LAURIER WILL STILL COMMAND

An Overwhelming Liberal Victory the Result of the Polling Yesterday in Canada.

SOME SURPRISING RETURNS FROM ALL ALONG THE LINE

MONTREAL, November 7.—The elections throughout the Dominion today resulted in a sweeping victory for the Liberals. A remarkable feature of the contest was the fact that every member of the government was returned, while every Conservative leader of any prominence, with the exception of Haggart and Charles Hibbert Tupper, were defeated. Hugh John Macdonald, who was looked upon as the coming leader of the party was defeated by Hon. Clifford Sifton in Brandon, sir Charles Tupper was defeated in Nova Scotia, Montague was defeated in Haldimand, and Foster was snowed under by Blair in St. John.

From the returns available it appears that the Conservatives made a net gain of about 14 seats in Ontario and three in Manitoba. In the Territories and British Columbia no change was made in the respective strength of the parties. In Prince Edward Island the Liberals made a net gain of one seat. In New Brunswick they gained five. In Nova Scotia they gained six; and in Quebec they gained ten. These figures give a gain of seventeen seats for the Conservatives as against a gain of twenty-two for the Liberals, which would make the Liberal majority greater by five, from the returns available, than it was in the last house.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

New Westminster—Aulay Morrison, Liberal, was re-elected with 250 majority over Hon. Edgar Dewdney, formerly lieutenant-governor of the province, who made the race in the Conservative interest.

Vancouver Island—Ralph Smith, the labor leader, defeated Sloan, Independent Liberal and Clive Phillips-Wolley Conservative. Smith's majority is placed at 300.

Victoria—Earle and Prior, the Conservative candidates, defeated Drury Riley and The Mint, the Liberal combination. Earle and Prior's majority is in the neighborhood of 200, which is about the same as that secured by them in 1896.

Burrard—Polling takes place on December 6th.

Yale-Cariboo—Polling takes place on November 21st.

MANITOBA.

The returns from Manitoba indicate that hon. Clifford Sifton is the only straight Liberal candidate returned from the prairie province. The latest returns place his majority over Hugh John Macdonald at 300. Richardson the fighting Liberal defeated the straight Liberal candidate in Lisgar with a substantial majority and all other seats were carried by straight Conservatives, save Winnipeg, where Puttee, the Labor candidate defeated E. D. Martin who ran as an Independent Liberal. The returns received indicate the loss of three seats by the government.

Brandon—Hon. Clifford Sifton, Liberal, elected with 300 majority over Hugh John Macdonald.

Lisgar — Richardson, Independent, defeated Winkler, Liberal.

Macdonald—Boyd, Conservative, elected with 375 majority over Rutherford.

Marquette—Dr. Roche, Conservative, elected over Thompson, Liberal.

Provencher—La Riviere, Conservative, elected.

Selkirk—Haslom, Conservative, is probably elected, but the vote is very close with some doubt as to the result.

Winnipeg—Putte,e Labor candidate, elected over E. D. Martin, Independent Liberal, with 700 majority.

NORTHWEST TERRITORIES.

In the Territories the indications are that the government will gain one seat and lose another. The returns are incomplete from West Assiniboia, but they point to the defeat of Nicolas Flood Davin, the former Conservative member, while Douglas, the Liberal member for East Assinboia, is probably defeated by Lake:

Alberta—Frank Oliver, Liberal, had a lead of 220 over Bennett at last accounts with several places to hear from.

Assinboia—R. S. Lake, Conservative, elected over Douglas who was returned in 1896 with a majority of 1054. Lake's majority has not yet been ascertained.

Assiniboia West—Walter Scott, Liberal, has probably defeated Nicolas Flood Davin, Conservative, who was returned in 1896 by the returning officer's vote. Both candidates were newspaper men. Scott at one time served as printer's devil in Davin's printing office. He afterwards purchased the paper, the Regina Leader, and now probably has Davin's chair in the house of commons. The last accounts give Scott a lead of over 200.

