LOSE BOAT AND BUCK

Aldergrove Men In Storm Drama

Near tragedy and loss of a cabin cruiser befell a party of three local men when on a hunting trip over the weekend. Roy Holgate and George McAdam of Aldergrove, with Charles Pollon of Cloverdale, left Aldergrove Saturday morning for a hunting trip high up in the Harrison Lake area, taking with them the new deluxe cabin cruiser, 16 feet in length recently built by Holgate in Aldergrove.

About 30 miles up the lake and 10 miles from the nearest logging camp they tied up their boat and went off hunting, managing to bag one large buck. Arriving back they cooked a meal on the boat and were preparing for bedding down when a violent storm arose and started smashing the boat against rocks.

For four hours the three men battled the cold and icy wind and managed to get all gear out of the boat and onto the shore. Holed on the rocks the boat sank but in freeing water the men managed to drag it to the side of the turbulent lake and tie it up.

Soaked to the skin they lit a bonfire and spent, in the words of Holgate, "the most miserable, uncomfortable night ever."

On Sunday, by chance, a boat from a camp at the north end of the lake spotted them and took them, half frozen, back to civilization. If the men in the boat had not seen them, they would have been there for another ten days at least, as they had no means of getting out. They had to leave the buck to the mercy of scavengers in this inaccessible, desolate area.

On Monday Ray Holgate heard by telephone from Harrison that salvage attempts would be impossible for at least three or four days as waves were still eight feet high and no boats were travelling the lake at all. All three men were in sorry condition Monday, with George McAdam in bed and both the others still feeling the effects of their exposure.

The boat was fully covered by insurance.

Golden Ribbon Across Canada

Next spring there will be a "golden ribbon" right across Canada, from shore to shore. It will be comprised of golden tulips. People everywhere will notice it and will be reminded of a movement that developed far beyond any expectations.

The movement is that of the Girl Guides, with its three departments, from the smallest children to young women, and sister organization to the Boy Scouts. The Scouts were first formed in England, in 1908, by the late Lord Robert Baden-Powell. The Guides followed one year later and were started by Miss Baden-Powell, sister of Lord Robert. The Brownies are the Tiniest, the Guides eleven years to sixteen, the Rangers, sixteen and over.

The "golden ribbon" will mark the fiftieth year of Guiding in this country and will remind all who see them what these golden tulips represent. Wherever there are Guides a patch of tulips will be planted in the form of a trefoil, the Guide badge. The one in Langley was planted on Saturday morning on a hill in the grounds of the Municipal Hall. It will be seen by all who pass on the highway. Guides and Brownies from all over the district assembled with their leaders, under Commissioner Mrs. Ritchie, and planted the bottom section of the trefoil which represents the inscription on the badge. The main part of the design was already planted.

Reeve D. W. Poppy and Councillor Wellman were also present to witness the ceremony, after which all present were invited by Mrs. Poppy to go to her house for refreshments.

Aldergrove Man Honored Again

Pelle (Pete) Swenson of Aldergrove has been asked to submit one of his most successful photographs to the "Tops 1X of Photography" for 1959.

The Photographic Society of America, guided by "Who's Who" in International Photographic Salon Exhibitions, each year invites the 50 most successful exhibitors in the world to lend one photograph to make up an exhibit that will travel for 18 months in North America and Europe. This is the second time Mr. Swenson has been asked to participate. In 1956 his picture, "My Grandpa," went on tour and this year it will be a photo of a girl blowing a dandelion puff (which, by the way, won 1st prize in the Toronto Winter Fair, 1956).

Mr. Swenson operates a poultry farm at 1151 Le Feuvre Road, Aldergrove, and photography is his hobby.

Recently, one of his pictures was chosen by the United States State Department for a three-year world exhibit. Last Thursday, there was a one man show of his prize winning photos in North Vancouver, when "The Night of Arts" was held.

SEA CADET OFFICERS—All cadets and officers of RCSCC "Columbia" have now been issued uniforms. So popular has been the formation of the Sea Cadet Corps that a further 25 boys and another officer will shortly be taken on

School Trustees Will Resubmit Referendum

It was decided by the School Board last meeting that the recently defeated school referendum for $928,100 will be re-submitted to the electorate on December 17.

The School Trustees have had numerous requests to put the referendum again to the public in the shortest time possible. In view of its defeat by half of one per cent, and the fact that only 25 per cent of the electorate voted, they thought it advisable to resubmit it in December, subject to approval of the Minister of Education and Lieut. Governor in Council.

Langley Police Court News

A Langley juvenile found intoxicated admitted delinquency and was fined $25 and put on probation for one year at Langley Police Court Wednesday.

Two charges were brought against a minor, Alvin Stewart Waddell of Surrey. He was found guilty of being in possession of liquor and fined $25 with costs, also with allowing another minor to drive without a licence. For this offence he was fined $10 and costs.

