inistry of Highways has an-nced to Council that circum-nces do not warrant further grade crossings of the new free-way in the Municipality.

Present traffic count and size of present population do not jus-tify expensive crossings at the moment, the Minister of High-ways declares, and no further grade crossings will be made.

Council is not letting the mat-ter rest at that. A further gen-eral public meeting similar to previous meetings will be held to decide the next step and all organization representatives will be invited to attend. Meanwhile a strong letter of protest will be forwarded regarding the arbi-trary closing of Coghlan Road which, it appears, was effected solely by contractors on site. In view of the time which will elapse before the opening of the new freeway Council will press for a temporary crossing until the last moment.

Planning Officer Suggests Arterial Road System

Ken Major, Municipal plan-ning officer, has submitted a re-port on a suggested arterial sys-tem of roads for the municipality which Council has forwarded to the Advisory Planning Commis-sion.

His plan for roads is to fulfill three functions, as future arter-ials, as collector roads for the present Trans Canada and the new freeway, and to link com-munities, taking into account both north-south and east-west roads. He emphasizes the import-ance of the following roads: Car-volth, Livingstone, Otter, County Line, Glover, McClughan, Ro-berts, North Bluff and Spring-brook.

The three north-south roads: Carvolth, Livingstone and Coun-ty Line connect by interchange with the new freeway and two roads, Otter and Glover, con-nect by overpass the northern one-third of the municipality with the balance south of the Highway.

Major has this to say of the east-west roads. Firstly, McClu-ghan connects Fort Langley and vicinity to the freeway. Second-ly, Roberts Road is a collector route from Langley City east to the freeway, also going west from the freeway to highway No. 10. Finally, the North Bluff Road is intermunicipal and could con-nect from Abbotsford Airport to the Deas Island Highway as well as to the upper levels of White Rock and through to Ocean Park. This, says Major, could be an important southern cross coun-try route.

And lastly, Springbrook Road is a cross collector to the Liv-ingstone Road interchange and the industrial lands.

All these east-west roads, the report shows, were recommended by the Regional Planning Board some time ago.

Two roads not included are the Wilson Townline and River Rds. Regarding the first Major says that the interchange at Carvolth and McClughan shifts the em-phasis to the McClughan and anyhow the high cost of widen-ing Wilson Town Line from Fort Langley to Topham, plus two railway grade crossings, might not be justified.

As far as River Road is con-cerned the area from the Bluff to the Jackman Road along Riv-er Road is not suitable subdivi-sion land, says Major, and ow-ing to rather unstable soil con-dition it may not be advisable to generate too great a traffic flow through the area.

Major suggests that as a first step building set-back along the roads mentioned should be in-creased to 32'. By doing this, he says the land would be reserved for street widening but need not be purchased until the actual work is to be done.

New housing shows a tendency to site at 25', he reports, al-though 65-70 percent of existing dwellings are sited more than 25' from the property line.

Aldergrove Activities

Rod Caplette has left for Sas-katchewan, where he will visit old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William Buxton had as their guests, the latter's sister, Mrs. George Sturmey and family, who are on holiday from the Island.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Morgan, North Jackman Road, are the proud parents of a baby boy, Andrew Edmond, born June 14, weighing 7 lbs., 5 ozs.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Powshuk, of North Vancouver, have purchas-ed the Crawford property and are busy making improvements before moving from the city.

Juveniles Win Valley Play-off

For the first time the Fraser Valley Juvenile Championship title has come to Aldergrove through the fine playing of the Aldergrove-County Line Juven-iles, coached by Corporal Jack Turner and managed by Jim Za-gula.

The team had to play off a first place tie in the league last week against Cloverdale and lost out. This past week, play-offs started with the Aldergrove con-tingent drawn against third place Fort Langley. They took two of the three games from the Fort team and then had to wait a day or so for the Cloverdale-Newton play-off to finish. Clo-verdale emerged the winners of this set-up and met Aldergrove at Cloverdale on Saturday eve-ning. Aldergrove took that game 8 to 6 and then cleaned up on Cloverdale on Sunday afternoon with a decisive win of 13 to 8, making it two straight.

