No Reaction From City

Langley city council will take no action on a request by district farmer George Copeman that city and municipal officials meet jointly to consider amalgamation.

Mayor John Corder says discussions regarding a regional authority hold preference over local amalgamation, B. C. government officials have made no recommendations, and city residents have not petitioned council to negotiate amalgamation with municipal officials, mayor Corder says.

Less Unemployment

Since Students Back To School

The number of persons seeking employment in the local area decreased during September reports Art Neill, manager of Canada Manpower Centre, Abbotsford.

Sawmills and shake and shingle mills operated at near capacity as did the logging industry. There was an adequate supply of workers to meet the demands of these industries except for a slight shortage of qualified rigging crews.

How About Our Children?

It was with great sadness we last week saw Lee Schulz close the doors to the Oasis Drive-In. Sure, some local residents might say, "Goody-goody, now again at last we can have some nice quiet nights," and they will pull the night caps down over their ears and slumber sweetly.

Tom Quixote and the Flower Children

Quite a ruckus it was, and naturally it isn't over yet. The debating back and forth about whether a mayor should have the right to lift the business licence for a publication or not, in this case of course the famous (or notorious?) Georgia Straight?

YOUR SCHOOLS AND YOU

"Kindergartens are not a baby sitting service -- but an important part of the learning process," says Jack Marriott, school trustee for Langley School District.

A steady downpour as only the Fraser Valley knows it just about cancelled out the rodeo at the Fordane Farm in Mt. Lehman Saturday, but the riders are hardy people and all the events went on as scheduled.

Unsere Reise Nach Europa

(Our Journey To Europe - by Pastor N. Friesen, Aldergrove)

In Paris trennten wir uns von der Gruppe. Sie fuhren mit dem Bus nach Amsterdam, und wir sollten in Paris uebermachten, und den naechsten Tag los nach Moskau fahren. Ich erkundigte mich ob es nicht moeglich waere gleich nach Moskau, also am 22. Juli weiter zu fahren. "Ja", sagten sie, "da ist Raum," so fuhren wir dann auch gleich bis Moskau. Im grossen Flugzeug waren nur 50 Personen, die Fahrt ging gut. Es geht ueber dem Adriatischen Meer, wir koennen die Schiffe sehen, dann ueber Polen nach Moskau zu.

Coghlan W. I. came second with their entries and display at the Aldergrove Fair last month. County Line came first.

Mrs. A. Brooks of Coghlan, and Mrs. W. Twemlow and family of Coghlan came home with most of their display as first and second winners. Also the Christensen family of Coghlan did very well.

Mrs. Joe Paulson of Whalley and Mrs. F. Butler of Kendall Road spent a week visiting relatives in Barhead and Edmonton. The Alberta farmers were just finishing their harvesting at the time. The crops turned out to be much better than had been anticipated on account of the hot, dry summer. Tomatoes had been ripening on the vines for over a month which is very unusual. The first frost usually comes in September.

Wir denken an die schwere Kriegszeit, die Hungersnot besonders in Russland, die vielen Leiden, trennungen, Familiensplitter, Verbannungen und so weiter. Ja, und was werden wir begegnen? Wie wird man uns behandeln oder aufnehmen? Was wird die Kontrolle sagen, wenn sie unsere Koffer untersuchen werden? Nun wir haben auch schon manches gehoert und gesehen, auch hier in Kanada die erste Jahre viel Pruefungen gehabt, aber unsere Erfahrungen haben uns eines gelehrt und offenbart. Es gibt einen Gott im Himmel und durch unser Vertrauen zu ihm und den kindlichen Glauben an den Heiland Jesus Christus, hat er uns die Sunden vergeben und uns zu Himmelsbergen bestimmt. Und durch seinen Heiligen Geist ist unsere Fahrt vorbereitet, da sind wir uns Ueberzeugt, was immer uns begegnet, der Herr ist mit und bei uns. Noch mehr viel empfinden und fuellen es was Gottes Wort sagt: "Der Engel des Herrn lagert sich um die her so ihn fuerchten, und hilft ihnen," aus Psalm 34:8. Viele Freunde hatten uns versichert, "Wir werden fuer euch beten." Das haben wir dann auch tatsaechlich erfahren, dass wir von einer Schutzmauer umgeben waren. Es war ein glueckseliges Gefuehl das uns umraehrte. Hat der liebe Vater im Himmel den glaeubigen doch schon im alten Bibelbuch sowie auch im neuen Testament immer wieder, denen die auf ihn vertrauen zugerufen, "Ich bin mit euch," oder Fuerchten euch nicht, Ich bin der Herr euer Gott, in der Welt habt ihr angst, seit getrost, ich habe die Welt ueberwunden." Die Fahrt von Paris bis Moskau dauerte nur 3 Stunden und 20 Minuten. Wir sollten nun landen. Wird jemand von unsern Geschwister da sein? Denn eine Schwester hatte geschrieben, wenn moeglich dann wollen wir euch in Moskau begegnen. Langsam setzt euch keinen Raum, alles ist voll." Ich erkläre ihm unsere Lage, wie es gekommen ist, das wir meine Geschwister schon 42 Jahre nicht gesehen. "Setz dich," sagt er. Faengt an zu Telefonieren, doch der Versuch ist vergebens, er will zu einem andern, da muss er warten. Inzwischen denke ich an meine Frau die dort bei den Sachen ist, ich gehe zu ihr und sage, "sei getrost, die Angelegenheit wird geregelt werden."

