A SOUND OF REVELRY

In the Opera House Last Night—The First Hospital Ball.—Brilliant Affair.—Artistic Decorations and Splendid Music.

The ball, which came off last night in aid of the Queen Victoria Cottage Hospital, was an entirely successful affair. Over 400 tickets were sold and a large number of people came in yesterday from points south and along the main line to take it in. Owing to the delay caused to the No. 1 by the blockade on the Big Hill, special cabooses were attached to a freight from Field, which brought in a crowd of visitors from Field, Glacier Rogers' Pass, Illecillewaet and other stations east of here in the division. The hall was never so elaborately or more effectively decorated for any occasion. The ladies, with the aid of volunteer assistance, had worked hard every day during the week to bring the decoration scheme to perfection and their efforts were crowned with complete success. The most novel feature was the employment of hundreds of small Union Jacks, in every conceivable shape and direction around the galleries, ceiling and across the stage were the supper was laid.

Promptly at nine o'clock the programme commenced to the strains of the Revelstoke orchestra. The grand march was led by Supt. Kilpatrick and Mrs. Carruthers, Capt. T. E L. Taylor and Mrs. Wilks, B. R. Atkins and Mrs. B. A. Lawson and G. S McCarter and Mrs. Flint. The ball gradually filled until even the big floor space of the opera house was crowded with dancers, of whom there were at least a couple of hundred. The galleries were well filled with spectators enjoying the dazzling scene below and anticipating the call to supper. This repast, which was tastefully spread on the stage, was an excellent one, provided by the ladies of the town, and was greatly enjoyed by the numerous guests. It was served buffet fashion, so that the extra work attendant on a sit down supper was avoided. Dancing was kept up until four o'clock this morning. The affair was an entire success financially and socially and the HERALD congratulates the ladies of the hospital and society on the very encouraging result of their labors and the complete eclat with which the first Hospital Ball in Revelstoke was carried out. Mr. Doyle, who nobly stood his post at the ticket wicket in spite of the cauld, cauld blasts through the outer door, took in 211 tickets of all kinds.

Masonic Ball at Golden

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT)

GOLDEN, Jan. 21—On Friday evening a gay assemblage, not only of local devotees of the dance, but also largely augmented by visitors from Field, Revelstoke, Windermere and other points enjoyed the hospitality of the members of Mountain Lodge, No. 11, Grand Register of B.C. The Columbia Hall was decorated georgeously for the occasion; and while the uninitiated in scanning the many beautiful designs upon the walls were not without curiosity as to the hidden meanings, those who had travelled the road could trace strange significance in the the various symbols which were so tastefully displayed. Promptly upon the tick of nine o'clock, the orchestra in readiness and the seats upon the four sides filled with eager and expectant guests, the masons formed a hollow square towards the centre of the room to receive with due ceremony R. W. Bro. C. S Stevens, the district Deputy Grand Master of the Masonic District No. 3. This distinguished brother was accorded the honors due to one so exalted in the craft and acknowledged in fitting terms the cordiality of his greeting. The programme was then commenced and was carried through with a spirit thoroughly western. The best evidence that everyone thoroughly enjoyed the pleasure so thoughtfully provided lies in the facts that the floor was constantly thronged and that the majority of the numbers were persistently encored. The good nature of the management and the orchestra in responding to the repeated requests for "more" was a subject of most favorable comment on the part of the visitors. At the supper interval extras were contributed by Miss Wells, Messrs. J. S. Gibb and E. Plowright, and were thoroughly enjoyed. Upwards of sixty couples partook of the tasty and bountiful supper prepared by the genial host of the Columbia.

Judging from the expression of the visitors and the freely expressed verdict of the townspeople, the event of Friday evening was a most pronounced success and the members of the lodge may be assured that their painstaking efforts were thoroughly appreciated by those who had the good fortune to be numbered amongst their guests.

The guests from outside were:

Revelstoke.—R. W., Bro. T. Downie, Bro. Dr. Cross, Bro. Geo. S. McCarter and Mrs. McCarter, Bro. and Mrs. G. Risteen and Thos. Kilpatrick.

Kamloops.—R. W., Bro. Charles S. Stevens.

