MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL

The Conduct of the Police Department Discussed. The Fire Alarm System and the Telephone Company.

The council met last night as usual, all the members being present.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The secretary of the school board handed in a schedule of accounts outstanding against the board on Jan. 1, 1902 amounting to $274.10. There was about $200 worth of fuel on hand on that date.

The solicitor was instructed by resolution to write the late secretary of the school board asking him to hand to the present school trustees all books, papers and money on hand belonging to the old board, if any, in his possession.

The president of the Telephone Co. wrote asking the city to remove the bracket nailed on telephone pole near the brewery used to support fire alarm wire and also the cross arm on the telephone pole opposite the No. 1 fire hall. He refused to protect the fire alarm wires from contact with the telephone company's wires.

It was resolved to call for tenders for 30 poles for the fire alarm system at once and also to instruct the chief police to report at once to the city clerk whenever he noticed any wires obstructing the fire alarm wires and the city clerk to notify the telephone company.

In the course of the discussion L. Ellerman stated that the batteries in the fire hall were attached to the telephone company's system.

The secretary of the Water, Light & Power Co. asked for more definite instructions with regard to extra street lights required in east end of town, which the clerk was instructed to furnish.

A letter from the agent for W. E. Leagrave, Walkerville, regarding prices for fire hall supplies was turned over to the F. W. & L. committee.

G. M. Sproat asked for rent of block 52. The city clerk was instructed to inform Mr. Sproat that there was never any agreement with regard to lease of block 52 entered into by the city.

Thos. Steed asked for rebate of taxes on lot on Front St. which was assessed for building now removed up town. The clerk was instructed to recommend Mr. Steed to adjust the difference with the present owner of the building.

BYLAWS.

A bylaw to raise, levy and collect a road tax for 1902 was read three times and passed.

INQUIRIES.

Ald. Manning inquired if the city was still paying 35c. a meal for a prisoner in the jail. It was explained that the prisoner could not cook his own meals and so it was not on the 50c. a day basis.

Ald. Manning asked what was the salary of the police magistrate and what was the amount of fines collected last year. The city clerk gave the amounts as follows: $284.95 fines and $250 salary.

Ald. McLeod asked what were the amounts of previous years. $515.85 in nine months in 1899 and $867.30 in 1900.

Ald. Manning asked if it would be possible to dispense with the services of the police magistrate and depend on the justices of the peace in town. He did not think the present man was up to the job.

The city clerk pointed out that unless the city employed a salaried magistrate the fines went to the province, except cases covered by the bylaws, which went to the city. The chief revenue from fines came from cases under the Vagrancy Act and not under the bylaws.

Ald. McLeod said it was a matter which the council should sift to the bottom. These women were brought up under the Vagrancy Act when they should be brought up under the bylaw. The last time they were brought up they were let go and went down town and blew the fines in.

The chief of police said that on a suggestion of the ex-mayor, the police magistrate being out of town, the women had been remanded for a fortnight, which was tantamount to letting them go. If they were brought up now the city would be under the expense of deporting two thirds of them to Kamloops, because they were not able to pay the fines, as they were hard up.

In answer to Ald. Hume the solicitor said that no one could interfere with the chief of police in enforcing the bylaws.

The chief said that everyone knew these women were here but he did not see any good in bringing them up every month or so and then letting them go right back to their houses.

Ald. Manning asked what were the closing hours of bars in licensed houses in Revelstoke. The solicitor said they could keep open all night except from 6 p. m. on Saturday night to 6 a. m. on Monday.

The mayor asked the F. W. & L. committee to go into the papers in the water supply matter and lay a proposition before the council.

It was resolved to make the regular meeting fortnightly instead of weekly as at present.

The council then adjourned.

Wedding Bells at Field.