No, this is not a sit-down protest by hippies. The girls on this picture represents the Y-Teen Club from the Aldergrove Senior Secondary School having their initiation ceremony last week. The girls paraded down through the streets of Aldergrove washing the sidewalk with toothbrushes, apparently the job was too tiring, and the girls took a breather.

Coghlan News

by Mrs. F. Butler

The meeting of the Coghlan W. I. was held at the Community hall with seven members attending recently. Plans were made for a fall bazaar and this was discussed to some length. The ladies hope to be able to arrange a small carnival and amusing games for the younger generation. The final plans will be discussed at a meeting at Mrs. Dan Mollie's on October 20th.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ashdown of Kendall Road had their baby boy at the Langley Memorial Hospital with a very bad cold and flu last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris DeChepard of Gun, Alberta are visiting their daughter in Victoria, and getting acquainted with the rains of B. C. On October 3rd snow was flying in Alberta.

Mrs. R. Bowman of New Zealand who is corresponding with a Coghlan W. I. member says that she has had a wonderful winter and that it is lambing time now and spring work has started. She says the hospitality the New Zealanders received in Canada from the W. I. ladies will not be forgotten for a long while. They enjoyed Canadian dill pickles, she says. They don't have them in N. Z. She concludes her letter with saying that she hope the Canadian W. I. ladies can visit her country so they can entertain them there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Kirkham and family of Kendall Rd. have two teenage boys visiting them from 100-mile House over the long weekend.

Aberdeen Angus Club Formed

The Fraser Valley Aberdeen Angus Club was formed September 28 to help members of the B. C. Aberdeen Angus Association to take a more active interest in their club.

Mr. R. C. Blisken of Haney was elected president, Mr. G. Evans of Whonock vice-president, and Mr. D. Wilson of Mission secretary-treasurer.

The club was formed to promote the Aberdeen Angus breed in the valley, to continue to improve the breed, and to encourage and help new and junior people in becoming actively interested in this breed. The B. C. Aberdeen Angus Association has encouraged the development of this club and several others in the province to enable members to take a more active part in their association because the B. C. A. A. members are found throughout the province, and the distance in miles between the individual members constitute a problem.

The club will meet once a month in the evening in the Provincial room of the B. C. A. I. A. center in Milner. Next meeting will be held on October 26. Anyone interested in the Aberdeen Angus breed is invited to join the club, and additional information can be obtained by calling the secretary at 826-2246 in the evenings.

BRADNER P.T.A. NEWS

Bradner Parent-Teacher Association had a good attendance at their first meeting Monday night. New members were welcomed by the president, Mrs. E. Friesen, who introduced the new executive.

The school principal, Mr. E. Krause introduced the staff of Miss S. Unger teaching grades one and two, Miss E. Isaak teaching grades two and three, Miss C. O. Donnell who has grades four and five, Mr. P. Coles who has grades five and six, and Mr. Krause himself teaching grades six and seven. The group was taken on a guided tour through the school, including two rooms which some of the members attended thirty years ago, with a basement now being converted into a library, and a portable classroom which replaces the addition of a classroom promised in the last referendum.

