WEDDING BELLS RING IN ALBERNI

J. S. Richardson and Miss Bishop Married in Presbyterian Church.

In a prettily decorated church, and in the presence of a gathering that represented the people of both New and Old Alberni, Emily Maude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bishop, was married on Thursday morning, to John Shirley Richardson, the Rev. T. S. Glassford, the Presbyterian minister, performing the ceremony.

The bride entered the church with her father and was attired in a bridal costume of embroidered leno over cream silk, the bodice being trimmed with darned net. The veil was held in place with orange blossoms, while the bride carried a shower boquet of white astors and asparagus ferns. She was attended by her sisters, Gertrude and Ethel as bridesmaids, and also by her nephew, Master Charles Henry Pillar, as page, and her neice, Eleanor Maude Pillar, as flower girl.

The groom was attended by Frank Harold Bishop, brother of the bride.

The full church choir was present, and rendered appropriate music, Miss Hester Miles, soloist, singing "O, Promise Me."

After the ceremony the happy couple were driven to the residence of the bride's parents, taking their departure from the church in a hail storm of rice.

A number of the immediate friends of the bride and groom joined them at wedding breakfast which was served from a table that was a beautiful spectacle.

In the afternoon a reception was held on the lawn, and the callers were numerous and everyone had congratulations to offer.

After their honeymoon the newly married couple will take up their residence at Pachena where Mr. Richardson is employed as engineer at the light house.

They take with them the best wishes of the entire community for their future happiness.

Liberal Convention.

A meeting of the Alberni Liberal association was held in Brand's hall on Tuesday evening to arrange for the representation of the electoral district of Alberni at the Liberal convention to be held in Vancouver, Oct, 1.

Each constituency is entitled to a representation of ten delegates for each member, and it was arranged that the following associations and districts in the constituency be asked to appoint delegates ar nominate proxies, Alberni to appoint two; and Bamfield, Ucluclet, Clayoquot, Quatsino, Cape Scott, Parksville, Nanoose, Wellington and Texada Island to appoint one each.

Only delegates to the convention are allowed to hold proxies.

The number of delegates or proxies to be appointed is 420, and as the New Westminster fair will be held at the same time as the convention it is expected that there will be a large attendance of delegates.

William Roff and J. R. Motion were appointed delegates to represent Alberni.

ROYAL BANK OPENS DOORS FOR BUSINESS

Manager Arrives From Vancouver and Gets Busy.

While other bank managers were thinking about it, and the people of the two Albernis were expecting from day to day to see the Canadian Bank of Commerce open for business, F. T. Walker, manager of the Vancouver branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, arrived late Thursday night, and this morning was open for businss.

The first deposit in the first bank was made on the tick of the clock at 10 a. m. by the Pioneer News.

The new branch of the Royal Bank is located in Capt. Huff's old store where the firm of Marcon & Co. has its real estate office, and a large business was done today with prospects of a lot more as soon as it becomes generally known that the bank is here prepared to transact business.

As will be seen from the announcement printed above the Royal is one of the strongest banks in Canada, and it has the strongest of credit in all parts of the world.

Some time ago when the Ontario bank was wrecked, and the stocks of many banks went down as a result of the consequent shock to shareholders, the shares of the Royal went up, and since that time the capital of the institution has been increased.

The Pioneer News believes in encouraging such solid and useful concerns to come to Alberni, and believes furthemore in patronizing them most liberally when they do come. In this we are assured that we represent the spirit of the entire community.

Mr. Walker will persoally hold down the field for a few days while he is awaiting the arrival of a regular staff which is expected on Wednesday of next week.

J. C. Sproule and C. H. Wilson, two prominent men of Winnipeg, arrived by stage today, and went on to New Alberni.

FIRE BREAKS OUT ON REEVE'S FARM

C. P. R. Surveyors Help to Check the Flames.

Fire broke out about noon, last Monday on Reeve's farm, and for a while it appeared as if a lot of valuable standing timber would be destroyed.

The fire warden of the Red Cliff Lumber company discovered the blaze before it had much headway, and fought the flames vigorously.

