Anyox and Alice Arm Hockey Teams Battle For Supremacy

Anyox Win Game On Over-Time Play

The hockey game played last Sunday afternoon, at the Alice Arm Skating Rink between the Anyox Mine Club and Alice Arm, proved to be brimful of thrills from start to finish.

It was a battle of the giants and at the end Anyox proved victorious by the score of 3 goals to 2.

The following teams lined up.

Anyox		Alice Arm
S. Peters	goal	C. Warner
A. L. Ployart	defence	G. Young
P. Elliot	right	Gus Anderson
C. E. Anderson	c.	T. W. Falconer
P. Moody	left wing	Al Falconer

Anyox spares: H. Staines, H. McDougall.

Alice Arm spares: H. F. Kergin, M. Smith.

Referee: W. M. Cummings.

Alice Arm were the aggressors during the early part of the game and scored two goals before the Anyox players had settled down. Alice Arm played a bold, dashing game, and kept the puck in the vicinity of Anyox goal for the greater part of the first period, giving Peters a vast amount of work, and the latter proved himself equal to the occasion. Time and again he made some spectacular saves. Alice Arm drew first blood when Gus Anderson scored with a long drive from right wing, and a few minutes later he repeated the performance with a short shot from centre.

The hard practice games of the last few weeks stood the Alice Arm puck chasers in good stead. They gave the visitors no rest and the game at times assumed cyclonic proportions. They tried hard to pile up the score, but Peters was impregnable to further attacks. Al Falconer on the left, T. W. Falconer at centre and Gus Anderson on the right all took a hand in the game of trying to drive the rubber past Peters again, but all in vain. Anyox made some great rallies during the period, but Warner took care of everything they offered him, and the period closed. Alice Arm 2. Anyox 0.

The second period was not a repetition of the first, due to the fact that Anyox commenced to take an interest in the game. They evidently came to the conclusion that if they were going to appear in the picture at all, they would have to step out, and this they commenced to do before much time had elapsed from the face-off. Earle Anderson —who played at Alice Arm with Anyox two years ago—brought all his old time tricks into play, and time and again he broke away and came within an ace of scoring. He was ably supported by his team-mates, and they had a full share of the game during the entire period.

A. L. Ployart—who has chased the puck in more games on the local rink than any other Anyox player, as no hockey team leaves Anyox without him— was a tower of strength on the defence, and a dangerous man in front of goal.

It was a pace killing period, and was a ding-dong battle up and down the ice, with each team alternately bombarding their opponents goal. Neither side could place the elusive rubber between

Esperanza Tungsten May Prove Bonanza

A new strike of rich scheelite ore has been made at the Esperanza mine. The new discovery was made in the tunnel above the Baldy tunnel, and it is stated that the ore is 50 per cent. scheelite. Samples have been sent out for assaying.

In reprinting our report of a few weeks ago of the discovery of scheelite ore at the Esperanza, the Portland Canal News gives the following information regarding present price of tungsten.

"Engineers and Mining Journal Press of December 27th. last quotes high-grade western scheelite ore at $9 to $6.25 per unit, which at the lower figure, would be $900 per ton of tungsten contained, f.o.b N. Y. We have been expecting to hear of wolframite being found in this district, but not scheelite. This discovery adds emphasis to an editorial we published a few weeks ago, urging every prospector and operator to have analysed all rock of which he is not absolutely sure. It will be remembered that platinum and palladium estimated at millions of dollars in value were lost by the Saltchuck mine when its ore was being shipped as bornite copper."

Alice Arm Couple Wed In Anyox

On Monday afternoon January 19th., Mr. Charles Lee Intermella was united in marriage to Miss Lyllian Nickerson. Both bride and groom are residents of Alice Arm. The ceremony took place on board the motor launch Fisherman, at Anyox. The Rev. J. Herdman was the officiating clergyman and the witnesses were Mrs. Herdman and Mr. W. Cody.

The bride was for some time employed at the beach and mine dining rooms. They will make their home at Alice Arm.

A painful, and perhaps, serious accident, occurred at the Alice Arm Skating Rink last night, during the League game between the Wildcats and Bears. R. F. McGinnis, who was playing for the Bears was struck in the eye by a flying puck, which broke his glasses, and portions of the glass penetrated the eye. He was taken to Anyox Hospital for treatment this morning.

Wildcats Still Top The Hockey League

Only two games in the Alice Arm Hockey League have been played during the week. Wednesday's game between the Tigers and Bears being postponed until this evening.

The game on Monday between the Tigers and Wildcats, was full of surprises. The Tigers having lost two games to the Wildcats, it was expected that they would again be the victims, but the Tigers slipped one over on their opponents, and after a high-speed game, ran out victors by the score of 8 goals to 2.

