Annual Sports Rally Was Best Ever Held By A. C. L.

Complete success attended the Annual Sports Rally which was held in the Gymnasium on Monday evening, November 19th. The affair was sponsored by the Mine and Beach branches of the Anyox Community League, and over two hundred persons were entertained as guests of the league.

A programme of vocal and musical events was carried out, several brief speeches were made, and the various basketball, baseball and softball trophies won during the past season were presented to the winning teams and members.

These presentations included the Senior A and Senior B basketball trophies, the Granby baseball trophy, and the softball trophy. In addition to these there were individual prizes for "A" and "B" Basketball players, for the winners of the Softball League, viz., the Adanacs, and for Elks' Baseball team. An interesting event was the presentation by Mr. J. L. Stewart of the trophy cup emblematic of the Northern B. C. Basketball championship. This cup, donated by Mr. S. Jabour, Northern representative of the Sun Life Assurance Company, was received by Mr. Don MacLeod on behalf of Anyox, which town won the cup in the series of games played during the season 1933-34.

Mr. McNicholas referred briefly to the excellent baseball which had been witnessed during the past season, and the sportsmanship of the Elks' team, the winners. Mr. Dodsworth, one of the basketball commissioners, made an appeal to those present to rally round the game, and to the players to be good sportsmen for the sake of the game itself and the healthy recreation it provided.

Mr. Maxwell apologized for the absence of Mr. Booking, who had intended to be present but was prevented by stress of business. Mr. Maxwell spoke on behalf of sport, especially baseball, and expressed the earnest hope that we would all be here next year and enjoy our sports as we always have done.

Mr. R. L. Healy, in a neat speech, stated that this was the biggest and best banquet of the kind so far held. It was a fitting climax to the year's sports activities. All our sports were well patronized in the past year, he stated, and would continue to be supported if the games were well

Entertainment Enjoyed At Sports Rally

Talent in plenty featured the annual Sports Rally, which was held in the Gymnasium on Monday evening last, by the Beach and Mine Branches of the Community League. Chairman Manning lost no time in getting the entertainment under way.

A fine start was made by S. Anderson, who gave some piano accordion solos. This artist is versatile and accomplished, and was called upon again later in the evening. W. Thompson sang "Vienna" and "Flying Trapeze," in good style. Messrs Buntain, White and Heywood pleased everyone with their Hawaiian trio. Jack Pinckney sang, in fine voice "When Irish Eyes are Smiling," and R. Brown was in excellent voice in "Dinah" and a vocal number by Morgan Flye was much appreciated. E. R. Oatman gave an original recitation, based on an actual incident during one of the baseball games of the past season, which brought down the house.

Mr. F. Dresser was the accompanist. A most enjoyable evening was brought to a close, with the singing of "God Save the King."

Oddfellows' and Rebekahs' Card Party and Dance Enjoyed

A very successful Card Party and Dance was held by the Oddfellows and Rebekahs on Friday evening, November 16th. Bridge and Whist were played during the first part of the evening. The Whist prizes went to: Mrs. C. Eklof, Mrs. A. Croxford, Mr. V. Watson and Mr. R. Fox. Those for Bridge going to: Mrs. W. Barbour, Mrs. D. Boyd, Mr. J. Currie and Mr. H. Henderson.

A delicious supper was followed by dancing the music being furnished by Wilson Reid's Orchestra and they deserve credit for assisting to make the evening the great success it was. The following old time dances were very popular: the French Minuet, old time Waltz and Military Two-Step. A large number of people were present. The proceeds have been added to the Oddfellows' and Rebekahs' Children's Christmas Tree Fund.

played. Mr. T. N. Youngs spoke of the encouragement which softball had received. An ambitious schedule of games had been carried out, the public had given the game splendid support, and even the weather had been allied on our side.

Chrysanthemum Coons Will Present Two Concerts

A real treat awaits Anyox people at the two concerts which will be presented shortly by the Mine Chrysanthemum Coons, under the direction of Mr. T. H. Bamforth.

