Aldergrove High School News

By SHIRLEY ARNOLD

After a full week in our new school most people know their way around the building. Work on the building still goes on and often makes it quite noisy but this is a small price to pay for a school of our own and regular shifts again.

Although our lunch period is only half an hour students make good use of it for club meetings, and games in the gym. A record club has been organized, with Barbara Quiring as President. This club plays jive records in the cafeteria before school, at noon, and after school.

The Hi-Y Teens held their first annual Mother and Daughter Banquet on May 7 at the United Church Hall. Jeanette Reynolds, President of the Y Teens, welcomed the Mothers and introduced the head table. After Reverend Colclough said the Grace all enjoyed a lovely supper, catered to by the United Church Women's Auxiliary. When supper was finished, several toasts were given. Merrilyn Howse proposed a toast to the Queen, Beatrice Wautier to the Mothers and Mrs. F. Dams to the Daughters.

The guest speaker was Rev. erend Colclough. Irene Olejnik, accompanied by Rosemary Stevenson sang "My Task" and "Bless this House." Shirley Arnold and Jeannie Douglas recited poems entitled "My Mother" and "I saw God wash the world last night." To end the evening all joined in the singing of some Y Teen songs.

Even though most students are enjoying the new school, the announcement of a half-day holiday on Monday the 12 was not too badly received. Monday afternoon is going to be used to arrange the school for the big opening, that night.

County Line Bantams Suffer First Defeat

On May 12, the County Line Bantams travelled to Newton where they defeated last year's champions by a score of 12 to 3. Ronnie pitched a five-hitter and the team got their first double play of the season. The team got 14 walks while Brian Parish had a triple and two singles. Gary Schroeder came up with three singles.

On Thursday evening the team met the toughest opposition of the season when they played host to the Langley team, and were defeated by a score of 9 to 6 after being behind 4 to 0 in the first inning. McPhee of Langley allowed only 5 hits, struck out ten and gave up ten walks. Gary Cardno got a double and single for the County Line team.

Elwood was taken to the Hospital by ambulance where after x-rays he was found to be suffering only from multiple bruises and scratches.

BROWN-OTTER JUVENILES UNDEFEATED IN FIRST WEEK OF LEAGUE PLAY

On Tuesday, May 6th, the local juvenile team trounced Lochiel's inexperienced squad 14-7. Arnie Deans and Bob Schroeder were the hitting stars for Brown Otter. Bob hit 4 for 4 and Arnie blasted a 2 run homer. Dave Martens was credited with the victory. Bruce Ronval absorbed the loss. The game was high-lighted by two spectacular catches, one by George Hildebrand and the other by Bob Schroeder, in the final inning.

On Friday, May 9th, Brown Otter played their second game against White Rock. The game was much more exciting than the previous contest. Southpaw Alec Fouch held White Rock scoreless for four innings while Brown Otter built up a 2 run lead. Dave Martens relieved Al in the fourth when coach Henry Rempel felt that he was tiring.

Two infield hits, coupled with a flurry of errors sent White Rock into a 4 to 2 lead. This lead vanished in the top of the sixth when Ralph Bergen led off with a scratch single. Dave Martens hit a Texas Leaguer to centre field and Bill Greer cleared the bases with a booming home run over the right fielder. Brown Otter added two more before being retired, making the score 7 to 4. White Rock scored two unearned runs in the bottom of the sixth and one in the final frame to gain a tie.

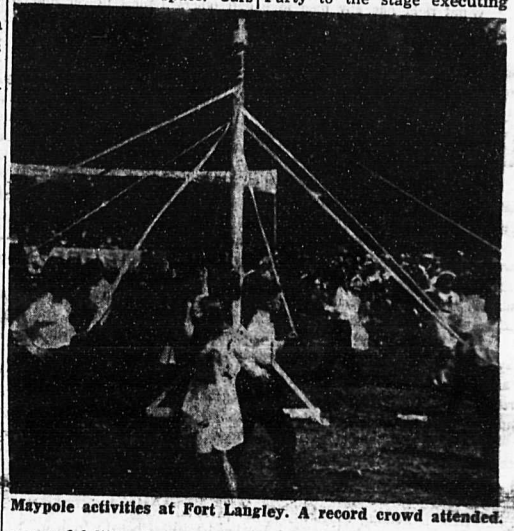
Fort May Day Parade 'Best Yet' Says Hope

Mr. Alex Hope, Chairman of the Centennial Committee, stated that the parade staged in Fort Langley this May Day of 1958 was the "best ever" in the history of the Municipality. There was a very large entry of floats of all kinds and it did seem that people had put their weight behind the effort. Every elementary school in the district was represented in the Royal Party thus contributing another outstanding Centennial effort.

