Canadian Northern Railway

Heading For Alberni Canal

The Victoria Times has made the the following announcement in regard to the plans of the Canadian Northern Railway company on Vancouver Island:

The ferry will run between Port Mann and Deep Cove, near the north end of the Saanich peninsula, and for some time the B. C. Electric Railway will carry the cars to this city.

The railway between this city and Barclay Sound will take approximately the route outlined before by the Times. Leaving the city it will go by way of Goldstream alongside the wagon road, being built by the provincial government to Mill Bay. Thence it will proceed to the Cowichan river and up the north side of the river and Cowichan lake. From that point it will bend to the southward to escape some hills, going almost as far in that direction as Nitinat lake and then turning to the right direct to Barclay Saund in the neighborhood of Coleman Creek.

The above route, it is claimed, will tap all the best timber country on the south end of the Island, and will make the line pay right from the beginning. When the line gets running and the business warrants it, the ferry will be run direct from Port Mann to Mill Bay, and thence to the new ocean port on Barclay Sound. A good grade has been discovered throughout the route, and the road, it is claimed, will be far superior to the E. & N., especially in the matter of grades.

It was expected that the road would have gone to Serita, but it is claimed by the railway engineers that this would mean the building of a piece of difficult road, and would be no advantage to the company, as Coleman Creek offers just as good advantage for railway terminals and shipping as does the other place. There is a large tract of level land which will be utilized for townsite purposes and which can be secured for practically nothing, whereas the Serita townsite would have to be purchased from private owners.

While it has not been so announced, it is understood that the C. P. R. wil hand over their proposed Cowichan branch charter to the Canadian Northern and that the latter company will handle the lumber carrying contract for the American Securities Company which recently purchased a large tract of timber from the C. P. R. It is also understood that an arrangement has been made with the C. P. R. for the right-of-way through the E, & N. land belt.

There are now five survey parties in the field, and these are likely to be busy for a week or two yet, and thus it will be impossible to make a definite announcement of the detailed route until the reports from them have been received. Everything is settled with this exception.

Accompanying the announcement of the route to be taken will be another stating that construction work is to be commenced this autumn and continued throughout the winter.

New Telephone Service Long Distance Talks

Following the visit to Manager Halse, of the British Columbia Telephone company headquarters at Vancouver, to Alberni last week, and the announcement that the system, with long distance connection, would be established in this district if the demand warranted the extension, Ralph Haven, contract agent for the company, made a canvass of the two towns this week.

It is almost certain that as a result of the canvass the system will be installed without unnecessary delay. Mr. Haven made contracts with over fifty citizens, most of whom gladly welcomed his proposition, and he expressed himself as satisfied with the encouragement given him.

Negotiations for the acquisition of Thomas Paterson's local system have not yet been concluded.

NEW LAW WORKS WELL.

"The new Liquor Act appears to be working out even better than we had anticipated," says Hon. Mr. Bowser, attorney-general and father of this much-commented-upon provincial legislation for the regulation and restriction of the liquor traffic. "We find now," the attorney-general continued, "that the majority of the municipalities, such as Nelson, Kamloops, Vernon, Pentiction, New Westminster, Grand Forks, etc., are falling into line and remodelling their local regulating by-laws upon the distinct lines of the new law. In this way we are securing desirable uniformity while at the same time our new provincial law obtains significant endorsement and approval. One thing of which I am very much in favor is that all municipalities should, if possible, have the same hours for opening and closing of bars that we have adopted. Otherwise it must follow that when the bars are closed in one place, late drinkers will drift off into an adjoining municipality where they may still be served. In this way the good effect of the act might be to a considerable extent nullified. The disposition appears, however, to be thoroughly general to give the new act a fair working trial. This is all that is deserved. We believe it to be the most drastic and at the same time the most workable legislation for the restriction and regulation of the traffic on any statute book of Canada, and all we ask is that it be now tested upon its merits for results."

As an instance of how the act is working, Hon. Mr. Bowser cites particularly the most objectional, 'blind pigs,' against which it was formerly extremely difficult to secure conviction, but which now are fated since the onus of proving innocence has been thrown upon the accused, instead of, as in the past, vice versa. The conviction of licensees for selling to drunkards and interdicted persons generally has also been much simplified, and the wisdom of this is already being demonstrated, as in the case of two recent convictions in Kamloops.