When news of the conflagration reached town Frank Shepherd, chief of C. P. R. survey, immediately instructed all his men, who were camped at Sproat lake, in the vicinity of the fire, to assist the lumber company's men, and on Tuesday the danger was all over.

H. C. Ferris, C. P. R. special constable, returned on Tuesday from patrol over the Nanaimo road, and immediately went out to the scene of the trouble.

Dan McDonald returned to town by automobile on Friday.

Mrs. W. H. Marcon and Mrs. R. J. Burde, arrived by steamer on Thursday night and have taken up their residence in Alberni.

BEAR STEPS ON S. H. TOY'S FACE

Startling Experience While in Camp on Kennedy Lake With Prof. Thompson.

While resting in camp on Kennedy Lake. Clayquot, lying on his back, peaceably smoking his pipe, and gazing at the stars, S. H. Toy, of Alberni, had a startling experience last week. He was rudely awakened from his reveries by a big black bear stepping on his face.

Mr. Toy was out with J. W. Thompson, professor of music in Knox college, Galesburg, Ill. inspecting some timber claims which were recently purchased from he and his partner, W. B. Garrard, by an Iowa syndicate, of which Prof. Thomson is a member. Their tent was pitched beside a small rock, and the night being warm Mr. Toy had his head outside the canvas close to the boulder. Bruin had evidently caught the odor of the cook house and was sniffing close to the stove when he almost collided with the cook. This cook is noted for making a specialty of bear meat, and the prowler, realizing the danger of his position, made a bound for the nearest opening into the tall timbers. He struck the top of the rock, but his claws failed him and he slipped down the side where Mr. Toy's head was exposed, landing with one paw on the upturned face. Just then the cook, who had had time to regain his breath, made the night air shiver, and the tree leaves tremble, with a yell that would make an Apache Indian feel cheap, and the bear lingered on Mr. Toy's face no longer than was necessary to recover his balance for another jump for the woods. Mr. Toy hurriedly grabbed his rifle, and followed the trail of the vanishing bear for a short distance into the forest, but was unable to get a shot at his game. When he returned to the camp he found the professor administering stimulants to the cook.

Mr Toy and Prof. Thompson intended to return to Alberni on the Tees, but missed connections, and in order that that the professor might catch the Monday morning stage they chartered a launch which gave them another interesting little experience. They were coming along at a rapid rate, and were almost in sight of home at 2 o'clock in the morning when they met the Tees steaming down the canal on its way to Victoria. In trying to give the big vessel all the room it needed they ran their craft high and dry at the mouth of Coose creek, close to New Alberni. There was then nothing to do but wait for high tide and they did it, which delayed their arrival till about 10 o'clock.

Prof. Thompson took a private carriage to Nanaimo on Tuesday. He was pleased with the delay, he said, as it gave him an opportunity to see something of beautiful Alberni, and collect a few specimens of the finest looking fruit he has seen in many years.

The syndicate of which Prof. Thompson is a member has $2,000,000 invested in British Columbia timber, principally on Vancouver Island, and contemplates erecting two large lumber mills in this district.

APPRECIATION.

"It was like a crowd on the night of an election," is the way in which an old resident of Alberni described the scene at the Pioneer News office on last Saturday night when the first issue of this paper was coming off the press.

It was certainly a remarkable demonstration of desire on the part of the townspeople and ruralists to have a local newspaper. Since that time subscriptions have been coming in freely, and the indications are that the circulation list is to contain a larger proportion of names to the population than that of any other publication in the province of British Columbia.

In addition to this practical assurance that our efforts to turn out a neat, newsy and representative paper, have met with popular appreciation, we have received many personal compliments.

All this gives us heart and encouragement to do better, and we feel confident that the Pioneer News will never fall below the standard set by its initial number, but that it will steadily develop from its modest beginning till it reaches the first rank of daily newspapers in British Columbia.

For valuable assistance in our pioneer struggles we have many kind people of New and Old Alberni to thank.

THE BANK PROBLEM.