The parade assembled at the old Fort and proceeded from there to the Fort Langley Park which was pretty well taxed to the limit for space. Cars were parked in every available space around the Fort and while the parade was travelling up the main street there was a car block all the way back to the Fort Langley Hospital, probably beyond that. This was a fortaste of what to expect when Her Royal Highness, the Princess Margaret pays a visit to the Fort.

The variety of the floats was most refreshing. This was probably due to the number of enteries from local organizations.

Little flower girls from grade one at Fort Langley school preceded the Royal Party to the stage executing a graceful little dance as they went. The retiring queen, Shirley Siep of Aldergrove, came first followed by the Crown bearer, Dean Ritchie. Then came Queen-elect Florence Wilson of Langley Elementary School, and Miss Canada, Shirley Giesbrecht, of Aldergrove. Princesses from each of the other schools formed the remainder of the procession. They were: Janice Anderson, Belmont; Barbara McMorran, Milner; Terry Brown, for Langley; Judy Zazula, County Line; Mary Yvonne Faust, Otter; Barbara Daly, Lochiel; Lynne Penzer, Langley Central; Doreen Polywkan, West Langley; Roberta Spence, Murrayville; Sandra Doud, Willoughby; Jean Vivash, Glenwood; Lauriane Peters, South Otter; Donna Lightfoot, Sperling; Barbara Coleman; Patricia; Martha Braun, North Otter; The ever faithful Queen Mother, Mrs. Copeland, whose experience is invaluable, accompanied the Royal Party.



Maypole activities at Fort Langley. A record crowd attended.

Mr. Trevor Beggs, Chairman of the School Board, was the Master of Ceremonies and introduced the honour guests; Mr. Len Greenwood, Chairman of Fort Langley Board of Trade; Mayor E. E. Sendall of Langley, Reeve D. W. Poppy; Mr. Alex Hope and Mr. Copeland. Mr. Greenwood made the presentations to the Royal Party, after their introductions.

Maypole dancing was performed by the pupils from Sperling, West Langley, Fort Langley and Langley Central schools. After a rainy start earlier in the day the sun was shining brightly for these ceremonies.

The awards for the floats in the parade were as follows: Best Commercial and Industrial-Duckworth's "Showboat"; Best decorated-Glen Valley Community Association; best organizational-Langley Lions; best comic-H. G. Clark Gravel and Contracting Co.; best Centennial-Native Sons of Fort Langley; best outfitted horse and rider-Gordon McCorkindale; best decorated bike-Gary Hewitt and David Grieve Special awards went to W. S. Rogers and Company and the Fort Pharmacy. The Langley Majorettes were also awarded a special prize. The judges were unable to make an award but paid special tribute to the beautiful float carrying the Royal Party. This had been decorated by the Native Daughters.

Langley Still Winning

Langley Cricket Club registered their third win of the season when playing against Brockton Point "B" on Saturday at Athletic Park.

Langley openers Don Anson and Ivan Dennison took their score to 76 runs before the first wicket fell and with 98 for two wickets Langley registered a win by 8 wickets. Anson scored 41 runs and Dennison 35.

A LECTURE WE CAN'T STOMACH

It has come to be an accepted fact that editorials on any form of religion are "de trop".

Staff writer Jack Scott of the Vancouver Sun disagrees with this policy and we agree with him. He suggests that it is largely a matter of cowardice on the part of editors who are very likely to get plenty of abuse from readers with religious leanings other than their own.

This is probably true but it should not stop comment on such a lecture as was recently made by Dr. Corliss Lamont of Columbia University.

