AROUND TOWN

By Don Anson

Mrs. Orwick phoned up to tell me she had bowled a 54. She wanted to know whether this was a record. Can anyone else beat it?

Donations to the Fire Hall are still coming in. Latest is $10 from Lyal Baker, of Baker's Service, Jackman Road.

To all those searchers who gave up such a lot of their time last Thursday looking for a missing girl, a vote of thanks. To the little girl, at least my sympathy, she looked so scared.

Many comments over last week's student issue and all were favourable—maybe we can do the same next year.

Every time we get snow certain people, with just cause, get mad at other people not clearing their sidewalks. Looking particularly black last time were Al Rose and Ken Brinnen. So, next time, you shovellers, get busy before others join these civic-minded gentlemen.

While working with a core drilling rig at Alexandra Bridge last Thursday, Billy Griff of North LeFeuvre slipped down a steep bank and crashed to within a few feet of the Fraser. He suffered severe back injuries and a possible fractured vertebra. Although up and about he'll probably be away from work for several months.

Bowling for B.C.E. in Abbotsford "A" League last week, Fred Barker, who is secretary of the league, rolled a 406 in his first game with a total for three games of 793. He gets $100 in goods and credits from local merchants for the effort.

Gosling's of Abbotsford have one of the original Station Agent "Pot Belly" coal heaters, such as used in the old C.P.R. stations, in their store. This intrigued me because, although so old, it is in perfect condition.

A 2-inch rock was hurled through the window of Aldergrove Heating and Plumbing store last Wednesday. Judging by the hole in the window glass a passing vehicle must have been responsible. The rock hit an appliance in the store, causing a slight dent.

In the B. C. Telephone Company's own magazine, "Telephone Talk," Aldergrove is listed as having 1,452 telephones as at November 1, 1959. In the January 1 issue the listing is given as 1,536, an increase of nearly 100.

Amazing how births even out. In 1959 there were 204 males and 198 females born in the Langley School District. In Surrey numbers were 1025 and 1008, and in Delta, 198 and 177.

Two fire calls early in the week were of little consequence. Monday saw another chimney fire at property owned by Marshall Courtemanche and early Tuesday there was a furnace fire at the Veldhuis home on Endacott Road. AVFD quickly dealt with both fires.

Welcome back, Mrs. Ferguson, our Patricia correspondent!

JUNIOR WARDENS—Bradner has an active corps of Junior Forest Wardens now. They look smart in their bright red shirts and are reported to be very keen. On Saturday, they took a trip through the fish hatchery at Cultus Lake and are seen here just before they left Bradner. Among them are: Kenny Inouye, Barry, Bobby and Billy Scott, Paul Johnson, Ronnie Lexton, Bob Young, Garth Riddell, Roberta Maigret, Georgina Maigret, Roonie Ehrenholz, Danny Sloggett, Brian Albertson and Bobby Mullens. The adults are Council members R. E. Crawford, R. Maigret, G. M. Riddell and supervisor Joe DeRoover. (NEWS Photo)

Missing Girl Causes Scare And Search In Aldergrove

Gaining headlines and radio news for Aldergrove last Thursday was 13-year-old Karen Ohman, daughter of Carl Ohman, of 271st Street.

Karen disappeared late Wednesday afternoon and after leaving home to get a bottle of milk, she was seen by a friend travelling south on Jackman Road. From then on till 4:50 p. m. Thursday she vanished.

Late Wednesday evening a search party was organized by Jack Scott, and houses and barns on South Jackman were visited.

At 11 o'clock on Thursday morning a police dog was sent to search out scent but was unable to find any clues. Footprints found near the big rock on the new road being built on South Le Feuvre through to Boundary Road were thought to be hers.

From midday Thursday a search party consisting of upwards of 100 persons including police from two municipalities, thirty service members from H. M. C. S. Aldergrove, and local business merchants thoroughly scoured the boggy stretch of bushland between Le Feuvre and Jackman Roads.

When daylight was rapidly waning Karen was found hiding in a hay barn by Ferguson Road, South Jackman. The barn had been previously searched without success many times but on this occasion she was just outside the barn trying to harness a horse.

Beyond saying that she knew people were looking for her Karen had nothing to say.

Her guardian, Len McNernie, told police that she had no reason for leaving home.

Paint Proposed For Aldergrove

Some time in May will be set aside for a paint and clean-up campaign for Aldergrove, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Members supported the proposal by Civic chairman, Art Dingley, Monday and it was suggested that the Fire Department, Boy Scouts and other groups be asked to participate.

Skiers In Smash At Aldergrove

Two Vancouver men received superficial injuries in an accident occurring in Aldergrove at 5:40 p. m. on Saturday.

Floyd Banner was the driver of a Volkswagen on the way to Mt. Baker with passenger Jim Huggart. An Aldergrove man, Howard Thiessen, stopped his Chevrolet sedan outside Williams' Machine Shop preparatory to making a U-turn. He looked both ways and did not see the smaller car. He was proceeding to turn when his bumper caught the Volkswagen broadside on and carried it several feet.

The smaller car was severely damaged and both occupants received head cuts and bruises, which necessitated a hospital check-up.

No damage was done to the Chevrolet and police will lay no charges.

School Board BRIEFS

Every school in the district now has a telephone, the School Trustees were informed by Chairman Trevor Beggs.

Last on the list to receive telephones were the elementary schools at South Otter and Patricia.

In future, all tenders for school requirements will be advertised in local papers and will require sealed tenders. Trustee J. H. Beales was responsible for this slight change of school board policy.

Hitherto, in some instances, quotations have been asked for.

After discussion, Trustees agreed that a new 2-room school in the Brown Road-Wix Road area was fully justified.

$40,000 was earmarked for this school in the previous passed referendum. Maximum total number of pupils for a grade 1-6 2-room school is 72 and it was pointed out that a large number of pupils live within walking distance. A school in this area would relieve considerably congestion at Otter School.

Trees native to B. C., such as dogwood and hemlock, are to be planted on selected sites at Coghlan School.