It will be remembered that this lively company of blackface minstrels gave two concerts last season which were most enjoyable. From advance information, the concerts now being arranged will be even better than previous ones. The dates are: November 29th. Mine Hall; December 3rd. Recreation Hall.

The repertoire of this troop is quite varied, several of the members having excellent solo voices, as well as being talented in other ways. At this particular time a good dose of laugh medicine will be good for everybody, and we can promise that there will be plenty of hearty laughs. These coons have a habit of working in some comical references to local celebrities. Watch out for these. Keep one of those dates open and you will be glad you did so.

Alice Arm Would Feel Loss Of Anyox

The closing of the Anyox plant by the Granby Company, would adversely affect Alice Arm in a good many ways. Many people of the latter town, however, are hoping that mining operations will commence on a fairly large scale next year, so that steamship transportation facilities will not be interrupted. Many also feel that some company will operate the Anyox smelter as a customs smelter as soon as ore tonnage is available in the north.

The Alice Arm people have enjoyed the Anyox banking facilities, also the hospital and doctors, dentist, optometrist and watch repairer, Government Agent, Granby Company Stores, machine shops etc. It is not until these things are removed that they are missed.

CARD OF THANKS

Thanks are hereby extended to all those who so kindly assisted at the shower held on behalf of Miss Doris Gallagher recently. Special mention is made of the kindness of Mrs. O. L. Jacobson, Miss M. Jacobson and Mrs. J. Carr.

Alice Arm Children To Enjoy Christmas Tree

A meeting of the ladies of Alice Arm was held at the School House on Wednesday for the purpose of making arrangements for the annual Children's Christmas Tree and entertainment. It was decided to hold the event at the Alice Arm Hotel on Wednesday evening, December 19th, commencing at 7 p.m.

The ladies elected to make the necessary arrangements were as follows: Christmas Tree, Mrs. W. M. Cummings and Mrs. O. Evindsen; Entertainment Miss F. Dodsworth; Refreshments, Mrs. J. Graham and Mrs. E. Petersen.

A collection to defray expenses will be taken up amongst the parents, and a collecting box placed at the Post Office so that everyone will have an opportunity to donate. Any contribution, however small, will be appreciated.

Surprise Party for Bruce Loudon On 21st. Birthday

Young people of Anyox descended upon the Loudon home last Thursday and took the house by storm. The occasion was the coming out of Bruce who attained his 21st. year on that day. Between 30 and 40 of the younger set took the family completely by surprise and general merriment and laughter ruled the rest of the evening.

Delightful refreshments were served by young ladies who had made themselves responsible for this indispensable part of the program. Games and dancing prevailed for a large part of the evening.

In congratulating Bruce on attaining his majority, Arthur Teabo presented him with a Rolls razor as a gift from the assembly and voiced the opinion of those present in commenting on the popularity of the recipient.

No Frost, No Snow, Not Much Rain

Usually, at this time of the year Alice Arm and Anyox is blanketed under a covering of snow, but this year we are enjoying mild weather and an entire absence of snow. So far we have enjoyed one of the best fall seasons on record. The rainfall has been considerably below normal, and an absence of frost has been appreciated. The fine open fall will shorten our usually long winter, whatever happens during the next few months.

Ted Kergin, accompanied by Stan Dalby, arrived from Anyox on Saturday and spent the week-end with his mother at Alice Arm.

Basketball Games On Wednesday Were Erratic

A 51-17 score, with the Elks on the receiving end, gives a fair impression of Wednesday's A game. The boys in green simply took it away, done up brown and wrapped up nicely. The Elks were evidently under the impression that referee Lazorek was their only opponent. The Trojans proved differently.

The fraternal boys had to be warned on the floor. This little touch seemed to leave the fans cold. Warning the Elks is no longer news. Dresser junior gave a display of scoring skill and boosted the Trojan score by nineteen points. Gillies drew down 15, while Arne speared 10.

The Elks were rattled all the way and simply handed the game to the youngsters.

The girls' game was slow until the last quarter, when the Mine girls seemed to change into high gear. Eating up the Spooks' lead they forced the game to a score that was uncertain to the final minute. The Spooks bagged the game on lucky baskets.