Field—Bro., Mrs. and Miss Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. Carey, Mrs. Wyckoff, J. Carlin, J. McDonald, Mr. Mrs. and Miss Field.

Palliser.—Mr. W. A. Anstay.

Donald.—Mr. W. Robinson.

Beaver.—The Misses McCallum.

Windermere.—Mr. and Mrs. Pitts, Mrs. Kimpton.

Galena.—Mrs. Geo. McMillan.

Letters of regret were received from Hon. W. C. Wells and others.

Much of the success of the ball was due the Revelstoke orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Jas. Taylor, the music of which was certainly the best ever produced in Golden. The members of Mountain Lodge are to be congratulated on the very successful way in which the function was conducted.

Engineer's Fatal Hallucination.

As the result of a strange hallucination, J. E. Sible, an old and trusted engineer of the Wabash railroad, was fatally injured last week. Sible was at the throttle of the big locomotive of the Limited, which was thundering along at a rate of 40 miles an hour. When the lights of the town of Attica appeared, the old engineer gave a start and shouted to Burt Frick, his fireman:

"Jump for your life, Burt, the switch is turned."

In an instant Sible had applied the safety brake, reversed the lever and had jumped to escape the spectre his harrassed nerves had conjured up. The fireman followed, but was not injured. The train came to a stop and Frick went to find the engineer. The latter lay on the ground horribly injured. His skull had been crushed, an arm and a leg broken, his ribs fractured and his spine injured. He was carried aboard the train. Meanwhile an investigation showed there had been no danger to the train. The signal lights of the switch showed an unobstructed path. Sible was brought to a hospital, where he managed to gasp out his story. According to Fireman Frick, Sible had been more or less nervous since he was in the wreck at Lafayette some months ago. The passengers were shaken up by the sudden stopping of the train, but no one was hurt.

THE NORTH KOOTENAY

Agricultural Resources and Possibilities of the Valleys of the Columbia River and its Tributaries.

(From the Report of the B. C. Dept. of Agriculture)

West Kootenay includes the valley of the Columbia from the Big Bend, above Revelstoke, south to the International Boundary, a distance of some 200 miles, and the valley of the Kootenay river and lakes from the boundary line north, a distance of some 45 miles. Of this district the report says: "This covers a vast extent of territory, but inasmuch as it is almost altogether a mining region, it is all lumped together. Several towns, some of considerable size, such as Nelson and Rossland, are included in this section; also others of lesser size, such as Revelstoke, Kaslo and others. The communication between these places is good, and consists of railroads, steamers and roads, and access is easy by the same means of transportation to outside places. The land fit for agricultural purposes is comparative small, generally wooded, along the valleys of the rivers and in places requires dyking and while there do not exist large bodies of land suitable, still there are patches from 50 to 1000 acres in extent. In the Big Bend, on Goldstream, there exist large stretches of land that are covered with wild grass, at the same time the land is subject to overflow during high water. George Laforme, the packer, finds this land suitable for grazing his pack animals during the open season in the Big Bend. Between Revelstoke and Carnes creek there are some splendid flats suitable for cultivation, but covered with a heavy growth of cedar. Between Carnes creek and Downie creek there are some nice benches also covered with a growth of heavy timber. The great drawback is, there is no market available for their products, everything has to be packed on mules' backs, costing on an average 7 cents per pound. In the vicinity of Revelstoke quite a large quantity of land is under cultivation. Hall's Landing is the best farming land in the district. On Fish creek there are large sections of good land, which is heavily timbered. At Revelstoke and along the railway line one is struck with the luxuriant growth of red clover and the thriftiness of the vegetable and root crops. This being a wooded section, no live stock, with the exception of poultry, is raised. Further south, that is along the Arrow and Kootenay lakes, there are small patches of alluvial bottom land at the mouths of streams, flats of small extent on the lake shores and here and there strips of higher land, gravelly loam slopes forming the base of mountains which rise abruptly along almost the whole of the shores of the lakes, comprising the only area fit for cultivation The rest of the district is rugged in the extreme and were it not for the great wealth of the mines would be worthless for all other purposes.

A Relic of Early Days.

