AROUND TOWN

by MARGARET GREEN

What has 100 Mile House got that we haven't? The Wibberleys have just gone up there and now Gerry Brown, popular manager of Cunningham's Drug Store in Langley, has bought the drug store up there and will be leaving this month. Gerry will be sadly missed on the Cricket Club roster. He was such a good all-rounder.

Aldergrove fans tell us that Parnell Lang-Hodge played another fine hockey game in goal for Abbotsford last Thursday night. This was the final game of the season. Too bad we don't hear more about this team. They might get a few more supporters from their home town and this area if we did. How about some publicity for next year, fellers?

I understand one or more bottle smashers had been active around town Friday evening. Near the News office there were several which had been completely smashed and much glass was lying about on the sidewalk. Wonder if someone had a fight?

Some patching has been done on the Jackman Road in several places. The flush coating on the Salmon River hill certainly put an end to the numerous accidents which occurred on the average of one a week before that was done some time ago.

Ex-Reeve Weds In England

Word has been received from England that the former reeve, G. W. Brooks, who has been visiting there since December, will not be returning to Coghlan where he lived with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Todd. He has embarked on the sea of matrimony, his bride being the former Barbara Reaville, who was visiting in Coghlan last summer.

Chamber of Commerce Hears Contest Winner

A well attended Chamber of Commerce meeting was presided over by Dr. S. P. Findlay in the St. Dunstan's Hall, Aldergrove on Monday evening.

After calling the meeting to order Dr. Findlay asked Mr. D. Forrest of the High School staff to introduce the student who won the Chamber of Commerce cup in the Senior Public Speaking contest. It was Dennis Schmahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Schmahl, and last year's winner. He gave a humerous address on the effect that names can have on people. At the conclusion of his speech Dr. Findlay, president of the Chamber, congratulated Dennis and presented him with a replica of the large cup, in commemoration of his win.

Reports of the various committees were then given. Mr. J. Legault reported that a definite date had not yet been set for the Bradner Show but that it would be around April 15 or 22nd. A tour has been arranged again by the local Chamber, with everyone ending up at the Bradner Show.

Members and guests will tour the F.V.M.P.A. Del Air plant at Abbotsford this year. The decoration of Aldergrove with hundreds of blooms during the week of the show will again take place. Art Dingley and Terry Lang-Hodge will look after this. Later in the meeting Art Dingley, chairman of the Civic committee, was empowered t o purchase plants for replanting the flower boxes on the sidewalks of the town.

Jack Nachbar reported that he sprayed all ornamental trees through the town and assured the Chamber members they would have no worries over caterpillar damage to these trees.

Considerable discussion took place regarding Tourism. Mrs. Cathy Lehman reported on her activities in this connection, mentioning that the Aldergrove Chamber was joining with Langley and Fort Langley chambers to sponsor an advertisement in the souvenir edition of the Seattle Times and that $75 was needed for Aldergrove's share. She moved that in future a budget committee be set up to plan for the year's expenses at the Chamber's year. This motion carried. The Tourism committee is considering suggestions for promoting Aldergrove during the coming summer when so many tourists will be coming to B.C. from the Seattle World Fair.

The secretary read a letter from the District Director of Postal Services stating that he was investigating the installation of a Savings Bank service at the local post office and thanked the Chamber for drawing his attention to the matter.

Council Jottings

An application for the subdivision belonging to White Fence Farms on Otter Road was not granted.

An application was received by Council for the take-over of the motorcycle speedway on Brown Road and permission for this was not granted.

Ken Major, Municipal Planning Officer, will attend a course on planning to be held at the U.B.C.

An application was received from Rammell on Aldergrove-Bellingham Highway asking permission to sell 16 ft. off the north end of property so that building now used as customs brokerage could be sold to new party. The matter was referred back to Council for further consideration.

381 cases are now on Social Assistance. There could be from 5 to 8 people in each family. This would give approximately 8 per cent of a population of 14,400 on Social Welfare in Langley.

WELL KNOWN LOCAL FIGURE DIES

A figure well known on the streets of Aldergrove will not be seen again. Most people knew the old man who used to walk down Jackman Road on the white line but few knew his name.

He was Richard Cook (Dick) Parks who passed away in Shaughnessy Hospital on February 28th 1962, at the age of 67. Funeral service was held at Simmons and McBride Chapel in Vancouver with Rev. Major Geo. Turpin, D.D. officiating. Interment followed in Veterans' Memorial Park, Surrey.

RED SHIRTS WIN

Bradner Red Shirts are off to a flying start in the Province Cup play-offs. They beat Blue Adriatics in Vancouver on Sunday by a score of 8 to 0.

Fire Guts House On Yale Road

On Friday evening at eleven the Aldergrove Volunteer Department was called out to assist the Central Langley department with a fire at 23114 Yale Crescent, near Langholm. The home of Mrs. John Marsh was gutted by fire and it was twenty minutes after the Aldergrove department arrived before the two departments brought the fire under control.

The Central Langley department feared shortage of water and called on the Aldergrove people for their assistance with their equipment which provided two loads of water.

No members of the family were at home at the time of the fire and the cause of the fire is unknown.

A small chimney fire shortly after 10 a.m. on Tuesday morning brought the Fire Department to the old house next to Stoelting's and Aldergrove Cleaners. Little damage was done to the property owned by Bob Heath. (Aldergrove Brokerage).

Board Of Works Kept Busy

A request to Council from Otter (North) P.T.A. to investigate a hole on north west corner of Otter and Roberts was discussed They claim it is dangerous to children. The Superintendent of Public Works was asked to consult with owner regarding the danger to children. Councillor Booth pointed out that the Council would not necessarily accept responsibility, especially if in case of accident in this area.

Discussing a request by Mr. Massie, 4869 Otter Road, asking for a ditch to be filled, the matter was referred to the Superintendent of Public Works for correction.

Referring to snow removal the Superintendent said they had left as much snow as possible on the roads as insulation to prevent break-up by frost.It was hoped restrictions would not be necessary.

Considerable patching of blacktop has been taking place in the Aldergrove area, particularly on the Jackman Road north.

Winter Works gangs are brushing the roads and considerable improvements have been noted in this area.

101 YEARS OLD—Joe Morrison, Fort Langley's link with the old fort as it was when owned by the Hudson's Bay Company, celebrates his 101st birthday on Sunday. The celebration will be a quiet one at the Simpson Hospital in Fort Langley since age is beginning to take its toll. Joe is getting a little hard of hearing now and he can no longer read, but dresses and gets around every day. Joe used to play in the old fort as a boy and he has a rich store of memories to keep him company. —News Photo

Public Meeting To Discuss Rezoning

A public meeting has been called for March 27th, to be held in the Vasa Hall, to discuss the Aldergrove Zoning plan. A by-law has been prepared in readiness.

A shopping centre is mooted for Aldergrove on a section of land between the Aldergrove Elementary School and Oscar's Motel on the Trans Canada Highway west of the town. This is planned to comprise a large food store,

Langley Memorial Hospital Gets Approval To Go Ahead

The telegram shown below was received March 10th, by H. W. Endacott, Chairman of the Board of Trustees:

"PLEASED BE ADVISED THAT APPROVAL GRANTED TO PROCEED WITH WORKING DRAWINGS AND SPECIFICATIONS FOR NEW HOSPITAL LETTER FOLLOWING"

Eric Martin, Minister of Health Services and Hospital Insurance.

Thus 15 months after the By-law was passed, the O.K. to go ahead was received. Do not forget that during this time, intense planning was carried out so that the skeleton sketches of by-law days now have firm flesh, sinews and vitality in the plans in hand. The time was necessary too, to inspect new hospitals, to check on operating rooms, case rooms, wards, new equipment for central sterile supply rooms, new types of furnishings, wall and floor finishes, instruments and appliances boilers, heating and ventilating equipment, power installations, laundry equipment, sewage disposal units and a multitude of other items that go to make up the complex unit that will be your hospital.

However, due to this extensive work, the Board of Trustees can assure you that your hospital will be second to none in it's class, size and type. The Board has had a most efficient Building Committee under the Chairmanship of Dr. Chapin Key, with Miss M. R. Ward, Director of Nursing; Mr. H. W. Endacott and Mr. A. J. Dodd, Board Members;H. B. Devine, Administrator; with Mr. Norman Evans, Architect to round out the Committee. The Board especially wishes to pay tribute to Dr. Key for the time that he has so freely given to this work.

The final arrangements were completed February 3rd following a trip by the Administrator to the B.C.H.I.S. Victoria January 30th. It is quite evident that the Minister did not delay notification following the Provincial Government Budget presentation and final apportionment this last week.

You will remember that the Building Committee under Dr. Key stressed certain points at the time the by-law was presented to the electorate. First; It would take some time to prepare the preliminary plans. Second; That once approval to go to working drawings and preparations of specifications it would take six to eight months to complete these, get approval to tender, receive general contractor's bids, approve of final contractor's bid, and breaking of ground.

NOTE: The Architects and Consulting Engineers have just given us the earliest that ground can be expected to be broken, that is November 1st, 1962. Third; That from the time ground was broken it will take 18 months to complete the building and possibly two to six months (depending on deliveries) more to furnish, equip and move into the new hospital.

NOTE: That means we should open for business about November, 1964. The Building Committee is most anxious to get the project completed due to the abnormal strain upon our present facilities, however, it's considered opinion is shown in the notes added to their original time table shown above.

The Administrator has a copy of the Langley Advance, Thursday, July 15th, 1948, wherein a full page announcement is made on the opening of the present structure. It had still to be furnished and supplies set up in the various stores. This took time and on Sept. 1, 1948, the hospital opened its doors to patients. At long last it was in business.

It was not a very long time after that the Board of Trustees had to try for more room for patients. True we opened with 37 beds , 11 maternity and 26 medical-surgical with 12 bassinettes in the nursery. These were found to be inadequate especially in the medical-surgical department. Also it was very hard to get nurses without a residence so the Board built a residence in 1949. Following this the Director

I SAW

Each week this paper offers a prize for the best humourous or unusual happening or incident any of our readers experience. It is called the "I Saw" contest and the winner each week receives two tickets donated by Hillcrest Drive-In Theatre and each month, for the best of the month, two Chinese dinners donated by the Aldergrove Hotel Cafe.

Due to fear of getting a good beating the winner of this week's "I Saw" contest has requested that her name be withheld.

"Recently, while I was in a local cafe, I witnessed the destruction of a highchair. One member of a party of four young men in their early 20's, climbed into a highchair (wearing a bib) and as he was about to place the tray in front of himself the foot-rest hit the floor. Needless to say, the party made a rather speedy exit.

TOURIST ATTRACTIONS

Just last week the Tourist Committees of the Langley, Fort Langley and Aldergrove Chambers of Commerce met together with a representative of the Seattle Times. They decided to sponsor a joint advertisement in the souvenir issue of that paper proclaiming the attractions of the district

We are immediately concerned with the Aldergrove area and should have something to offer when the tourists come up to the Langley district.

In April, of course, we have the beautiful Bradner Flower Show, to start things off. We have an active Rock and Gem Club here. Would it not be possible for them to arrange some sort of display during the two busiest months of the summer Could they combine with the Palisade Arts and Crafts for a display? We have a well-known family of Indian carvers in our midst. Perhaps we might come to some arrangement with them to put on a display during the summer. Could all three combine their talents for some period of the summer, here in Aldergrove? These are my ideas and I feel that as a community we should make some effort to attract people when so many will be in the district during the Seattle World Fair.

The Seattle Times special edition will have a whole section of approximately 150 pages devoted to British Columbia alone, and we should have some small part of it by sharing the joint advertisement. What have we to offer?

WHAT HAVE WE TO OFFER?

Practically nothing!

We here in Aldergrove might just as well face the fact that at present we are wasting our time and money trying to acquire tourist dollars through advertising.

How many of us are there that would go even two or three miles out of our way to see a display of rocks, handicrafts and Indian carvings, when we are on our way to Vancouver. After all, Vancouver has rocks and gems, handicrafts and carvings plus Stanley Park, Little Mountain, etc., and various forms of night life to suit the highest to the lowest tastes..

Fort Langley has the old fort and museum which would be a drawing card for tourists.

Langley City has a good golf course and is on the way to Vancouver, so they can benefit by an advertisement in the Seattle paper.