Two further cases of speeding were dealt with. Elementary School resulted in fines of $20 and costs for Harvey Oxspring of Richmond and Alan J. Smith of Vancouver.

A fine of $15 and costs was levied against Raymond Ralph Oggelby, HMCS Aldergrove, for speeding outside Aldergrove.

On a waiver case from Hope, William Anton Silbernagel of Langley was fined $20 and costs for falling to stay on the right side of the road. He wandered over to the left when lighting a cigarette.

No driving licence meant a fine of $10 and costs for a Surrey man, Peter J. Proust.

An Aldergrove man, Gerald Hiemstra, was charged with failing to yield right-of-way and fined $35 and costs. When coming on to Trans-Canada Highway from Coghlan he caused another vehicle to go into the ditch and become a total wreck.

Charles Henry Scudamore of North Vancouver was fined $75 and costs for careless driving. This resulted in an accident October 3 on Trans-Canada Highway and Brown when two cars met head on, sending 5 people to the hospital and totally wrecking both vehicles. Scudamore pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Another charge of careless driving was proved against Robert Dillon Shirley Coristine of Vancouver who pleaded not guilty but was fined $75 and costs. Coristine made a left turn across path of oncoming traffic on Trans-Canada and MacDonal Road. His car was written off and $300 damage was done to the car he hit.

For those who wish, records can be obtained under the title of "In Theatre and Sanctuary."

High School PTA Meet On Monday

On Monday, November 23, the Aldergrove High School PTA are holding their meeting in the High School at 8:00 p. m.

Besides the general business meeting, the programme will consist of a report of Musical Activities throughout the high school district. This will be given by Roy Atkinson, Musical Supervisor of Langley Schools, along with Douglas Bunt and Fred Huber.

A member of the student council will also be present to give an account of the compiling and cost of the high school annual, along with a discussion on the distribution of the Student Council Budget.

Welcome Awaits College Club

With a conductor who is also a well known composer the St. Martin's College Men's Chorus is equipped to handle anything in the line of choral music. They will be here again on November 28, on a return visit to this district.

Besides being known for sacred concerts, pageants and music, they are also becoming widely known in popular entertainment. They have given concerts all over the north-western States and lower British Columbia. Their interests also include radio work—Columbia Network Church of the Air and the College and Glee Club series on Mutual.

Their capacity to switch from rock and roll to classics in a few seconds is astounding, according to the critics. The repertoire includes sacred music, musical comedy, to classics, light classics and popular tunes. Father Kellenberg takes them through all with equal success.

For those who wish, records can be obtained under the title of "In Theatre and Sanctuary."

A policy is to be drafted whereby a student when he reaches the compulsory age of attendance at school must either attend school regularly or stay away. A situation has arisen, said H. D.

New Scale For Permits Drafted

On recommendation of Building Inspector J. E. Strain, Langley Council has drawn up a revised scale of building permit fees based closely on Lower Mainland averages.

Building permits start at $2 for $500 valuation and rise to $27.50 for valuation between $14,001 and $15,000. After that amount is reached permits will cost an additional $1.00 for each extra $1,000 or part thereof.

Plumbing inspection fees will start at $3 minimum for one or two fixtures, $4 for three fixtures and then $1 for each additional fixture.

Set inspection fees for septic tanks will be $2.50; oil burners, ranges or heaters, 2.50; oil furnace, $3; large tank, $3; furnace and tank, $5.

The building inspector reported that the last revision of permit fees was made on May 2, 1955.

Minister Of Education Says New Fort School Well Located

There are 21 students on the Matsqui side of Glen Valley who are attending school at Langley High, Fort Langley and Langley Central.

In reply to a letter sent to Abbotsford School District No. 34 Langley School Board was asked if they would continue to allow these pupils to go to District No. 35 schools on the present arrangement, whereby the Abbotsford Board paid tuition fees. The letter stated that the situation did not warrant a school being built in the area.

On the advice of School Superintendent H. D. Stafford these pupils will continue on present arrangements for the time being.

Stafford, when certain students stayed away without good reason and then presented themselves at odd times for further education.

Together with this policy will be considered the payment of fees when maximum "free tuition" age is reached.

A 30-minute film showing the work done for deaf children at Jericho School was shown to the School Trustees by School Librarian R. A. Maize.

AROUND TOWN

By Don Anson

Although there was rather a disappointing turnout to the Elks' Community Auction, nevertheless, there is about $200 to go towards Christmas hampers for the needy.

Take warning motorists. When you hear a fire engine, draw at once to the side and let it through. At a fire on Station Road last Thursday, the Matsqui police handed out one ticket to someone who kept to the middle of the road and there should have been several more. Langley R. C. M. P. also take a very serious view of disregard of this obviously sensible action. So pull over immediately and give the boys a chance.

Once again the inside of the Grill and Grocery looks completely different. Thought I was in the wrong store last week when I went in. John Smallemberg was up nearly all night apparently making the change over, and secretly I think he's trying to make space for a bowling alley.

