GRAND DAY FOR REVELSTOKE

The Launch of the s. s. Revelstoke at Nakusp and Her Trial Trip Under Capt. Gore's Command to Arrowhead.

Wednesday was a grand day for Revelstoke. By eight o'clock a large party of prominent business men and ladies had boarded the south train bound for Nakusp to attend the launch of the steamer Revelstoke. Among those present were the mayor, Ald. Abrahamson and Taylor, Geo. S. McCarter, secretrry of the Revelstoke Navigation Co., Mrs. McCarty and Miss Blanche McCarty, H. A. Brown and Mrs. Brown, J. Robinson and Mrs. Robinson, A.E. Kincaid and Mrs. Kincaid, Miss Fick, A. C. McDonnell, C. B. Hume, W. M. Lawrence, E. A. Haggen, of the Mail, G. E. Grogan, of the HERALD, F. Young, F. Macbeth, A. E. Phipps, Chas. M. Field, M. J. O'Brien, F. B. Wells, Dr. Cross, J. M. Scott, D. McCarthy, J. I. Woodrow, V. Anderson and John Miller. At Arrowhead they were joined by J. J. Foley, G. T. Newman, R. R. Rogers, T. Beech and J. H. Young, and at Halcyon by T. McNaught. The steamer Kootenay landed all safe at Nakusp and the whole party immediately proceeded to the C.P.R. shipyard, where F. McCarty, president of the company, Capt. Gore and Foreman Bulger had everything in readiness and within a few minutes the s.s. Revelstoke with the whole party on board, glided swiftly down the ways and hit the water of the lake amid the cheers of the crowd and the loud welcome of the whistles of the steamers Rossland, Kootenay and Minto, which were all at the wharf. After the launch, Miss Blanche McCarty broke a bottle of champagne over her bows and formally conferred upon the new boat the name of the "Revelstoke." The Minto then came alongside and took off the ladies, and those who had to catch the afternoon train at Arrowhead. After the last touches had been put on the wheel and steam got up, the Revelstoke moved out and headed first to the wharf, where the residents of Nakusp gave her three rousing cheers, heartily responded to by those on board and then north for Arrowhead. Capt. Gore was in command and chief Engineer Stephens of the C.P.R. river fleet in charge below, in the engine room. A very pleasant trip was made touching at Halcyon and reaching Arrowhead a little after dark in about three and a half hours from Nakusp. The last twelve miles from Halcyon were covered in an hour and she was never running over half speed all the way. Coming in to Arrowhead the s. s. Minto came out to shew the Revelstoke the way in, as she has not yet shipped her electric plant for a head light, an act of courtesy which was greatly appreciated by the members of the Revelstoke Navigation Co., but is only a small instance of the way in which the big railway company and its officials have furthered and fostered the enterprise from the start.

The Revelstoke was built from plans furnished by Commodore Troup and constructed on the C. P. R. ways at Nakusp by Foreman Bulger and his crew of C. P. R. ship wrights. The C. P. R. building material in store at Nakusp was placed at the Revelstoke Navigation Co's. disposal and all they had to do was to replace what they took. A big rebate was made on the freightcharges for the material and machinery shipped in by the company. And finally the C. P. R. have offered, when they decided to go into the transportation business in the Big Bend themselves, to buy the boat at her value. It is impossible to conceive what more they could possibly have done to lend a helping hand and their actions in this respect are a remarkable testimony to the importance which the enterprise assumes in the eyes of the head officials of the national highway. As to the officers of the company at Nakusp and Arrowhead, no greater or more eager interest could be shewn by them, if the boat was their own. There was not a better pleased man on board than Capt. Gore and they were a fairly well pleased crowd too.

After supper there was a fresh accession to the Revelstoke party in the persons of Mesdames H. J. Bourne, J. M. Shaw, McCarter, Risteen and McAleese, and Messrs. Fred. Fraser, Ed. Adair, R. Sawyer, J. Taylor and L. O'Neil, who came down by a late train to take in the dance at the Lakeview hotel, which Mr. and Mrs. Foley had thoughtfully arranged to celebrate the great occasion. There were present, altogether about 30 couples, who kept it going to the strains of the Revelstoke Orchestra till one o'clock in the morning, when Cond. Ogilvie gave the word that this time it was get aboard or stay behind. And so a tired but still cheerful crowd returned home, anticipating another big day, a still bigger day, when the good boat makes her first appearance on the waters of the Columbia at Revelstoke.