Our Chamber of Commerce would be spending their advertising dollars more wisely if they used the money to bring more residents into this area so that we could afford development of parks and services, and points of interest to the traveller. Considerable advertising could be done to bring to the attention of the people the shabby treatment which this municipality has received from the Department of Highways in the distribution of highway crossings. The members of the Aldergrove CofC would be farther ahead to spend their money on a research program to develop a space ship. At least we would all be able to laugh about it.

Legislative Report

By Camille Mather, MLA, Delta

The debate on the Estimate of the various departments is the most informative and challenging. It sets forth the amounts of monies to be spent for the coming year—and provides an opportunity to check on the sums allocated and spent in the previous year.

For instance, the Department of Agriculture was unspent to the amount of $828,197.70—and this in the face of needed expenditures. Let us examine some of the categories.

Last year, $32,000.00 was appropriated for the Grasshopper Control Act. Of this, only $1691.39 was spent. Now I realize that there was not the need last year to combat this plague, but the money allocated, and not used, will not go into a fund to be used for other pest control, but will be returned to general revenue.

We, in the lower mainland, all remember the scourge of caterpillars last year. No money would be available for the control of this devastating infestation. I urged that the government assist in the control, but was told this was the responsibility of the individual householder.

The Fraser Valley Mosquito Control Board has done excellent work in the last few years to bring to the public attention the importance of the control of this pest. The individual municipalities concerned have contributed, as have the Federal and the Provincial governments. The program, to be successful, must be carried through to a completed conclusion and at times this takes more money than planned for. The contribution of the Provincial government has been $2,500. a year, over a three year period, but an average of $3,580. a year spent in control.

The Board has urged the Provincial government to increase the amount for battling this annoying pest, but so far has not been successful.

Perhaps if the Legislature was in session in the heat of the summer, when these nuisances were with us, we would have more action!

Another item of interest to the Fraser Valley areas is the unexpended sum of $17,207.99 for Fraser River Bank Protection. This is surely unrealistic in light of the work needed to be done.

These are only three notes on this one department. There are many others. I believe that there should be greater leadership given on the part of the government in this most important department—the growing and supply of food.

NATURE'S SCRAPBOOK

ON THE WAY OUT?

Many kinds of wildlife, both animal and vegetable, have been forced into retreat and, in some cases extinction, with the advance of civilization. For naturalists, Vancouver Island offers a melancholy opportunity to observe this process in action. According to Dr. Clifford Carl, curator of the Provincial Museum at Victoria, elk once roamed the Island in great numbers but are now few. Fur seals are decreasing, while walrus, sea otters and wolverine are becoming increasingly rare. The native Vancouver Island turtle is fast disappearing and many other species need protection. Unrestrained picking of wild flowers, plus the work of the bulldozer, has had a detrimental effect on many of the Island's loveliest plants as well, Dr. Carl says. Chocolate lilies, mountain lady slipper, wild rhododendrons and other flowers are becoming rare while it has become necessary to protect dogwood, trillium and cascara.

Mrs. T. Davidson Passes Away At Rossland March 6

Mrs. Thomas (Mary Ellen) Davidson, formerly of Roberts Road, Aldergrove, passed away on March 6th at Rossland, B.C., after a lengthy illness.

She was born in Paradise, Missouri and came to Canada when she married in 1905.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson settled in Rossland, moving to Aldergrove in 1918 where they lived until Mr. Davidson's death about three years ago. Mrs. Davidson then moved to Rossland.

Mrs. Davidson was a charter member of Beaver Women's Institute and past president many times.

Surviving are three daughters: Marion M. Thomas, Cache Creek B.C.; Margurite B. Hazard, Abbotsford, B.C.; Helen J.R. Chisholm, Rossland, B.C.; one son, Charles Glenn Davidson, Vancouver; two brothers and two sisters in the U.S.A.; thirteen grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren.

Funeral was held in Trail on March 10 with Rev. H. P. Collins officiating. In lieu of flowers, memorial donations were asked for the Heart Fund.

Mrs. Thomas Davidson

Essay Contest

SECOND PRIZE WINNER—
Robert Regier-County Line School

Dear Mister Editor, I am hoping this essay will compare with those in your paper.

What education can do for me! Education can give me a respectable place in the community and also a respectable job. I believe that in the first three grades it is the methods that are most important, and in four, five and six it is important to make use of these processes. For a proper education you must have a strict but understanding teacher, and the student must be obedient. Education is thought of as a means of forcing knowledge into our heads, we should be thankful for this undying privilege that should not be taken so lightly. Education can give give me a prominent job such as a business man or a lawyer. I do not believe in quitting school when you are fifteen. I believe I will complete high school and if possible take a college course. I could become an engineer, lawyer, business man, biochemist or any other thing you could imagine. and will do for me.

Otter Fl Over Million Mark

The 39th annual meeting of the Otter Farmers' Institute wil be held in the Orange Hall, Otter, on March 21st at 8 p.m.

Manager Fred Greer reports that the Institute has had the biggest sale volume in its history. Members have purchased supplies to the value of $1,038,000 during the year. A 5% patronage refund amounting to approximately $49,000 will be paid in all departments which include a feed mill, grocery store, lumber yard, coal and fuel division. petroleum department, and a dry goods department. There are also sundry items such as stumping powder, drain tile, etc.

Otter Institute now numbers 1,656 members, the majority of whom reside in Langley and Matsqui districts.

Reports will be given at the meeting by the president, C. Hagelstein, Auditor Cliff Watt, Calf Club Coach John Farquhar and Manager Fred Greer. Election of officers will follow and a film will be shown entitled, "The Supermarket and the Farmer". Refreshments will be served and everyone is welcome, it is stated.

BOB CONWAY HEADS NEW RECREATIEN CLUB

At a meeting in the Peardonville Hall on the evening of Mar. 6th and chaired by J. Kissock, a club to be known as the Peardonville Recreational Club was formed.

The executive elected to guide the affairs of the new club were Bob Conway as president. Vice-president is Doug Boynton; secretary, John Kissock; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Janzen; directors: C. Hamm, Jim Olson, Mrs. Ann Epp and Mrs. Sharon Hamm. Possible sections of the club such as bingo, darts, cribbage, whist, soccer and softball were discussed.

Next meeting of the club is planned for Wednesday, March 28.