Saskatchewan — Davis, Liberal, was re-elected over Spence with 250 majority, an increase of 66 over his majority in 1896.

NEW BRUNSWICK.

The Liberals carried New Brunswick into their column by more than two to one. Returns are yet to come in from Northumberland and York but the indications are that the Conservatives will be unable to muster more than four representatives from the province. In St John city hon. A. G. Blair, minister of railways, defeated hon. G. E. Foster, the former Conservative minister of finance. Blair's majority was 1037, an increase of 315 over that secured by Ellis in 1895. The Liberals gained Gloucester, Kent, Restigouche, Westmoreland, and Victoria, and lost Kings, where colonel Domville, of Yukon fame, was defeated by Fowler, and Sunbury-Queens which Blair carried in 1897 with a majority of 624.

Albert—Lewis, Liberal, elected with 315 majority.

Carleton — Hale, Conservative, elected.

Charlotte—Ganong, Conservative, elected with 500 majority.

Gloucester — Tourgeon, Liberal, elected.

Kent—Leblanc, Liberal, elected.

Westmoreland — Emerson, Liberal, elected.

Kings—J. J. Hughes, Liberal, elected.

Prince East—Lepurgy, Conservative, elected.

Prince West, McLellan, Liberal, elected.

Queens East—McKinnon, Liberal, elected.

Queens West—Hon. sir L. H. Davies elected over Stewart, Conservative.

NOVA SCOTIA.

In the province of Nova Scotia the Liberals gained seven seats and lost one. In Cape Breton Sir Charles Tupper, leader of the Conservative party was badly beaten by Dr. Kendall. In 1896 sir Charles had a majority of over 800 in the constituency. The returns are incomplete from Pictou but they point to the defeat of sir Hibbert Tupper. Minister Fielding was returned in Shelburne-Queens but the vote is not given. The Liberals gained Annapolis, Cape Breton (2), Pictou (2), Richmond and Victoria, and lost Colchester.

ONTARIO.

The returns from some 87 constituencies in the province of Ontario show considerable Conservative gains. Of those reported the Conservatives captured 21, which were formerly held by Liberals and lost 12, making a net gain of 9, which just equalled the party's loss in the province of Quebec. So that the Liberal gains in the Maritime provinces can go to offset the Conservative turn-over in Manitoba. Receiving the News in Nelson.

The citizens of Nelson had every facility for securing the election returns last night. Wires were run into the Liberal committee rooms, the opera house and the Office and Athabasca saloons. At the Liberal headquarters the building was filled with enthusiastic Grits and every message turned off the ticker was awaited with the keenest attention. The system of tabulating the returns was perfect and the secretaries posted the checks opposite the victorious candidate's name as rapidly as the results of the voting was announced. The government supporters returned were ticketed with the word "elected" in red letters and the opposition in blue. The first returns came in soon after 5 o'clock and by 8 o'clock the red checks so outnumbered the blues that the condition of affairs was apparent at a glance. Among the very first returns to hand were those detailing the defeat of Hugh John Macdonald and sir Charles Tupper. These announcements started the jubilation in the Grit camp which kept up for several hours. At the Athabasca saloon the side of the sitting room was plastered with sheets and an instrument in the manager's office kept the yellow sheets flowing in. The crowd, being divided in sentiment, was not as enthusiastic as at the Liberal rooms but lots of good Grits heard the news there and many foaming beakers were downed in honor of the victory. At the opera house bulletins were read between acts, but the majority of those present had learned the facts earlier in the evening.

Generally speaking it may be said that the Liberal victory was conceded, but comparitively few Liberals even thought the government majority would be increased as the results would seem to indicate. The defeat of Hugh John Macdonald and sir Charles Tupper was somewhat of a surprise, while the Liberals were not by any means sure of hon. A. G. Blair winning in St. John.

Croker Surprised.

NEW YORK, November 7.—Richard Croker said today: "I was very much surprised and disappointed at the way the election turned out. I did expect Mr. Bryan to be elected president of the United States." Asked for the cause of defeat, he replied: "I believe that 16 to 1 had a lot to do with the vote against Bryan in this state. What the causes were in the southern and Eastern states I do not know. I do not regard the decision of the country as adverse to Mr. Bryan as a man; it was against his principles."

