NELSON WILL CELEBRATE

This City to Have a Grand Gala Celebration on the First of July.

The public meeting called by the mayor to decide when Nelson should celebrate this year was largely attended. The chair was taken by the mayor, George Nunn acted as secretary.

In opening the meeting the mayor said there was a general desire that Nelson should have a celebration this year and a good one. Nelson was the natural centre for a large section of the country. There had always been excellent sports in the past, and if a first-class programme was prepared there would be a large attendance. A discussion followed many taking part. It was felt that as, with the exception of last year, Nelson had since 1890 or thereabouts always celebrated the 1st of July, that date would probably be the most convenient.

It was proposed by Fred Starkey, seconded by Melville Parry, that a celebration be held on the 1st of July this year in Nelson. Carried unanimously amid loud applause.

J. J. Malone moved, seconded by F. Starkey, that a committee to take full charge of celebration matters be nominated.

The following were appointed on the committee: Mayor Rose, alderman J. A. Irving, J. J. Malone, F. J. Deane, W. A. Macdonald, K.C., H. E. Macdonell, F. Starkey, Geo. Nunn, Melville Parry, Gus Erickson, J. L. Porter, O. H. Becker, C. Archibald, Harry Wright, W. A. Galliher, M.P., John Houston, M.P.P., George McLaughlin, J. Fred Hume, Joe Carter, D. McNicoll, W. Irvine, R. S. Lennie, A. B. Mason, C. A. Waterman, C. Goepel, J. McPhee, Joe Thompson, J. E. Annable, and Frank Tamblyn, with power to add to their number.

The committee will meet next Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the city hall.

The question of a race track was discussed and Mr. Annable's scheme was well received. A good race meeting and sports of all kinds will be held, and the meeting adjourned full of enthusiasm for what will be the finest celebration ever held in the Kootenay district.

NELSON CITY COUNCIL.

The mayor and all the aldermen except alderman Hamilton were present at the council meeting on Monday last. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

The first business was the report of the city engineer re the opening up of the lane in block 15 from Ward to Josephine. Two plans were presented, one bridging the ravine to the back of the stables, and the other to Ward street. Referred to the board of works with power to act.

The city engineer also reported regarding the damage done to property on Carbonate street. A catch-basin, placed in the lane behind the lot which was being damaged, would, he said, prevent further damage, and also save the street from being cut away. The expense would be about $12.

Moved by alderman Selous, seconded by alderman Irving, that the necessary work as recommended be done. Carried.

In answer to the mayor's letter and telegram, Drummond & Co., Montreal, wrote saying they would not care to guarantee to sell the whole of the debentures at 98%; they would do their best to sell them all. They were uncertain how long it would take, but would like to have an option for two months. They also said that a loan could be got on any balance of debentures unsold. The letter was filed and the matter of selling the debentures left in the hands of the mayor.

A letter was read from Mr. Gigot, manager of the Hudson's Bay Co., regarding damage to goods in their cellar caused by the freshet last May. The damage was $62, but rather than go to law with the council he was willing to settle for $40. Aldermen Irving and Kirkpatrick both thought that as the city solicitor had decided the city was not liable, it would be a bad precedent to compromise and might lead to other claims in similar cases. Alderman Selous was in favor of compromising. After considerable discussion the matter was left to the mayor with power to act.

Letters from J. Sturgeon, J. Gallagher and W. C. McLean were read asking the council to see that the bank of Cottonwood creek near their property was protected, otherwise they feared damage at high water. The city engineer said he did not expect the creek to more than touch the property, and thought there was no danger. The letters were ordered to be filed.

By-law No. 126, regulating traffic on the city wharf, was considered and finally adopted on motion of alderman Selous, seconded by alderman Irving.

The mayor introduced the measurement of wood question, having been requested to do so by a number of citizens. After discussion it was decided to leave the matter over until the next meeting.

Alderman Selous brought up the subject of the assessment of the city. He wanted the council to order a reduction of 25 per cent. A number of people had spoken to him, and all thought the present assessment too high. All those who talked to him were of his way of thinking. The only opponent he had heard from was the anonymous letter writer in the Daily News, who was neither logical nor correct.

Alderman Irving had not heard any complaints about the present assessment. There might be some few places on Baker and Vernon street the assessment of which needed revising, but, generally, the rating would be considered about right, more particularly on the residential streets. A reduction of 25 per cent would be a poor advertisement for the city and was entirely unnecessary.

