

Turning walls into windows at UBC

from Community Outreach to Global Access

Who are we?

- cIRcle is an open access digital repository for the published and unpublished output of the UBC community and its partners
- The Irving K. Barber Learning Centre is dedicated to UBC's academic and community engagement missions

Capture local events that have global significance

cIRcle 2010 Olympics and Paralympics Project
viewed 15,216 times!

Irving K. Barber Learning Centre Webcast Programming Series in cIRcle
viewed 6,230 times!

BC Mine Reclamation Symposium in cIRcle
viewed 2,703 times!

2008 Vogt Symposium (Nuclear Physics) in cIRcle
viewed 1,026 times!

Objectives

- Support UBC Library's goal to bring the world's knowledge to UBC and to connect UBC's knowledge to the world
- Promote knowledge sharing, and support opportunities for leading experts and advocates from UBC and around the world to exchange ideas and to influence future directions and discoveries
- Capture and openly disseminate academic dialogue and social inquiry in partnership with the UBC community, the Library, cIRcle and Irving K. Barber Learning Centre's community outreach programmes

Collaborate across UBC Library to make information accessible to anyone, anywhere

Bring the world's knowledge to UBC and connect UBC's knowledge to the world

Top countries viewing materials in cIRcle

Find out more about us

- cIRcle: UBC's Digital Repository
<http://circle.ubc.ca/>
- UBC Library Digital Initiatives
<http://diginet.library.ubc.ca/>
- Irving K. Barber Learning Centre
<http://www.ikebarberlearningcentre.ubc.ca/>
- Open UBC
<http://scholcomm.ubc.ca/events-awards/oaweek/>
- Innovative Dissemination of Research Award <http://scholcomm.ubc.ca/events-awards/award/>

a place of mind
THE UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA