Prince Rupert Basket Ball Team Meets Second Defeat

Contrary to general expectation, the team of basketball players which visited Anyox on January 11th. and 12th. failed to balance their account with the Anyox All-Stars, losing the second game, played on January 12, by 37 to 18. It was a regular scoring fest for the Anyox boys, the baskets coming with mechanical regularity. This does not mean that the Rupert boys did not put up a good fight, as they used all the speed and ability they could muster, but could not break the combination and masterly control exhibited by the home team. Starring for the visitors was Hunt with nine points. Ratchford, the captain of the Grotto team, played a sterling game, but so closely was he checked that he failed to secure any points. Morrison, Stocker, Wendell, and Currie also played well.

The team for the All-Stars was: T. Calderoni 10, Buntain 2, F. Calderoni 12, J. Walmsley 13, A. McDougall, A. McDonald. The visitors left Anyox on Saturday morning the 14th. for Ketchikan, from which point they start for Metlakatla.

Enters Vancouver Hospital For Training

Miss Ruth Dunwoodie, who left Anyox recently for Vancouver, entered the General Hospital in that city on January 9th. to commence training as a nurse. Miss Dunwoodie has resided six years in Anyox, during four years of which she was a very popular member of the staff of the Pioneer Mess. The best wishes of her many friends in the district are extended to her for a successful culmination of the ambitious career which she has begun.

The orchestral numbers to be rendered have been carefully chosen, and the public are assured of a pleasing and variable presentation. Several vocal and instrumental solos will also appear on the programme. Mr. J. Peel is the enthusiastic conductor, his careful training and direction of this orchestra should ensure for the public an evening of delightful entertainment.

Mickey Nash Loses Life When Cabin Burns At Stewart

Special to the Herald
Stewart, B. C. Thursday, Jan. 19th.—Mickey Nash, well known prospector and miner, was burned to death in his cabin here this morning shortly after 8 o'clock.

The fire was beyond control when discovered by a neighbor. When the flames were sufficiently subdued the body, which was lying on the bed, was dragged out of the back door. It is thought that Nash had risen and lit the fire in the stove and then gone back to bed, and was probably suffocated by the smoke when the cabin caught on fire. He had recently suffered a slight stroke of paralysis.

Deceased was born in Dublin, Ireland 65 years ago. He was an old time prospector and miner, and his journeyings took him into almost every mining camp on the continent.

Mrs. M. Lazorek Honored By Ladies of Moose

On Monday evening the 16th. a number of ladies of the Moose Lodge met at the home of Mrs. M. A. Wynne, to do honor to Mrs. M. Lazorek, who is leaving the district. As a token of the esteem in which she is held, Mrs. Lazorek was presented with a handsome piece of silverplate, the presentation being made by Mrs. M. A. Wynne, Senior Regent. Mrs. Lazorek has been a faithful and willing worker in the Lodge for a number of years and her absence will be much regretted. Mrs. J. Varnes was the hostess for the evening.

The Dansical Musical Comedy Repeated

So popular was the event that another full house greeted the seventy young people who took part in the repeated performance of the Dansical Musical Comedy on Friday, January 13th. Good as was the first performance, the second one surpassed it, as all those who took part played with even greater confidence and an even more charming style. An added feature was a pleasing item in the cabaret scene, in which several local young men took part.

The whole programme brought out a surprising amount of talent, and reflected much careful training. Anyox people will look forward to a similar refreshing entertainment at some not too distant date.

We regret that as time was at a premium at the Herald Office this week that it was not possible to publish details or names of this wonderful entertainment.

Basketball Personnels

Frank Dodsworth.
Now in his fifth year of basketball Frank Dodsworth is one of our most promising players. Like several other topnotchers at the game, Frank started with the High School team, graduating from thence into the Celts squad and helping largely during his three years with the team, to make that aggregation famous. Frank has steadily improved in his knowledge of the game and his ability to play it. He has a quick eye and a cool, steady head, is sure with the ball and is as quick as a flash to seize an opening. This season he is with the Mechanics, who are fortunate in having a fast and reliable guard like Frank. His modest manner makes him popular with the fans.

