MINING INDUSTRIES NEAR NELSON

Sinking on the Rosebud Claim Has Been Commenced by the Lessees.

THE OUTLOOK FOR 1901 AND OTHER INTERESTING NEWS

R. C. Campbell-Johnston, acting for himself and the other owners of the Bondholder group on the north fork of Springer creek, has made a lease with P. Hancock, I. Beaupore and C. Horrie of Slocan City for work on the property. The lessees have started sinking on the Rosebud claim where a vein parallels the Arlington vein and it is figured this vein will intersect the main Bondholder ledge, which is an extension of the Enterprise ledge, at a distance of 200 feet. The lease to Slocan City parties for work on the Graphic claim has been extended also, and operations will, therefore, be carried on at two points on the property. The Bondholder is a promising property and its shipments to the smeiter have turned out exceedingly well, running 150 ounces in silver and $8.50 in gold. Dan McCuaig and partners are now working on the Murillo group below the Bondholder and expect to ship ore during the winter.

The Outlook For 1901.

Local men who are credited with having a finger on the pulse of the mining industry do not hesitate to predict the best season in years for the year 1901. While the promoters who operate in England report that the stringency in the money market attributed to the Transvaal war has not passed, this difficulty is not felt as keenly as was the case at this time last year, and it is noticeable that many propositions are being prepared for launching on the London market. Canadian capital is again becoming an active element and it is thought that the small investor who was as a rule the victim of the wild cat schemes growing out of the Rossland boom, will be sufficiently encouraged by the entry of a dozen or more properties into the shipping and dividend-paying stage to become interested again in mining ventures. American capital within the last year has taken hold in British Columbia and the number of companies operating with funds from across the line is likely to be largely increased. Right here in Nelson a large amount of capital has been and is being invested in mineral properties and this is regarded as one of the most promising signs of the times.

Litigation over Slocan Claims.

A writ was issued yesterday by Galliher & Wilson acting on behalf of Hugh Cameron, Peter Lindquist and James Campbell of Slocan City against John Lawson of San Francisco, the action thus instituted involving valuable mineral land on Springer creek. The plaintiffs seek to secure a declaration that the Bald Mountain fraction is a valid claim as against the B fraction, which overlaps the same ground, and that plaintiffs are entitled to the land and mineral contained in it. They further ask for an injunction restraining the defendant from trespassing on the ground and for damages.

Other Slocan Jottings.

John C. Holden of Slocan City is working a crew of five miners on a promising property on Republic hill near the Tamarac and Ottawa. It is a gold proposition and the claim is made that the ore will average $60. Portland, Oregon, parties are behind the venture and satisfactory arrangements have been made to continue work all winter. The showing on the Ottawa group continues to improve as the development advances. A quantity of fine ore is in sight and the owners expect to ship this winter.

Mining Records.

Yesterday's mining records were: Transfers: The Faith Hope and Charity claims, 2½ miles up Barrett creek, by Frank Glencross of Rossland to Oscar P. Anderson of Ymir.

Locations: The Iron Duke on Kootenay river, near Slocan junction.

Certificates of work: To J. P. Swedenburg on the Red Point; to R. W. Bacom on the Francis B fractional; to C. J. Anderson on the Faith; to James Gill on the Heather Dew fractional.

Diamond Drilling.

Phoenix Pioneer.

Since last August the Diamond Drill Contracting Company of Spokane, has been at work in Phoenix under contract with the Miner-Graves Syndicate, doing prospect-work on the properties of that syndicate. The original contract was for a minimum of 2000 feet, but altogether 2700 feet of holes were bored. Tuesday the work was completed and the outfit shipped to the Highland mine at Ainsworth, on Kootenay lake, where the new company has secured another boring contract. The company is also do. 1000 feet of work on the White Bear claim in Rossland camp.

Discuss Hay's Note.

LONDON, December 4.—United States ambassador Choate had a long conversation today with the secretary of state for foreign affairs, the marquis of Lansdowne, in which the proposed alternatives and amendments in secretary Hay's recent note and the notes of the other powers were fully discussed. Nothing definite was arrived at.—Lord Lansdowne showed the most friendly spirit and no difference of any importance came up. Mr. Choate is notifying secretary Hay of his lordship's views. A further consultation will follow soon

Was Not an Act of War.

BERLIN, December 4.—During the debate in the reichstag today on the supplementary credit for China, baron von Richthofen, secretary of foreign affairs, informed Herr Bebel, the socialist, that the China expedition was not regarded exactly as an act of war, but as armed intervention against an anarchic state of affairs, not preventing a continuance of a certain amount of intercourse between Germany and the government of China. The minister of war, general von Crossler, declared that while epidemics were rife among the troops in China, the deaths were only one-third per cent of the entire expeditionary corps.