Miss S. Unger who has spent four years recently teaching on the Isle of St. Lucia in the West Indies, showed slides and very descriptively spoke on her work as a teacher there. She also showed and described articles of art done by the school children.

Refreshments were served by the social committee. Next meeting will be Monday, November 6, and programme for this meeting will be announced later.

The Ladies Aid to the Bradner Presbyterian Church held their October meeting in the Church Hall Tuesday evening to make final plans for their fall bazaar and tea to be held in the Bradner Hall on Saturday, Oct. 21.

The BBG and Politics

One of the most misunderstood instruments of Canadian broadcast policy is the Board of Broadcast Governors. By and large, they have performed well; they have won the admiration and respect of the majority of broadcasters, whether public or private. But because they are appointed politically, they are frequently accused of making their decisions from a political bias. In British Columbia, particularly, there is a suspicion that they favor those broadcasters who support the Liberal cause, and suppress those who don't. Many B.C. citizens are convinced that since the two large daily papers in Vancouver are Liberal (?) and that the radio stations which have had power increases and the like appear to have a Liberal slant, the Board ought not to slight those stations which are inclined to give the B.C. Social Credit government a break from time to time.

ters, and have nothing whatever to do with program content. Even then, there will not be the complete freedom under law that the newspapers enjoy.

"This Economic Waste . . . This Tragic Loss of Life"

CANADA

ELIZABETH THE SECOND, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom, Canada and Her other Realms and Territories QUEEN, Head of the Commonwealth, Defender of the Faith.

TO ALL TO WHOM these Presents shall come or whom the same may in anywise concern, — GREETING:

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS authoritative statistics compiled and published by the Dominion Fire Commissioner show that during the past ten years, eight hundred and twelve thousand fires in Canada have taken five thousand eight hundred lives, seriously injured at least nineteen thousand four hundred other persons and destroyed property valued at one billion four hundred and seven million dollars:

AND WHEREAS such losses are still increasing year by year;

AND WHEREAS humanitarian and economic considerations imperatively demand that improved fire prevention measures be undertaken to prevent this economic waste and tragic loss of life in order that the nation's prosperity may be maintained;

AND WHEREAS it is desirable that the attention of the public be directed to the extent and underlying causes of the preventable loss of life and property by fire and to the best and most practicable means for its control and that a specific period of the year be set apart and properly designated for the dissemination of such information;

NOW KNOW YE THAT WE, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council for Canada, have thought fit to designate and do designate the week commencing SUNDAY, THE EIGHTH OF OCTOBER, AND ENDING ON SATURDAY, THE FOURTEENTH OF OCTOBER, in the present year as "FIRE PREVENTION WEEK", and we do recommend to all Our Loving Subjects that at some time during that week as may be found most practicable:—

1. All dwellings, public buildings, stores, warehouses, factories, farms, mines and forests be carefully inspected by their occupants and all conditions likely to cause or promote the spread of fire be removed.
2. All theatres, hotels, hospitals, institutional and assembly buildings be inspected and provisions made for all changes necessary to protect the occupants in case of fire.
3. Fire drills be held for the children in all schools, for the inmates of all institutions, and for the employees in all factories, in order that a greater degree of safety be ensured by acquainting the occupants with the best and most expeditious mode of exit in time of danger.
4. Special instruction on the subject of fire prevention be given by the teachers and by municipal officials in the schools and that such appropriate literature as may be available be distributed to the pupils.
5. Federal, Provincial and Municipal authorities endeavour, by means of public meetings, the press, television, radio broadcasts, specially prepared motion pictures or otherwise as may to them seem most fit, to impress upon the citizens the national importance of protecting life, property and natural resources from loss by fire.

OF ALL WHICH Our Loving Subjects and all others whom these Presents may concern are hereby required to take notice and to govern themselves accordingly.

Prevention is the key

571 Canadians Die $153,840,573 Wasted

In 67,970 Fires in 1966

FIRE DESTRUCTION IN CANADA in the last 10 years has taken 5,794 lives, injured and disfigured 19,400 persons, and has wiped out an estimated property worth of $1,407,140,000.