A delegation from Langley Society for Handicapped Children asked for a special referendum to be called for building a School for Retarded Children in Langley.

The Society representatives told trustees that they would like the school built as quickly as possible as present location in the Anglican Church hall was inadequate for the 18 children regularly attending.

They would like to have the grant of $429 per pupil per year allowed under the Education Act but would like to operate the school themselves.

Mr. Barkhausen stated that the Society had no objection to conversion of the present School Board building which could be effected at a fractional cost of a new building, but urged that time element was most important. He stated that a new building would soon be filled to capacity.

Board Chairman Trevor Beggs informed the delegates that a committee will study the proposal and advise reports.

The School Board meeting of March 8 was noteworthy for the fact that the number of reporters exceeded the number of school trustees. Five members of the student staff of Aldergrove News made the total number of reporters seven in number.

MAKES GRANT

B. C. Electric has made a grant of $15,000 a year to U. B. C. for the establishment of a professorship in the department of electrical engineering.

Advice Sought By Chamber Over Two Intersections

Aldergrove Chamber of Commerce decided Monday to write to the Chief Traffic Engineer of Department of Highways seeking a detailed survey on the traffic problem at Jackman Rd. and Trans-Canada Highway intersection.

This crossing has been the subject of recent debate at the Chamber, particularly with regard to the difficulty of making an entrance to the main highway from Jackman Road on weekends.

It was suggested that possibly a blinker light might alleviate the trouble but others suggested that a stop-go signal was necessary.

The engineer will also be asked to make a survey of the other intersection at County Line and Trans-Canada. Here the main difficulty is in making a left turn down the Aldergrove-Bellingham Highway when travelling west along Trans Canada. Fred Dams pointed out that many accidents have occurred there by cars stopping in the middle of the road preparatory to making a left turn and other cars hitting them in the rear. If you pull over to the right first, he said, you have a very long wait to get across and if you stay in the middle you stand a good chance of getting hit.

The traffic engineer may decide that a left turn slot is advisable and that the division into two lanes on Trans Canada Highway travelling East should not be extended beyond the intersection.

Municipal Council is to be asked for a By-Law to regulate speeds on all Municipal lanes. In reply to a recent chamber request for enforcement of speed limit in lanes, Council replied that no existing by-law stipulates what speed is allowable but it was pointed out that Langley City enforces 15 mph in some of its lanes.

The Chamber will not specify any particular speed in its request.

Free Flights For Sea Cadets

Arrangements are being made for the Sea Cadets of R.C.S.C.C. Columbia to take a trip to Vancouver on Sunday, March 20, to tour the American Aircraft carrier, U.S.S. Coral Sea, which is visiting the city from March 18 to 21. Over fifty cadets have signified their intention of going.

Applications are being taken for the summer training camp, H.M.C.S. Quadra, which is a naval establishment opened especially for Sea Cadets, for eight weeks during the summer holidays. The cadets go for two weeks. Quite a number of boys have already applied.

Time is drawing closer for the annual inspection, on April 12, when Rear Admiral R. H. Rayner will be visiting Aldergrove. The Guard is out doing special training every Saturday morning. They had their first public appearance at the programme for Education Week, held at Langley High School. The Guard took part in the opening ceremonies.

Skyways Airways have offered one free flight a month to the Corps, for a cadet with outstanding performance in any branch, Bob Watson got the first ride last Saturday, for good marksmanship at the rifle range.

New And Old School Ready For Fall Use

A sum of $3,840 has been set aside in the school budget for the reopening of East Langley one-room school.

School Superintendent H. D. Stafford advised the trustees to go ahead with necessary repair work as soon as weather conditions permit, as this school, he said, would undoubtedly be needed for occupation in the fall.

Simonds Road new two-room school will be ready for occupation in September. Contractors have finished their work and all that remains to be done is blacktopping and painting.

Canada's electrical manufacturing industry employs 3½ times as many people as it did in 1939.

INTRUDER SETS UP PRIVATE BOWLING ALLEY

John Smallenberg, ardent bowling fan from Aldergrove Grill, was awakened from sleep by the sound of something rolling on the bedroom floor.

He lay listening until he was quite sure he was awake. The rolling went on so he woke his wife up and she also heard it.

"Go to sleep," she said, "it's only the cat."

The noise went on so John looked for the cat and eventually found it — outside the house.

He came back to the bedroom, switched on the light and found the culprit. A mouse was playing with a marble, seemingly unconcerned with mere humans.

John tried for a "strike" but even though he has an average of 187 he missed this one.

Citizens Award Target For Long Discussion

Members of the Aldergrove Chamber took a long time to come to an agreement Monday over the proposed "Citizen of the Year" award projected by Langley Board of Trade.

Langley wishes the award to be made to a resident of Langley School District No. 35 and has asked both Fort Langley and Aldergrove to participate in promotion of the idea.

Chief argument by Aldergrove against the proposal was that several members lived in Matsqui area but it was pointed out that Langley had the same problem with members living in Surrey.

The proposal is to make an award annually. The three boards would promote the idea and an independent committee would be found to receive nominations and to appoint judges.

The Chamber decided to write to Langley Board of Trade asking for their boundary to be increased to take in the area under Chamber jurisdiction.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEWS LETTER

Over 40 members of Aldergrove Chamber of Commerce turned out in stormy weather Monday to a packed business meeting. Among those present were six students from Aldergrove High School who heard Bruno Giacomazzi give a talk on the aims and object of 4-H.

Five of the students were majoring in Agriculture and were introduced by Principal Don Hanson. They were Roberta Muralt, Stuart Sanderson, Henry Franz, Brian Evans and Peter Gubbe.

The sixth student, Ted Horne, received a trophy from President Bill Brown for winning the public speaking contest at the High School. He delivered his winning speech to the Chamber members before the presentation.

