LIBERALS SHOW A UNITED FRONT

Candidate Galliher Has No Intention of Withdrawing in Favor of Candidate Foley.

ALL THREE PARTIES ARE NOW FIGHTING FOR BLOOD

Candidate Galliher is somewhat annoyed at the misleading statements regarding his candidacy and the attitude of his party toward him that have appeared in the Miner; but he should be aware, by this time, that that newspaper is so unreliable on all questions not directly affecting the little crowd that use it as their mouthpiece that the general public pay no attention to its utterances. It pretends to be ultra-Conservative, but the Conservative candidate cares nothing for its support, and the rank and file of the party in Nelson have long since repudiated it.

Speaking in a general way of his prospects, candidate Galliher said yesterday, that his party were united and in excellent fettle for a short and decisive campaign, and that encouraging reports were being received from all parts of the constituency. F. J. Deane of Kamloops, who was in Nelson yesterday, and who has left for Rossland, brought encouraging reports from Kamloops. He is a staunch supporter of the Liberal party candidate, and not a subtle enemy, as the Miner would have it appear.

The head push of the party held a meeting last night, and devised ways and means to thoroughly canvass Nelson riding. They claim they can carry Creston, Ymir, the Duncan mines and Nelson.

The Conservatives are also hard at work, and the sporting members of the party claim that Nelson will give MacNeill a majority. The Labor party people are sawing wood and looking wise. There are just twenty-three more days in which work can be done, as all three candidates are Sunday observance men, and will not ask their adherents to work on Sundays.

NELSON MINES AND MINING

Will Ship to Nelson Smelter.

The American Boy group will be added to the list of Slocan shippers this winter. The property has shipped more or less regularly for some time but the work carried on was exclusively development and the shipments were of ore taken out in the course of drifting. The mine is now on an excellent basis, and the management has concluded to ship regularly. Negotiations are under way to forward their output to the Nelson smelter. The crew at the mine will be increased to 75 this winter and as the shipping ore is high grade the group promises to become one of the best properties in the Slocan. The American Boy is just under the Last Chance and the latter company has leased the two upper levels of the American Boy to take out ore. The American Boy has made connection with the Last Chance tramway and is now in a position to bring its outfit to the railroad at a low figure instead of having to depend on pack animals or rawhiding as has been the case up to the present. L. Pratt, secretary of the company, left today for Sandon, where the business office of the company will be located in future.

Work Suspended.

John Mean, one of the best known prospectors operating out of this city, returned yesterday from East Kootenay, where he has spent the summer on a couple of claims which are showing up well. The claims are located between Fort Steele and Windermere on Skookumchuck creek, a tributary of the Kootenay river. The section has been prospected superficially, and a number of locations staked, but comparatively little work has been done, Mr. Mean's claims being further advanced than any of the others. If the spur line to Windermere along the east bank of the Kootenay ever goes through, as is confidently predicted, the value of claims in this section will be materially enhanced. Mean has two properties, the Iron Mask and the Rossland, the latter being so named because of the resemblance between its surface showings and those characteristic of the Rossland camp. The ore is a pyrite or magnetic iron, and assays from surface specimens give returns of $5 in gold and two per cent copper. The lead is four feet wide. It has been traced by three open cuts ten feet in depth, but no assays have been made below the surface. The Iron Mask has a thirty-foot tunnel, and a depth of twenty feet. The lead is four feet wide and carries copper pyrites assaying $2 in gold and eight per cent copper. Work has been suspended in the section for the winter.

Uranium Found.

A remarkable discovery in the ore from the Venus mine was announced yesterday when it was stated that uranium, a rare metal, had been found to exist in paying quantities. Uranium is an element of the chromium group and is reduced as a heavy, hard nickel-white metal which is quite permanent. Its yellow oxide is used to impart to glass a delicate greenish-yellow tint which is accompanied by a strong florescence, and the market value is $6 per pound. A well-known Toronto analyst reports that the percentage of uranium is .31, and experiments are now being made to determine if the rare metal can be saved. In this event the Venus property will assume an entirely new complexion.

Work to Begin on the Juno.

