Mine Footballers Defeat Rangers In Hard Fought Game

Interesting and spectacular was the game played on Thursday last, between the Mine and Rangers, when a misjudged kick by Ion towards the end of the game gave victory to the Mine. Some regular players from both teams were absent, and their places were capably filled by aspiring younger players. Shields, at full back for the Rangers made his debut in league football and acquitted himself creditably.

An outstanding feature of the game was the splendid work of Herzl, between the sticks for the Mine. Peppered from all angles, especially in the second half, this sterling goalie saved shot after shot and cleared perfectly. The odd goal against the Mine was a dropping "twister" by Peel which gave Herzl no chance. A penalty kick against the Mine in the first half was well stopped.

For a while after the interval the play was chiefly around the Mine end, with Peel, Buchanan and Allen constantly harassing the Mine defense. On the breakaways the Mine forwards were unable to find their mark, frequently kicking high. Galbraith, however, was called upon several times, notably when Calderoni headed in two shots in quick succession. Shortly after this Ion, in attempting to kick the ball over his head near the goal, sent it through.

The first counter for the Mine came from a penalty kick, nicely taken by Dick Schaefer. Jack Evans was the capable referee.

The teams: Rangers: Galbraith; Ion, Shields; Ellison, Hamilton, Dodsworth; Allen, Ferguson, Peel, Buchanan, Flye. Mine: Herzl; Draney, Dixon; Clarkson, Francis, Phillips; Schafer, Owen, Calderoni, Galbraith, Martin.

Surprise Party Given To T. W. Falconer

Some surprise parties are a fizzle, some are mediocre and some are swell. In the last category can be placed the surprise party sprung on T. W. Falconer of Alice Arm on Tuesday evening, on which day he celebrated another birthday. A large number of his friends,—in fact all the bridge players and dancers of the town—invaded the house while the boss was beguiled elsewhere. They crowded the living quarters and overflowed into the large hall adjoining, and the surprise was complete.

Following the recovery of the surprise recipient, card playing was commenced in the hall. This was followed by a sumptuous supper, which was digested by dancing until the small hours of the following morning.

From beginning to end it was a lively, successful party, well worth the loss of a few hours' sleep.

By the way, it almost escaped our memory to say that, Mrs. W. M. Cummings took home the ladies' first prize for bridge, and Mr. Morris Petersen modestly pocketed the men's prize.

Alice Arm Lakes Will Not Be Stocked With Fish This Year

A. D. Yorke, secretary of the Alice Arm branch of the B. C. Chamber of Mines, received a letter this week from the Department of Fisheries stating that it would be impossible to ship any eggs of the Kamloops trout here this year for the purpose of further restocking lakes with fish.

The reason given was that owing to high water in certain lakes in the south, where the spawn is procured, the obtaining of the eggs was not possible.

Last year several lakes in the district were stocked with eggs and latest observations showed that they had matured very successfully.

Colts and Beach Win Baseball Games

The Colts' baseball team dazzled the Beach with their brilliant play in the game on Friday evening. In perfect weather they batted the Beach all over the lot and won the game with a 10 to 3 score.

In the game between the Beach and Cubs on Tuesday the former were victorious with a score of 10 to 6. Lazorek was on the mound for the Cubs and pitched a great game. This was his first appearance this season.

C. O. Fricker Beat W. Henderson In Golf Final

In the semi-final of the flight for the Men's Open Golf Championship, C. O. Fricker won from Geo. Lee 4 and 3, and in the final the same player beat Henderson 8 up and 6 to go. Fricker thus qualifies to meet Sid Peters over the 36-hole route for the Club championship.

One way not to get up is to continually run down others.

Activities of The Anyox Wolf Cubs, Scouts, and Rovers

The First Anyox Pack of Wolf Cubs are progressing excellently under the leadership of Mr. Bamforth. All the boys are now working for their badges after having passed the preliminary tests.

The pack has been divided into two sections, one of which meets at the Beach on Thursdays and the other at the Mine on Fridays, and a united meeting is held once a month. Great progress is being shown by the boys.