Three new members, Doug Forrest, Jake Hildebrandt and Gerry Olynyk were introduced by membership chairman Merle Courtemanche, while a further three were elected namely, Neil Maguire, resident manager of Grosvenor-Laing, Mrs. Kathy Lehman, Sara-Le Beauty Salon and Harvey Krentz, poultry farmer.

Past President Jack Scott, has been appointed a regional director for No. 2 District of the Associated Boards of Trade of Fraser Valley and Lower Mainland.

Notice of Motion was given by George Rammell regarding changes to Section 10 and 11 of the Chamber's constitution. In brief, these changes mean that applications for membership will be brought to Chamber Council first before coming up at a general meeting.

Congratulations were extended by Larry Stade to the student body responsible for producing the March 9 issue of the Aldergrove News.

No further action will be taken by the Chamber regarding preparation of a resolution for school bus stopping procedure. This matter, said the President, was now under provincial surveillance and it was expected there would be an amendment to the Motor Act whereby speed limit in school areas would be increased to 20 mph and enforcing the stopping of all vehicles in both directions when a school bus stops to put down or take on students.

As the Municipality is going to put street lights on every major intersection, they will take over 3 of the Chamber's existing street lights. However, pointed out Joe Breier, they will put in 300w lamps instead of the 500w lamps used by the Chamber. He asked for suitable locations for these three lights and told members that six or eight more will be installed soon.

Hope for a 24-hour border crossing is not yet dead, the Chamber was told. Both Harold Wicks and John Drysdale, M. P. for Richmond, were taking the matter up and the Associated Boards had received a letter informing them of this.

SLOW UP AT 60

Of the 86 fatal accidents recorded in B. C. in January, 20 were the result of falls and 16 of these happened to people 60 years of age and over.

132 of the 157 fatal falls in 1959 occurred in this same age group.

READ FOR PLEASURE, PROFIT, PROGRESS

The Canadian Institute of Public Opinions surveys indicate that 26 per cent of Canadians asked were reading a book recently, compared to 31 per cent in 1953 and 40 per cent in 1945. Women were slightly ahead of men in this respect; 27 per cent of women asked were reading a book and 25 per cent of the men.

However, the experience of public libraries shows an unprecedented increase in the number of books circulated.

The answer probably lies in the fact that where library or book store facilities are available, Canadians are reading more. Library facilities across Canada are growing at the rate of four per cent per year, with an unprecedented building program, but Canada still ranks about 14th among the world's nations in the number of bookshops per capita.

Reading, without doubt, is the greatest means of increasing one's knowledge and to be well read should be the aim of everyone. It costs nothing, it gives a great deal of pleasure, it increases the power of conversation and from knowledge gained it can be very profitable.

Now that we have a library in Aldergrove, as well as a mobile bookvan, there is no excuse for not reading. If you cannot afford to travel, do the next best thing and read how other nations live. Carry on where education left off. Get into the habit of reading at least one good book a week, either fiction or non-fiction.

One of our student publishers last week was reading "The Robe," by Lloyd C. Douglas. Fiction based on fact, highly entertaining, very instructive, it is the type of book which everyone should read.

Adults lag behind children in library usage. Children from 5 to 14 years of age constitute 41 per cent of all borrowers from public libraries.

Admittedly, they have more time to read, but even the busiest persons can find time to read. Cut out one late night movie or a few blood and thunder TV programmes, and find out what that lost art of reading can do for you.

Report from Parliament Hill

By W. A. McLennan, M. P.

The Clark Report on economic security for the aged in Canada and the United States has been under close and continuing study by the Government and was discussed on the Estimates Committee a few days ago. With the average per capita income in Canada 30 percent under that in the U. S. the question is are Canadians ready to pay contributions to bring the pensions up to the U. S. level? In the U.S.A. they levy a three percent payroll tax whether the employers make a profit or not. In Canada only corporations which have a net taxable income pay old age security tax. This raises the question whether it should be put on a strictly contributory basis or stick to the present basis. I think most Canadians would favour the contributory plan.

It is expected the Budget will be brought down before Easter, and it is predicted it will be balanced, or possibly even show a surplus. We hope that last years economic growth will continue through 1960 with a rise of six to seven percent in total value of all goods and services produced.

It is quite apparent the opposition are to use obstruction and delay as their strategy at this Session of Parliament. The House has spent several days wrangling over whether or not the Federal Government should pay their share of the advances to the Prairie Farmers whose crop was buried under the early snow last Fall. We have spent nine days debating the Bill to provide the money for the Winters Works Program. In all we have spent 12 days in debating 20 items in the Supplementary Estimates.

The money voted last Session for loans under the National Housing Act ran out in late November. There is a Bill before the House to make more money available for home building, but it has been held up by these delaying tactics. It is little comfort to those who work in the building and allied trades, those who could obtain employment under the Winters Work Program and the Farmers who lost their crop to see the opposition using every device at their disposal to delay passage of these emergency measures. We have been in session over eight weeks and very little has been accomplishd to date.

There were 180 Divorce Bills on order paper a few days ago, and under normal circumstances these would have been disposed of in about fifteen minutes, but a member of the CCF asked so many questions on the first four the rest had to be left over until the next week. These bills are first passed by the Senate, then reviewed by a Committee of the House of Commons, and finally go through the House in a block or routine way. The member has been criticized for the delaying tactics, but the whole episode points up the need for a change in the system under which Canadian taxpayers as a whole pay to provide a Divorce Court for Quebec and Newfoundland.

Due to the fact many miners will be thrown out of work at Elliot Lake on account of world over production of uranium, which will close many of the mines, Elliot Lake was declared a labour surplus area, and the efforts of the National Employment Service to find alternative jobs have been intensified. A fact finding group is to be sent by the Government to the district. This group will consist of representatives of the National Employment Insurance Commission and the Industrial Development Branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce. These officials will assemble information on the resources of the area and alternative development

1st OTTER CUB PACK

The March 2 meeting of this group saw the investure of Robert Anderson, Richard Fleming and Sandy Shatford.

Stuart Jeffery, Allan Brown, Gary Goin and John Craig received their 1st stars.

