PENSION ON A RAILROAD

Data Showing How the Pennsylvania's Retirement Department Works.—Employes on That Railway Pensioned off.

The pension department of the Pennsylvania Railroad company has prepared very interesting data showing the results of operation thereof during the two years of its existence. As is very generally known, the company, availing itself of every practical opportunity to reward the employes who, during the greater part of their lives, lent their cooperation in the efforts to attain its present standard, about two years ago created and adopted a plan for the purpose of retiring such employes on pension allowances as they arrived at the three score and ten mark, or to those who are between the ages of 65 and 69 years and have rendered 30 or more years of active service and on account of physical disability are unable to further pursue their vocations, granting to them the privilege of either electing their own retirement with an allowance, or if in the judgment of the employing officer the employe is no longer able to perform his duties, retirement is made upon recommendation of that official. The statistics of the department, compiled as of December 31, 1901, indicate that there were authorized to be paid to retired employes during the year 1901 allowances aggregating $292,200.20 and this added to the allowances paid during 1900, shows a grand total of $536,310.17 for the two years of the department's existence, which expenditure was borne entirely by the companies associated in the administration of the department, being provided for by an annual appropriation of $300,000 and does not include the amounts incurred in the operation of the department. Since the inception of the department, 1574 employes have been retired and granted pension allowances, of which number 217 have, to December 31, 1901, died. Of the total number retired, 248 were of the 65 to 70 year class, 143 in 1900 and 105 in 1901. Of those so relieved from active duty the requests originating with the employes were four to every one emanating from the employing officer. This is a very strong indication that the efforts of the company in allowing its disabled employes to retire at the age of 65 years with a substantial allowance for the remainder of their live are much appreciated. The company, in order to keep this particular branch up to its well known standard of operation, made arrangements by which a complete record of all employes would be kept, showing the various positions of every one from the date of first entering into the service to the day of death. By doing this it is possible for the company at any time to anticipate such demands as may be made in subsequent years for pension purposes.

AROUND THE RAILWAY YARD

Personal Paragraphs Pertaining to Railway Men Picked up By the Herald Man on His Daily Rounds.

President J. T. Wilson, of the B. R. T. of A spoke to 400 men at Winnipeg on Monday night.

Rory McLennan, C. P. R. brakesman, returned yesterday from a months visit on the coast.

The new C. P. R. offices in Rossland were opened this week with J. P. Bagnell in charge of the ticket department.

R. F. Sproule, of Fort William, has arrived in Winnipeg to fill the vacancy in the C. P. R. freight sheds caused by the death of Chief Clerk Elliott.

Special Agent Large, of the Grand Trunk railway system, arrived in Detroit on Saturday night with Thomas O'Grady, 35 years, an operator, giving his address as Montreal and the prisoner, who is wanted in connection with the larceny of railway tickets, was locked up at the central station. Charles Bartlett, an operator, was recently held for trial to the recorder.s court, being implicated in the same case for which O'Grady is now held.

A singular accident occurred to a trainman on Friday last. As the Slocan train pulled into the city depot it was found that one of the train men was missing. A search was immediately instituted for the missing man. It was ascertained that he had mounted the cars as the train was rounding a curve and had been swept off the train. Luckily he fell into a snowbank and consequently suffered no injuries. He used a tie pass for the city.—Nelson Tribune.

Experience of a Prospector.

NELSON, B. C., Feb. 19.—Unusual nerve and endurance were displayed by Michael Egan, a pioneer prospector who was injured near Beasley siding by a premature blast today. He had been working alone on a claim when about 9 o'clock either the cap or a blast went off, severing the thumb and forefinger of the right hand, injuring one eye and rendering the other, for the present at least, blind. Egan was rendered unconscious, but on reviving he at once started to climb down the rugged mountain side, a distance of three-quarters of a mile, feeling his way with the well hand and with nothing further to guide him than the knowledge that he was going down hill. He at last arrived at the railway track, where his cries for help brought a rancher from across the river. The rancher took him to the siding, from which he was brought to the Nelson hospital by a passing train. He will lose one eye, and possibly both and a part of one hand.

BIRTHDAY OF PYTHIANS

Thirty-Eighth Anniversary Establishment of the Order Being Celebrated.