The following telegrams and letters were received by Mr. McCarter, the secretary of the Revelstoke Navigation Co:

Victoria, B. C. Jan. 7th.

Have just returned from extended trip. Impossible to leave at present. Many thanks for invitation. Best wishes for steamer Revelstoke's success.

W. C. WELLS.

Nelson, Jan. 7th.

Regret that I cannot be present at launching of steamer Revelstoke. You have my best wishes for the fullest success of your enterprise.

W. DOWNIE.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 8th, 1902.

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your telegram of the 6th, instant, inviting me to the launching of steamer Revelstoke, which takes place today.

I thank you very much for the invitation, and would certainly avail myself of the opportunity to be present if it were possible. I cannot get away, however, but wish you every success imaginable to your undertaking. I hope the little boat will give every satisfaction on the upper river. I am anxious to hear as to her performance.

J. W. TROUP.

Trout Lake, B.C. Jan 7th, 1902.

Would you kindly convey to the management of the Revelstoke Navigation Company my thanks and appreciation of their kind invitation to be present at the launching of the steamer Revelstoke at Naskup on the 8th inst., and my very sincere disappointment that other engagements I have arranged for prevent my attendance on that occasion.

The citizens of Revelstoke and the management of the Revelstoke Navigation Company are to be congratulated on the successful termination of an enterprise which means so much for the future development of the Big Bend country and the consequent advancement of your city's interests and business.

THOMAS TAYLOR.

In this connection one cannot help mentioning the disappointment felt by the directors of the Revelstoke Navigation Co. and their guests at the unavoidable absence from the trip of Supt. Kilpatrick, who has taken the keenest interest in the scheme from the start and helped it forward by every means in his power.

Now as to the boat itself. She is something for Revelstoke to be proud of. There is not a better designed, better finished or more completely equipped boat in Kootenay. She is handy to navigate and capable of developing a high rate of speed. And she is finished complete except for her dynamo and electric lighting apparatus and a steam capstan. The best capstan ever in use on the lake was one made in Rhode Island which was burnt on the Nakusp and the Revelstoke is to be fitted with one like it purchased at the same Rhode Island factory.

The boiler is of the regular locomotive type, 60 inches in diameter by 21 feet 6 inches long, containing 155, American steel tubes. The shell plates are of steel, 60,000 lbs. tensile strength and will stand a working pressure of 200 lbs. to the square inch. The pair of engines are of high pressure, non condensing type with a 5 foot stroke and are designed to bear the same pressure as the boiler. The hull is 120 feet long by 22 feet 4 inches in beam.

She draws about 2 feet unloaded but she is so designed that it will take a big load to shove her down in the water much. Her freight capacity is 40 tons. She is fitted to burn wood. The deck house contains a messroom, kitchen, pantries and cabins for the officers and crew and four state rooms, but it could be considerably lengthened if required towards the stern.

In conclusion the HERALD begs to congratulate the citizens of Revelstoke and the directors of the Revelstoke Navigation Co. on the very successful conclusion of their efforts to have a boat built for the navigation of the upper river and especially Mr. McCarter the secretary and Mr. McCarty, the president of the company, who have both given much time and trouble to the achievement of the enterprise and now see their labors crowned with success. Every resident in Revelstoke is under a substantial obligation to the energy of these gentlemen and before 1902 has gone over their heads every resident in Revelstoke will be reaping substantial results of it, in increased business and employment, increased value of city real estate, increased opportunities for profitable investment and increased chances of betterment of prevailing conditions in every shape and form.

AROUND THE RAILWAY YARD

Personal Paragraphs Pertaining to Railway Men Picked up By the Herald Man on His Daily Rounds.

The Free Press says there is a probability of the Northern Pacific reentering Manitoba and that they have purchased the charter for a road to be built from Emerson to Portage.

The damage done to the steel bridge near Bear Creek was fixed up on Wednesday. No's. 1 and 2 were both waiting for the work to be finished. Before they crossed however, No. 2 got off the track and held traffic for another three hours.

Supt. A. J. Gorrie of the Canadian Northern has been promoted to be superintendent of the whole C. N. system with headquarters at Winnipeg. Mr. Gorrie was at one time chief clerk to Supt. Cameron of the C. P. R. at Winnipeg.