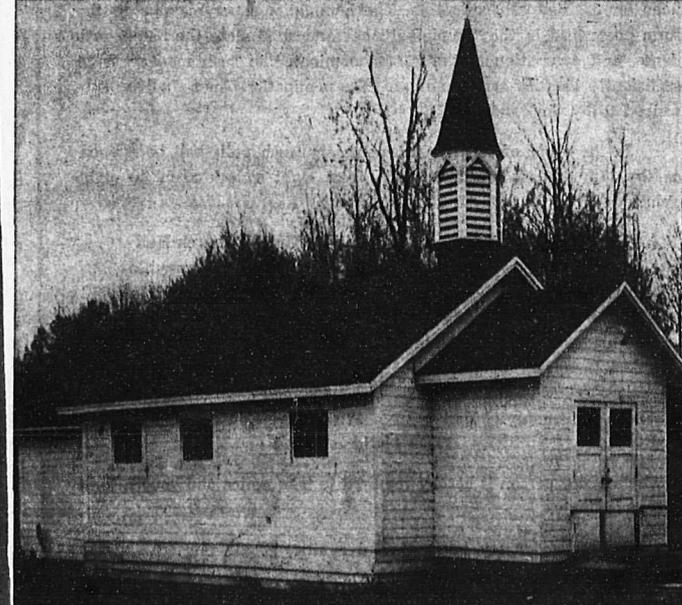

We still have three envelopes in the office containing commission for contestants in our subscription drive. Will the following please call in and collect. Brian Pynn 88c, Teddy Ashman 25c, and Rosemary Harvey 25c.

All garages reported a great run on anti-freeze, batteries and snow tires last week. Thursday's icy wind caused several radiators to freeze up.

A customer at Aldergrove Better Shoe Store last Friday told Merle Courtemanche that it was Friday the 13th but that so far nothing had gone wrong. Casting up the bill Merle was amazed to find that it came to exactly 13 dollars and 13 cents.

Aldergrove put on its own peculiar showing of "Icecapades" on Monday night.

There's some mighty fine entertainment coming for this area. Three items that shouldn't be missed are the hunting and fishing movie sponsored by the Lions at Langley High next Wednesday, the thriller drama, "The Late Mrs. Edwina Black" by St. Andrew's Players Nov. 27 and 28, and the return visit of St. Martin's Men's Chorus on Nov. 28 at Aldergrove High.

KNOW YOUR CHURCHES.—The church which has always been known locally as Patricia Mission has now been officially taken over by the Baptist Conference and will now be known as Aldergrove Baptist Church. It was formerly under the B. C. Evangelical Missions. A student minister, Keith Lauwers, is in charge. (NEWS Photo)

WORTH THE EFFORT—Above are seen Bob Heath and his brother, Bill, when Bill stopped in on Thursday evening to show Bob what he had bagged. Bill, a friend and their wives went up near Cuesnel to get these two deer and reported the temperature at 17 degrees below at 70 Mile House, on their way home. (NEWS Photo)

MUNICIPALITIES REACH IMPASSE!

In view of the fact that the Fraser Valley will one day be a heavily populated part of British Columbia, complete with industry and ever increasing population, it seems absurd that the provincial and federal governments do not pay more attention to its future.

1959 has seen much talk at a local level of planning, zoning, water and sewage but little has been accomplished.

We are in danger of becoming a hotch-potch of community centres unrelated to an overall plan, growing and growing until it is too late or too expensive to start again at the beginning.

We feel that not enough use is made of provincial M.L.A.s who are but the servants of their constituency. The Union of B. C. Municipalities and the Associated Boards of Trade make commendable resolutions only to be turned down by the Provincial Government with monotonous regularity.

Everywhere you go you find that people have little faith in their Councils, but to be quite fair there is very little if anything that the Councils can do now as their budget is elastic to a very limited extent. More and more demands will be made of them, until eventually local economy will suffer by forced reductions in public works to pay for the overload on schools, hospitals, wages and rising costs.

If the Social Credit government is to continue in power, and we take no sides, then we think that far more thought will have to be given to the plight of the municipalities.

We need more schools and hospitals and although we strongly advocate voting in favour of any by-law for these services, it does not mean that we think it is a local responsibility.

The government, too, is a servant of the people and what the people want should be their number one objective. They cannot be debt free when they withhold from the people their rights. The people are entitled to know (a) the true financial position of the government in power; (b) their future intentions regarding public services; (c) their plans for social services and their status quo with the federal government.

Gaglardi is doing a fine job with his roads, Petersen with his schools, but we feel that if we could have a Minister for Development of the Fraser Valley then you wouldn't get towns springing up without water or sewage, disgraceful roads leading up from border crossings, archaic planning, haphazard zoning, impoverished Councils and disgruntled taxpayers.

After all, we are the gateway to Vancouver which is said to be one of the richest cities in North America.

Maybe it is all a hoax. Maybe the government is after all like most of us—broke!