Members of the Knights of Pythias throughout the land on Wednesday celebrated in Chicago the thirty-eighth anniversary of the establishment of their order. They believe they have good cause for jubilation in the rapid growth and flourishing condition of the order throughout the country. Since it was founded by Justine H. Rathbone, in Washington, D. C., less than four decades ago, the Knights of Pythias has spread to every state and territory of the Union, to Canada, Alaska, Cuba, the Hawaiian Islands and Mexico. The membership has passed the half-million mark and the percentage of gains shows no signs of decrease. Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Pennsylvania, New York and Missouri, lead the roll with California, Kansas, Colorado, Florida, Minnesota, Nebraska, Oregon, Texas and Wisconsin following close behind. The present Supreme Chancellor of the order is Ogden H. Fethers of Wisconsin, who will hold office until his successor is chosen at the next meeting of the Supreme Lodge, which is to be held in San Francisco next August.

GOLDFIELDS TOWNSITE

The New Bridge Near Completion. A New Hotel to be Erected and a Saw Mill to be Operated.

The new town of Goldfields, in the Fish River free milling gold camp, is already beginning to attract attention and inquiries are coming in steadily as regards the purchase of lots. The owners, Messrs. Perry and Goldsmith, are now busy completing the new bridge across Fish River which brings the big properties on Lexington mountain within a thirty minute walk of the town, which properties include the famous Eva and Imperial groups and the Oyster group. A sawmill will be placed on the ground very shortly and building operations will commence as soon as spring opens up. Among the most important buildings to be erected is a first class three storey hotel and a general store building. Goldfields will naturally be the distributing and pay roll centre for the big producing mines of the camp. An investor would do well to thoroughly investigate the great possibilities of this new town at once. Lewis Bros. are the agents in Revelstoke and in a few days will announce the placing of lots on the market through these columns.

Enid Martin.

One of the largest audiences that has been seen at a concert in this city for a very long time attended the farewell musicale given by the Enid Martin Concert Company, in the First Presbyterian church last evening. The talented vocalist, who was the prima dona at last night's concert and the following well known ladies and gentlemen took part in the concert: Miss E. Hicklin, Mr. George Wood, Mr. Fellowes Hanson and Mr. Hyndman. Mr. Edgar Bayliss, L. R. A. M., assisted as accompanist and also rendered several pianoforte solos. The programme was a carefully selected one and was rendered with much ability, great sweetness and expression characterising the singing of several of the solos, rendered. Enid Martin has always been a favorite in Vancouver musical circles and since her return from Paris her singing has never failed to draw enthusiastic applause. As usual, therefore, her solos last evening were repeatedly encored, a tribute to her powers which she acknowledged with charming grace, acquiescing several times. Among the many old favorites rendered during the evening were Mendelssohn's "O Rest in the Lord," "The Heavenly Fold" (Lloyd), "He was Despised," from Handel's "Messiah," and "The Promise of Life" (Cowen). The Enid Martin Concert Company leaves shortly on a concert tour through the North West and Eastern Canada.—Vancouver News-Advertiser.

Enid Martin Concert Co. appear in the opera house here on Wednesday next. The prospects for a bumper house are excellent and the concert promises to be the treat of the season.

DRASTIC ACTION IN VICTORIA

Liberals Disavow the Vancouver Convention and Repudiate Selection of Martin as Their Leader.

VICTORIA, Feb. 20.—With practically unanimous voice, the action of the recent Liberal convention in Vancouver and the provincial leadership of Mr. Joseph Martin were repudiated last evening by the Liberals of the city of Victoria.

The meeting was an exciting one. It was called for the purpose of hearing the reports of the delegates who had been sent to Vancouver to attend the convention and to discuss the situation generally. The delegates made their report, first those headed by Mr. L. P. Duff and Mr. Gordon Hunter, who with Senator Templeman had retired from the convention when the provincial executive was turned down and then came the explanations of the one or two Victoria men who had remained throughout the convention.

It did not require a vote to ascertain the sentiments of the Victoria Liberals. When a vote was taken, however, as a mere matter of form, it was decided by the large number present, with only a dozen dissenting voices, that the action of the convention should be repudiated and declared to be not binding on the party, and that Mr. Martin's leadership should also be repudiated. The latter resolution was passed with practically no opposition.