Dr. Lamont lecturing on humanism at the University of B. C., sponsored by the Department of Philosophy, outlined these beliefs of humanists. There is no life after death. When you are dead, you are dead. There is no divine providence behind nature. "Nature is neutral." There is a "biological immortality", the immortality of the human race as a whole. It is better to rely on doctors and scientists than on prayer.

Dr. Lamont went on to say "We don't believe the reports of the great religious mystics who thought they were talking to God."

If these are the thoughts of humanists then it's about time someone wrote and said he thought they were talking the most unadulterated twaddle and piffle.

A man can be an atheist but he does not have to air his views in public, particularly to a body such as the U.B.C.

What right has any man to exhort others against prayer and to state specifically that there is no life after death.

When teachings such as this, which stink of Stalinism and Hitlerism are made at the U.B.C., all we can say is "Get back to the Columbia University".

ARE YOU A GENIUS?

It has been erroneously stated that a genius is born, not made—that genius is akin to insanity and that genius does not show late in life.

Every man and woman born probably has some genius hidden away—often latent and invariably not fully exploited. You don't know what you can do until you try. Think of the famous painters, authors, sculptors, musicians and others who have only discovered by accident their true vocation.

It is hard to find out where one's talents lie. It is easy these days to give up trying but the recent exhibition displayed by the Palisades Arts and Crafts Society showed that there are many people around here with creative talent if not genius and this talent could and should be developed to its utmost.

To develop a talent it is only necessary to make use of your nearest library and to practise assiduously until perfection is reached. When a career is started in life, so often everything else is forgotten and so easily one can get in a rut.

There is nothing so satisfying as personal achievement and if you have a talent, don't throw it away but let others benefit from it.

VALLEY CIVIC MUSIC ASSOCIATION'S MEMBERSHIP DRIVE NOW OPEN

Monday evening, May 12, The Valley Civic Music Association opened its fourth annual memberships compaign with a dinner meeting given as a courtesy to the officers, chairmen and workers who have volunteered to assist in the current membership campaign. The dinner meeting was held at the Jack and Jill cafe in Abbotsford at 7 o'clock.

Mr. L. C. Harris, president of the association conducted the meeting and Mrs. David Davis from the New York offices of Civic Concert Service who is in Abbotsford to assist with the campaign was guest speaker. The Reverend H. P. Collins gave the invocation.

For the past three autumn and winter seasons the Valley Civic Music Association has been bringing concerts presented by nationally and internationally known artists to the area. Concerts are held in the Abbotsford school auditoriums. The association is entirely volunteer and non-profit. The budget is established by the sale of memberships for one week during the year, at the end of that week the amount raised is used to secure the following season's attractions.

The current membership campaign which began with the dinner Monday evening will continue through Saturday, May 17th. After that date memberships are not available nor are tickets sold to single concerts. Membership in the association entitles the member to attend all concerts presented by the association. There are never less than three concerts.

Members of the Valley association may also attend the Bellingham Civic Music concerts subject to seating availability. Memberships for the 1958-59 series are $7.00 for adults, $3.50 for students, tax included. Headquarters for the campaign are in The Jacobson Agencies building on the Trans-Canada Highway and are open from 9 a.m to 5 p.m. each day. Telephone 8171.

The association is announcing one attraction in advance this year. Because of the demand of concert goers for the return of Carl Palangi he will again appear on the Valley series. Mr. Palangi is the well known baritone who appears with the San Francisco opera company, with major symphony orchestras as soloist and is now on his seventh tour throughout the United States and Canada. In addition to the Carl Palangi concert, two other attractions will be announced at the completion of the membership campaign.

MRS. EDWARD PIERCE

Tragedy marked the early life of Mrs. Edward Pierce soon after her family arrived in the Mt. Lehman area.

Alice Bailey, her maiden name then was born on Section, 4 Wellington, Vancouver Island, in 1894 .Her brother, James C. Bailey, was born there. Their father, Richard Bailey, was a coal miner working mostly in the United States He came across the border and decided to buy some land at Mt. Lehman and the family joined him there in 1898.

They arrived by river boat at what was then known as Mt. Lehman Landing, in front of Alder's Store. There was no wharf—people just stepped onto the beach!