Rene Theophile Laennec, a French physician, in 1816 developed the stethoscope which enabled doctors to hear the sounds of the chest that indicate tuberculosis.

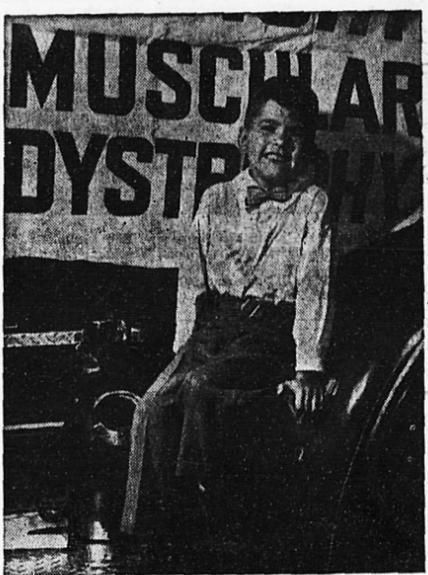

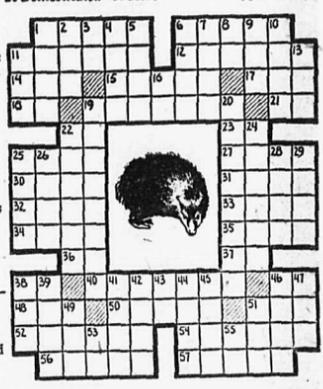

During the week ending Oct. 3, 1959, about 41 percent fewer hatching eggs were placed in incubators in Canada compared with the same week last year. Sure a hopeful sign for better egg prices next spring and summer.

Free University Education Advocated by P-T Federation

Should university education be free? Should the milkman's son have the same opportunity to enjoy the benefits of college as the son of the stockbroker? "Yes," is the opinion of many Canadians, though not too many have said it aloud. But now it is being said more strongly, by more people. The latest voice is a big one—The Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation, which represents 307,000 parents across the nation. The 1959 annual meeting of the Federation resolved to promote public acceptance of the idea of free university tuition for all academically qualified children of Canadian residents.

The Federation urges that university education should be free—but not that it should be universal. Admission to college must be controlled. The question, "Who should go to college, and for what purpose?" is asked in an article by Margaret Cowan, in the October issue of "Canadian Home and School" magazine. Here are some of the points made:

The greatest untapped resource in Canada is rural youth. We take great pride in the vastness of our resources and our high standard of living, yet we are falling miserably in the development of the richest resource we have (our Youth). We are spending millions educating our children through the secondary school level, but most of those who have the desire and ability to go to university are prevented by lack of finances. We bring them up so far but for some reason seem to be unwilling to help them to the top.

The rate of failures in first and second year university is unnecessarily high, and we cannot afford the luxury of keeping university places for young people who are there just for the ride—students whose intelligence and aptitude combined show no possibility of successful completion of the course. One in thirteen of our college-age youth is going to university at present, and many who are going are not fitted for it. Many students are sent to college by their parents merely for social or matrimonial reasons. Universities should be so crowded by the able and willing that there should be no room for the unable or the unwilling. There should be more young people in college with brains, and fewer with bucks!

The universities want the young people with talent and those with ambition; those with analytical power and those with staying power; those who will think and those who will study. Of course, the identification of these "wanted" types is not always easy. Students cannot be selected by a mechanical rating of intelligence and in disregard of other factors of character and achievement. Brilliance in intellect is not always accompanied by character, moral fibre or stability. Many average students who work hard get more out of college, and more out of later life, than more gifted conferees. Many men have achieved greatness without a university education; many more will follow. But today, as we watch the awesome advance of science, with its potential both for mass betterment and mass destruction of mankind, we realize that, perhaps more than ever before, the future of our country depends on knowledge: it depends primarily on the men and women with those qualities of mind and character that can only be produced in sufficient number by the universities.

We have the raw material for great leaders and great thinkers in tomorrow's complex world. But until higher education is available to all those who have the desire and the ability to go through university, without reference to their financial standing, we are wasting much of our country's greatest resource, and throwing away potential strength that we need to hold and develop our place in the future.

Dear Dan: I've been dating a boy who is very jealous and who can never stay out of trouble. The law is always after him for something or other and it seems he no sooner gets out of one jam than he's right back in another. I like this boy very much and he says he's very fond of me. He also goes with other girls but says they don't mean anything to him. If he cares so much for me, would he continue to do the same things over and over again? Isn't there some way I can make him understand how I feel and help him to stop getting into trouble? He also drinks. Can you help me?—Helpless.

Dear Helpless: I think what this boy needs more than anything else is a good swift kick in the seat of his trousers to help him wise up. Apparently your sympathetic approach isn't working so why not try the opposite approach? Tell him flatly and finally he'll either have to straighten up or he can quit trying to see you. Then, too, he's just going to get so many breaks from the law and that will be that. If drinking is doing to him what I think it is, then he should stop. It's just as easy to be good in life as to be bad and it's a lot more fun. If he can't see that and doesn't want to help himself, then send him on his way. You'll be better off and so will he because then he can only hurt himself.