In these days when bank directors are opening branches in many different parts of large cities, and in every small settlement where there are deposits to be obtained, one must wonder why it is that Alberni has been overlooked by these shrewd gatherers and manipulators of other people's money.

The great worry of the heads of the smaller banks, nowadays, is how to get the deposits, and in working it out they have trampled the traditional ethics of the business under their feet and employed every seductive method they could invent to draw small amounts of money regularly from the pockets of the wage earner into their trust. A large per centage of the many millions of dollars thus accumulated is sent to foreign countries and there invested. There is a big demand for money these days, and the bankers need all they can get.

Why then has not one of them already opened shop in Alberni where there is so much cash being carried around in the pockets of the people and which would be deposited without question of the investment policy of the bank?

The explanation is that the banks with small capital are afraid of the proposition. It would be a cinch for one of them if all they would be called upon to do would be to receive deposits and allow a small overdraft occasionally to a local business man, but the outlook in Alberni is for much larger dealing. The bank that locates here, and there is only room for one at the present time, will have to handle the accounts of the individuals and the companies who are dealing in timber and mines, and arranging for the establishment of industries, and one or two calls from any of these sources would likely be enough to put a financial institution that cannot afford to keep a large supply of ready cash in the paying teller's cage, in distress.

The fact of this banking question is that the first bank to open in Alberni must be one of the strongest in Canada.

We are given to understand that the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the institution that was first to enter the Yukon country, and that fearlessly and successfully tackled the big proposition there, has under consideration the opening of a branch here.

It can fill the bill, and we trust that the opening will not be long delayed.

OUR OWN FAULT.

The Nanaimo Free Press devoted some space in its issue of Tuesday last to a complimentary review of the first issue of the Pioneer News, and noted the fact that our local advertising patronage did not seem to be very generous. We would not like it to be believed on the outside either that the business interests of the two Albernis were fairly represented in our first issue or that the different merchants did not appreciate the value of advertising in and supporting a home newspaper, and we hasten to correct any such impression that may have been accepted abroad. The fact of the matter is that it was our own fault that there was such an apparent poverty of advertising in the first issue. The advertising solicitor at present is also the circulation man, the whole reportorial staff, the editor, the manager, the compositor, the proof reader, the pressman and general laborer. These manifold duties could not be all faithfully discharged in the face of the hand cap under which delayed freight, and other modern troubles, compelled us to work, and as the issue of the paper on the announced date was the first and most important consideration, the business end had to suffer. We are well satisfied with the amount of advertising patronage there is to be had and, given a fair chance to round it up, we hope soon to make a most creditable showing.

Some of our visitors who have watched the painstaking work of our compositor as he picked letter after letter from the boxes of glittering type, fresh from the foundry, remarked that it must be a hard strain on the eyes, whereupon the sympathetic proof reader butted in with the reply that there was nothing so bad that it could not be worse. and he fancied the strain was not quite so trying as that required for the work of making muzzles for the festive microbe.

As there is a law naming a season in which there shall be no shooting of certain kinds of game, so there should be also a law to prohibit political discussion for a short period in the year, and it should be vigorously applied to the Victoria Times. That paper could not announce the news of commencement of work on the Alberni extension of the E. & N. railway line without finding an excuse for a lot of political talk that was altogether too dry and too labored for this kind of weather.

The Pioneer News advertised last week that a barber shop was wanted in Alberni, and as this issue appears carpenters are at work on a building and a tonsorial artist is preparing his tools for business. In ought not to require a two hour stretch of logic to convince this man of action that it pays to advertise.

NEWS GENERAL AND PERSONAL

William Leeson and Arthur Dawson of Beaver Creek were in town on Tuesday.

A. LaBelle who was confined to his home with an attack of measels, has recovered.

W. J. Sutton, of Victoria, and well known in Alberni, arrived by stage on Wednesday.

Honey in the comb, produced by Alberni bees, can be obtained at Thompson's General store.

E. J. Hutton and S. Kent of Vancouver, who had been camping on Great Central lake, returned to town Tuesday evening.

The collection of fruit for exhibit in Victoria is being completed, and will be shipped on the next down trip of the steamer Tees.

