AROUND TOWN

by LOYD McINTOSH

After our heavy rainfall Monday there were some of the merchants suffering from housemaid's knees. When they opened their shops it was WATER! WATER! EVERYWHERE.

UNCLAIMED BICYCLES—Corporal Turner of the Langley Municipal Detachment, R.C.M.P. stated that they have three unclaimed bicycles at the police office. If you have lost a bike it may be there. Drop down to the office at Livingstone Rd. and T.C.H.

Our Recreation Director, Pete Swenson, seems to have become an authority on the Russian situation and the guided missile shipments. Pete gave us a detailed story on the latest developments.

A local telephone subscriber received his monthly bill and included on it was a 15c toll charge for a call to Langley City. It may be a good idea for the telephone company to issue a list of instructions to its employees regarding the fact that there are no toll charges for Langley-Aldergrove calls.

An inmate of one of the Provincial Penal Institutions was asked for a report on his progress in a course he was taking in the Institution's boiler room.

The following report was received—

"Six muncie Hago I cudnt evan spel Injuneer. Now I are one."

A rosary was turned in to the "News". It was found in the 5c to $1.00 store, Owner can pick it up at the office.

We seem to be having gremlin trouble in our fire siren system. The Aldergrove Volunteer Fire Department were called out twice last week due to the playful sprites. It was nice to see them in operation. The Dept. wastes no time when it comes to answering the call.

George McAdam guessed the puzzle correctly for last week. It was the bottom half of a top. That is a toy top. Here is an easy one. Everyone should have a good chance on this one. The deal still goes, the first correct answer gets the winner a year's subscription new or renewal.

MISSION WOMAN HELD ON NON-CAPITAL MURDER

A Mission woman, Mrs. Annie Yeomans, is being held on a charge of non-capital murder following the death of her husband Fred, of gun shot wounds.

It was reported that Fred Yeomans was shot during a domestic quarrel on Wren Road, Mission. Yeomans was taken to the hospital but died twenty minutes after arrival.

According to reports, Annie Yeomans was in the hospital suffering from bruises received during the altercation at Wren Road, residence.

B.C. Egg Producers Form Ass'n—Friesen President

Some 500 B.C. Egg Producers and guests gathered in Abbotsford, last night in a meeting chaired by Fred Beeson, and formed the first B.C. Egg Producers Association. Present were producers from many parts of B.C. and also several government officials, hatcherymen, feed men and representatives from allied industries.

Officers in the new association are: John Friesen, Clearbrook, President; Arie de Ruitter, Aldergrove, Vice-President. Directors—J. J. Andrews—Chilliwack, Hugh Currie—Cloverdale, Jake Friesen—Clearbrook, Vancouver Island and Interior Producers will meet in their own territories and elect 2 directors from each locality.

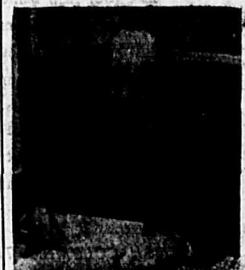

BURNING OF HOUSE RECALLS PAST MEMORIES

The Aldergrove Volunteer Fire Dept. reversed procedure last Thursday when they burned to the ground, a house belonging to Mike Stacey. Mike donated this building as a form of practice for the department. The house was of no longer use and by burning it, it provided an educational study by department members.

The house of Stacey's was located on Jackman Road, at the site of the Goldsmith residence. The original Goldsmith residence was torn down by Gus Hall many years ago, and the house the department destroyed was built in its place.

Residents of Aldergrove will recall the Goldsmiths. The Goldsmiths came to the old Douglas district in 1894. Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Goldsmith took part in building of the Douglas School on Jackman Road. Mrs. A. K. Goldsmith was the first teacher there.

The Goldsmith family contributed greatly to the formation and development of Aldergrove. Mrs. Goldsmith's own story of their life here is a treasured possession at the Fort Langley Museum.

ADMINISTRATION AWARD

D. J. Doubleday was presented with a diploma in public works administration by Reeve D. W. Poppy, of the Langley Municipality. This is the third Diploma for the municipal clerk.