Haney Hosts Langley Club

There is a common pattern running through the lives of a great many of the men who pass through his hands, Warden Braith waite told the Langley and Aldergrove members of the Business and Professional Women's Club and their guests from the New Westminster Club in his talk about the latest trends in correction and rehabilitation, during which he spoke about the experiments being tried at the Haney Correctional Institution. This common pattern is that of the broken home. A broken home, he explained, is not necessarily one in which one or the other of the parents is missing; all too often it is one in which both parents are present, and every physical want is supplied but one in which there is no understanding or communication between the members. Just a house in which all the people called the Jones who happened to live on that street reside, he described it.

Warden Braithwaite's talk was the highlight of the regular meeting of the Langley B.P.W.C. on March 8th; for this meeting, the Club visited the North Side of the Fraser Valley, gathering in the Board Room of the Canadian Legion Building in Haney for a delightful dinner. In the course of the evening, Mrs. C. E. Nairne described the visit five members paid to Victoria to attend the International Night Celebration there, and plans were discussed for the Inter-Club Dinner in Vancouver on March 17th, and the Regional Conference in North Vancouver on March 25th. The Emblem Grace was said by Mrs. Flo Bowen, and the meeting closed with the Club Benediction, givn by Mrs. W. G. Monckton.

COUNTY LINE

Another of the older members of Beaver Women's Institute has passed away in the person of Mrs. Tom (Mary) Davidson. She had been a member since 1927 until she moved to Rossland a short time ago.

Tony Marmol who has been working at Pemberton was home over the weekend and left by car for Kamloops where he will visit for a week before returning to Pemberton.

The dance sponsored by the Beaver W.I. on Saturday proved to be a success, and those attended reported enjoying themselves very much.

NAVY LOG

By ANDREE

Navy wives from Aldergrove station met last Thursday evening in the Chief's and Petty Officers' Mess, to say bon voyage to three of their number, Mrs. R. Jordan, Mrs. A. Proctor, Mrs. A. Thornhill, who with their husbands, are leaving soon for Halifax. The two charming and vivacious co-hostesses for this enjoyable evening were Mrs. L. Milton and Mrs. G. Whitehead, who provided their guests with games, gaiety and gourmet refreshments

A new arrival to the station is Able Seaman Eastick—welcome aboard.

Mrs. Chas. Brown has been patient in the M.S.A. Hospital in Abbotsford, for the past week.

Mrs. A. Eburne entered the same hospital on Monday, and Mrs. L. Beatty joined the group there on Tuesday. All their friends wish them a speedy recovery and a prompt return home.

To Our Student Editorial Staff

The staff of the Aldergrove News are proud to publicly thank the students of Aldergrove High School who worked so hard in our office to publish the Education Week issue of this paper. We found your co-operation complete and conduct beyond reproach.

If you are examples of today's youth and if the younger generation is "going to the dogs", it should have happened years ago.

Again we say thank you.

Council Comments

By Crusader

Was it musical chairs or a game of chess that was played in the Council Chambers two weeks ago.

First move—Councillor Wellman's return. Councillor Blair had taken his chair. Second move-Councillor Blair moved to former Councillor Jensen's chair. Not enough confusion, so I must be moved 3½ feet from my hard backed chair to a still harder bench. Fourth move—An angry councillor Roberts got up from his chair to object to what was going on—almost resigned.

Fifth move—mine again—to the reporter's table— AND SO IT GOES!

Fifth Region For Langley

Effective on September 1st there will be a fifth region in the elementary school system for Langley.

Word has been received from the Department of Education in Victoria that a fifth supervising principal has been approved for an area including schools at Otter, Milner, Brown-Wix and the new 3-room centre school, which is due for construction this year.

HOW TO BOWL FIVEPINS

by Bert Garside and Jim Hoult
Chief Bowling Instructors
Double Diamond Advisory Council

Quite a number of bowlers have been writing to us, through your newspaper, asking specific questions about bowling problems. Here are a few of the most frequent bowling questions you've been asking, along with our answers.

Q— Occasionally I throw a straight ball, but most often my wrist seems to twist as I release the ball, and it tends to curve off to the right. What can I do about it?

A— Assuming you are spot bowling, concentrate on throwing your ball out further, across the spot. This should keep your wrist from breaking too soon.

Q— After reading your columns, I am a spot bowler. But, my ball frequently misses on the right hand side, after passing over the dart.

A— Assuming your wrist isn't breaking too soon, try moving your starting position to the right about four to six inches.

Q— When shooting for the left No. 2 pin, the counter pin, I often miss on the left side. A team mate tells me I should aim for the 3-Pin instead. Is this a good idea?

A— No. You'll never learn to hit your target by aiming elsewhere. Like many bowlers shooting for a corner pin, you probably tighten up nervously. This results in either speeding up or slowing down your normal delivery. Shoot a corner pin with the same relaxed swing and follow-through you use shooting a headpin.

Q— I've been spot bowling a number of years, using the dots or some other marking on the floor two or three inches from the foul line. I average about 225. Should I change to the method of spot bowling you recommend, using the range-finder darts?

A— If you're a once-a-week bowler, you're doing fine with a 225 average. The darts, however, have been scientifically placed to give maximum results. They'd be worth trying for a few experimental games to see if they develop a better ball for you—remembering that whenever you try something new your average is bound to dip temporarily until you get used to the new methods.

Q— I've been reading in your column that a "palmed" ball is no good. I throw a "palmed" ball. Is there no hope for me?

A— There are several top bowlers who throw a "palm" ball, but they probably have to work harder at their game than a bowler who rolls a ball off his fingertips. If your hand is too small to grip the ball with your fingers, at least make sure your fingers are spread out as far as comfortably possible around the ball.

Q— I'm getting a lot of unlucky breaks on my ball. picking headpins, splits, chop-offs, and so on. How can I remedy this?

A— This is a common complaint. Without seeing your normal approach and delivery, we'd recommend you take your normal stance, then move your starting position a half-step forward or back. This should change the amount of break on your ball.

Q— I throw a hook ball. I've been told a back-up ball is more effective. Is this true? If I want to improve my game, should I change?

A— We feel a back-up ball is more effective—but it is also harder to control than a hook. So, don't change your ball unless you are really serious about improving your game, and are willing to devote the time and practice needed to develop control of a back-up ball.