Aldermen Kirkpatrick, Bird, and Gilker also took part in the discussion.

Moved by alderman Irving, seconded by alderman Kirkpatrick, that the city clerk be appointed assessor, and that T. M. Ward be appointed assistant assessor, to prepare a new assessment roll.

Alderman Selous moved an amendment ordering in addition that the assistant assessor should reduce the present assessments by 25 per cent. This, however, found no seconder, and the original motion was carried, aldermen Irving, Kirkpatrick, Bird, and Gilker voting for and Alderman Selous against.

On motion of alderman Kirkpatrick, seconded by alderman Selous, the remuneration of the assistant assessor was fixed at $150, he being required to be present at all meetings of the court of revision and finish the assessment rolls complete.

On motion of alderman Selous, seconded by alderman Gilker, the city treasurer was appointed collector of taxes.

The mayor brought up the question of the residents along the water front. All the aldermen took part in the discussion which followed and agreed that a clearance should be made when the notices already given had expired. Whilst there might be individual cases of hardship, generally it would be better for those who resided on the water front to move into the city. It was anticipated that all would be away before the notices expired.

The mayor called attention to the fact that the city clerk and city treasurer could draw no pay, as their salaries had not been fixed. It was moved by alderman Gilker, seconded by alderman Bird, that the salary of the city clerk should be $110 per month, and that of the city treasurer $100 per month. Carried.

The report of the finance committee, recommending payment of salaries, etc., was received and adopted and instructions given to issue cheques for the amounts stated.

THE C.P.R. STRIKE.

The position of affairs is much more favorable to the C.P.R. strikers than ever before. Winnipeg is still solid, not a man going back, reports to the contrary being false. The boys there are prepared to settle down, if necessary, to a hard fight, and all are determined to remain to the finish, though they find they are blacklisted all over the town by the C.P.R. The agent of the C.N.R. at Winnipeg states he cannot employ any of the boys until the strike is over, as he did not want to buck the other road. The actions taken by the boys to recover their February pay have again been remanded for another week at the request of the C.P.R. This is done to try and break the strike and force the men back to work by intimidation or starvation.

Rumors have been sent out from Revelstoke to the effect that all places have been filled, notwithstanding the fact that there are still 80 left to be filled. The concert given by the U.B.R.E. at Revelstoke on Wednesday night last was largely attended and was a great success, both financially and otherwise. It is intimated that Mr. Marpole has expressed his willingness to come to terms if the men will accept Mr. White as a representative of the company. This shows that Mr. Marpole is anxious for a settlement.

Calgary is still standing firm, with the exception of one man, who has returned to work, although it has been stated in the press that the strike is over there. This statement is absolutely false.

The reports from Vancouver show that things are getting mixed up worse every day, although the company states they are doing business as usual. Affairs along the water front are badly demoralized, as the company are experiencing great difficulty in handling what scabs they have at work there.

The local situation has not changed to any degree. The men are all standing firm and will do so to the end. We intend shortly having a monster concert for our benefit, and we are sure the citizens of Nelson will turn out in force.

PRESS COMMITTEE,
Div. 98, U.B.R.E., Nelson.

The Nelson dramatic club are hard at work practicing for an entertainment which will be given on Easter Monday under the direction of Mrs. William Davis.

Wholesale dealers in Nelson report that since the Fernie strike was settled business has improved rapidly, and the prospects are now good for a large business this spring.

Herb. Irving has sold out the stock of the American Shoe Store to William Brown, and will in future interest himself in the business of the Alberta Coal & Coke Company.

The death of Mr. John Mowat took place on Monday. He was 66 years of age and had lived in Nelson for the last four years. He leaves a wife, four sons and four daughters to mourn his sad loss.

J. E. Annable is working up a deal to secure a race track for the city. He has a nicely prepared plan showing how the present baseball ground can be extended so as to form a quarter of a mile track.

Friday next is Good Friday. The special services on that day in St. Saviour's church will be matins, ante-communion and sermon at 10:30; children's service at 3 p.m., and evensong and address at 7:30 p.m.

John Trent Holmes, aged 14 years, died on Wednesday. He is the son of J. H. Holmes of the wire works, and had only been ill a few days. He was a fine manly boy, and much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Holmes.

The Northport smelter has now three furnaces in full blast. The uneasiness about the coke supply is disappearing, every train bringing in 10 or 15 cars. Over 60,000 tons of ore are now in the bins, and a prolonged season of activity is expected.