The Pack recently visited the Cultus Lake fish hatchery where, it is reported, they had a very interesting day. This is the sort of outing that makes Cubbing interesting for both the boys and the leaders.

The cubs are presently engaged in a bird-house building project. One small boy remarked that his bird-house wasn't very good, "It's for the birds!"

1st COGHLAN TROOP

This troop recently welcomed two new members. They are Harvey and Lloyd Radons. Lloyd will become an Owl while Harvey has joined the Rattlesnake Patrol.

The Coghlan boys have started a Semaphore training program. The Group Committee has very kindly lent their Pro-rec equipment to the troop.

S. M. Yeo visited the Coghlan Cub pack and discovered that there will be four new scouts this fall. This troop is growing and the "A" pennant won by Coghlan at the last District competition shows that they are making substantial progress and that they will present a serious threat as contenders for the District shield.

1st LANGLEY "FALCON"

The strength of this troop was strengthened by two, last meeting when Peter Horne and Stephen Lee, both of the Owl Patrol, received their tenderfoot badges in the usual impressive ceremony followed by three cheers.

It appears as though it was the Owl's night for badges. P. L. Dave Mark received his Dispatch Rider's badge right after the investure.

P. L. Roddy Brookes and Second Donald Senay of the Hawk Patrol, both active members of the Ground Observer's Corps, received their wings last night.

Although the Falcons managed to retain the Shield, they did not do as well as was hoped, so the rest of the evening was spent on pioneering.

2nd LANGLEY "PANTHER"

The Panthers have gained another second class Scout as Barry Pihan was presented with his Second Class badge last meeting.

The Court of Honour is studying for their Ambulance Man's badge which they will receive in the near future. Other badge work is also continuing.

More second class training completed the evening.

2nd Langley did very well at the Pioneering day, receiving a "B" pennant.

S. M. Shkurhan requests that any troop interested in working for their Fireman's badge contact him as the 2nd Langley boys are taking that course now.

1st GLENWOOD

S. M. Mansell received another future Cub on Monday, March 7, when Mrs. Mansell gave birth to an 8 pound 4 oz. boy. Congratulations Art, from Langley Scouting.

SKIP SAYS

The regular district Scouters' meeting was held last Tuesday night with a good representation of the troops on hand, Aldergrove, Milner, and Murrayville were not present. Discussions were on the Pioneering Day, scouters' training courses, and the method of selecting the winner of the Shield, it was the feeling of the meeting that the basis for the Shield scoring remain the way it is. A better badge examiner list was brought up and referred to the troops for furthur discussion. The date of the 1960 Camporee was discussed and the scouters were instructed to talk it over with their boys and report at the next meeting.

The Pioneering Day last Sunday was a real success and the scouts are to be commended for their efforts. Mr. Greer joins me in congratulating the scouters for a job well done.

Five scouters received their certificates for the course they attended in Abbotsford last winter. S. M.'s Alf Yeo, Gene Shkurhan, Art Mansell, A. S. M.'s Diarmuid Gorsuch and John Farrow, have all completed the Basic 'A' course to the satisfaction of the course leaders.

Last weekend seven scouts, accompanied by Scouter Gene and myself, set out to find Lost Lake on Sumas Mtn., by the looks of the weather it was to be a rough one! There will be a report on it in next week's column.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Aldergrove News

On commencing to read the last issue of the Aldergrove News, I turned to the Editorial first, as is my custom, and read the article "God Save the Queen" by the Student Editor, Ted Horne. What a pity that he should have fallen into the trap of so many young people, the desire to destroy whatever has been the basis of life of the previous generation. What does he suggest should be in the place of the present Monarchy?

How wrong were his statements-the expense. I suggest he takes time to look into that item in relationship to the government of other countries, and that he checks the contribution made by the Royal Family themselves, how the Royal Farms are self-supporting, of the many gifts received from them. Each year my hospital in London received gifts of flowers, fruit and vegetables from the Royal Household.

So the young prince will be "subjected to brainwashing with the idea of his own superiority." Could anything be more removed from the truth, people meeting the members of the Royal Family are impressed by their simplicity, their humility and the feeling that they are ordinary citizens like themselves. Does the writer know that each week "ordinary citizens" are invited to lunch at Buckingham Palace, and they are enterained to what might easily be called a "family meal." In this way the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh have tried to maintain contact with the ordinary public. Does the writer not realize the many "private" visits made by Her Majesty, unaccompanied by police escorts, only perhaps a Lady in Waiting. No photographs are taken, there is no pomp and ceremony and she is treated as any other visitor would be. When in London I had the very great joy of being entertained by the Queen Mother at St. James' Palace. When the invitation was sent to me a note was included saying the Queen Mother hoped I would not be put to any expense, and hoped I would wear informal dress. As we sat down to tea round a table talking of our work, and realizing the tremendous knowledge of Her Majesty, and obvious real joy at meeting us, my loyalty to the Throne increased even greater. For four hours the Queen Mother chatted with her guests. Who were her guests—ordinary nurses, ordinary citizens, people like you and me.

No, lets keep the Monarchy, God Bless Her Majesty and God bless the baby Prince!

Yours sincerely,
Eileen E. Mold, R. N.

Editor, The Aldergrove News:

I received an anonymous letter from a person in Langley with no address. He or she wants to know what the alternative is to capital punishment.

My letter was comprehensive enough. I have already stated that our society fosters crime and murders. Capital punishment is only a manifestation of Capitalism and its retention by the government is not to deter murder and crime, but as an instrument of class suppression, and we're all more or less involved.

The alternative is a more altruistic form of society, run by the people and for the people with social security for all, and a more equitable distribution of the wealth that the people produce would minimize considerably the need for the death penalty.

In Socialist countries where the people are happy and all working for the common good, capital punishment is obsolete.

"If a king judges the poor with equity, his throne shall be established forever." — Proverbs 29:14.

Yours truly for progress,
R. H. LLOYD.

