New Zealand as the stage on which current theories are visibly working out in practice. So far as it seems to have amounted to this. There are today in New Zealand no unemployed, no tramps, no millionaires and strikes have almost become a thing of the past. The hours of labor have decreased all round. Large areas of land, formerly held under lease as sheep runs, have been thrown open and settled up. There is a more general diffusion of prosperity, leisure and the things which go to make life worth living in New Zealand than in any other similar community on the face of the earth.

It will not surely be contended that such a state of affairs is an undesirable one. It is not so contended but the capitalistic press on this continent keeps these general conditions of existence in the colony in the back ground and makes an immense parade of the holes which it contrives to pick in the working out of certain details of the New Zealand policy. The railways are not up to date, capital is leaving the country, compulsory arbitration has proved a failure and so on. Now it is a principle of universal application that no omelettes are constructed without a certain amount of egg-fracture. No country and no community, in which the general line of legislative and administrative policy has in the past been shaped so as to subserve the ends of capital, can reverse its course and adopt a trend of legislation, which shall aim at the prosperity and welfare of the many rather than the profits of the few, without making some mistakes, without finding that some of its adopted remedies do not go to the root of the evil and certainly not without treading on somebody's toes. The wonder is rather that New Zealand has done so much, so easily and so quickly. Her geographical position and natural conditions have been an immense help no doubt. The colony is self contained. It is all under one government. The conditions have been the most favorable possible for success.

The main point is that New Zealand has steadily set her face in the right direction. There is still an immense amount to be done, theories to be worked out and adopted or rejected, struggles to be encountered, obstacles to be removed. But the path she is on leads to freedom and happiness. She has chosen her road at the turning of the ways, while Canada still stands irresolute dallying with the dead issues of the past, loathe to make any real effort to solve the pressing problems of the present. The so called politicians tell us that these matters will be taken up when the time comes. The time will come when it will be too late to grapple with them. It may be doubted whether in the United States the moment has not already past.

MARTIN REDIVIVUS.

Now that the true inwardness of the Brown-Dunsmuir deal is gradually beginning to dawn on the flabbergasted public of British Columbia it is becoming more and more obvious that the whole business is the work of Mr. Martin. That archdisturber of the business of this province knew very well what he was about when as his last act as Lieut-Governor McInnes' constitutional adviser he advised that gentleman to entrust the reins of power to Mr. Dunsmuir. Mr. Martin recognized the fact that any urther open resistance to the wish of the people as expressed in the last provincial election was hopeless. But he doubtless thought he saw his way to keeping a string on power even when the power itself had slipped away from him. And the means he took to attain his ends was the selection of Mr. Dunsmuir as his successor.

British Columbia thought it was rid of Mr. Martin for four years at all events but he fooled them. That is just about the size of the situation. He was able to do so for the simple reason that those, who opposed him fought under half a dozen different banners, without any one recognized leader and without any common bond except opposition to himself as premier. Had the forces opposed to him been under one leader and one command, Mr. McInnes could hardly have done anything else than send for the man, who was the recognized head of such an overwhelming majority as that which was returned last year on the anti-Martin ticket. But there was no such man. And in consequence there were no valid objections to offer to the choice of Mr. Dunsmuir as Mr. Martin's successor.

It is time that this kind of political juggling and this Smart Aleck defiance of the clearly expressed wish of the electors came to an end. It is perfectly plain that in spite of his overwhelming defeat at the polls last year, a few more weeks, perhaps days, will see Mr. Martin a member of Mr. Dunsmuir's cabinet and the real premier of the province. How many of the members of the present legislature who gagged at Martin au nature in 1900 will swallow him with Dunsmuir sauce in 1901 it is at present impossible to say. It may however be taken for one established factor in the present mix-up that Hon. Richard McBride is not exactly anybody's fool. He is one of the few members of the Victoria house who can claim a right to be classed as politicians in the best sense of the word at all. It is the HERALD's opinion that he knows very well what he is doing. He is a Conservative but he is no hide-bound Tory. He is a young man and alive to the practical needs and questions of the day. There is not a man in British Columbia politics to day as likely to come out on top of the turmoil, into which Mr. Martin's self seeking playing on Mr. Dunsmuir's utter lack of touch with the real feelings of the electorate have once more plunged this unfortunate province, as is Mr. McBride.

Fifteen Passengers Injured.

Six cars, five passenger and one baggage, coming west were derailed on Friday morning near Rush Lake, a station 21 miles east of Swift Curent. The accident happened to the second section of the train, which contained a large party of about 300 Ontario and American homeseekers for Alberta and western points. The extent of the accident is that fifteen persons were injured with no fatalities. A broken rail is said to have caused the cars to jump the rails.

The company's statement giving a list of the injured indicates that those who were injured were Nebraska and Iowa homeseekers.

Card of Thanks.

The members of Revelstoke Division, No 1, of the B. R. T. of A. wish to extend their hearty thanks to the residents of Revelstoke and especially the ladies of the B. R. T. auxiliary and the members of the other railway brotherhoods for their sympathy and support during the eleven weeks of the strike, which has just been brought to such a successful close. They feel that they cannot go back to work without making this expression of their gratitude and intimating that, if required, though they hope such will never be the case, that they stand ready to return the compliment.

THE REVELSTOKE HERALD

AND RAILWAY MEN'S JOURNAL.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY.

