GARABAGE KILLS FISH

Irresponsible use of the stream for disposal of household garbage has resulted in a kill of two to three thousand coho salmon and trout fry on Campbell River which empties into Semiahmoo Bay near White Rock.

Following up a report on dead fish sightings late Tuesday, officials of the Department of Fisheries of Canada have established that the contents of three 2-ounce packages of flea powder caused the fish poisoning.

One of the compounds in the flea powder, lindane is so toxic to fish that as little as 0.5 parts per million of water is deadly.

The household garbage including the three flea powder containers was dumped on the downstream side of a bridge crossing Campbell River at 24th Avenue and Lambert Road in Langley.

Fish swimming above the bridge were found to be active and healthy, but below hundreds of dead and dying fish were spotted by Department of Fisheries observers, including an expert on river pollution. A careful investigation of the area resulted in the location of the empty flea powder cans.

Fortunately, Campbell River is not a domestic water supply.

Fisheries personnel are extremely disturbed at this new evidence of careless or irresponsible dumping. There are still people who regard a creek or stream as an ideal substitute for municipal garbage disposal facilities.

The problem of identifying those responsible is compounded by the impossible taks of providing constant surveillance to prevent indiscriminate disposal of wastes.

Only the co-operation of the public, a majority of which is already sympathetic and conscious of the dangers of pollution, can offset the problem.

O.A.P. MAKES SIMPLE REQUEST.

The Old Age Pensioners of Aldergrove have suggested a simple means for the celebration of Canada's Centennial.

The branch has asked the Municipal Council to make a grant out of the Centennial funds to purchase a new gas furnace for it's new recreation hall. The cost of the project was estimated at $600. Council ruled that the fund was not for such purposes.

The new provincial regulations concerning winter works assistance will seriously effect the M. S. A. joint sewage project.

The new assistance program by the government will be 50% towards those who have been on social assistance fo a period of three months. Formerly 25% was also paid towards the payroll cost of all persons employed on winter works pojects who were unemployed when taken on.

BY ADA MAE DUECK

A birthday the other day, coupled with a few hours alone brought on a severe case of remembries...Driving along in the car, and waving madly to some kids in the train as it passes by, remember when I was young and spent many exciting hours on trains. Then I was waving from the other side.

Boss of my house didn't appreciate my antics, guess he at my new age, should be past the waving stage.

Washing the dishes, I remembered how I used to be so fascinated watching Mrs. Ozust wash the milk bottles. I had the job of going over to her house for milk. She made that common job of washing and sterelizing (or practically) the milk bottles seem like a job fit only for professional hands.

Then, remember my young aunt, who had a young baby, came to visit and needed milk for said baby. I ran over to Ozusts and brought back a quart. She was really not quite sure this was fit for human consumption, for wasn't it the milk man who provided milk... not cows.

Wiping down the fridge and gleaming electric stove, remembered we had none of these when we were young. We always lived in town so had electricity. We had a coal stove, had to go outside for drinking water, wood and other purposes. And we were among the higher income bracket too, Dad was a conductor on the railroad. We had a furnace, a radio and running water for washing clothes. Incidently, I think it can be told, that running water came from tapping off the brick plant pipe. The only girl that I went to school with who had more than I did was a girl by the name of Sharon. And I could beat her up any day, so that didn't matter. We did have to walk three blocks to the store if we wanted to phone anywhere but none of our friends had phones either.

My girl friends parents had the only car in our district, it was an Essex, made in the late 20's and had to be cranked. But you know who I went to town with Saturday night, riding very proudly in the car. They also had a windup Victrola with the most goshawful collection of Wilf Carter records, to this I can't stand that man.

When parking on a slope always leave the front wheels turned in the proper direction. If headed downhill the wheels should be turned sharply in to the curb. If headed uphill, the wheels should be turned out.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF A MONK

I salute you! there is nothing I can give you which you have not!
But there is much, very much, that, while I cannot give, you can take.