M. S. Logan, managing director of the Juno Mining Compnny, was in the city yesterday and spent the day on the hill with Charles Parker, the company's engineer. A point was selected forty feet above the Venus line, from which the big 900-foot tunnel will be started. This will give the property the maximum depth obtainable by drifting with room on the group below the tunnel for a dump. The first shot will be fired on Monday when the permanent camp will be completed and everything ready to proceed with work uninterruptedly. The strong feature of the Juno is that no dead work is required. The Juno vein runs at right angles to the tunnel projected and intersects the Venus lead on which the drift will be run. By drifting on this lead the company commences to take out pay ore with the first shot, a desirable condition of affairs which is only encountered occasionally. The estimate is that the drift will tap the Juno lead 900 feet in and at a depth of 300 feet, and crosscuts can then be run east and west on the big ledge. The company will employ nine men on the start and this staff will be increased if it is deceded to work three shifts. The management is greatly interested in the discovery of uranium on the Venus group, as any mineral found on the Venus is naturally present on the continuation of the Venus lead on Juno property.

Will Commence Crushing Ore.

The forthcoming week will inaugurate a new era in the history of the Minnesota Silver Mines, Limited, which is operating the Ivanhoe mine at Sandon. The company has a first-class high grade galena property, a large sum has been expended in development, and within the next week their new 100-ton concentrator will commence crushing ore. The property is in shape to ship regularly and on a large scale, thus making it one of the Slocan's best propositions. The mill was designed by the best people in the mill-building business and is ready to commence operations. The tramway from the mine to the mill was built by Riblet of Nelson, and is almost ready to carry ore. W. H. Yawkey of Detroit, president of the company, was at the Hotel Phair yesterday, and states that the concentrator will be started next week. When the plant is running smoothly the property will be added to the list of large producers. The output is not definitely fixed, but will be well up to the total capacity of the mill. A large reserve of ore is on the dump, and the crew in the mine is to be substantially increased. Mr. Yawkey leaves this morning on a business trip to Spokane.

The marquis de Dusmet and viscount de Grammont will return to the Chapleau mine on Saturday. The tramway to the mill is almost completed, over half of the cable being strung. The plant is being set up and should be ready to commence crushing by November 1st. The visiting directors are well pleased with the outlook at the property.

PRAISE FROM LORD BULLER

HOW FIVE OF STRATHCONA'S HORSE MET THEIR DEATH.

Would Not Surrender, but Were Riddled With Bullets by a Large Force of Boers.

LONDON, October 11.—A special dispatch from Lydenberg says: "A Boer prisoner tells the story of the way in which a patrol of five troopers of Strathcona's Horse under sergeant Brothers met death. It appears that they were suddenly surrounded by a strong force of Boers. The Canadians indignantly refused to surrender and a murderous fire was discharged at short range until every man in the party was riddled with bullets, but not before each Canadian had accounted for three Boers.

Sir Redvers Buller while passing through Machadodorp and bidding farewell to the troops said he should be greatly pleased to tell Lord Strathcona of the magnificent work of his troopers."

English Elections.

LONDON, October 11.—3:30 a. m.—The Liberals have been doing far better in the counties in the parliamentary general election than they did in the boroughs. Yesterday they gained two more seats, Cardiff and the Otley division of Yorkshire, thus equalizing the party gains.

The Ministerialists and the Opposition have now gained 27 seats each. Apart from sir Henry Campbell Bannerman's reduced majority in Stirling borough, and the success of sir Edward J. Reed at Cardiff, a seat formerly held by Mr. James M. MacLean, prominent in Indian affairs, who did not seek re-election, there is little of special interest in yesterday's returns. The Ministerialists now hold 257 seats and the Opposition 205. Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman, while addressing his supporters after the poll had been declared, said he was satisfied with the result, considering the state of the register and the "most disadvantageous circumstances for an election that an ingenious government could devise."

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

FIRST SESSION THAT HAS BEEN HELD IN MANY MONTHS.

Several Matters of Importance Discussed and Recommendations Made---Those Present.

The Nelson board of trade held a session last night, the first in several months. A number of matters were gone into, some of which were laid over to the next session, when their discussion promises to be of an animated nature.

Chairman Holt reported having interviewed president Shaughnessy of the C. P. R. with regard to the completion of the Lardo railroad. The reply was that the road would be proceeded with in the near future," but Mr. Shaughnessy declined to define what "the near future" was. He intimated, however, that the C. P. R. had too much money invested in grade now to allow it to be idle.

A question was asked as to whether the K. & S. road, which had been subsidized, had been started. The reply was in the negative and a suggestion was made that the Dominion government be memoralized to stir up the subsidized road. It was finally resolved that the Kaslo board of trade be requested to co-operate with the Nelson board in urging both the railroads projecting branches in the Lardo to commence the work.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to W. H. Dowsing for his efforts in connection with the successful exhibit of Nelson district minerals at the Spokane fair. Many pleasant references were made to Mr. Dowsing's services.