M. M. Stephens Elected Mayor of Prince Rupert

M. M. Stephens, who is well known in this district in connection with his fire insurance business, was elected mayor of Prince Rupert last week. He obtained 586 votes, and his opponent, R. F. Perry obtained 216. The four aldermen who had endorsed the Stephens' ticket were also elected. They are John Currie, H. B. Rochester, F. W. Wesch, Victor Basso-Bert. T. J. Shenton, who also ran for alderman was defeated. The new mayor and aldermen will give their services without pay. They will endeavor to keep the city of Prince Rupert from going into the hands of a receivership.

The many friends of Mr. Stephens will be pleased to learn of his recent success. A history of his life was given in a recent issue of the Prince Rupert Daily News. From this we learn that Mr. Stephens' maternal grandmother was born at Fort Garry, where the city of Winnipeg now stands. His paternal grandparents were of United Empire stock, who moved from Pennsylvania following the revolutionary war.

School Boy Basketballers Continue Games

Every Saturday afternoon, the two keen and alert schoolboy basketball teams line up at the Gymnasium, all ready for the signal to start. These games are excellent training for the boys, who play with the best feeling of sportsmanship. On Saturday the 7th. the Pirates overpowered the Musketeers to the tune of 10 points to 7, while on the following Saturday afternoon the Pirates were forced to walk the plank by their stocky opponents, who won 12-11.

The teams at both games were: Pirates: Scott, R. Dresser, L. Murdoch, B. Parsons, H. Dodsworth. Musketeers: G. Kent, B. Kent, J. Varnes, D. McDonald, A. Ward-roppe, J. Dodsworth. The games are managed and refereed by Maxwell Patrick, who deserves every credit for his efforts on behalf of the boys.

It is proposed by the three prairie provinces to ask the Federal Government at the inter-provincial conference this week, to pass legislation to force the domestic price of wheat to $1.25 per bushel and wheat for export to be, of course, governed by world prices. Canada uses approximately 40,000,000 bushels of wheat each year, and it is estimated that this domestic price would enable the prairie farmers to pocket approximately $30,000,000.

Should the prairie provinces be successful in their efforts, it means that everyone in Canada who does not grow wheat will be taxed an additional $30,000,000 a year. A big sum to pile on top of the already heavy burden. We are all well aware that the wheat growers are in bad circumstances, but so are a lot more. The lumber, mining and fishing companies of B. C. are nearly all operating at a loss, especially in regard to mining. If the government is fair, why not place a high domestic price on these commodities also. Then there are the farmers who do not grow wheat to any large extent, but specialize in cattle, vegetables, and milk, these too are in bad circumstances.

The Vancouver Daily Province recently published a lengthy editorial, in which they criticized the Minister of Education, Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe for cutting the educational grants to the cities, and the contemplated revision of grants throughout the province. In conclusion the editorial states:

"The minister's reduction of grants can hardly fail, however, to have an effect on salary schedules, and it seems to have been designed definitely to pull down salaries in the cities. This is a serious mistake. Salaries in the city and the country can not be placed on an approximate level. It is foolish to think they could. The cost of living is higher in the cities, and this is recognized in every trade and profession and business. The competition is keener, too, the driving more severe, the discipline more difficult. The city teacher not only needs a higher salary, but earns a higher salary than the country teacher."

In regard to the cost of living for school teachers being higher in the cities than in the country, depends entirely upon what part of the country. A school teacher probably can live cheaper in a small farming town in the south than in the city, and even then this is a debateable question. But when the isolated towns of the northern part of the province are considered,

Geddes Makes Statement Regarding The Rhokana Copper

Sir Auckland Geddes, chairman of Rhokana Corporation, advised shareholders at the annual meeting that he did not expect to see an agreement among world copper producers for some time. He said he did not wish to suggest that any particular producer was responsible for the fact that the conference of producers ended without agreement. There were great difficulties to be overcome and in many respects the scheme which was in effect until the end of 1932 was obsolete.

"The situation was difficult enough a year ago, but, since the United States has blockaded its ports against foreign copper by imposition of a prohibitive tariff, the difficulties have become much worse. Personally, I feared that the deplorable decision of the United States Government would make agreement impossible, and that economic forces would have to decide the issue."

Referring to the reduction in Rhokana mining costs, he said, "Such costs, I venture to say, have not been equalled by any purely copper-producing mine, and have been attained in spite of the supremely difficult economic conditions prevailing and within six months of the start of our life as an operating company."

