CITY COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

The Waterworks Debentures Ordered to Be Torn Up.—Twenty Mills is the Rate, With Two and Two-Thirds Mills Taken Off for Prompt Payment.

The City Council met on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Present, the Mayor, Ald. Taylor, Abrahamson, Bourne, McCarty. The meeting was special, being called to consider the following subjects:

1.—Water and Light Debentures.

2.—Striking a rate for 1901.

3.—The Revelstoke Arch at Vancouver.

4.—Purchase of land for civic purposes.

CORRESPONDENCE.

relative to the above heads was read as follows:

From the city solicitor to the Mayor re waterworks by-law, stating that "On receipt of your request for opinion as to the validity of the Water, Light & Power Co. Bylaw and the debentures issued thereunder I applied to the secretary of the Revelstoke Water, Light & Power Co., Ltd., for some information as to the names of those members of the City Council who were, at the time of the introduction and passing of the bylaw, shareholders on the books of the company, and he informed me that Messrs. Bourne, McCarty, Taylor and John Abrahamson were at that time shareholders on the books of the company. Such being the case, there was no competent quorum of the council to vote on the question affecting the Water, Light & Power Co., and in consequence of the lack of a competent quorum, the bylaw was illegal, and the issue of debentures thereunder was and is invalid. I have taken the opinion of counsel on the question and his view is the same as that herein expressed."

Moved by Ald. Taylor, seconded by Ald. Abrahamson, that the city clerk be instructed to destroy the debentures issued for the purchase of the property of the Water, Power & Light Co., Ltd., and that the company be notified to that effect. Carried.

THE REVELSTOKE ARCH.

A telegram was read from A. M. Burns, secretary of the Vancouver Reception Committee to the city clerk: "When may we expect details as to the Revelstoke arch. Is any provision made for wiring it for electric lighting?"

Moved by Ald. Taylor, seconded by Ald. Abrahamson, that the sum of $150, and an additional $100, if it should be needed, be appointed for the erection of an arch of Vancouver on the occasion of the visit of the Duke of York to that city.—Carried.

TWENTY MILLS IS THE RATE.

Moved by Ald. Bourne, seconded by Ald. Abrahamson, that a bylaw be introduced at the next meeting of the council to levy a rate of 16 mills on the dollar for general purposes and a rate of 4 mills for special rate.—Carried.

(One-sixth is taken off the 16 mills, if paid before the date to be fixed by the bylaw.)

BLOCK 52 LEASED.

Moved Ald. Bourne, seconded Ald. Abrahamson that the city lease block 52 from Mr. Farwell in accordance with his letter of Aug. 3rd with the proviso that Mr. Farwell pay the taxes for the year 1901. Carried.

The council then adjourned.

President Wilson's Defence.

The trial of Messrs. Wilson, Lennon and Stout on a charge of libelling Mr. R. C. Montgomery in connection with the recent trackmen's strike has been fixed for the 26th inst., in the Court of King's Bench. Acting for the defendants, Mr. R. A. E. Greenshields prepared the following plea of justification in each of the three cases: "The said John T. Wilson comes into court, and without waiver of his verbal plea of not guilty says for a further plea in his behalf: 'That our Lord, the King, ought not further to prosecute the said indictment against him, because it is true that the said R. C. Montgomery was a man in whom the committee therein referred never had any confidence, and a man who then had been appointed assistant roadmaster, and was "scabbing" on the sectionmen in the vicinity of Ottawa, and because the said J. T. Wilson further says: It is true that the said committee discovered that he, the said R. C. Montgomery, was a traitor to the interests of those for whom the said circular was intended long before the said strike was ordered, and because it is true that the said committee had had the said R. C. Montgomery watched, and that the latter was seen to enter the said St. James' Hotel and to engage there in consultation with some officials of the said company, and because it is true that the struggle referred to in the said circular was a struggle for justice, and one which must be won in spite of all the money the said Canadian Pacific Railway officials had at their disposal, and in spite of the few cowards and Judases they could scare and bribe to pull against those for whom the said circular was intended, and so the said J. T. Wilson says that the said alleged libel is true in substance and in fact; and the said J. T. Wilson further says that the said alleged libel was and is a matter of public interest and concern, and that before and at the time of the publication of the said alleged libel it was for the public benefit that the matters contained therein should be published, because the said Board of Committee referred to in the said circular were public bodies, of which the said R. C. Montgomery was a member, and because the said R. C. Montgomery had behaved and acted treacherously toward his fellow-workmen, for whom the said public bodies were acting and for whom the said circular was intended, and because it was a matter of public interest and concern, and the public benefit, as well as a matter of confidential communication between the said public bodies and the persons for whom the said circular was intended, and to whom it was published, that the deceptive and traitorous conduct and behavior of the R. C. Montgomery should be published and made known in the manner and to the extent it was published and made known.' And this the said J. T. Wilson is ready to verify at the proper time and place."