President Holt informed the board that the Kootenay Lake Telephone Company had replied to a communication from the council of the board stating that the company would build a line into the Slocan when they thought there was any business in sight. He suggested that as the K. L. T. Co., took this view of the matter, the board should place the proposition before the rival company. The matter of telephone connection with the Slocan was one of great importance to Nelson. Its establishment would very materially increase the business of Nelson wholesalers.

G. E. Martin, manager of the Kootenay Supply Company, heartily coincided with this view, remarking that only on the previous day a Silverton merchant told him that he ordered goods daily from Sandon which he would buy in Nelson if there were telephone connection. He was assured there were many similar cases.

The board resolved to send a circular letter to the leading miners and business men of the Slocan with a view to ascertaining what amount of business could be secured for a telephone line. The information thus secured is to be laid before the Kootenay Lake Telephone company for the purpose of inducing them to build the suggested line.

The members were unanimous in agreeing that a telephone line would be of considerable commercial importance to Nelson and every means will be taken to induce the telephone company to proceed with the work.

A. J. Kerr was proposed for membership in the board by F. W. Swannell, and on motion of J. Roderick Robertson Mr. Kerr's election was by acclamation.

A. E. Croasdaile gave notice that at the next meeting of the board he would move that in future no motions of the board or council could be rescinded or altered without each member receiving due notice of the rescinding motion.

G. E. Martin gave notice that he would bring up the matter of the 2 per cent tax on the output of mines. The mine owners, he said, had been discussing the matter, and he thought it was proper for the business community to assist them.

President Holt expressed the opinion that to tax the net smelter returns was opposed to good policy, as the mining expenses were thus levied upon.

J. Roderick Robertson remarked that the government did not seem to know how the act was working. A private deputation, including representatives of the principal mines in Rossland, Nelson and Slocan camps, had waited on Mr. Dunsmuir and from the questions he asked it was evident the premier did not know how the tax operated in this district. One of his questions had been as to whether or not the tax was on net profits.

H. E. Croasdaile suggested a resolution which would point out that for the past two years every act of legislation passed had tended to discourage rather than foster the mining industry. The suggestion was not acted upon.

Captain Duncan gave notice that he would introduce a motion calling the attention of the government to the anomalies existing in the act relating to the collection of timber dues.

The members present at the meeting were: G. V. Holt, president; F. W. Swannell, secretary; H. E. Groasdaile, G. E. Martin, P. Lamont, J. M. Lay, captain Duncan, A. R. Sherwood, T. C. Crofts, J. R. Rowley, T. Morley, O. Newling, J. Roderick Robertson.

An All-Water Route.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, October 10.—The Carnegie Steel Company has taken the first step toward the building up of an all-water transportation of export steel from Lake Erie points to Europe, in chartering four vessels to load with steel at Conneaut, Ohio, and steam through via the Welland canal and the St. Lawrence to Liverpool. Their capacity is about 2500 tons each in 18 feet of water. It is the intention to load each vessel with 1000 tons of steel at Conneaut and fill out at Montreal with 1500 tons of wood pulp. Going through the Welland canal the vessels will draw only 12 feet of water, though 14 feet draft is possible.

The New Yacht.

LONDON, October 10.—It is reported that the challenging yacht will be built on the Thames and that she will be named Shamrock. According to rumor, Robert Wringe, one of the commanders of the old Shamrock, will command the new racer.

NO WORK UNTIL STRIKE ENDS

COLLIERIES SUSPEND INDEFINITELY---WORKS GUARDED.

A Clash Occurs Near Hazelton and a Striker is Killed---A Policeman Is Also Injured.

HAZELTON, Pennsylvania, October 10.—Notices were posted tonight by Cox Brothers & Company at their Oneida, Deringer, Cowen and Beaver Meadow collieries that there would be a suspension of work until the strike is settled.

Not one colliery is now in full operation in the Hazelton district. Cox Brothers & Company have guards stationed at every approach to the Oneida and Deringer collieries tonight. All the officials of the company are on the ground, and a special train with steam up is waiting to carry them anywhere along the line of the Delaware, Susquehanna & Schuylkill railway.

Strikers and Officers Clash.