The usual stilly quiet of the mountain town of Field was recently disturbed, worse than if a cyclone or snowslide had struck it. Mr. L. Orr, one of the champion jack twisters of the Pacific division, became a Benedict by contracting matrimony with an estimable and well known young lady, Miss May Turnbull. The happy couple reached Field on the 12th and immediately afterwards were given a railway reception by a brass band which certainly is like nothing on the earth, nor in the heavens above, and for a good companion would have to go to regions which are hotter than He——ctor. The band consisted of 25 pieces, mostly broken or at any rate badly cracked, with the result that a member of Field's 400 or less will have to undergo surgical operations for split ears. However they expect to reap a rich harvest as it is believed that a most remarkable echo has cached itself in Mount Stephen which will be exhibited to tourists at so much a head.

The groom supplied a bountiful repast consisting of sardines in oil (no waste). This started at 22 o'clock and lasted until after 26 o'clock as near as your correspondent can remember. The programme went merrily on and special mention must be made of some of our local talent, Seal Press, Dry Goods Agent and Cinder Pushers. We may say that these are not the correct names, because if some of the great musical directors should learn of the wonderful talent we have they would engage them immediately and no doubt the only satisfactory piece they could play would be "Home to Our Mountain" with variations. The Swede artist is entitled to honorable mention for the excellent way in which he gave rendering of "Der Pasepall Match." The chairman also would certainly make an excellent referee in a lacrosse or hockey match and the way he imposed fines would drive a plumber to suicide because he could nt hold a candle to him in his way of imposing charges.

The poets who have not yet been laid to rest in Westminster cathedral were represented by Longfellow.

The affair was thoroughly enjoyed by everybody and when the fun was over everybody retired, expressing their best wishes for a long life and happiness to the newly married couple.

AROUND THE RAILWAY YARD

Personal Paragraphs Pertaining to Railway Men Picked up By the Herald Man on His Daily Rounds.

Chas. Paget, C. P. R. telegraph operator at Hector, is in town for a couple of weeks' holiday.

George Bryan, station agent, of Innisfail, on the C. & E., has severed his connection with the railway.

Conductor Morrow, of the S. & O. branch, has returned from an extended holiday to the east, and has resumed his duties on that line.

The wrecking train went out yesterday afternoon to Beaver where the engine of a freight train was derailed. The express had got past before the accident, so that there was no delay of traffic.

Mr. H. Hamilton Abbott, son of Mr. Harry Abbott of Vancouver, and general agent of the C.P.R. at Victoria was married in Portland on Tuesday to Miss Elizabeth Forsyth Withington, daughter of Mr. G. E. Withington, a prominent Portland banker.

It is reported, says the Cranbrook Herald, upon what seems to be good authority, that G. H. Richardson, resident engineer at Cranbrook for the C.P.R., has received the appointment of assistant city engineer at Ottawa to succeed W. S. Cranston, deceased.

The case of John Senn, news agent, against the Spokane Falls & Northern road for $25,000 for the loss of his left leg last September has been settled out of court. Senn was asked by the conductor, who was short handed, to assist him in tending switches while the engine was on the Y, five miles from Nelson. Owing to the defective state of the track he was jolted off the engine and fell under the cowcatcher, losing his left leg near the knee in consequence. The case was settled for a good round sum.

"Saulty" McKenzie and Dan Murphy returned from Winnipeg on Sunday, where they went to get pointers on the standard rules and regulations which the Crow has just adopted. They have opened a school of instruction for the benefit of the other trainmen on the road. Mr. Murphy has all the engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen from Cranbrook to Kootenay Landing, and Mr. McKenzie has the line east of Cranbrook to Medicine Hat, and all the station agents on the Crow. It is estimated that their schools will last about two months.—Cranbrook Herald.

LOST.—At the opera house on the night of the 10th, a steel gray overcoat, with a pair of rubbers and a pair of kid gloves in the pockets. Finder will oblige by leaving same at this office.

Tribute to Purchasing Agent.