This win gave the Tigers an equal number of points as their opponents, with one less game played.

The game last evening between the Wildcats and Bears, resulted in a win by the former, by the score of 4 to 1. This win places the Wildcats in the lead again, but they have played two more games than the Tigers and one more than the Bears.

The standing of the teams is as follows:

	Pld.	Won	Lost	Pts
Wildcats	7	4	3	8
Tigers	5	3	2	6
Bears	6	2	4	4

Premier Ferguson of Ontario, as Minister of Education, seems to be endearing himself to the future generation by cutting down the amount of homework which boys and girls are called upon to perform in the public schools of that province. There is little doubt that a justifiable complaint against school systems, and it is particularly noticeable in this province, is the amount of homework, especially when pupils reach the high school age. It is generally admitted that the amount of homework set is usually in inverse ratio to the ability of the teachers to impart knowledge, though we should not like to think that was the case in this province. Where a teacher is incompetent or slack in his or her work it is noticeable that an effort is made to fill up the deficiencies by setting lengthy home tasks to the pupils. The teacher thus unloads on the children what ought to have been carried on his or her own shoulders.

The better teaching, the less necessity there is for home study.

There is an anomaly in the present state of affairs. In the old days, the adult put in longer hours at his task than the child. Now the reverse is the case. There should be no reason why the school boy or girl should have to slave every evening in order to keep up with his or her classes. The average school child, after reaching a certain age, more often than not puts in more time at work than adults who are engaged in earning the means of livelihood. The consequence of excessive homework is physical disadvantage, and it is indeed questionable how far the educational results are benefitted. Premier Ferguson of Ontario has come to the conclusion that the youth of the province are not benefitted under the present system and has ordered a change. The homework rut is making educational development stilted, and Ontario's example could with advantage, be followed widely.---Victoria Colonist.

Canadian Mines Spend Large Amount of Money For Supplies

A survey just reported by the mining branch of the Dominion bureau of statistics at Ottawa shows that supplies used in the Canadian mining industry during 1923 reached a total value of above $7,000,000, including nearly $3,000,000, worth of powder for blasting and more than $2,000,000 spent for mine timber.

Cyanide, used chiefly in the extraction of the precious metals from northern Ontario ores, cost upward of $500,000, while steel liners for ball mills, steel balls and grinding pebbles cost altogether nearly $750,000.

Showing as it does the market for general mine supplies in Canada, the report is one of the most valuable to the trade that has appeared for some time. Reports of consumption are usually difficult to obtain, as the statistics generally collected cover only the production field, with supplementary data on the import and export trade.

B. C. Ore Concentrates Will Go To Anaconda

Shipments of concentrates which have been going forward by water from New Westminster to Swansea, England, and Antwerp, Belgium, will cease very soon, the Anaconda Copper Company at Anaconda, Montana having arranged to take the surplus from the big Sullivan concentrator at Kimberley which is not being handled at present at the smelter of The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of Canada, Ltd., at Tadanac. The statement is made by J. M. McGill of British Columbia Export Company, that arrangements have been made with a number of properties to begin shipments in the spring, smelter interests in Swansea, England, being very anxious to secure large shipments of British Columbia ores.

Curling and Skating Rinks For Cranbrook and Revelstoke

Cranbrook,s new five-sheet curling rink is completed. It cost $6500. Revelstoke has just finished a combined curling and skating palace at a cost of over $12,000.

Anyox and Alice Arm Hockey Teams Battle For Supremecy

the posts, and at the close of the period the score still stood 2 goals in favor of the home team.

The third period was the one in which the visitors shone resplendent, and which proved disastrous for the home team. Anyox. who had been playing a persistent, but not too strenuous a game, still had a reserve of strength, and they now poured it out with a prodigal hand.

Earle Anderson made a solo rush and scored with a long shot from the centre. He followed it a minute later with a shot from a rebound, equalizing the score, and the laurel wreath of victory was within reach.

Both teams settled down to play hockey with every ounce of energy in them, and both goalkeepers were bombarded with a hurricane of shots. Alice Arm players, did their utmost to score, but Peters blocked everything, and the close of the game saw the score 2-2.

Overtime play then followed. The first goal scored to finish the game, McDougall did the trick for the visitors with a short drive from centre, and Anyox were the victors of one of the most exciting games ever played in the north, by the score of 3-2

The game was marked by good, clean play throughout, and the best of good fellowship prevailed between the opposing teams. The visitors were more youthful than the home team, and with more practice would develop into a formidable aggregation. Alice Arm played a dashing game throughout and did not give the visitors a moments rest.

It is hoped that the two teams will meet again this winter either at Alice Arm or Anyox. In fact there is no reason why several more such games could not be played before the spring sun makes its presence felt.