HAZELTON, Pennsylvania, October 10.—A gunshot killed Mills, a striker, and a small shot struck policeman Kelner Leske. The striker was struck by a ball from a revolver with which all the officers were armed. After the shooting the strikers dispersed. Sheriff Toole of Schuylkill county, in whose territory the clash occurred, was in Philadelphia and could render no assistance. His chief deputy, James O'Donnell, arrived here this afternoon and went to the scene with a force of men. Rev. Carl Houser, a Lutheran minister from Freehold, who baptized a child at Oneida just at the time of the shooting, was mistaken by the strikers for superintendent Kudlick and narrowly escaped being stoned. He was soon recognized by a friend and escorted safely to the station.

Premier to Resign.

PERTH, West Australia, October 10.—The premier, the right Hon. Sir John Forrest, in introducing the budget today asked to be relieved of the premiership early in 1901. He says Freemantle will be the San Francisco of Australia.

DUPLICITY OF RUSSIA EXPOSED

War Correspondents Tell of Her Intrigues After the Siege of Pekin.

FEARS ENTERTAINED OF AN UPRISING IN SOUTH CHINA

VICTORIA, October 10.—Japanese papers received by the steamer Olympia have many stories of and suggesting instances of Russian complicity with China. One correspondent says that when the allied forces entered Pekin the Russian minister alone possessed information as to the whereabouts of prince Ching, and he dispatched a secret letter to the prince, setting forth that China might count on the support of the Russian government to extricate her from her difficulties; that at the proper moment the withdrawal of foreign troops from Pekin will be proposed; that France and Germany would assuredly accede to the proposal, and that Great Britain, Japan and the United States would be reluctantly compelled to follow their example. Meanwhile the Russian minister in Pekin was speaking of increasing his country's forces in the capital and displaying a warlike and uncompromising front.

By and by he communicated to his colleagues the information that prince Ching was in Hwai Lai, and suggested that he be given safe passage if he came to negotiate for peace. As soon as Ching was safely in Pekin and in full communication with Li Hung Chang, Russia suddenly put forward her evacuation proposal. He says Russia, despite her declaration that the territory occupied by her in Manchuria would be evacuated as soon as order was restored, actively carried on the work of conquest.

Advices received by the Olympia include the confession of the murderer of baron von Ketteler, who was arrested by Japanese gendarmes while endeavoring to sell the minister's watch. His story was that prince Ching, who lately has been appointed to the board of war, issued orders that all foreigners should be killed. Subsequently as Wan and a party of Boxers were going round the country, they met baron von Ketteler and his people. Wan states that the first shot came from the side of the foreigners and that fire was then opened on baron von Ketteler, who fell by a bullet fired by Wan himself.

The war correspondents say that the story of the British having been the first to enter Pekin is false. The Russians were before them, but the British were first at the legations. The town of Tung Chow, says the correspondents, has been damaged more than Tien-Tsin or Pekin. Three-fourths of the place is in ruins. Out of a population of 75,000 families only about 100 are left. A large supply of gunpowder stored in the temple there blew up and 47 British and German soldiers lost their lives. Foreign troops are wintering in Pekin, and Tien-Tsin will require a free harbor for the purpose of communication. The bay opposite Chin Wang, near Shan Hai Kwan seems to afford the best facilities. The railway from Shan Hai Kwan to Tong Ku is in Russian hands.

The Nagaski Press states that general Barry, United States army, is lying seriously ill in the local St. Bernard's hospital.

Washington Disapproves of It.

WASHINGTON, October 10.—Li Hung Chang and the viceroys of the south had pledged themselves to maintain order and guarantee protection for foreigners and property in their respective provinces. This was made a condition precedent by the United States government to the establishment of relations with them looking to the initiation of negotiations for a final settlement. According to all reports that have reached Washington the viceroys have lived loyally up to their promises in spite of irritating military expeditions and movements of various kinds set up against their protests, and therefore it is regarded as particularly unfortunate that the allied forces should persist in the expedition against Pao Ting Fu.

The expedition to Pao Ting Fu has been fixed for Friday next. The column will consist of 700 British, German, French and Italian troops.

Southern Uprising Feared.

HONG KONG, October 10.—It is said that the authorities here have received information that a general uprising in the southern provinces has been planned for the month of November. The whereabouts of the rebels in the Hinterland is not known, but it is believed to be ten miles north of the British border. A detachment of 1000 Chinese troops took up a position at San Chung, and 1000 more arrived today.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR FREW

An Enjoyable Affair.