The B game was interesting only in the final few minutes. The enjoyable part was in watching the fans snap out of deep slumber as the score became close.

To give the boys credit, the Foundry certainly deserved the game. Senior B. Foundry: Patrick 2, Ferguson, Deeth, Hamilton 2, Scott 15, Church 6. Total 25.

Vandals B: Heinkey 5, White 10, Cowell 2, Whittaker, Southey 7, McDonnell. Total 24.

Mine Girls: Powell 5, Muir 5, Arcot 4, Roberts, Calderoni, Cannon. Total 14.

Spooks: Eve 10, McColl, Campbell, McDonald 6, Salmon, Glass, Mrs. Wenerstrom.

Anyox Memorial Service For Late King

A Memorial Service for his late Majesty, King Alexander I, of Jugo-Slovakia, was held in Christ Church on Sunday afternoon, November 11th, by members of the Orthodox Church. Rev. A. Abraham gave a sermon befitting the occasion, also a brief outline of the late king's life and career. Mr. E. Volkovich said a few prayers in the Serbian language and the "Last Post" and "Reveille" were played by Mr. E. R. Oatman. A large number of people attended the service.

Anyox Close-down Will Be Big Loss to Province

The closing of the Anyox mines, and big ore reduction plant of the Granby Company sometime next year, is not only a severe blow to this district, but the ill-effects will be felt throughout the province. Everyone loses, including the shareholders of the Granby Company, the employees, transportation companies, wholesale houses and manufacturers of all kinds, for the Granby Company purchased supplies in excess of $1,250,000 per year. The government will lose heavily in taxes, including the royalty tax on ore, fuel oil tax, income tax on employees, liquor store profits and property tax. In addition to loss of taxes 1200 men will be thrown out of work by the time the close-down is complete, and a percentage of these will be shortly in receipt of relief funds. If the Anyox plant is dismantled and completely deserted Alice Arm will be an isolated mining outpost, unless mining development takes a spurt next year. The closing down of Anyox is a blow that will take the north coast many years to recover from, for big mines are not very often developed to a stage where they will employ from 1000 to 1200 men continuously for over twenty years, such as the Hidden Creek Mine has done.

Direct representations will be made by the B. C. government to Ottawa for a share of the federal tax on gold production, it is learned at the legislative buildings. Ontario and Quebec have already made similar representations.

Second Article Dealing With Contracts By C. M. Stewart

Following is the second article dealing with "Contracts" written by Mr. C. M. Stewart, and further explains the responsibilities of the contracting parties.

In our last article we saw that there were five essentials to a valid contract. The first of these was Offer and Acceptance.

The study of Offer and Acceptance breaks itself up into nine different headings and we are going to deal with these, as space permits, illustrating them with actual cases. The nine headings are as follows:

1. Every contract springs from the acceptance of an offer.
2. An offer or its acceptance or both may be made, either by words or by conduct.
3. An offer is made when, and not until, it is communicated to the offeree.
4. Acceptance must be communicated by words or conduct.
5. Acceptance is communicated when it is made in the manner prescribed or indicated by the offerer.
6. Offer creates no legal rights until acceptance, but may lapse or be revoked.
7. An offer need not be made to an ascertained person, but no contract can arise until it has been accepted by an ascertained person.
8. An offer must be intended to create and capable of creating legal relations.
9. Acceptance must be absolute and must correspond with the terms of the offer.

We will try by illustrations to bring these groups of cases a little closer home.

Dealing with the first one we find that the process of offer and acceptance may take place in one of three ways.

First it may consist of an offer of an act in return for a promise. The operating of a public street car is

Art Beaudin Missed a Step With Painful Results

A. Beaudin is on the way to recovery after several days of severe pain. He was carrying a flock of dishes some days ago, clearing up after the Native Sons banquet. Coming down the steps at the hall, his feet went from under him and he hit the steps with considerable force. He had to stay in bed for a few days but is getting around now. He does not know what became of the dishes—Terrace News.

a constant offer by its owners of the act of carrying you as a passenger and if you ride in the car it is an acceptance by you of their terms and a promise to pay in return for their act of carrying you.