Dear Dan: I'm 19 and have been dating a certain girl for the past six weeks. Last night I found out she was 27 and had been married and divorced twice. She didn't tell me either I like her a lot and she doesn't look her age. Now my problem is what to do about her? What do you think?—The Teen-Ager.

Dear Teen-Ager: I like to give everybody the benefit of the doubt. Therefore, let's just say her two divorces weren't her fault. That still leaves her age to be considered. For my money, she's too mature for you and should choose someone nearer her own age. I think you should call it quits before you feel you can't.

Thrill Drama By St. Andrew's Players Staged

"The Late Edwina Black," next production of St. Andrew's Players, to be presented on November 27 and 28, features a talented experienced cast, well-known to Langley audiences. Playing the leading role of Lisa Graham and Gregory Black are Wendy Buck and Ross Parnell.

Wendy has had considerable experience in theatre in England, where she acted with the Bournemouth Little Theatre, and she was with the Medicine Hat Little Theatre before coming to Langley, where she has been seen in a variety of roles in a number of local productions.

Ross has just returned from two years of teaching in Germany, and has had many years' experience in little theatre work both as an actor and director. He saw a good deal of theatre while in Europe, and also did some directing.

Brian and Freda Butcher have both won Best Acting awards at the Greater Vancouver One-Act Play Festival, and are both very versatile performers. They spent the past summer directing and acting with the Bellingham Little Theatre, and have been seen in a number of TV productions on C.B.U.T.

Brian brings a touch of authenticity to his role of Inspector Martin of Scotland Yard, as he worked with Scotland Yard in England before coming to Canada.

Freda Butcher not only directs the play and plays the part of Ellen, but she has designed and furnished the Victorian stage setting, and made the costumes for the play.

Tickets for "The Late Edwina Black" may be obtained from St. Andrew's W. A. members.

COMING SOON—Last year everyone who saw the show put on by St. Martin's Men's Chorus were enthralled. Far too few people, however, saw it but they are here again on Saturday, Nov. 28, at Aldergrove High School and this time a large crowd is expected. The group has appeared from coast to coast on radio and television and annually come up from Olympia, Washington, to spend a week in B. C.

Ice Capades In Vancouver Early December This Year

Advance ticket sale of the 19th Edition of Ice Capades, in Vancouver December 3 to 12, has already mounted to more than $35,000.

The $850,000 production will make its 11th annual run in the Forum at Exhibition Park in a series of nine evening and five matinee performances.

It is sponsored by The Rotary Club of Vancouver and the PNE. Proceeds from it go to several vital organizations and institutions which depend upon outside subsidies to exist.

A portion of last year's proceeds went to the Vancouver Children's Foundation and Preventorium. Other monies are spent on student bursaries.

Since the 19th Edition premiered in Madison Square Gardens on September 7, Ice Capades has staged the most triumphant march across the continent in ice show history.

It has won rave reviews wherever it has appeared. In Boston it played to 265,000 persons in a 15-day run. In Philadelphia 5,500 first-nighters crammed the arena to set the pace for the entire run.

Because of the unqualified success of the 18th Edition in Vancouver last winter when literally thousands were turned away during the six-day run, officials here decided this year to extend Ice Capades to nine days.

This necessitated advancing the show dates into December. In previous years Ice Capades always played Vancouver after Christmas.

The 19th Edition features world-famous figure-skaters, nine lavish production numbers and 20 individual acts ranging from grand opera to slapstick comedy. The show will swing, non-stop from Albuquerque, New Mexico, to Vancouver to set up in time for its premiere at 8:30 p. m. on December 3.

Box-office tickets went on sale Monday at Hick's Ticket Bureau, 610 Dunsmuir Street.

Later they will be available at Ken's Men's Wear, 3820 East Hastings Street; John Cavallin, 1321 Kingsway; Bill's Toggery, 152 Lonsdale Avenue, North Vancouver, and Peterson's Sporting Goods, 413 Sixth Street, New Westminster.

BC Campus Used Day And Night

The University of British Columbia has become a day and night campus with more than 28,500 persons making use of its facilities on a year-round basis. Figures released this week by UBC's board of governors show that 28,614 students used campus facilities during the year ending August 31, 1959, as compared to 10,974 during the same period six years earlier—an increase of 166 per cent.

Commenting on the figures, UBC's president, Dr. N. A. M. MacKenzie said the University now operates about 15 hours a day on an annual basis. "Last winter 176 classrooms—almost our total capacity—were in use during the evening," he added.

Expansion of offerings for the summer session and evening classes were two important factors leading to the increase, the president said.

In the six years from 1953 to 1959 UBC's population of full-time students enrolled for degrees almost doubled from 5255 to 9950. During the same period summer session enrollment increased by almost 3000 students.