A pleasant social function took place at St. Paul's Presbyterian church last night, when the officers and members of the church held a reception in honor of their pastor, Rev. Robert Frew, who returned last week from an extended tour in Europe. The congregation turned out in force and a delightful evening was spent. In opening Dr. Arthur read an address on behalf of the members, setting forth their pleasure at having Mr. Frew with them again, and the deep gratification it afforded all to note the signs of renewed health and vigor. Mr. Frew responded in felicitious terms, expressing his keen satisfaction at being in the harness again and the hope that his long vacation had not overtaxed the patience of his Nelson friends and parishioners. His remarks were neatly turned and elicited hearty applause.

The balance of the evening was spent in social exercises. The ladies of the church had prepared an inviting collation, which was served in the school room. The apartment was handsomely decorated and a lively staff of waiters ministered to the wants of the gathering. A musical program was contributed by Mrs. Murray and Messrs. McAdam, Kydd, Grizelle, Murray and Chadbourn.

Trade of the Antipodes.

OTTAWA, Ontario, October 10.—J. S. Larke, Canadian trade commissioner in Australia, reports to the department of trade and commerce that the uncertainty of tariff legislation pending confederation of the Australian colonies has caused nervousness in trade. He is of the opinion that the federated colonies will not be able to determine the tariff before 1902 and in the meantime says Sydney will be declared a clear port and free. He suggests that Canadian dealers send out agents while this uncertainty exists in order to place Canadian goods before the wholesalers, who so far carry no lines of Canadian goods. He also suggests the establishment of Canadian export agencies in the antipodes in order to deal directly with commission merchants. These are constantly inquiring for Canadian exports.

Cabinet Rumors.

LONDON, October 11.—Baron Cromer, British diplomatic agent and consul-general in Egypt, has been summoned to England according to the Cairo correspondent of the Daily Express. It is understood in Cairo that he will not return to Egypt, and it is believed that he will become a member of the new cabinet. The Daily Express suggests that it is possible that lord Cromer will replace the marquis of Lansdowne, secretary of state for war, and says that "a combination of Cromer, Kitchener and Roberts would ensure public confidence in a thorough reform of the war office."

Liberal Nomination.

LUNENBURG, N. S., October 10.—The Liberals yesterday nominated A. K. MacLean to oppose C. E. Kaulback, M. P., conservative.

STEPS should be taken to establish a stock exchange in Nelson.

THE board of trade of Nelson has been wrecked because it became the mere mouthpiece of the Mine Owners' Association. No effort that can be made will ever re-establish it in the confidence of the business men of this town.

THE people of Nelson should never overlook the fact that political influences have never yet built up a city. It is the influences wielded by captains of industry that help to make cities out of villages. Nelson can become a city if only her people go about the business in the right way.

THERE is much conjecture as to the meaning of a recent editorial in the Colonist of Victoria. There are those who believe that premier Dunsmuir intends to change his advisers, and that when the change is made, the opposition will be less strong than it is now. There is only one strong man in the opposition—Joseph Martin. Brown is no longer a strong man and Curtis merely voices Martin's opinions. But, for that matter, there are any number of men in the house as strong as those who happen, for the time, to be advisers of the premier. The premier would be wise if he made a clean sweep. He might make aggressive Mr. McInnes attorney-general, good-looking Mr. Ellison finance minister, lengthy Mr. Neal provincial secretary, independent Mr. Munro of the Mount Baker gold-fields minister of mines, and forcible debater Clifford chief commissioner of lands and works. THE TRIBUNE is of opinion that these gentlemen are all capable, are all honest, and some of them live in Victoria or Vancouver, which alone is a good recommendation.

RAILWAY AND STEAMBOAT

Powerful Engines.

The engines for the new C. P. R. tug are lying at the depot on a couple of cars, and are being inspected with admiration by every one who professes to know anything of marine machinery. They are compounds, each standing twelve feet in height, and are the most powerful engines in the fleet. The hull at the shipyards is being finished as rapidly as possible and will be ready to receive the machinery shortly. The outside planking will be commenced at once. The craft will not be complete, however, for a couple of months.

C. W. West & Co. have erected a new coal bunker on the Crows nest siding at the C. P. R. depot. The building has a capacity of three carloads.

J. Matheson, a C. P. R. brakeman on the Rossland branch, lost a leg on Tuesday night. He slipped while descending a ladder and fell beneath the wheels. The injured man is being treated at the Greenwood hospital.

Quantities of new telegraph poles are being shipped along the Balfour extension daily. The old telegraph wire along the lake was strung on trees, etc., and is now being replaced by a pole line to Procter on the right of way.