The Baileys were met there by Mr. Towlan, of Mt. Lehman, with a horse and buggy. When they arrived at Mt. Lehman, Mrs. Pierce recalls Mr. Towlan took the two smaller children by the hand and they started off on what seemed to them a long trail through the bush. At the end, there stood a small log cabin, and that was the Bailey's first home in Mt. Lehman. It is about one and a half miles from where the Pierces now live.

After a short while here they moved down, temporarily to Whatcom County, near Bellingham, where Mr. Bailey was working in the Blue Canyon mine. It was on January 23 or 24th, after they arrived there, that someone came to the house with the news that Mr. Bailey had been killed in an explosion in the mine.

The family returned to the home at Mt. Lehman. A friend of Mrs. Bailey's persuaded her to go and spend a holiday on Vancouver Island. This she did, taking the children with her.

They returned to Mt. Lehman nearly three months after Mr. Bailey's death. Mrs. Pierce's memory is not too clear as to what caused the trouble but just as they reached Mt. Lehman Landing on the river boat "Ramona", Mrs Pierce told the children to stay where they were and went forward to help a lady passenger in some way, when all of a sudden , the fore part of the boat broke away and both women were drowned in the Fraser River. That was in 1901, when Mrs. Pierce was not quite seven years old.

She was taken into the home of the Malcolm Morrisons and raised by them. Later she married Edward Pierce and they have three children.Ruth, who is married and lives down east; Russell, still in Mt. Lehman; and Annie(Mrs. Bill Connor), McDonald Rd.

Mr. Percy Pierce is Edward's brother and also lives in Mt. Lehman. Edward Pierce served overseas in the First World war.

Mrs. Pierce says everything was very quite in those days but they enjoyed what events there was.

She recalls an annual picnic in the community, but there was so much bush still around that it was hard to find a picnic place.

She attended the Dunach School on the Mt. Lehman Rd. She walked two and a quarter miles to it with not a house between home and school, and bush nearly all the way. Mrs. Pierce recalls going to school one day unaware that a big bear was following her.Mr. Morrison had seen it break out of his orchard and follow her so he followed behind the bear with a gun. That evening he met her at the school, still carrying the gun, and told her what had happened in the morning.

The roads were not open around there at that time. It was not until 1914 that a main road was opened. Mrs. Pierce speaks of the Jackman family coming to visit from Aldergrove and of the long way around that they had to travel.

She remembers several houses around on the Dennison Road. The big Morrison house, John Morrison's little house, the Dennisons and the Paynes.

Mt. Lehman became one of the earlier settled districts around here. It is still very beautiful around there but Mrs. Pierce is taking life quietly now, too, as Mr. Pierce has not been very well for the past year or so.

SCOUT NEWS

by Neville A. Hutton

The past week has been a very active one for all the Scout Troops and Cub Packs in the Langley District. All the activities have been on a district level so there are no individual reports. The reunion of the Jamboree Troop No. 12, composed of Scouters and Scouts from the Fraser Valley, North and West Vancouver and New Westminster, started the whirl of scout doings. The re-union was held at Mr. Ken Nelson's home on Coghlan Road on Sunday, May 11th, with 24 of the 32 representatives to the 1957 Jamboree present. The day was spent in reminiscing, swapping yarns and renewing friendships climaxed with a feed of barbecued chicken. District Commissioner, Fred Greer, and Cub Master Lorne Halliday ,represented Langley District.

Centennial Day in Aldergrove was the next event that the scouts participated in by assisting in directing traffic, acting as messengers and adding their colorful uniforms to the festivities. The 1st Otter Troop ran a sling-shot shoot during the late afternoon and it proved to be very popular with the younger set and many of their parents, especially the fathers.

On the Wednesday following Centennial Day the 1st Aldergrove Troop hosted a lecture presented by F/O Don Park of the RCAF on "Survival" in the woods. 73 scouts and leaders from Langley Troops attended and all agree that it was extremely interesting and particularly applicable to the scouts with summer hikes and camps soon to begin. Scoutmaster Neville Hutton follow-up F/O Park's talk with a brief explanation of the survival kits that each of his lads have made. The evening ended with Commissioner Greer leading the assembly in a rousing scout cheer for F/O Park.