Rhodes to be Captain.

NEW YORK, December 4.—It was announced here today that W. B. Duncan, junior, who will manage the yacht now being built to defend the American cup has selected Uriah Rhodes for captain of the new boat. Captain Rhodes commanded the old Defender in her trial races with Columbia in 1899.

A French Murder.

PARIS, December 4.—The severed head, arms and legs of a young man have been discovered in some waste ground near the Rues Des Platriers at Belleville, and another package containing a disemboweled and otherwise mutilated trunk was found in a gateway on the Rue Du Faubourg St. Denis, a mile and a half distant. The two discoveries apparently refer to the same murder. The first package was deposited late last night by six men, who were seen from a dwelling house opposite. The crime has caused a great sensation.

Thinks Four Months Will End War.

LONDON, December 4.—Mr. James G. Stowe, the United States consul general at Capetown, landed in Southampton today. He will sail for the United States December 15th on the steamer St. Louis. In an interview today he said: "I give the war in South Africa four months to come to an end. In my opinion, it is bound to be snuffed out during that period. I do not believe lord Kitchener will do much more than any other general. The present plan of the British campaign is bound to bring about the result. Moreover there are 10,000 Boer prisoners in Ceylon, St. Helena and Capetown all of whom are anxious to have an end of hostilities."

Cost Almost a Million.

WASHINGTON, December 4.—Commissioner Peck's report of the expenditures of the Paris commission for the year ending November 15th, 1900, was sent to the senate today. The total amount expended was $939,645. The principal items were: Experts' salaries $147,604, buildings $191,427, jury $53,073, clerks' salaries, $63,145, general employees' salaries $45,905, guards $34,951, traveling expenses $52,530.

Would Accept Conditionally.

LONDON, December 5.—The Standard says that it learns that lord Rosebery would resume the leadership of the Liberals, but that sir William Vernon Harcourt and Mr. John Morley decline to pledge themselves to support his policy.

MERCIER CREATED A SCENE

IN THE FRENCH CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES YESTERDAY.

Thinks France Is England's Equal and Wants to Hold the Screw Over Her Head.

PARIS, December 4.—General Mercier caused a sensation in the senate today during the debate on the naval bill by pointing out the ease with which England could be invaded. He demanded that they introduce into the plans for mobilization of the army the naval methods for the rapid embarkation and debarkation of an expeditionary corps. The president declared that such propositions were out of order and the senate adjourned.

What He Said.

In the course of an extraordinary speech general Mercier said: "In view of the possibility of a war with Great Britain the use of the army is not sufficiently taken into account. The Transvaal has shown that the British army, although brave, was not equal to the task which England expected it to perform. The British navy is powerful, but it has many coasts to defend. France, therefore, is numerically England's equal at certain points and is even their superior in the instruments of destruction. A landing in England is therefore not beyond reason. I venture to think that the work I prepare while commanding an army corps could serve as a basis for such a project which would not be expensive."

At this point protests were made and M. Falliers asked general Mercier not to enter into the details of the scheme. General Mercier replied that the screw could be held over the head of England, and he proposed a revision. The senate should invite the government to complete immediately preparations for the mobilization of the army and navy by praparing everything necessary to embark and disembark as rapidly as possible an expeditionary corps. Protests were raised from various branches, and M. De Lansen, minister of marine, followed the president's ruling that the motion was out of order in the present debate by declaring, amid cheers, that the government could not possibly accept it.

THE LABORERS' LAST RALLY

INDEPENDENT LABOR PARTY'S CLOSING MASS MEETING.

Opera House Well Filled---Candidate Foley on the "Yellow Danger" S. S. Taylor, Q. C., Spoke.

The Independent Labor party publicly closed the campaign with a successful mass meeting at the opera house last night. The building was well filled and considerable enthusiasm was manifested during the evening. A couple of rows of seats were reserved for ladies and the fair sex took advantage of this courtesy in some numbers. An innovation was introduced in the shape of campaign songs sung by Charles Clayton, Robert Thompson and A. Steele. The selections were well rendered by the soloists, but the audience did not seem to get into the spirit of the thing and the choruses fell rather short.

Walter Kee, secretary of the campaign, occupied the chair. About him were candidate Foley, S. S. Taylor, Q.C., James Wilks, Robert Robertson, president of the carpenters' union, G. Thorpe, vice-president of the same organization, J. Matthews, president of the laborers' union, Charles Clayton, president of the Trades and Labor Council, and W. Thompson of Whitewater.