Mr. Doubleday's ability is evident by the accompanying article prepared by him for council on the Municipal Road Programme.

Aldergrove Group to Support Fund Raising

A public meeting was held in the Aldergrove Fire Hall, where representatives of the United Community Centre presented the latest plans concerning the Recreation Hall in Langley City and swimming pools for Langley City, Aldergrove and Fort Langley. They gave a detailed outline of the fund raising campaign which is to be put into operation immediately.

It was requested by the committee, that the persons present act as a representative vote on the acceptance and support of their presentation. It was suggested by one of the Aldergrove persons at the meeting that a two week period be allowed for serious discussion and the avoidance of a hasty decision after weighing the pros and cons. The meeting was advised by the com-

The Post Office Department authorized the establishment of rural mail delivery, to six residents on Buchanan Road. Service will be provided by an extension of Mount Lehman R.R.1, on a frequency of six trips weekly.

The names of the persons served are:

Roger A. Fast, E. A. Holt, Fredrick K. Mergup, Shin Kosumi, A. E. Powell and B. R. Friesen.

EXTENSIVE DAMAGE—Shown in the top picture is the car driven by Ben Nordis, 27031 Trans-Canada Highway, Aldergrove, which crashed into the car pictured below, driven by Jacob Kluck, 24837 40th Avenue, Aldergrove. Kluck was preparing to turn off the highway onto Otter Road when the Nordis vehicle smashed into the rear end of the Kluck car. The accident occurred last Friday, November 16 around 6 p.m. The Langley Municipal Detachment of the R.C.M.P. are investigating.

Municipal Clerk Presents Road Programme to Council

The following report is the submission of the Municipal Clerk to the council of the municipality of Langley. The municipal five-year road program is now finished.

This report is the basis for a new five-year program:

From time to time the Council receives requests for road improvement and paving work, and there are also suggestions emanating from within the Council for road priorities. In the preparation of the annual list of roads to be constructed, reconstructed or paved, the Council is faced with the task of fitting these requests and suggestions into an overall programme. This report is offered as a possible basis for action in determining future policy.

HISTORICAL—The early development trails between homesteads, communities, and in particular, the Langley Fort during the very early period of development of this municipality, is a very interesting subject but 'trails' is just what they were. Some of these trails were carved out of the countryside and very shortly after the incorporation of the municipality, it became necessary to improve this road system. Some of this work was done by contract, and some by statute labour. The general type of road construction consisted of heavy rock base or corduroy, and later a sprinkling of gravel over the surface. Over a period of years, the road system was improved by providing better gravel surfaces and, of course, constructing numerous connecting links between communities and especially roads on the established section lines.

With the increase in the number, design and speed of automobiles and trucks, it has become necessary to increase the standard of construction, and in particular, strive for the paving of roads wherever possible. Prior to the year 1946, there were 6 miles of paved road in Langley, and at that time a by-law was passed by the public for the raising of funds to provide for the reconstruction and paving of 43 miles, mainly on school bus routes. This programme, provided a basis for a continuing road reconstruction and paving programme, and in the years 1946 to 1962, 100 miles of road have been reconstructed and paved.

A few years ago, it became apparent that with the subdivision of land and the creation of new road allowances, it would be almost impossible for the municipality to catch up to the paving on the existing roads and in addition the newly created roads. The Subdivision Control By-Law was therefore amended requiring the person subdividing land creating a road thereby, to construct and pave this new road. This gave the Council an opportunity to concentrate on the already existing roads and road allowances for development of a road construction and paving programme. About this same time, it was felt that a new look should be given to the overall road system in the municipality, with particular emphasis on connecting the existing communities and also the newly emerging communities. A general idea of the location of the new Trans-Canada Highway was known at this time, and an attempt was made to coordinate the planning of the municipal road system with the interchanges and grade separations on this new highway.