Hanna Pleased.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, November 7.—Senator Hanna did not reach his office till after noon today. He found a perfect deluge of congratulatory telegrams piled on his desk "It's a veritable Republican landslide," he said, "it's even better than we expected, especially in Indiana and Nebraska."

McKinley's election is hailed with delight by Germany.

A CONSPIRACY WAS ARRANGED

But it will not Necessarily Invalidate Plaintiff's Claim in Manley vs. Collom

IF MANLEY PAID OVER HIS MONEY IN GOOD FAITH

The action of Manley vs Collom was closed at the court house yesterday afternoon, and the outcome will be known shortly. Several features have combined to make the case notable and it is extremely probable that the suit will be quoted as a precedent in the many mining actions of the future.

When the evidence was all in Mr. justice Walkem stated that the case was so important that he would put his judgment in writing, and as there was a dispnte about plaintiff Manley's evidence on some important points he would wait until the shorthand reporter's notes were extended before giving a decision. In answer to an observation of counsel, the judge remarked that if his recollection of Mr. Manley's evidence was accurate judgment must be given for him. In his opinion, as he was now asked for it, there had been a combination or, as counsel for the defence put it, a conspiracy, between Hallet, Cooper and Halpin to evade that part of the mineral act which requires a locator to abandon his claim to get permission from the gold commissioner if he wishes to relocate. The ground in dispute in this action was a strip lying between the Arlington and Burlington claims, in both of which there is a defined vein which was proved to run through the strip in question. Halpin had located the strip as he had a perfect right to do although foreman at the Arlington property. He said he abandoned his location because he had not taken in the whole of the strip, but the judge considered this to be incredible, for what Hallet had located he knew to be valuable and his lordship considered Hallet had not given the true reason for the abandonment. Hallet possibly thought as foreman of the Arlington he could not hold the ground. At all events he put his abandonment in writing and when on the way to record it, by what appeared to be a remarkable coincidence, met Cooper and told the latter what he was about to do. This happened as early as 10 o'clock in the morning and after the abandonment was recorded Cooper staked the ground in the name of one Halpin whose miner's license was borrowed for the occasion. At the time Halpin lent his license Cooper took two bills of sale, one for a half interest to himself and the other to Hallet.

The whole transaction, his lordship continued, was too transparent to deceive anyone. Cooper's evidence was given in a straight-forward manner and led to the conclusion that the re-recording in Halpin's name was merely a blind on Hallet's part to get over the necessity of securing the gold commissioner's consent to re-record. Mr. Manley in giving evidence stated most positively that he was no party to this attempt to evade the act, that he knew nothing of it and his purchase from Hallet for $5000, $2000 of which was paid in cash, was made in good faith.

Mr. justice Walkem observed further that unless it was shown conclusively from the reporter's notes that Manley was aware of what Cooper and Hallet had done with respect to the evasion of the law, which was legally if not morally wrong, he could not be deprived of his interest in the claim by the defendant, who had located it, in the belief that Manley was more or less implicated in the illegal transaction with Cooper and Hallet. There were several objections raised by counsel for the defense, among these being the matters of miners' licenses and the records, which were previously decided in favor of the plaintiff. The judge said he would rather review Manley's evidence in full before giving a written decision. He considered, however, if he held that a purchase of a claim was bound by a secret and illegal agreement such as that made between Hooper and Hallet in the mountains of which there could be no record, the titles to most of the claims in the district would be extremely unsafe and a purchaser would never know where he stood. Manley had stated positively that he had searched all the records and satisfied himself that the ground in issue had been properly staked and this was all any purchaser could be expected to do.

WANTED—A born leader for an unborn political party.

WITH all the party leaders defeated, there appears to be little left of the grand old party except its principles.

GREAT BRITAIN has confidence in Salisbury, the United States has confidence in McKinley, and Canada has confidence in Laurier. That is all there is to it.