One hundred and two million dollars was the amount expened by the late Mr. A. C. Henry in his capacity of General Purchasing Agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway company, from 1884 until the time of his death on the 3rd inst. This statement was prepared by the instructions of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and laid before the Directors at the last usual monthly meeting. The fact was also brought out that notwithstanding this immense purchasing patronage having passed through his hands, Mr. Henry leaves a modest estate, scarcely representing a fair saving on the salary he received an emphatic tribute to his integrity and upright dealing.

It is rumored about the Canadian Pacific Railway buildings that this action of the president was brought about by a misleading statement of a city paper, which spoke of the lucrative position the deceased gentleman held, and also through the insinuations of a certain firm, which was unable to dispose of its wares and merchandise to the company, through the Purchasing Department and which complained to the president thereon, intimating that it understood that it was necessary to influence the Purchasing Agent before such sales could be made.

"Stop right there!" Sir Thomas is reported to have said. "Our Purchasing Department is composed of gentlemen, from the chief downward, who have the entire confidence of the executive, and if you cannot make a sale, that is not the reason."

The policy of the department is to favor Canadians.

What the Press Says.

The Nanaimo, B. B. Free Press: The vocal part of the programme was also of the first quality. Enid Martin's singing will long be remembered by those who heard her last evening. She has a remarkably clear voice which on her low notes was specially thrilling. Trained under Mme. Marchesi in Paris she has attained a wonderful control of her voice, taking all her notes with the greatest possible ease.

Remember the Enid Martin Concert on the 26th inst., under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church.

FLANAGAN'S WILD IDEAS.

In a recent issue we published an account of an interview, which the Winnipeg Telegram had with Mr. W. F. Flanagan, the London agent for the C. P. R. Mr. Flanagan is an impartial authority. He knows nothing about this or that or the other British Columbian administration and probably cares less. He is not boosting for Dunsmuir at the expense of Martin or exalting Cotton to bring Turner low. On the contrary he damns them all alike. "British Columbia," he says, "spends but little money in advertising and from the point of view of immigration seems to have the idea that British Columbia is a good place for the people in it and no one else." Herein, unwittingly no doubt, Mr. Flanagan has hit off to a dot the lofty, traditional view maintained at Victoria with regard to the whole outside world. This province and the fulness thereof belong by right to those, who either in their own persons or those of their forbears were in it in the good old days back in the sixties. All the rest of mankind are mere outsiders and should have the common decency to stay outside. Naturally in an atmosphere impregnated with these ideas, the notion of advertising the resources of the province is not a very thriving one.

Mr. Flanagan proceeds, "British Columbia did not attempt to maintain representation in London until the recent appointment of Mr. Turner." Right here we draw issue with Mr. Flanagan. British Columbia maintained a representative in London, at a salary fully commensurate with his dignity and importance, for several years before Mr. Turner took hold of the job. The trouble was that no such vulgar idea as advertising the province was ever allowed to be associated with the office. Our agent-general was kept in London for the sake of the soothing feeling which percolated gently through the Victorian intellect when it reflected on the honor and glory of being represented by its own agent-general at the capital of the empire, while other provinces were content to come in under the august shadow of the High Commissioner for Canada. At the same time the HERALD is willing to admit that from Mr. Flanagan's low, utilitarian standpoint British Columbia has not so far maintained representation in London. This is possibly Mr. Flanagan's sarcastic method of putting it that the representation was no good to the province. But his sarcasm is beside the mark. It was not intended to be any good.

Mr. Flanagan in his vulgar business way points out that there is nothing impossible, nothing startling, nothing unheard of in a province possessing an efficient system of advertising its resources in London. He has the bad taste to hold up the mossback governments of Manitoba and the Northwest Territories to us as models of what can be done in this way and what remarkable results follow, when it is properly and efficiently done. There are foolish people who persist in asserting that the Ontario government has got a mining department compared with which ours is not one two, three-seven. Conceive the absurdity! A lot of farmers with a department of mines at all, when we all know British Columbia is the mining province of Canada! Would'nt it kill you? So too this man Flanagan saying that the poor benighted grangers of Manitoba and the Northwest, who have no agent general at all, mind you! do'nt even know what an agent general is!, these are the people who, he says, have a system of keeping the old country in touch with information on the resources of their provinces, of which the results are quite sufficient to prove its efficiency.