STANDARDS—The Council has by by-law established construction standards for roads on new

ALWYN BUCKLEY

Alwyne Buckley, Langley, will contest for re-election to the School Board, in the forthcoming election. Mr. Buckley is completing a term of office which he attained by acclamation. Mr. Buckley came to Langley district in 1935. He opened up the Lilly Gardens, and his produce was shipped all over the world. His accomplishments up to his time of retirement gained him considerable fame in the horticultural circles. At present Mr. Buckley is in California. He is attending lectures on various types of education. Mr. Buckley hopes to bring this information back and render it to the use of the public. Mr. Buckley has an intensive desire to contribute his all to the field of education.

Barkerville Highlight of Douglas Day Celebrations

A capacity attendance at the Douglas Day Banquet in Fort Langley, last Monday, ended the days' celebration by paying a final tribute to Barkerville on its centenary.

Reeve D. W. Poppy of the Municipality of Langley acted as Chairman for the evening. After opening the banquet with the singing of 'O Canada', and grace given by Rev. J. Moore, Reeve Poppy gave an outline of the purpose of the Douglas Day celebrations. He followed with a salute to the pioneers of the area and remarked on their contribution to the founding and development of British Columbia.

Reeve Poppy introduced the head table to the gathering. Among the notable dignitaries were Hon. E. C. Martin, Minister of Health; Reeve Murphy of the Matsqui Municipality; Mayor Condor, Langley City; Provincial Ministers, Kiernan and Williston; M.L.A.'s Camille Mather and Jim Rhodes; Reg Worsley, Pres. of the Board of Trade and many other notables.

Mr. Reg Worsley was selected to introduce the guest speaker, Honorable Eric Martin, who represented Premier Bennett as the premier was unable to attend. Mr. Martin thanked Reeve Poppy and his councillors for the reception given them during Douglas Day. He included in his talk his gratitude for the desire of the pioneers of B.C. to build a new life, thus resulting in our present blessings. He advised a captivated audience on the advisability of preserving the ideals of the pioneers and passing it on to the generations to come.

In conclusion, Mr. Martin introduced and thanked those who were responsible for the Douglas Day success. He credited these people with having the spirit of the earlier pioneer.

As a word of caution, the minister advised in this quotation; "We must not live in the past but cherish the memories of the past."

Mayor Condor of Langley City gave a short and amusing address. He led the gathering in a salute to the pioneers by leading them in the singing of "Memories."

Mr. J. Breier, Aldergrove, Chairman of the School Board, gave a short address of thanks to the pioneers.

ENTERTAINMENT

The entertainment of the evening was a presentation of Memories of Old Barkerville, under Fran Dowie. The comedy kept the audience in stitches. Fran Dowie's presentations of a magician and German song leader were accountable for the continual hilarity. Miss Candy Kane won the hearts of the audience with her songs. Century Sam was another favorite in his attire of a prospector in days of yore. Fred Bass gave some stirring Honky Tonk music on the piano. Last but not least, were Saicy Sue, and Jolly Jane who presented dances of the era when saloon girls were the entertainment of wild and hard living people.

In summation of the entertainment it was a pity that it was of such short duration and more people were not able to see it. Every person who was fortunate enough to attend, were overly enthused and expressed their satisfaction of an entertaining evening long to be remembered.

A special thanks to the Fort Langley W.I. for the wonderful meal which was another highlight.

W. Moxon Outlines Welfare Assistance

By Ada Mae Dueck, Staff Reporter for Station CFVR

It is the responsibility of citizens to recognize genuine need for whatever reason. A meeting of MSA residents was held last night by social welfare worker, Doug Mack. Mr. Mack was one of a panel dealing with the Christmas Community Aid project. Mr. Mack told the meeting that need begins at a point where a family experiences a breakdown in its ability to deal unassisted with their own affairs. Panelist W. Moxon outlined the history of welfare assistance, stating there are no allowances in welfare payments for exceptional needs. Mrs. F. Clark told the meeting Community Aid was formed as a Central organization for distribution of hampers and that more than two hundred were delivered last year. Mrs. F. Clark told the meeting, Community Aid was formed as a Central organization for distribution of hampers and that more than two hundred were delivered last year. Mr. Ed Laidley spoke of experiences in delivering hampers during the Christmas season, and said this project was a pleasure for all participants.