As illustrative of how the new provincial law is being received throughout the country, two recent expressions of editorial opinion may be cited from the extremes of the province, east and west. The first is from the Slocan Record, published at New Denver, and reads as follows:

"It is now nearly a month since the new license law of the province went into force. So far it has been strictly observed and appears to be working satisfactorily to all parties. It is probable the nearest approach to true temperance legislation that has yet been passed in Canada. It not only restrains the unscrupulous vendors of intoxicants, but also those prone to indulge to excess. Its enforcement is in the hands of men who are paid to do the work thoroughly, and who do it. British Columbia has been the first province to pass an act that really controls the 'use and abuse' of intoxicants, for it regulates the sale and protects the home. No doubt in time, other provinces of Canada will pass similar temperance legislation to replace the present frenzied and intemperate laws."

The second comment is from the columns of The Islander, published at Cumberland, on this Island: "The provincial authorities are showing a disposition to enforce the new liquor regulations in a most thorough manner, and from various parts of the province comes the news of convictions under the new act which seems to suggest that this act was passed to be fully enforced. The enforcement of this act would seem to 'knock the stuffing' out of the demands of extremists for a local option law, or for the application of the Scott Act. The hotelmen who are in the business legitimately, should hail the new law as a blessing, and do all in their power to see that it is enforced, lest a worse thing befall them."

Chief Inspector Campbell has completed his fortnight's vacation and will remove to Victoria, to take up his official headquarters. A thorough inspection of all licensed premises throughout the province will follow immediately.

Speaking at a Canadian Club lunch in Winnipeg on Tuesday, A. W. Smithers, chairman of the Grand Trunk board of directors said that the people of Canada were trying to go ahead to fast, and cautioned conservatism in business and not too much new development. Incidentally he referred to the scarcity of labor of the Grand Trunk Pacific, owing to the rapid extension by other companies.

Alberni's Fall Fair and the Prize Winners

The annual Fall Fair of the Alberni Agricultural association, held on Wednesday of this week, clearly demonstrated two points of importance to the district. The first was that the valley can produce fruit of the finest quality, and choice variety. The second was that the opportunities for horticultural development are taken advantage of by but very few people.

While the quality of the fruit showed an improvement over previous years there was not the abundance of exhibits that has been seen at preceeding fairs.

Altogether the exhibits within the hall, tastefully arranged, made a most attractive display, and all visitors had their interest held for some time in each of the various departments.

The fair was formally opened by E. M. Whyte, president.

The prizes were awarded as follows the winners occuring in the order in which their names are given:

"Victory" Shields to B. C. Schools

Loard Stratcona's Nelson Shield has been offered by Rev. Alfred Hall of Toronto to each of the schools in the British Columbia inspectorate. There are no charges or conditions. The British and Foreign Sailors' Society, which received the Victory copper from the Lords of the British Admiralty, has undertaden the expense of mounting, engraving and distributing these historic shields, and only asks some voluntary contribution to reimburse them, and aid their sailors' institutes for men of the royal navy, merchant ships, etc., in Canada and all over the world

The Nelson Shields are highly valued for their patriotic and educational uses in the universities, colleges and schools where they are already placed. Private colleges and schools are eligible to receive the Nelson Shield, and may apply for them.

When the plan of making up the metal from Lord Nelson's ships into commemorative and compe itive shields for schools was brought to his notic , seeing instantly how such a trophy would serve educational ends of the highest kind, Lord Strathcona gave $5,000, that many of the schools of the Dominion may obtain this trophy which is of such historic interest. He hopes that annually a paper may be written on a sailor subject, which will be of educational and patriotic value to the youth of Canada; and that the shield will be presented on prize day, and held by the successful scholar for the year.

Educational and non-military is the supreme note. The shields are made of pure Nelson copper from the Victory and the Foudroyant, without alloy. On the upper corners are the oak and maple leaf. In the upper center is a representation of the Victory under full sail. In the lower center is a bust of Lord Nelson, on one side of which is his immortal signal, and on the other the date of Trafalgar day. At the bottom, under the scroll, are the following words: "Made of copper from H. M. ships Victory and Foudroyant. Presented by Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, G. C. M. G., through the British and Foreign Sailors' Society for Canadian schools."

Lord Strathcona's personal interest and generosity have given to Canada a preference in the organization of the shield scheme for schools. The only other part of the empire which has been touched with systematic effort is the colony of Natal, and that was undertaken as a hobby by Rev. Alfred Hall of Durban, who has been brought over to carry out the Canadian project.