The Hall Mines smelter blew in on Tuesday and is expected to run steadily for a long time, as they have a full supply of dry ores and material for fluxing in stock. The large stack is being worked on lead ores only and has a capacity of over 200 tons per day.

A. A. Perrier, secretary of the Nelson lacrosse club, sent an invitation to the Rossland lacrosse club to play at Nelson on Good Friday. Rossland players say it is out of the question, but if they are properly supported by the citizens they may be ready for a match on May 24th.

Another victim was added on Wednesday as the result of the terrible disaster at the Nettie L. mine on March 7th. Besides those who were killed on the spot at the time, a number of other men were overcome by the poisonous gas. Otto Blohm was taken to the hospital and hopes were entertained of his recovery, as he regained consciousness, but the improvement was only temporary, and he gradually sank until death brought relief on Wednesday.

R. T. Lowery, the New Denver Ledge man, paid a visit to the Tribune office this week. He is in Nelson on his way to Vancouver, where, in partnership with W. McAdams of the Sandon Paystreak, he expects to make another fortune in the newspaper line. Mr. Lowery paid a passing compliment to Nelson, saying that if all towns had been as good to him as Nelson in the past, he would be rich now, without troubling Vancouver. It is understood that the Lowery-McAdams combination is what is sometimes called "hot stuff" in the news line.

A serious landslip occurred on Wednesday at Rossland within a hundred yards of the business centre of the city. A section of LeRoi avenue west of the intersection of Washington street, and overlooking the C.P.R. track, slid some feet, buckling the railroad tracks and damaging the Washington street viaduct hopelessly. The first slip took place at 3 o'clock in the morning, and a freight train passing soon after was derailed. At noon another slip took place, and further trouble is expected. The viaduct will require re-building. No residences were injured. The excessive seepage of surface water caused the trouble.

On Tuesday last a sad accident occurred at Ymir. A big snow and mud slide came down in Wild Horse gulch, below the Ymir mine, carrying off part of the cook house and causing the death of the cook, William Moss, who was the only man in the building at the time. As soon as possible after the accident a number of men from the mine began the search for Moss, and after several hours' work his body was found nearly 100 feet below the site of the building. The deceased was well-known in Nelson and highly respected. He was a member of the Nelson cooks' union. Moss was a young man about 24 years of age, of a very steady and saving disposition. He came from near London, England, and sent all his savings home to support his widowed mother, sister and a sister-in-law, who are said to be almost entirely dependent upon his help. Moss was at one time cook on the Moyie. The funeral of Moss took place at Nelson today. The Culinary Employees' Protective Association had charge of the burial arrangements. The trades and labor council, of which Moss was a delegate, also attended the funeral.

NEWS IN GENERAL.

It is rumored that the British house of commons will be dissolved at the end of the present session and that the general elections will be brought on in the autumn.

At Buffalo, Tom Jenkins of Cleveland defeated Dan McLeod of Nanaimo, B.C., regaining the heavy-weight wrestling championship. Jenkins won by two straight falls, the first in one hour and seventeen minutes, the second in fourteen minutes.

Eighteen hundred settlers left England for Canada on the Tunisian on Thursday. These are the first batch of the all-British colonists, who are going to settle near Edmonton. The party are said to have over $2,000,000 with them, and the average age is under 30.

The Windsor cannery, the largest of its kind on the Skeena river, was destroyed by fire on the 26th of last month. The fire consumed the net house, adjoining the cannery, 37 boats, all fittings, machinery and lumber. The cannery was a frame structure, situated at Aberdeen, and was equipped with the most modern machinery. Property to the value of $35,000 was destroyed.

The Vancouver carpenters struck on Wednesday last. The strike is for an 8-hour day, 40 cents per hour, and the operation of the card system. On Friday the laborers' union called their men out and the strike is now general between the carpenters' union and the laborers' union on one hand and the builders' exchange with the mill men on the other. The laborers' union ask for $2.50 per day for general labor, and $2.75 for mortar mixers, and 8 hours for a day's work. This strike paralyses the building trade of Vancouver. A large number of the buildings are under contract and the outlook for an early settlement is not propitious.