Joe Kenny, a popular C. P. R. man, has been transferred to the Rossland branch and placed in charge of a train on the big hill hauled by the new Shay engine. Conductor Kenny is secretary of the Brotherhood on this division.

Conductor Joe Bradshaw is taking a vacation for a few days, the thumb injured a couple of months ago having caused him further trouble. Conductor Irving is taking out the Slocan train, while J. Laughton and W. Clary are running on the double freight service between Nelson and Robson.

Six carloads of concentrates from the St. Eugene consolidated at Moyie passed through Nelson yesterday billed to the Guggenheim properties in Chile, South America. The concentrates are purchased through the American Smelting company and are utilized to mix with the product of the Chilian mines in smelting.

The cut in passenger rates on the Great Northern from Chicago west makes a difference of 25 to 30 per cent in tickets for Nelson, although the cut does not apply from Nelson east. President Hill's theory is that the country along the Great Northern can be settled up in five years if inducements are offered in the way of reduced rates without which the operation will take 20 years. He wants the business accruing from a well-settled country, and declares that the cut rate is in force to April, 1901, regardless of the other trunk lines' sentiments.

Mining Records.

Yesterday's mining records were: Transfers—The Golden Treasure No. 1, one mile northwest from Porto Rico Siding, by Donald McFaden of Windsor, Ontario, to A. J. Welch of Windsor; the Golden Treasure No. 1, by A. J. Welch to the Cleveland & British Columbia Mining Company, Ltd., of Cleveland, Ohio; J. H. Best of Windsor, Ont., transferred the Ocean Wave, same location, to A. J. Welch, who made the claim over to the Cleveland & B. C., Ltd.; the Cable and Ten Brok claims on the north fork of Salmon river, about five miles from Erie, by Josephine Lord of Trout Lake to A. L. Davenport of Spokane, consideration $17,000.

Certificates of work—To W. F. Hornshoe on the Agnes May, to John Riley on the Noble Five, to T. C. Duncan on the Shamrock.

Locations—The International, one and three-quarter miles west of Salmo, by T. Allen; the National, one mile and a half west from Salmo, by T. Allen; the Midge fractional on Morning mountain, a relocation of the Mosquito, by E. J. Stanley.

For British Columbia Missions.

KINGSTON, Ontario, October 10.—The Methodist board of missions here yesterday decided to grant $600 to Dr. Bolton of Port Simpson, British Columbia. The board also passed estimates for over $280,000 for work in Canada, China and Japan, included in which is $9184 for missions in British Columbia.

HOW THE DOCTOR GOT THERE

A Rough Trip.

The other day a country physician received a call to go from his place into a lumber camp in the far Brassau region and it was such a call as a doctor cannot well refuse, says the Lewiston, (Me.) Journal. So he went to West Cove on Moosehead with a big coat and wearing leggings and shoe packs, as the low moccasins are called.

A lumberman was there, and this man had made arrangements to carry the doctor up as far as West Outlet on a hand-car on the Canadian Pacific road. They had to stop once and unload the hand-car on to their backs in a gully so that a freight train could go past.

Above West Outlet a certain portion of the lake surface was free of snow, and the doctor and the woodman guide strapped on their skates and started. There were numerous "wrinkles," huge bulging rifts in the ice where the moving of the mighty surface had met and made ruin. When they came to one of these wrinkles the woodman went ahead and prodded and poked until he found a place where they could cross.

It is possible that more men have been drowned in the waters of the Moosehead by carelessness in crossing wrinkles than by any other cause.

By the time they got to the mouth of Moose river the doctor was obliged to own to his sturdy companion that he was fair tuckered. The man had a moose sled there in the bushes. He had left it there when he came out after the doctor. He piled the medicine man on with his case, wrapped him in blankets and set away along the tote road. There was no team out, for there was much uncertainty as to when the doctor would be able to get along.

When he could he walked. The rest of the time he rode. The tough little man of the woods seemed in no wise wearied. He told the doctor that it was easy enough to make those kind of trips when one was toughened to it.

In the camp was one of the bosses who had been caught in a snub line and who had had most of the flesh on the calf of his leg rasped off by the cruel cable.

The doctor did what he could for the sufferer. Before he finished a messenger came from a camp ten miles above. They had learned that a physician was in the section, and they wanted him. Ten men were down with the grip and colds and two had pneumonia. So the doctor went up to that camp. There was nothing else to do. He says that if he had refused he guesses they would have loaded him on a sled willy-nilly and would have taken him along. He came out after six days in the woods.

Strike at Seattle.