December 11 was set as the deadline for receipt of hamper materials from district organizations. Packing will take place in the United Church basement from December 11 to December 16.

High Winds Cause Fire

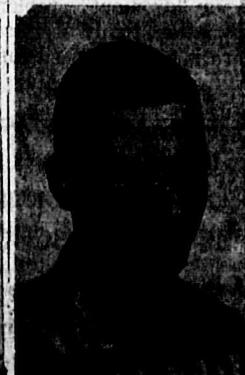

High winds were blamed for several fires in the Matsqui area Monday night.

The first call to extinguish a fire on a power pole in front of Hendersons on the Trans-Canada highway at 5:30 in the afternoon. Matsqui volunteer fire brigade were then called to the home of John Unruh at 6:15 p.m. to quell a chimney fire.

Two trips were made to a home on St. Olaf Street in Matsqui village. A chimney fire which was extinguished at 4:20 p.m. again blazed out of control and the trucks were called back after five o'clock.

CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE?

The need for access over the new Trans-Canada Highway at Jackman was brought into focus recently. The Aldergrove Volunteer Fire Department was called to attend a house fire call and in order to arrive at the fire, they were forced to make a two-mile detour.

Fortunately the fire was of an insignificant size and noticed before it obtained a hold on the house. However, had the fire been reported much later, it would have resulted in a serious situation. Perhaps the complete destruction of the home and possibly the loss of life could have resulted.

The provincial government deemed it unnecessary to provide an overpass or crossing at Jackman Road. Their opinion was that the area did not warrant one. The delay caused by the detour, to the fire department, is a very strong argument against their decision.

In our Canadian laws there is a provision which holds a person responsible for neglect. The law reads to the effect that should any person or persons contribute to the injury or the potential injury to another, the offender can be held criminally responsible. In addition to this, should they intentionally create a hazard which is dangerous to the public, they are guilty of an offence.

Our highway planners are guilty of an offence. However, were it you or I, we would be prosecuted, while the government in their complete lack of concern for the safety of the people, are allowed to commit stupid moves of this nature.

In order to bring this to their attention and have them remedy the situation, people have to suffer. It is unfortunate that we have to face the assinine idiosyncracies of some persons who deem themselves administrators.

How are we to change a situation which is in need of immediate action? There is only one way. Tell them what is needed. If that doesn't sink through their thickened pates, the answer is, "OUT", come next election.

MODERN CURRICULA

Every child comes into this world with latent gifts. Fortunate is the one who is helped to become aware of these, and begins to convert capacities into abilities early in life.

The Committees on Science and Aeronautics, reporting to the U.S. Congress, lists five major trouble spots in the world of today as, bursting population, acute water shortage, soil erosion and disappearance, intensified nationalism and too much leisure.

Apart from these problems that need fresh genius and ability to solve, the committee further lists the need for forty nine different professional specialists in the field of space explorations, including the following: Chemists, physicists, electrical, magnetic, crystallographic, astronomical, acoustic, metallurgic, ceramic hydraulic and electronic engineers.

There is also an open field for our children in languages (including Esperanto), marine research, human engineering, the distribution of life's necessities, as well as invention and the arts; surely enough opportunity to warrant more of our children turning their attention from ancient history toward participation in the future.

An up-to-date curriculum would serve much of our "drop-out" problem. This is no time for atagnation, thinly disguised as continuity, when there is so much need for brains and vision.

NATURE'S SCRAPBOOK

FOR A COLORFUL CHRISTMAS

It's not too early to pass along this information on chemical treatment of firewood to produce a colorful display in your Christmas fireplace. Almost any burnable material may be treated. Evergreen cones, small blocks of wood, kindling, wood chips and sawdust, or even one-inch diameter rolls of tightly wrapped newspapers or magazines, tied at both ends and soaked in chemical solutions will give off flames of many colors to add to Christmas cheer. The following chemical solutions will produce the colors indicated:

- 1 COPPER SULPHATE—green
- 2 CALCIUM CHLORIDE —orange
- 3 COPPER CHLORIDE —blue
- 4 LITHIUM CHLORIDE —carmine
- 5 POTASSIUM CHLORIDE —purple