Most of the boys on the Alder-grove team started out as Coun-ty Line Midgets under Richard and Philip Green some four years ago. S. J. Parsons, princi-pal of County Line School, car-ried on the next year with Phil Green, then a juvenile team got going with the help of Bill Za-gula, Clarence Doyle and other County Liners, L. Robideau coaching. Cliff Davidson mean-while took over the younger team. Now the young ones have grown into Juveniles and the team is back together again and in ex-cellent shape.

The play-off for the Mainland championship started on Mon-day evening at the Aldergrove High School Grounds against Westburn (Burnaby). The local squad played topnotch ball and completely outclassed the city fellows by a decisive score of 20 to 5. The second game of the best out of three was played in Burnaby on Tuesday but this was too late for results to catch this issue. A bases loaded homer by Helmut Dyck and another with one on by Gary Cardno, as well as a couple more were high-lights of the game.

Winners of this series will play against Vancouver champions over the weekend. If Aldergrove wins, at least one of the games will be at the Aldergrove High School grounds.

The local residents and people from both Newton and Clover-dale are giving the boys fine support by their attendance at games, in large numbers.

GRANDDAUGHTER FOR ANDY JACKMANS

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Neil Clayton (nee Mar-guerite Jackman) in St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver on July 3.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Andy Jackman of Ross Road, Al-dergrove, and Mr. and Mrs. Rob-ert Clayton of Vancouver. This is the first granddaughter for the Jackmans and the first grandchild for the Claytons. The Jackmans have two grandsons.

Last Rites For Early Pioneer

One of the districts very ear-liest pioneers in the person of Alex Vanetta died on Friday after a long illness. He was in his 86th year.

Funeral services for the late Mr. Vanetta were held today in the United Church, Aldergrove, with the Rev. J. R. Colclough of-ficiating.

Alex Vanetta

Alex Vanetta was the first white boy to be born where the village of Milner now stands and he had lived all his life in the Langley district, coming to Al-dergrove in 1887 where he farm-ed on the County Line Road, be-side the old railway track, for 47 years.

During his lifetime he served his community like the true pio-neers did, watching it grow from the smallest beginning to the ac-tive community it now is. He served as School Trustee and Councillor at various periods. He helped draw up plans for the church of his faith, Aldergrove United, and was an ardent mem-ber of the congregation.

Surviving are three sons, Cecil and Jack, both of Vancouver; and William of Aldergrove; two daughters, Mrs. A. Keay (Gwen) of Vancouver, and Mrs. F. C. Johnston (Connie) of Al-dergrove; two sisters, Mrs. Jes-sie Boston, Aldergrove and Mrs. W. M. Young (Mildred) of Win-nipeg; also nine grandchildren.

Pallbearers for their old friend will be H. W. Endacott, George MacDonald, Bob Deans, Stan Deans, Bill Davis and Peter Voigt, with Langley Funeral Home in charge of the arrange-ments.

Interment took place in the family plot in Aberdeen Ceme-tery.

Aldergrove Girl Wins Trophy

An Aldergrove girl walked off with the trophy in the Junior Open Equitation class at the B. C. Junior Horse Show held at Southlands Riding School, Van-couver, last weekend.

14-year-old Jennifer Anson, grade 9 pupil at Aldergrove High School, was riding her own horse, Lucky Strike, for the first time in a big competition and came first from an entry of 38.

She will have her name en-graved on the perpetual Chall-enge Cup and retains a replica.

Jennifer is planning to ride this same horse in the P.N.E. this summer.

VICTIM OF DROWNING

Full Scout Honors For John Meyrick

Fortunately, a Scout funeral is a rare occurrence, but when the occasion does arise it is a cere-mony of simple dignity conduct-ed by quite young boys, the min-ister and their leaders.

Such was the case on Thurs-day when John Meyrick, the vic-tim of a recent drowning acci-dent and a member of the 1st Coghlan Scout Troop, was buried in Fort Langley at St. George's Church. Pallbearers for the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Meyrick, Howell Road, County Line, were members of his own troop, Scouts Dennis Oss (who was with him when the accident happened), Ricky Davidson, Pat Roe, David Miskuski, Teddy Ashman and Wayne Godman, under Scout-master A. Yeo. The Scout flag of the 1st Coghlan troop was drap-ed in black. This was carried by Scout Tom Brooks while Scout Barry Jackson carried the Union Jack.