The spell binders of the evening were candidate Foley and James Wilks for the Labor party and S. S. Taylor, Q.C., for the Liberal party. An invitation was extended to any gentleman present who might desire to champion the Conservative cause, but no one volunteered to undertake the task.

Candidate Foley received an excellent reception, was liberally applauded at intervals and at the conclusion of his address was accorded a hearty evidence of the audience's good will. His speech was a clever effort. The Labor candidate confined his remarks very largely to issues which the Labor party has brought prominently to the front during the campaign, namely the Mongolian and alien labor questions and the matter of anti-monopoly legislation. On these Mr. Foley dwelt at great length, and it is within the bounds of fact to state that he made a deep impression. The "yellow danger" was painted in its true colors by the speaker, who produced facts and statistics to support his statements and predictions. He forsaw a period not so remote as most people seemed to believe when the Mongolian question in British Columbia would plunge the country into a race war surpassing in vindictiveness the race war now in progress in the southern states of the Union. His solution of the problem was to send representatives from the province to Ottawa who would place the matter in its proper light before the house of commons and fight for legislative barriers to further inroads. Such a fight he pledged himself to wage if elected. Mr. Foley's reference to the Conservative candidate was brief but sarcastic. It was not worth while, he said, to discuss McKane. Barnum, the great showman, would find candidate McKane a valuable acquisition to the sideshow aggregation, and the Conservative party had received enough hard knocks without his dwelling on the subject further.

S. S. Taylor followed in a neat speech of half an hour's duration. It was his first appearance in the local campaign and his contribution to the spellbinding was well worth listening to. Mr. Taylor is a fluent and easy speaker, who discards oratory in favor of a plain presentment of facts and arguments delivered in a manner which convinces his audience of the reliability of his facts and the logic of his arguments. In opening Mr. Taylor touched a warm spot in the hearts of Mr. Foley's friends by describing the labor candidate as a "noble fellow and a man who must on his merits command the respect and admiration of all. The fact remained, however, that the labor element had succeeded in enlisting the support of the great Liberal party and the return of a labor candidate in opposition to a straight Liberal nominee would set back their cause until such time as the labor element had elected a majority of the members of the house, a matter of a century more or less.

This was the pith of Mr. Taylor's address. To substantiate his statement as to the friendly attitude taken by the Liberal party toward the labor element he reviewed the special labor legislation enacted during the Liberal administration of the past four years, and recounted the difficulties experienced by the Liberal government in securing the passage of this legislation through the Conservative senate.

James Wilks closed the meeting with a neat address calculated to strengthen the cause of the Labor party. Mr. Wilks was in good form and spoke well.

A Fat Snap.

WASHINGTON, December 4.—In the senate today Mr. Stewart introduced a bill creating a supreme court of the Philippine islands with five judges who are to be appointed for life and each of whom is to draw a salary of $20,000 per annum. The bill provides for appeal on writs of error to the United States supreme court in all cases involving more than $20,000 and in those in which the constitution of the United States is involved. Speaking of his motive for placing the salary at so high a figure, Mr. Stewart said he had done so in order to secure men of character and professional standing for the offices of judge.

Will Be Like the Others.

GLASGOW, December 4.—Discussing the American cup challenger with a noted owner Mr. M. L. Watson, the designer of Shamrock II., said today: "There is not a bit of truth in the reports that the new boat will embody striking novelties. A cup challenger is scarcely the kind of a boat a designer would choose for experiments. The Shamrock II. will be like some of the other big boats in existence. Whatever novelties there are will be in the construction details."

TRAINS CRASH TOGETHER

KILLING EIGHT AND WOUNDING TWENTY WORKMEN.

The Southern Pacific Railroad, Near Suisun, California, the Scene of a Terrible Wreck.

SACRAMENTO, California, December 4.—A work train carrying its crew of between 25 and 30 track-repairers backed into a freight train a few miles east of Suisun, on the Southern Pacific, today and in the wreck which followed eight men were killed and twenty more injured, many of them seriously. It appears that the freight train had the right of track and was running full speed in order to meet and pass another freight at Suisun. The work train should have been on a siding and was making for it at a good rate of speed, when it collided with the freight. At the time there was a heavy fog prevailing and it was possible to discern objects for only a short distance, so the shock of the colliding trains was terrific. All the casualties are reported to be among the men of the work train, as the engineers and firemen jumped to save themselves. Over 200 feet of track was torn up and the cars were smashed and piled upon each other in every conceivable shape.