Q— Since reading your column, I've become a spot bowler, and raised my average 15 pins. Where can I find out more about spot bowling?

A— Sorry, but we don't know of any books or pamphlets that give a full treatment of spot bowling as we've been describing it. We hope one will be coming soon however. If not— we might write it ourselves. Meanwhile, we'll be happy to answer any specific questions about spot bowling you might have.

NORTH COGHLAN

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hassan have been making frequent trips to Vancouver to visit Mrs. Hassan's mother, Mrs. Campbell, who has been a patient in the General Hospital since January. Mrs. Campbell is ninety-one years of age and her condition is not good. Neighbours wish her strength and comfort.

Neighbours and friends of former Reeve, George Brooks, all join in sending to him every wish for his happiness. He has married the former Barbara Reaville, who was visiting here last summer. Mr. Brooks resided at Coghlan with his daughter, Mrs. Keith Todd and her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mohr, formerly residing on Kendall Road and now Falkland, B.C., where they own and operate the Falkland Cafe, were guests at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Art Brooks for a short stay last week. Several friends gathered at the Brooks home on Friday evening to renew acquaintance with the Mohrs, and with their son, Gerry who motored over from Essondale where he is employed.

Sympathy of the community goes to Mrs. J. Luca on the death of her father, Mr. De Grow, in an Abbotsford Hospital on Tuesday, March 6th. Funeral services were held on Saturday at Henderson's Funeral Home. Sympathy is also extended to Miss Ann Nice of Howell Road on the death of her father, the account of which appeared in the paper last week

Mrs. Winnifred McLeod, who is staying for the present with her daughter, Mrs. Walter Bailey, in Kitimat, assisted with the organization of the newly formed Kitimat branch of the Women's Institute. The inaugural meeting of this group was held on February 15th, at which Mrs. McLeod was a guest speaker, drawing from her experience gathered through thirty years of membership in the Women's Institute.

Those who read the biography of Mr. Rudy Weber in a local paper last week and who have connections with the County Line School will be interested to know that he designed and made the beautiful shield which displays the names of the school's top athletes each year.

Mrs. Butler spent the weekend with her daughter, Mrs. D. Liens, in Surrey.

BRADNER

Mr. Gus Dobos has returned to Campbell River after spending the weekend with his mother Mrs. M. Dobos. Gus' wife and two daughters Cathy and Linda are staying over for a few days.

SEA CADET NEWS

For those of you who wish to to know, this column is still being written by Leading Cadet H. Green, and will be until further notice.

What do you know??! We are on top! Columbia has 296 points, Revenge 288, Admiral de Wolf 286, Kalamalka 284, Malaspina 280, Rainbow and Cougar 274, Hampton Guy 268, and Admiral Mainguy 260.

On Saturday, the 10th, Columbia's shooting team shot off with Capt. Vancouver and despite our efforts, were beaten. Also on Saturday, Columbia, the only Sea Cadet first aid team from all B.C., participated in a first aid contest and placed eighth out of eleven. Well done, teams!

Recently, the corps had a Divisional competition rewarded with a Chinese Banquet at the Bamboo Terrace in Vancouver. Winners were Montgomery and Sexton, Abbotsford (Raynor), Erikson, B. Duncan, Hutchinson and Ball, Aldergrove (Cook), Moncton, Langley (Howe). The adults in charge were Sub. Lieut. Irons and Mr. C. Hazell.

There are preparations being made for a tour of the St. Laurent, on Saturday, the 17th. Transportation will be provided to and from this ship. We are to be on board by 10 a.m. so will have to leave by 8:30 a.m.

Capacity Crowd At "Alderama"

People were turned away at the door on Friday evening when the students of Aldergrove Jr.-Sr. High School gave their annual "Alderama". The auditorium was crowded and many more people could have attended had it been held on Saturday evening also.

The band at Aldergrove High is growing slowly and the string orchestra has increased to six stringed instruments, a piano and soloist. These two groups played a number of selections at the beginning of the evening's program. They were followed by a dramatic play in which the difficult character of Hester was well played by Daphne Eldridge. David Dronek was also good as the harassed young farmer. The part of the young wife was taken by Marion Smith while David Radtke was the real estate agent.

The second half of the program was all too short, according to comments heard from people in the audience, many saying they would like to have seen it again.

Soloists were Muriel Larson, Pam Ross, Verna Radons, Alice Harvey, Winston Cazes and that clown, Bill Johnson who raises so many laughs with the audience.

Under the capable direction of Douglas Bunt the musicals at Aldergrove High appear to have won a place in the life of the community with this, the annual spring show.

Many people have already expressed the hope that next year's production will be on a bigger scale and hope they will run it for two nights.

Dental Research Grant For University

Dental research will be intensified at the University of Toronto because of a three-year financial grant donated this week by Lever Brothers Limited. Acceptance of the grant was confirmed by Dr. Roy G. Ellis, Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry, left above, and Lever President John C. Lockwood.

OFI Credit Union Reaches Quarter Million Mark In '61

The 8th Annual Meeting of the Otter Farmers' Institute Credit Union was held in St. Alban's Hall, Otter, on March 1st. In spite of bad weather, 50 people attended.

Guest speakers were Norman Russell, director of the B.C. Credit Union League, and Jack Schroeder.

The "Best Annual Meeting Contest" was adjudicated by Douglas Allen of Surrey Credit Union. He was substituting for Jake Klassen, East Chilliwack Credit Union.

Attendance prizes were received by Alvin Fast and Abe Koole.

The directors reported that twelve regular and four extra meetings had been held during the year, and there was always a good attendance.

97 new members joined during the year. The trophy for the best conducted annual meeting was won by the O.F.I. Credit Union last year and it also received honourable mention for the annual report. The contest was entered again this year.

Assets show an increase of 25% ($50,000) over 1960. This has fulfilled the Union's goal of one quarter million by the end of 1961. 4% dividends on shares was approved.

The Supervisory Committee reported on its activities and the Credit Committee announced that it had approved loans amounting to $138,000. A breakdown of this amount was as follows: consolidation of debts $44,920; purchase of cars and trucks $22,880; household equipment $5,700; farm and home improvements $22,000; cows and machinery $42,500.