WHAT show has this country to get the duties on lead and its products raised to a parity with the duties imposed by the United States on like articles? That is the question that interests the people of Yale-Cariboo.

VICTORIA is wedded to her idols. The people of that town cannot change. They have voted for Prior and Earle so often, that they will continue to so vote as long as they live—and the "colonel" and "Tom" are hale and hearty men, even if they are not much account in parliament.

THE laboring men of British Columbia will have one of their ablest representatives in the next parliament of Canada. Ralph Smith of Nanaimo will not only do the class he represents honor, but he will do the province credit. British Columbia is fairly entitled to cabinet representation, and Ralph Smith should be honored with a portfolio. It would be a justice to the province, and it would be a graceful recognition of a class that are too often overlooked.

IN some of the interior cities of New York state voting machines were used instead of ballots, and the results were known within fifteen minutes after the polls closed. Some sort of voting machines must have been used yesterday in the districts lately represented in parliament by sir Charles Tupper, Dr. Montague, and Nicholas Flood Davin.

IF William Mulock and Andrew G. Blair will now only take the bit in their teeth and declare for government ownership of telegraphs, they will be doing a good stroke of politics and clipping the claws of the Canadian Pacific at the same time.

BUSINESS in Canada will jog along now as if an election had not taken place. The ultra Liberals will wear smiles for a few days, and the ultra Conservatives will spend a few weeks in explaining how it was all done; but the great bulk of the Canadian people will take the result as a matter of course. The defeat of sir Charles Tupper and George E. Foster and Hugh John Macdonald means their retirement from political life. The former has had all the honor and glory that is usually allotted to one man in this life. Mr. Foster has been defeated by a stronger and braver man than himself; for while in office, he never dared run counter to the wishes of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. Andrew Blair has not only opposed that company, but has defied them and has won. Hugh John Macdonald reluctantly re-entered a life for which he has, it is said, no real liking. In a contest for supremacy he won Manitoba in a provincial contest; but in the great arena he went down to defeat before a man who is not above reproach. May the country be as prosperous at the end of premier Laurier's second term as it has been at the end of his first.

Roberts Wanted Them.

Vancouver Province.

Sumner O'Brien, who was one of the first to volunteer for the South African war, and who was beside poor Jackson when he was killed, writes to Mrs. S. Scott of Seymour street, Eerste Fabrieken, S.A., under date of 26th of September:

"The six companies of the Canadians left for home yesterday," he says, "and we expect to follow in about two weeks. There are two companies staying here that are going to take part in the big celebration at Pretoria next Tuesday, and then we leave for England for the big time there. A and B Companies are staying. I don't think any of the Vancouver boys are going home with the first lot. We had a chance to go home, but volunteered to stay and take part in the celebrations, having been assured by a telegram from lord Roberts that it would only be for a short time that he wanted us to stay. He wanted us all to stay, but the other companies thought they would run no risks of staying out here for a long time, and so went home. We were told that we were wanted to stay till the end of the war, and the end of the war has come since then. . . . There is a report that we go to Pretoria today—hope it is true. . . . I am writing this letter on the verandah of the hotel and as summer is on here now, it is very hot, but fine weather. The piano going on the inside makes me very homesick."

The letter closes with a postscript stating that Mr. O'Brien expects to be started on his way home by the time the letter reaches Vancouver.

VOTE FOR . . . .

A. H. MacNEILL

of Rossland

Candidate of the Liberal-Conservative Party for Member of the House of Commons for Yale-Cariboo.

PLATFORM

Adopted by the Liberal-Conservative Party in Convention at Revelstoke, September 15th, 1900

We, the delegates of the Liberal-Conservative party of Yale-Cariboo constituency, in convention assembled, reaffirm the principles of the party, and more particularly that cardinal principle, protection to home industries, and that that principle be carried out so that all sections of the country shall equally share its benefits.

The one industry on which the prosperity of this constituency is almost wholly dependent is mining; and we believe that our mining industries are as fairly entitled to protection as the manufacturing industries of Eastern Canada; therefore, we advocate that the duties on lead and lead products be increased, so that they shall be as high as those now imposed by the United States on the same articles.