No Heaven can move to us unless our hearts find rest in to-day, take Heaven.

No peace lies in the future which is not hidden in this present instant, take peace.

The gloom of the world is but a shadow.
Behind it, yet within our reach is joy.
There is radiance and glory in the darkness.
Could we but see and to see we have only to look.
I beseech you to look and so at this time, I greet you.

Not quite as the world sends greeting but with proud esteem and with prayer.

That for you, now and forever, the day breaks and shadows flee away.

Written in the 15th century.

DRUM BEAT

BY T. GASCOIGNE

"Did you buy a new lawn mower," I asked "The Light Of My Life", when I came home.

"I did," she said, "it's a nice one."

"Did you manage to get it delivered?"

"Not quite," she answered, evasively.

"Where is it?"

"I don't know," she said, "it was alright when I left it."

"Mebbe I'd better tell you now before the police come," she said, looking at me through eyes veiled by her lashes.

"Police! what for?" I gasped. "You didn't steal it, did you?"

"No," she said, "don't be silly."

"Honey!" I said, "Tell me the worst, I'll stand behind you."

"Well!" she said, "the man sold me a mower that you ride on instead of one you have to push."

"Darling!" I said, "they're too expensive for us. How much did you pay?"

"Just a little bit more than three hundred dollars."

"What!" I choked, "Three hundred dollars for a mower?"

"Without the attachments," she explained.

"How're we going to pay for it?" I inquired, struck dumb.

"I charged it." she stated, as though that was the end of that.

"Well, where is it?" I asked again.

"The police have it," she finally burst out.

"Why?" I said, "Why!"

"I tried to ride it home."

"Seven miles along these highways!" you must be out of your mind.

"The police stopped me," she went on, "and gave me a ticket."

"What for!?"

"The constable said it was unlawful to drive a motor vehicle on the roads without a license."

"You should know better. Now you'll have to go to court."

"There's more, much more," she said, with a tear trickling down her cheek.

"No!?" I said, my stomach beginning to churn.

"The constable asked me for my driver's license."

"And you haven't got one."

"No", she said, "I haven't. Then he said he may have to charge me with being a public nuisance. That made me mad."

"You didn't fly off the handle?" I asked her.

"No," she said, "I just tried to run over him with the mower. That was when he pulled the wire off the spark plug. I didn't mind that," she went on, "but when he went to his car radio and asked for help, I could have kicked him, the big coward.

"Darling:" I said, "They'll throw the book at you."

"Imagine!" she said, "he told me he could arrest me for resisting an officer, then he pushed the mower to the side of the road and brought me home, never spoke to me once."

"Honey!" I said, "it's not all men that could understand, they don't all know you like I do."

"Wait till I see the judge," she said, still incensed and then added seriously, "Will I have to go to jail?"

"Probably not." I told her, "If you behave yourself."

"I always do", she admitted, "You know that."

"Yes," I said, "unfortunately, I do."

EDITORIAL

MUSEUM IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

It is only in the past few years that the museums of British Columbia have received the attention that has long been their due.

To most people, a museum had little attraction and to enter the sacred halls demanded a degree of courage. To children, the buildings, the darkness and the overall sense of a smelly past was too much to expect from bright little minds whose outlook was naturally cheerful. The elders received the impression that museums were ill conceived morgues where the pervading atmosphere was of senseless odors of the past mingled with ill lighted and poorly displayed exhibits. The exhibits offered little of educational value and there was always the unaccountable feeling of depression. There was also a sense that in these ghastly tombs witchcraft was practiced through the nebulous hours of the night. The greatest pleasure the viewers received was the closing of the sepulcher doors behind them and with an intense feeling of relief to enter, once again, the outside world to become a living member of modern civilization.

