AROUND THE RAILWAY YARD

Personal Paragraphs Pertaining to Railway Men Picked up By the Herald Man on His Daily Rounds.

Ross Donaldson, C. P. R. fireman, who has been laid up for some time, is recovering.

An action has been entered by Annie. Winter, of Cody, B.C. and her husband, against the Kaslo and Slocan railway company for $10,000 for injuries claimed to have been received by Mrs. Winter under the following circumstances: That while she was in a passenger coach on the Cody branch, that the engine was detached from the train to be used for temporary employment and that neither the conductor nor brakeman set the brakes on the car, but went away and left the car on the brink of a steep grade and that the car ran away and was broken to pieces, the said Mrs. Winter being severely injured.

The Red Mountain train was a couple of hours late into Rossland on Sunday evening, the result of an accident at the Y near Northport. The switch on the Y had been thrown for the outward born train and the engine passed over safely but the tender did not "track," ditching several cars. The bridge was damaged somewhat and it was necessary to transfer mails and passengers around the derailed train. Engineer Tracey sprained his ankle, but otherwise no one was injured.

Engineer D. Little and fireman Geo. Wellwood have been transferred from Kamloops to the Kootenay division.

The body of Arthur O. Davis, section foreman of Antler, N. W. T., who was lost in the blizzard on Saturday, March 15, was found Sunday afternoon by a search party composed of Northwest Mounted Police and citizens.

Brakeman Shipworth of Brandon was instantly killed at Moose Jaw on Tuesday while coupling cars.

One of the best known railway contractors in Canada is dead in the person of John Ryan who has been a contractor on railway construction since the middle of the last century, and worked on the Grand Trunk, the Chicago & Alton, the Brockville & Ottawa and Intercolonial. In 1879 and 1880 he built 100 miles of the C. P. R. west of Winnipeg and afterwards the Ontario & Quebec. He was connected with others in the building of the Soo canal and the locks at Cascade Point on the Soulanges canal.

It is reported at Banff on good authority that the C.P.R. has decided to change the location of its line so as to materially shorten the distance on that section. It is said that the main line will branch southward some distance west of Banff. It will be caaried through the town, and round the south side of Tunnel mountoin. I is expected that the station will be near F. W. Boswell's house. The change will straighten out this portion of the ine land will leave Anthracite at the end of a spur, as the new line will join the present track some distance east of Anthracite.

Mr. R. F. Miller is busy erecting another of the old Donald houses in Golden for Mr. Robinson, C. P. R. agent at Donald. It is being put up on a lot near J. E. Griffith's residence and the contract calls for a very complete residence.—Golden Era.

Engineer J. Lyons and Mrs. Lyons returned from a trip to the coast on Friday.

Fireman K. Dodd and Bridgeman J. McCollum are both laid up with the measles.

Station agent T. B. Bradshaw received this morning the sad news of the death of his brother at St. Thomas, Ont.

Instead of Tuesdays the tourist cars leave Revelstoke on Wednesdays for Toronto.

Price of Silver Cup Exaggerated

Louis Didisheim, manager for the European capitalists who owned the well known Silver Cup mine in the Lardeau district up to a few days since, was a visitor to Rossland on Sunday and yesterday, leaving this morning for Revelstoke, where the company's Canadian offices are located.

When approached by a representative of the Miner with a query as to the mine, Mr. Didisheim was disposed to be vexed at the report forwarded to this paper by its Lardeau correspondent in which some speculation was indulged in as to the old company's reason for selling and the price realized, declining to discuss the matter at all. On being informed, however, that if the report was not strictly accurate the Miner had been imposed upon equally with himself, Mr. Didisheim relented and confirmed the report as to the transfer of the property

"It is correct that the mine has been sold," said Mr. Didisheim, "and that Messrs. Pool and Young are the new owners. I am under a promise not to divulge the price paid for the mine, but will say this, that the amount mentioned — $500,000 — was greatly exaggerated. Some of the statements made in connection with the reports of the sale were most unfair to myself and to the company and I resent them keenly."

The Miner is unable to state wherein Mr, Didisheim considered himself aggrieved. It is understood that Mr. Didisheim will not in future be identified with the Silver Cup and that he will shortly leave for France,—Rossland Miner.

THE LAW IS VINDICATED

Bullock the Murderer Hanged at the Police Barracks, Fort Saskatchewan on Wednesday.