Just what effect this action in Victoria will have remains of course to be seen, but it is probably only the forerunner of what will be done in various other sections of the province whose delegates quitted the convention.

WERE CUT OFF BY THE BOERS

Detachment of Scotch Greys Were Surprised at Klipdam.—From General Hamiltons Column.

LONDON, Feb. 22.—A detachment of the Scots Greys, one of Great Britain's crack dragoon regiments, has been cut off by the Boers at Klipdam.

Major C. W. M. Fielden and Capt. E. Ussher were severely wounded, two men were killed, six wounded and 49 captured.

The news was received today from Lord Kitchener in a despatch dated from Pretoria, Feb. 19.

The Scots Greys formed part of Gen. Gilbert Hamilton's column. The latter while moving on Nigel on Feb. 18, engaged a force of Boers at Klipdam. The Scotch Greys became detached, were surrounded and were cut off.

Gen. Hamilton was unable to dislodge the Boers from their position, so he continued his march towards Nigel.

The Boers released the Scots Greys who had been made prisoners.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the reception of Prince Henry in New York. He is expected here today.

Official despatches assert that a calm has been restored at Barcelona, Saragossa and Vanecia, but the entire trade is at a standstill.

The 71st Regiment, armory, New York, was destroyed by fire. A large quantity of powder exploded. Ambulance calls were sent out but it is not known so far if anyone was injured.

The Transport Victorian, with the second section of the Canadian Mounted Rifles, has arrived at Capetown.

The Italian cabinet has resigned.

Snow followed by rain and sleet, created in New York and vicinity the most disagreeable weather conditions known for years. Traffic on Brooklyn bridge was stopped and all trains are behind time.

McCROSSAN AND THE EAGAE

Accuses That Paper of Making False Statements in Regard to Certain Mining Stock In Which He is Interested.

Mr. McCrossan and the Eagle.

During C. W. McCrossan's visit to town on Thursday the HERALD succeeded in getting an interview with the gentleman in regard to recent statements appearing in the Lardeau Eagle in reference to Mr. McCrossan and the company and properties which he represents. To the question as to the truth of the statements appearing in the Lardeau Eagle, Mr. McCrossan said:

1. The Eagle declares that the companies I am most interested in are very highly capitalized and that none of the stock is pooled. The fact of the matter is that considerably over one half of all the stock in each company is pooled.

For instance, "The Golden Circle" company is capitalized for 1,500,000 shares of which all but 50,000 are pooled. Only a portion of these even have been sold.

2. The Eagle falsely states that our stock has been sluffed in the east and that not "one hundredth part of the money received" has been invested for the good of the shareholders. The fact is that all the money received by me for the sale of mining stocks in the east has been invested in that country absolutely and entirely for the benefit of the companies I represent.

During the last 15 months I have paid into the prospects of the miners, merchants and packers of the Lardeau the sum of $80,000.

Besides this I have induced men to enter the Lardeau who have in turn purchased properties and invested large sums of money.

Mr. Pettipiece, the editor of the Eagle, himself received $1,200 commission on the sale of the Metropolitan property which he now calls a 'two bit' prospect.

With this money he was enabled to build the respectable building in which his paper is published. The said 'two bit' prospect has had $8,000 spent upon it during the last year and hundreds of feet of the highest grade ore in the country almost shown to be continuous on 21 different stringers. Seventy six lbs. of this ore, when run through a Vulcan smelter at Los Angeles, Cal., showed 2,085 ozs. of silver to a ton of bullion. When Mr. Pettipiece slandered me he slandered one who has been to him always a friend.

FOUR LINES OF DEVELOPMENT.

The back of the winter is broken and as is usual at this time of the year the people of Revelstoke, in common with the rest of Kootenay, are looking forward with renewed hopes to the coming season. This year there are ample reasons to be given for the hope that is in them. There are four heads under which considerable development may confidently be expected to take place in the great district within our sphere of influence, which extends from the main line of the C.P.R. for 150 miles north to the Yellowhead Pass and the whole of which will, it may be confidently anticipated, be placed within easy communication with Revelstoke by water before the end of 1902.