One might ask why such conditions were allowed to accumulate. The answer, as in all answers, was the obvious lack of money. Such are not the facts. Money in untold millions has been and is still being spent on various worthy and unworthy promotions, all with an eye to the future needs of an exploding population. With an exploding population coupled to modern scientific mechanization will come the time when the people of the world will have many more hours to spend in recreational activities. Some of these periods must be expended in cultural enterprises because the human race cannot survive where all recreational activities are limited to the physical. We cannot afford brawn to the exclusion of brains, nor can we afford brains to the total exclusion of the physical. Our intelligence is our only means of provision for the future.

Present day evaluation of modern museums is fast increasing with the larger more active scope presently in force. A museum is no longer a musty cave where people fear to tread, but rather an interesting means of acquiring a touch with the past.

It is in this way we are afforded an insight, a working glimpse of the past, from there we can go forward into the future, resolved and aware, that our generation was not wanting in the matter of world improvement.

We must further resolve that those things we have learned during our briel sojourn on the earth are passed along to the future in a worthy manner. Museums are the bridge between the past and the future and therefore deserve the continuous support of all mankind. Good museums, under able management, are becoming a pleasant institute of learning, where, no matter a man's chosen vocation, there is always something of major importance he can learn.

British Columbia's museums, scattered throughout the whole of the Province, are truly worthy of anyone's time, man, woman or child. We would suggest to all that they take the time to visit some of these theatres of learning and increase their own value to the earth. Knowledge, gained by interesting visits to local museums should be a part of our cultural education.

That's all folks. Thank you.

LOCAL GIRL GUIDES MAKE TRIP TO EDMONTON

BY MRS. J. MOIR

Under the leadership of District Guider Mrs. Doris G. Moir a group of girl guides from the Langley District made a trip to Edmonton on July 16th returning on July 31st. During the first week they attended the Guide Camp at Sandy Lake, about 40 miles north west of Edmonton, as guests of the guides of Highwood and Maywood Divisions of Jasper Place, Edmonton. This was a visit in return to that made last year to Langley by eight Jasper Place guides and their leaders Mrs. M. Williams and Mrs. Ivy McGeachie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Shatford, Aldergrove.

During the camp at Sandy Lake the guides were treated to a great variety of prairie weather - thunderstorms, windstorms, heavy rain and two days of lovely sunshine. The theme of the camp was Scottish. The patrols all were given Scottish names, the sports day was run as a Highland gathering with guides from a neighbouring camp. The last evening camp fire was run as a Hogmanay with everyone in various Scottish costumes.

After the camp the girls were entertained in the homes of various Guide Commissioners in Jasper Place. On the Sunday they attended Church parades and then they went to Jackfish Lake where they enjoyed speedboat rides, swimming, and a barbacue.

During the second week they had an interesting programme of visits to places around Edmonton. This included a trip around the University area, the new Civic Auditorium, a swim at the Glenora Country Club, a walk through the Edmonton Game Farm of aboug 4 miles, in which they saw an amazing collection of animals in natural surroundings. The girls were then conducted through one of the Canadian Government grain elevators, from the roof of which they had a magnificent view of Edmonton.

The girls also toured the Chemcell Plant which makes cellulose acetate thread for Arnel fabric from B.C. woodchips. In Storyland Valley they saw the children's zoo with many Disney-like figures of fairy-story people, following which a beef barbacue was given in their honor by the guides and their families of Jasper Place. Altogether, about 300 people attended and enjoyed a delicious meal.

As a grand finale the Langley girls were entertained to breakfast by the Mayor of Edmonton in the City Hall cafeteria. Before leaving in the train back to Fort Langley the girls had a quick tour round the shopping centre, and bought themselves souvenirs to take home.

The following are the guides who went with Mrs. D.G. Moir on the Edmonton trip:

Nancy Walker, Margaret Olafson, Heather Shatford, Marion Loewen, Roberta Poppy, Judy Poppy, Gail Bachen, Loretta Fast.

A SPECIAL GERMAN COLUMN FORTSETZUNG...