From 1100 to 1300 trade unionists are idle in Seattle. Work was stopped on over 30 residence buildings and six large brick business blocks under process of construction on Monday, and a threatened paralysis of nearly the entire building industry in the city is the result thus far of the fight between the Trades Council and Builders' Exchange of Seattle, a fight that has been brewing for several weeks.

Reads His Own Epitaph.

Edward Boylan returned from his Wisconsin farm to read his own epitaph at Boonton, N. J. The monument bearing it has stood there 32 years. It tells that Boylan was 22 years of age when he died. Thirty-two years ago Boylan worked in the iron works there. At the Caledonian games at Paterson, on the bank of the Passaic river, there was a riot and several men thrown into the river. Boylan was supposed to be among the number never accounted for. The other day Boylan walked into the house of his brother-in-law, Patrick Cullen. He was not recognized, but soon proved his identity. Boylan said he had been considering the idea of leaving Boonton, and while at Paterson he met men from the Pennsylvania iron works, and without sending word home started with them for Pittsburg. He worked there for years and then went to Chicago where he worked for a short time, and then went on to Wisconsin, bought a farm and has prospered. He is now on a trip he had been planning for 25 years to Boonton.

Kind Queen Margherita.

An American woman abroad says:

"Queen Margherita is, in the parlance of her Alpine subjects, 'our kind queen,' with a strong emphasis on the adjective. She charms every one with whom she comes in contact. A little housemaid in the mountain hostelry of Casa Yanzo, where the queen stopped on two of her excursions from Gressoney, said: 'The queen patted my cheek. Just think how friendly is our kind queen! She is far more affable than even her lady in waiting.'

"The 'kind queen' heard of a peasant girl who had met with an accident and broken her leg. Forthwith her majesty dispatched a messenger with inquiries and a present and a promise of a carriage to convey the doctor and patient to the nearest hospital, which was a whole day's drive from where the accident happened.

In one of her long walks queen Margherita passed the charred remnants of the hamlet of San Antonio. She made instant inquiries as to the condition of the burned-out families, and the result was that each family received a $20 note from the queen—a veritable fortune in a poor valley, and being wholly unexpected a welcome fortune, too. To a foreigner who had been helpful to some Italian peasants whose industry is as great as their poverty, the queen devised an enchanting surprise, making the stranger the channel of the royal bounty to a number of Piedmontese toilers. These are random but typical instances of the queen's tactful kindnesses."—Philadelphia Record.

Great Napoleon's Double.

"During the next 10 years the cherished ambition of Madame Bonaparte was to marry her son Jerome to a girl of rank," writes William Perrine of Elizabeth Patterson, the American wife of Jerome Bonaparte, in the October Ladies Home Journal. "Various plans were meditated, particularly his proposed marriage to one of the daughters of Joseph Bonaparte, who was then living in Bordentown, N. J., and who was even solicited to place himself actively at the head of the Bonaparte interest in France after the death of Napoleon at St. Helena. But 'Bo,' the pet name she gave her son, was little inclined to help along these matrimonial speculations. Her special desire was that he would not fall in love with an American, and that he would always bear in mind the possibility that the French people might call a Bonaparte like him to the throne.

"But all madame Bonaparte's daring hopes for her son were doomed to disappointment. In 1819, while she was in Europe, she learned that he had married an estimable young woman in Baltimore. While the second Jerome Bonaparte, who was a graduate of Harvard college, was never naturalized as an American citizen, he became a highly respected gentleman both in this country and abroad. It was frequently observed in Europe that he resembled his uncle, the great emperor, more than Napoleon's own brothers or any others of his kinsmen. Indeed, his figure, the cast of his head, the regularity of his features and his eyes were so much like the emperor's that there was some fear in France during the Louis Philippe monarchy that the resemblance might stir the Napoleonic affections of the people, and he was forbidden to visit Paris even while traveling incognito."

Laborers Kick.

PANAMA, October 10.—Nine hundred Jamaican laborers engaged by J. P. MacDonald, the contractor to work at Guayaquil, Ecuador, arrived here yesterday evening in transit. They soon expressed themselves as dissatisfied owing to the poor quarters and made a disturbance. Most of them are now watched by a detachment of Colombian troops, but many have disappeared, and it is rumored they have found employment along the canal. It is feared those under guard will refuse to proceed to Ecuador. They claim the Colombian authorities have no right to interfere in the matter.

Plague in Bombay.