Down in the C.P.R. freight yards there is the oldest freight car that has seen service on western division of the Canadian Pacific. The car is a yellow unlovely object now, but there is a warm place for it in the heart of every operative on the line. The car is a lucky one, having come unscathed out of half a dozen wrecks, and any one who rides on it naturally has his life preserved.

The car was built before Vancouver was thought of as a city. It was designed when Contractor Onderdonk had his headquarters at Yale, and was constructed by Mr. W. H. Armstrong, now of this city. That was before the railway was completed through the mountains. When the line was finished it was put on between Port Moody and Savonas Landing, this side of Kamloops, as express and pay car, and the letters, "C.P.R. Express," are still discernible on it. The car at that time was in charge of Mr. Steve Tingley, of Ashcroft, who was then in charge of the express business of the C.P.R. in the west.—Province.

Didn't Find Her Honey.

A young married woman from the south who was visiting New York with her husband left him in their hotel room one morning while she went on an errand. She was not accustomed to big hotels nor to big New York, but she got back without a mishap in half an hour and knocked at the door. There was no response.

"Let me in, honey," said the young woman, knocking more vigorously.

Still no response.

"Honey, let me in," called the young woman, redoubling her exertions. "Honey, honey, let me in."

She rattled the knob and shook the door and pounded with both fists, but there was the silence of the grave on the other side. The young woman's voice rose to half a cry.

"Honey, aren't you there? I want to get in. Honey, open the door."

Then arose from the other side of the door a deep bass voice with a resentful note in it.

"Madam," it said, "this is not a beehive. This is a bathroom."—New York Sun.

THE OUTPUT OF LAST YEAR

The provincial mineralogist has issued a bulletin on the estimated amount and value of the mineral products of the province for 1901. The report only professes to be approximate as all the returns are not yet in.

It says: "Roughly speaking, the increase made in 1901 over 1900 is 25 per cent on gross value of output of the province. This will be a very agreeable surprise to many, as the circulation of reports giving a contrary impression has caused a very despondent view to be taken of the progress of the mining industry during 1901, which does not seem to be warranted by the facts.

There is an appreciable drop in the placer gold production, owing to the sudden melting of the snow last spring causing freshets and leaving a shortage of water during the latter part of the season.

The tonnage of ore mined from the lode mines in the past year is about 871,832 tons, equal to an increase of 317,036 over the year 1900, a little more than 57 per cent.

There has been an increase in the output of all the metals with the exception of lead, the low price obtainable in this Province for lead ores having discouraged this class of mining, except where accompanied with good silver values.

The gross value of the copper output has increased 206 per cent over 1900, while lode gold has increased 36 per cent and silver 14 per cent."

The drop in the production of placer gold alluded to is from 63,936 oz in 1900 to 43,204 oz. in 1901. Copper shews a big increase from 9,997,080 pounds to 30,736,798. By districts the Grand Forks and Kettle River copper camps have increased their output from 103,426 tons to 401,008. If it was not for this remarkable item of increase the statistics would not be very encouraging. At the same time the market has been against both silver and lead so long that it is wonderful to see the output even holding its own, the way it does and the fact remains that in spite of everything we are making progress in our mining districts taken as a whole, though here and there in the line a slight retrogression, due to this cause or that is perceptible.

We have a great variety of mineral wealth in this province and we need not and should not pay our whole attention to the staples, gold, silver, lead, copper and coal. It is proverbially ill advised to put all one's eggs into one basket and mixed mining is as necessary for the permanent progress of a mining country as mixed farming is for an agricultral community. We have great and untouched resources of minerals, less well known perhaps, but in great and constantly increasing demand and every effort should be made by the government and press of the province to foster and encourage the development of this source of wealth. One great form of assistance which the government could render would be to place the mining portion of the community in close relation with the markets for these less known mineral commodities a task which only requires a little energy to perform. Promptitude is necessary. There is a big demand just now for instance for platinum and molybdenum The demand sprang up quite suddenly owing to the discovery of uses for these metals hitherto unsuspected. A chance invention in some laboratory may put either one or the other or both out of date tomorrow and the demand would cease as quickly as it arose.

