AROUND THE RAILWAY YARD

Personal Paragraphs Pertaining to Railway Men Picked up By the Herald Man on His Daily Rounds.

Master Mechanic Hall went down to Nelson yesterday morning.

J. W. Foulds of Winnipeg, has been given a position in the C. P. R. accountant's office in Vancouver.

W. Whyte, assistant to the president of the C.P.R., is back in Winnipeg after an absence in Montreal of several weeks.

Telegraph operator Brewster arrived from Vancouver this morning to take the night trick in the C. P. R. telegraph office.

W. Stitt, C. P. R. assistant general passenger agent, has not yet left for Australia nor is the date of his departure yet decided.

J. W. Thompson, formerly station agent at Macleod, has been transferred to Elko, Alta. Mr. McMillan who was acting agent during Mr. Thompson's recent illness, will be permanently stationed there.

At the half yearly meeting of the G. T. R. held in London last week the president, Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, described the giving of free passes as one of the greatest abuses of railway administration in Canada.

The Canadian Railway freight agents held their regular monthly meeting in Montreal last week, and decided that they would make no further changes in their winter rates. The Toronto men present were A. White for the G. T. R., and M. H. Brown for the C.P.R. and Secretary John Earls of the association.

A brakeman named J. H. Branscombe lost his leg as the result of an accident in the Grand Trunk yard at the Union Station, Toronto last Tuesday morning. He was on the top of a car which was being shunted, and fell between it and the next car. Both legs were run over and crushed.

A rear end collision on the main line of the C.P.R. at Wolf River, near Fort William, occurred on Thursday last. Two stock trains for the east were on the siding and the last three cars of one of them were not quite clear of the main track. In passing, the west bound Imperial Limited crashed into the train, throwing several cars loaded with cattle from the track and killing a number of the animals. The wreck delayed the train for fifteen hours.

There was a strike of Canadian Pacific telegraph messengers last Tuesday which lasted for 55 minutes. Through an oversight the pay day had been delayed, and the messengers felt that they could not face the opportunities of spending money afforded during the royal visit with empty pockets. The wages were paid next day, and this, with the promise of a half holiday for the boys during the week, brought about a peaceable settlement.—Toronto Telegram.

Redistribution.

Speaking to the HERALD yesterday Thos. Taylor M. P. P., expressed himself as not at all in accord with the scheme of redistribution recently advocated by the Nelson Tribune. He thinks that the Tribune allows too large a proportion to Vancouver Island. The Tribune scheme still leaves small districts on the Island, such as Esquimalt, Cowichan and Victoria district with one member apiece, though the number of votes polled in them only runs from 200 to 400, while districts in Kootenay with double, treble or quadruple the highest of these figures are only given one each likewise. In the same way the Tribune leaves New Westminster with a population of 8000 with only one member and allows the four pocket ridings of Westminster district to keep four members, each representing a few farmers. It is difficult to see why Kaslo is made out to be such a central point for Trout Lake mining division that Trout Lake must be tacked on to Ainsworth. There is no community of business interest between Trout Lake and Kaslo now and on the completion of the railway what business in Trout Lake Revelstoke loses will not go to Kaslo but Nelson. Mr. Taylor does not believe in the principle of adding another member to Vancouver solely on the grounds of increase of population. A large city's interests are so compact and its area so get at able that it can be well served by fewer members than its actual population perhaps warrants.

"The whole question" said Mr. Taylor "is a very difficult one. I am afraid it cannot be settled without stiring up the feeling between the Island and the mainland which already is in existence to a certain extent. But I am of the opinion that the island is entitled to a good deal smaller and Kootenay to a good deal larger proportion of representation than the Tribune scheme calls for."

The Assizes

Judge Irvine presided at the assize court held here on Saturday last. Deputy Attorney General McLean conducted the court for the crown.

The following grand jury was empanelled: J. M. Kellie, foreman, F. McCarty, W. M. Lawrence, R. Howson, W. J. Dickey, F. B. Wells, Jas. I. Woodrow, J. Abrahamson, T. E. L. Taylor, C. J. Aman. There were only two cases Rex v. Sangolla and Rex v. Legassy. In the first the grand jury found a True Bill, but the second was no billed. The grand jury made no presentment.