The guard-of-honor which lined the pathway to the church was composed of members of the 1st Langley Troop, under Dis-trict Scoutmaster Neville Hutton.

Also present were District Scout Commissioner Fred Greer and Scoutmaster R. Chell.

St. George's Church was filled to capacity by friends of the family and Rev. Cyril Venables conducted the service. The pro-fusion of floral tributes spoke of the esteem in which John and his family are held. Mr. Ven-ables mentioned that John, his parents and his brother had all made their communion in that church on the morning of the day he died, and that he was one of the top students in the province, of the Sunday School-by-Post. John's staff, Bible and prayerbook were buried with him and his Scout hat was placed on the casket.

On leaving the church the guard-of-honor took its place in front of the cortege and the pall-bearers walked beside the hearse to the Fort Langley Cemetery where interment took place, with the Scouts forming a large horseshoe around the grave, col-ors dipped.

Two Surrey Men Nominated

Dalton O. Jones of Cloverdale and George F. Crowe of White Rock were elected candidates by acclamation for the forthcoming provincial election. The Delta Constituency, of the Progressive Conservatives held its nominat-ing convention in Cloverdale on July 5. Approximately 100 dele-gates were present.

Ian Paton of Ladner, Alex Hope and Harry Coates of Lang-ley were also nominated but de-clined to let their names stand.

International Meet At Border

Annual international picnic of Women's Institutes from Lower Mainland, North Fraser, Point Grey and Northwest Washing-ton was held last Friday at the Peace Arch.

Canada being hostess, the pic-nic was held on the B. C. side at the Peace Arch Lodge with White Rock W. I., under Mrs. Stewart, in charge of refresh-ments.

Following the picnic, addresses were made by Mrs. Welsh, past president B.C.W.I.'s, Mrs. Ada Shaw, Mrs. Collier and Mrs. Jes-sie Ducey, president of Washing-ton ladies.

The last named speaker stress-ed the necessity for peace and said "If we are going to have a real lasting peace the women need to do more than their share."

Following addresses and a roll call the assembly marched four abreast, 286 in number, across the park and under the Peace Arch where an American mem-ber held the Stars and Stripes, and Mrs. Stewart the Union Jack. All joined hands and sang na-tional anthems and hymns, end-ing with "Auld Lang Syne."

An Aldergrove minor, Gordon Andrew Fedoruk, was fined $10 for failing to produce insurance.

Two charges were laid against a Port Coquitlam minor, Dale Dennis Dumore. He pleaded not guilty to driving without consid-eration for other road users re-sulting in an accident on Hospi-tal hill when 3 persons were hos-pitalized and extensive damage done to 3 cars. He was found guilty of the charge and fined $200 and costs. He was also fined a further $25 for being a minor in possession of liquor and his licence was taken away for 30 days.

Steven Dunn of Fort Langley pleaded not guilty to driving while under suspension but the Magistrate fined him $150 plus $3 costs and ordered him to pay in one month or otherwise serve a 30 day sentence.

Plan Suggests S.P.C.A. Takes Over Local Dog Pounds

Under consideration by the City and Township of Langley is a proposed take over of dog pounds and dog tax collections by the S.P.C.A.

Speaking for the Association at a recent meeting Tom Hughes told Council members that main consideration was control of dogs by local by-law, care provided in the pound and method of de-struction used in the pound.

The Association is already op-erating pounds in 27 B. C. muni-cipalities and has trained per-sonnel and equipment, he said, and estimated that it would cost approximately $20,000 to provide adequate pound building to serve this area and $10,000 per annum for full time operation.

He admitted that the present pound could be bought up to an acceptable standard for around $5,000.

He suggested the present ad-ministration of the Pound By-law was not too satisfactory and that as both councils would need to make changes in the near fu-ture, now would be a good time to make the change.

The S.P.C.A., said Hughes, would provide a pound service by using its pound located in Surrey and would make a door-to-door collection of dog taxes. There would be a daily patrol of both municipalities to pick up stray dogs which, he said, was not done at present.

This service, continued Hughes, would cost approximately $5,000 for both City and Township less estimated revenue of $1,500. Bal-ance of $3,500 would be split 80/20 costing Township $2,800 and City $700.

In 1959 2146 dogs were licensed in the Township with revenue of $4,114. Against this was cost of collection $1,697 and Pound costs $489. Langley City only had 223 licensed dogs.