Statistics and returns are all very well in their way, but the miners of British Columbia would consider a little intelligent information and assistance on the part of the government, with a view to the future development of our resources a great deal more to the point than whole stacks of reports on the work already accomplished in the past.

REDMONDITE OFFICIAL.

A Montreal despatch of recent date says: C. R. Devlin, former member for Wright county in the House of Commons, now Dominion government immigration agent for Ireland, is in the city In an interview this morning he expressed himself as a follower of John Redmond, and said England oppressed the Irish because they were Roman Catholics. Asked for a reason as to why so few Irish emigrate to Canada. Mr. Devlin said it was because of the British flag which floated over the Dominion and the reluctance of that race to live under it, because they hated the country it represented. He thought, however, that the appearance of Sir Wilfrid at the recent banquet to John Redmond at Ottawa would lessen that prejudice.

Mr. Devlin, Dominion Government Immigration Agent for Ireland, is one of that peculiar class of officials, of which the Laurier government has furnished to an astonished Canadian public so many striking examples. His job, to begin with, was made for him, almost as soon as the Liberal party first came into power. His experience in the task, which he was undertaking was absolutely nil. Nor has his term of office brought out the possession in Mr. Devlin of brilliant qualifications, which might make up for any lack of experience on his part. Irish immigration to Canada has not increased at all since Mr. Devlin's job was made for him. The HERALD does not know what Mr. Devlin's salary is. His name does not appear for some reason or other on the Civil Service List for 1901, though he is obviously still holding down his job. But whatever his salary is, and it is probable it is something handsome, Mr. Devlin has not been able so far to point to any tangible results from his appointment.

Excuses are in order, and it is a cold day when a follower of John Redmond, as Mr. Devlin now proclaims himself to be, is short on excuses. It would never do for a Redmondite to admit the cold fact that the Irish agricultural population is too well off and contented under the mild and conciliatory rule of the present Imperial Government to want to emigrate at all and in consequence the statistics shew a falling off of Irish immigration to the United States and British colonies alike. That would never do. Abuse of the flag has probably become second nature to Mr. Devlin since his association with John Redmond, and so our precious Dominion Immigration Agent for Ireland tries to cover up the fact that his job is a useless one, in which he is not earning his wages by venting his petty spite and malignity against England and the flag. England, says Mr. Devlin, oppresses the Irish because they are Roman Catholics. If this is the case, perhaps Mr. Devlin will kindly explain how it is there are nearly half as many Roman Catholic Irish living in England as there are in Ireland herself. They flee, we suppose, from English oppression in Ireland to England for refuge.

There is one thing quite certain. There is at all events one Irishman who hates the flag and the country it represents: and that Irishman is the Dominion Government Immigration Agent for Ireland. In the HERALD's opinion the sooner Mr. Devlin is relieved from his official duties in connection with Canada, which must be very irksome and hampering to the soaring soul of a patriotic Redmondite and left free to hatch his silly lies and childish treasons in a private capacity the better. We want no alliance between Canada and the avowed enemies of the flag and empire, even to increase our immigration statistics In fact we could endure with equanimity to behold the Canadian census returns permanently diminished and the population of Ireland correspondingly increased by one figure, if Mr. Redmondite Devlin would only kindly consent to furnish it.

The Revelstoke Herald and Railwaymen's Journal

Is the recognized organ for all the latest mining news of North Kootenay. Particular attention is paid to securing early and reliable intelligence from the newly discovered Free Milling Gold Camps on Fish River and from the placer and quartz mines of the Big Bend and district, in the immediate activity of Revelstoke, such as Illecillewaet, Albert Canyon, Jordan Pass and Isaac Creek. Next season will witness a big revival of certainty throughout North Kootenay, and mining men and others desirous of gaining the earliest and most authentic news from the district will find the columns of the HERALD their best source of information.

Railway News is also a Specialty of the HERALD and articles of special interest to Railway men will also be found in its columns.