In the case of Rex v. Sangolla, the prisoner, an Hungarian section foreman at Nakusp, was charged on three counts, shooting at his wife at Nakusp on July 22nd with intent to murder shooting at her with intent to do her grevious bodily harm and having unlawfully a concealed weapon on his person. The following were the jury empanelled to try the case: R. H. Ramsay, J. A. Smith, J. E. Wood, A. E. Kincaid, G. C. Lemke, M. A. Wilson, J. P. Sutherland, J. A. Stone, H. B. Stonex, Roy Smythe, Thos. Steed and G. E. Grogan, foreman. G. S. McCarter defended and H. A. McLean, deputy attorney general prosecuted. The witnesses for the crown were Capt. Julius Dougal, Mrs. Barton, L. E. Simmonds, Walter Scott and Stephen Marrowsack. For the defence, the prisoner's wife and the prisoner himself were called.

The jury disagreed after a prolonged discussion and were discharged.

The case is to come up again at Kamloops on the 22nd inst.

Standard Development.

From reports just received from the Standard this week the work being done on this property is proving the value of the recent strikes of high grade copper ore. The ledges are shewing larger ore bodies of even better grade than has yet been reported. The Prince Mining Co. are putting forth every effort to develop the property this fall to be ready for the opening of navigation, when the steamer Revelstoke will be making regular runs up the river within shipping distance of this valuable property. There is a big demand for Prince Mining and Development Co's shares, which are placed at 25 cents for the present, but the HERALD understands that at a very early date the shares at 25 cents will be taken off the market and placed at 50 cents, a figure which is warranted by the excellent shewing made by the properties of the company this fall.

Third Payment on Blue Jay.

Yesterday afternoon the third payment of $1500 was made by E. A. Bradley, managing director of the Duquesne Mining Co., on the Blue Jay placer claim on Smith Creek. The company has now made a considerable payment on this property, which is the best evidence of their faith in its future and their intentions to get down to mining business. Mr. Bradley is an old Cariboo man, thoroughly conversant with the science of placer mining and good results may confidently be expected from a property which he endorses and handles.

UNDESERVED SLIGHT

Col. Holmes Will Recommend That the Revelstoke Company, R. M. R. Be Disbanded.—A Letter From Capt. Taylor.

The following despatch appeared in Monday's coast papers:

NELSON, B. C., Oct. 14.—Lieut. Col. Holmes, D. O. C., states that he will recommend that the militia department disband the Revelstoke company of militia, and give the company to Rossland; also to disband the Kaslo company, making the headquarters here when this place will become headquarters for the regiment and band, also that a drill shed be built here, and one at Rossland.

The Kamloops company of Rifles will probably be disbanded, and mounted companies established there and at Vernon and Greenwood.

Immediately on seeing it Capt Taylor sent the following communication to the HERALD:

Sir,—I read a statement in today's "Province" that Lieut. Col. Holmes, D. O. C. intends to recommend the disbanding of No. 5 Co. R. M. R. I most sincerely trust that he will not do so, unless it is assured that we are to have no drill hall. Without a drill hall or armory we are of course as good as disbanded in any case.

But if the militia dept. would only realize the necessity of a drill hall in such a climate as this, especially as the city has guaranteed the site for it, we could easily gather enough men to form two excellent companies.

Col. Peters said our inspection in 1899 was the best and most commendable of the five companies in the Kootenays, but at that time we had a drill hall, for which I paid the rent out of my own pocket.

If we are not to have a drill hall of any kind, I am quite in favor of disbanding, because it is quite impossible to exist without it, unless the government pays for the rent for one for us, as they do in some of the other companies. On the other hand, if there is the faintest chance of a drill hall being erected here, then I ask for a chance to use it and will guarantee my men to pass a most satisfactory inspection. It is not fair that the government should pay the rent of a hall for one company and not for all. However, as a result of this, we seem to stand in danger of being disbanded.