In the first place as soon as ever the ice goes out of the river and the steamer Revelstoke commences her regular trips great activity will begin in the silver-lead, copper and gold properties in the various camps which lie along the strike of the great mineral lead, which runs through the country parallel to the Columbia. None of these camps lie further back from the river than six or seven miles, so that it will henceforth be an easy matter to get in supplies and prosecute work on the properties. All the indications are that this district exceeds in the extent and value of its mineral resources of any portion of Kootenay hitherto exploited. There is very little doubt that with further development Laforme, Carnes and Downie Creeks, Standard Basin and Keystone Mt will very rapidly forge to the front among the big producing camps of Kootenay. The chief obstacle to their progress has now been removed. They are placed within easy reach of their base of supplies at Revelstoke, their ores can be shipped without having a prohibitive freight rate to carry and the whole situation has been altered. Mining men and capitalists can now visit this promising district without overwhelming fatigue and loss of time, while the new conditions will attract investors to take hold.

North of the present head of navigation lie the great placer deposits, which once yielded a fabulous sum in gold to the crude methods of the pioneers of the sixties and which are certainly destined under scientific treatment to produce even vaster stores of the yellow treasure. Already American capital has taken hold of one venture in these placer fields and is only waiting to be assured of its success to enlarge the shere of its operations very considerably. From all the HERALD can learn the most satisfactory results have already been achieved on this proposition and there is every reason to believe that the season of 1902 will see deep placer mining commenced on an extensive scale throughout the whole area of the Big Bend deposits. At present navigation stops short from 15 to 25 miles of the placer grounds. But the end of the year will almost certainly see a tramway constructed to overcome the obstacles presented by the three miles of rapids and canyons known as the Death rapids and a second steamer plying on the upper waters of the Columbia and connecting Smith Creek, Goldstream, French Creek and McCullough by easy communication with Revelstoke.

In this connection the HERALD would like to point out the opportunities which the advent of the steamer offer to prospectors for the exploration of the hitherto untouched creeks, which empty into the Columbia on the west bank of the river. Everyone of these is worthy of attention and they are now easily accessible by the steamer as far north as Laporte. By the end of the year all the rest of the west bank will be placed in touch as far as the mouth of Canoe river, as well as the large and hitherto almost unvisited area, extending from Goldstream to the bend of the Columbia. There is a vast virgin territory here well within the strike of the great mineral belt and also of the placer gravels, which offers opportunities to the prospectors not to be found in any other portion of British Columbia.

Above Goldstream and along the Columbia river north to the mouth of the Canoe and round the bend and south to Kinbasket lake is to be found an extensive area of fine timber, in which several large limits are already in the hands of American lumber men. These investors have been up into the Big Bend already within the last couple of years, inspecting the property and there is very little doubt that now that the limits are placed within reasonably easy communication with their base of supplies here, that the people, who have been paying taxes on them without reaping any benefit for the last 12 or 15 years, will be anxious to turn their property to some account. The establishment of logging camps within these limits is a likely event on the programme for 1902 and one from which this city cannot fail to reap considerable benefit.

The fourth and last item, under which 1902 may reasonably be expected to witness considerable progress in the Big Bend in mica mining. To say nothing of the immense deposits of this valuable mineral on Mica mountain near Tete Jaune Cache, it is now known that there are other extensive veins nearer Revelstoke located in the extreme north of the Big Bend district. Last year several finds were made by Golden prospectors, which have been taken up by Revelstoke and Golden local syndicates and will most certainly be operated this year. The output from these properties is bound to come down river to Revelstoke and the navigation of the river above Death rapids is a vital factor in the success of the operations to be commenced on them. As we have said the end of the year will doubtless see this problem solved and with it considerable shipments of mica out to Revelstoke from the Big Bend deposits. At the same time the launch of a steamer on the upper river above the rapids will for the first time place the Tete Jaune Cache deposits within the sphere of practical operation.

The above are the reasons, which lead the people of Revelstoke to anticipate a busy and prosperous season in 1902. It cannot be denied that they are based on good and sufficient grounds. And it would be very difficult for any other town in Kootenay to point to such extensive and valuable sources of progress in the near future.

Cleared His Doubts.