AS AN ADVERTISING MEDIUM

THE HERALD offers advantages in its total Weekly circulation and the class of readers, which it reaches, unparalleled in the district. It appears twice to any other paper's once a week and is found in the homes of the wage-earning classes, the backbone of the business of the district. Businessmen want their announcements to reach the home people who have the money to take advantage of their offers and the homes and families which render it necessary for them to spend it. No other class of circulation is of any use to them. These are the kind of people who make up a big proportion of our Subscribers, people with homes, families, employment and interests right at home, the people Revelstoke merchants want to get at. A space in our advertising columns, judiciously and thoroughly utilized, constitutes a Twice A-Week letter to every home in Revelstoke, and in the Railway and Mining points, tributary to Revelstoke business.

OUR JOB PRINTING DEPARTMENT

Is the completest in the district for appliances, material and Craftsmen. Our work speaks for itself. No other office in North Kootenay can touch it, because we not only have the tools to do good work with, but we know how to use them. Call and see our Samples and you will perhaps be surprised to see the artistic and finished class of work which we can turn out. Prices graded down to suit the times.

ITS A CASE OF PAY! PAY! PAY!

In future there is to be no more complimentary transportation on any of the steamboat lines on the Pacific coast.

Not even George McL. Brown, the genial executive agent of the C. P. R., can take a trip to Victoria without paying out the good coin of the realm for his transportation.

F. W. Peters, assistant general freight agent of the big road, will also be asked to present his ticket should he take a trip by water.

There will be no distinction. Rich and poor—the M.P., M.L.A., supreme court judge, all must now go down in their jeans and pay up like little men.

Even the editors of the newspapers must perforce separate themselves from their hard-earned coin and pay, pay, pay.

The system, like all good things, has been imposed upon. Last year for instances, there were in the neighborhood of 500 annual passes out on British Columbia steamers. The government officials in the north, from Governor to office boy, travelled free, and put up only for their meals and berths. About every prominent merchant in Victoria was the possesser of an "annual" which he carried in his side pocket.

"Think I'll take a trip to Vancouver and see the boys," one of them would say, whereupon he would board the Charmer, give the purser the merry mile and show his pass.

The official would bow low, note the number and name on the pasteboard and pass on.

Still another holder of a cherished "annual" after working hard all spring and summer, would say to his 'guid' wife that he thought it would be beneficial to his health for him to take a jaunt up to Alaska. The guid wife would agree with her hubby and suggest that she should also accompany him. Five minutes later an application would be made to the steamship company for a trip pass for Mrs.——and the guid man and his wife would be off on their northern trip.

Some person else had a sick cousin or aunt, gave the steamboat companies a hard luck story and the relative would take a journey with other dead heads.

The move to do away with all free transportation was the result of a lengthy meeting in Seattle some time ago, when the officials of the C. P. N. company, Washington-Alaska steamship company, and the Pacific Coast steamship company met. The decision was unanimous and it was agreed to adhere strictly to the new rule.

"In my opinion," said a prominent C. P. R. official this morning, "the time is not far distant when all passes over the railroads of Canada and the United States will also be called in and no more issued. The matter was talked over a year ago and all but one road agreed. It is probable that by the end of this year that company will fall into line, and then the great pass system will be stamped out.—Vancouver World.

A Modern Fable.

(By George Ade).

In a Small Place where the Local Freight stopped to rake out the Ashes and pick up a Car of Produce, there was a Boy who had set his Heart on being a Railroad Man. He would go down to the 4x6 Depot and stand on the 2x9 platform and look at the Head Brakeman on No. 4, and say to himself: "Some Day I shall be like him if I improve my Opportunities and learn to make a Coupling on the Run without the use of a Stick."

He was down flipping the Trains every Day in Defiance of the Town Marshal, and he wore a flat-topped Hat and Braid on his Clothes and chewed Conductor's Delight. All that he needed to be a real Railroader was a large Silver Watch and a few Orders written on yellow Tissue Paper.

It was a Proud Day when they put him on an Extra Run for then he was privileged to speak of the Superintendent as the Old Man and wave his hand at all the Dining-Room Girls along the Line.