I have nothing further to say, except that my men are most eager to keep the company going, but that to do so is utterly impossible, if I have to meet all current expenses personally.

Yours Truly,
Thompson E. L. Taylor.
Commanding No. 5 Co., R. M. R.

The HERALD considers that the above is a reasonable plea, which ought to satisfy the authorities that it is through no fault of Capt. Taylor or No. 5 Company that the Revelstoke company is not in a more active condition than it has been for the past few months. Capt. Taylor paid for the rent of Tappings opera house for a drill shed for one winter and for the rent of one of the small rooms in the same building as an armory for six months longer. It is only natural that he considers that he has done enough in this direction. The city too has guaranteed a site if the government will put up a drill hall and a resolution to this effect has been in the hands of the militia dept. for several months without any more effect, than the repeated letters of Capt. Taylor on the subject. The captain is as been as the rest of the company on keeping the organization together and there is on reason on earth except the unjust and dilatory procedure on the part of the dept. for subjecting Revelstoke to the slur and disgrace of having its company disbanded. If we can only get the same measure of consideration dealt out to us as other places have received, we can raise and keep up two as smart and efficient companies in Revelstoke as can ever Rossland or Nelson. The HERALD appeals to every body in town, who has the slightest influence, to use it to prevent Col. Holmes' recommendation from taking effect.

The City Council

At a special meeting of the city council held on Monday night, at which there was a full attendance, it was unanimously resolved to increase the scope of the proposed debenture bylaw for improving and extending the city streets and sidewalks by adding $1500 to the amount of $500 proposed previously to be spent on gravelling the streets and adding the whole sum of $2000 to the $2000 for sidewalks, making the bylaw raise $4000. The necessary petition has been prepared and is in circulation and will be ready for the regular meeting on Friday evening.

WEDEESDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1901.

SUBJECTS FOR CONSIDERATION

Tomorrow is the usual day of meeting of the executive council of the board of trade and there are certainly a couple of matters which would make it worth their while to meet and take up. This place owes a great deal more to the board of trade than that body has ever got credit for or indeed than some people are at all willing that they should get credit for. Theirs is a useful and honorable record in the history of Revelstoke and the HERALD only wishes to see the same good work of the board going on, when it suggests that this proposed mining exposition at New York to be held early in December and the question of the Dominion government expenditure on the upper river during the coming winter are both matters of vital importance to the welfare of Revelstoke and therefore come well within the board's ken. The HERALD has already enlarged on both these topics. The Exposition of Mining at New York will be the greatest chance ever offered Kootenay of bringing her mineral resources before the capitalists and mining men of the east. The boards of trade, the municipal councils and the press of the district should unite in urging our provincial government to make the very best exhibit at it possible and the mining men of the Big Bend, Fish River, the Lardeau and other points, which our local board can help in this matter, should help the board in turn by sending in specimens, with which the government can enrich its Revelstoke district collection.

As to the other matter of the Dominion government expenditure on the upper river, we know there was a supplementary grant of $15,000 made for this purpose. Of this sum it was stated, we believe, by Mr. Galliher that $5000 was to be used between the Canyon and Death rapids, $5000 for a tramway along the Death rapids and $5000 above Death rapids. The HERALD thinks it would be well, considering of what immense importance this expenditure is to Revelstoke, for the board to ascertain from Mr. Galliher exactly what the intentions of the Public Works Dept. in this matter are, so that we may know what is contemplated in this direction. The HERALD is led to believe that the construction of a tramway suitable for the transfer of freight from a steamer plying below the rapids to one above would not be a very costly undertaking. If it is built, there is capital enough interested in the district above the rapids to make it a certainty that the launching of a steamboat on the river above would speedily follow. A word in time now from the board to the Public Works Dept. would open the matter up and might be means of another step towards the development of Revelstoke's vast and valuable trade territory in north Kootenay being taken almost at once.

SURE THING!