Langley's Bowling Alley Goes Fully Automatic

Langley is to be the first place in the Fraser Valley to have automatic pin-setting in a bowling alley.

Two partners, John Coleman and Morley Foster, of Langley Lanes, formerly Langley Pin Bowl, have staked their future in installing the expensive machinery necessary to make bowling automatic. This will dispense with pin boys who may be good but may also be learners.

First of the new machines was installed last Friday and the 6th installation was finished on Tuesday.

At present, ten leagues operate at Langley Lanes. Now probably more will join in as besides being more enjoyable with automatic pin-setting, games do not take so long. Open bowling will now be available every day from noon onwards except Sunday when the time will be 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. Hot drinks can be obtained from a completely automatic snack box.

If business in the new venture becomes increasingly successful, (Slim) Coleman has declared his intention of building further alleys.

Nothing Under 25 Years Wanted

An historic car parade, complete with costumes of the year of the car, will be held in Vancouver on Easter Sunday.

Sponsored by the B. C. Automobile Association, this is the first time such an event has been held in this province.

Chairman of the committee working on organization of the parade is Barry Mather, a BCAA director and an old car owner and enthusiast.

"The old car fever is sweeping North America," Mather said. "And the auto club is showing its interest by sponsoring this parade."

Old car club members have offered their support of the event and entries are being invited from everywhere in B. C.

Beginning with the earliest model possible and ending with the year 1935, the cars are to be in presentable and roadworthy condition. Trophies will be awarded for the best car entries, the best costumes, and the best combination.

The parade will start at the Oakridge parking lot, proceed along 41st to Cambie, Broadway, Granville, Hastings, Burrard, and end in the BCAA parking lot where the cars will be on display.

Application forms for entrants can be obtained from Don Bruce, B. C. Automobile Association, 845 Burrard, Vancouver.

UNICEF Subject At PTA Meeting

Aldergrove Elementary PTA held their regular meeting Mar. 9. The business was dealt with quickly and Mrs. Kinnie introduced the speaker of the evening, who was Mr. Stewart Smith, a Fisheries Biologist of B. C. Fish and Game branch, Vancouver. This alone is a big job but he finds time to be co-chairman with Mrs. Smith of the B. C. Committee for U.N.I.C.E.F., which operates under the Canadian committee, through the United Nations Association in Canada.

The people of Aldergrove have been introduced to UNICEF in the last couple of years when, at Hallowe'en, the C.G.I.T. girls collected for them. Mr. Smith did a very good job of explaining the function of the committee.

A question period was held and people seemed very interested.

Prof. Miller Condemns School Programs

By Julius Sumner Miller,
Professor of Physics
El Camino College

Let me state what I view as the essential features of the intellectual process in which students at all levels must be disciplined. And this is especially imperative in the formative years of the first 12 grades.

Of the essential intellectual tools the most important is certainly the ability to read. This means the power to grasp the full and proper meaning of the printed page, however difficult. It should very properly include also a foreign language. And on this joint I must say that the usual two years of a language accomplishes nothing.

Of equal importance is the ability to write. By this I mean the competence to express simple and complex ideas in intelligible prose and to demonstrate the power and syntax and grammar and the strength and beauty of the English sentence.

Equally requisite is the command of mathematical thinking, not just the juvenile mechanical process of arithmetic. Certainly in this present age this competence is demanded.

Concomitant with these abilities must be a store of reliable information on which the thinking man can draw. This comes only from vast and varied reading.

Now where does the matter stand? We are panicky for want of a certain kind of competence—scientific talent. Billions will now be spent on providing more schooling at all levels in science. We shall likely go at this the way we went at building planes and guns to wage war. We will all be spurred to action. We will have "crash" programs in schooling boys and girls. But it will not work! It cannot work!

Last year, in all the United States, only 3000 teachers of mathematics were trained while 13,000 physical education instructors got their degrees. As has been said, we may not be ahead in science, but we are in football.

Gruesse Von Der Deutschen Klass'

By John Peters

Manchma wenn wir Deutsch studieren, wird die Zeit sehr langweilig. Um uns zu amuesieren, gibt es in einem von unsren Textbuechern viele Witze, die wir gerne lesen. Zum Beispiel:

"Ich habe dir die Wirkungen von Waerme und Kaelte erklaert, Fritzchen. Also in der Waerme dehnen sich die Koerper aus, und in der Kaelte ziehen sie sich zusammen. Kannst du mir ein Beispiel nennen?"

"Die Ferien, Herr Lehrer!"

"Wieso denn die Ferien."

"Nun, im Sommer sind sie zwei Monaten lang und im Winter nur zei Wochen!"

Ein weiteres Beispiel von den Witzen ist:

Lehrer: "Was ist weiter von uns entfernt, der Mond oder Afrika?"

Schueler: "Afrika."

Lehrer: "Wie kommst du darauf."

Schueler: "Nun, den Mond koennen wir sehen, Afrika aber nicht."

Also sehen Sie, dass wir nicht nur Deutsch lernen, sondern auch Wissenschaft und Geographie. So schlimm is es bei uns nicht, aber das Lesen der Witzen ist doch eine gut Wechselung; denn die Grammatik scheint nicht so langweilig.

Hanson Attends Convention

Mr. D. M. Hanson, principal of Aldergrove High School, attended the National Association of Secondary School Principals' Convention at the Civic Auditorium in Portland, Oregon from Feb. 27 to Mar. 3. A total of 4,273 principals attended from all over the United States with 9 B. C. delegates, including Mr. Mountain from Langley. The theme of the convention was "Quality Education — Today's Priority."

Several discussions on many topics and problems were held. A visit was made to Sunset High outside of Portland.

This particular school has many modern conveniences—two gymnasiums, a rifle range, and a common room. Each student has an individual locker and the hallways are twice as wide as those in A.H.S. The playgrounds cover 34 acres. Most extra-curricular activities take place after school and a special bus takes the students home.

Anti-Glare For School Windows

The 1960 School budget calls for tinting all windows exposed to the south at Langley High School, with a plastic mask to reduce glare and solar heat. Estimated cost is about $1,800.