DIE RUSSLANDDEUTSCHEN IN MEXIKO

VON WALTER SCHMIEDEHAUS

Im Nordstaate Chihuahua dieses sagenhaften Landes bot die Grossgrundbesitzerfamilie Zuloaga 100,000 Hektar Land zum Verkaufen an. Ein kleiner Komplex konnte im Staate Durango dazuerwoerben werden. Und als die mexikanische Regierung unter dem den deutschen Siedlern wohlgesinnten Praesidenten General Alvaro Obregon am 25 Februar 1921 die Konzessionen unterschrieb, die von den Kolpnisten beantragt worden waren und im wesentlichen dieselben waren, wie die in Kanada und Russland, da began der grosse Exodus von 6,000 Siedlern.

Bandmaster Moss bringing the Langley Junior Band to attention. Picture was taken at the City of Langley Park. Bandmaster Moss expects to have his band on parade, in full dress, at Aldergrove in the near future.

In langen Bahntransporten reisten sie von Kanada kommend mitten durch USA hindurch bis ins weite und menschenleere Hochtal von Bustillos in der mexikanischen Wildnis, suedlich der USA - Grenze am Rio Grande. Bei der winzigen Wildweststation von San Antonia de los Arenales (heute Cuauhtemoc) hielten sie an, enthluden die Eisenbahnloren und zogen dann mit ihrem Vieh, ihren Maschienen und Geraeten und all ihrer sonstigen Habe noerdlich in die Praerie hinaus, umd dort die Siedlungen wieder aufzubauen, die sie in Kanada abgebrichen oder verlassen hatten. Es war eine Einwanderung grossen und modernene Stils bei der es an nichts fehlte, am wenigsten an Geld, dessen Mangel so vielen andern Siedlungsunternehmungen so oft zum Verhaengnis geworden ist. Die Siedlung der Altkolonier sollte und ist ein Erfolg gewroden. Freilich ging die Umquartierung nicht auf einmal vonstatten. Der erste Einwanderungszug traf am 8.3. 1922 in Mexiko ein. In kuerzeren und laegeren Abstaenden folgten weitere. Erst 1927 war den Einwanderungsprozess der ersten 6,000 Alkolonier als beendet anzusehen.

Wo frueher nichts als die endlose, oede Praerie war, da umsaeumen heute hohe schattenspendende Baeume beide Seiten der breiten Strasse inmitten eines Mennonitischen Dorfes nach dem andern. Es sind wohl nahe an hundert Doerfer, die sich 1922 im westlichen Hochland des Staates Chihuahua in Mexiko angesiedelt haben. Unmittelbar hinter den Baeumen liegen die OBst und Blumengaerten der einzelnen Anwesen; dahinter die Wohnhaeuser und Wirtschaftsgebaeude, und zuletzt dehnt sich nach beiden Seiten in die Steppe hinaus das Ackerland, das zu den einzelnen Wirtschaften gehoert. Bahnbrechend in der Verwendung moderner Maschiener, haben die deutschen Mennoniten neue Arbeitsmethoden eingefuehrt. Ihr Beispiel wirkt foerdernt und belehrend auf ihre mexikanische Umgebung.

Bob McPherson, prop of the Oasis Drive-in has returned home from the hospital in Victoria, intact. Claims the operation, which he underwent, has improved his sitting posture, no end.

Aldergrove Post Office has a brand new sidewalk which is a pleasure to behold and use. And the south Jackman Rd. has been presented with new cement curbs. You never can tell what a Municipality will do under any given circumstances. Of course you gotta pay for them, what else?

See some men tearing the fence down around the Oasis Drive-in in Aldergrove. Wonder what is up?

The publisher of this paper after looking at the pictures I have taken over the past few weeks, decided to take some himself. The first roll he produced were lousy and the second roll was worse.