The strike at Fernie is over at last, although the Gladstone branch of the union seems to have a number of dissatisfied members. The vote was carried, and the officers signed the agreement, along with the officials of the Morrissey and Michel mines. A settlement has been made for two years, and it is to be hoped that nothing will now stand in the way of prosperity to the coal trade of the Crow's Nest district. The conditions at the mines of the Crow's Nest Co. seem peculiar in many respects. There are apparently good wages paid to miners, but in connection with the coke business, men are employed at very poor wages for this country. They are principally Poles, Huns, and Slavs, speaking little English, and are said to be putting in from 10 to 14 hours a day. They were getting $1.60 to $1.75 a day which has been increased to $1.80, which cannot be considered even fair pay. The alleged riot seems to have been really a very small business, brought about by two or three irresponsible men, who were severely denounced by all members and officials of the union. In some quarters it is said to have been a put-up job to bring obloquy upon the strikers.

Another Crop of Senators.

There is to be an effort made in the Dominion Parliament this session to increase the representation of the West in the Senate. Manitoba and the Northwest should have 24 Senators, the same as the Maritime Provinces.

Cambridge Won.

Cambridge won the Oxford and Cambridge boat race on Wednesday, defeating Oxford by six lengths. The betting was 7 to 2 on Cambridge.

ROSSLAND HAS A SENSATION

Alderman and Police Magistrate Accused of Flagrant Corruption.

Rev. J. Burtt Morgan has been arrested at Rossland on a charge of criminal libel. Mr. Morgan was formerly Baptist minister at Nelson, and afterwards pastor at the First Baptist church at Rossland. In January, this year, he resigned his pastorate and went into life insurance as agent for a New York company. He published a little monthly for some time called The Truth, and in its final issue intimated that the police blackmailed gamblers in 1902, and that alderman Harry Daniel got part of the proceeds. Daniel laid information, and pastor Morgan was arrested. He was released on a bail of $2,000. The case came up before justices of the peace Townsend and Kirkup, and the lawyers mixed things up so that the J.P.'s decided to place the matter before the attorney-general, who instructed judge Leamy of Greenwood to assist in the hearing. The Morgan libel trial was continued on Thursday, when ex-mayor Clute was examined touching the collection of fines and police commissioner Daniel's connection with the same. The defendant was committed for trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction. Bail was renewed in the same sureties.

The article above referred to, which has caused much commotion in Rossland, reviews the encouragements and discouragements which Mr. Morgan met in the conduct of Truth, and was the valedictory of the publication. He says he started out with a good advertising patronage, but the elements of evil recognized in the little sheet signs of strength which might make the carrying on of certain businesses full of troubles, and the gambler, the saloon-keeper and the scarlet woman sallied forth on a crusade against it, and business houses were threatened with boycott if they continued to advertise in it. This was a sad blow, but the paper was continued.

The editor then reviews how each class of the community treated it—most of them affected to ignore its existence. When the municipal elections came round Truth was in the fight advocating civic reform. Mr. Morgan states that he did not commit himself to support Mr. Dean for mayor until that candidate had assured him that if elected his policy would look to moral reform in every way.

Mr. Morgan next proceeds to castigate the present mayor for not having fufillled that promise, and in doing so used the words that have caused his arrest for criminal libel and an investigation into the methods of the police court. He thinks that the present mayor has utterly failed in his duty in appointing to the chairmanship of finance the alderman who was last year one of the license commissioners. Mr. Morgan also blames Mr. Dean for not having caused the dismissal of the present police magistrate, and what he says about that official is so pointed and direct that it has been drawn to the attention of the Attorney General, who has commissioned Judge Leamy to investigate.

NELSON SUCCESS CLUB.

The apparatus for the gymnasium has arrived, and by the first of next week will be in readiness for use. The gymnasium will have a vaulting horse, parallel bars, horizontal bar suspended, flying rings, punching bags, Indian clubs, dumb bells, chest weights, single sticks, foils, etc., so that almost every form of indoor exercise may be obtained. Shower baths and lockers will be installed within a few days. Regular classes of instruction will be formed, and before the hot weather comes it is the intention to hold an assault-at-arms.

The chess tournament has aroused great interest during the past week. The odds for first place are slightly in favor of H. J. Harbour, with W. A. Jowett a close second. The tournament will close this week.

Preparations for the "at home" on the 16th instant are well under way. Fraternity hall has been engaged for the dancing, and the K. of P. hall above, where a quiet rubber of whist may be indulged in by those who do not care to dance. The proceeds will be devoted to the gymnasium fund.