The Football Dance.

The shirt waist dance held in Tapping's on Monday evening, under the auspices of the Revelstoke Football Club, was a good turn out, about 25 couples being present. The music was furnished by the Revelstoke orchestra, being well rendered. The hall was nicely decorated with bunting and flags in which great credit is due to Messrs. Purves and Smythe. Supper was served about 12 o'clock and the committee thank the ladies very much for sending such good cakes and sandwiches. The affair was kept up until the wee sma' hours of Tuesday morning.

The football club appreciate Mr. Tapping's kindness, who as proprietor of the opera house was most liberal in every way and did all he could to help the boys out.

LOST TREASURE ON COCOS ISLAND

A Victoria Expedition Fitting Out on the Quiet to Make a Complete Search for the Buried Millions.

Says a Victoria despatch to the Ladysmith Leader:

Quietly but energetically a party of Victoria men including one or two well known mariners, are making the most careful preparation to fit out an expedition which will leave for Cocos Island, three hundred miles off the coast of Nicaragua in the Pacific Ocean, there to make a final effort to find the long-lost treasure buried about the middle of the nineteenth century by the slave officials of Nicaragua, during a revolution. The members of the party, who decline to allow their names to be published just now, say that they have come upon some further information that will enable them to recover the treasure if it be there at all. They are perfectly confident that the treasure has never been moved and smile at the story of the searches that have been made for it, both by private individuals and by the crew of H.M.S. Amphion two or three years ago. The party will fit out a large schooner now in the harbor, and expect to leave for the Island about the end of the year. They are spending plenty of money to outfit the vessel, and intend to stay at the Island until they have made a complete and thorough search of every part of it. Some members of the party have been on the Island before and are well acquainted with the local conditions. The fitting out of the expedition has been kept so quiet that the Victoria papers have not yet got wind of it.

It is alleged, on somewhat shady authority, that during a revolution in Nicaragua the state treasurer and other officials of the government fled to Cocos with all the state funds, mainly bullion, and secretly buried it in a certain part of the Island, of which careful note was taken and a map drawn.

Some time after the treasure was buried the Nicaraguan government used the Island for a penal settlement, convicts being sent there for a number of years. One of the convicts, it is said, discovered the exact location of the buried treasure, kept the secret to himself until he returned to Central America, then, after the abandonment of Cocos as a penal settlement, organized a band of comrades and set sail to find the treasure. They were never heard of again. Probably they perished in a terrific hurricane which raged about a week after their departure from the Nicaraguan coast.

This was twenty years or more ago. The matter seemed to pass out of public recollection until some five or six years ago several adventurous spirits visited the Island and failed to find the lost gold. Others tried it with the same result. Then H. M. S. Amphion, at that time in Central American waters, went over, and according to reports, the crew were busy for nearly three weeks trying to earn prize money that never came. The Amphion's men dug a huge hole over the spot marked with a red cross on the chart. The letter said that the searchers would first of all come upon a small box; then, if they dug deeper they would come to a large slab, and that under the slab would the treasure be found. It is further asserted that the Amphion's men actually did come upon the small box and later the slab, but for some reason the commander ordered all operations to be suspended, the excavation was caved in with dynamite and the man o'war steamed off. The matter was reported to the admiralty, but seemingly nothing further was done in the way of prosecuting the search to a finish.