"The corporation has experienced, and is experiencing, no difficulty in selling its copper. We have already entered into future contracts for the coming year to cover the greater part of our production on our present programme."

Good News For Sweepstake Fans

The Supreme Court of Ontario ruled that it is no offence against Canadian laws to purchase a lottery in a foreign country and that an informer cannot obtain money won by a Canadian on a lottery conducted in such a country.

This decision was made in a case in which an Ottawa informant endeavored to obtain $40,000 from the winner of a sweepstake conducted outside Canada.

the cost of living is much higher than in the cities. Often small towns are off the railway and supplies are freighted in or river transportation used, even when towns are located on a railway or the coast, the extra shipping costs from Vancouver force prices up.

The new revision of government grants for educational purposes is being made to assist the poorer parts of the province and these are chiefly in the outlying districts. There are at present many school districts where a payroll of any sort is non-existent, and it is these districts that the government proposes to aid if possible.

MINING IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Among the Canadian Provinces, British Columbia is the leading producer of Silver, Lead and Zinc

In this Province, about 45 per cent. of Canada's Silver, 97 per cent. of the Lead and 93 per cent. of the Zinc are produced.

British Columbia has produced approximately $1,300,000,000 worth of minerals.

About 200,000 square miles of unexplored mineral-bearing lands are open for prospecting.

Practically every mineral known to be found on the Continent occurs to some extent in British Columbia

Forest Fires Were Less In B. C. Last Year

The red dragon which scampers through B. C. forests yearly did damage this season of $571,695; or nearly $1,000,000 less than the customary fire toll on woods and property. Last year the damage was $1,477,181; and in 1930 it was $1,408,000. Only 1,260 fires were reported, compared to between 2,200 to 2,500 in a normal season. Frequent rains and the absence of firebugs accounted for the favorable report, to some extent. Similar luck, cannot be counted on next year, say experienced foresters.

Jones: "Yes, sir, but I no longer find it alarming."

"GIMME, GIMME, GIMME!"

How can any man possibly look as pleasant as this Gymnasium Instructor, with seven charming ladies crying "Gimme" at once? The answer is that the photograph was taken on the Canadian Pacific liner "Duchess of Richmond" during a cruise of West Africa, the Isles of the Blest and the Mediterranean. This was the last photograph taken by the late "Toppie" Edwards, father of the modern illustrated newspaper.

BEATTY FORESEES BUSINESS UPTURN

C.P.R. President Points to Many Helpful Factors
But Says Further Adjustment Necessary to Complete Re-establishment.

"THE after-war period of adjustment through which this country is going is still short of completion," says E. W. Beatty, K.C., in his annual review "but I would add the positive assertion that, unhappy as the past year may have been and as lacking in re-assuring factors as the immediate future may appear, 1932 has seen definite and constructive progress towards improvement.

We see on every side the effect of long drawn-out world trade depression — a process of economic deflation — grinding slowly forward and leaving behind it a wake of human unhappiness and even ruin in directions where it seemed least likely to be possible. Having no clear vision of a definite end to our troubles, we are tempted to despair or to look for remedies to those who preach short cuts to economic security that are as unsound and as surely disastrous as were the extravagant and wasteful methods of conducting national, corporate and individual business which brought about present conditions and we are likely to overlook evidences of progress which justify the belief that this transitional period is taking its well ordered way towards better times.

A year ago I suggested that the movement towards economic readjustment would go further, perhaps even into public and governmental institutions. I am convinced that failure to boldly meet and satisfactorily deal with this matter may easily mean national insolvency and will certainly retard any possible return to a reasonably full measure of prosperity. Nothing that the troubles of the past year have brought into public recognition is so outstanding as is the need for curtailing public expenditure and co-ordinating and re-organizing public activities so that they may be placed upon a basis such as this country of ten million people can well afford. Courageous effort has accomplished real progress along this line but much remains to be done before our national affairs are on a sound economic basis. The nation's annual interest bill is mounting steadily and has done so for many years, a statement that is equally true of Dominion, provincial and municipal affairs. It is the corporate and individual taxpayer who has to pay these, and since the Canadian Pacific Railway pays yearly the country's largest tax bill I may be allowed to lay particular stress upon this point which I consider calls for earnest study at the present time.