At the meeting of the mock parliament last Monday night, John Frazer's bill regarding the tax on mines was read a third time and finally passed, after the opposition's amendment—five per cent of a tax on the net profits of all mines—had been adopted.

On Wednesday next the government will introduce an education bill, which it is hoped will eliminate some of the present existing evils of the educational system of the province. It is rumored that a firm of contractors allied to Mackenzie & Mann will endeavor to rush a bill through, giving them a heavy land and cash bonus for a proposed line of railway terminating at Port Simpson. The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

JOHN HOUSTON, Editor.

SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1903

One of the greatest charms of Nelson is the beauty of its gardens. Many citizens take the greatest care of lawns and spend comparatively large amounts for flowers and plants, and visitors are always impressed with the splendid floral beauty resulting from their efforts. It has been suggested that the city council or the agricultural society should offer prizes, not necessarily large, for the best kept gardens, so as to promote a still greater rivalry between our amateur gardeners.

The legislative assembly opened on Thursday, and an adjournment was taken till Monday after a couple of bills were introduced. John Oliver attempted to make a speech censuring the government, but the speaker ruled him out of order. The estimates are prepared, as are the plans for Nelson's new court-house. The plans show an up-to-date and spacious building, suitable in every way for the requirements of Nelson. It is now up to the member for Nelson to get the necessary appropriation for the construction of the buildings. Can he do it? Not if the Nelson "soreheads" can prevent it.

It seems that at last the people of British Columbia are going to be allowed to have some say as to the exclusion of Chinese from the province. Premier Laurier introduced a bill to increase the poll-tax on Chinese from $100 to $500, but nothing is to be done to keep out the Japanese, the premier saying that question had been settled by the prohibition of emigration from Japan. This is all right as far as it goes, but some stringent measure should be introduced which would be at once put into effect should the Japanese government change its mind on the subject. There should be no loophole left by which a horde of Japanese could be suddenly dumped into the province to the detriment of white labor.

Robert Scott Lennie is the man who has been selected by the Conservatives of Nelson as their next representative in the provincial parliament, so says David Mark Carley, and he has decided to run. David Mark says many nice things about Mr. Lennie, that he is honorable, straight-forward, and of more than average ability, with all of which those who know Mr. Lennie will cordially agree. David Mark says Mr. Lennie is a young man. He may be so considered, but if David Mark thinks because of his youth Mr. Lennie will seriously consider himself as the Conservative candidate because the former and three or four very young Conservatives met after the manner of the three tailors of Tooley street, and resolved that they represented the Conservatives of Nelson, he is much mistaken.

In another column will be found the way the Nelson Conservative candidate for the legislative assembly will be chosen. The executive of the Conservative party met on Saturday last in Vancouver and decided upon the way delegates to choose candidates should be elected. When the Conservative party meet publicly to nominate a candidate Mr. Lennie's friends will have the same opportunity as others to forward his candidature, and if he can get a majority at the convention he will, in all probability, be the next member for Nelson in the provincial house. But, there are others.

The question as to whether anonymous letters should be admitted into newspapers is one which can be argued indefinitely. There is no question, however, that men holding official positions should be protected by editors who admit anonymous letters. These letters are perhaps admitted because of the smartness and vituperation which can be indulged in by "Citizen," who would not be half so readable if the effusion was printed over his own signature. This paper frequently disagrees with alderman Selous' methods in the council chamber and elsewhere, but it draws the line at letting irresponsible scribblers vilify the alderman when he, in what he considers the discharge of his public duty, runs counter to some private interest.

The Provincial Lord's Day Association of B.C. is circulating a petition to the legislative assembly, asking that a law may be passed for such better observance of the Lord's Day as will secure for every worker a day of rest, said law to "prohibit all servile labor upon that day except work of necessity and charity, and to be applicable to corporations and individuals, also to prohibit all such games, pastimes, excursions and trade as involve unnecessary labor and interfere with the right of every man to have the day as a day of rest and of opportunity for worship if he so desires. And we thus petition because we realize the importance of maintaining the day in its integrity as one of the safeguards of our national life." The work of the Lord's Day Association is very much on an equality with the Good Templars and other extremists of the temperance party, and the petitioners will most probably find that the legislative assembly of British Columbia has too much work before it for this and many other sessions to give the necessary time to enact laws of this nature. Workingmen are nearly always ready and sometimes anxious to have a well earned rest on Sunday, but whether the majority of the people are anxious to have legislative enactments prohibiting games, pastimes, excursions, etc., is much to be doubted. Until the ministers of all denominations can, by their own special efforts, so control their congregations that Sunday fishing, picnics and games of various kinds now in vogue, are discontinued, it is idle to expect the general public to agree to any curtailment of their privileges, as set out in this petition.