DO NOT USE CHLORATES OR NITRATES, OR POTASSIUM PERMANGANATE. Chemicals should be kept away from children and pets. To avoid storage buy only sufficient amounts for immediate use. The job should be one out of doors. Rubber gloves should be worn and care taken not to spill the chemicals or solution. Chemicals should be dissolved in a wooden pail or earthen crock. A discarded 5 gallon bucket serves admirably as a treating vat, mixing in it no more than a couple of gallons of solution at a time. There is no need to cleanse it thoroughly for a change of chemicals. Ratio is one pound of chemicals to one gallon of water, using one chemical per batch. Materials to be treated may be placed in a mesh or porous bag and submerged in the solution. A stone is handy to weight it down. A day or so of soaking should be adequate. Lift out and drain over the container then spread out to dry. If the materials are dried on a newspaper, the paper itself may be rolled and wrapped tightly and burnt, too. Burning of treated materials should be confined to a well-ventilated fireplace. Treated cones and wooden blocks make welcome novelty gifts, especially if put up in colorful bags made of dyed mosquito netting.

COUNCIL COMMENTS

by CRUSADER

A reply was received by the municipal council from the Dept. of Municipal Affairs, concerning the threatened secession of the Dodd subdivision from the municipality.

Mr. J. E. Brown, Deputy Minister, stated that this situation is a recurring one in this and other areas in the province. The cause is usually an initial tax differential in favour of the district. Shortly after subdividing just outside of the City boundaries, these residents may discover that they need and want certain services. One solution would be to shift the boundaries, then there are three possible methods of dealing with the problem—

- (1) The district municipality can provide the essential services for the built up portion adjacent to the city boundaries, independently of the City's operation.
- (2) The City can extend its services to take care of the urban portion of the municipality adjacent to its boundaries with the consent of the district council.
- (3) The two councils can go into partnership, operating water and sewerage facilities on a joint basis.

Mr. Brown favoured this last approach if it can be worked out, because it eliminates any differential in prices and therefore removes one of the factors which tend to cause a distortion in the process of urbanization. Secondly, all the consumers in the area benefit from the economies resulting from a larger operation.

The municipal council unanimously favour this last approach and will act upon it after the results are known of a referendum that will be presented to determine whether the city taxpayers and the municipal taxpayers, do or not, want the Dodd subdivision incorporated into the City area.

It is unfortunate that an accident of location determined the growth of Langley City. Being on the junction of the railroad and the highway, through the years, like Topsy it just grew. It would be difficult to find a location more unsuitable for a City in the whole of this area, but since it was there in fact, it was most unfortunate that this area was allowed to secede from the municipality before some equitable arrangement could have been made to prevent it. Then it was a predominately urban area in conflict with a rural minded council. A similar condition exists today and will probably con-

Pedestrian Deaths Increase With Fall's Early Darkness

Each week in Canada, 15 pedestrians are killed and as many as 150 injured when struck by automobiles, according to the All Canada Insurance Federation. The toll increases as autumn brings early darkness.

Although the fault often lies with the motorist, pedestrians must also observe sound safety precautions. The Federation

- 1 When walking on highways or streets without sidewalks keep to the left, facing traffic.
- 2 Wear light-coloured clothing and carry a flashlight when walking on dark roads and highways at night. Even carrying a handkerchief helps motorists to see you.
- 3 Do not wear hoods or high collars which obscure vision.
- 4 Obey traffic lights. They are meant for pedestrians as well as motorists.

DRUM BEAT

By T. GASCOIGNE

The colorful little 'Cuckoo' who lives in the clock hanging on the wall at the side of my desk has reached an age when stringy old, cantankerous birds should be either retired on pension or elevated to the senate.

For many years past the old clock and its little 'Cuckoo' has been my cheerful inspiration to many great thoughts, to greater deeds, all of course for the future.

For some months past the little 'Cuckoo' has acted the part her name implies. She thinks little of announcing the hour of 3 a.m. with seven or eight loud cuckoo's and often fails to rouse and announce the time at all. More lately she refuses to do her duty at the half hours under any consideration, I suppose it interferes in some way with one of her many stias.