That the output of the precious metal mines is largely increasing, therefore we favor the establishment of a mint, so that the specie in circulation shall be that of our own instead of that of a foreign country.

We advocate the restriction of the immigration of Chinese and Japanese, and all classes who cannot become good citizens of the Dominion of Canada, and suggest the adoption of the principles of the Natal Act.

British Columbia has not now the representation in the federal parliament that she is entitled to: therefore we advocate that when the redistribution of seats is made that this constituency shall be given representation according to its population.

That it augurs well for the success of the party that Hugh John Macdonald has decided to leave the field of provincial politics to take part in the larger one that affects the people of the whole of Canada.

The Slav-Dago Question.

Fernie Free Press.

In Fernie, at least, the Chinamen have never come into competition with the laboring class in any way, whereas the Slavs and Dagos are continually crowding "true born British" out of what rightfully belongs to them. They are inferior in every way, but because they can be driven around like dogs and are always ready to accept whatever is offered they are given the preference. We do not say this is particularly the case in Fernie, but it is the case wherever foreign labor is employed to any extent. We haven't a word to say in favor of the Chinamen, and as far as we are concerned they are welcome to bury each other wherever they like, but we deny that the Slavs and Dagos, particularly the latter, come to this country with the intention of making it their home. All their actions go to disprove this. How many Italians have we in Fernie who are trying to make homes for themselves here? Not one. Scores of them have been here for over two years and have always earned good wages, but what have they done with it? They haven't built houses, they give little or nothing to churches and live as meanly as they know how, every cent they are able to save going to Italy, where they eventually expect to go themselves. "Fair Play's" suggestion that it goes to bring more of the same class to this country may be right, but if one-half or one-quarter of the money sent out of the country by these foreigners was used for this purpose Canada would long ago have been overrun with them.

We never contended or even hinted, that it would be better for "Fair Play's" Slav friend to squander his earnings in drink rather than send it away. Anything is better than drunkeness, but it does not follow that if the Slavs and Dagos do not spend their money in drink they must send it out of the country. Neither would any one object to them sending sufficient to keep a father or mother, as but a small percentage of their earnings in this country would be required for that purpose. What we object to is the fact that they, month after month, send away every cent they can possibly spare after pay-day, and but very few of them contemplate making this country their home. And even those few who have apparently made this country their home—so far as this town is concerned at least—what do they amount to? They live in shacks which contain neither furniture or cleanliness.

With regard to a police force, we think it will be admitted that seven-tenths of the crime committed in Fernie has been committed by foreigners. Further, we venture to say that at least three-fifths of the occupants of the provincial penitentiary at New Westminster are foreigners.

To say that the Slavs and Dagos compare favorably with the English, Scotch and Irish immigrants who came to this country thirty or forty years ago, is out of the question. The immigrant of today has a hundred chances to one that the immigrant of thirty years ago had. There have been Italians in this country for twenty years. What have they done? How many have made comfortable homes for themselves? We know of but very, very few. Few of them stay more than five or ten years. By that time they have enough good Canadian money stored up in their own country to last them as long as they live.

So far as honesty is concerned, we cannot say, as we have personally had but little dealings with them, but will just add that since coming to Fernie the only downright dead-beat that we have come in contact with was a Slav.

The Slavs do not belong to the same family as the German Mennonites. The German Mennonites are a well-to-do, thrifty class of people, and those of them who have come to this country left their native land with the full intention of making this country their home, which is more than can be said of the Slavs and Dagos.

Did any one ever hear of a Slav or a Dago volunteering to take up arms on behalf of this country or any part of the British empire? We think not. They have no love for the country and therefore but few of them contemplate making it their home.

Misleading Information.

Vancouver Province.

On Monday last the Province gave publicity to a reported combination of railway men on the Kootenay lines of the C. P. R. to defraud the employing company, the information concerning which had been obtained from persons presumably in a position to know the facts and guarantee their accuracy. It is now learned that these facts were grossly exaggerated, the basic foundation of the case being that one conductor had been caught "knocking down" as the term is—and dismissed from the company's employ. No agents or other officers were found to be concerned.