There are now two families living on Cocos Island, and it is alleged that they are spending all their time trying to find the gold. One party of visitors had rather an exciting experience when they attempted to land. The boat was met by a woman with wildly dishevelled hair and frantic aspect, who rushed along the beach brandishing a pistol and threatening to shoot the first man who put his foot on land.

Enough romance has gathered round the little spot of rock and earth off the Central American coast, and its supposed hidden treasure to fit out any novelist for life.

The Royal Visit.

The Duke and Duchess of York will arrive at Vancouver on Sept. 30th. This will allow those who desire to witness the reception to take advantage of the special rate which the Canadian Pacific Railway has put in for the New Westminster exhibition, particulars of which can be obtained from the local agent.

Big preparations are being made for the reception of the Royal party, and there is no doubt that the demonstration at Vancouver will be the most magnificent and imposing ever witnessed on the Pacific Coast.

THE SYMPATHY GAG.

There seems to be considerable haziness existing in the minds of certain would-be politicians with regard to the Labor party. The main idea uppermost in the minds of these individuals being "to corral the labor vote," they are everlastingly fawning on the men of "light and leading" in the Labor ranks, while taking at the same time good care not to commit themselves to any bad breaks which might entail excommunication from one or the other of the old parties, which either now is or in the future will be the dispenser of the fat things of office, the jobs and sits, which the politicians are really after.

The favorite gag with these worthies is that they are in full sympathy with the workingman. This is a fine old crusted election cry and has done big work in the past. Many a politician has floated into a seat on hot air of this variety. But its day is done. The profoundest and most heartfelt "sympathy" with labor goes no more. It is support of the Labor Party that is required and that is a very different matter. The Labor Party at present is only at the beginning of its career. It has nothing in its gift except hard work. Its chance of attaining to actual power is only in the dim future. The politician looks longingly at all the good votes belonging to it, but he cannot make up his mind to jump the fence to go after them. From sheer force of habit he murmurs the dear old gag about being in full sympathy with labor and turns sadly away to hatch up a scheme for soaking the Labor candidate good and hard in the neck when the time comes.

ANARCHY V. ANARCHISTS.

The people of the United States must find some better way of defence against anarchists than by inaugurating a state of anarchy. Attempts to put down the preachers of lawlessness by lawlessness itself cannot prove effectual. Since the assassination of President McKinley utterances have fallen from the lips of American preachers, suggestions have been made by the press and deeds have been enacted in various parts of the United States, revealing a contempt for the law of the country, which could not be surpassed by the anarchists themselves. The murder of the president was a monstrous crime. A great deal more so than the murder of William McKinley. The president of the United States is the personal embodiment of the United States itself and of all that to a loyal citizen of the republic the country stands for. A blow aimed at him wounded the whole nation. But greater even than the president, more sacred even than the nation is the law. Without it human society resolves itself into anarchy and the police who tortured the assassin, the preachers and editors, who are shrieking for unheard of punishments for the miserable wretch, the mobs who are stoning and tar and feathering anarchists throughout the country, are really anarchists themselves. The example of true patriotism, to say nothing of true christianity, set these people, by the dying man, whom they are so anxious to avenge, appears to be lost upon them altogether.

HIGHLY RECOMMENDED.

The HERALD gathers from the remarks of the Grit press in this electoral district that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has written a testimonial for Mr. Galliher to inform his constituents that their member is, a real good man and an ornament to Yale-Cariboo. Of course this is a fearful blow to Mr. Galliher's ignorant critics out here, who 'don't know nawthing about it." Sir Wilfrid says he is all right and that settles it. The general impression that Mr. Galliher needed to get a considerable wiggle on to himself must be entirely erroneous. Sir Wilfrid says he is a useful member and Wilfrid is an honorable man. At the same time one might venture to hint that other Liberal members, like Frank Oliver of Alberta for instance, do not appear to be under any necessity of applying to Sir Wilfrid for a character to fetch back to their constituents. Still the idea is not without its merits. It might be developed into something like the monthly public school reports —W. C. Galliher, Session of 1901, Attendance, Punctuality, Deportment and so on, signed W. Laurier, Premier. The trouble is that even then there would be sure to be a lot of nasty, carping individuals who would persist in asserting that they could cut as good a member of parliament out of a stick of cottonwood. Positively re the is no satisfying some people.