Fort Saskatchewan, March 26.—C. B. Bullock was executed at the N. W. M. P. barracks this morning for the murder of Leon Stainton, on April 26 last. Death was instantaneous.

The condemned man made no statement, slowly shaking his head when asked on the scafold if he had anything to say.

Rev. A. Aldridge, Methodist minister here, who has visited the prisoner daily since his commitment, was with him half an hour before the execution. While he listened attentively to all the counsel of his spiritual adviser, the prisoner showed no outward sign of remorse and stoutly protested his innocence to the last.

The trap was arranged in the second floor of the carpenter shop at the barracks, giving a drop of six feet. As Rev. Mr. Aldridge concluded reading the Lord's prayer, the lever was pulled and the condemned man shot downward. No movement indicated the presence of life after the trap was sprung.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Dunsmore wishes to express her heartfelt gratitude to all those friends, whose services were so freely rendered to her son during his last illness. She also wishes to express her thanks to the members of the Orange lodge for their fraternal kindness in taking charge of the funeral.

PASSING OF CECIL RHODES

Many Opinions are Held of the Character of the Great South African Millionaire who Died On Wednesday.

CAPETOWN, March 26.—Cecil Rhodes died this afternoon at 5.57 o'clock.

LONDON, March 26.—The death of Cecil Rhodes came as no great surprise to those who saw anything of him during his last visit to London during the winter. Whether it was due to his experiences during the long seige of Kimberley or the accumulated anxiety regarding the war in South Africa, with an accompanying change of public feeling in England toward him, there is no doubt he was almost completely broken down within the past two years. Even his appearance changed. His once finely chiselled face had become bloated and his always huge frame filled out until the Colossus became so stout as to make walking a matter of difficulty. He was frequently attacked with severe heart troubles during which he exhibited the stoicism which marked his extraordinary career. Nor did he allow bodily ailments to interfere with business. Among his associates in the city he never mentioned them nor did he permit them to be mentioned to him. Up to the last Mr. Rhodes kept a firm grip on all those vast South African interests created and controlled by him. Except that he was more irritable and more dictatorial, there was no outward change in his method of handling men, millions and empires. Towards the social side of life, however, he soured visibly. Once his day's work at the office of the British Chartered South African Co. was over, he shut himself up from the curious in an unfrequented London hotel, where he utterly denied himself to all except half a dozen favored intimates.

Dr. Jameson was his constant companion. Indeed, none of Dr. Jameson's indiscretions ever affected the warm friendship existing between the two men. They could be seen in the park in the morning taking solitary rides on horses, never breaking out from a walk, the cynosure of all eyes, yet severely unobservant of the hundreds of London political and social leaders who had the right to a bowing acquaintanceship.

More especially did Mr. Rhodes shun the present government leaders. He bitterly expressed his contempt o British army methods in South Africa and probably never quite forgave Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Milner for not consulting him or endeavoring to utilize the powerful financial political magazine which Mr. Rhodes undoubtedly manipulated over the whole of South Africa.

With increasing irascibility, which he did not hesitate to vent on duke or plebeian who crossed his path, he grew more and more restless as the end of his life drew near. He was never contented to stay long in one place. His closing days devolved into an unceasing purposeless quest of change of scene. During his recent trip to Egypt this was particularly noticeable. He rushed from place to place as if with the only object of unsettling his own plans. Then he suddenly returned to England.

Financially, Mr. Rhodes' death is not likely to have any far reaching results, as all his enterprises were systemized so thoroughly as not to need the master mind which was so necessary to their inception. Thanks to the very great success of the De Beers Mines, the British Chartered South African Co. and other great South African ventures, Rhodes' fortune has been steadily accumulating. He lost money over the war, but what inroads that made must have been trifling compared with the many millions he possessed. He never lost his open handed, somewhat reckless, methods of handling money. Not long ago he walked into the office of one of his confidential subordinates and, throwing down a bundle of notes, bonds, etc., said:

"Invest these for me" and went out without waiting to have them looked at. Inspection revealed the fact that they acounted to over a million pounds sterling. How they were invested Mr. Rhodes never knew or cared, for months later, as that night he went off on one of his wandering tours and refused to allow himself to be bothered with the details of the investment of his million until he returned to England.

Two Wabash freight trains, running over Grand Trunk tracks, collided near Jarvis, Ont., last night. Engineers Charleton and McGill and brakeman McDonald, of St. Thomas, were all killed.