Sunday, May 18, saw the 1st Aldergrove Troop and the 1st Otter Troop play their first game of the inter-troop softball league. In spite of the blistering heat and arid field the boys played seven innings with 1st Otter Scouts trouncing the Aldergrove lads 16-10. Bob Burden racked up 4 runs with Gordon Elmore getting 3 and Tom Dunn and Wayne Andrews scored 2 each. The balance of runs were scored by the other five players.

The May Day celebrations at Fort Langley climaxed the week with Cubs and Scouts of most Langley groups putting on a wonderful display of numbers in the parade. Following the parade scouts served as a Guard of Honor for the May Queen and her retinue and later in the day as markers for the May Pole Dances.

There were two floats with a scouting theme in the parade. The Otter Troop again held a sling-shot shoot that had many patrons trying to break the bottles.

AROUND TOWN

The "Democrat" buggy recently asked for in the classified section has been put to very good use as a planter and now reposes outside the entrance to Petersen's Floral & Garden Shop filled with plants and flowers and labelled "1st Floral Delivery 1858".

A large unusual vehicle painted yellow and looking like an upturned ship attracted comment when seen in Aldergrove last week. On Enquiry this was found to be a modern self-contained cement mixer and spreader.

Jock's Nursery—the propogation centre for boulevard trees and shrubs, cared for by the Chamber of Commerce president J. E. Fairholm, is looking very well. Little damage from frost has been caused to cuttings and the percentage of strikes is high. Any donations of shrubs, cuttings, etc., are always greatly appreciated.

NOTES FROM THE HOSPITAL

Although April 1958 with its 241 admissions did not reach the high number (275) of April 1957-it had its frequent high periods and its infrequent lows. We had three days during the month with between 42 and 46 in-patients but contrast this with 9 days with 51 patients or over. For another month we were faced with the need of admitting a child, hurt in an accident, to a mattress on the floor in the hall where already two patients were in bed. Now it is the common rather than the uncommon sight to see patients in the halls. We do hope that ways and means will be found to relieve this congestion, in the very near future.

Babes born during the month were 41 a drop of 3 from the month of March. April last year showed a total of 55 babies born here.

The operating room recorded 175 cases treated in both the main O.R. and Out PatientEmergency Department. And so the work of your Hospital goes on.

BY "WENDY"

During the summer months rabbits can be kept very successfully on what is known as the Morant system. This consists of a small box type hutch with sleeping shelves about 12 inches from the ground and a large wired in run.

This cage is placed on the grass and moved it's own width or length daily. You will be surprised at the amount of good that can be done to the grass by a few rabbits-they clear the weeds and the grass grows twice as fast. Your food bills are cut to a minimum and the rabbits really thrive on it.

One word of advice-make sure the wire that you use for the pen is strong guage and small mesh as cats and dogs will try to get at them. It is also advisable to wire the bottom of the pen with 2 inch mesh wire as this allows plenty of room for the rabbits to eat the grass, yet stops them from burrowing and scratching.

If you rear one or two litters you will have a good supply of rabbit meat in your freezer and if you have never tried home reared rabbit meat you are in for a surprise.

It is tender white meat, every bit as nourishing as chicken and almost as tasty. No one likes killing stock that they have reared themselves so the best thing to do is just put them in a basket or box and take them to the local butcher. Let him kill and dress them for you and then they will look like any other meat. Tell him you want the pelts as they make excellent gloves and trimmings.

You should dry the pelts by stretching and tacking them to a board fur side down. Then hang them up for a few days in an airy place where mice, cats and dogs can't reach them. Do not leave them in the direct sunlight. When quite dry, wrap them in newspaper and you can keep them indefinitely. When you have 12 or so, send them away and have them cured properly.

There are many breeds and colors but the most popular seems to be the New zealand white. This rabbit is very large-grows and matures quickly and gives maximum return for food consumed. For the hobbyist there is the small compact Dutch, the chinchilla which gives such a beautiful pelt-the various Rex breeds whose fur is just like plush velvet or there is just the "plain rabbit". All will give you a fair return for time and money spent on meat, fur or just amusement.