The Maybrick Case.

Renewed efforts in the interest of Mrs. Florence Maybrick will be made by ambassador Choate, in connection with instructions by secretary Hay, says a Herald dispatch from Washington. Additional evidence, showing that Mrs. Maybrick was addicted to the use of the drug from which he died has been gathered and forwarded to ambassador Choate for presentation to the Right Hon. C. T. Ritchie, who has succeeded sir M. White Ridley as secretary of the home department in the recent reorganization of the British cabinet.

The officials of the United States embassy say they have not received any instructions in connection with taking further steps for the release from Woking prison of Mrs. Florence Maybrick, who is undergoing imprisonment for life after being convicted in 1889 of poisoning her husband with arsenic.

PROVINCIAL AND DOMINION NEWS

Minister McBride in the Boundary Country Listens to the Plaints of Its Residents.

BOLD DAYLIGHT HOLD-UP IN VANCOUVER---OTHER NEWS

GRAND FORKS, December 4.—Hon. Richard McBride, minister of mines, reached here last night on a tour of the Boundary district. The members of the Grand Forks board of trade made various representations to him in regard to public matters. The provincial government was asked to begin the proposed bridge across the north fork of Kettle river at Eagle City without delay, extend the north fork wagon road to Franklin road, provide additional school accommodation for Grand Forks, revise mining laws, extend operations of Rivers and Streams Act to the North Fork of Kettle river, permitting that stream to be improved for lumbering purposes, to build a new wagon road connecting Grand Forks with Summit Camp, and lastly, make a mineral exhibit at the Pan-American exhibition at Buffalo.

Hon. Mr. McBride in reply said he would submit the representations to his colleagues for consideration. He was banqueted in the evening by the board of trade.

To Double Its Capacity.

GRAND FORKS, B. C., December 4.—Several representatives of electrical and mining machinery firms are here for the purpose of tendering bids for the work of doubling the capacity of the Granby smelter. The plant now handles 600 tons of ore daily.

Bold Daylight Robbery.

VANCOUVER, December 4.—[Special to The Tribune.]—One of the boldest daylight holdups that ever took place in Vancouver occurred this morning, when A. W. Draper, manager for Turner, Beeton & Co., was relieved of his money and valuables—a gold watch and over $100. Draper was coming down Davie street this morning to his office when a man jumped out from behind a tree. He held a revolver in each hand and ordered Draper to hold up his hands or he would shoot. Draper complied and the robber went through his pockets.

A Bonus for Shipbuilding.

VICTORIA, British Columbia, December 4.—An announcement was made today that the provincial government proposes to introduce legislation to bonus shipbuilding. At present British Columbia mill men and other shippers suffer from descrimination of American shipowners and agents in favor of American ports.

Reports come from queen Charlotte island that the Indians are short of food. Their wants will be attended to.

Meeting at Revelstoke.

REVELSTOKE, December 4—[Special to The Tribune].—McKane's meeting here last night was most enthusiastic. Mayor Goodeve of Rossland held the floor for one and a half hours in the most eloquent and telling speeches of the campaign. It was a grand effort. Galliher's friends are dumfounded. The exposure of Galliher's duplicity in connection with signing the eight-hour law petition as given by Goodeve last night had a most telling effect. McKane will get a majority in Revelstoke.

Ralph Smith spoke here on Saturday night and made a straight Grit speech, hardly mentioning Foley at all. Labor people are very sore about it and Conservative working men here see through the duplicity with which they have been asked to poll their votes for a fusion Liberal Labor candidate like Foley, under disguise of an Independent Labor party.

The Pacific Cable.

MONTREAL, December 4.—The Star's London cable says: Surprise is expressed that the Pacific cable board has accepted the tender of the Telegraph Construction & Maintenance Company to construct a Pacific cable for $1,750,000 before 1902, inasmuch as this company was always understood to be allied to the Pender Cable Company. However, full evidence has been furnished that this assumption is unwarranted, and no other tender promised such early and effective work. The omission of Canada's name from the list of contributory governments in today's official announcement was purely accidental. The correction will appear in tomorrow's papers. It is understood that the Dominion ministry has given renewed assurances to friends of the firm intention to push the project to completion at the earliest possible moment. One high authority declared today that he realizes its fulfillment is essential to Canada's expansion.

Postmaster Exonerated.