SEARCHINGS OF HEART.

Provincial affairs at Victoria are quite beyond the wit of any man to fathom at this range. Even at the coast nobody seems to know who's who. Various lists of probable government and opposition supporters among the members are put forth but there is no certainty about them. The fact seems to be that there is a good deal of wobbling going on and there are quite a number of members, who are not in any hurry to commit themselves to one side or the other. The government has cabinet positions to fill. They are nice things to have and the future is always uncertain. At any time Mr. Dunsmuir may cut the Gordian knot of his difficulties by retiring from a position for which he is known to have very little personal inclination. The average politician has to do considerable figuring before he sniffs at a good job like the portfolio of mines, for instance. There are great chances. If he refused, he might have the mortification of seeing somebody else accept and hang on to it. It is very unsafe to figure too far ahead in B. C. politics. Supposing Mr. Dunsmuir retired, somebody might step in and fill his shoes for the balance of the life of the present legislature. Conceive if you can how dreadful it would be to refuse a portfolio just now and then for such a thing as that to happen. No wonder it is a hard job to find out just where some of our legislators are at.

Charging and Rebating

The charging and rebating system is a poor one, wherever or whenever employed. The case of the British Columbia mining industry, where a heavy tax is imposed directly and indirectly on the miners and the rebate given in case of smelting and refining, seems to come under this head. True, it is one form of fostering an industry to give a bonus on reduced and refined products, but a much better method would be one under which mining, smelting and refining could be made profitable through natural conditions. If the miner were not so heavily taxed he could afford to pay a little more for the reduction of and refining of his mineral, The smelter and refiner could better afford to establish a reduction and refining works when he knew what he would have to pay for ore rather than that a bonus of to day might be converted into a tax to morrow, or next year. To get the greatest good from the mining industry would seem to lie in the application of the following:

Reduction of taxes on the mines to an amount exactly proportionate with taxes on all other property.

If necessary, establishment of government refinery, where a charge of cost, plus a fair profit for interest, be charged.

Establishment of government mint for the purchase of bullion and coinage.

Withdrawal of all bonuses.

This would require the aid and consent of the Provincial, Dominion Governments; but is not the mineral wealth of the province of sufficient value to undertake such a step? Or who will doubt its final success or the success of the plan as outlined?—Mining (Spokane).

Takes a place in the first rank of Journals in this Province. Its mining, telegraphic and local news is gathered from reliable sources and presented to the reader in attractive shape. As the local paper of such an important Railway Centre, its attention has always been drawn to Railway matters, and recently it has definitely taken up the task of forming itself into a vehicle of railway news in which railway employes all over British Columbia and Alberta will find the news of the Great Railway System to which they belong, and of personal and the happenings affecting themselves and their fellow employes. THE HERALD has long enjoyed the largest circulation of any paper published in the district, which is now rapidly increasing among the Railway Men East, West and South. It is hardly necessary to point out to any shrewd businessman the advantages which it thus offers as an advertising medium throughout the entire field which it covers.

Why the Steel Workers Struck.

A statement in Leslie's Weekly in regard to the steel strike by president T. J. Shaffer, of the Amalgamated Association, shows that all the issues that lead to industrial conflicts are questions of wages, however prominent the technical points as to recognition and agreements may seem. The scale of wages in the union mills was higher than in the non-union mills, and the trust pursued a systematic policy of keeping the union or organized mills idle while working the non-union mills. By this means discontent was spread among the workmen, and some of them, suffering for want of employment, were prevailed upon to violate their obligation to the union and go to work for less than scale rates, at the same time agreeing to sever connection with the Amalgamated Association and refrain from uniting with any labor organization. The intention to destroy the association was so palpable that unusual efforts were made to organize other mills, and thus defeat the plans of those who antagonized the association. When the organizers succeeded the men who had joined were discharged as speedily as discovery was made. This is regarded by president Shaffer as corroborative of the purpose of the trust. An offer by the association not to ask any increase in the rate of wages paid in formerly non-union mills was rejected in such a way as to make it clear that nothing short of the dissolution of the sheet department of the association would be satisfactory. "It was manifestly their plan," says president Shaffer, "to sign the scale each year for a reduced number of union mills, and by keeping some of them idle, reduce the number still more, and finally extirpate unionism completely. Deeming instant death preferable to prolonged torture, we struck." Among the secondary causes of the strike he mentions the refusal of the trust to allow union men to work in non-union mills, and the determination to extend the sphere of lower wages and longer hours of labor by closing down the union mills. The union mills allow eight hours for a day's work, while in non-union establishments a day's work is from ten to twelve hours. Where hours are the same, a greater tonnage or output is required from non-union workers, while the difference in wages is 20 per cent. in favor of the union mills.—Nelson Tribune.