GUINEA PIGS

A creature that is neglected as a pet is the Cavy or, as he is generally known, the guinea pig. These animals are very easy to keep, quiet, and become quite tame. They can be exhibited and make excellent pets for children to show. Their conditioning depends mainly on good feeding, proper housing and gentle handling.

There are three distinct types. The smooth-coated, the long-haired Peruvian and the Abyssinian, whose hair grows in large rosettes all over its body. The Peruvian needs a fair amount of grooming to keep the hair free from mats. Their hutch must be kept very clean and dry or their coat becomes dirty and discoloured. The smooth variety will attend to his own toilet and an occasional rub with a silk handkerchief will give him a high polish.

Cavies can be had in many self colours such as black, white, cream, red, etc., but one of the most picturesque is the tortoishell and white. These are red, black and white, the colours being distributed as evenly as possible over the body. Cavies can be fed almost the same as rabbits and their hutch arrangements should be the same. One big difference is the fact that young cavies are born fully active and furred. They are the prettiest little things and usually popular with children.

COOKING TIPS

Let potatoes that you want to bake stand in hot water for about fifteen minutes. They will cook in half the time. Rub the skins with margene to keep them soft.

Tie asparagus tips together before you cook them and use your kitchen forceps to take them from boiling water. Untie the string after you have put them in a serving dish.

No one will know you have been eating onions if you mix a little celery with them or add a clove to dishes containing onions.

Rule for Tomato Soup....Put red into white or you will be blue.

Dip slices of tomato in vinegar before you fry them. They will keep their shape and the flavor is delicious.

Cook eggs in salty water. The shells will be brittle and easy to remove.

Bradner May Day Celebrations

Household Hints

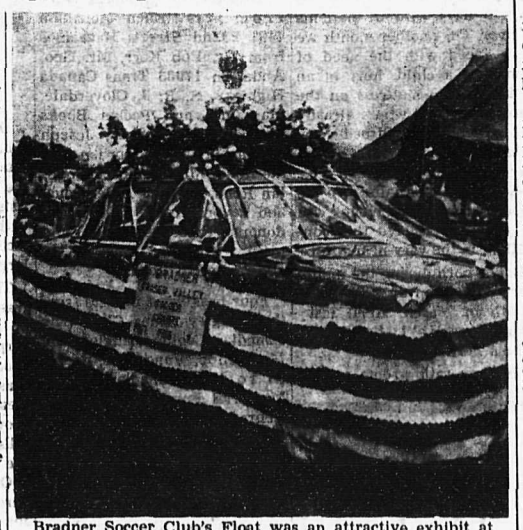
Soak your new broom in a pail of hot water to which a tablespoon of vinegar has been added. It lasts longer.

If your sink drain is clogged with grease, throw a handful of baking soda down the pipe, then a half a glass of vinegar. The chemical action between them cuts the grease.

To remove lime from the tea kettle place a small amount of vinegar in the kettle and let it boil, then stand overnight. In the morning you will find that the sediment has loosened and with a little additional scouring the kettle looks like new.

If you are out of wax and want to shine up the kitchen linoleum, clean the surface first and then wipe it over with a cloth wrung out of ordinary milk. You will be surprised at the gloss it gives you.

If you sprinkle table salt all over a rug and then vacuum it thoroughly you will be surprised how it freshens colors and loosens dirt.



Bradner Soccer Club's Float was an attractive exhibit at Bradner's May Day Celebrations.

Although it was a dull day on Monday a large crowd turned out to the annual celebrations for May Day at Bradner.

Starting from Sanders Store a gay procession left at 10.20 for the school grounds. Led by the local scouts some attractive floats followed a—gaily decorated car showed Bride & Groom of 1910, portrayed by Irene Wiebe and Al Hickman, complete with trailing boots and cans (modern) and confetti throwers—then followed the Lady of the Lake (Iris McMath) reclining on the hood and possibly feeling a trifle cold. Ritchie Fatkin the driver was considered overdressed for his part.

Bradner Soccer XI put on on excellent float labelled Fraser Valley Soccer Champions with football mounted on flower bedecked frame—Matsqui Fire Brigade's entry looked anything but ready for an emergency call — Bradner Drum Majorettes looked very cool and collected great applause—dozens of decorated bicycles and tricycles—many fancy costumes and then the Queen-elect herself with her attendants.