C. Hewley-Mortimer has joined the C. P. R. survey camp at Sproat lake, taking the place of T. L. Longhurst who left on Monday for Vancouver.

Herbert Carmichael, provincial assayer, who is making a topographical survey of Alberni district, moved his camp, on Wednesday to Great Central lake.

Sam Handy, E. Hoge and William Armstrong, were engaged this week clearing a new street way to the waterfront this side of Wood's lumber and shingle mill in New Alberni.

F. G. H. Bowker, of Vancouver, was in Alberni this week investigating the property situation. He had his fishing rod with him, and enjoyed a few hours of sport taking trout from Stamp river.

J. Newbury and T. McKinnon, of Nanaimo, drove into town on Monday, and left for home again on Tuesday afternoon. They spent some time in New Alberni sizing up real estate values, and were much impressed with prospects.

A. P. Norman, of Vancouver, came into town on a bicycle on Tuesday. He has a number of friends among the members of the C. P. R. survey party, and on Wednesday, visited the camp at Sproat lake where he enjoyed a day of trout fishing.

W. Myerstein, who is engaged with Herbert Carmichael making a topographical survey of the Alberni district, was in town on Tuesday. He had with him a collection of trout, weighing from two to four pounds each, caught at the Stamp River falls.

With a little breeze from the north west on Tuesday the pungent odor of a piggery was wafted into town. Dr. Morgan, medical health officer for the district, promptly advised the Chinaman who owns the swine pen to clean it up, or move it further back into the woods.

The record business of the Alberni postoffice was done on Monday morning when the large number of copies of the first issue of the first paper published in Alberni—the Pioneer News—was sent out, addressed to people in various parts of Canada, the United States, and the Old Country.

The steamer Tees, on its return trip from the north last week had the largest cargo ever carried by a West Coast ship. The freight consisted principally of oil and fertilizer from the whaling station. There was also a shipment of ore from the Gladys mine for the Tyee smelter at Ladysmith.

Sing Long, the Chinaman who conducts a restaurant, opposite the Arlington hotel, and who never sleeps as long as there is any business in sight, has announced his intention to retire when railway construction starts. His reasons, as expressed to Chief Constable Cox, are: "Heap savey, too muchee stlong man come; makee hyu noise; no likee Chinaman."

There is still a strong demand for wood without any sign of supply. There is a good paying business for the man who will keep busy in the woods until the wet weather sets in.

B. W. Bailey, representing Greenshields & Co., of Vancouver, wholesale dealers in dry goods, boots and shoes and fancy goods, was in New Alberni for three days this week, with his samples displayed in the town hall. He sold a large bill of goods to the different merchants of both towns.

Bert Stephenson, of Nanaimo, was a passenger into town in W. Thompson's automobile on Tuesday morning, and with J. J. Burke he made a trip to Great Central lake in the afternoon. It was his first visit to this part of the island, and he was so enamoured of the climate and scenery that he decided to remain all week.

LIKES ALBERNI BETTER.

Winnipeg Man Sorry That He Settled in Victoria.

"I thought when I first saw Victoria that I had found the most beautiful spot in Canada, and I decided to take up my residence there," said Charles F. Lay who was in Alberni for three days this week, "but since coming here I have changed my mind. You have a more beautiful country, and a better climate, while your orchards make the finest showing on the island. Your fruit, too, is remarkable for its flavor.

"I notice by your paper," continued Mr. Lay, "that the Agricultural society is going to send an exhibit to Victoria to be placed in a store window on Government street, and I think the idea a splend'd one. From now on there will be a large number of people from the prairie provinces daily on the streets of Victoria, and there is nothing that attracts the attention of ese people like a display of fruit. A good per centage of them are prosperous wheat growers, and are looking for land on which to engage in fruit ra'sing. Many of them do not know much about Vancouver Island, outside of Victoria district, and they believe that is about all there is to it that is worth seeing. If they knew more about Alberni they would, I am sure, spend less time in Victoria."

Mr. Lay was, for over thirty years, a resident of Winnipeg. Like many others from that city he has recently invested in Victoria property.