The total number of students enrolled for degrees increased by 9318 from 6679 to 15,997 during this period.

During the same period the number studying for diplomas or certificates or attending non-credit courses in the evening and at summer school increased by 8628 from 3995 to 12,623.

United Church News

November 15 was a very special day for nearly all churches across Canada. It was designated as Stewardship Sunday, and has once again come and gone.

The United Church, here in Aldergrove was completely filled when twenty-four of our group leaders and teams, members, adherents and friends were present at 11:15 a. m. to hear more of the sector plan and how it is reaching thousands in a warm fellowship through visiting you in your homes.

We who had the tremendous task of preparing this programme and mailing some twelve hundred letters out to you felt well repaid when we were so warmly welcomed. Please remember, no one can take your place at church.

If B. C. Fresh Eggs would get more advertising, consumption would be increased, which in turn would prevent surpluses.

Social Welfare Costing More Says Councillor

During the month of October the number of unemployed employables in the district rose from 36 to 43.

Twenty-seven new cases for social assistance were presented, 12 of which were allowed, making the total number on social assistance 156.

Cost of social welfare during October, reports Councillor Walter Jensen, was $18,700 compared with $14,000 for October, 1958.

Councillor Jensen, chairman of Welfare Committee, told Council that unemployed employables were flocking into the district and he expected that figures for this category would continue to rise until next March.

No Cure Yet For This Disease

November 22 will see the start of a nation-wide appeal for funds by The Muscular Dystrophy Association of Canada.

For seven days there will be great activity in cities and towns across Canada. Volunteer workers, special organizations, Guides, Cubs, Scouts, sorority and fraternity groups will be giving their time to battle MD the mystery disease.

For the second time, five-year-old Kirk Clouthier is the campaign poster child. The MD-AC plastic hour-glass canisters will be a reminder that for Kirk and twenty thousand other sufferers time is running out. Until research workers find the cause of the disease there is not much hope for a cure.

The fire fighters of Canada will lead this year's all-out drive. They will canvass door-to-door, determined to top last year's figure of $300,000, and allow the MDAC to expand its programme of research into a disease now listed as incurable.

SAFETY TIP FOR WEEK

Now Is The Time To Insulate Your Home To Retain Warmth

A sneaky attic ghost, who too often goes unrecognized, is costing homeowners unnecessary heating dollars.
Known as "Silent Shrink," he is probably at large in your attic. You can recognize his presence if you make a careful survey of your present insulation. Has it shrunk to an inch or two? Has it settled irregularly, leaving a thick drift of insulation along the joists and bare strips elsewhere?
That's the work of "Silent Shrink." It will be particularly noticeable if your original insulation was wood shavings or fibres or certain kinds of paper that have been used extensively in many areas of western Canada.
The chances are that these materials were not applied level in the first place and that they will have settled to about half their original thickness. They are a fire hazard, a host to rodents and vermin and eventually they will mildew or rot.
Even when mineral wool has been used it is likely that it was applied by blowing and that the insulation will have drifted up against the joists, leaving strips of bare ceiling.
These are conditions that call for re-insulation. Fortunately, it is an easy, economical operation when there is access to the attic.
There is a granular type of insulation made from expanded vermiculite that is ideal for correcting the problems described. Any lumber dealer handles it.
This expanded vermiculite, sold as Zonolite, is light-weight and comes in convenient sized bags for easy pouring. It covers the existing insulation and flows snugly into all the nooks and corners. It is fireproof and will substantially reduce the fire hazard of existing wood shavings.
The vermiculite should be poured and spread level to a depth of four or five inches. This is the recommended depth for maximum heat savings and is practical with vermiculite because of its comparative economy and ease of installation.
Your lumber dealer can tell you how to notch a two-foot piece of board to make a spreader for uniform distribution.
Re-insulation is a simple job. If you do the work yourself, it should pay for itself in fuel savings within the first two to three years.

Blood And Screams In Realistic C. D. Exercise

Screaming girls, ghastly wounds and heartrending scenes in Langley High School were seen Monday in a realistic exercise put on by the Civil Defence Authorities.
In icy weather a good crowd turned out to see all branches of the local C. D. organizations put on a vivid realistic portrayal of the effects of an explosion in this area.
Starting with an explosion, all lights in the school auditorium went out and commentator D. J. Doubleday kept the audience fully informed of proceedings.
After the explosion, the siren of the Langley Fire Department was heard and the audience saw

GOVERNMENT REVERSES DECISION

No Dead-End For Trans-Can. Hwy.

A victory for the Clearbrook Board of Trade was chalked up with the announcement by Minister of Mines Kiernan that the Trans-Canada Highway west of Clearbrook would not be dead ended.

Mr. Kiernan spoke to the Board of Trade at the regular meeting last Tuesday and told them the new Trans-Canada Highway would overpass the present one at what is designated as the Peardeville Overpass, thus east-west traffic could continue on the present highway. This move follows many meetings between Board of Trade executives and government officials.