Officers elected for 1962 were as follows: D. W. Poppy, Alvin Fast, Neville Hutton, J. Chard, William Zaitsoff, Howard Craig. Otto Foerster. Supervisory Committee: E. Walker, William Chard and Mrs. Gladys Tait. Credit Committee: J. Chard, J. Pauls, Jack Farmer, Mrs. Klick and M. Bruch. Secretary-treasurer: Muriel E. Cluett.

NORTH COGHLAN

Mrs. Klemola spent a few days recently with an old friend in Nanaimo, Mrs. Hokala. With the exception of a short meeting last fall, these two had not met for twenty-one years. At that time they, with their respective husbands now deceased, were fishing together. Mrs. Hokala has carried on with commercial fishing since the death of her husband putting herself in an unique position regarding her sex.

Carl and Charles Christensen are both down from Quesnel where they were for this winter. Carl is now working for a local clothing store and Charles has taken up residence near his parents on McDonald Road, with his wife and wee babe.

Friends and neighbours were saddened at the passing of Mr. James Henry Nice of Howell Road, on March 2nd after a long illness. He died at his home where he had lived for almost twenty years. His daughter Anne, had been with him. He also leaves a married son, Jim, and some grandchildren.

Parents of children studying band instruments in school attended a meeting in the Aldergrove High School on February 27th, for the purpose of forming an auxiliaryto the band. Mr. Headley, band instructor, gave a short, instructive talk on the care of the instruments and the progress of the pupils. Mr. Pilkey accepted the office heading the auxiliary. Mr. and Mrs. S. Sort were appointed to represent County Line School.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Monahan and family have moved into a house on Coghlan Road near the freeway, and are warmly welcomed. They formerly lived on County Line north. Mr. Monahan was active in the "Little League" having coached all last season..

New Vessel For Fisheries

A new 95-foot patrol vessel costing $774,000 is to be built for the Department of Fisheries in the Pacific Area, the Minister of Fisheries, Hon J. Angus Mac Lean announced in Ottawa today.

The new boat will be built this year by the Victoria Machinery Depot in Victoria, B.C. She will have twin-screws and will have a cruising range of 1200 nautical miles at 14 knots. Faster speeds will be possible when required. The ship will be powered by four marine engines.

When completed, the vessel will join the patrol fleet of the Department of Fisheries in the Pacific area. She will be built to withstand heavy seas and weather. Modern navigation and communication equipment will be installed to facilitate her operation as a patrol vessel and to permit efficient search and rescue operations when needed.

The over-all length of the vessel will be 95 feet 3 inches; breadth 19 feet 11 inches and depth, 10 feet 7 inches. She will have a draft of 6 feet 5 inches.

SCRAPBOOK NATURE'S

WOOD IN A CHANGING WORLD

Timelessness is a quality of wood that few other materials possess. Wood has been in style throughout man's history because wood not only endures, but grows richer and more beautiful with age. Today, in the product development laboratory and on the engineer's drawing board remarkable things are happening to wood to extend still further its superiority as a building material. Lamination processes have increased its structural strength-weight advantage. For special uses, wood can be made more fire-resistant — impregnated to repel moisture and termites. New finishes make wood practically maintenance-free—new coatings make it virtually wear-proof—new applications take fullest advantage of wood's acoustical and insulating properties. New techniques of construction, proven through research, promise dramatic advances in the versatility and workability of wood. No one today can even guess the limits of wood's usability tomorrow.

Billy Barker Struck It Rich

This is Centennial year for Barkerville. In the year 1862 Billy Barker struck it rich, in the gravel of Williams Creek when he dug 42 feet below the surface of a pre-glacial creek and found bedrock paved with gold. Oldtimers pass along the story that he brought up 200 pounds of gold in one day valued at $38,000.00

Fred J. Tregillus, pioneer aged 99 years old last October, is a living symbol of British Columbia's gold rush era. He still lives in Barkerville where the centenary of the rush of '62 will be observed this summer. Tregillus left Plymouth, England in 1882, worked on C.P.R. construction, prospected in the Kootenays and Princeton area and rode horseback into the Cariboo country in 1886. He knew the fabulous Cariboo Cameron and the famed Judge Begbie.

Fred Tregillus struck it rich on Lightning Creek in 1898, toured the world, then came back to marry a Barkerville girl, raise a family and become warden of the church that stands there yet, as defiant of time as Fred himself.

This year Barkerville will turn back the ages of time and re-live again the era of gold rush days in the Cariboo.

Liberal Party Nominating Convention

The Liberal Party nominating convention will be held in the Royal Canadian Legion Hall, Begbie Street, New Westminster March 21, at 8 p.m.

Speaker at this meeting will be Paul Hellyer, defence critic in the House at Ottawa.

All interested parties will have an opportunity to hear and choose the candidate to represent the New Westminster riding at the forthcoming federal election.

Nominees are C. D. Morris, greenhouse proprietor from White Rock, Art Dunster, Vancouver school teacher residing in North Surrey, Toby Jackson, former mayor of New Westminster, and Jock Smith, a school teacher in Surrey.

Anyone wishing further information is asked to contact Langley 700 or 454-L-1.

Expert Drivers

What are the qualities of the expert driver? Here are some standards drawn up by the B.C Automobile Association for those who wish to cultivate the qualities of the expert.

The expert driver—can park easily quickly.
Can change gears efficiently, up or down.
Can travel slowly, forwards or backwards, smoothly, safely.
Does not accelerate sharply or brake suddenly unless in an emergency.
Handles his vehicle smoothly at all times and under all conditions.
Keeps both hands on the wheel except when signalling or changing gear.
Is constantly aware of all that is happening around him and keeps his eyes moving across his driving range.
Knows and observes the traffic regulations.
Knows, and applies, the rules for safe following distances.
Slows down at sundown.
Consults the rear-view mirror to assist following faster drivers.
Does not "hog" the centre line.
Gives hand signals correctly, clearly.
Practises patience.
Does not use speed as a habit.
If he has any disability, knows it and makes allowance for it.
Can handle a skid, a blow-out, a sudden braking emergency.
Exercises good judgment—never takes a risk.
Appreciates the need to be especially alert where children are on or near the road.

Navy life is a man's life

Do You Know?

The sleek, powerful diesel electric locomotives that haul the crack "Super Continental" passenger train across the Continent, make the longest continuous diesel passenger run on the North American Continent.