Locomotive Engineering notices that nearly every line on the continent has abolished the issuance of free passes to employes. However a number of roads, including the Grand Trunk and C. P. R. are in revolt against the anti-pass agreement and openly express a willingness to continue the practice of issuing exchange trip passes to employes of other roads.

The acetylene gas generator in the northeast end of the C. P. R. roundhouse at Owens Sound exploded on the evening of Jan. 3rd. The cause is unknown. The driver of engine No. 509 had just come in, and Alex. Bennet a wiper in the roundhouse, tried to turn off the gas, but it was unsuccessful. Thos. Gordon, the turner, went to assist him. Bennet had just left the building when the explosion occurred, which almost completely wrecked the roundhouse. When Gordon was taken from the wreck he was burned almost beyond recognization. The doctors pronounced his condition as such that if he recovered he would be crippled for life. The concussion was felt in all parts of the town and wrecked most of the windows in the Pacific Hotel.

Section Foreman Patterson, of Grenfell and his assistant, W. Reid, had a narrow escape from death on Saturday, December 21. On account of the high wind prevailing the two men were pushing instead of pumping the handcar towards Grenfell from the east when they were overtaken by a light freight, consisting of an engine and four or five cars. Neither of the men saw the approaching train and the high wind made it impossible to hear the engineer's whistle and both men were muffled in their furs and with their head bent down were evidently intent on their work, little suspecting the danger that was overtaking them. The engineer reversed his engine, but owing to the short distance, the inevitable collision occurred. Mr. Patterson was hurled into the ditch and sustained a broken arm, and severe bruises on his head and body. Reid jumped and escaped uninjured.

Former Revelstoker in Trouble.

D. G. Cathcart will be remembered by some people in Revelstoke as being at one time proprietor of a grocery store on First street. They will furthers remember that after a brief career, not however utterly devoid of points of interest, Mr. Cathcart became suddenly and excessively absent and the busy mart of Revelstoke commerce knew him no more. Shortly after this he turned up in Vancouver, and finally accepted a sit from the government for 18 months in New Westminster. After serving his——that is after severing his connection with the government employment, Mr. Cathcart worked a large sized graft on the unsophisticated inhabitants of Mount Pleasant, a popular suburb of Vancouver. He had come to the conclusion to lead a higher life, had Mr. Cathcart. He joined a church choir and incidentally touched the elders and other pillars of the congregation for an occasional loan. By the time the police were being asked to take a hand in the audit of this system of finance, Mr. Cathcart once mere faded away and was seen no more on this side of the 49th parallel. He was, however, located the other day in a boarding house run by the State of Washington at Everett. He had tried to work the Mount Pleasant racket over again, but had gone up against it. His trial comes on at Everett at the next term of the court,

Hillman brought down with him some fine specimens of the ore now being mined. It looks to be fully as rich as any obtained on the surface.—Trout Lake Topic.

THE STEAMER REVELSTOKE.

The event of Wednesday will make January 8th a date to be remembered in the annals of Revelstoke. The launch of the steamer Revelstoke marks the commencement of a new era in the progress of this place. Had the boat been built by the C. P. R. or any outside capital to ply on the upper river, it would still have been an important occasion. But she was built by a Revelstoke syndicate with Revelstoke money. She is our own boat and her construction symbolizes not only a great stride towards the development of the Big Bend district, but is also a visible sign to investors of the faith, which our business men have in the future of that great country. Everybody in town can say that they have a share in her. The board of trade has helped the company by insisting to the provincial government in season and out of season, on the necessity of their helping by the construction of the wagon road through the canyon and the subsidy to the maintenance of the boat the plans of the syndicate, who own her. The mayor and council by the hearty way in which the bonus proposal was taken up by them and the citizens of Revelstoke by their almost unanimous vote in favor of the bonus bylaw testified to their full appreciation of the project. The local C.P.R. officials both in town and on the lakes and the head authorities of the railway throughout the division have with the fullest accord of their superiors in the Montreal head office taken the keenest interest in the new steamer and furthered the project by every means in their power. The result of so much interest and goodwill is a boat of which Revelstoke may be proud. Next season will tell the tale of all the new boat means to this place in unmistakable terms. Heaven is said to help them, who help themselves. We have got our shoulders to the wheel now and we intend to keep them there until with a long shove and a strong shove and a shove altogether we accomplish our aims. We have the field all to ourselves, one of the finest districts ever given to any town in which to develop a trade territory. And with the development of the district will come increasing and ever increasing business and population to the town until it is able to take the fullest advantage of its inimitable geographical position and reach out for the final prize coming to it—the commercial supremacy of Kootenay. Our aims may be lofty but they are demonstrably attainable. That much is conceded even by those to whom the result of our success means a step down to a second place. They are attainable and they are certainly as well worth struggling for as any community ever possessed to fire its pride and steady its efforts. Success to the good boat Revelstoke, our boat, and to the good town of Revelstoke that built and owns her!