The Scout Troop is eagerly looking forward to their summer camp outing. It has been decided to make the camp at Clearwater Creek, Alice Arm. The Troop will go into camp on July 23rd. and stay until August 13th. A good programme of activities is being arranged, including a field day for the boys and girls of Alice Arm Softball games, etc. will also be played.

On Friday last, Lone Scout Michael Blomfield, who was on a visit to Anyox from Alice Arm, passed his Tenderfoot and was invested as a Scout in the presence of the Anyox Troop. Both he and the boys enjoyed the event, and we hope he will camp with us this season.

The Rovers are doing their best to live up to their ideal of service. They have constructed a raft which will be used for diving at the Elks' Beach. They also cleaned up the Beach and at the same time made improvements on the trail, which was blocked up.

Celts and Mine Play A Drawn Game

In ideal weather, and with a good number of spectators, the Celts and Mine drew one all in the league fixture on Monday last. A fine exhibition of football was provided. Both goals scored were from mix-ups close to goal, which gave the goalies no chance. Good defensive work on both sides marked the game throughout. Jimmy Currie, a newcomer from Prince Rupert, gave a good account of himself at full-back for the Celts. Herzl, the Mine custodian, gave a stellar performance, and Williams the Celts' centre-half, played a fine game.

The teams: Celts: Evans; Johnstone, Currie; Murray, Williams, J. Gillies; Buntain, Davies, Horner, Francis, L. Gillies. Mine: Herzl; Draney, Dixon; Turner, Horne, Clarkson; Calderoni, Phillips, Coggan, Jelbert, Schaefer.

The months of July and August, which are the big holiday months of the year, will soon be with us and everyone in Anyox will yearn for a holiday out in the open air away from the smelter smoke and whistle and the monotony of every-day work. These are the days when economy rules in regard to holidays as in other matters. Long expensive trips are out of the question for many during the present period of low wages, and holiday resorts closer at hand will again be in favor this year. Luckily for Anyox people the beautiful town and district of Alice Arm is within a two-hour trip of home. Alice Arm is the most picturesque and ideal holiday resort on the northern coast. Here the trees are clad in many shades and wild flowers abound in profusion. Numerous shady roads and trails offer pleasant walks. Sparkling rivers and creeks lure the fisherman, while mountain climbing, boating, swimming, tennis, etc. can also be indulged in. The attractions of Alice Arm are many, and not among the least is that the cost of taking such a holiday is reduced to a minimum. One can live practically as cheap amid these pleasant surroundings as at home. You owe yourself a holiday. You owe the children one also. Why not take advantage of the opportunity?

Whether silver will be re-monetized by the present London Economic Conference still remains unsettled. Silver has many friends at the Conference. It also has many enemies, which makes the outcome doubtful. All we can do is to hope for the best and prepare for the worst.

Iceland Born Duck Was Shot In Quebec

The banding of young birds, which is carried on as a joint effort by the governments of the United States and Canada under the provisions of the Migratory Birds Convention is resulting in the compilation of valuable data.

Last Fall a resident of Bradore Bay in Northeastern Quebec, shot a drake pin-tail which bore a small aluminium band on one of its wings. This band was stamped with a Danish name and address which he sent to a member of the migratory bird staff of the department of the interior at Ottawa.

An investigation by that department proved that the bird had been banded as a duckling on June 30, 1930 in Aldaldal, northern Iceland.

Canada Gold Production Bounds Upward

Canada produced 260,154 ounces of gold in March as compared with 228,224 ounces in the preceding month and 255,675 ounces in March, 1932. During the first three months of 1932 gold output totalled 721,834 ounces, a 0.9 per cent advance over the production in the corresponding period of 1932.

Ontario's production rose to 198,875 ounces from the February total of 177,994 ounces. A slight advance was recorded in the output of gold in Quebec; the month's production amounted to 28,719 ounces as against 27.306 ounces in February. Production in British Columbia totalled 18,306 ounces in March; during the preceding month 12,263 ounces were produced Manitoba produced 14,120 ounces as compared with 10,223 ounces in February. The March production was the highest on record since August, 1932. There was a small production of gold from the Yukon and Nova Scotia during March.