Heavens and earth! do people actually mean to insinuate that we—we the people of British Columbia—are to copy Ontario and Manitoba and the Northwest. Have not we got a mining department—at Victoria? Have not we got a museum full of mineral specimens—at Victoria? Have not we got a bureau of provincial information—at Victoria? Do we not publish mining reports and provincial year books and circulate them—in Victoria? If the people in the old country or the States want to find out about these things why don't they come out here and read the reports and look at the specimens and consult the bureau of information and gaze upon the minister of mines—in Victoria? What more do they want? What more can any human being ask for?

A Tribute to Mr. Macintosh.

The following is from the Colonial Goldfields Gazette, published in London, England:

"Newspapers published at Rossland have been taking sides over the burning question as to whether it is or is not desirable that the Hon. C. H. Mackintosh should be appointed Canadian Adviser to the Le Roi mining company. Mr. Mackintosh's appointment is opposed on the ground that he does not possess the necessary technical knowledge of mining. To our mind the point is immaterial. What is essential is that some gentleman should be appointed to see that the mine is run in the true interests of its proprietors and it is desirable that the supervision should be carried out by a gentleman of high standing and integrity and who possesses an intimate knowledge of British Columbian mining matters. These qualifications are possessed by Mr. Mackintosh and it is because we know of no one else so well qualified to advise the London board that we have strongly supported Mr. Mackintosh's candidature. We still think the Le Roi company should avail itself of Mr. Mackintosh's services if that gentleman is willing to give them."

Why He Didn't Jump.

Here is one that a young man who knows a good story when he hears it heard one railroad man tell another in a depot up the line the other day:

"We picked up a new Irishman somewhere up the country and set him to work brakin' on a construction train at three cents a mile for wages. One day when him an' me was on the train she got away on one o' them mountain grades and the first thing we knowed she was flyin' down the track at about ninety miles an hour, with nothin' in sight but the ditch and the happy huntin' grounds when we come to the end. I twisted 'em down as hard as I could all along the tops and then of a sudden I see Mike crawlin' along towards the end of one of the cars on all fours, with his face the color of milk. I thought he was gettin' ready to jump an' I see his finish if he did.

"'Mike,' I says, 'for God's sake don't jump.'

"He clamps his fingers on the runnin' board to give him a chance to turn round and, lookin' at me contemptuous, answers:

"'Jump, is it. Do yez think I'd be afther jumpin' an' me makin' money as fast as I am?'"

The Revelstoke Herald and Railwaymen's Journal

Is the recognized organ for all the latest mining news of North Kootenay. Particular attention is paid to securing early and reliable intelligence from the newly discovered Free Milling Gold Camps on Fish River and from the placer and quartz mines of the Big Bend and district, in the immediate activity of Revelstoke, such as Illecillewaet, Albert Canyon, Jordan Pass and Isaac Creek. Next season will witness a big revival of certainty throughout North Kootenay, and mining men and others desirous of gaining the earliest and most authentic news from the district will find the columns of the HERALD their best source of information.

Railway News is also a Specialty of the HERALD and articles of special interest to Railway men will also be found in its columns.

AS AN ADVERTISING MEDIUM

THE HERALD offers advantages in its total Weekly circulation and the class of readers, which it reaches, unparalleled in the district. It appears twice to any other paper's once a week and is found in the homes of the wage-earning classes, the backbone of the business of the district. Bus'nessmen want their announcements to reach the home people who have the money to take advantage of their offers and the homes and families which render it necessary for them to spend it. No other class of circulation is of any use to them. These are the kind of people who make up a big proportion of our Subscribers, people with homes, families, employment and interests right at home, the people Revelstoke merchants want to get at. A space in our advertising columns, judiciously and thoroughly utilized, constitutes a Twice A-Week letter to every home in Revelstoke, and in the Railway and Mining points, tributary to Revelstoke business.