For 1966, the estimate of deaths in 67,970 fires was 571. The direct material loss last year was calculated at $153,840,573.

Highlights of the story of the battle against fire waste:

- The estimated 1966 fire death rate (deaths per 100,000 population) was 2.9—lowest of the decade. Ten years ago, the rate was 3.8. Children continue to figure largely amongst the victims. In 1966, they numbered 216, men 239, women 116. As they do every year, multiple death fires—sometimes killing entire families—blackened the tragic record.
- Despite population growth, the downward trend in numbers of reported fires was accelerated. Over the last five years, the decrease was 17%. Excluding forest and government property fires, the 1966 loss was put at $7.72 per capita, compared with $7.37 in 1965. Multi-million dollar industry fires continued to swell the total. The 10-year industry damage is reckoned at over $600,000,000.

Taking into account the indirect economic factors—industrial production and job disruption—the real burden of fire in a year is at least $750,000,000, fire authorities say.

Nobody, least of all the taxpayer, escapes the responsibility of fire—on the job and in the home.

Ten years ago, the average cost of fire in the home was $400. Today it is $1,000.

We Left Them Alone Only A Few Minutes

THIS NEWSPAPER has said it before, and it will say it again and again, for a compassionate community there is no sadder news than the death by fire of children in the home.

And the shadow deepens when the headlines read: "We left them alone only a few minutes . . ."

For the stricken family, the shadow of its wanton neglect will last a lifetime.

Fire is no accident. Fires are caused by stupid, unthinking carelessness.

IOU of Fire

Every ten years wasteful Canadians run up a staggering IOU in fire destruction of more than $1,400,000,000.

Every Canadian in the long run has to chip in and pay off the debt, through insurance premiums. Else the victims take it on the chin.

Criminal Code of Canada

To parents and guardians of the young let it be known that, besides various provincial laws the Criminal Code of Canada (section 189) reads:

"Everyone who unlawfully abandons or exposes a child who is under the age of 10 years, so that its life is or is likely to be endangered or its health is or is likely to be permanently injured, is guilty of an indictable offence and is liable to imprisonment for two years."

People have a duty to their children, to the community and to themselves to see that the youngsters are properly looked after.

An obligation not so easily squared is the terrible human toll of life by fire—more than 5,000 victims, the bulk of the dead being children and the aged. It's worth thinking about.

A Picture of Your Home in 1967?

Tens of thousands of Canadian homes will be struck by fire this year. Most of these fires will be caused by carelessness and neglect.

Make sure that your home isn't one of them

Too Late!

If the 571 Canadians who last year died terribly by fire were 570 plus YOU, these fire prevention reminders wouldn't be very useful.

Electric Fuse Your Watch Dog

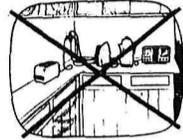

Do Not Overload Circuits

Aldergrove Automotive
856-6219 Your Datsun Dealer

An over-fused electric circuit invites fire in the home. And a national survey shows that hundreds of thousands of Canadian dwellings have the wrong fuse (costing less than a dime) in a socket.

In a typical municipality of 25,000, fire investigators found that only 15% of the homes visited were properly fused.

What is over-fusing? It's when you use a 20, 25 or 30 ampere socket fuse in an ordinary branch household circuit. Why can such fuses provide a fire hazard? Because they engender a sense of false security. They do not "blow" when the "load" is dangerously increased. The wiring heats. Heat plus fuel and oxygen means fire. If the wiring is concealed, fire may start in the wall.

In minutes, it may be out of control, perhaps tragically. Says the Fire Chief of a prairie community with 25,000 homes: "In most of the older homes where we found over-loaded circuits, practically all were using 30 amp. fuses, and even pennies and tinfoil behind the fuses!"

Check with your fire chief, the utility, and electrician or even a knowledgeable neighbor to make sure you have the proper fuses in your sockets. For under a dime, why gamble with fire?

GARDEN NOTES

Carrots in Storage ... by A. R. Buckley

Storing Your Vegetables

Many gardeners who love to grow vegetables try with mediocre success to store the product of their labors. Others shy away from growing things that need winter storage or special harvesting preparations and confine their plantings to beans, peas, radishes or corn, which can be picked and used right away.