On a recommendation from L. Jamont, school maintenance superintendent, the school board has resolved that as such a large amount of money is involved without the certainty of positive results, it would be better to experiment with two rooms, one downstairs and one upstairs, first and to go ahead with the remainder if results are satisfactory.

This will probably be done during Easter recess.

Plans Approved For New School

Several months ago the Department of Education asked for specifications and plans for a retarded children's school. The plans would have to be endorsed by the teachers who actually work with the children since the school would differ from an ordinary school.

Mr. Barkhausen, a member of the Retarded Children's Association, accepted the responsibility of drawing the needed plans and specifications. Not content with that, he decided to throw in a scale model for good measure. Recently the model itself was submitted to the Langley School Board, and Mr. Barkhausen gained much praise for his faithful workmanship and ingenuity.

The Department of Education at Victoria has approved the plans along with the School Board, Vancouver Fire Marshall, Langley City Engineers, and Health Officer.

Canada ranks second only to Norway in per capita use of electricity.

B. C. Telephone Co. Announces Three Fraser Valley Directories

B. C. Telephone Company has announced that there will be three Fraser Valley phone directories this year, instead of one as formerly. All three will be issued at the same time and will be effective April 1.

There will be separate books under the designations Lower Fraser Valley, Upper Fraser Valley, and Haney-Port Coquitlam.

Company officials state that in many cases, community of interest is extremely limited between areas listed in the white pages of the present book. This is the main reason for the change.

The Lower Fraser Valley book will contain alphabetical listings for Abbotsford, Aldergrove, Cloverdale - Newton - White Rock, Ladner, Langley and Mission. There will be five editions, giving separate Yellow Pages listings for Abbotsford, Cloverdale-Newton-White Rock, Ladner, Langley - Aldergrove, and Mission.

White pages of the Upper Fraser Valley book will contain alphabetical listings of subscribers' numbers in Agassiz, Boston Bar, Chilliwack, Hope, Yale and Yarrow, as well as toll station numbers. There will be two editions, one with Yellow Pages for Chilliwack, Agassiz and Yarrow, and the other with Yellow Pages for Boston Bar, Hope and Yale.

The Haney - Port Coquitlam telephone book will contain white page alphabetical listings for the two communities, and also for Hammond. There will be two editions, one with Yellow Pages for Haney and Hammond, and the other with Yellow Pages for Port Coquitlam.

Cover of all three Fraser Valley directories for 1960 will feature a painting by Vancouver artist Jack Hambleton of a freighter loading grain.

Resolutions At FVMPA

Five resolutions were heard at the 43rd Annual Meeting of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association on March 11. Subjects covered included check-off of dues to the Mainland Dairymen's Association; appreciations to the B. C. Federation of Agriculture and Lyle Wicks, Minister of Commercial Transport, for their efforts on behalf of farmers re truck licence fees; endorsation in principle of a Federal Royal Commission to study the redistribution of taxation incomes from Municipal, Provincial and Federal levels to relieve municipal taxation of land and homes; urging of the government to adopt a Fraser Valley Flood Control policy; and establishment of a soil testing service in the Dept. of Soil Science at the University of B. C. where B. C. farmers could obtain complete analysis of their soils, and receive fertilizer recommendations.

All resolutions except one received the support of the capacity crowd of more than 700 dairymen assembled in the Canadian Legion Hall at Mission City. The motion requesting a check-off of one cent per 100 pounds of milk shipped from the monthly milk cheques of FVMPA members who wished to support the Mainland Dairymen's organization, and the sending of these monies to the group was rejected by the meeting.

The membership of the Canadian Red Cross Corps consists of more than 800 housewives and business women. They serve in 22 communities.

Land Assessment Values Increase

Land assessment in Langley Municipality has gained $431,220 over 1959 taxable values.

Most of this gain is accountable for in subdivisions created during the year. Improvements on new buildings and unfinished dwellings show an increase of $732,135.

No new industries and one sawmill discontinuing operation has resulted in a loss of $9,345 in machinery assessment.

There are 1,372,316 of our children enrolled as members of the Canadian Junior Red Cross. They are organized in more than 40,000 classroom Branches in every province in Canada.

WELFARE PAYMENTS GOING DOWN

Councillor Walter Jensen, chairman of the Health and Welfare Committee reported to Council that the number of recipients and the amount of welfare payments made in December were the highest on record, but there was a considerable reduction in the month of January. He also referred to the increase in the number of nursing home and boarding home cases.

Next in importance to freedom and justice is popular education, without which neither freedom nor justice can be permanently maintained.—James A. Garfield.

HERE'S TO YOU! says 6-year-old Brad McFarlane as he downs another glass of milk. Mary Ross, director of the B. C. Department of Agriculture's Evergreen Kitchen recommends that all youngsters should drink at least three glasses of milk per day. If they did, it would raise the consumption of milk in B. C. to that of other Canadian provinces. Lowest in Canada in the consumption of milk, B. C. adults lead the nation in the drinking of liquor.

AHS Future Nurses Tour VH

By Anne Driediger

On Saturday, Feb. 27, A.H.S. girls toured the Vancouver General Hospital on a trip sponsored by Mrs. Myers.

On arriving at the hospital, we toured through the student nurses' residence first. All bedrooms are for one person only, and there are 567 such rooms. Among the many things we saw in this building were the library, lounges, ballroom, main classroom, practice and demonstration rooms and TV room.

Next we came to the emergency department, where most accident victims are brought. This department has 24 beds and four treatment rooms. In the hospital's seventeen operating rooms approximately 25,000 operations are performed annually.

There are thousands of inquiries daily regarding the hospital's 1,600 patients. Most of these are handled by "Main Information." About 1,200 calls an hour are handled through the telephone switchboard of this hospital.

In the Health Centre for children there are over 150 beds for children up to 16 years of age.

The most fantastic item on our tour was the hospital's laundry. It is the largest laundry of its kind in Canada and one of the most modern. It occupies an area of more than 30,000 square feet and can process more than 121,000 pounds of linen each week.