THE CIVIC MEETING.

The public meeting on Tuesday night was a disappointment in one way. There has been a great deal of criticism flying round on the conduct of civic affairs by the outgoing council, some of which was doubtless justifiable. But criticism on such a business matter as the deal for the waterworks and electric lightis not much use, unless the critics have something definite to put in its place. The HERALD failed to notice any suggestions as to the course should be pursued by the council of 1902 in handling this problem, which is yet one which they will have to take up in some shape or other. It would seem as if it was easier to criticize than to formulate a plan of action. Of course the field was a very wide one and when so many speakers wish to express their views, it is impossible for any particular item to be gone into in detail. And if not much was laid down for future guidance on Tuesday evening the discussion was doubtless instructive, since both sides of certain burning questions were presented, when before some may have been under the impression that they had only one. The discussion brought the minds of the ratepayers together and made clear the fact that all was not such plain sailing in the conduct of these affairs, as they might prevously have imagined. If those ratepayers, who are really interested in matters municipal would only attend the meetings of the council regularly, this fact would be still more appreciated. It is easy to critize the conduct of men in an onerous and responsible position, especially when the critic has no conception of the difficulties under which they are working. Public meetings such as Tuesday's called to discuss these matters, when men in office meet their critics face to face are useful as tendering to clear the air and to mitigate criticism by the fuller light thrown on the facts.

PUBLIC MEETING

to take that stand. His record was before them and he had always tried to do his best for the town as a whole. Revelstoke in the near future would be one of the first cities of Kootenay. All it wanted was unity and business principles. If his opponent was coming out as M. J. O'Brier, he would be willing to support him, but not as brought out by a faction. There had been a great outcry against the waterworks company, but if it had not been for their enterprise we would have had no water or light in Revelstoke today. Just as the debentures were going to be accepted by the company to close the deal, one of the council had asked leave to retire and went in to consult the city solicitor who gave an opinion that he was within his rights to do so. He was a candidate for election but if defeated, would retire gracefully and without hard feelings.

Ald. McLeod said he had been perfectly sincere in his action with regard to the waterworks deal. He thought he saw a trap to place a debt of $75,000 on the city when there were only two present, who had power to vote. In doing what he did, he had only carried out the wishes of those who had sent him to the council. He had refused to go and examine the plant for the simple reason that he did not know anything about it. If re-elected he would do as much for Ward Two or Three as Ward One. The whole thing with regard to improvements was in the hands of the ratepayers and they need not blame the council, if these were not carried out.

H. Cook pleaded for a good principle of sanitation in the new school building. He had found storm sashes on the windows when the temperature was 95° last summer.

T. J. Graham said the plans of the new building provided for the most modern system of sanitation. He did not believe in corporal punishment of children.

J. W. Bennet believed in following out article 7 of the school regulations on this matter to the letter.

Wright Porrit said that candidates should either be prepared to attend council meetings or else not allow their names to be put in nomination. He had the figures of 31 meetings, two of which there was no quorum, from May 7th to Dec. 30th. The mayor attended 30 times. Ald. Abrahamson 29, Ald. Taylor 25, Ald. McCarty 17, Ald. Bourne 15, Ald. Nettle 20, Ald. McLeod 25. The prosperity of the city depended very largely on the development of the contiguous country.

After a vote of thanks and three cheers for the mayor, and the singing of the National Anthem the meeting then adjourned.

Railway News is also a Specialty of the HERALD and articles of special interest to Railway men will also be found in its columns.