Both City and Council have tabled the suggested plan, pend-ing enquiry into success of op-eration in other municipalities.

FIRE BUGS? BEWARE

Hot, dry, sunny weather is here now although, of course, when this is read a different situation might prevail.

The public has been exhorted by TV, radio and press to keep British Columbia green and to prevent forest and other fires.

Nearly everyone considers himself incapable of perpetrating such a crime, because crime it is, but yearly the toll of lives, property and raw material increases.

So far, Aldergrove Volunteer Fire Department has been fortunate with very few calls but prolonged hot weather will produce the usual bush fires and this year, people won't get off so lightly.

Do you know that between the dates of May 1 and September 1 you may not set fire even to a bit of paper outside unless you have a fire permit approved by Council?

You may not burn garbage even in an incinerator unless a permit is obtained. Sparks from garbage burning may easily create a wide spread bush fire so there is reason for the local by-law to be enforced.

The fine is heavy—up to $100 for first offence but when one remembers that the Glen Valley fire two years ago was probably started from such a spark, also the series of North Bluff fires, it doesn't appear too harsh a by-law.

Report from Parliament Hill

By W. A. McLennan, M. P.

The Minister of Justice has told the House that a substantial amount of evidence has been produced confirming that an organized racket exists to bring Chinese into Canada illegally. As speedily as possible prosecutions of the racketeers will be pressed. He has appealed for co-operation from the Chinese community to wipe out the racket. It is not the intention of the Government to punish Chinese whose only crime has been the technical fault of illegal entry, but to protect them from blackmail and prosecute the racketeers.

Canada is vigourously promoting an early meeting of the United Nations Disarmament Commission. It was a great disappointment to Canada's representatives that the Communists walked out of the 10 Nation Committee Meeting at Geneva without waiting to hear new Western proposals. This Committee was only a negotiating body and the real responsibility of the problem and principal of disarmament rests with the United Nations. Under the leadership of the Honourable Howard Green, Minister of External Affairs, Canada has been one of the foremost advocates of world disarmament agreements, as well as the banning of nuclear explosions.

It was a historic occasion for which the Right Honourable John Diefenbaker had waited since 1942 to formally present his cherished Canadian Bill of Rights. It was introduced on Dominion Day, Canada's 93rd birthday, and he did it in such a way as to seem to peer hopefully into the future pages of Canadian history for a vision of this Bill of Rights as one of the great documents of the Nation and Parliament. In introducing the Bill the Prime Minister was at his best with a very emotional speech and ending with a pledge to all Canadians, "I am a Canadian, a free Canadian, free to speak without fear, free to worship God in my own way, free to stand for what I think right, free to oppose what I believe wrong, free to choose those who govern my country. This heritage of freedom I pledge to uphold for myself and all mankind.

In the main, the new Bill recognizes that in Canada there always have existed and will exist the following human rights and fundamental freedoms: Ones right to life, liberty, security of property. The right of the individual to protection of the law without discrimination by reason of race, national origin, religion or sex, freedom of religion, assembly, speech, association and of the press.

If, for no other reason, the Bill of Rights may serve a useful purpose in stimulating interest and discussion in the rights as well as responsibilities of citizenship and in arousing public opinion over wrongs committed by governing bodies and their agents. The discussions on the Bill is certain to lead to reforms in at least two Government Departments, Immigration and Indian Affairs, about which there are many complaints over bureaucratic abuses against individuals.

The House is now sitting from 11 a. m. until 11 p. m., with Committee meetings plus handling a members' correspondence and other duties, it adds up to a long strenuous day.

SILVER ARROWHEAD CAMP

The Silver Arrowhead adventure camp was deemed a success by all that attended it. There were 32 Scouts from all over the Fraser Valley present, and all made new friends and had lots of fun. Eight Langley boys took part, they were: Chris Johnson, Roddy Brookes, David Shkurhan, Ronnie Crist, Graham Friberg, Alec Bishop, Norman Mowles, and Steve Firth. All the boys completed the course to the satisfaction of the course leaders and will receive their Silver Arrowhead Award in the near future.