Badly Scared.

Mayor Prefontaine, in an interview said that the only regret he felt in connection with the royal visit was on account of the extraordinary timidity manifested by certain of His Royal Highness' entourage, as to the safety of the Duke and Duchess. The tragedy at Buffalo appeared to have had a perfectly terrifying effect upon certain officials who felt themselves responsible, to a more or less extent, for the safety of Their Royal Highnesses in Canada and, as a result, some of the party appeared to be constantly in dread of anarchists, a dread which appeared very absurd to the Mayor.

One effect of this was that the Duke and Duchess appeared to be under a constant cloud of anxiety and restraint and were carefully kept from contact with the people of one of the most loyal and most peaceable cities in the Empire. The mayor mentioned with considerable amusement that a certain eminent member of the Duke's party at the time of the presentation of the address was very fidgety until twice assured as to the identity and eminent respectability of the mayor's well groomed official secretary who was standing near him on the platform holding a bouquet. The questioner apparently feared that the fragrant flowers were but a mask for some deadly weapon.

There Are Others.

This is the season of the year when T. Eaton's and Robert Simpson's catalogues are being showered upon the people. And this is the season of the year when the home merchant gets the stand off so that the cash may be used in purchasing goods in eastern sweat shops. People of Moyie stop and ask yourselves the following questions. Did Timothy Eaton or Robert Simpson ever contribute a dollar towards a public improvement in Moyie? Did they ever purchase a dollar's worth of stock in the waterworks or contribute a dollar towards the purchase of hose for the fire brigade? Did they ever contribute a dollar to a Moyie man in distress? Did they ever buy a dollar's worth of goods in a Moyie store or buy a meal at a Moyie hotel? Keep your money at home, good people, so that when you spend a dollar you have a chance of getting it back again; which chance will never occur if it ever gets in Eaton's or Simpson's mits.—Moyie Leader.

Locomotive's Long Run.

The Great Northern Company are owners of an express railway engine which is believed to own the world's record for the number of miles run. This is No. 1, stationed at Peterborough and Doncaster. The engine, which belongs to the single driving wheel type, was built in Doncaster in 1850, being the first to be fitted with outside cylinders. From careful calculations made, the engine has just completed its four millionth mile. The engine still runs on its original wheels, and is capable of holding its own amongst the newest constructed. In its long life, the No. 1 has not met with an accident of serious nature.—Islington Gazette (London).

A. F. Rosenberger returned to Nelson Friday night after a fortnight's trip through Montana and Idaho. To a Miner reporter Mr. Rosenberger stated that he had never before realized how valuable the deposits of British Columbia were till he saw what mines had been developed in the states mentioned from showings that were in no way superior to those of British Columbia, while in extent of mineralised country he had seen nothing to compare with almost any of the mining sections of this province.

McBRIDE OR EBERTS

Premiers and Rumors of Premiers at Victoria. The expectation is That Something Will be Heard to Drop Within a Few Hours.

A special Victoria despatch to the Nelson Tribune dated the 23rd says;

An effort is being made to patch up the differences between the Stalwarts and the Insurgents. Dunsmuir will probably resign and allow Eberts to become premier, who will take two Insurgents into his cabinet, probably Helmcken and Tatlow, replace Prentice with Green, and make McBride provincial secretary. By doing this, the following-named can be relied on to support the government: Eberts, Helmcken, McPhillips, Hall, Pooley, Dickie, Mounce, Tatlow, Garden, Ellison, Fulton, Murphy, A. W. Smith, Hunter, Rogers, Taylor, Green, Gifford, Clifford, Hayward, Booth and McBride. Speaker Booth is ill in the hospital here and may not be able to attent the next session. The vacancy in Victoria will be contested, and it is doubtful if it can be carried by a candidate pledged to support the above combination. The opposition will be about as when the house met in 1900.