Secondly offer and acceptance may consist of a promise for an act. A man offers a reward for his lost dog. This is a promise to pay in return for the act of bringing back the dog and forms a binding contract.

Thirdly the offer and acceptance may consist of two promises as where I offer to pay you at some future date if at that time you will perform certain services for me. Your promise to do so in return for my promise to pay forms a valid contract.

The offer and acceptance may be in writing, they may be by word of mouth and sometimes we find a contract where the offer and acceptance consist of conduct only.

If I send you goods and you accept them and consume them a binding contract is made, even if no order had ever been placed. The sending of the goods constitutes the offer and use or consumption of them is considered at law as a legal acceptance of the offer contained in the sending of them and you will have to pay for them.

The Minerals of British Columbia

This Province offers excellent opportunities for useful and profitable investment. British Columbia has produced OVER $1,352,000,000 WORTH OF MINERALS.

The gross value of mineral production for the six months ended June 30th, 1934, exclusive of gold premium, is estimated at $18,667,691.00, an increase of 50.5 per cent. over the estimated value of the production in the corresponding six-month period of 1933.

GOLD PRODUCTION: Gold production showed a decided increase; a total return in Canadian funds to the gold producers of British Columbia during the first six months for 1934 being approximately $5,028,124.00, an increase of 81.3 per cent. over the return in Canadian funds received during the first half of 1933.

By Strawberry Flats and the Silver Daisy

1—Falls about 5 miles from Hope
3—On the trail

2—The Summit
4—Defiance Camp

The little village of Hope, situated on the Fraser River about one hundred miles from the coast, is the starting point for all mountaineers wishing to reach the interior of British Columbia by the trail route. It is a scattered village of about two hundred inhabitants but possessing both an abundance of natural beauty and a truly romantic past. The village is flanked on one side by the noble Fraser river, while from the other side one looks up three wide draws in the mountain ranges. The one to the left is the beautiful Coquihalla valley through which the turbulent Coquihalla river cascades from a pass unmatched for rugged grandeur. Through this pass too, under innumerable snow sheds and tunnels the Kettle Valley Railway goes to Princeton and the interior. In the centre is an opening for the Nicolum river, to the right is the Silver Creek draw and beyond it the snow-capped peaks of the Cascade range.

The mountain trail over the Hope Pass is the old one known as the Dewdney which was surveyed and partly built for twenty-five miles out of Hope, by English Sappers in 1861. It winds up the Coquihalla River for a short distance, then branches off with the Nicolum, a tributary of the former river. The way lies through Sylvan glades, past rushing waterfalls and over rustic bridges, the old dry "cribbing" of which is as firm as the day when it was laid.

The first feeding ground for horses is at 12 Mile Lake—otherwise known as Divide Lake at an altitude of 2300 feet. This lake is the head waters of the Nicolum river. Here there is a beautiful hay meadow owned by a trapper and prospector who is patiently awaiting the day when the transprovincial road will give him a means of transporting his wealth, in the shape of hay, to outside points.

At 22 Mile there is another beautiful camping spot. Here there is a large cabin situated in the forest's heart on the very banks of the Skagit river. The owner of it carries on prospecting and mining operations in the vicinity. He appropriately calls his cabin "Defiance Camp" and his mine "The Silver Daisy."

From here on for many miles the scenery becomes more wonderful, if that were possible, but at the same time more wild and rugged. The Pass, a narrow hallway bounded by cliffs thousands of feet high, is a sight of never-ending marvel. At one spot, known as Skagit cliffs, the trail (a bare 18 inches wide) winds around the shoulder of a cliff which towers above and drops away a sheer one thousand feet to the bed of the river below.

Then the trail once more drops down to the next feeding grounds at Cayuse Flats which has a sister spot three miles farther on—Cedar Flats. Beyond Cedar Flats lies a long strip of heavy cedar timber, a true "forest primeval." Strawberry Flats, a pleasant open field on the Skagit river at a height of 3700 feet is the last stopping place before the actual ascent to the summit begins. Here, in spite of the high altitude, wild strawberries grow in abundance.