The camp utilized both of Langley Scouting's parks, the 'base'camp being on Otter Road Scout Park and the 'outpost' being in Ponder Memorial Scout Park. The theme of the camp was the patrol system and outdoor living based on the historic portage made across Langley in the early days of exploration. The actual 'portage' of our particular camp was made with the assistance of a three ton truck! Many thanks to Fred Greer for the use of the truck. The first day of camp was spent in organization, setting up patrol sites, and training sessions. By Thursday the patrols were functioning very well and more advanced things were undertaken. Friday saw the camp journey to the 'outpost' to select sites for the various projects to be undertaken. The course had to build a 'fort,' signal tower, aerial tramway, and a bridge. All of these items were later used in games. Saturday saw the entire camp move out to the outpost and set up shelters for the night. Each patrol selected its own site and established a headquarters. Sunday the troop returned to 'base' camp and prepared to leave for home.

Some highlights of the camp; the excellent meals some of the patrols came up with; the easy-going inspections every morning; the trek into the outpost; 'Bug' patrols' display of logging; the great war at the 'fort'; the special 'rites' performed on Saturday night; and the grand ending to camp with a swim in Mr. Finning's pool.

Ten Little Geraniums

By Tom Gascoigne

"You are stupid"—said my number one wife, addressing me. An expression of infinite disgust illuminated her eyes, and her aggressive bearing left little doubt in my mind that there were grave possibilities she wasn't always wrong. Sometimes, I thought I was stupid too.

Well, it all started this away. While in town we purchased a new lawn mower—one of those revolving, flat bladed rigs. The ever so glib salesman unconditionally guaranteed that this little dandy, the creation of modern science, would cut anything, easily.

At that moment I did wonder if the salesman's gratuitous statement included the cutting of taxes too, or was that asking far too much from a guaranteed piece of brainless mechanical equipment.

It did seem to me that somewhere I had heard of taxes being cut. I couldn't quite remember from what source I had heard of this revolutionary fantasy, assuredly it couldn't have been from the words of a councillor, could it? No, certainly not.

No sooner had I started to cut the lawn with our new mower than the trouble began. I was pursuing a circuitous course around the house, the mower was doing an excellent job, that is, until the blade picked up a bone, left by the dog, and threw it through the window. The light of my life was unmistakably upset with this slight error and I was given a rude warning.

I was told in terms of false endearment to reverse my direction around the house, in this manner the stones or bones picked up by the mower would be thrown away from our own house and in the general direction of the neighbor's houses and windows. Well now, I never thought of that, I guess I'm just dumb as were my honorable ancestors.

Gracing our garden are ten very small, very young geraniums. These little beauties are privileged. They are spaced in a very special spot, well cared for and fed assiduously by my wife. I, with my usual grace swept the new mower too close and then there was but one.

My scientific and learned explanations, that the plants would grow doubly fast after this pruning process fell on very deaf ears. As long as I live I will never forget my wife's caustic well chosen remarks, as she said, "You are stupid,"—and I am.

Credit Union Hears Report

The monthly meeting of Otter Credit Union was held in the C. U. Hall on the usual Tuesday night, when officers took care of the month's business. Miss Ives was secretary - treasurer (pro-tem) as Mrs. E. Bolton was unable to attend. Mr. J. MacFarlane gave the highlights of the B. C. Credit Union Convention which he and Mrs. MacFarlane had attended last week.

It was reported three hundred dollars of share capital was added to the International House Credit Union by delegates to the B. C. Credit Union League on June 24 at Courtney. A temporary office was set up by Beant-Singh, president; Winston Josephs, treasurer and Felix Raymond, member of International House Credit Union. The International students greatly appreciate the wonderful response by the delegates; and their spokesman, Beant Singh, told the Credit Union that when those students returned to their homeland, they would not soon forget the generosity of their Canadian friends.

HALT ENGINE WEAR!

RPM Supreme Motor Oil is three oils in one. It gives triple grade protection: flows like a light oil for fast starts ...like a medium oil for short-trip driving...protects like a heavy oil on long, hot runs.

What's more, its exclusive Detergent-Action compounding keeps parts so clean, protects them so well, it actually halts engine wear. With RPM Supreme, engines can outlast the car itself.

Rock Club Meets At Princeton

A small party of local rockhounds visited Princeton Sunday leaving early morning and by devious routes made for a place known as Red Bluff or Painted Cliff.