Aerial Mapping of Queen Charlotte Islands Finished

A programme of aerial mapping and photography which has been in progress on the Queen Charlotte Islands for several weeks has now been completed, and two Fairchild seaplanes of the Royal Canadian Air Force, which were engaged in the work with base at Queen Charlotte City, left recently for their headquarters at Jericho Beach air station, Vancouver. Flying Officer Dunlap, flying one of the planes, has been in charge of the expedition.

Wild Animals Friendly on Banff-Windermere Highway

MAMMA BEAR AND KIDS, LAKE LOUISE

BIGHORN SHEEP STOP CARS NEAR BANFF

CINNAMON BEAR NEAR BANFF

BOZO, BEAR TRAFFIC COP

"The Friendly Road," by David Grayson, which is well-known to many lovers of nature, depicts incidents and friendliness of people along country roads and in the rural districts. There is, however, a road in the Canadian Rockies the friendliness of which is not due to mortals as in Grayson's book, but to the friendliness of animals. Animals termed wild, but in this instance a word that cannot be applied to those on the Banff-Windermere Highway. There is possibly no more beautiful road than this which runs from Banff to Lake Windermere, in the Columbia River Valley. The distance of 104 miles is spectacular and the scenes are constantly changing. The views from the high passes looking down into valleys, thousands of feet below, tiny lakes surrounded by alpine meadows, rivers crossed and recrossed, and glimpses of cascades tumbling down slopes from dizzy heights are intriguing and beautiful.

To this natural beauty is added that of seeing the animals in their natural haunts. Rocky Mountain sheep are seen on the road along Vermilion Lakes not far from Banff. They are so tame that often motors have to slow down as they will persist, almost to the point of danger, in standing in the middle of the highway.

Bozo, a black bear, is a friend to many motorists on the Banff-Windermere road. He comes out on the highway as if he had sole right to it. He does not resent these invaders in the least and really wishes to show his friendliness. Sometimes he has lunches handed to him and the remarks of "nice old chap, fine old fellow," please him tremendously, and he will try to come even nearer. Bozo no doubt had many dreams during the winter of summer tourists, and possibly has figured out in true bear fashion just how to get the most out of the tourist season.

Deer are seen, also, on this famous highway, though not as often as other animals. They are regular visitors to Banff, and are frequently seen on the streets of the village. There are hundreds of miles of smooth motor roads through the Canadian Rockies, and devotees of the open road are visiting this region in increasing numbers annually.

Canoe Trips in Canada

Lakes and Rivers Provide Numerous Attractions

Opportunities for an Enjoyable Vacation Almost Unlimited

THE requirements for a successful and satisfactory trip by canoe; suitable water, picturesque country and an excellent summer climate, can be found almost anywhere in Canada. The innumerable lakes and rivers make the choice of trips almost unlimited. One can travel for hundreds of miles on any of the great rivers, journeying from lake to lake and portaging where rapids impede or heights intervene. Having decided upon the kind of trip to be made, whether one requiring much effort and experience, or one quite free from rapids and portages, the canoeist has only to select his route.

Easy of Access

Although railways and the automobile have provided a means of rapid transport, there are countless places in the quiet of the forest, out of reach of either. It is such places, approachable only by canoe, that invite the adventurer to partake of the wonders of nature. The railways and the development of good roads have however made the majority of canoe routes in Canada easily accessible, and one need not travel far from the majority of Canadian cities before reaching the embarking point of an enjoyable trip.

Forest Beauty

In certain parts one may follow the streams for a long summer outing and never see a village or dwelling, yet civilization lies so close that return is easily possible. Waterfalls, rapids large and small, lakes of singular beauty hidden deep in the forest, and islands covered with pine and spruce trees are among the interesting features encountered en route. In some places one may travel hundreds of miles without meeting obstacles of any kind.