The V.G.H. is the largest General Hospital in Canada; the heart of British Columbia's medical centre, and one of the great teaching hospitals. Because the hospital gives service 24 hours each day of the year, a staff of approximately 2500 people is employed. Its medical staff numbers more than 900 doctors and its nursing staff numbers about 500 graduates.

The purpose of our tour was to get the girls of Aldergrove High School interested in becoming nurses. We see that there is a great need for nurses in B. C. This was a very good way of getting the girls interested, and all of us certainly enjoyed every minute of the tour.

NOTICE OF MOTION

Reeve Poppy gave notice of motion that he would recommend that the subdivision control by-law be amended to provide that where additional widening strips for existing roads are taken as a condition of subdivision, these portions of road should be constructed to the already-existing road standard.

BC Teachers Ask Higher Standard

A point overlooked by many who presume to look at our education system critically is that schools do not operate in a vacuum. Whether those officials who determine the school program like it or not, the program cannot help but be a reflection of society.

Japan has perhaps the highest academic standards of any country in the world. Why? Because Japan is over-populated and there is tremendous competition for kinds of work that require a good educational background. Even minor civil service positions call for a university degree. But the universities rigorously restrict entry. Thousands of students compete anually for the few places open. The result—very high standards, plus a wave of suicides among those who tried hard yet failed.

Grammar schools in the United Kingdom are respected for high academic standards. How were these standards achieved? By restricting entry, on the basis of qualifying examinations children write at age eleven, to those who rank among the top 20 per cent.

What about the educational goals of the British Columbia society?

First, this is a high cost, high wage society. High wages force the introduction of labor saving machines. The machine technology requires technicians to install and maintain and skilled workmen to operate. There are few jobs open to the youngsters who leave school at age 15 without completing high school graduation. Society recognizes the value of education as leading to better job opportunities.

Second, by tradition, the parents, not the school, make decisions as to the school program the child will follow. The parents want the youngster to enter a university program, so the child enters that program, whether he is suited to it or not. The university is bursting at the seams and cannot provide suitable accomodations for all those now enrolled, let alone cater to the thousands of new students who will soon be demanding entry. The solution? Set up stiff qualifying examinations? In British Columbia? Never! Let the university construct new buildings!

Third, society in British Columbia believes in the worth of education, holding nobly to the ideal that every young person must have his chance. It insists that the schools must keep a child until age 15. Nevertheless, there are balks and squawks at the idea of having to pay the cost that such an approach to education requires.

Let he who would criticize the schools consider the possibility that society expects far too much for far too little sacrifice.

—B. C. Teachers' Federation

TRUCK LICENSE FEES REDUCED QUARTERLY PLAN INTRODUCED

Important changes of commercial vehicle fees, effective February 29, 1960, have been announced by the Minister of Commercial Transport. Oversize fees have been reduced.

A single trip for oversize, regardless of size or distance, will be three dollars. In cases where term permits are issued up to thirty days duration, the cost will be a flat fee of ten dollars per vehicle.

The charges for highway crossings on a trip basis which were previously in effect have been cancelled and a nominal annual fee for each vehicle of ten dollars substituted.

Operators of logging trucks are now permitted to purchase their annual licences on a quarterly basis. These quarterly licence periods commence on the first days of March, June, September or December, and terminate on the last days of May, August, November, or February, respectively.

If any commercial operator wishes to haul a load greater than he is licensed for and obtains a permit, his charge will be based on the amount over the weight for which he has purchased his licence.

"The recent changes have taken off some of the rough edges from the Act and regulations and provide more flexibility," said Mr. Wicks. "Further detailed information can be obtained from the nearest Weigh Station, Motor Vehicle Licence office, or Government Agent."

The Little Red Schoolhouse

By Gwen Braun

"The little red schoolhouse" seems to be a thing of the past. This might seem to imply that the colour red is no longer used and maybe schoolhouses are green or blue now. But no, they could be any colour and still have the above classification. If you were to mention a little red schoolhouse to any older person in this community, his mind would probably instantly picture a little white building, surrounded by trees, sporting a flag on a tall pole.

Why is it that when we read or hear about places like this, they always seem so ideal? Really it has nothing to do with the building itself, but with what goes on inside and around it. Let us take a look.

Early in the morning, a group of laughing children, teasing each other and exchanging gossip are interrupted by the tinga-ling of the old bell. After much bustling around, they finally have all settled in their places and the day has begun. The pupils are few in number and the grades are varied. The schoolmaster is kindly but strict. He teaches the lessons well, knows each pupil, and has time to help with individual problems. There is a contented buzz of activity in the air as future citizens find the pride and satisfaction in a job well done. In the afternoon, the teacher, who believes in practical education, takes his pupils for a nature walk. Everyone enjoys himself and learns a few things besides. A combination like that is invaluable! Also, that everything is done in a leisurely yet systematic manner, is very noticeable.

If we compare these traits to the buzzing room-exchange signals, crowded halls, uninterested teachers and incessant rush of school-life today, we feel that there is something about the little red school days, which we of the modern age are missing.

School Principals Study Principles At Joint Meeting

T. M. Chalmers, principal of McPherson Park Junior High School, Vancouver, addressed the Langley school principals at their Education Week supper meeting held at the Chestnuts.

Mr. Chalmers stated that, among other things, the principal must remain the democratic leader in the school, and as such, he should encourage the staff to express inviduality, to accept responsibility in shared thinking, and to be jointly responsible for carrying out school policy.

He contended that using good common sense and developing a sense of fair play would build up the morale and a team spirit in school relationships.

He stated further that the principal should be a "supervisor rather than a snoopervisor." A principal, he felt, should be a good teacher himself in order to be able to judge good teaching, and he should have a good knowledge and understanding of children. "We should be general practitioners, and the more experiences we have had the better."