It is 2,924 miles from Montreal in Quebec Province to Vancouver in British Columbia, and the "Super's" diesels which leave Montreal every afternoon in the year operate right through to Vancouver in 69 hours and 24 minutes — without change.

Engine crews are changed 18 times at various divisional points across the country, of course, but the same diesels that leave Montreal operate right through to the Pacific Coast, taking on fuel enroute as required.

Then when the "Super's" diesels reach Vancouver they are fueled, serviced, turned and sent back across the Continent -- another 2,924 miles.

In crossing the Continent, the Canadian National diesels traverse some of the most interesting and scenic sections of Canada, stopping at such great Canadian cities as Ottawa, Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Edmonton.

The route takes the diesels and its string of sleeping cars and coaches and mail and express ... through the broad and fertile valleys of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Rivers, through the vast lake and forest area of Northern Ontario; across the rich wheat producing prairie lands of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Then through the Continent's largest National Park at Jasper; across the sky-piercing Canadian Rockies, skirting the base of majestic Mount Robson, the highest peak in Canada's Rockies and through the Fraser River Valley to the shores of the Pacific at Vancouver. Murrayville On Shift

An overcrowding problem has arisen at the Murrayville Elementary School and it has necessitated double shifts to provide better accommodation and reduce the pressure. Grades concerned are one, two and three. A new addition was covered in the last referendum and the double shift will continue until this has been built. Mrs. M. Leurquin has been engaged to teach this new class. Murrayville has crowded classes of 39 to 41 pupils.

United Church News

The March business meeting of the United Church Women was held on the 5th bringing out 13 ladies. Attendance was hampered by snowy roads and flu. Mrs. T. Beggs chaired the meeting.

It was decided to hold our spring tea Saturday May 12. Thank offering will be held in April. Date to be announced.

The B.C. Telephone Choir came under discussion and a letter from them was read, it is hoped they can be brought to Aldergrove to put on a performance in the spring of 1963.

Mrs. A. Jeffrey gave a report on stewards and Mrs. Mout reported on literature and communications. Mrs. Crosby gave a talk on community friendship. Mrs. T. Beggs and Mrs. Fletcher reviewed the United Church Women Inaugural Service which was held in Mission United Church.

Mrs. W. Davies and Mrs. N. Hall were in charge of the social hour.

O.A.P.A. DELEGATES TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

The Lower Fraser Valley will hold their Provincial O.A.P. Conference in Langley. Delegates who will attend this meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. Orwick, Mrs. E. W. Spearing, Mr. Ron Caplette, Mr. Larsen and Mr. Andy Ness.

BROWNIE LEADER TRAINING CLASSES

On the two weeks of March 20th and 27th classes will be held at Langley City Hall for Brownie leaders (Tawny and Brown Owls). They will commence at 8 p.m. and will be conducted by Mrs. Dorothy Klassen of Abbotsford. Anyone interested in lending a helping hand will be welcomed.

Held Over From Education Week Issue—

Younger Generation Looks To The Future

The rallying cry of adults in our present day society seems to be, "What is the younger generation coming to? Since this is Education Week the staff at the Aldergrove News thought they would give the "younger generation" a chance to show what it can do, by running an essay contest on the topic, "What Education Can do For Me."

The results from five elementary schools in the Aldergrove area were gratifying. Judging by the remarks from various grade sixers we can rest assured of the bright future of mankind.

There were thoughtful comments on the value and purpose of education:

"I think that education is quite a big thing for Employers, Employs and school children."

"Education helps us to see the world from the inside to the outside."

"Education is the most important thing in life, it starts when you're a baby and ends when you die."

"Education is about the best thing the world has, that is next to people."

The most outstanding worry was the desire to obtain a good job. These pupils, young as they are, are looking to the future, and realize the part education plays in it.

"About the only job I can get without an education is in a cafe as a dishwasher."

"Running a farm, such as a turkey farm takes agriculture education for without it your farm will be unsuccessful and you will make no money."

"Before I become a doctor I hope to know the basic use of surgical medicine."

"Modern farmers also need an education. They have to learn the secret of the earth, and the secrets of getting more milk from a cow."

An interest in science was obvious.—

"Without a good education I wouldn't know which way the earth rotates or even that it does."

"I want to know why flowers bloom in summer, why snow falls in winter, why birds migrate in autumn. It gives one great satisfaction to know why these things happen."

"Col. Glenn could never have made his orbit around the world without mathematics. They even told him he was a second or two late to land."

And a sincere desire to fit in with the present social life.—

"An education will help me to be a better person because an education will make me a cleaner more helpful person."

It helps me to understand the facts of life."

"Without an education I would be a tramp, beggar, and I wouldn't have any friends."

"When I grow up and if I get married, education would help me very much in filling out business forms etc."

"If I so happen to get married and have children then I can help them with their homework, if they're stuck. Then they wouldn't think I was a dummy." Here is an excellent quote to sum up:

All people must have education. Just think where the world would be without education."

Our personal opinion is that these essays were of a consistently high quality. They show, that, far from going to pot, the younger generation is becoming more and more concerned over the effects of education on their future.

—Comprised verbatim from essays from Otter, North Otter, Aldergrove, and County Line Elementary Schools.

Report from Parliament Hill

By W. A. McLennan, M. P.

During the summer of 1961, the five Western powers represented on the Ten Nation Disarmament Committee (Canada, France, Italy, the United Kingdom and the United States) held a series of consultations to draft a new plan for comprehensive disarmament. Canada maintained a close and active interest in these discussions, and Lt. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the Adviser to the Government on Disarmament, visited Washington on several occasions to put forward Canadian views. The majority of suggestions made by Canada were embodied in the new plan, which was eventually submitted to the United Nations by President Kennedy on September 25, 1961.

The new plan emphasizes the importance both of achieving early progress on concrete measures of disarmament, and of negotiating and then implementing a full disarmament programme directed to the goal of eliminating all armaments and armed forces except those required for the maintenance of internal security and international peace. Among its most significant provisions are the following: It provides for the cessation, in the first stage, of the production of nuclear material for warlike purposes, and for the transfer of agreed quantities from past production to peaceful uses; it calls for reductions, at the beginning of the programme, of the major means of delivery of nuclear weapons, and for the cessation of production of certain types of these weapons; and it provides for early measures to stop the further spread of nuclear weapons.