Takes a place in the first rank of Journals in this Province. Its mining, telegraphic and local news is gathered from reliable sources and presented to the reader in attractive shape. As the local paper of such an important Railway Centre, its attention has always been drawn to Railway matters, and recently it has definitely taken up the task of forming itself into a vehicle of railway news in which railway employes all over British Columbia and Alberta will find the news of the Great Railway System to which they belong, and of personal and the happenings affecting themselves and their fellow employes. THE HERALD has long enjoyed the largest circulation of any paper published in the district, which is now rapidly increasing among the Railway Men East, West and South. It is hardly necessary to point out to any shrewd businessman the advantages which it thus offers as an advertising medium throughout the entire field which it covers.

Subscription $2.0 Per Annum

$1.25 FOR SIX MONTHS, IN ADVANCE

It takes a foremost place in the race for prominence and popularity with business houses and as a consequence does more business with those requiring Printed Stationery and office supplies than any other Printing Establishment in Eastern British Columbia. The class of work turned out has been pronounced equal to anything of the kind executed in the large cities by much larger Printeries.

JOB PRINTING DEPARTMENT.

Is equipped with the latest faces in type designs and all work entrusted to THE HERALD is handled by experienced workmen who thoroughly understand the proper use of the material at their disposal. THE HERALD does not claim to be the only printing house in the district, but it does claim to be

A PRINCELY TEAM

Towering Probiscidians and Double-Humped Camels in Silk and Silver Harness.

Caesar made many triumphal entries into Rome, and taxed to the utmost the ingenuity of the gentlemen who got up his latter entrances to provide new ideas for him. He entered with kings hitched with golden chains to his chariots, drawing him through the Via This or That to his palace, and was sometimes borne by chariots of glorious Roma; but never even in his triumphal entries did he or could he have been drawn by great teams of ponderous probiscidians and huge double-humped camels, as are many of the golden chariots seen in The Great Pan-American Show's marvelous street parade, and not one, but many teams of elephants and camels drawing golden chariots, while caparisoned beyond comparison in silk and silver-mounted harness, and bearing in the chariots the exalted rulers of the arenic world—the world's champions and the big shows' stars.

The Pan-American Show s will positively exhibit at Revelstoke on Wednesday, Sept. 18.

Father Thayer's Funeral Sermon

At the funeral service of the late E. J. Duchesnay, Rev. Father Thayer, of Revelstoke, who conducted the service, made a short address at the church. The Rev Father dwelt briefly upon the uncertainties of life which contains but one certainty, the end, death, which comes to all. To multitudes the end had come unexpectedly, and so it had been with him, whom they were there to mourn. While all heads were bowed with sorrow, the speaker bade them recall the noble unselfishness of the life called from their midst, the devotion to duty which had led to his rapid advancement. Father Thayer reminded those present how the continued absence from home necessitated by his duties had been a continual cross to the deceased, and his chief pleasure in his recent promotion had arisen from the fact that his new duties would enable him to spend more time with his dear ones in the family circle. His kindness to those under him, his practical sympathy in trouble and to any injured on the line, and his affectionate nature as shown to his friends had endeared him to all, and caused a feeling of universal sorrow at his early and sudden death. Many of those employed in the company the deceased had so faithfully served, men in all departments, trackmen, firemen and others, had expressed to the speaker their individual feelings of sorrow at his loss, and their esteem for his nobleness of character. The early life and training of the deceased was referred to, and a touching reference made to his religious instincts and the kindly assistance he had always accorded to the speaker himself and his brother priests when his aid or advice was solicited. They, the priests of God's church, would, with many others, ever hold his name and memory dear.

Romance in a Circus.

Miss Ada Young, one of the girls who tried to leave the Pan-American circus while it was in this city, left that show at Grenfell and is now in this city. Three young men who deserted employment with the circus, where they were engaged as musicians wanted the girls to leave and stated that they wished to marry them. The musicians were arrested and fined, but remained in the city waiting for the girls. Miss Young joined G. V. Wagner, one of the men, and an interesting end of their separation is looked forward to in the course of a week or so. Mr. Wagner has obtained a position at Ruckle's drug store, and is doing well. The other musicians expect their girls to leave the show shortly and in the meantime are watching and waiting. Miss Young had very little trouble in getting away from the circus. She claimed there were flaws in her agreement and the management had to recognize that they had no hold on her so she was paid off and immediately left for Winnipeg.—Winnipeg Telegram.

The Real Cause of Delay.

A professional man from the East, whose golden dreams have not been realized in this country, returned from the Lardeau last week, says a Nelson correspondent of the Ledge. He tells a hard story of the methods employed in dealing with the workmen who are building the new line in that district. Hired through an employment agency, for the services of which they are taxed two dollars, they are transported at half fare to the scene of labor, and set to work in gangs. After working a few days an individual in authority comes along and intimates that there are too many men at this branch and about half of them are discharged, with the intimation that they can get work further along the line, if they will take the trouble to move in that direction. The discharged workmen are paid off with a time-check, against which is charged one dollar for medical fee and two dollars for the Sisters Hospital fund. This check cannot be exchanged for a bank check nearer than Duncan City and the bank check is payable at Kalso, unless the men prefer to have it cashed by the R. R. at a discount of 25 per cent. All of which, says the schoolmaster, is a scheme to keep the men "bloke" and at the mercy of the corporation until such time as the job is completed.—Ferguson Eagle.

Let the post office down town remain and Mr. McRae could then select a more central point for his post office in this end.
