Who are we?

- cIRcle is an open access digital repository for the published and unpublished output of the UBC community and its partners
- The Irving K. Barber Learning Centre is dedicated to UBC’s academic and community engagement missions

Objectives

1. Support UBC Library’s goal to bring the world’s knowledge to UBC and to connect UBC’s knowledge to the world
2. Promote knowledge sharing, and support opportunities for leading experts and advocates from UBC and around the world to exchange ideas and to influence future directions and discoveries
3. Capture and openly disseminate academic dialogue and social inquiry in partnership with the UBC community, the Library, cIRcle and Irving K. Barber Learning Centre’s community outreach programmes

Capture local events that have global significance

- cIRcle 2010 Olympics and Paralympics Project
  • viewed 15,296 times!
- Irving K. Barber Learning Centre Webcast Programming Series in cIRcle
  • viewed 6,320 times!
- BC Mine Reclamation Symposium in cIRcle
  • viewed 2,703 times!
- 2008 Vogt Symposium (Nuclear Physics) in cIRcle
  • viewed 1,026 times!

Collaborate across UBC Library to make information accessible to anyone, anywhere

Bring the world’s knowledge to UBC and connect UBC’s knowledge to the world

Top countries viewing materials in cIRcle

Find out more about us

- cIRcle: UBC’s Digital Repository
  http://circle.ubc.ca/
- UBC Library Digital Initiatives
  http://diginiti.library.ubc.ca/
- Irving K. Barber Learning Centre
  http://www.ikebarberlearningcentre.ubc.ca/
- Open UBC
  http://scholcomm.ubc.ca/events-awards/owweek/
- Innovative Dissemination of Research Award
  http://scholcomm.ubc.ca/events-awards/award/

Tara Stephens, cIRcle, UBC Library
tara.stephens@ubc.ca circle.ubc.ca July 2011