It makes provision for significant reductions in armed forces, to 2.1 million men for the United States and the Soviet Union in the first stage. It also calls for the reduction of conventional armaments and for limitations on the production of certain types of these weapons.

In addition, there are provisions designed to reduce the danger of war by miscalculation or surprise attack, through the use of control posts on highways and railroads, and at aerodromes and ports; advance notification of military manoeuvres; and other measures to be studied by an international commission. Measures are also included in the plan which would prohibit the placing of weapons of mass destruction in outer space, and provide for the advance notification of satellite launchings to reassure states that these are for peaceful purposes only.

The implementation of the entire programme of disarmament is to be verified by a rigorous system of international control to verify that all states are living up to their obligations.

Finally, provision is made for increasing the strength and effectiveness of international peacekeeping machinery, in order to ensure that the security of all states will be fully protected as disarmament progresses.

The Canadian Delegation took a strong stand from the outset of the General Assembly against the continuation of nuclear testing, and laid great stress on the need to bring the nuclear powers together again to pursue their negotiations toward a permanent agreement on this subject. The Canadian Representative expressed the view that negotiations on nuclear tests might be conducted within the context of disarmament discussions if this were considered necessary, but that agreement on this subject should be regarded as a matter of the first priority, and should not be made conditional on agreement being reached on more complex measures of disarmament. In the course of the General Assembly debate, three resolutions were adopted on the subject of nuclear weapons tests.

BUILDING PERMITS UP IN LANGLEY DISTRICT

Building permits for the Langley municipality were down a little from January but were up over February of 1961.

Permits for this February totalled $156,942 as against $138,793 last February. In January of this year permits were up to $196,698 which included two good sized commercial buildings. Thirteen new homes up to $16,500 accounted for most of the permits in February. Total permits were up nearly 30 per cent over the first two months of 1961.

Driving In Bad Weather

Sudden snow falls, continuous changes in temperature and early darkness combine to make driving in winter more hazardous than at any other time of the year, warns the All Canada Insurance Federation.

General lack of experience for overcoming these treacherous conditions contributes greatly to the seasonal increase in accident rates. The Federation, which represents more than 220 Canadian fire, casulty and automobile insurance companies, offers the following little known tips from expert drivers to help winter driving.

1 Get the feel of the road when you start out in bad conditions by trying the brakes at a slow speed, when no other cars are around.
2 Make sure you leave adequate room for stopping. Tests show that, at 20 miles per hour, a car equipped with ordinary tires and travelling on dry concrete can be stopped in about 21 feet. On hard packed snow the stopping distance is increased to 60 feet and on glare ice to 195 feet.
3 Equipping the car with snow tires will cut the braking distance on glare ice to 174 feet while chains will reduce it to 74 feet.
4 Remember that skidding and loss of traction are more likely above, than in extremely cold weather. A brief warm spell means you must increase your precautions.
5 If you get stuck and cannot "rock" your car loose or get any other assistance try letting a little air out of your rear tires. This flattens the tire tread and permits more of the tire to grip the surface
6 Foggy windshields can be avoided by wiping the inside of the glass with a clean cloth containing a few drops of glycerine.

$300 Prize For Physics Students

The Canadian Association of Physicists is offering a prize of $300 from their Educational Trust Fund. It will be awarded to a high school student in B.C and if funds are available, other money prizes will be awarded.

All high schools principals in the province have been advised of the proposed examination which will take place May 1. It will be of two and a half hours' duration. Two or three students from each high school are expected to sit for it. The exam will consist of a number of unusual problems and students will be expected to apply principles learned in classes up to the junior matriculation (physics 91) level.

Robert Gubbe and Dennis Schmahl, from Aldergrove High School will be participating in the examination.

Langley Girl Honored At UBC

Miss Sandra Frisby, daughter of Mrs. Nancy Rowe, teacher at Aldergrove High School, was one of 28 students honoured during Education Week. All of the students were of top standing in their various fields. Miss Frisby is a student in the faculty of education and was presented with a scroll from the UBC Alma Mater Society by Chancellor Mrs. Frank Ross.

INSURANCE AGENTS MEET

NEW HOSPITAL GETS APPROVAL

of Nursing suite in the hospital was vacated and a partition removed making room for a five-bed ward. Wonderful, we now had 31 beds in medical-surgical. Still the pressure of need for beds, so the Board reluctantly took the Nurses' change and locker room, took out a partition thus making room for a single bed ward. One of the original 3 private wards not having a toilet was given one more bed—now we had 33 M. & S. beds. The Board then moved the farm house from the back of the property and placing it between the kitchen and operating room wing—we had a new dining room for the staff. Then the two original staff dining rooms were made into one room and here the 5 bed ward now designated Ward 17 came into being. We now had 38 medical-surgical beds. Attempts then were made by the Board to have extensions made to each of the original wings and one from the centre of the main building out towards the highway. However, neither Victoria or the Fire Marshall would permit this solution.

Then a plan was made to build a fireproof, building or wing to the west of the main building with a corridor through maternity wing entrance and a tunnel for basement to basement supplies. This was frowned on as being unrealistic. Then a new wing multifloored was suggested and plans drawn for the building to be East of the present ambulance entrance. This likewise failed to get approval as there was not enough land on that side for future development.

The Board then got out sketch plans and estimates of costs for a By-law presentation which the both Councils placed before the electorate in December 1957. This unfortunately failed to pass and the hospital Board was hopelessly faced with more and more demands for beds. From then on the Councils wished a delay in another presentation due to the Bond Market so the Board acquiesced. However, the necessity did not lessen a bit and finally under this pressure the Board ordered that the sunporch and library be taken over for bed accommodation. We now had 42 beds and Junior beds and Cribs in the Medical-Surgical Departments, 11 beds and 12 bassinettes in the Maternity Department plus 2 beds in the labour room.

A total of 55 beds, junior beds and cribs in a building originally designed for 37.

Offices had been in the basement until the office wing had been added in 1956. What history—still it is well to remember it, for now we see the culmination of efforts taking place. The frustration of the years is now abated—although the demand is still heavy and increasing.

We will give you further flashbacks and progress reports as the work goes on from this our new starting date.