Mrs. Joy Donaldson, Bradner's first Queen of the May white net overdress and carrying a nosegay of mixed coloured carnations.

The Queen's attendants from three neighbouring schools were Jeannie McKay from Aberdeen in a green nylon dress, with puffed sleeves, net overdress and a headress of green tinted lilies of the valley —Kathleen Stewart from Jubilee in a yellow nylon dress, pleated skirt, puffed sleeves and yellow net overdress and from Mt. Lehman, Valerie La Chapelle in a turquoise embossed cotton dress with big white bow and a white marguerite headress.

After the crowning ceremony Queen Helvie made a short, very composed speech before performing her first duty that of presenting a corsage to Bradner's oldest inhabitant "Grandma" Nicholl.

Mrs. O'Toal's Drum Majorettes, 26 in number, then gave a display with batons. Considering these girl's have only been organised for 2 months they put on an impressive performance. Other turns included an exhibition of pony riding by Sig Sater's two young children, parades of decorated bicycles, tricycles, and centennial costumes with prizes given out by the Queen and her attendants.

As the Matsqui Police commented "They don't need us here, They're enjoying themselves."

AROUND TOWN

The tender for Aldergrove's sidewalks has been let to Esmond's General Construction Co. of Langley. Work started on Tuesday morning.

Mr. Esmond Mills with four men hope to finish the complete job in three weeks and will work on th north side first.

First prize in the recent beard growing contest was donated by Pat Rooney.

There will be a cavalcade of ancient cars - 1900 to 1914 vantage in the vicinity of Aldergrove Agricultural hall on Friday May 23 at 11 am.

Total number of American tourists to enter through the Aldergrove Customs Port over the holiday was 720. Returning Canadians reached the high total of 4,890.

Vancouver and Back In Five Hours

In 1911, a small brochure was published by the firm of Thacker and Thornton, an investment firm in New Westminster.

In this brochure Langley Prairie is described as follows:

"It is difficult for one to picture a more independent, healthy or interesting life than the farmer of Langley Prairie enjoys, located as he is at the very door of a growing city, whose population reaches out with eager hands for the fresh *green vegtables from his gard*en, the ripe fruit from his orchard and the sweet cream or butter from his dairy.

Today virgin land in Langley Prairie can be had from $50 to $150 per acre, while improv*ed farms range from* $175 to $300 per acre.

The trip to Langley Prairie is one of the most delightful Columbia, consuming less than five hours for the round trip.

Schools for the lower grades are in operation wherever the population will warrant, while at Murray's Corner a beautiful new High School is now under construction. Those who are fortunate enough to live close to this school can give their children the same course in training that they would receive in our city schools,while the tram line will make it possible for those seeking the higher courses of study to patronize the larger institutions of learning in New Westminster and Vancouver, going in the morning and returning to Langley Prairie the same evening.

This is the type of male used to produce a really fast growing broiler to 2½ lbs. with an unbeatble feed conversion under average conditions—2.5 lbs. of feed for each lb. of chicken is not unusual and even better than this is being achieved in some broiler plants in B.C.

PHARMACY REPORTER
By Mary Johnson

Question—Is it true in the State of Tennessee they have a peculiar method of keeping horses and cows from getting certain diseases?
Answer—Yes, it has been reported that some farmers believe that a "strong" billy goat, tied in the stalls with the horses and cows, will forestall certain types of diseases!

ROBBER BEES RAID .....
ANOTHER HIVE .....

The Governmnt Apiary Inspector for B. C. tells of spending one day watching some "robber" bees at work. He says the owner of the hive noticed them entering the corner of a hive on the opposite side to where the real occupants of the hive were located at the time.

It happened on a cool, cloudy day when the bees don't fly much. To check up on them the Inspector and owner sprinkled flour on the "robbers" and could thus check their work, also the flight to their own hive.

The bees worked tirelessly all day and when they left the raided hive they were so loaded down they could hardly take off in flight. At the end of the day their hive was completely full and the raided one equally empty!