Hallowe'en.

The last night in October, long and familiarly know as Hallowe'en, was commonly called in England "nut-crack night." It is the eve of All Hallows, or All Saints.

The principal idea respecting Hallowe'en is that it is the time, of all others when supernatural influences prevail. It is the night set apart for the roaming abroad of fairies and witches.

All over the United Kingdom, there is a marked sameness in the fireside customs of this night, nuts and apples are everywhere in demand, and immense quantities are consumed. Seemingly the name of "nut-crack night" takes its origin from the predominence of the former in making up the evening's jollity. Not only are the nuts cracked and eaten, but also made the source of prediction in love affairs.

Some of the modern forms of celebrating this bewitching night are very annoying. "Tick-tack" for instance—when one's nerves are set tingling by a sudden tapping at the window.

Large processions are formed, headed by a bugler, whose strains are otherwise than musical. These processions move along the streets carrying with them gates, pickets, corner posts, etc., and concealing them in very out of way places. An extra force of police is put on, but they must be very alert to catch the merry makers.

The older forms of Hallow'en amusements seem preferable to the more modern customs. The latter are often the source of much damage. It is very amusing for those who take part in the pranks, but not so for the property owner, when in the morning he finds his gate gone and his fences torn away.

Transient Trader Nuisance.

Hamilton (Ontario) Herald.

As a penalty for neglecting to take out a transient traders' license, the Globe Optical Company, which has opened up a store on King street east to carry on a business in spectacles and like goods, will have to pay a fine of $50. So decreed magistrate Jeffs this morning, after sleeping over night on evidence brought out yesterday. City solicitor MacKelcan and inspector Brick, who have been working hard on the case, are very much pleased with the verdict. In giving his decision the magistrate said he believed it was the policy of the municipal law to make transient traders of all who have not been residents of the city three months. The fine did not leave a stain on the defendant's reputation; it was only like paying a license fee, as the bylaw provided that it should be applied on the taxes if the firm remains permanently. If it still neglects to get out a license, which costs $100, he could fine it $50 for every day business was done without one.

Smelter Plant on the Way.

Midway Advance.

J. P. Harlan, ore buyer for the Standard Pyritic Smelting Company, who are building a smelter a short distance east of the town, was in Midway last week. Mr. Harlan says that the complete smelter plant is now on its way and will be installed immediately upon its arrival. It is expected that everything will be in readiness to blow in about the first of the year. Only one furnace of 300 tons capacity will at first be started, but the construction of the works is such that it can be duplicated at an early date, for apart from the ore from the company's mines, there will be fully 300 tons per day furnished by different properties which are now in a position to ship; in fact there will be sufficient ore from the different camps to the south and west of Midway to keep it going if its capacity were not enlarged, but owing to the cheap rate at which ore can be treated, a number of Wellington, Deadwood, and Summit camp properties will also ship to the pyritic smelter, so that it is only a matter of a short time until its capacity will be increased to at least 1000 tons per day.

A Queer Banking Rule.

An American in Berne, Switzerland, writes: "The more money one deposits in a bank here the less interest is paid upon it. The largest bank in the city has a gigantic printed sign posted near to the paying teller's window, which states the rates of interest upon various amounts. Sums up to $1000 draw 4 per cent interest per annum; from $1000 to $3000 3¾ per cent is paid, while if one has an account of more than $3000 he receives only 3½ per cent."

CITY LOCAL NEWS

Born, in Spokane, yesterday, to the wife of W. H. Colvert, a daughter.

John Perrie, a miner employed at the Athabasca died suddenly on Monday from natural causes. The remains were brought to Nelson yesterday and will be interred today.

The Rossland assizes have been postponed again and will not open until Monday. Mr. justice Walkem remains in the city to wind up the legal business arising out of the assizes.