Fifty passengers were badly shaken up in a collision between the South Side and Metropolitan west side elevated roads on the Union loop at Chicago yesterday.

Eleven inches of rain has fallen at Meridan, Missouri, during the past 48 hours. Farms are under water, bridges are washed away and traffic is paralyzed.

It is asserted that Cecil Rhodes has left the bulk of his fortune, outside of some personal and family bequests, to the promotion of his vast Imperial plan of education. This project embraces every land where the Union Jack flies.

It is reported from Kutais, Trans-Causcasia, that three Russian princes have been executed for the murder of over 100 persons. They were leaders of a bandit organization, which terrorized the Caucasus by robbery, arson and murder.

The total number of Boer prisoners captured in Kitchener's last round up was 170. Delarey was outside the cordon. An exciting race took place between Boers and British for gaps in the lines. The British horses played out in the long march and many soldiers dismounted and went on foot to head off the Boers. Five Canadians wounded by the Boers, made a splendid defence. Finally seeing the case hopeless, four surrendered but the fifth indignantly refused and continued a single handed fight until killed.

REFERRED TO ARBITRATION

The Trackmen's Wage Schedule To be Settled by a Board of Seven Arbitrators, so as to Arrive at an Agreement

Word was received in town last night that the C.P.R. management at Montreal and the Trackmens' Protective Committee have agreed to refer the wage schedule to a board of arbitration to be composed of seven persons, three selected by the company, three by the trackmen and one by the other six. This agreement was arrived at in order to come to an amicable and impartial settlement of his very important matter.

Platinum in Smilkameen.

Platinum in commercial quantities has been detected by assay in ore taken from the Diamond B. a mine, near Princeton in the Smilkameen, and the Olympia on Kennedy mountain in the same district. The ore carries values in gold silver and copper as well. The assay was made by Baker & Co., gold and platinum refiners, Newark, N. J. The Star, which publishes the report, does not give the nature of the ore, which would be interesting to know. Platinum has been found in Wyoming in a vein carrying gold, copper and silver, the amount of platinum appearing to increase with the increase of the copper contents of the ore.

SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1902.

A POINTER FROM ORILLIA.

It's as easy as rolling off a log, if you know how to do it, but you've got to know how first. The town of Orillia knows, but the snap has now been given away. Orillia had a population of 4907 according to the last census and these 4907 Orillians want $40,000 of Dominion funds to improve their harbor. Forty thousand looks like a lot of government money to British Columbians. Our whole province only gets $100,000 for public works altogether. But it is a mere fleabite in Orillia, where they know how to work the oracle. This is how they do things down there from a report of the debate on the estimates in the commons when Mr. W. H. Bennett, member for East Simcoe, of which riding Orillia is the most important centre, put in a plea for harbor improvements at Orillia and by way of empathizing his request, read an article from a local paper in which Mr. Tarte was upbraided for forgetting his pledge to the residents and particularly the ladies of Orillia, made on the occasion of his visit there last summer, to have the harbor improved.

Mr. Tarte made an amusing reply. He admitted he had been "seduced by the beauty of the ladies," and influenced by the kindness which the people showed to "the little French Canadian minister" there last summer. He didn't perhaps make a formal promise but he went pretty far. Well, come to think it, he believed he did say that if $40,000 would do it he would try and induce his coleagues to sanction the grant. Orillia was really a beautiful place and he would try and not go back on the ladies. He hadn't been accused of doing that so far.

In the applause, which followed these gallant remarks of the impressionable Minister of Public Works, Mr. Bennett, who is, it is almost unnecessary to remark, a "lifelong Grit," joined, we are told, very heartily. It would be a curious, though quite unprofitable, point to investigate as to what effect the bright eyes of the fair Orillians would have on Mr. Tarte's susceptible bosom, had the member for East Simcoe happened to be a dyed in the wool Tory. But leaving this topic, as merely of academic interest, to one side, the HERALD would like to suggest that Revelstoke had better take a leaf out of the book of Orillia. It is too much of course to expect that this place like the happy community on the beautiful shores of Lake Simcoe, will ever be honored by a visit from the great Poo-bah of the Grit ministry. We cannot hope ever to find out what effect on his ideas on expenditure on the Columbia, the united smiles of Revelstoke female loveliness might possibly have. But if we ever again dig down for the collateral to send a delegation to Ottawa to interview Mr. Tarte, we must certainly see that it is composed of members of the best looking sex. We may be quite sure after the experience of Orillia, that Mr. Tarte would never disappoint them if a paltry $40,000 or so would meet their ideas.