PROVINCIAL POLITICS.

The legislative assembly met on Thursday with the usual formal ceremonies. The speech from the throne contained little of interest, and the little it contained indicates that the session will be a short one, followed by a dissolution. The estimates are said to be ready and will be presented next week.

* * *

The executive of the Conservative party for the province met at Vancouver on Saturday, all the members being present, as was Charles Wilson, K.C., the party's leader. The province was divided into five divisions for organization purposes, each division to be in charge of a member of the executive. The Kootenay-Boundary division includes all the electoral districts of Grand Forks and Greenwood, and will be in charge of R. F. Green of Kaslo. Conventions for nominating candidates for the legislative assembly will be made up of delegates chosen as follows: In city electoral districts one delegate for every 50 and fraction of 50 votes polled at the provincial election held in 1900, and if the city is divided into wards the proportion of delegates for each ward shall be based on the vote polled in each ward at the last municipal election. In other than city electoral districts one delegate for 50 or fraction of 50 votes polled at the provincial election held in 1900, the delegates to be apportioned to polling places or as near thereto as will be fair to the voters of the different neighborhoods. The election of delegates shall be at public meetings held at a designated central place in each polling division, or in each ward in city electoral districts if the city is divided into wards. At such public meetings only those who pledge themselves to vote for the candidate or candidates selected at the coming convention shall be entitled to vote for delegates. Two weeks' notice shall be given of the meetings at which delegates are to be elected. Nominating conventions shall be held in city electoral districts two days after the day on which delegates are elected, and in other electoral districts seven days after. All nominations throughout the province to be made at a designated central place in each electoral district and on the same date. All notices of the date of public meetings for the election of delegates to nominating conventions, the apportionment of delegates, and the place and date of nominating conventions in the several electoral districts shall be prepared and issued by the members of the executive in charge of the division in which the electoral districts are situated and shall be over the names of the president and secretary of the executive of the Liberal-Conservative Union of B. C. The above shows that the organization machinery of the Conservative party in British Columbia is in the hands of men who are not afraid to allow the people to have a voice in nominating the party's candidates. The people alone have the right to elect delegates to nominating conventions, and if they exercise their rights the candidates nominated should be the best and most available men in the several districts. Men who refuse to support the nominees of conventions are barred from participating in the election of delegates. This will probably be unsatisfactory to the sorehead elements in Victoria, Vancouver and Nelson, but will be most satisfactory to those who are in earnest in supporting the party line movement.

* * *

The faction in the Liberal party who is opposed to the leadership of Joseph Martin are organizing associations in out-of-the-way places, and these associations are passing resolutions in support of the action taken by the Vancouver association. This faction of the Liberal party is also outspoken as against the redistribution bill passed at the last session. They say that East and West Kootenay are not entitled to nine seats in the legislative assembly. It is the old fight against giving all the sections of the province fair representation. What Kootenay has she will hold if her people are true to themselves, but she will not be true to herself if the people stand in with mugwumps and soreheads.

PROVINCIAL NOTES.

Many wealthy Swiss farmers have sold their property in order to emigrate with their families to Canada. The glowing accounts sent home by Swiss immigrants of the fine prospects here is causing an emigration fever in Switzerland for Canada.

At a meeting of the executive of the Socialist party of B. C. held in Vancouver, a letter was read from Miss B. E. Merrill saying she contemplated leaving Nelson, as Local Nelson was in arrears of dues. Comrade J. W. Bennett of Revelstoke was appointed her successor.

The work on the C.P.R. hotel at Banff is finished. The old building has been entirely remodelled and a new wing added containing 100 bedrooms, with baths and every convenience.

Owing to the very low water in the Fraser river near Yale quite a number of Indians, Chinese, half-breeds and a few white men are making good wages. Saw Mill point has never been exposed for thirty years until this month. From $5 to $20 per man per day is being taken out at this point. The gold dredger is said to have passed over this piece of rich ground last year without working it.

TOURIST ASSOCIATIONS.

Our doubts are traitors,
And make us lose the good we oft might win
By fearing to attempt. OTHELLO.