AS AN ADVERTISING MEDIUM

THE HERALD offers advantages in its total Weekly circulation and the class of readers, which it reaches, unparalleled in the district. It appears twice to any other paper's once a week and is found in the homes of the wage-earning classes, the backbone of the business of the district. Businessmen want their announcements to reach the home people who have the money to take advantage of their offers and the homes and families which render it necessary for them to spend it. No other class of circulation is of any use to them. These are the kind of people who make up a big proportion of our Subscribers, people with homes, families, employment and interests right at home, the people Revelstoke merchants want to get at. A space in our advertising columns, judiciously and thoroughly utilized, constitutes a Twice A-Week letter to every home in Revelstoke, and in the Railway and Mining points, tributary to Revelstoke business.

OUR JOB PRINTING DEPARTMENT

Is the completest in the district, for appliances, material and Craftsmen. Our work speaks for itself. No other office in North Kootenay can touch it, because we not only have the tools to do good work with, but we know how to use them. Call and see our Samples and you will perhaps be surprised to see the artistic and finished class of work which we can turn out. Prices graded down to suit the times.

Vote for Tapping, in Ward two, it means peace and prosperity.

PUBLIC MEETING OF RATEPAYERS

A Lively Discussion on Matters Relating to the City and Public Schools by Members of the Council and Candidates

[CONCLUDED]

Ald. Nettle rose to explain certain matters touched on by the two last speakers. No alderman could vote on anything in which his company was interested directly or indirectly. It was the citizens who were to blame for putting five men interested in the deal on the council. The bylaw had not been rushed through hastily. It passed its three readings at one meeting when there was a quorum as far as was known but it also passed the people. He had found out afterwards that shares in the company had been only temporarily transferred and had then voted to squash the bylaw. As to the steamship bonus he wished every $3000 spent by the city was likely to be as good a speculation. The ratepayers had sanctioned the expenditure, which would be repaid within twelve months in increased trade in the city. He contended that the smallpox epidemic had been handled in a fair and square and equitable manner. He advocated the purchase of the waterworks and electric light plant. If the citizens could elect a better council for 1902 he asked them to do it.

M. J. O'Brien was then called to the platform. He said he had been requested by a large number of citizens to run for mayor and had accepted. Should he be elected he would do his best to further the interests of the city. He would not promise anything but he would try to bring the different parts of the city to work together without the friction which was too prevalent. He did not intent to abuse the outgoing council. They were citizens, perhaps they had made mistakes.

In answer to Ald. Nettle he was an advocate of the purchase of the waterworks and light plant at a proper valuation but not to pay one penny piece more than it was worth.

J. McNeil asked what he would do with the fire alarm system. Mr. O'Brien said that it was one of the first thing, which the incoming council would have to attend to to get the fire alarm system fixed up.

A. McRae asked if he would wish to see the system centralized. Mr. O'Brien said that the system had got to be remedied and no doubt there were ways to do it.

In answer to Chas. M. Field he said that if a bylaw was put to the people for the purchase of the proposed block for city purposes, their wishes would be carried out.

R. Tapping pleaded for better unity of feeling in the city. He asked for the support of the ratepayers of Ward Two in the coming election. It would be foolish for him to make promises as to what he would favor, much less what he would do. He was opposed to the construction of a sewerage system at present.

J. W. Bennet said that theoe was no use in throwing mud at the retiring council. If the citizens would always take the same interest in the doings of the council throughout the year as they did tonight, they would not have to criticize the waterworks deal or the steamboat bonus. He was there as a candidate for the schoolboard. He had an axe to grind and it was that he wanted to see Revelstoke first and foremost in matters scholastic. Revelstoke is now a third class school and would receive a grant of $4,400 out of which teachers salaries would be $4,100 and other items would bring it up to $5110. The city would have to dip in its pockets for the balance. The children of this city were something to be proud of and should have good schools. The first point was this—the children were taught hygiene and, if one wanted hygiene go and look at the schools. There was evidence here tonight of the need of a night school in the city. Old countrymen knew the benefit of night schools. Children should have more than one hour at noon and if the act permitted he would favor giving them an hour and a half. He would favor text books being bought by the city and sold to pupils at cost. He believed in admitting the press to the school board meetings.

T. J. Graham said he was also in favor of admitting the press but had always been voted down. He said he did not know what had become of the money donated by a member of parliament for a banner.

Bruce Lawson said that Miss McConnell was now making the plans for the banner for Mr. Lindmark.