There is a great satisfaction, however, in being able to store vegetables from your garden and use them through the winter, even though it means little saving on the overall food bill. Rutabagas, carrots and beets may all be kept successfully in a cool moist storage with a temperature of 36 to 40 degrees F., but never more than 50 degrees F. A higher temperature causes them to shrivel or wilt. Store these vegetables in boxes or bins of moist sand and they will keep until spring.

Onions should be stored dry and cool, so keep them in a cool, dry place with good ventilation. If a large number are to be stored, use wire-bottomed or slatted boxes.

Squash must be handled very carefully when harvesting. If the skin is bruised or cracked, an opening where a fungus can penetrate will be formed. These are best stored at 50 or 55° F. in a well-ventilated room. An attic would be ideal if it does not get too cold.

Cabbages have no natural protection against drying out, so they need to be kept quite cool and humid. Don't store them one on top of another but put them on shelves. Some growers tie the stems and allow bunches of heads to hang from the storage. Potatoes are not easy to store unless properly harvested. They must never be exposed to light for more than a few hours or they will turn green and be rendered useless for the kitchen. Allow them to dry for a few hours after digging and spread them out in a garage. Then put them in boxes in the storage room at the same temperature as for carrots. Be very careful to inspect for decayed ones before storing and at intervals during storage.

The greatest problem that confronts the average gardener is the difficulty in providing a suitable storage space that can be kept between 35 and 42 deg. F., and one in which the air is sufficiently moist.

All you need for this is a room in the basement cut off from the rest of the area. This is fairly simple to set up with partitions of wallboard and fiberglass insulation. Select a corner with one window that can be divided to allow a free circulation of cool air coming in and warm air going out. On one side of the window take out the glass and insert a plywood or metal duct (a stove pipe will do) leading to about twelve inches from the floor. This duct must be equipped with a sliding board or some such arrangement to cut off the air when cooling is unnecessary or too severe.

The other half of the window must be hinged so that it can be opened to allow warm air to escape when necessary, and kept closed when the temperature in the room is cool enough.

Cool air will not enter the room unless at the same time, warm air is allowed to escape. The outside of the window should be screened to keep out pests. Always keep a thermometer in the room and watch it carefully so that freezing does not occur. If the floor of the room is cement, cover it with peat so that the moisture may be maintained in the storage by sprinkling the floor occasionally.

One very important point to keep in mind about storing vegetables is to select only those that are sound and healthy, free from injury caused either by insects or by handling. One diseased tuber or root may affect all the others and cause complete failure. Go over the vegetables from time to time and discard unsound ones or set them aside to be used immediately.

Simple precautions can prevent the tragedy of fire — yet, so many overlook these necessary rules of safety.

LARGE LOSS FIRES UP

Canada reports fewer fires, fewer deaths by fire. Why, then, is the dollar cost of fire not coming down?

The answer is that the damage in industry fires is rising sharply, to catastrophic proportions.

Last year, it is estimated, 40 large loss fires alone accounted for $25,000,000 — an average of more than $600,000 per fire.

The bigger the building, the more expensive the equipment, the greater the loss.

The fact is that almost all big fires start small. A single welding spark, for example, turns into a conflagration.

HUMAN ERROR

Human error is compensating: delay in turning in the alarm. And so on.

Fires in places where things are made and sold account for nearly half the waste. An estimate of at least $600,000,000 as the cost of industrial fires in the last 10 years is probably conservative.

Fire disrupts production and employment. In a small community, the loss of jobs is especially serious. If the plant is the only one in town, every citizen, directly or indirectly, suffers if it permanently folds.

The $600,000,000 estimate represents only the direct cost. Taking the indirect economic factors into account, the annual cost of fire to Canada may be $750,000,000.

The accelerating downward trend in the number of residential fires strikingly demonstrates the value of home inspection services increasingly available by the public fire services to the 5,000,000 homes of the nation.

CHALLENGE

To the national labor force of 7,000,000, the challenge is to bring to each worker — man and woman — a greater awareness of the shared responsibility of fire on the job.

The fire of other years in the corner grocery store is now the fire in a supermarket, endangering a whole shopping plaza.