Just as he was becoming well acquainted with all the Agents and Operators and had acquired a large vocabulary to be used in cussing the Engineer, he got what seems to be due every Brakeman. He was little slow in withdrawing the Left Fin and the Bumpers caught him. When he came out of the Hospital, his Left Hand looked like a Pair of Scissors. Then he was a sure enough Railroader. He went back to the Road and the next time they landed him Right. He got mixed up in a Head-on Collision and a Gravel Train piled up on top of him. By the time the Surgeons had pared away what wouldn't be any more use to him, he was trimmed down to about three-quarters Size. As soon as he got his Crutches he went back and got a Job on a Crossing where his duties were to wave a Red Flag and criticize the Policy of the Road. One Day his Uncle, a well-to-do Citizen came along and said to what was left of him: "If you had taken my Advice, you would be a successful Business Man, with the usual number of Arms and Legs."

Then the Remnant replied as follows: "When the Choo Choo Microbe begins to work on a Man, he would rather be a crippled Brakeman than an athletic Bank President."

MORAL:—"He whose Soul is in Railroading never objects to being Marked Up a little."

Notes of News.

Rev. H. Fiennes-Clinton left for Nelson yesterday morning.

Good ice has been the order of the week every night at the rink.

Capt. D. Paul Hughes arrived in town from the east on Wednesday's train.

Bruce R. Warden, superintendent of the Silver Cup mine, was in town yesterday.

The office of mining recorder at Illecillewaet has been abolished by the government.

There was no school yesterday as it was found impossible to get the buildings warm.

The HERALD regrets to hear that Mr. Brundrett, father of Mrs. H. Parsons, is seriously ill at her residence.

Miss Weeks, a young lady, who was a few years ago a resident here, registered at the Revelstoke from Vernon, yesterday.

The Quadrille Club held their usual fortnightly dance in Selkirk hall on Thursday night. The affair was, as usual, a complete success.

A. H. Gracey, manager of the Eva mine at Goldfields, came up to town last night from the mine and left again this morning for Nelson.

Services in St. Peter's church tomorrow, Septuagesima Sunday, will be as usual at 11 a.m., and 7:30 p. m., Rev. C. A. Procunier officiating.

The schoolboard will hold a meeting in the council chamber, No. 2 fire hall, some evening next week, of which due notice will be given to the press.

A strike of two feet of galena and gray copper is reported on the drift on the lead in the Maybe mine, near Ferguson, owned by the Double Eagle outfit.

W. H. Vickers, a former well known resident of Revelstoke and the Lardeau, is now owner of the California hotel, near the wharves in Victoria, and has entered into the state of wedlock.

An Italian, working for F. Julian, had his shoulder dislocated and a big slice of his scalp removed on Thursday by a bough of a tree which he had felled striking him. It took 20 stitches to keep the scalp in its place.

Capt. Taylor once more requests anyone who has in his possession anything belonging to the Rifle Company to hand it in as soon as possible as he is responsible to the government for all the company's property.

C. H. Parson, secretary of the Mountain Lodge, A.F. & A.M., Golden, writes the HERALD as follows: "We cannot speak too highly of the music given by the orchestra under the able leadership of Mr. Jas. Taylor and the obliging way in which the many encores were given."

The interior of the Methodist church presents a very handsome appearance now that the work of decorating the interior approaches completion. The metallic tiling with which the walls and ceiling have been covered not only beautifies the building but adds greatly to its warmth and comfort.

While on a visit recently in Southern Oregon, W. B. Pool visited the mining section which has recently come into such prominence through the discovery of valuable leads of free milling quartz. Mr. Pool, who prospected the same country 15 years ago, staked out some promising property and has some men working on it now.

A mammoth ledge of platinum ore has been discovered in Southern Oregon, in Josephine County. The metal has long been known to exist in the placer gravels of that section. The formation is serpentine with which the native platinum is invariably found associated there in greater or less quantity.

There will be deep and general regret felt at the news that the Rev H. Irwin is dead. The news was received, says the "Columbian," in a letter from Archdeacon Small to a resident in New Westminster. No details of the melancholy event are given in the letter, beyond the fact that Mr. Irwin's death occurred in a hospital in Montreal, and that both the deceased's feet had been badly frozen.