George Todd, a miner employed at the Poorman mine, fell down a stope yesterday afternoon and dislocated his shoulder. Dr. Rose went out to the mine and attended the injured man.

The preliminary examination of F. W. Medhurst will be continued today at Cranbrook. E. A. Crease, stipendiary magistrate, and W. A. Macdonald, counsel for the C. P. R., left this morning to attend the trial.

Captain Gifford came down from the Silver King yesterday to celebrate the Republican victory across the line on Tuesday. The captain is the most ardent McKinleyite in the Kootenays and Bryan's defeat was as gratifying as a big mineral strike on the King.

By the sudden death of Donald Macallister in Dawson City in October, his fortune of over $100,000 is inherited by his sister, Mrs. John Arbuthnot, formerly of Nelson, but now of Moyie. Mr. Macallister was to have married Mrs, Seaton, granddaughter of the late general Adams, early in January and had intended making Nelson his home.

Harry Colvert, who has been a part of the Spokane & Northern and Nelson & Fort Sheppard railways ever since they were built, has decided to quit the roads. His contract for carrying on the business of news agent has been transferred to C. H. Shaver & Co. of Chicago, and they take possession at once. Mr. Colvert was popular with the people who patronized the road because he was obliging.

The arrangements up to the present time for the reception of private A. S. Lee, the first Nelson volunteer to return from the Boer war, confine the affair to the local militia company. The militiamen have been instructed to parade at 4 o'clock to meet the Moyie, which is due at the city wharf at 5 o'clock but which may arrive at any time after 4:30. The company dinner will be held next week at which private Lee will be the guest of the evening.

The Sein Subscription.

The following subscriptions for the benefit of of John Sein, the Nelson & Fort Sheppard newsboy who lost a leg in an accident near Nelson, have been recevied at this office. The money is to be used for the purchase of an artificial leg:

R. A Laird	$ 1 00
J Roderick Robertson	10 00
Mrs. August Thomas	2 00

Have Twenty-Seven Men at Work.

J. J. Fleutot returned yesterday from Forty-nine creek after spending several days at the May and Jennie property. He states that 27 men are employed about the group and that work is progressing satisfactorily. The ground is graded for a flume 2000 feet square and 500 feet in length, which will deliver 400 to 500 inches of water at the mine. Mr. Fleutot expects his company will place a ten-stamp mill on the May and Jennie next spring or during the winter. The wagon road will be finished about the 15th after which the furnishing of supplies and plant will be greatly facilitated. It is probable that little teaming will be done this fall, as sleighing will be more economical under existing conditions.

Chapleau Improvements.

The marquis de Dusmet left this morning for France, having concluded his business in connection with the Chapleau mine which brought him to Nelson. Viscount de Grammont and F. Mourgues will remain here until the stamp mill is in position and actually running, when both leave for Paris. Mr. Morques returns at once bringing his family to Nelson. He will be in charge of the mill and mine, while the financial end of the business will be conducted by Lucien Weyl of Nelson, who now holds the company's power of attorney for the province. The mill at the Chapleau should be ready to start in a couple of weeks while the tramway is now practically completed. A crew of forty men is employed and the new management proposes to put the mine on a producing basis as early as possible.

IMPROVED TRANSPORTATION

In Slocan Riding.

John D. Moore, provincial superintendent of roads and trails for the Slocan riding, was in the city yesterday. His work for the fall is practically concluded and much has been accomplished in the way of improving transportation facilities in the district. The nine miles of road on Crawford creek built by Dave McBeath, is almost finished. A team can get up to the Silver Hill mine now and within a few days the crew will be taken off. The road cost $10,000 or $12,000, of which the government furnished half. The grade is under 4 per cent and Mr. McBeath has made a first-class job of the road. The Silver Mint road from New Denver is also completed. It is two and a half miles long and will tap a promising section of country. Half a mile of road was built at Ainsworth to connect the north road with the Highland mine. This cost $600 and will materially expedite the handling of supplies and ore to and from the mine. Sandon and Cody were connected by a mile and a half of road.