It is only comparatively of late years that any particular interest has attached to the advertising of localities possessed of sufficient scenic and sporting attractiveness to appeal to the imagination of the tourist and sportsman. Florida has been boomed as a winter resort to such an extent that it has become to this continent what the Riviera is to Europe, and owing to its geographical position will hold the ground permanently for the greater number of winter migrators. Colorado sings its climatic praises on all sides, while California charms the winter imagination of the Easterners with views of mid-winter sea bathing and flowers that know no season. These three states are spending in one way and another huge sums of money in laying before the outside world their climatic advantages, and there is no reason to doubt the statements made that the money thus expended has been well laid out.

Following the success that attended the early individual and corporeal efforts in these states, the transportation companies started immense advertising campaigns and flooded the land with descriptive circulars, booklets and letters, all be it said beautifully executed, setting forth the attractivess of the various regions along the respective lines. Stimulated by their success, the steamship companies fell into line and are now in the hey-day of a great campaign to bring prominently before the tourist, sportsman and health seeker the advantages of short sea trips for health sake, winter in the lands of eternal summer, and summer in the lands of eternal winter.

The outcome of all this publicity has been to arouse the desire to make known one's existence to the outside world in some specific manner in the heart of every city and town having the slightest pretension to scenic attractiveness, and the formation of the tourist association movement has been the means of revolutionizing the general attitude towards that large and increasing army of travellers which is turned loose for about three or four months in every year. From the merely ordinary feeling of welcome has arisen the conviction in the public mind that the average tourist represents something more than the money value of his hotel bill; that while countries like Switzerland, Italy, France, etc., have profited and still do by millions represented by the actual travelling disbursements of the foreign public, in the case of this continent there is the additional factor of a possible investor in every visitor to our midst. As a result, greater efforts than ever are being put forth by these associations in order to capture a goodly share of this annual pilgrimage.

Familiarity breeds indifference. What appears commonplace to the mountain dweller will send the prairie rancher into rhapsodies, while the magnificent freedom of the treeless country will be an unspeakable joy to the man who hardly knows what it is to be able to turn round without apologizing to a tree stump. Man is ever seeking change; hills look green from afar, as well set forth in the poem of the "Pine and the Palm," by Schiller; the pine sings its dirge in the far north and wishes it were the palm on the desert at the same time as the latter muses on the joy of living amid the long and cruel winters of the far north. And year by year do countless thousands figure on the change they will snatch by way of a few weeks' travel, and are commencing even now to figure out the summer tour, comparing closely the advantages of the multifarious routes and places.

Of all the great railways, none have surpassed the C.P.R. in the manner they brought the scenic attractiveness of their line before the public far and large. They have seized on the practical monetary value of the grand scenery the line passes through and entered it up in their ledger as an asset of no mean order. The enormous investments they have made in the Rockies and Selkirks in the way of hostelries, all of which are taxed to their utmost during the travel season, are in themselves evidence that they are paying their way, which is all that could be expected.

The position of Nelson in the matter is one that calls for immediate activity if we are to participate in this year's tourist activity. The "Kootenay trip," which would include the lake trip down the Arrow lakes to Nelson, Rossland, and Kaslo, closing with a run over the Columbia & Western, can hardly be surpased by novelty and attractiveness. Travellers from the South can make a very interesting round trip by way of taking in Grank Forks and Republic over the C. & W. to Nelson and to Spokane, while the travellers via the Crow have a round-trip through Nelson, north to Revelstoke and home via Calgary.

The local tourist association can profitably take up the matter in earnest with the assurance that it will receive the support of the citizens. We cannot possibly have too many people come to see us, and money spent in inducing them to come here will be profitably invested.

Civic publicity, like unto all other, is a splendid investment when intelligently managed. Nelson has much to recommend it from a scenic point of view. We must not imagine that because what we see around us seems common place that it will appear so in the eyes of an outsider. Ruskin saw beauty on the muddy old Thames near Chelsea. Thousands of toilers in the cities would look upon the Kootenay river, as seen from the upper town, with unfeigned delight.

F. W. PETTIT.

[In reply to enquiries, E. K. Beeston, the secretary of the Kootenay Tourist Association, says they have now completed the pamphlet which appears a necessity for general advertising of the district, and it will be in the hands of the public in a few days. The suggestion regarding round trip tickets is a very good one. It has already received attention, and it is expected the C.P.R. authorities will assist by every means in their power.—ED.]