SHERBROOKE, Quebec, December 4.—Judge White made a report in the Kinnear's Mills post office case. Rev. J. M. Whitelaw mailed a registered letter to Rev. Dr. Warden, general agent of the Presbyterian Church, Toronto, which, he alleged, contained $200 when mailed. The money was missing when received and the envelope showed the edge had been cut and neatly stuck together. The judge found the envelope had been delivered to Dr. Warden in the same condition as received from Whitelaw and exonerated the postmaster and all members of his family.

Clarke Wallace Sued For Libel.

TORONTO, Ontario, December 4.—Senator Fulford of Brockville will press his suit for $1000 against N. Clarke Wallace, M.P., for saying he paid $50,000 for his seat in the senate. Senator Fulford filed a statement of his claim this morning. He wants the case tried at Brockville and says that the alleged slander has greatly injured his character, credit and reputation and has held him up to public scandal and contempt. He refers to Wallace as a professional politician.

Wholesale Dismissals.

MONTREAL, Quebec, December 4.—A special committee of the city council yesterday recommended the dismissal of forty-seven employees of the city hall. The news has created consternation among the employees and the lives of the aldermen are made miserable.

General Lee's Coffin.

In a letter just published by a prominent woman of Lexington, the interesting fact is made public for the first time that General Robert E. Lee, the great Confederate commander, was buried in a coffin caught in the flotsam and jetsam of the great flood of 1870.

The terrible freshet of October, 1870, occurred a few days before general Lee's death. Lexington, where he died, was utterly cut off from the world, the canal being destroyed and the little college town not then being connected by railroad. "Three days before general Lee's death," writes this woman, "four daring men undertook to search the flooded district for a coffin. The party came almost upon an island which was covered with wreckage. One of the men swam across the rushing torrent and found a coffin. He succeeded in putting it in a canoe, but it took almost superhuman efforts to bring it safely to town."

A Good Pair of Boots.

Alonzo. P. Kinnie, a farmer, of South Gibson, is wearing daily a pair of boots that were made for him forty years ago. He has worn them regularly ever since, and there is no sign of them giving out for another two score years. The old pair of cowhides testifies continually to the honest workmanship of other days. Mr. Kinnie got the boots when he was a young man, and they have grown old together.

THE Miner maliciously lies when it states that the petition presented to the city council asking that the fire department be reorganized and that a paid department be substituted for the present volunteer brigade was in circulation three days. The first signature was attached to the petition between 11 and 12 o'clock on Monday forenoon and it was laid before the council at 4:15 o'clock in the afternoon. Instead of being in circulation for three days, it was not in circulation three hours altogether. There are names attached to it who are not political supporters of mayor Houston, but these men are heartily in favor of a radical change at the fire hall, as are a large majority of the representative business men of the city. It is needless for the Miner to slur at or question the motives of the men who signed the petition, that does not alter the situation. Mayor Houston may be an adventurer and everything the Miner says he is, but that does not alter the situation either. The business men of Nelson have a right to petition the council; they did so, asking that the fire department be reorganized. The council treated the petition as if the petitioners had no rights which they were bound to respect, and now the Miner says the council were perfectly right in slapping the business men in the face. The suspended chief of the fire department must stand or fall on the charges preferred against him as an official. He has been paid a good salary for every day's service he ever rendered the city in any capacity. The City of Nelson does not owe him anything other than fair treatment. He has never made any sacrifices in order that the city should prosper; no more than hundreds of young men in Nelson who have never drawn a dollar from the city treasury. There should be no mere sympathy in this matter. If the people of Nelson have been paying for something that they did not get, they want to know it.

THE campaign that closes today has, on the whole, been conducted without mud throwing or unseemly indulgence in personalities. Mr. Galliher, the first candidate in the field, has from the platform declared fealty to the party that nominated him and has not made demogogic appeals for support from the Labor element. He has fought fair, and has made but one mistake, and that was in denying he had signed a petition without first refreshing his memory before committing himself. As it was, he only signed the petition as the vice-president of a mining company, Mr. Foley, the candidate of the Independent Labor party, has shown himself a good campaigner. Without political experience, he has gone from town to town in this almost limitless constituency unaccompanied, and everywhere has been treated as a man of strong convictions, able to hold his own in debate. Mr. Foley's candidacy should be an object lesson to the people who believe that the men who labor are lacking in the qualities that are required in men who become political leaders. The last candidate in the field was John McKane, and today he is the best known of the three candidates. This is because he took advantage of one or two weak spots in his opponents, and made the most of his opportunity. This is politics, and Mr. McKane must be recognized hereafter as a politician that no man need be ashamed to follow into a contest. The readers of THE TRIBUNE, those of them who are voters, will on Thursday make no great mistake by placing a mark opposite the name of either Chris Foley, W. A. Galliher, or John McKane.