Mayor Brown said former speeches had failed to lay down any definite system of what should be done. He considered the chief questions were the purchase of the waterworks, the location of a central fire hall and the construction of the fire alarm system. The blame should lay on the members of the council, who first consented to have the bylaw brought in and then ignored and voted it down. No one could point out where he had been derelict in his duty as mayor of this town. He had lost a great deal of his own time and he would only agree to come out as mayor again, if the citizens would elect a council who would work for Revelstoke as a whole. All were ratepayers and should get their just dues. This was a most critical time for Revelstoke since incorporation, as they were now about to take over the schools. Every ratepayer should consider these matters and think them out for himself with common sense and reason. At a meeting called last night he been asked to come out for mayor and had concluded

Discrimination in the Handling of Public Contracts.

To the Editor of the HERALD:

Dear Sir:

As a ratepayer and a resident of this city I wish to enter my protest against a certain hole and corner system that has been in vogue here for a considerable time and it is the system of favoritism as pertaining to public work as far as the letting of contracts are concerned, more especially sub-contracts. Work has been done here in the past on school and other buildings without the knowledge of more than one contractor (the favored one) and for a higher price than others would have done the same work for. Now sir I contend that the same thing has been done in connection with the hospital. I shall only touch on one point, though others could be handled with equal ease. I have been a resident of this city for over four years, am a married man and have tried to make this place my home. I can and have done as good work in my trade as any one in the city but am discriminated against and not given a chance to figure on the painting of the hospital. If the contractors of the hospital can give me good reasons for their action I am willing to abide by them. The present system of allowing a contractor to shave percentage off every trade represented is disgraceful. Where there are tradesmen living in any place where work is being done they should as a whole have an equal chance. Thanking you for valued space I am yours for equality.

W. G. BIRNEY.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

To the Electors.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I have the honor to intimate that at the request of a large number of electors I shall be again a candidate for the office of Mayor. If returned I shall endeavor to secure for the city the control of the electric light and water supply, the purchase of a centrally situated block for municipal buildings and central firehall. The first thing that should be taken in hand by the new council is to have an effective fire alarm system put in. It is very desirable that those holding office in the city should have its welfare at heart as a whole, sectional divisions being dropped and I should work towards that end.

Your obedient servant,
W. M. BROWN.

To the Electors.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having been requested by a large and influential body of the ratepayers to come out as a candidate for mayor at the coming election, I beg to solicit your vote and influence in that contest.

W. J. LAW.

To the Electors.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having consented to the request made me to become a candidate for Alderman for No. 3 Ward, I have the honor to solicit your support at the election about to take place, and if returned will do all in my power to advance the welfare of the city as a whole.

Yours respectfully,
S. MCMAHON.

To the Electors.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am a candidate for the office of Alderman for No. 1 Ward at the solicitation of a number of electors and have the honor to request the favor of your support. If returned it shall be my endeavor to represent your interests as efficiently as possible.

Your obedt. servant,
HORACE MANNING.

To the Electors

Ladies and Gentlemen:

At the request of a large number of ratepayers of Ward two I have decided to offer myself for election as alderman for that ward and beg to solicit your votes and influence. If elected I shall always to the best of my ability further any measure which in my opinion is for the advantage and welfare of the city as a whole.

Yours respectfully,
C. B. HUME.

To the Electors.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having been requested by a large number of electors to again offer my services as representative of Ward 1 on the Board of Aldermen, I have the honor of requesting you to favor me with your support, and assure you that it will be my utmost endeavor to represent your interests as faithfully in the future as in the past.

Your obedient servant,
JOHN MCLEOD.

To the Electors.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I have been requested by a large number of friends and voters in this city to again place myself before you as a candidate for Alderman at the forthcoming municipal election. Should you see fit to elect me, my services shall be faithfully and fearlessly given towards straightening out a great deal of our municipal affairs which have drifted into a very bad condition. Especially would I direct my efforts towards establishing a thorough and systematic scavenging department, which at present is in such a deplorable condition; the securing of a suitable recreation ground as centrally situated as possible; also to place in working order the present fire alarm system, to advocate a sufficient supply of water, and to encourage the brigades; to construct and maintain a serviceable building and equipment for Fire Hall No. 1: a proper financing of the civic affairs; the careful management of the same, consistent with economy, and in dealings with companies or corporate bodies to consider the interests and well being of the city principally.

I am,
Your Obedient Servant,
T. E. L. TAYLOR,
Alderman.