REDISTRIBUTION AGAIN.

In his speech on the second reading of the Redistribution Bill Mr. Taylor said he hoped the government would accept an amendment, which he proposed to offer, extending the Revelstoke riding so as to take in the Canoe river country and give it two members or in default of that to leave the constituency as it was before. The amendment will of course come up in committee, in which the details of the bill will come up for discussion. The attempt of the Colonist to make a little political capital out of the fact that practically no opposition was offered to the second reading is as absurd as it is premature. The HERALD believes that both sides of the house are sincere in wishing to see an equitable and practical measure of redistribution passed. The HERALD believes that the government has tried to find an easy, short cut out of a disagreeable task by proposing to again increase the membership and this is the main feature of the bill, which the Opposition mean to contest in committee. Otherwise the HERAD agrees with Mr. Smith Curtis that the bill is the fairest measure of redistribution which has yet been introduced in the legislature. In committee there is is no doubt the various details will come in for a good deal of alteration and improvement. The discussion should be approached in a broad minded spirit of mutual forbearance and strict impartiality. To suggest, as does the Colonist, that because the opposition, in order to facilitate the passage of this important measure into a stage where discussion on it would be of more practical use, allowed it to pass the second reading almost unopposed, therefore the decision was a triumph for the government and the opposition has ceased to oppose and even to exist, is as mischievious, as it is petty and ridiculous. It is the importation of the narrowest partizanship into a question from the discussion of which all party feeling and all notion of mere party triumphs should be sternly eliminated.

But to return to our own particular muttons. The HERALD is free to admit that with regard to the disposition which it is proposed to make of the various elements of our own particular riding it regards the point as to the extension of our northern limit as being the most important by far to the people of Revelstoke. It is not reasonable to suppose that the Trout Lake mining division will continue any longer to form a portion of the same riding as ourselves. The moot point seems to be whether it is to be tacked on to Kaslo or to make part of a new riding which will include both the Lardeau and Slocan of popular parlance. This is a point on which the wishes of the people of Ferguson and Trout Lake City, should have considerable weight. They are no doubt quite satisfactorily expressed by our member, Mr. Taylor, who we understand is a strong supporter of the second plan, while the government measure embodies the first.

With regard to the Canoe River valley the HERALD'S contention has always been that it should be taken out of Caribo, with which it has no interests in common and divided between the Revelstoke and Golden ridings. The 53rd degree of latitude would form a convenient northern boundary, the watershed between the drainage area of the North Thompson and the Canoe would be the natural limit on the west while the summit of the Rockies would of course bound the riding on the east. A dividing line between the Revelstoke and Golden ridings is naturally formed by the Canoe River as far as the bend south of Cranberry lake and continued by the McLennan to Tete Jaune Cache.

In the south the Fish River camp and the towns on the Northaest Arm have very close business and social relations with Revelstoke and the HERALD thinks it would be a mistake to disturb their present political affiliations with this place. The southern boundary of the riding as defined in the new bill seems to be as suitable and satisfactory as is possible.

FUTURE C.P.R. TERMINAL

Sydney, Cape Breton, Will in a Few Years Become the Most Important Harbor on the Atlantic Seaboard of Canada.

A well developed rumor is going through the press of the East to the effect that the Canadian Pacific railway is back of a deal to secure control of the Dominion Iron & Steel and Dominion Coal Company at Sydney, C.B. The rumor is denied by President Shaughnessy, but the possibility of the great transcontinental corporation getting control of these two companies is considered not at all improbable in some circles. It is pointed out, says the Toronto World, that with the Intercolonial in its possession or control, connectnig with the coal mines and steel works of Sydney, the road would practically control the coal fields of Canada. As to the steel plant it is quite within the possibilities of the near future that they may reuqire to manufacture their own steel. Of the $20,000,000 worth of new stock to be issued, $10,000,000 alone will be expended by the two engineering departments on bridges, rails, locomotives and cars and the manufacture of its own steel, it is pointed out, would mean a saving of hundreds of thousands a year.