This area is known for deposits of petrified black wood or limb casts, which make beautiful ornaments and cut and polish easily.

The party was successful in obtaining several specimens after some rather arduous mountain climbing while a fine boulder of Tuolite was found by Mrs. James Cardno on the bank of the Tulameen River. This rock is a conglomerate, hardness 7, colored pink and dark green and has not been found before at Princeton.

The party later visited the home of the Gibsons, noted local rockhounds.

Utility Lines Plan Adopted

A report stressing desirability of proper location of all utility lines has been presented to Council by D. J. Doubleday, Municipal clerk.

The report was sparked by the proposed water system for Aldergrove and Doubleday suggests that as Aldergrove has existing gas lines on some streets, a proposed water system, sanitary sewers in the foreseeable future, and a basic road pattern with overall subdivision layout on paper, an excellent opportunity is presented to plan the location of all utility lines including electric wires, telephone wires, water mains, gas mains, sanitary sewers and storm sewers.

The B. C. Telephone Co. and the B. C. Electric Co., says Doubleday, have jointly published a booklet which suggests that pole lines should be located on easements at rear of lots but location of other pipelines needs to be considered in the light of the type of land being served.

He gives as an example commercial areas which would have curb paving where perhaps pipelines should be installed in the lanes, whereas residential areas will probably have a 22 ft. paved road with a 22 ft. boulevard on either side of the paving and here pipelines could be sufficiently accommodated.

After consideration Council decided to adopt the proposal in principle.

BC Top Bowlers Compete At PNE

B. C.'s top bowlers will compete for $500 first prizes in the Pacific National Exhibition's 1960 Five-Pin Match Game Championship.

Sixty-four men and 32 women will complete in the finals. They are the winners of contests held throughout B. C. in which more than 50,000 bowlers participated.

The man and woman champions will each receive $500 and the Coca-Cola Trophy. Runners-up will get $250 each.

Bowling will take place each day of the fair, Aug. 20 to Sept. 5, from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m.

Fairgoers will be admitted free into a building specially constructed for the finals. The bowlers will play on two first-class alleys with automatic pinsetters.

Tour Of Famous Home Planned

The congregation of St. George's Anglican Church, Fort Langley, purchased from the Government the old house which used to stand on the site of the restored Officers' Quarters at the old Fort. It has been moved close to the church, redecorated and renovated for use as the Vicarage.

To raise the balance of the funds required the congregation has several plans. One of these will be a sponsored tour of Monk's Hall, corner of Rawlison Crescent and Glover Road, Fort Langley, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Ziegler. It will be held on Saturday, July 16, from 2:30 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. If wet, the tour will be postponed. For further information re admission refer to the advertisement elsewhere in the paper.

This home holds many priceless treasures including a number of items from the famous Hearst art collection. There are pieces of medieval furniture, armour, weapons, stained glass windows, Adams fireplace, tapestries, painted ceilings and carved woodwork.

Tea will be provided and a tour of this home and the Fort promise a good day's outing to residents of the area and a special treat for them and visitors to the district.

Easy Cricket Win For Langley

Forgetting their derelictions of last week Langley Cricket Club slaughtered Burrard by 7 wickets at Langley on Saturday.

Burrard batted first and the game opened sensationally with a tremendous ball from Rod Sharpe spreadeagling the opening batsman's wicket on the second ball. However, George Johnson, 4 for 8, and Mostyn Williams, 3 for 31, were the bowling heroes and Burrard were all out for a slowly amassed 76. All but one were clean bowled.

Saturday was the occasion for the annual "strawberry tea" for both teams and it was suggested that "Mr. Strawberry Shortcake" took the last two wickets for two runs.

Langley easily accounted for the necessary runs with the loss of only three wickets. Rod Sharp, 25 not out, Mostyn Williams, 14 not out, and Gerry Brown, 17, excelled and the innings was highlighted by a tremendous 6 from Sharp, thought to be the biggest hit made at the ground. The ball landed in the park tennis court.

Next Saturday Langley goes to Montgomery Park where they play Vancouver Juniors.

Construction Down In Sumas And Matsqui

Totals released by municipal offices indicate that construction in both Matsqui and Sumas municipalities is down this year from the six months total of 1959.