One of the most important undertakings of the year was the Upper Duncan trail, fourteen miles in length from Hall's Landing on the Duncan river to the west fork of the river. In this section there are 168 mineral locations, among these being such well known properties as the Bannockburn, Primrose, Lode Star, Irene and Old Gold. The work was done under the direction of Hugh Gillies and cost $2700. Considerable activity is expected in this section as the result of this work.

WILL MOVE TO RAINY RIVER

The Contracting Plant.

D. McLeod, purchasing agent for John W. Stewart, the contractor who built the Balfour extension, has returned to the city for the purpose of closing up the Stewart warehouse here and shipping the out fit to the Rainy river country, where Mr. Stewart is now operating. This work will take a few weeks, as much of the plant is distributed between Procter and Nelson and other business arrangements have to be wound up before Mr. McLeod will move east. J. W. Stewart is building 110 miles of the Algoma Central road, beginning at Savanne, 80 miles east of Port Arthur, and extending north. The line is intended to tap a section of new Ontario which is rich in minerals, timber and agricultural lands. The work is of the class described in contractors' parlance as "good." The average wages paid on the work is $1.75 per day. Mr. Stewart has 400 men at work now and will increase this staff to an aggregate of 2000. While in Savanne Mr. MacLeod forwarded two weeks' supplies for 2000 men and 800 horses an undertaking of no small magnitude with the transportation facilities available.

Muller Far From Well.

William T. Muller, who was shot on October 7th, by Fred Howard, was taken back to the hospital yesterday and is likely to remain there for some time. The leg in which the bullet lodged was weak from the effects of a former illness, and the projectile grazed the sciatic nerve. The cicatrix is supposed to have contracted the base of the nerve, setting up violent sciatica. For some days Muller has been suffering agony at the Nelson Hotel, and yesterday it was decided to remove him to the hospital again. If the sciatica does not abate it may prove necessary to perform an operation. Dr. Hall is in attendance.

Politics at Ymir.

A most successful and enthusiastic meeting was held on Tuesday night at Ymir in the interests of candidate Foley, the standard bearer of the Independent Labor party. Alfred Parr who filled the role of chairman in an acceptable manner, apologized for the absence of candidate Foley, and stated that it was the intention of the candidate to again address the electors of Ymir if he could possibly spare the time to do so before election day. After inviting any representatives of the opposing candidates to take the platform in the interests of their party and receiving no response chairman Parr called on Walter R. Kee, secretary of the Nelson Foley club, who addressed the meeting and strongly urged the workingmen of Ymir to throw off their allegiance to the old parties and rally to the support of Foley. The meeting was then addressed by James Wilks in one of his usual vigorous campaign speeches. He argued that Foley was a safe man, possessed of considerable ability, and a man in whose hands the interests of all classes were safe, and wound up with an eloquent plea to the Ymir electors of all classes to bestow their support and sympathy to candidate Foley. The meeting was enthusiastic throughout, and was brought to a close by three cheers for Foley. The local supporters of Foley are working hard and are confident of success on election day.

The Robson Bridge.

John Gunn, the contractor who is to build the piers and abutments for the bridge over the Columbia at Robson, has definitely located his quarry at the granite bluff about three-quarters of a mile west of Roberts' ranch. He states that the rock is the best for his purpose that he has found anywhere in the Kootenays, and will commence work as soon as the C. P. R. arranges with the Nelson & Fort Sheppard people to handle the output. A crew of twenty men with a steam drill and hoisting apparatus will be located on the ground and a camp constructed at once.

PERSONAL.

L. O. Hamilton of Princeton, is a guest at the Madden House.

W. F. Hack of Sanca and G. Mackenzie of Grand Forks are registered at the Tremont Hotel.

H. M. Porteous, who has been in Nelson for the past year, left this morning for Toronto, where he will spend the winter.

Al. Tregillus of the Tremont Hotel is on a shooting trip in the Lardo country near the Lavina-Butte property.

C. Remy of Tressies, Nord, France, is registered at the Hotel Hume. Mr. Remy is interested in the Excelsior mines.