Mr. Kiernan stated that sometimes there are more important things in our society than engineering practices, referring to the engineers decision to dead end the present highway, which would cause considerable loss to Clearbrook district.

Rev. J. P. Braun Passes Away

Funeral services were held on Sunday, November 15 for Rev. John Peter Braun. Rev. Braun passed away at his home, 344 Arnold Road, Abbotsford, on November 12.

The late Rev. Braun was born in Goritz South Russia on March 15, 1885. He was married to Maria Schulz in 1910.

Survivors are his wife, Maria Braun, one son John, Bowman Road, Abbotsford. Five daughters, Mary at home, Mrs. W. J. Riedeger (Hulda) Barker Road, Mrs. Henry Block (Katie) of Vancouver, Mrs. Ernest Friesen (Reta) Vancouver, Mrs. John Enns (Erna) of Vancouver and 15 grandchildren.

Interment was in Mennonite section of Hazelwood cemetery, Garden Chapel Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Industry Needed Says Kiernan

In a talk to the Clearbrook Board of Trade, Minister of Mines Ken Kiernan told the group of three ways they could help to develop Clearbrook and area.

He said the group should endeavor to bring industry to the area to provide jobs for workers graduating from the schools. There is not enough land to support them all as agriculture workers, he stated. He said the government would assist by providing water systems for the area, building roads to accommodate the traffic, and by encouraging industry to bring capital to all of B. C.

As a possible means of providing jobs Mr. Kiernan stated that the Abbotsford airport should be investigated fully as to further development. He mentioned several subsidiary lines of work which accompanied air travel which has doubled every ten years. Secondary industries or light industries should not be overlooked in the search to bring additional employment to the area.

Mr. Kiernan went on to talk of northern development stating that the fortunes of the southern portion of the province is strongly attached to northern development.

Radio Station Planned For Clearbrook Area

A January date is set for the hearing of an application by Jacob Klassen of Clearbrook for a permit to operate a radio station. The 1000 watt station will operate from a studio between Clearbrook and Abbotsford, on a proposed 1370 kilocycle frequency.

Support has been received from the joint councils of Matsqui and Sumas and the Abbotsford village commission, and from the Clearbrook Board of Trade.

In an interview, Mr. Klassen stated the aims of the new company are to serve the farming population with up to the minute agriculture problems and solutions, provide good music, drama, talks, public views on the local provincial and international scene. Church and Sunday school services will be an important part of the broadcast schedules. An opportunity will be given to local talent with "live" shows.

Students Safety Measure Solved

A temporary solution to the problem of school students walking on the road in the south Clearbrook area will be taken by Matsqui municipal council.

Councillor Neufeld spoke to the Clearbrook Board of Trade reporting that the suggestion of the Board that a white line be painted on the side of the road to divide the walking area, had been discarded by the council as being too dangerous.

A temporary solution to be carried out by council will be grading of the shoulders and applying crushed gravel. A necessary addition to this will be education of the students at school and at home regarding walking habits while on their way to and from school.

A report on urban areas was received and tabled for the further discussion.

Youth Rally Attracts Large Number At Immanuel Lutheran

In spite of the frigid weather Sunday, nearly a hundred young people from congregations of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, along the Fraser Valley, New Westminster and Vancouver, gathered for their Fall Rally, at Immanuel Lutheran Church.

The local group of young people, of which Miss Dawn Haid is the president, were hosts. The Immanuel Lutheran Ladies served a most generous Turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

Registration began at the church at 2:30 and opening devotions were led by Rev. A. Hippe, at 3 p. m. followed by an educational topic study on the "Signs of the Last Times," presented by Rev. L. Gierach, of Cloverdale.

The business meeting was presided over by the Zone Chairman, R. Dietrich of Vancouver, and Miss Maxine Baase of New Westminster, Secretary-Treasurer. After the minutes and treasurer's report of the Spring Rally were given, each Society reported on their home Society's activity in their respective congregation. A detailed report was also presented on the Young People's Summer Camp, which was conducted at Lake Hatzig last Summer (June 28 to July 4.) With more than a hundred people in camp, the venture was also a financial success.

Supper was served at the Vasa Hall. After which group-singing and group-games were enjoyed, until it was time to go back to the church for the Vesper Service, at 7:30 This was conducted by Rev. E. Treit of Vancouver. This then concluded the very enjoyable fellowship of this fine Christian group, who are even now already looking forward to the Rally, next Spring.

OTTER

A "Flying Up Ceremony" was held at the Otter Grange Hall Friday, Oct. 30, with Guide Commissioner Mr. Ritchie in attendance. The ceremony opened with a song by the Brownies. During this event, two Brownies, Roberta Poppy and Heather Shatford, received their Brownie Wings and flew up into Guides. Three other Brownies, Starla Skolas, Marjorie White and Lorraine Lockhart, also became Guides and were welcomed by the leaders. After the ceremony most of the Brownies changed into Halloween costumes and were paraded around the room. The best costumes were selected and small prizes given. The evening was concluded by amusing games and treats for both the Brownies and Guides. This enjoyable evening was well attended by parents.