The Albertan, a Calgary family paper, keeps a private astrologer chained up somewhere on the premises. He is a professor, Prof. J. C. Richardson, Calgary, and as an astrologer he is no slouch. His predictions are published monthly so that the readers of the Albertan are in a position to keep close tab on the prophet. Not having the back numbers of the Albertan on fyle the HERALD cannot say how close the September figures were to actual events, though the professor claims to have foretold the death of President McKinley, but there is one paragraph in the October forecast that we will bank on for a good, solid, reliable British Columbia prophesy every time. It says, "There are strong indications of a general election about this time and a change in the form of government." That's it! That will fit B. C. for October and November and any other old month in the calendar. Its a sure winner in this province.

THE SIDEWALK BYLAW.

Though rather late in the season the proposed expenditure of $2000 by the council on extending the sidewalks of the city will, the HERALD thinks, meet with the approval of the majority of the ratepayers. There is still time, if matters are pushed along, for considerable work to be done, if the job is let in small sections, as it doubtles will be, if the bylaw carries. Particularly on Second St. west and on First, Third and Fourth Sts. east are sidewalks needed, both streets being lined with attractive and valuable residences, the owners of which pay a good proportion of the city's taxes and are justly entitled to the public conveniences, which the municipality has already provided in other portions of the city with a lavish hand. Other portions of the work contemplated by the public works committee, if the bylaw carries, though not perhaps of such crying necessity, will all of them add very considerably to the convenience of our citizens and visitors and the appearance of the city. The expenditure of this $2000 will do a great deal towards improving our streets. It is not a large sum for the results which will follow its expenditure and will not add very materially to the taxes. At the same time for the time being it will do about all the work of sidewalk construction really necessary until more building is done in town. The HERALD hopes to see the bylaw pass and if the fine fall weather holds out, we may possibly even at this eleventh hour enjoy the use of these sidewalks before the heavy snowfall of the winter renders the work impossible.

SUCCESS OF TOM SHAUGHNESSY

The Catholic Citizen of Milwaukee gives the following characteristic sketch of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway:

Many of our readers are interested in the success of a former Milwaukeean, who is now president of the Canadian Pacific railway (at a salary of $60,000 a year,—or more than we pay the president of the United States,) and who has just been knighted by Edward VII.'s son.

His present address is Sir Thomas Shaughnessy of Canada. His parents are old and respected residents of Milwaukee and members of the Gesu parish.

This article is not intended to be a elogy; we utilize his lordship simply to point a moral.

He grew to manhood in the Third ward of Milwaukee—an Irish-American ward; and in the course of time he was elected alderman. He stood the prosperity of it. From that dizzy summit of political power many Irish-Americans have fallen into reckless habits. Tom Shaughnessy's favorite drink is said to have been seltzer water. He did not injure his health, nor stupify his brain in the ordinary politician's way, aspiring to a higher eminence than alderman of the Third ward. He was a railroad man in a legitimate way also.

When the Canadian government found that it had bitten off more than it could chew in trying to build a great trans-continental railway, it had recourse to the sturdiness of the Boer race and the clear-mindedness of the Celt to pull it through. It gave the company these men organized whole shires and provinces of arable land for their services in saving its scheme. Their brains and energy succeeded; and England, following the policy of recuperating her effete aristocracy by knighting able commoners, made these men lords and baronets. We ourselves disdain the gew gaws of monarchy, but the mind of Canada is provincial, it kowtows to such things so we cannot blame Mr. Shaughnessy or permitting himself to be decorated.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy was a pupil of St. Gall's parochial school, Milwaukee, where he received a sound Christian education, which we trust will enable him to die well; albeit, we are informed that his attitude in religious matters early began to resemble that of the little girl's father: "Papa is a Methodist," she said, "but he is not working at it now." Like so many of his co-religionists who have attained eminent places in the railway world, Mr. Shaughnessy seems to have filed his religion away for future reference. We hope he can find it when he thinks he needs it.

Triune's Closing Shipment.

Another 20-ton of Triune ore is nearly ready for shipment, and the miners are still working, though the snow may drive them down the hill at any time. S. Daney's pack train is plying between the mine and Ten-Mile daily, keeping close up to the ore sackers. A second cabin has been completed and everything will be made ready for an early start next season, when the commencement of the long base tunnel will be the first thing on the program. The Eagle feels safe in asserting that the Triune mine is one of the richest and biggest silver-lead propositions ever unearthed in America. Time, development and smelter returns will substantiate this assertion ere another two years.—Lardeau Eagle.