OUR JOB PRINTING DEPARTMENT

Is the completest in the district for appliances, material and Craftsmen. Our work speaks for itself. No other office in North Kootenay can touch it, because we not only have the tools to do good work with, but we know how to use them. Call and see our Samples and you will perhaps be surprised to see the artistic and finished class of work which we can turn out. Prices graded down to suit the times.

A CHANCE FOR THE MARRIED

An American exchange says:

Western lines face an embarrassing situation in the dearth of married section men. Operating officials have done their best, but they are unable to cope with the problem. Sober, industrious single men are still obtainable but they won't do. "This is a case," an operating official said, "where the frying pan triumphs over brains, and to be honest, we're up against it."

It is really the Mrs. Section Boss that is wanted. In Montana there are great stretches of line, each divided into five and six mile sections, in charge of a boss and crew. Each has its section boss, where the wife of the boss boards the men.

During the winter many section bosses have found other work, and there is no one to cook in the section houses. Wages have been advanced, but it has been found impossible to keep married men on some of the sections. The Montana Central has wired to St. Paul for men, stating that there is great difficulty in keeping up the crews.

Only four men have been secured in St. Paul. Others have applied for jobs, but were unable to meet the requirements. Competent unmarried men were available, but without wives they are useless. With wages of $55 a month and house rent free it has been found impossible to secure the right men. As a result of the famine many section houses have been closed and the men have been sent to adjoining section houses, at great inconvenience. In other cases single men have been compelled to fry and bake for the common good, and constant complaints and frequent resignations have resulted.

Little improvement in the situation is looked for until spring.

Van Horne and Cuba.

What the great transcontinental railroads of America did for the United States, what the trans Siberian railway is doing for Asia and what the "Cape to Cairo" line will do for Africa, will be accomplished for Cuba by the new Cuban railroad now in process of construction. The main line of this great railroad system will be completed in the early summer and extends from Santiago through the centre of the island to the port of Nipe, in the province of Santa Clara, a distance of over three hundred and fifty miles. Six thousand men are now regularly employed in various kinds of construction work on the Cuban railroad. The railroad in construction, rolling stock and equipment generally, is thoroughly modern and up to date, will run over steel bridges, and will, when completed, compare favorably with any transportation system in the United States. The master spirit of the Cuban railroad is Sir William Van Horne, the builder of the Canadian Pacific railway, the most difficult feat of railroad building ever recorded. A most remarkable feature is found in the fact that Sir William Van Horne has gone ahead, planned and built his railroad, incidentally investing millions upon millions of dollars, without a franchise from the government. The Foraker resolution prohibited the granting of franchise by the provincial government of Cuba and the Van Horne projecters concluded to invest their money and trust to the gratitude of the people. Accordingly they asked no grant nor special privileges, but simply secured the approval of the president and secretary of war. The company has purchased vast tracks of land in the central and eastern provinces of the island including splendid pasture and agricultural land. Upon all these tracts colonies will be established, and thus the company will, on the one hand create business for its railroad system, while, on the other, it will employ the railroad system to develop the natural resources of Cuba.

Stealing Intercolonial Passes.

A Quebec despatch says: An employe of the mechanical department of the Intercolonial railway at Riviere du Loup is a fugitive in the United States. He is charged with purloining passes from the official pass book, filling them in, and then selling them to any person he could find to purchase them. The number of passes taken up by the conductors on the different trains were so largely out of proportion to the usual issue that the passenger department some time ago investigated, with the result that it was discovered that passes not authorized by the proper authorities were issued from the office of the mechanical department. One of the officials, a married man with a family, who evidently learned of the investigation, suddenly took his departure and crossed to the United States. Since his departure thirteen stolen blank passes that were afterwards filled in and forged were traced to him by parties who state that they purchased them from him.