Since the time I took a picture of a certain aldy who works for a certain real estate company I have never had the courage to walk past the store. The picture was terrible, we admit it. Possibly we could take another, should we be invited to do so.???????

It's rumored about town that Bob McPherson and the proprietor of Rowley's jewelry store will sing a duet at the next 'Appreciation Day Draw'. Where the rumor originated we do not know but we sure would like to hear these two in full song...or would we?

Did hear that our infamous Sasquatch photographer had turned up again. Wonder what he's been up to this time?

It's apparent that the writer of this column can't tell east from west or the Coghlan Road from County Line Road, already yet.

And there's Alf Dixon, proprietor of the hardware store. He's been in the hardware business for twenty years and doesn't look a day younger than he did then.

The nicest smelling store is Art's Pastry Shop. Does something to your innards.

A leather key case has been found which encloses a number of keys. The owner may have same by applying to the "ECHO' office. They were found by Kenny Johnsen of 23744-48 Ave.

Many nice things happen around the district but one thing that outshines all others is the combining of the Langley City garbage dump with the larger and stronger deposits of the Municipality.

We understand that in the near future, garbage from the municipality will be added to the garbage from the city in the City dump

From a news standpoint there is little to be said, but the fact that the Councillors of the Municipality and the Councillors of the City have reached an agreement is something else. Over the dump the respective Councillors have reached a point in their negotiations that could result in a far reaching sense of co-operation which bodes nothing but good for the welfare of the Valley as a whole. And as the prevailing breezes are from the south east, what has the Municipality to lose?

Through the kindness and a spirit of achievement 'Glen' of 'Glen's Salon of Beauty' was instrumental in the cleaning of the front windows of the 'ECHO' office. When we use the word instrumental, we mean, Glen did all the work and we are grateful. * * *

The Fall issue of the "Beautiful British Columbia" magazine has arrived at the office of the ECHO.

We are truly amazed at the quality of the pictures. The residents of B. C. should be justly proud of this tremendous effort.

There will be a meeting of the Executive in the Legion office at 8 p.m. sharp on Monday the 10 of August.

We will be holding another dance at the Bradner hall on the 22 of August. All those who attended the last one will find this one of the same calibre - a real good one! We might mention again, - any Comrades in the vicinity of Shaunnessy should drop in and see Comrade Milford Wood.

Dear Doris

Have a problem? Write to Canadian social worker Doris Clark in care of this newspaper.

DEAR DORIS —When my youngest son (of six children) was placed with a babysitter, he ran away "to find mother". When changed to one near the school where I teach, he made the woman's life miserable begging her to phone me.

In grade one an irritable teacher strapped him for trifles. Resentment built up and he began tripping people and so on. A later teacher put him in her Failure Row.

Then I took him into my class and he improved. Physical symptoms which had begun to appear — ticks, shrugs, coughs — decreased. Now he has failed again. It seems there has been some brain damage, likely at birth, but he is not classed as defective.

TEACHER MOTHER

DEAR TEACHER — In those early days your youngest needed you more than you needed to work. My psychiatric consultant says many adults have had some brain damage at birth; often without any permanent harm if the needed care and security are present.

His repeated failures have got him down. I'd suggest the trained analysis and service of a child guidance clinic.

DEAR DORIS — I was born in a southern state and was raised as a Negro girl in a predominately Negro town. I am lighter and "whiter" than most white persons. My family sent me here after I finished high school so that I might make my way in life just a little easier. I have been passing for white ever since I've been here; I have a white roommate, I have a good job.

Recently I have been thrown constantly with a Negro man who does not know I am Negro but is attracted to me. I feel the same way about him. I want to tell him so badly. What would he say or think? What would the white men who have dated me and taken me into their homes to meet their families think? Doris my heart is so heavy! What can I do?

PASSING

DEAR PASSING — Tell him. Have done with your house of cards before it falls in around you. Don't continue living a lie.