WRITTEN BY LIBERALS.

THE TRIBUNE has placed a part of one column at the disposal of the Liberals, whose views will be expressed therein from time to time during the campaign. A like privilege is accorded the Labor party and the Conservatives.

There was a crowded and enthusiastic rally at W. A. Galliher's committee rooms on Monday evening, at which S. S. Taylor, Q.C., was the principal speaker. Mr. Taylor traversed a number of the extraordinary statements which sir Charles, in the absence of all opposition, made in the opera house on Saturday night.

Amongst others he completely answered the charge brought by sir Charles against the Liberal government of having changed the election act so that Japs and Chinese might vote.

Under the old act fresh lists had to be made at each general election at a cost of millions to the country and to the great advantage of the government in power. The Liberals did away with this abuse by adopting the Provincial lists all over the Dominion.

In many provinces provincial officials such as judges, sheriffs and policemen were, though their names might be on the lists, disqualified from voting at provincial elections. There was, however, no reason why they should not vote at Dominion elections, so a general clause was introduced permitting persons laboring under a provincial disqualification to vote at Dominion elections. Chinese and Japs were not mentioned in the clause and no one intended they should be covered by it. In fact no one thought of them at all, but, by a legal quibble, the clause had been strained to include the Japs and Chinese according to the judgment of chief justice McColl, which will probably be overruled on appeal.

But what was the existing situation? In no case could the Japs and Chinese vote at the present election, for the elections will be held on the lists as revised last May, and no names subsequently added can be voted on now. Thus if the judgment were quashed the Mongolians would not be able to vote and no harm is done, while if the judgment were sustained the election act will be amended before the next general election, and again no harm is done. At the worst it was an oversight which could not result in any harm and which could not end in a single Mongolian voting. Neither could sir Charles Tupper gird at this oversight, for, like most of the clauses in the act, it was passed unanimously, sir Charles Tupper, the hon. Clarke Wallace and Mr. Puttee, Labor member for Winnipeg, being among those who voted for it. So much for the latest Conservative mare's nest, a fair sample of the desperate straits the Tories are driven to to obtain votes.

Forbid a Demonstration.

COLOGNE, December 4.—An anti-English demonstration took place today in front of the British Consulate here. Mounted police dispersed the rioters and arrested the leaders. Serenades and ovations to Mr. Kruger, planned by various societies, have been forbidden in the interest of public safety.

WRITTEN BY LABORERS.

THE TRIBUNE has placed a part of one column at the disposal of the Independent Laborers, whose views will be expressed therein from time to time during the campaign. A like privilege is accorded the Conservatives and the Liberals.

The time has arrived, the crisis is at hand when the workers of British Columbia will prove to their fellows in the Dominion that they are stanch in their determination to uphold the cause of labor in the house of parliament.

Fellow workers, artisans, mechanics, laborers of all descriptions, if you throw away this golden opportunity you will become the laughing stock of all the politicians and their toadies who have endeavored to beguile you from the straight path which lies before you.

At present you are enjoying a higher wage and you live in superior domestic comfort than your fellow laborers in the east, and above all you can command the respect due to you from men in superior positions. It is only a few years ago that your eastern brethren enjoyed the same advantages, but owing to their inaction and want of organization they have had their privileges curtailed to such an extent that they have been reduced to the position of mere nonentities and are perfectly unable to rise from their present dependent position.

Now, union men, members of the powerful organizations that have been established in this progressive province, do not let any party considerations induce you to fail in the great obligations you are under to your families and friends. All political measures will go on without the addition of another political partisan in the house. Your bounden duty is to keep up the great structure of freedom and equality that you have raised and not show by indifference to your own Labor cause that you are willing to become the political tools of either party.

Every worker and especially every union man must ignore his own political tendencies and vote for the Labor candidate, who is certainly able and worthy to champion their cause.

Do not be deceived by the specious arguments of the political deceivers who arrogantly boast that they hold the working voters under their thumbs. Certainly all previous experience warrants their assertions. They know that all the concessions granted to labor have never been detrimental to their own interests, and have always been given with an abundance of oily flattery to take away the sting of the harsh measures that generally accompany them.

The matter is very simple. Throw away your chance now and in a very short time you will most heartily regret your stupidity.

As soon as the employers and their friends find that you are not faithful to your professions, that you play fast and loose with your privileges; that you cannot resist the opportunity of becoming a political body, you can say good-bye to your present proud position of being an equivalent factor in labor operations.