A MICHIGAN MINING MAN

The President of the Syndicate Which Owns the Camborne and Oyster Gives Some Impressions of B. C.

The Nelson Miner says: A. J. Scott, of Hancock, Mich., president of the Northwestern Development Syndicate, who has been in Nelson for the last two days leaves for the Lardeau this morning, where he will spend a week looking over the properties of the company, and incidentally enjoying a little shooting. Mr. Scott states that the shareholders in Michigan in the syndicate had been much interested in the samples of ore and description of the properties sent them, so much so that he had been sent out to inspect the properties thoroughly and take back more samples for assaying at the School of Mines, which was situated at Houghton, Mich., across Portage lake from Hancock.

Mr. Scott was much impressed with the country, which he believes within the next twenty years will be the leading mining country of the world. He had been struck with the immense amount of territory which was so richly mineralized in British Columbia. In Michigan the copper mines were confined to one large lode which was about one hundred and fifty miles long by from half a mile to a mile wide. In this belt were many rich veins of copper, but veins which needed enormously expensive operations, as compared with the average mining properties of this country to develop. Mining in Michigan practically started about 1860. The belt mentioned was on the west side of Kewanee Point, a long spit of land extending into Lake Superior. There are 35 mines in operation of which the Calumet, Quincy and the Tamarac are among the principal. The average depth at which these mines are worked is 5,000 feet, although the Calumet had paid from the surface. On others of the mines it has been necessary to attain great depth before paying ore was reached. The capitalisation of all of the companies ran well up into the millions, which was made necessary by the expensive character of the mining. The veins were generally from 10 to 15 feet wide, carry native copper with a little native silver. The metals were pure, not needing any refining proceses. In most of the mines a couple of boys were kept to pick out the pieces of silver, which average about $200 or $300 per month. On the Calumet the present lowest level worked was 5,500 feet and a large number of workings are below the mile level. The vein has a regular dip of 35 degrees to the west. Ore which was one and a half or two per cent. copper was considered good. Mr. Scott said that one reason why the people in his vicinity were so much interested in the Camborne properties was because they were free gold, and as such the processes to some degree were akin to those used in the mines at home. He had been much surprised to note the large number of miners from Michigan who were working throughout, not only British Columbia but Montana and Washington as well, and said that the Michigan mines had evidently been the school in which a majority of them had learned the trade.

CAMBORNE AND OYSTER

Contracts let for Work on These Two Banner Properties of the Fish River Free Milling Gold Belt

A. F. Rosenberger [illegible] evening to the city from the Lardeau where he has been superintending [illegible] opening up of work on the Camborne group [illegible] for two thirty foot shafts [illegible] as also for a fifty foot [illegible] foot shaft on the Camborne [illegible] building of several cabins [illegible] of the miners has been [illegible] also various other improvements [illegible] it is intended to prosecute development work vigorously during the coming winter. During Mr. Rosenberger's stay at the camp a strike of a two foot streak of the richest [illegible] found in the Lardeau was made in the centre of a ten foot ledge on the Camborne. The ore is free milling gold and the gold on this particular streak is extremely coarse, occurring in fair sized nuggets. The rest of the ledge run $40. It is not known yet what the shoot will average. He brought down several fine samples.—Nelson Miner.

The Job He Preferred.

Just after the fall of Bloemfontein soldiers were called for, owing to the scarcity of civilians, to work the railway. The weary men were lying in camp one night after a hard day's work, when a sergeant called out:

"Any of you men want to put your names down as railway porters, drivers, stokers, or for any other appointment connected with the railway?"

The silence was broken only by snores. Then one Tommy slowly raised his head and drowsily muttered:

"Put me down as a sleeper."—London Spare Moments.