At the time we purchased this radical watch-bird she was well disposed and adjusted to the family. She kept herself scrupulously clean and rarely caroused around at night. She was a quiet, industrious worker with a charming manner and a melodious voice.

And now everything has so sadly changed;—our previous timely companion after announcing the hour, which is generally wrong, hops back inside her cabin and deliberately slams the door, indubitably unmannerly no end.

A gentle word, a kind look, a good-natured smile can work wonders and accomplish miracles.

HIS FIFTEENTH YEAR—The radio program, CBC Wednesday Night, celebrates 15 years of broadcasting in December, 1962. Also celebrating the occasion will be James Bannerman (above) who has introduced the evening's fare since the program first went on the air in 1947. Both Bannerman and CBC Wednesday Night plan to continue bringing radio listeners the best in music, drama, literature and documentaries during the sixteenth year ahead.

subdivisions and also adopted the same standards for municipal roads. Gravel roads have a construction width of 26'. This contains an 18' travelled portion, with a 4' shoulder on either side. The construction standards for these roads are 8" of coarse, pit-run gravel covered with a 4" compacted surface of crushed gravel. The 4' shoulders contain a 2 1/2" covering of crushed gravel. All roads are required to have adequate drainage and this consists of the two ditches running parallel to the road and the centre line of the ditch is 10' from the outside edge of the 66' road allowance. These ditches have a gentle slope from the shoulder of the road down to the bottom line of the ditch which is usually 1 1/2' below the lowest level of the sub-grade of the actual road. The usual standard for paved roads is an 18' travelled portion, constructed of 2 1/2" compacted asphaltic material. Some of the roads leading to the interchanges on the Highway are being constructed at 20' width. All utility pole lines are required to be established on a line 6' inside the outer edge of the 66' road allowance. The question of underground utility lines has been considered, and an attempt was made to establish a definite policy on the location of these lines. However, because of the fact that some gas utility lines and water lines were already in existence, it became a little difficult to maintain a single standard. It should be borne in mind that in most of the urban mains, storm sewers and sanitary sewers will be required, and the depth and location of these utility lines should be specifically determined.

STATISTICS—A study has been made of the municipal road situation as it exists at the present time and these statistics could be quoted as of December 31st, 1962.

Total Road Mileage Constructed 276

Paved Roads—149 miles.
Gravel Roads—127 miles
Arterial Road. System still unpaved—8 miles.
Arterial Road. System still unconstructed—1 mile
Dedicated road allowances unconstructed: 65 1/2 miles (66' wide)
57 miles (33')

Additional dedicated road allowances considered to be impractical for construction:

THE FIFTH COLUMN

By Joanne Moeller

The football game between Aldergrove and Langley seemed to turn out remarkably well—of course, we won! I wonder what that rash statement was that Chris Johnson made about Langley winning the game, ha-ha. We Aldergrovians are sure sneaky, aren't we? All year we purposely lost our games so that Langley would think that playing us would be a cinch, but we fooled them. There is only one trouble, all I received from watching this game was a pair of cold, blue feet. (I was wearing black suede shoes in the rain). Also, I got the impression that the Langley cheerleaders have some objection to jumping around on a slimy, slippery football field. If it was up to me, I would make all football fields out of cement or asphalt, and have all players wear black pants. Well, they're going to get them dirt-black anyhow!

The Grade Eight party was held on Thursday, November 8, with various entertaining activities. What a party it must have been, girls were allowed to wear slim jims and everyone was told to wear running shoes. I bear that one of our teaching staff has mastered the art of the Charleston—three cheers for him. I got the the impression, when I asked around, that the refreshments were the favourite part of the party. Aren't they always?

The new shift seems to be working well, I still like it, and no one seems to notice the time changes except when it gets to be about twelve o'clock and you're still slaving away in English. I would certainly like to put a complaint in to the bus superintendent about Bus No. 457; it seems to be a wee bit crowded. Crowded nothing, just call me "Sardine".