Back from Europe comes J. D. Graham, gold commissioner of the Atlin district. He has made a trip to the old land and to France, whither he went on leave early in the winter, accompanied by Mrs. Graham. The latter remained with her parents in France. While in the old land, the Atlin gold commissioner endeavored to interest capitalists in British Columbia and in Atlin. He found the capitalists of New York more easily influenced than those of Britain, the moneyed men of the latter place have been so grievously deceived in many instances by mining sharks. Everywhere he found complaint made of the instability of legislation in this province, which seemed to act as a deterrent upon investors.—Vancouver World.

Mrs. L. J. Edwards of Nakusp came up to take in the ball and stayed at Mrs. Baker's residence.

The annual congregational meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church will take place on Thursday evening next, the 30th inst.

Three young ladies made their formal debut into society at the Hospital Ball last night, Miss Baker and the Misses Orr.

A big crowd was expected to arrive from Golden last nigth, but owing to the little discrepancy in connection with the No. 1 they did not turn up.

A description of the dresses at last night's ball by an expert hand is on file in the HERALD office. It has been crowded out of this issue but watch for it in our next.

The third sermon in the Reformation series will be delivered tomorrow evening in St. Andrew's church, by Rev. W. C. Calder, "Tyndale and the English Bible."

F. W. Jordan and Mrs. Jordan, Miss Hamilton and Leo L. Simmons of Nakusp, R. W. Troup and Mis Johnstone of Arrowhead came up from the south last night to the ball.

Friday's No. 1 had not left Laggan according to the last reports received before going to press. That however, is no sort of excuse for saying she is Laggan behind. She will be along some time tonight.

The Field representatives last night at the ball were Mrs. E. Barmeault, Miss J. Carney, W. Gee, H. S. MacRae and J. J. Jones; W. Harris and W. P. Clarke were in from Glacier and Mr. and Mr. Thos. McMahon from Roger's Pass.

A gentle zephyr heading up in the vicinity of Tete Jaune Cache hit the town on Thursday evening and sent the mercury sailing down to 1 above before morning. Last night it is said to have dropped to 11 below zero. This is by far the lowest record this winter.

AROUND THE RAILWAY YARD

Personal Paragraphs Pertaining to Railway Men Picked up By the Herald Man on His Daily Rounds.

Master Mechanic Grant Hall came in from the coast this morning.

C. A. Bell, of Montreal, chief auditor of the C. P. R., is going through Kootenay on his annual auditing tour.

An instruction car in charge of D. C. Buell and M. P. Johnson of the International Correspondence School, Chicago, is in the yard. Classes for engineers are being held every evening.

A snowslide on the Big Hill the other side of Field blocked in a snow plough and two engines yesterday morning and obstructed traffic on the main line to date. The two rotaries went up from Roger's Pass and two engines from here. The snow is drifting on the hill and the work of clearing the track was a difficult one.

The death occurred at the Hat on Monday of C.P.R. brakeman F. W. Collinson, as the result of severe injuries received in the leg while coupling cars at Estevan the day before. Amputation of the limb was found necessary and the injured man could not rally from the effects. Deceased was an unmarried and came from Burlington.

The suit taken by Mrs. H. Stevens against the Canadian Pacific Railway for $22,000 damages, on account of her husband, who was killed by the explosion of an emery wheel in the Montreal shops some time ago, was concluded last week. Justice Doherty gave judgment granting the widow $1,000. The father and mother of the victim, who were joint plaintiffs with the widow receive $100 each.

The eastbound Winnipeg express narrowly escaped being wrecked at Cobden station on Monday. The engine tender and baggage car became derailed while passing over a switch to clear the main line for the westbound train. An engine and wrecking outfit were sent to the scene from Pembroke and the track was cleared in a couple of hours. Fortunately the train was running at a reduced speed at time of the accident, otherwise the whole train might have been ditched. At the time the time the westbound train was about three hundred yards distant.

The general superintendents and superintendents of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who have been in Montreal for the past week conferring with the president and other officials about expenditure for next year, have returned to their homes. The officials all say that they have been fairly successful, and that next year the C. P. R. management will expend a large sum of money in improving the system in every department. One of the chief expenditures will be the extension of their shops in Montreal, by which they will be able to turn out locomotives, freight cars or anything else they might require at a greater speed than ever before, and thus meet the wants of their rapidly increasing business. It is understood that the directors will expend from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 on improvements.