A well known English gentleman engaged a tall and powerful Highlander to act as gamekeeper on his estate. Having been a considerable time at his post and not having caught any poachers, the gantleman suspected his gamekeeper of carelessness. So one dark night he disguised himself and went out with a gun to poach on his own ground. He had only fired one or two shots when he was suddenly pounced upon from behind and his gun wrenched away. Then kicks and blows were showered upon him, until he fell down half insensible. The Highlander then walked away quietly and when the gentleman recovered sufficiently he crawled home and took to his bed for two weeks. He has now no doubts whether the man can perform his duty or not.

The Revelstoke Herald and Railwaymen's Journal

Is the recognized organ for all the latest mining news of North Kootenay. Particular attention is paid to securing early and reliable intelligence from the newly discovered Free Milling Gold Camps on Fish River and from the placer and quartz mines of the Big Bend and district, in the immediate activity of Revelstoke, such as Illecillewaet, Albert Canyon, Jordan Pass and Isaac Creek. Next season will witness a big revival of certainty throughout North Kootenay, and mining men and others desirous of gaining the earliest and most authentic news from the district will find the columns of the HERALD their best source of information.

Railway News is also a Specialty of the HERALD and articles of special interest to Railway men will also be found in its columns.

AS AN ADVERTISING MEDIUM

THE HERALD offers advantages in its total Weekly circulation and the class of readers, which it reaches, unparalleled in the district. It appears twice to any other paper's once a week and is found in the homes of the wage-earning classes, the backbone of the business of the district. Business men want their announcements to reach the home people who have the money to take advantage of their offers and the homes and families which render it necessary for them to spend it. No other class of circulation is of any use to them. These are the kind of people who make up a big proportion of our Subscribers, people with homes, families, employment and interests right at home, the people Revelstoke merchants want to get at. A space in our advertising columns, judiciously and thoroughly utilized, constitutes a Twice-A-Week letter to every home in Revelstoke, and in the Railway and Mining points, tributary to Revelstoke business.

OUR JOB PRINTING DEPARTMENT

Is the completest in the district for appliances, material and Craftsmen. Our work speaks for itself. No other office in North Kootenay can touch it, because we not only have the tools to do good work with, but we know how to use them. Call and see our Samples and you will perhaps be surprised to see the artistic and finished class of work which we can turn out. Prices graded down to suit the times.

HOW ROYALTY SPENDS SUNDAY

When King Edward and Queen Alexandra were the Prince and Princess of Wales, the following interesting account of how they were in the habit of spending Sunday appeared in The Quiver. The writer says:

"Sunday with Their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales is passed in much the same quiet way as with Her Majesty, the Queen, inasmuch as religious ceremonies are faithfully observed and the household and servants are spared all unnecessary duties. The guests wend their way, as the hour of eleven approaches, towards the little church of St. Mary Magdalene in the Park. There is a private footpath direct from the house to the church gate; by this the Royal family and guests often proceed, driving round by the road only in case of unpropitious weather. Sunday afternoon is quietly spent in the house or park. Dinner is served at half past seven. Occasionly, however, dinner is a little later, as the Prince and Princess may be attending evening service in one of the village churches near. The small station, some two miles away, where the Royal family have their own waiting rooms, is closed on Sunday, as no train whatever is run on that day. By this means the church is kept clear of an attendance prompted by curiosity and also the men employed have the entire day's rest secured to them. In fact, no unnecessary work in any shape or way is performed on Sunday in any one part of the Prince's domains.

"Sunday at Marlborough House differs slightly from Sunday at Sandringham, but the day is spent in comparative quietude. In the morning their Royal Highnesses attend divine services held in what is known as the German (Lutheran) Chapel. After luncheon, the Princess and her daughters may possible attend one of the West-End churches to hear some popular preacher, or to be present at a children's service. It is not only at Sandringham and Marlborough House that Sabbath observances are rigidly adhered to by the Prince and Princess Wales, but also in any of the continental places where they may be staying. There is an old saying that when you go to Rome do as the Romans do, but our Prince honors this rule in the breach, for although he has ever been a constant visitor to Paris, yet he has never seen the Fcench Derby, for the simple reason that it is run on the Sunday. In a matter where hundreds and thousands of Christians have followed the fashion of the gay capital they are visiting and indulged their love of horses and of pleasure, the Prince has set a good example and absented himself. In every way the Prince and Princess have always faithfully observed the Sabbath and we, as a Christian people, may congratulate ourselves that our future King and Queen will steadfastly uphold the sanctity of the day of God and the doctrines of the Christian church."