Our Remembrance Day ceremonies were held on Friday, November 9, and, in my opinion, have never been better. The readings were beautifully done, and the Cadets, under a very competent leader, Harry Green, gave their usual splendid performance. Our guest soloist, Ron Park, sang with deep feeling, while our own school choir did a wonderful job. If you were not moved by these ceremonies to think of our many dead soldiers, then there is something you sadly missed.

On a suggestion from Mr. Hanson, beside the Sadie Hawkins' Dance, the Girls' Hi-Y may also have a Steeplechase. Since I was completely ignorant as to what a Steeplechase was, I asked someone and was duly told. All I can say is—"Those poor boys!"

The drawing was made on Friday, November 9, for the portable radio; the money to be sent to a destitute child in India. The winner was (who else?) Tim Johnson. Did you ever get the thought in mind that some people win everything? Speak of the "luck of the Irish", is "Johnson" an Irish name? Drawing for the winning ticket was made by that well-known departed student, Ken Walker. For selling the winning ticket, Kathy Arkin-stall won five dollars. Sue Elmore, who sold the most books, was given three dollars, while Ian McIntosh received two dollars for selling the second most.

House scores now stand: Haida—117; Tsimshian—111, Salish—78; and trailing behind, as usual good old Nootka with 59. Just think of it this way, Nootka, not so the rest of us thought we'd let the best team have it. And how!

Large Wedding Reception Held At Bradner Hall

Bradner Hall was the scene of a large wedding reception, Saturday, 17th at 8 o'clock, in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dams.

The bride was the former Miss Mary Marmol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Marmol of County Line Road, Aldergrove, and the groom was Mr. Gordon Dams, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dams, of Aldergrove.

The hall was beautifully decorated in the traditional white, pink and blue streamers, with large white wedding bells, with smaller pink ones blended among the streamers. Tall green baskets filled with giant white, tinted with delicate shades of pale yellow mums finished off the setting.

The bridal table was centered with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, flanked on each side by tall tapering white candles.

The bride and groom entered the hall at 8:30 to the strains of the wedding march, followed by their bridal attendants.

For this very special occasion, the bride chose a beautiful white brocade wedding gown, styled with simple rounded neckline, lily-point sleeves, featuring the short full skirt. At the back of the dress, resting at the waist was a winged bow. In her hands the young bride carried an exquisite bouquet of cascading red roses, accented with streamers and little bows of white satin.

The only jewelry the bride chose to wear, was a single strand of white pearls, a gift from the groom.

Resting on the head of the radiant bride, was a short shoulder length illusion veil, held in place by a little scalloped edge tiara, embedded with tiny seeded pearls.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Evelyn Conroy, was attired in a street length dress of shimmering gold taffeta, which featured a bouffant skirt with tiny bows of the same material appearing around the hem of the gown.

Miss Conroy's headdress, was a golden circlet, with soft matching veiling and baby bows of gold velvet. In her hands she carried a bouquet of golden pom pom mums.

Mr. Brian Parish was chosen by the groom as his best man, while ushers for the occasion were Mr. Lorne Young and Mr. Tony Marmol.

The bride's mother, was gowned in a deep beige brocade with magenta undertones. Her corsage was of shaded yellow baby tea roses.

The groom's mother, chose an iridescent brown silk dress, with matching accessories, on her shoulder rested a corsage of budded coral pink roses.

Two hundred guests sat down

During the intermission of the dance, the lovely young bride tossed her bridal bouquet among the young unmarried girls, and it was caught by Miss. Cathy Frances.

The bride's cousin, Miss Judy Pastorek, took charge of the guest book, which was signed by all present.

The young couple will leave in the very near future, on a trip to Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dams will reside in Vancouver.

The ten wet days, Nov. 7—16, was the second longest wet spell this year. We had twelve in a row from April 22 to May 3. It was also the longest November wet spell since 1955 when we had one of fifteen days. Record for November is sixteen in 1953. In the thirty-day period, October 18 to November 16, only one day had a mean above normal. Saturday mean was one degree below normal, but above normal conditions returned on the wings of a warm front Sunday evening.