WRITTEN BY CONSERVATIVES.

[THE TRIBUNE has placed a part of one column at the disposal of the Conservatives, whose views will be expressed therein from time to time during the campaign. A like privilege is accorded the Labor party and the Liberals.]

It is unfortunate for this district that organizations formed on commercial lines and for the benefit of all, should fall into the hands of aspiring politicians, who eventually succeed in shearing them of usefulness. The recently projected chamber of mines for Yale and Kootenay is the latest bird to be plucked for political purposes, and at which task J. B. McArthur of Rossland, the president, is now busy. Not satisfied with lending his energies to help elect the Liberal candidate, this overzealous and restless politician must needs drag the barely formed chamber into the arena and blow himself "as president" to the minister of the interior; for plain J. B. McArthur to do so would fall short of his views of self aggrandizement at the expense of an absolutely non-partisan combination for mutual assistance and advancement. It goes without saying that the matter will be ventilated and the man who will take an active part therein will be our prospective member, John McKane.

Among the various and sundry advantages which have accrued to Vancouver during the past four years at the instance of Mr. Maxwell, the Liberal member, and which number exactly 69, is a tea taster. It is pleasant to know that a paternal government is seeing that no poisonous adulteration of the favorite beverage is palmed off on a trusting public, although it hardly occurs to one that in a more than one way wet place like Vancouver such precaution was necessary with regard to tea. Rather that due diligence should be exercised to see that the more "gingerly" beverages pass muster to a grade to befit an advanced populace such as the Terminal City, which from reports received is doubtful.

From all quarters come the most encouraging reports of John McKane's prospects on Thursday; there is hardly a doubt but that he will go in on a good round majority. The people are going to vote for him largely on account of his personality and for the reason that it would be fatal to send sir Wilfred another supporter. Anyway, this constituency is and always has been Conservative to the backbone. Mr. Bostock captured it in '96 and paid high for his whistle and has since found out that political and journalistic ambition is rather expensive and better left to those whose fortunes run into six figures. The Conservative headquarters in that happy mood begotten of assured victory.

The political concert at the opera house tonight suggests a capital opera song which can be very appropriately rehearsed by William and Christopher for Thursday night. It runs:

This is the time for disappearing,
Just take a header and down you go;
And when the sky above is clearing
Bob up serenely from below.

Want Better Quarters.

BUREAU OF PROVINCIAL INFORMATION

In order that the Government may be in possession of definite information with which to supply those seeking investments in this Province, I am instructed to invite particulars from those who have properties for sale, and who may feel disposed to forward such particulars to this office for the purpose in question.

In view of the proposed early reorganization of the Agent-General's Office in London, England, the desirability of having on file a list of farms and other properties for sale, with full and accurate details is obvious. Properties submitted may include farms and farm lands, industrial or commercial concerns, timber limits, water powers, or other enterprises affording opportunities for legitimate investment.

It is not proposed to recommend properties to intending investors, but to afford the fullest access to the classified lists and all available information connected therewith, and to place inquirers in communication with the owners.

The fullest particulars are desired not only of the properties themselves, but of the localities in which they are situated, and the conditions affecting them. For this purpose printed schedules will, upon application, be forwarded to those desirous of making sales.

CITY LOCAL NEWS

Complete election returns will be received at the Athabasca saloon on Thursday by a direct wire.

P. J. Russell, who is a fur expert, is prepared to pay the highest market quotations for all kinds of furs and pay spot cash.

By a notice appearing elsewhere it will be seen that tenders are being called for the erection of a public building at Nelson.

Miss Gray was added to the nursing staff of the general hospital yesterday. She is a graduate of a well-known Scottish hospital.

Mary Gooderow will be arraigned before magistrate Crease this morning on the charge of selling liquor at Pilot Bay without a license.

Guy Carlton was removed from the Clarke hotel to the general hospital yesterday. He is suffering from the effects of an ax wound which injured the bones in the knee.

The election of officers for the ensuing year is the special business at tonight's meeting of Nelson's Queen Lodge, Sons of England Benefit Society. A strong turnout of members is requested.

The collection taken in the city churches on Sunday for the Ladies' Hospital Aid fund, will realize a neat sum. The secretary, Mrs. Stocks, has received $100 to date, with a couple of other churches to be heard from.

John W. Dow of Creston is at the Queen's. He reports work on the Alice mine as progressing steadily. He also says that the people of that section of Goat river division are well pleased with the way the money for roads and trails has been expended.

Some of the property owners whose premises are unoccupied at times complain of the wasteful destruction of their property by intruders. The police are as watchful as men can well be, and if anyone is caught in the act of trespassing on private property they will be made an example of.