Eight Otter Guides attended the Remembrance Day Ceremony held at the Langley Central School and also took part in the parade.

Most of the Guides and Brownies from Otter along with other district groups took part in the planting of bulbs at the Langley Municipal Hall on Saturday, Nov. 14. After the bulbs were planted, approximately 65 children and leaders, along with the Guide commissioner, Mrs. Ritchie, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Poppy and were served hot dogs and a piece of a specially prepared Guide cake decorated with the Guide emblem.

The Otter school once again decided to collect for the UNICEF on Halloween night, and were well pleased at the response. $45.65 was received. The children who took part in this collecting campaign were: Kathy and Brent Jolliffe, Buddy Sturmy, Eric Veale, Newman Eddy, Wendy Burden, Judy Larson, Edith Chleduch, Carol Olsenburger, Marjorie White, Sharon Chard, Linda Skolas, Peter Kornelson and Alec Malcomson.

Sparky says:
If Fire Strikes Your Home...

GET OUT of the house the minute you discover it or smell smoke! ALWAYS be ready to use different escape routes from any room in your house! TEST doors before opening. If doors are hot, block them with furniture or wet mattresses to keep out smoke and gases. Get out another way! NEVER jump from upper-story windows except as a last resort! Wait for firemen. HOLD your breath if you have to make a dash through smoke and flame! REMEMBER, the air is usually better near the floor in a smoke-filled room! CALL the fire department at once! They know how to fight a fire. Don't waste your time or your life trying to fight a fire, unless it's so small you're sure you can control it with the right extinguisher. DON'T ever go back to a burning building for any reason! Smoke and fire gases from even the smallest fire can be deadly. GET medical treatment at once, if you're burned or exposed to fire and smoke! Seemingly minor burns or smoke inhalation can have fatal results.

DON'T GIVE FIRE A PLACE TO START!

Young Canada's Book Week

Young Canada's 11th annual Book Week is being celebrated this year from November 15 to 22, coast to coast.
For the past ten years this annual event has been set aside to focus interest in good books for children and to encourage the reading of worthwhile books at home, at school and at the library. Adults are encouraged to become aware of the fine children's books available today.
In our own community of Langley, a definite start has been made to encourage the reading of good books at school, through the establishment of a central library service. However, to help foster this service, parents are urged to take an active interest in their children's home reading.
All of us should know that good books can give to children enjoyment and fun, knowledge, a true sense of values, understanding of themselves and others and a widening of experience.

PEARDONVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kissock visited the home of N. Monkman in Vancouver on Wednesday.
Mr. Brash is enjoying a hunting trip in the interior with friends.
Due to the cold weather, the Peardonville Women's Institute postponed last Thursday's meeting for one week. It is with regret they learned that Midge Wibberley, due to the oncoming busy season, will not be able to attend and give her demonstration.
Miss Irene Brooks visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Selkirk last week.
Pinegrove Women's Institute held its annual meeting in the Pinegrove Hall on Tuesday.

The milk production of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association during the first nine

These figures represent an 810-tion last year.

Simple Rules To Start Car

Some simple rules for starting your car in cold weather are offered by the BC Automobile Association.
Never grind the starter, the BCAA says. Running it for more than 30 seconds at a time can damage or weaken the battery.
If the engine doesn't turn on the first try, stop and wait a minute to give the battery a chance to recharge itself.
Don't pump the gas pedal—you'll only flood the engine.
Instead, press the accelerator to the floor once and then hold it midway down as you engage the starter.
Turn off all electrical accessories before using the starter. They place an extra drain on the battery.
Depress the clutch if the car has a manual shift.
If the car won't start after repeated attempts, the chances are that the battery is too weak or the engine is not tuned properly.

In one foreign country the wage rate paid to radio factory operators is as low as one-tenth of the Canadian rate. Last year this particular country sent 155,000 transistor radios to Canada, worth $1,844,000. Canadian radio factory operators have been laid off as a result.

IMPORTED RADIOS CAUSE CANADIAN UNEMPLOYMENT
Many hundreds of workers in the Canadian electronics industry have been laid off during the past two years due to importation of radios and other electronic equipment from foreign countries.
2,000,000 SQUARE FEET VACANT
Since 1955, over 2 million square feet of Canadian factory floor space, which is nearly 25 per cent of the total, normally used for electronics manufacturing has become vacant due to the importation of radio sets from foreign low-wage areas. Over 2,000 Canadian workers have lost their jobs as a result.
LOOK FOR "MADE IN CANADA" LABEL
Look for the "Canadian Made" label on a radio or television set before you buy. Last year over 30 per cent of radio sets sold were imported, causing unemployment in Canada's electronic industry.