In the next 2300 feet (of the perpendicular of course!) one is led to the summit by a series of switchbacks zig-zagging up the face of the mountain. The river, which at the foot appeared a torrent, is here a tiny stream, a mere trickle over the stones. Below, the ever-lasting hills unroll themselves for a hundred miles of valley and peak.

When the summit itself is attained a sight never to be forgotten appears. A wide open meadow lies in an inverted crown on the mountain top. Around its edge rise whitish cliffs scarcely distinguishable from the many snow banks. And everywhere, even beside the snow, grows a bewildering variety of wild flowers.

In the centre of the depression lie two lakes, the dividing of the waters, for from the one goes the Skagit river towards the sea and from the other flows the Whip Saw Creek towards the interior lakes.

As soon as the descent of the eastern slope is begun a great change is noticeable. The grade is easy and steady, the country becomes more open and is clear of the under-brush and ferns so characteristic of the western slope.

The last camp is twenty miles from Princeton but the last nine miles of that distance are covered by a good motor road, the beginning of the proposed Transprovincial-highway from Princeton to Hope.

About eight miles from Princeton is a wonderfully interesting spot where stratified rocks yielding excellent fossils remains are located on the side of the hill.

Shortly after this the valley opens out before one—Princeton snuggled peacefully into a friendly circle of hills and its two rivers, the Similkameen and Tulameen keeping guard over it. Beyond it, rises a splendid vista of rolling green foothills with more rugged mountains closer in, indicative of the districts most flourishing industries, ranching and mining.

BASKETBALL PERSONALS

Ivor Davis

Ivor has been a dyed-in-the-wool basketballer so long that few of the old timers can stick him with tall stories of past performances.

Though playing with some of the best teams ever produced in Anyox he has never shone brilliantly until this season. Always rated as a steady dependable forward in any team, his performances to date this year make him stand out of the current crop like a sore thumb.

Consistently high scores and a fighting spirit that has had its effect on his present team, earns him a place in our local basketballers' hall of fame.

His peppery and mischievous temperament has reduced many a referee to grinding his teeth in despair and gains the delighted and enthusiastic approval of the fans.

Lorne Falconer Active In Premier Sports

At the Annual Sports' Banquet held recently at the Premier Mine, Lorne Falconer of Alice Arm, was elected a member of the Sports Committee for the Premier Community Club.

Lorne has always taken an active interest in sport locally and with his knowledge of our local class of basketball, it is probable that he will be instrumental in choosing a Northern B. C. League team from the mining camp, that will give our own boys plenty of work.

It seems likely that our Calderoni duet will fine themselves lined up against their former manager and centre in this year's series.

Asbestos Production Soars Upward

Asbestos production in Canada during August reached a total of 15,922 tons, an increase of 32 per cent. over the July total of 12,042, but a decline of 4.7 per cent. from the August 1933 output of 16,703 tons. The total Canadian output during the first eight months of 1934 was 95,852 tons or 18 per cent. above the production in the corresponding months of 1933.

The time has come when the economic difficulties with which all countries are faced should be called by their real names, which are the existing barriers to the free interchange of goods and services between nations. We do not underestimate the difficulties in the way of removing these barriers, but even a first beginning cannot be made until agreement is reached among the leading nations to re-establish an international standard of exchange value, and stick to it. No country will agree to bind itself in the matter of export and import restrictions if its entire tariff system is to be made meaningless from one day to the next by a sudden change in the value of one or another of the important world currencies.—International Chamber of Commerce.

Nickel production in Canada during August advanced to 14,272,129 pounds, the highest monthly output on record since November, 1929, according to the report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

During July, 1934, the Canadian production was recorded at 10,660,423 pounds, while in August, a year ago, 10,216,700 pounds were produced.

During the first eight months of 1934 Canada produced 88,266,238 pounds of nickel as compared with 42,232,024 pounds in the corresponding months of 1933.