Another Victoria special of the same date, to the Vancouver World, takes another view. It says:—

Persistent rumors are current here today that Premier Dunsmuir has decided, in view of the adverse verdict in New Westminster city, to present his resignation to the Lieutenant-Governor and recommend Mr. Richard McBride as his successor.

This is presumed to be the recommendation of personal friends, who take the ground that it is the distinctly stated determination of the people to endorse and sustain Mr. McBride's recent protest against cabinet readjustment.

A third despatch from the capital, this time to the Province, says:

Mr. Thos. Taylor, M.L.A., and Mr. R. F. Green, M. L. A., who are in the city, state that feeling of indignation against the government is more intense in the interior than on the coast, and so far as their constituents are concerned, the government is doomed.

Gets Six Months

W. J. Magner, the defaulting agent of the N. & F. S. railway, who was stationed at Waneta, was brought before Judge Forin Thursday for election upon two charges of theft. He elected speedy trial and entered a plea of guilty. The charges against Magner were the stealing of $880 from Jesse Coulter, manager of the Second Relief mine at Erie, and of stealing the sum of $28.25 from J. R. Hunnex, the postmaster at Erie. Judge Forin sentenced the prisoner to six months imprisonment upon each charge, the sentences to run concurrently. The Judge explained the light nature of the sentences by saying that it had been represented to him that the prisoner just previous to the thefts complained of was suffering from the effects of rheumatism and that to relieve his sufferings he had taken some drugs and that the thefts had taken place while the prisoner was under the effects of the drugs and therefore not strictly accountable for his actions. Judge Forin observed that the prisoner's actions following the thefts bore out this interpretation of the circumstances.

QUEEN VICTORIA HOSPITAL

The Plans for the Building Approved by the Board and Tenders Called For.

The board of hospital trustees held a meeting on Monday afternoon at 5 k. The revised plans for the building furnished by the architect Mr. Dalton were accepted and the secretary was instructed to call for tenders for the erection of the hospital. The plans call for a building consisting of a basement, ground floor, first floor and attic. The front faces towards First St. In the basement are storerooms, kitchen, furnace room and fuel cellar, nurses' dining room and matron's apartments. The ground floor is devoted entirely to surgical cases. Entering the hall on the right is the office and behind it a female ward on the left is the male ward. Across the corridor running through the floor at right angle to the main hall is a sterilizing room and operating room, the latter being lit by an overhead window. A bathroom and semi-private ward complete the rooms on this floor. On the first floor are four private wards, one large ward and two semi-private wards, all of which will be used for medical cases. In the attic are the nurses' apartment. There are bathrooms on every floor. The external appearance of the building will be handsome and the plans provide for a hospital, which will certainly be a credit to Revelstoke in every particular.'

Secret Work of Odd Fellowship

A step regarded as the most important ever taken with regard to the secret work of the order of Odd Fellowship was recorded at Indianapolis on Friday last, when the sovereign grand lodge, the supreme body, voted to allow duplicate copies of the secret work of the order to be made.

At every session for 20 years or more an attempt has been made to this end, but until Friday every attempt has failed.

Since the founding of Odd Fellowship there has been only one copy of the secret work of the order. This is not printed, but is stamped on parchment.

It is kept by a guardian specially appointed for that purpose. No one is allowed to cast his eyes on it unless that one is an officer or a grand representative in the sovereign grand lodge.

During the session of the supreme body in this city the copy of the secret work has been kept in a room under the watchful eyes of two guardians.

The resolution adopted Friday provides that each state jurisdiction shall receive one copy of the secret work. No additional copies will be made.

Each state and each lodge now has the ritualistic work which is secret also, but the signs and some other secrets not mentioned are never given except by word of mouth.