Building permits for new dwellings made up the $117,842 total for June in Matsqui. The 6 month total for that municipality is $923,771 slightly more than ⅔ of the 1959 total of $1,345,010.

The Sumas total is ½ of the 1959 figure. $182,310 worth of permits were sold by the municipal office in 1960 while permits valued at $355,970 were issued by the office in 1959. Dwellings and alterations made up the $25,310 total for June.

Wicks Speaks To Local Socreds

Hon. Lyle Wicks, Minister of Labour and Transport, was guest speaker at a Social Credit group meeting held at the Delair Cafe, Abbotsford, July 5.

His subject was the P. G. E. Railway, illustrated by slides, and he stated that 70,000 carloads already have been hauled this year compared with 59,000 for the whole of 1st year. 700 sawmills, he said, are served by the railway which is rapidly opening up the north country while the natural gas scrubbing plant at Taylor Flats can now dispose of its by-products by shipping them out on the P.G.E.

Answering questions, Wicks stated that the Workmen's Compensation Board paid out some $20 million to about 20,000 people last year and agreed there were some injustices although for every one there are ten people who got more than they should.

Girl Chosen For Defence Course

An Abbotsford girl will take part in a newly inaugurated Civil defence course for teenagers.

Sixteen-year-old Pamela Warwick, a girl guide, will leave Abbotsford July 16 for the course in Ottawa. The only other youth from Valley taking part will be Gerald Galey of Langley.

Seven teenagers from BC will be part of the 50 taking part in the civil defence training. Activities included in the course will be training in survival plans, radiation monitoring, first aid, basic rescue, home nursing, emergency feeding.

The course will not be all work for the teenagers as picnics, tours and other recreation activities are included in plans.

Civil defense authorities state the course is planned to foster an increase of interest in civil defense among junior groups.

Abbotsford Lady Heads Water Safety Division

Mrs. E. H. Carson of Abbotsford has been accorded a high honor by the Provincial Division of water safety of the Canadian Red Cross. The association has announced appointment of Mrs. Carson as swimming examiner of of the East Fraser Valley Regional area. The area extends from Hope to Langley on the south side of the Fraser and from Agassiz to Maple Ridge on the north side of the river.

Mrs. Carson is the only person outside of Vancouver and Victoria to receive this appointment, and is regarded by Red Cross authorities as one of the finest swimming instructors in the province.

Make Plan For Oldsters Dance

Abbotsford Liberal Women held their final meeting recently, however summer months will not be idle ones for the group.

The members will study Capital Punishment and effects and this will form the basis for a discussion at the September meeting.

The club members have finalized plans for an evening of entertainment and dancing geared for anyone past the Rock and Roll Age. It was felt that most of the dances and programs are planned with this group in mind and the "oldsters" are left out. The program is planned for September 16 in the Edinborough room of the Jack and Jill Cafe.

Sumas Attracts Many Visitors

No appreciable increase is reported in the annual influx of American visitors to Canada in July. Huntingdon Customs and Immigration officials report 1566 tourists entered Canada with 841 Canadians returning home.

A large number of the Canadians were returning from the annual July 4 celebrations in Sumas, Wash. The Sumas ballstands were packed with interested specators who watched Sumas walk over the Spencers in a game scoring 9 to 0.

A giant fireworks display climaxed the day's celebrations. Fireworks lasted for one hour ending at 12 midnight DST.

BALL GAME SCHEDULE

On Monday next, July 18, M. S. A. will play Aldergrove at Aldergrove Park while on Tuesday Mt. Lehman will play Langley. Both Wednesday and Thursday games at Aldergrove will be taken up with postponed games as the Navy team has now withdrawn from the local league.

On Thursday, at Langley, the local club will host Aldergrove.

PINE GROVE

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Watson and two daughters, Shiela and Norma, arrived at the home of Shirley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, Monday evening. They have spent the past four years in Germany and France where Bruce was stationed with the RCAF. Their youngest child was born in Germany. They brought their small English car over with them and travelled across the States, taking five days for the trip. They plan on spending a month here with parents before leaving for Ottawa where Bruce was formerly stationed. They have found many changes around this part of the country.