DEAR DORIS — Our family has been living in L —— for about a week. I am 15 and I would like to meet the kids on the street, but I don't know how I could.

In D—— I had lots of friends but they cannot get out here to see me. I sit around the house bored stiff. Would you please help?

BORED

DEAR BORED — Where there's life — young life — there are things going on. Read this newspaper to locate them. And visit your local Y, or Rec. Dept.; swimming pool or library, to contact more of them. You only need one new friend, to start something!

whatever happened to the "Z"? (for Zenith)

Ever noticed there's no "Z" on the latest type of telephone dial? "Z" stands for Zenith - and Zenith stands for free long distance calls. When phoning an out-of-town company or store, always check first whether it lists a Zenith number in your local directory.*

If so, merely call your Operator and ask her for that Zenith number. Within seconds she'll connect you free of charge. It makes no difference whether your Zenith subscriber is 40 miles away or 4,000. You don't pay for the call. He does.

But please remember: you can't dial a Zenith number direct. Instead, you dial "0" for Operator. On the latest phones it's where the "Z" should appear.

* Should you find no Zenith listing, double-check by calling "Information". Your out-of-town company or store may have installed Zenith after your directory was issued.

ABBOTSFORD, AND CLEARBROOK NEWS

MSA district raspberry growers are desperately in need of pickers. With the few days of sunshine the crops have ripened more rapidly than anticipated.

In the MSA area, there are 1175 acres of raspberries needing approximately 6000 pickers.

The crop yield is expected to be an average of 30 percent less than expected, while one grower states that the combination of wet weather and lack of pickers will cause him to lose 50% of his crop.

N. E. S. officials remind residents of the valley that the fruit harvest is very vital and anyone with even a few days should consider helping.

Anyone interested interested is asked to contact the N. E. S. office in Mission or the Farm Labor office in Abbotsford.

POWER BOATERS,
FISHERMEN DISAGREE

Three boat operations have added their voices to the controversy regarding Mill Lake. Letters were received by Matsqui council supporting the councils stand on the use of power boats and of water skiing on the lake during July and August. Representatives of the MSA Rod and Gun club had protested the use of the lake for power boats on the grounds that this impaired the fishing.

In 1960 the lake was restricted to power boats by request of the provincial Fish and Game department as it had just been restocked for fishing.

In 1961 following requests for opening the lake in July and August council consulted with the department as to the opinion of this move. Department officials approved the move as it was felt that fishing would be poor during these two months of warm weather. The bylaw opening the lake during July and August was approved, and has stood since that time. Groups not familiar with the bylaw appeared before council this year asking permission to use the lake and it was granted.

PROPOSED MATSQUI
DEVELOPMENT -CONSIDERED

A 124 acre residential development has been proposed for Matsqui Municipality.

Representatives of Capilano Highlands Ltd., appeared before Matsqui council to outline the plans for the development on the Burgess Road in Mt. Lehman. One to 1/2 acre lots are planned for country homes on the property and plans were also outlined suggesting damming of streams for small swimming pools for residents.

The delegation as for rezoning of the property to allow acreage of less than five acres. It is now zoned for rural area with minimum of five acre lots.

A second request of the group was to allow the developers to leave the roads gravelled instead of paved as is now required of all new subdivisions.

Council stated they would consider the proposal.

If you should skid, leave the motor engaged and turn the steering wheel in the direction of the skid — the way the rear of the car swings. Pump your brakes gently but rapidly to stop. To jam on the brakes will often lock the wheels, throwing the car into a dangerous skid.

On Thursday, July 30th, a judging class was held at the farm of Mr. John MacNaughton. The members of Otter 4-H judged three classes of Jerseys after which, Ian Waler demonstrated the proper way to show a calf. When the judging classes were concluded, Mr. MacNaughton showed the members through the modern up to date farm. He demonstrated how the equipment was used and answered all questions. The milking parlor and milk house were one of the most interesting items for the members.