The city rock crusher has been working satisfactorily for two days, and Baker street should be macadamized as far as the Bank of Montreal corner by the end of next week. Two more sidewalk gangs will be put on tomorrow, so that the sidewalks ordered to be laid can be completed before cold weather sets in.

H. B. Thomson, ex-alderman of Nelson and now managing a trading syndicate at the 150-Mile House in Cariboo, left Nelson on Saturday for a trip to his old home in Ireland, where he will probably spend two months before returning to British Columbia. May he have all the pleasure that he is able to stand.

The Miner says that insurance companies can fasten on any excuse for maintaining the "robber tariff" that prevails now. Yes; some of them are beginning to believe that the "robbers" are not all connected with the insurance companies. Some of the "robbers" are men that get insurance and afterward refuse to pay for it.

Gas at Spokane.

Bruce White returned yesterday from a brief run to Spokane. Mr. White states that mining matters are very flat at Spokane, in marked coatrast to the feeling in the Kootenays. He ran across some Californian natural gas experts who claimed to have discovered an excellent illuminating and heating gas near the city. The Los Angeles men had experimented with the gas and were going out to investigate further yesterday.

Where Is William Hickey?

Chief of police Jarvis was requested by wire yesterday from Rossland to give any information he might possess as to the whereabouts of William Hickey, who was known to be in Nelson not long ago. James Hickey, a brother, was killed in the Nickel Plate mine on Monday night and the authorities desired to secure information which might lead to the location of the unfortunate man's relatives. William Hickey is supposed to have left Nelson for Greenwood or Phoenix.

'Twas Good Medicine.

A noticeable feature of last night's political mesting was that there were no small boys shouting in the back door and generally raising a row about the building. The reason for this was that the police took a hand in the game on Monday night and frightened the sportive lads out of the pastime. One of the constables watched the boys and when one of them made himself obnoxious to the three or four hundred people gathered in the opera house the officer laid the heavy hand of the law on the offender and escorted him to the lockup. En route the boy's lamentations startled half the city. Chief Jarvis arrived soon after the lad was locked up and took the boy home. Then the chief looked on benignantly while the maternal parent applied a rough shingle vigorously. Last night there wasn't a single small boy in evidence, for the word had gone around that the next offender would sleep in the cells over night.

WANT A BRICK ADDITION

To General Hospital.

Several of the directors of the Nelson general hospital have started to discuss further additions to the institution and to point out that any further increase in the building should be built of brick rather than wood. Dr. O. Meredith Jones, the well-known coast surgeon, who was here a week or so ago, strongly recommended this move, and the directors have gone into the matter briefly. The completion of the cottage addition now under way will temporarily relieve the congestion at the hospital, but as a portion of the building must be reserved for the nurses who now room outside it is more than probable that if the patronage of the hospital increases at anything like the rate of progress for the last six months the directore will be faced with a pressing demand for more room, the alternative being to refuse to accept patients, a course which would speedily undo the good work which has been done in the interests of the institution.

A number of the directors feel that brick should be used in the construction of the wing as proposed for next year. Their reasons for this are that the cost of material is not so far apart as has been the case heretofore and that the results are very much more satisfactory. A brick building is cooler in summer and warmer in winter, both important factors in the management of a hospital. Possibly the strongest recommendation for the brick building is the protection it affords against fire. It is felt that to house an additional twenty or thirty sick and helpless people in another frame building would be unwise and a strong effort will be made to introduce brick into any further additions.

Sinclair to Be Released.

E. A. Crease of this city has received a letter from Joseph Pope, under-secretary of state, with reference to an application made by Mr. Crease and others for clemency in the case of J. H. Sinclair, who was convicted for embezzling funds from the Canadian Pacific Railway Company when in the employ of the company at Trail. Mr. Sinclair will be released at once, as the warden of the penitentiary at New Westminster has been instructed to that effect.

The Last Lecture.

Tonight Prof. Alexander gives his closing lecture and as the subject is such as appeals to all, especially to business men, he will no doubt have as crowded a house as on Monday night. Many who heard him that night for the first time regret they did not attend every lecture. Owing to the Liberal meeting, which begins at 9:15, his lecture, will begin at 8 o'clock sharp.

The Nelson Armory.

The armory for the Nelson rifle company is not likely to be built this year. The militiamen have been following up the matter since the announcement was first made and yesterday a letter was received from lieutenant-colonel Benson, district officer commanding, in which he stated that he had no further information regarding the building.