Attending the annual W. I. Peace Arch picnic last Friday were Mrs. Elsie McCormick, Mrs. Hilda Ross, Mrs. Helen Syewart and Mrs. Martindale.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stewart and twin sons, daughter Linda and Mr. Stewart's sister, Mrs. Eileen Forshner, motored to Mt. Baker over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart took Linda into Vancouver on Tuesday to catch a boat for Prince Rupert where she will be employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Speak of White Rock spent Sunday visiting at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. McCormick.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Watson and two sons, of Shaunavon, Saskatchewan, are spending two weeks as guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Davis. Last Friday, accompanied by the Davis', they went up to Pemberton to visit their older brother, Bill and his wife, returning home on Tuesday.

Under 21
by Dan Halligan

Dear Dan: We've got a big argument going in our family about bathing suits. I bought a two-piece outfit last week and it's as cute a suit as a girl could want but my mother says it's too revealing. My Dad doesn't think so but Mom is the final authority on my clothes, so I suppose I'll have to return it.

The thing that gripes me is my brother and his swim trunks. Talk about something being revealing, his trunks are just about there and that's about all. My mother says I don't have an argument because swimming suits for girls and swim trunks for boys are two entirely different subjects. What's your opinion, Dan?—Mermaid.

Dear Mermaid: It may surprise you but since spring set in, I've been receiving a number of letters similar to yours, with mothers and daughters disagreeing on sizes, styles and coverage areas of bathing suits.

Your mother is right in that you can't base your argument on what you think about your brother's swim trunks. However, I do know that today some trunks are ridiculous. Not having seen your swimming suit, I can't say anything one way or another but imagine your mother knows best.

For my part, I enjoy seeing a good looking girl in a bathing suit but when a suit is obviously too skimpy, I actually feel embarrassed for the girl and I'm sure many other men do too, believe it or not.

Dear Dan: What would you do in my place, go on to college like you've been planning to do or accept a good job with a good future? I'm 18 and graduated from high school last week. I've always wanted to be a teacher and eventually a high school coach but now that I've met "the" girl, I don't know what to do. I'm practically engaged and I sure can't ask the girl to wait four years, can I? I've got a good job lined up and can have it for the asking but I don't want to make the wrong move. My girl says the decision is up to me, so that makes it all the worse. What do you think I should do?—Lindsay J.

Dear Lindsay: Your girl is wrong in saying it's your decision. If you two are that sure about each other that you're considering marriage, the decision has to be both yours. I can't rightly tell you what to do because there's much more to the problem than what you wrote.

I do know if your burning ambition is to be a teacher and coach, you'll never be as happy in any other profession regardless of the money you make. On the other hand, if you start college, there's nothing in the book that says your girl and you can't get married in a year or so. Thousands of girls have married boys in college and have seen their husbands become successful doctors, lawyers, teachers and engineers. Therefore, I don't think your problems boils down to what job you should take or what college you should attend but rather, how strongly your girl and you feel about each other and how many sacrifices you're willing to make for the other.

Dear Dan: Is there anything wrong with two high school girls spending a week at a state park and living in a tent? Our parents think we shouldn't do it but we don't want to stay in the lodge.—D. K.

Dear D. K.: Tenting out might be more risky than wrong and if you do go through with your plans, make certain you stay around the public camp grounds and don't go hibernating off by yourselves. I doubt if I'd let my daughter go camping because I'd figure there are too many wise guys on the loose.

THE MAIL BAG—

Tall Girl: You can't do anything to minimize your height, so be proud of it and quit slouching. You only draw attention when you do.

(Dan Halligan will be glad to answer questions submitted by teenagers and children. Send them to him. Dan Halligan, c/o Aldergrove News. For personal replies, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CARD OF THANKS
Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Meyrick and family wish to thank those relatives, friends and neighbours for their messages of sympathy and offers of material assistance to us in our bereavement and for so many beautiful floral offerings. It is a most consoling thought to realize that John was so highly esteemed by so many, young and old alike.

He was a good son to us and we like to think that he had a happy home life with us. Also our thanks go to Corp. Jack Turner for his great effort at the time of the disaster and to the officers of the Boy Scouts Association and those members of the Scouts who by their presence at Fort Langley rendered such valuable assistance. Our special thanks to Rev. Cyril Venables for his ministerial counsel and words of consolation and to Mr. Len Greenwood for his many unsolicited acts of kindness in making the necessary arrangements at Fort Langley Cemetery on our behalf.