J. Guy Barber shewed the HERALD a magnificent gold bracelet manufactured entirely out of Big Bend gold at his jewelry store, which the ladies of the Hospital Aid Society intend to present to Lady Minto. The ornament is quite unique in design and artistically finished and will furnish her ladyship with a most appropriate souvenir of the Revelstoke cottage hospital, as well as a token of the esteem with which the ladies of Revelstoke regard her.

POLICE COURT.

[BEFORE J. D. SIBBALD, P. M.]

Two cases came up this morning.

J. F. McLeod was charged with receiving brass and copper pipe, the property of the C. P. R., knowing it to be stolen and Ah Sing, a Chinaman, better known as "Two Bits," with stealing it. J. M. Scott appeared for the prosecution.

Both prisoners elected to be tried by the magistrate. Ah Sing's guilt was soon clearly proved. He had a previous conviction for theft against him and was sentenced to two years in Kamloops jail.

In the other case the brass and copper was proved to belong to the C. P. R. and there was no attempt made to deny that McLeod bought it from Ah Sing at 1½ cents a lb. for the brass and two cents for the copper. The defence was that McLeod had bought the goods believing Ah Sing's story that he had picked up the brass on the old smelter ground and the coppe pipe on the site of Robinson's burnt mill.

The case was adjourned till 2 p. m.

THE LARDEAU TREASURE

Noted Miniug Expert Comments On Over Modesty of British Columbians.

"The Lardeau is one of the highest grade ore districts in the Northwest,' was the statement made to the Vancouver World by J. T. Vaughan Rhys, mining expert. "On my way from Blairmore I stopped for a short time at some of the camps in that district, and I was surprised at the richness of the ore. There Nature has concentrated the silver, which is the reason the deposits are not so very large, but this is far better than huge low grade propositions. There are numerous small ore bodies sufficiently high grade to enable mule shipments to be made right from the beginning of the work of development.

"The Silver Cup, Nettie L, and Triune, the mines that made the camp, are still developed at a considerable profit, and some of the returns which are made would open the eyes of many who have no idea of what the interior of this province contains. East Kootenay is another district where rich ore deposits exist, of which comparatively little is heard.

"I tell you," Mr. Rhys remarked, "the people in British Columbia are entirely too modest, and do not toot their own horns loud enough. Why, I have seen mineral camps in Idaho, not one-half as good as three-quarters of what I know to be located in the interior of the province, blown up to the skies, so to speak, by the owners and the people, and the result has been that, these mines are developed to their extreme limit, and small towns are clustered around.

"There is also more railway building going on than is known. The C. P. R. is extending its ramifications into all parts of the mineral districts, and the Great Northern lines are gradually reaching past the border and tapping the best portions of the country. Everything considered, I think the outlook is very favorable."

Northwestern Syndicate.

A. F. Rosenberger accompanied by A. J. Scott president, and J. C. Crofts of Nelson, one of the directors of the Northwestern Development Syndicate went into Camborne on Saturday to inspect the Camborne and Oyster groups of free milling gold quartz claims, which are the property of the syndicate. They paid a visit to town last night. The most favorable reports continue to be received from their properties. Bunkhouses are being erected and preparations made to push work on the Goldfinch, the banner claim of the Camborne group this winter. Contracts have been let for two 50 foot shafts on the Oyster group. The directors of the syndicate have decided not to sell more than 200,000 shares of their stock at 50 cents. The next block will be put on the market at par.

CAMBORNE GOLD FIELDS

A Lively Winter Ahead of the Fish River Camp.—Waggon Road Completed and Communication with the Landing Established.

CAMBORNE, Oct. 12—The prospects for the winter in this camp are good. There will be several more properties working before the end of the year and several contracts will be let. The Beatrice intends to ship again this winter and supplies are now being packed up with this object in view. Another contract has also just been let on the Wide West.

The waggon road to the Landing will be completed in a few more days and waggons are already running into town.

Messrs. Walters and Adams of Vancouver, are in the camp with J. A. Darragh looking over several properties

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz have taken over the boarding of the men at the Goldfinch. The cabins on the property are being rushed ahead by J. Enest, who has the contract for putting them up.

Cariboo and goat are plentiful in the hills round Camborne and there is an abundance of venison in town.