While the acquisition of the steel and coal companies by the C. P. R. is more or less speculative, there is no doubt that the company has made Sydney one of its objective points on the Atlantic coast. Sydney will, within a few years, become the most important seaport of the Maritime province. Its geographical position in regard to Europe is much superior to that of Halifax and St. John. It is 400 miles nearer Europe than Halifax and it is at the same time but little off the direct route between Great Britain and Quebec. Its immense deposits of coal further increase the importance of Sydney as an Atlantic seaport. There is no doubt the C. P. R. has in view the establishment of a fast Atlantic service. It may therefore be accepted as a fact that the C.P.R. will before long announce its plans for a really fast Atlantic service. Sydney will be the point of arrival and departure for those who wish to make a rapid passage, while others will embark and disembark at Quebec. Once the C.P.R goes into the steamship business on the Atlantic it will not stop at fast passenger boats, but will take a hand in the freight business part of which it would naturally control through its immense railway system. If the C. P. R. were to adopt the consolidation idea as it has been developed in the United States it would not stop at adding an Atlantic steamship service. The acquisition of the Sydney plants would be right in line with the Morgan idea of doing things. The New York Commercial seems to think the rumor has a good basis behind it. It says:

"The reports, which assert very positively an authoritative source, are not yet confirmed, but the delay of the Ottawa government in starting the much talked of fast Atlantic steamship service corresponds suggestively with the known ambition of the Canadian Pacific to do so if the Sydney interests can be acquired. The steady growth of this railway company and its increasing control of subsidiary lines would receive an immense impetus by the purchase of properties which would give it all necessary fuel and material for manufacturing steamships and locomotives; while its intended purchase of the government's Intercolonial railway considered in connection with the proposed fast Atlantic line and the line it operates between British Columbia and China, would give it great importance as an international agency of transportation. The acquisition of the steel and coal industries at Sydney would illustrate in Canadian experience the tendency of our own railways to gain control of fuel and manufacturing supplies."—B. C. Trade Budget.

Cosgrove's Orchestra.

The Maccabees of Tower, Minn., were delighted with the entertainment given there by Cosgrove's orchestra last September and gave Mr. Cosgrove the following flattering testimonial:

Tower, Minn., Sept 29, 1901.

The Cosgrove orchestra gave one of their high class concerts and balls here last evening under the auspices of the local lodge of Maccabees, which was very much appreciated. The solos were very fine and Master Jas. Marnell carried away the hearts of the ladies with his beautiful singing. Messrs, Stettler and McLasky were loudly applauded in their musical novelty numbers. We highly reccommend Cosgrove's orchestra.

This is the orchestra which is booked to give a concert and ball here on April 2nd in the opera house, under the auspices of the Irish Social and Benevolent Society.

More Smelters.

Joseph Ryan, who is interested with C. W. McCrossman and others in the erection of smelters for silver-lead and copper throughout British Columbia, is now in Kaslo with the view of considering the advisability of the erection of a smelter somewhere in that neighborhood. In the course of an interview Mr. Ryan stated that he could say nothing definite except that the subject would receive the earnest consideration of himself and of those whom he represented. It is, however, understood, that Mr. Ryan represents capital, and that if the matter can be placed on a business basis the "necessary" will be ready.

Insurance Forbidden.

Ottawa, March 28.—The application of the Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen of America, of which John T. Wilson, of St. Louis, Mo., is president, for permission to carry on an insurance business in Canada for the benefit of its members, has been refused by the Dominion government. The principal reasons are that the department is not satisfied that the calling of trackmen is sufficiently dangerous to prevent trackmen from obtaining insurance at reasonable rates from ordinary companies; that the rates are too low; that special assessments are levied, and that insurance money has been used to pay the expenses of strikes.

An Old Superstition Sustained.

A curious example of facts coinciding with a superstition has developed at Extension. A single man named James Brown, who was living alone in his cabin, had been disturbed for about a week by a dog howling at night. The matter became a jest among his companions, who assured him that this was a sign of his impending decease. Brown kept up the joke and verbally bequeathed his various posessions to his friends in the camp, telling one he could have his razors, another that he could have his clock and so on. Up to Sunday night Brown was apparently in the best of health, but on retiring then complained of being a little sick. He was found dead in the bed the next morning, and so far no cause of death has been assigned. The deceased was a man of thirty years of age. He had no relatives in this country. A brother of his, he always maintained was the first man to fall on the British side in the Boer war.