The railway situation retains place as Canada's most imperative domestic problem. A year ago we hoped that its early solution was foreshadowed by the appointment of a competent tribunal to probe into its causes and complexities and to present an efficacious solution. We did not then foresee that the proposed solution would be based upon what the Commission thought the people of Canada would be willing to accept rather than upon the stern necessities of the case. Nor was it then apparent that conditions that had brought about the immediate need for effective relief for a situation that threatened national bankruptcy would become still more aggravated as business offering for the railroads continued to show drastic and unprecedented declines. That is what has happened. The decrease

Mr. E. W. Beatty
Chairman and President
Canadian Pacific Ry.

In freight car loadings which began in 1930 has continued almost uninterrupted. In 1931 up to the end of the first week of December, 558,359 less freight cars had been loaded on all Canadian Railways than for the same period of the previous year. During the same period this year 376,016 less cars were loaded than in 1931. The decline in passenger business has been relatively the same. The resultant effect upon railway earnings has been naturally disastrous. For the first ten months of 1931 Canadian Pacific gross revenue declined 22.1 per cent as compared with that of 1930. For the first ten months of this year now closing there was a further decline of 15.4 per cent. The decline continues, and there certainly appears to be no evidence in sight that for many years we shall see them entirely eliminated and our earnings back where they were in 1928. It is true that the railways have effected drastic economies. As compared with 1931 Canadian Pacific operating costs for the first ten months of 1932 were 15.3 per cent lower, and we expect that we shall make a still better showing in this regard throughout the coming year.

Having the best hope in the world, I hesitate to prophesy any great increase in gross earnings, but it is my deeply considered conviction that if the railways over the next ten or fifteen years are to live anywhere within their income, economies will have to go very much further indeed than has yet been considered by a great number of our people who, it is only fair to state, have not had even a fair opportunity of informing themselves upon the situation. For years we have been impelled towards large capital expenditures, while at the same time competitive transportation agencies, railways, highways and canals have been built up and maintained out of public funds. Keeping these facts in view and having in mind the probable course of economic events over the next few years, the urgency of the need for fundamental change in our railway policy should be clearly apparent. I think that in the wider field of world economics we have witnessed important developments leading towards trade stabilization and encouragement. The improvements in the situation with regard to international war debts and the hope contained in the coming World Trade Conference can certainly be regarded on the brighter side of the ledger, while the first results from the Imperial Trade Conference at Ottawa in the way of improved intra-Empire trade, provide honest ground for quiet congratulation.

I am still as great an optimist as ever on the subject of Canada's ultimate future. The inherent soundness of our country strengthens me in this opinion. I do not think that our business recovery will come with a rush, since the temptation to forget the economic lessons we have learned would be too strong. For one thing, I do not hesitate to say that if within three years we found ourselves again in such a period of economic inflation as we experienced about 1928, and if we had not then definitely settled the railway problem on sound and permanent economic lines we would again be swept off our feet by the flood of competition and competitive extravagances. This, I think applies with equal force to all forms of business.

Referring a year ago to the Royal Commission on railways, I urged that the people of Canada should meet its suggested solutions for our problem with earnest consideration of their economic values unbiased by political color or preconceived prejudices. The question is now more than ever a matter of urgent public discussion and will continue so for many months. It cannot satisfactorily be dealt with in a way to save the country from disaster unless it be considered as an economic question and settled in accordance with the economic truth that transportation agencies are no different from any other form of industrial institution in that they must be both allowed and required to pay their way. Any other attempted solution of the difficulty would be ineffectual, and it is the inescapable obligation of the people of Canada to apply this test to whatever proposals for settlement of the problem may come forward.

Dr. Victor Dolmage was re-elected president of the British Columbia Chamber of Mines at the annual meeting in Hotel Vancouver last week. The work of the chamber during the past year was reviewed in addresses by Dr. Dolmage and by Frank E. Woodside, manager. The year 1932 had been the most active in the 20 years of the chamber's history owing to the keen interest in prospecting for gold which had developed.

A. M. Whiteside outlined a proposal for an amendment to the Security Frauds Prevention Act which will be taken up by the executive. The suggested change would permit mining syndicates to raise up to $35,000 without coming under the provisions of the act. This concession has already been allowed in Ontario he pointed out.