However, Chalmers told the meeting that a principal is not and need not be an "expert on everything; the school disciplinarian; the organizer of everything; the father and mother of ideas; and the best teacher in the school." He claimed that principals should "reiterate to ourselves and others that we are leaders, not superintendents or assistant superintendents, and we are bound to the staff and school."

Mr. Chalmers also gave a report on the organization and functions of the British Columbia Principals' Association in this province.

Peru has jumped rapidly from 25th largest fishing country to the 5th largest and now has 70 reduction plants.

Aldergrove Hosts F.V.M.P.A. Public Speaking Finals

Each school, during Education Week, chose a project for themselves. By far the greater number chose "Open House," some even having a second programme. The Aldergrove High School chose to take Public Speaking for its own project. This included Junior and Senior contests for the two sections of the school, as well as being host to the finals of the Western Fraser Valley contest sponsored by the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association.

The school contests took place on Monday and Tuesday, March 7 and 8. These are reported in the High School news. The Western Fraser Valley final was held on Thursday evening, in the High School auditorium.

Public Speaking is gaining favour with the young people and it appears to be a fine way of giving them confidence and poise. All who heard the finals were "amazed" at these youngsters. Person after person expressed themselves with this word.

Gordon Hickey, a teacher at the High School, was the first speaker of the evening and explained that these youngsters had each competed three times before appearing on the stage that evening. They had competed first against their classmates, then against representatives of the other classes in the school, and finally, against others from the various high schools in the school district before being eligible to compete on Thursday. These contestants, he said, were "the very top."

John Redekop, president of the Langley Teachers' Association, was chairman for the evening and explained the rules of the contest before introducing the first speaker. The Junior contestants, led by Robert Gilmore of Delta Jr.-Sr. High School, spoke first. Roberts was a grade 9 student and his topic was "The British Empire." Second speaker in this section was Ross Molberg, grade 8 student of Johnston Heights Jr. High School, Surrey. He chose "The Role of Athletics in Education" as his topic. He was followed by Daryl Hanson of Langley Jr.-Sr. High School, who spoke on "World Refugee Year."

The Senior contestants were led by Roy Hennessy of Delta Jr.-Sr. High School, who chose "The U. N. and World Peace" for his subject. Linda Kablach followed with a talk on "Racial Discrimination." Finally, Alison Black of Langley took "Thank Heaven for Laughter" as her topic.

The three judges who each judged a different aspect of speech were Rev. H. P. Collins, Rev. John Colclough and Rev. A. Miller. Mr. Miller as spokesman for the judges, said it had been a very difficult task to make the decision in each section as all the speeches were of exceptionally high calibre. They chose Ross Molberg as the Junior winner and Alison Black as winner in the Senior section. These two received very large trophies, with cups to keep permanently as reminders. The runners-up all receive desk sets suitably engraved.

In his closing remarks Mr. Redekop also referred to the exceptional high standard of the speeches this year.

In making his presentations to the winners, H. S. Berry of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association, said he felt somewhat at a loss after hearing such splendid speeches. Speechmaking, he said, was something he "carefully sidestepped" in his high school days.

Between the junior and senior speeches, junior students of Aldergrove High School gave a demonstration of square dancing and senior boys gave a tumbling exhibition, under the direction of their teachers, Mrs. Blankenstein and Don Neumann.

While the judges made their decisions Mrs. Malcolm McDonald rendered two solos, "Alpine Shepherd" and "Barbara Ellen," an old English song. She was accompanied by Norman Green.

An instrumental solo was given by Winston Cazes of Aldergrove High School.

Cups and trophies donated by Dairyland.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Schroeder of Aberdeen Road South, Aldergrove, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Anne, to Eugene Reimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Reimer, of Clearbrook, B. C.

COUNTY LINE

The Beaver W. I. held their regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon this month. There was only a small turnout due to a number of ladies having to work that day.

Mrs. L. Fouquette was nominated as delegate to attend the Provincial Women's Institute Conference at UBC in May. Mrs. W. T. Craig will be the delegate to attend the District Conference in White Rock on April 6.

Plans for a variety show are being made. It will be held late in April.

Mesdames Anderson, Meyrick and Fouquette each won a small raffle.

Open House was held at the County Line School last Wednesday, when classrooms were thrown open for the parents' inspection from 2 to 3 p. m. At 3 p. m. the students presented an attractive program in the activity room.

Under the direction of Mrs. Leurquin, grades 1 and 2 presented "The Mother Goose" story, also a song and dance.

Miss Wiseman's grade 2 and 3 class sang a song and gave a rhythm band selection. A choral speaking presentation, "The Duet", was given by Mr. Dyck's grade 4 class. Mr. R. Fairweather's class of grades 5 and 6 gave a demonstration of choral singing. At the close of the afternoon the PTA provided refreshments which were served by the senior girls.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Clink of North Battleford, Sask., visited the Rod Caplettes last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. David Simpson, attended a dance at the Sea Lin in Vancouver last week. The Simpsons were lucky and won the spot dance.

The County Line PTA will hold their regular meeting in the school Monday, March 21 at 8 p. m.

Judy and Karen Zazula were guests on a western variety show that was held at Green Dale School in Sardis last Friday evening.

Mrs. D. R. Nicholson of New Westminster spent several days with the D. G. Nicholsons last week, and on Sunday Mrs. George Bell and Mrs. F. Bidgoode also visited them.

Chuck Wakefield of Vancouver was a weekend visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ryder.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander of Port Mann were Mrs. M. Hanna and Hugh Gillis.

A. Husdon and Jimmie of Vancouver spent the weekend at the Phil Harvey home.

Mrs. N. Nelmes of Kelowna is spending a couple of weeks with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dumont.

Nearly one hundred friends of Mr. and Mrs. L. Andringa and family gathered in the Orange Hall on Saturday evening to bid farewell to a family who had lived in the district for five years. The Andringas are moving to Enderby at the end of the month. On behalf of those present Fred Philps presented them with a tri-light lamp. Tom Ruben conducted a sing-song. Music and dancing followed, and refreshments were served by the ladies.