LONDON, October 10.—"Bubonic plague," says a dispatch to the Daily Express from Bombay, "is becoming epidemic in many districts of the Bombay presidency. Alarming increases are reported from Poona and Belgaum, while the coast ports are infected.

The cotton crops have withered in Ahmednagar and Bijapust districts in consequence of the drough."

Arrested for Forgery.

NEW YORK, October 10.—Richard J. Carrol, who for a number of years has been chief money order clerk in branch "E" of the postoffice in this city, was arrested today for forging and raising money orders. Carrol was arraigned before United States commissioner Shields, and his examination was set for next Saturday morning. Bail was set at $2500. The amount of the alleged forgeries is not yet known, but it is believed to be large. Carrol had beea employed in the postoffice for sixteen years.

Death of a Centenarian.

WELLAND, Ontario, October 10.—Mrs Fannie Jones, colored, aged 102 years died here yesterday. She and her husband, who died here a few years ago, were over 100 years old and were slaves up to the time of the American civil war, when they made their escape to Canada and have resided here ever since.

CITY LOCAL NEWS

Rev. J. H. White, pastor of the Methodist church, will preach at the preparatory communion service in St. Paul's Presbyterian church tonight at 8 o'clock.

The post-mortem examination of the remains of the late Eva Moser revealed the fact that she had succumbed to pneumonia. An inquest was therefore considered unnecessary and the body was interred.

The cup presented by the tramway company for competition at the Nelson Rifle Association matches and won by Alex Grant, is on exhibition in Jacob Dover's window. It is a handsome silver trophy, 21 inches in height and decorated with characteristic figures.

The advance sale of seats for the Mikado has reached $400, a gratifying condition of affairs from the standpoint of the management. The first dress rehearsal takes place tonight, when any slight imperfections will be corrected and the business of the play completed.

A quiet wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of Levi Pogue, Victoria street, the contracting parties being Miss Annie Elizabeth Lewis and William Ball Herron of the local C. P. R. staff. Rev. Robert Frew, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

The Alba Heywood company packed the building at the opera house last night. Their performance proved to be all that was said of it. Mr. Heywood is an exceptionally clever entertainer and his support is first class. The firemen's benevolent fund will be substantially increased as a result of the enterprise.

Superintendent of Military Railways.

A. H. Buchanan, manager of the Bank of Montreal, has received word from captain Hodgins of Nelson, who went to South Africa as a lieutenant in company A of the First Canadian Contingent. He is at Johannesburg, acting as assistant to colonel Girouard, who has charge of all the railways in Orange River and Vaal River colonies. The captain is also a J. P. in Vaal River Colony. This would indicate that captain Hodgins will remain in South Africa for some time, as the position he occupies is an important one, and the railways will likely be until military control until peace is firmly established.

Definitely Settled.

The location of the government office for Goat River mining division has been definitely settled. Plans have been accepted for the building, and tenders are called for its erection. Creston will be the seat of government for the division that is said to have more valuable undeveloped claims than any other in the province.

COURT MATTERS IN GENERAL

Application Refused.

The application of the Nelson Bar Society to have the assizes postponed from Wednesday next was refused by the attorney-general's department. Another urgent message was dipatched, asking that the civil cases at least be adjourned, and the lawyers hope to receive a more favorable reply.

Regina vs. Algiers.

A stay of proceedings has been secured in the matter of Regina vs Algiers, and an interesting point of law has cropped up in connection therewith. The defendant Algiers re-staked the Velvet group at Rossland, claiming that the original location had lapsed because of the owners neglecting necessary records. The affidavit of location contains a clause setting forth that the locator does not know of any dwelling house or building within the curtilage of the claim, and the prosecution secured Algiers' commitment on the charge of perjury, asserting that his No. 1 post was almost against the ore-bin on the Velvet. The defense now brings up the claim that the form of the affidavit overrides the act.

An Old Case.

The oldest case unsettled in the records of the court of Kootenay was set down for trial at the approaching assizes yesterday. It is that of Harris vs. Kirlin, commenced in 1896 when the writ was issued, and at a standstill ever since until a short time since when the statement of claim was filed. The plaintiff asks possession of lot 4, block 4 in Sandon, an injunction to restrain defendants from trespassing thereon and damages to the extent of $180. The defence is that plaintiff is not entitled to possession. The question at issue is as to whether a crown grant to the mineral claim Londoun entitles Harris to the surface rights of the ground.

In Regina vs Walker, in which defendant is charged with wounding a man at Fernie, the crown has concluded to withdraw the prosecution.