A Vernon View of It.

The Vernon hockey club went to Revelstoke last week to play the team of that place a friendly game, and the match took place on Wednesday evening. Revelstoke put in the first goal, and then the Vernon boys got down to work and put in five goals in rapid succession, leaving the score, after the first half, five to one in favor of Vernon. In the second half the Revelstoke team realizing that they had a pretty hard proposition ahead of them, commenced to play very roughly, as evidenced by the manner in which the Vernon boys were knocked out from time to time, and the Revelstoke team succeeded in putting in two more goals, making the score three to five in favor of the Vernon boys. The frequent expressions of disapproval by the Revelstokers showed that they did not like the manner in which a number of their men were slashing right and left—playing "shinny" instead of hockey—and on the following day the Vernon boys were greeted on all sides with words of regret and apology for the rough playing and unfair treatment they had received at the hands of the Revelstoke team. A more unfair referee could not well have been selected. Not only did his knowledge of the rules of the game appear extremely limited, but his decisions were so noticeably biased as to meet with expressions of derision from the spectators; and when the Vernon boys, after three of their number had been disabled, refused to go on the ice for the two and a half minutes still to play, they were greeted with cheers by those in the rink. For this reason the referee has, according to the Revelstoke papers, awarded the game to the home team. The Vernon boys were much disappointed in the way they were treated, as they had anticipated a pleasant time and an interesting game, and though they hardly expected to win, still they intended putting up a hard fight; and considering the very limited amount of practice which they have had this year, the result was exceedingly gratifying. The citizens showed their pleasure at the outcome by the large crowd which turned out to welcome them home, who, with the band, gave them a hearty reception as the train pulled in. Capt. Elworthy succeeded in upholding the high reputation as a hockey player which he had in the east, and the rest of the team were well up to the mark.—Vernon News.

Rich Placer On Peace River.

A new placer district has been discovered on Peace river, British Columbia, and as a result there is expected a stampede there next spring. Edmond H. Hughes, a mining man of this city, received a letter recently from J. H. Reed, mailed at Strathcona, N.W.T., which tells of the find and the rich placer grounds found by Reed in that section. Mr. Hughes says that Reed is a reliable man and that there is no doubt but that he has related the facts. The latter reads in part as follows:

"We have struck some good placer ground on Peace river, averaging $35 per day to the man on the surface. The chances are that it is a great deal richer with depth, but we had to get to Dawson and could not do any extensive work. The reason I am telling you this is that I want to know if I can raise a grubstake of $400 to get out there, and will give a half interest of what I stake and produce for one year. I will soon leave for Ashcroft, and if I can get the stake will drop down to Spokane."

Mr. Hughes says that as soon as the news of the rich placer ground is made public there will be a rush there, and in all probability a company will be organized here to take up and develop claims.

It has been known that the district referred to by Mr. Reed is a gold country, and that there may yet be found one of the richest placer districts on Peace river of any place in the Northwest.—Spokane Chronicle.

The Board of Trade.

There was a special meeting of the council of the board of trade held last Wednesday evening at which the president, vice president, Messrs. Phipps, McBeth, Kilpatrick, McCarty, O'Brien and Field were present.

The select committee to cooperate with the Liberal Association in the matter of the delegation reported that Messrs McCarty and McCarter had been appointed delegates. The report was received and the action of the joint committee of the board of trade and Liberal Association in the matter was confirmed.

F. McCarty reported that he had collected a number of maps of the Big Bend and had compiled lists of all the claims in the district and of all the bad places on the river, which would be embodied in one document for presentation at Ottawa, with a map of the district.

Fred, Fraser and W. A. Foote were elected members of the board.

The following committees were struck:

Mining: J. D. Sibbald, T. Kilpatrick and I. T. Brewster.

Freight and Transportation: G. S. McCarter, F. Young, I. T. Brewster.

Public Works: F. McCarty, M. J. O'Brien, C. M. Field.