A recent quotation from the St. James Gazette, of London, Eng., saying that the King had refused to travel from Scotland to London on Sunday and has "stunned society by putting all social functions and entertainments on Sunday under the Royal ban," would seem to indicate that His Majesty's succession to the throne of the "mightiest empire that has been," has not led to the relaxing of his scruples as to how Sunday should be spent.

If there is any truth in the rumors that are rife about Sunday yachting excursions, mounted paper chases and the like starting from Rideau Hall, it would seem that His Majesty's example has not much weight with his representative in Canada, nor indeed with society leaders generally at the Dominion capital, where only a few months ago the servant girls had to form themselves into a mutual protective association in order to get deliverence, among other things, from seven day in the week bondage through having to dance attendance on their mistresses and their guests at Sunday dinners, suppers, etc., as well as on all the other days of the week. And we fear that if this Servants' Mutual Protective Association does not extend to other cities, it will not be because there is not about as much occasion for it as there is at Ottawa. Society is fond of following the lead of Royalty in many things. Why not also in the observance of the Lord's day.

The story of a suicide comes from Elko, which occurred on Saturday, when a man named Patterson ended his life. He was employed by contractor Martin, who is engaged on the construction of the British Columbia Southern railway. It appears that during the absence of his employer, in company with a number of associates, Patterson went in for having a good time. On his return the employer, finding their duties had been neglected, promptly fired the whole crowd. This so prayed upon the mind of Patterson that he completed the story by a resort to the knife.

Compulsory Arbitration.

J. T. Wilson, president of the trackmen's union, is quite an authority on trades organization, as might be imagined from his position, hence when a reporter found himself talking to the leader of last year's fight against the C.P.R., he took occasion to ask him anent many details which cause dispute in trades union circles.

Mr. Wilson is, of course, a strong supporter of federation, his own union being among those affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, but h does not altogether hold either with the Canadian trades congress, which last year declared for compulsory arbitration in trade disputes, or with the American federation which has declared as emphatically against it.

"Where the public is not directly concerned in a dispute," he said, "I do not believe that compulsory arbitration is desirable, but in case of transportation companies and other large corporations in the workings of which individually the public is interested, I think it might be of use." It has always seemed to me, he continued, "that neither a railway company nor their employees have the right to stop trains running just because they can't adjust their private differences. The public have rights which should be observed just as emphatically as those of the corporation or its employees.—Winnipeg Telegram.

Ping Pong Afloat.

Not only has ping-pong captured our dining rooms, but it is gaining a foothold in the saloons of our passenger steamers.

"You'll find it occupying a prominent place among the amusements advertised in our sailing bills," said the purser of an ocean 'greyhound'; "and in these days of keen competition, when steamship lines take advantage of every opportunity to increase the popularity of their vessels, managers are wise in not ignoring the ping pong craze.

"We carry a supply of bats and balls and when the weather is at all decent the one recreation is ping-pong—every other form of amusement is ousted—though how long it will last I wouldn't like to say.

"We run a net supported at intervals, down the whole length of the dining saloon and several couples can play simultaneously. It takes even a proficient player some time to get accustomed to the motion when the ship is rolling badly, but after a little practice the balls can be played almost as accurately as on a fixed table.

"It is rather disconcerting at first when returning a ball to see the opposite side of the table sinking away from you, or find it rising in a line with your head.

"Practice goes on all day when the table is not in use for meals and then each evening a sweep stake tournament is arranged, when the excitement is intense.

"Certainly it is by far the best allround amusement we have ever had on a sea voyage, for all passengers, young and old, can participate."

Found.

In the opera house, a gold pin, set with diamonds. The owner can recover the same from R. Tapping by proving property and paying for the cost of this advt.

Hard Times Dance.

One of the most enjoyable gatherings of the season took place on Wednesday night when the Knights Pythias held their hard times dance in the Oddfellows hall. Each Knight was allowed to invite four friends, consequently the hall was crowded. Prizes were awarded for the most ragged clothes. Mrs. Van Horne received a pretty chatelaine as first amongst the ladies and Mr. R. S. Wilson the pipe in the gentlemens competition. The costumes were the cause of much merriment as also were the programmes, all being a good representation of hard times.