There is a remarkable contrast between the conventionality of modern life and the full naturalness of life in the great forest, where one may relax, amid the beauty of natural surroundings. A strange appeal of imagination comes to one while following the routes of the historic explorers and contentment prevails amid the constant change of beautiful scenery.

Fish and Game in Abundance

Canadian lakes and rivers are renowned for the variety and abundance of their fish. Brook and lake trout are numerous, the latter often weighing from fifteen to thirty pounds while other species of fish are plentiful. Eastern Canada is well provided with waterways, well suited to travel by canoe. Canal systems, rivers large and small, rapids, falls, lakes, stillwaters and all the requirements for an enjoyable canoe trip, await the devotee of the paddle. Whether it be a cruise through a well settled region, or an adventurous journey through the wilderness, the canoeist will find an almost unlimited number of lakes and streams.

The waterways of western Canada, in days gone by, assisted materially in unveiling the mystery of the great country between lake Superior and the Pacific Ocean. Radiating from lake Winnipeg, are routes of romantic interest. Nestling among the mountains of the coast are many beautiful lakes, also streams that wind through the hills, where sport for the angler and hunter may be found.

Free Information

The National Development Bureau of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, has prepared a series of four booklets entitled "Canoe Trips," copies of which may be had by our readers, free of charge. The series covers the Maritime Provinces, Quebec, Ontario and Western Canada. Further detailed information is available to those who require specific data on any particular trip.

Editorial Comment In Regard To Future Silver Prices

What will be the ultimate result of the present agitation for the raising of the price of silver by re-monetizing it, is being widely discussed throughout North America, especially in the silver producing sections. Following is a portion of an editorial published in the Alaska weekly, and also an editorial published in the Financial News, Vancouver. These comments show that many think silver prices will be higher in the not distant future.

FROM THE ALASKA WEEKLY

"Keep your eye on silver. We do not often indulge in a natural editorial propensity to prophecy but we are going to declare this a special occasion and make the statement that the boom in silver properties will overshadow old King Gold before the year is out. We base that assertion on the fact that a reviving world commerce is impossible without the recognition of silver as a stabilized medium of exchange acceptable throughout the world. That recognition will not detract, but will add to the value of gold for it will stimulate world trade in a manner which will vastly increase the demands on all recognized media of exchange. During the month of May, silver imports to the United States amounted to 1,400,000 ounces as against 681,000 ounces for April and 500,000 ounces in May, 1932. Present prices average around 36¾ cents as against 25 cents a year ago. Keep your eye on silver, on the shares in silver properties and on the communities which will develop with increased silver production."

FROM THE FINANCIAL NEWS

"A significant development in the world currency situation not to be underestimated in its ultimate outcome is the acceptance by the United States of a war debt payment by Great Britain in silver, valued arbitrarily at 50 cents an ounce.

This action may possibly be a precedent which will have no sustaining sequel, but it would appear to be silver's first step back to something like its former respectability as a monetary metal.

There are many interests and many economists antagonistic to the return of silver to free coinage and to its stabilization on a price basis in fixed ratio to that of gold. Such a step, they say, would be inflation in a dangerous form.

That same school of economists is inclined to regard silver as a commodity having a value chiefly through its own intrinsic qualities as a metal and as a useful substance for the making of small coins.

United States' action in accepting silver instead of gold in payment of a portion of the June war debt instalment due from Great Britain tends to lift silver out of the class of a commodity and give it at least a partial status with gold as a medium of exchange."

The after-dinner speaker droned on and on; one man nodded and presently rested his head on the table. The chairman leaned over and tapped him on the head with his gavel.

The delinquent raised his head a little.

FRIENDSHIP

A real friend is one who will tell you of your faults and follies in prosperity and assist you with his hand and heart in adversity.—Horace Smith.

The only passion of friendship is of so sweet and steady and loyal and enduring a nature, that it will last through a whole lifetime, if not asked to lend money.—Mark Twain.

To preserve a friend three things are necessary: to honor him present, praise him absent, and assist him in his necessity.—Italian Proverb.
